THE TARIFF NOT TO BLAME SAYS W. L. MACKENZIE KING

In Report on Cotton Trouble—As Result of Investigation He Says Lower Tariff Did not Cause Distress in Quebec--Maiden Speeches.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux tabled yesterday the report of W. L. Mackenzie King, who was commissioned to enquire into the series of disputes which affected some 6,000 operators of cotton mills in the Province of Quebec during the summer of 1908. The main conclusion of the report are:

The ten per cent. reduction in wages, which occasioned the strike and lockout in May, was not due to any peculiar severity on the part of the Canadian employers or to tariff, or other special conditions, but was an economic consequence of general trade and financial depression which Canada shared in common with the United States and Great Britain, and which affected the cotton industry in all parts of the world.

The strike in the Quebec mills was unwise and ill-timed and would not have taken place had the constitution of the labor organization been strictly followed. The companies were aggravatingly curt in their notice of the proposed reduction, and the employes' interests suffered through jealousies among their leaders.

The hours of labor of women and children in the cotton mills are too long. The law respecting the employment of child labor has been evaded, and should be amended to provide against possible infractions in the future.

"At most, all that can be said of the lowering of the tariff, so far as the actual experience of the cotton mills of Quebec is concerned, is that during this period of temporary depression it has caused the effects of competition to be felt sooner than they otherwise would have been, whereas at other times, it has not been such as to cause those engaged in the industry to feel the effects of foreign competition, and has been an undoubed benefit to the consumer."

Sir Frederick Borden made his reappearance in the House yesterday after his conferences with War Office officials at the seat of the Empire, and incidentally there were some maiden speeches by British Columbia Conservatives, and Glen Campbell of Gilbert Plains, Goodeye (Kootenay) and Taylor (New Westminster) made a splendid impression.

Mr. Bickerdike (Montreal) introduced a bill to amend the Railway Act. Public opinion demanded some measure to protect the public at level crossings.

Mr. Lancaster: "How does your bill differ from mine?"

Mr. Bickerdike said it was milder and applied chiefly to towns and villages, but gave the committe power to protect crossings anywhere.

Mr. Bickerdike also scooped E. N. Lewis by introducing a bill making it unlawful to carry deadly weapons.

Hon. Charles Murphy introduced a bill to amend the naturalization bill. It follows the British system as to the form of declaration.

Mr. Lancaster also submitted his level crossing bill, the same as he had carried through the House the last three sessions. He hoped the Senate would repent and allow it to go through.

Hon. Mr. Oliver introduced a bill to correct verbal errors in his land act of last year.

Dr. Reid introduced a bill providing for two cents a mile fare, mileage tickets to be accepted by conductors without the requirement of exchanging at the depot and also for interchange of tickets by different railways.

TRIP TO EUROPE CAUSES SENSATION

Great interest is being manifested in the European Tour and Diamond contest inaugurated by The Review.

Already inquiries have been made regarding it, and many have asked for details. On another page we have described the plan as fully as possible without going into tiresome details. We will be pleased to have those interested call at the office, 'phone or write and the gentleman in charge of the contest will gladly explain the plan more fully.

A nomination blank and ballot will be found on page 7. To enter the contest and compete for these prizes all that is necessary is to fill out the blank and bring or mail it to the Review office where a ballot box will be in readiness to receive nominations and newspaper coupons. In a few days the nominations will be published and the score of each contestant will appear from day to day.

There are but two ways to secure votes—and they are FREE in any case—and that is by clipping the newspaper ballots published daily and through certificates for votes issued upon payment of subscription to the Review.

REEVE SCOTT, OF SMITH, THE NEW WARDEN OF THE COUNTY

Reeve Scott of Smith is the Warden of the County for the year 1909. He was the unanimous choice of the members of the council at the inaugural meeting held yesterday afternoon. Reeve Scott was elected by acclamation.

Those present were:

Reeves A Breault, Norwood; A J Kidd, Lakefield; J Knox, Havelock; W Comstock, Asphodel; J W Russell, Belmont; W Tucker, Burleigh; W Hales, Chandos; C J Darling, Dummer; F Moher, Douro; M Perdue, Ennismore; C Coben, Galway; R Shaw, Harvey; J Brown, Monaghan, J Fife, Otonabee; R N Scott, Smith, and Deputy-Reeves W B Stewart, Otonabee and Thos Graham, of Smith.

County Clerk Elliott called the names of the members afterwhich he asked for nominations for Warden.

It was moved by F Moher, seconded by Jas Russell, that Mr R N, Scott, of Smith, be Warden for the ensuing year.

There were no other nominations so Reeve Scott was unanimously elected.

Mr Scott thanked the gentlemen of the council for the honor conferred upon him by electing him to the Wardenship. He honestly believed that there were men in the council more fitted for the office than he was, but he hoped that the business of the county would be conducted during the next year in the same harmonious and economical way that it had been in the past.

The council then went into committee of the whole for the purposes of appointing the various committees.

FELLED MAN AT THE WHEEL CAPTAIN OF FLORIDA BLAMED

New York, Jan. 26.—Within considerably less than 72 hours after the crash between the ocean liners Republic and Florida, off the Nantucket shoals, which eventually sent the one to the bottom and reduced the other to an almost helpless state, the survivors of the thrilling accident have found a haven at last.

At nightfall last night 1,650 passengers from the two vessels were safe in this port, brought here by the Baltic. Frenzied cheers from the thousands at the pier when she docked greeted her arrival. Tears of thankfulness were shed, affectionate greetings were exchanged and only here and there was there a note of sadness heard.'

On the Republic's side little was to be learned. Her passengers told graphic tales of the crash, of the excitement on board, of the bravery of the officers, the good behavior of the crew and the efficient work of rescue.

Little could be learned from Capt. Rospini of the Florida last night, but according to others who had been on board the Florida and were brought into port by the Baltic, something went wrong with the Florida's steering wheel when the collision was imminent.

One story had it that a quartermaster had the wheel when the commander yelled for it to be jammed to starboard. He put it to port instead and the liners crashed into each other.

Another story is that the man dropper his wheel in a panic when danger impended. Both versions agree in saying that the commander felled the quartermaster with an iron spike following what he must have considered the seaman's recreancy.

Stories told by the Republic's passengers show that the transfer of passengers from the Florida to the Baltic in the dark hours of Saturday night come perilously near resulting in a riot of the 500 Italian steerage passengers on the Florida, who believed that their vessel was in imminent danger of sinking.

They pressed about the entrance of the gangway, which was guarded by Chief Steward Stanyer, and three of the other ship's officers. The Italians made several rushes for the gangway, but were repulsed by the officers and one or two passengers of the Republic, who used their fists and a few convenient spikes.

After the Gresham came up with the sinking Republic, Sunday forenoon, preparations were made to tow the steamer to the nearest land for beaching, as Capt. Sealby thought that she could be saved. But the steamer's bulkheads were unable to stand the pressure, and at 7 o'clock Sunday night Capt. Sealby ordered every man off the ship. He himself refused to leave and the second officer remained by his commander's side. An hour later two shots were heard from the bridge of the Republic, two blue lights were burned and the bow of the doomed steamer shot up in the air and the great liner sank, stern first. Just before she went down, Capt. Sealby climbed the mast, while his second officer jumped the rail. They were rescued by one of the Gresham's lifeboats.

The bodies of Mrs. Lynch and Mr. Mooney were placed in hermetically-sealed caskets, which sank with the steamer Republic off Nantucket.

THREE GIRLS ARE BURNED

Montreal, Jan. 26.—Beatrice, 18 years; Marguerite, 17 years, and Ruth, nine years, three daughters of W. G. Slack, treasurer of the Bell Telephone Co. were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their house, 163 Cole Des Neiges road, early yesterday.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Slack, who about midnight was awakened by smoke which was filling the house. If it had been possible to send in an alarm immediately, help would have probably arrived in time to save the lives of the victims, but the effect of the storm on the telephone system had rendered the instruments in the house useless.

Rehearsal To-night

There will be a rehearsal for the "Private Secretary" at the Catholic Foresters' Hall Hunter street to-night at eight o'clock.

HE RETIRES TO ENJOY MONEY

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Sidney C. Love of New York and Chicago, having amassed during a brief but brilliant career fortunes said to be close to two million dollars, and having married a Chicago society girl, pronounced by Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the artist, to be the most beautiful woman in the world, quietly retired from business yesterday. Mr. Love had contemplated the move for some months, but so quietly were the details worked out yesterday that the announcement that Sidney C. Love & Co. had abandoned a business formerly rated at $25,000,000 a year, startled the local financial district.

Mr. Love is 36 years of age. He began his business career as a clerk 15 years ago.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Gold medals, with suitable emblems, are to be awarded to Orville and Wilbur Wright by Congress.

Representatives of a Hammond, Ind., corporation, who are proposing to establish a manufactory in Galt, visited the town yesterday.

Galt is being subjected to the first flood of the spring, an unusually early date for the annual freshet. The flood has filled cellars along the river route.

Rear-Admiral Voevosky, assistant Minister of Marine, has been appointed Russian Minister of Marine in place of Admiral Dikoff, who recently resigned.

Emperor William has conferred the decoration of the Order of Merit on J. S. Sargent, the American artist, in recognition of his pre-eminence as a portrait painter.

The steamer Sault Ste. Marie, carrying a large number of passengers, is icebound in the river near the Soo, and may be unable to release herself for several days.

George Brett of Malton, who came before Judge McGibbon at Brampton for sentence on being found guilty of a charge of criminal assault and house-breaking, received seven years.

SUCCESSOR TO MORSE

E. J. Chamberlain Appointed to Position---Was Formerly With Canada Atlantic.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—E. J. Chamberlain, formerly general manager of the Canada Atlantic, has been appointed vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co., succeeding F. W. Morse, resigned.

The announcement is not looked upon here as anything like a permanent nomination, but simply one that will tide over the company in its very important negotiation with the Government during the session which has just begun. Those who are behind the scenes look wise and declare that the legislation asked by the Government this session will be most important.

A leading railway man stated yesterday afternoon that the G.T.P. will more than likely ask to be relieved of the 1,800 miles of the G.T.P. between Moncton and Winnipeg. Nothing short, he says, will save the G.T.P. from failure, and the old Grand Trunk from bankruptcy.

It transpires that the new vice-president was in California and was sent for by wire, so this looks as if the Morse resignation had been accepted for some time past.

Curling is off in Winnipeg for lack of ice.

ENDURING HARDSHIP

Prospectors Rushing Into Gowganda --- Local Man Home From North

Mr. Webber Turner returned last night from a trip to Northern Ontario in the interests of the firm of J. J. Turner and Sons. Mr. Turner went as far north as Elk City, which is the outfitting post for the new mining district of Gowganda, to which there is almost an unprecedented rush at the present time. Prospectors are rushing into Gowganda at the rate of from 200 to 300 per day and as Elk City is only a "Shack town" yet, those going in are putting up with all kinds of hardships. They are sleeping on the floors of the two small hotels and boarding houses and some have to sleep sitting in their chairs.

It is 36 miles from Elk City to Gowganda and the distance has to be covered on foot.

Mr Turner had a most successful trip, selling a large amount of tents and camping goods. Naturally there is a great demand for these at the present time.

LEFT HAND SCALDED

As a result of the glass indicator in the engine bursting, Edward Long, the engine driver who resides at West Toronto, met with a painful accident at the CPR station here this morning. His left hand was badly scalded and his fall also was somewhat burned. The unfortunate affair occurred this morning about 2.30 o'clock.

WILL RECEIVE TWENTY DOLLARS

J McClusky's claim of $25 damages for injuries to his horse which was alleged to have been caused by the ladders of the fire department striking his horse and knocking it down, was considered by the Legal Committee last night. The horse was laid up for a couple of days. The chairman, Ald Turner, stated that he had talked to Mr McClusky and he had agreed to accept $20.

The committee passed a motion authorising the payment of $20.

FUNERAL OF ARCHBISHOP

Last Rites of Late Primate To-morrow---Takes Place at St. Alban's Cathedral.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—While the details of the funeral of the late Archbishop Sweatman have not yet been completed, it has been definitely decided that the service should be held at St. Alban's Cathedral to-morrow afternoon, the interment to be at St. James' cemetery.

The remains of the late primate will be taken to the cathedral early on Wednesday morning and lay in state from 10 a.m. until 1.30 p.m.

The bishops who are expected to participate are Bishop Dumoulin of Niagara, Bishop Mills of Ontario, Bishop Farthing of Montreal; Bishop Dunn of Quebec, and Bishop Thomloe of Algoma.

Bishop Tuttle, the presiding bishop of the Episcopalian Church in the United States, will be present.

The cathedral will be draped in purple. The scene will be most impressive, as the bishops and clergy march in procession from the crypt of the cathedral.

The funeral cortege will be lengthy and imposing, and will include the mayor and members of the City Council.

HURT IN WRECK

North Bay, Jan. 26.—Over a score of passengers on the Cobalt special, which left here northward bound, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, were injured in the first wreck of a passenger train on the T. & N. O. Railway.

From the circumstances attending the accident it was a miracle that many were not killed.

The train was running about 25 miles an hour, when suddenly, some 13 miles north of here, the rails spread from weather conditions and part of the train plunged down a 20-foot embankment.

The engine and baggage car remained on the track and one Pullman was left perched on the top of the bank, while the second-class and two first-class cars crashed down the declivity with terrific force.

The work of rescue began immediately. The telephone line was tapped and assistance summoned from North Bay. Drs. McMurchy, Bolland, Johnston went with the wrecking train, which was early on the scene, and the wounded received prompt attention.

At first it was thought that no serious injuries had resulted, but examination revealed several passengers severely hurt, the most serious being C. Lombard of Iroquois Falls, section foreman on the T. & N.O. Railway, whose skull was fractured, though he is expected to recover.

The wounded reached North Bay at 11.30 last night and were taken to the hospital.

J. W. Bradley was taken through to Toronto to St. Michael's Hospital on the Cobalt special.

THE ANGLICAN PRIMATE

The death of his grace the Archbishop of Ontario and Anglican Primate of Canada, removes the head of the Anglican Church in Canada, from the scene of his long and somewhat arduous labors. He was a kindly and cultivated English gentleman, who merged his personality in the great work he had undertaken. His influence will be felt far into the future just in this particular way. No desire to be an outstanding personality marred the excellence of his administration. The failure to build St Alban's is referred to as his failure. There was nothing lacking in the conception, however. It was merely in advance of the times. "Requiescat in pace" will be the wish of everyone who knew the late gentleman in official or private life or realized how earnest was his desire to serve God and to merit the reward of the good and faithful servant.

Le NATIONALISTE

> "I imagine that the readers of Le Nationaliste have not quite forgotten the discussion over the famous fetes de Quebec of last summer. Lord Grey having brought about this enormous colossal incredible thing in order to impose upon us the climax of Wolfe on the occasion of the anniversary of Champlain we denounced the act with all our power."

We agree with Le Nationaliste that if the great festival inaugurated by Lord Grey and carried out under his patronage was brought about regardless of the feelings of the Franco-Canadians a wrong has been done them. But is that true? The fact, on the other hand is that our French-Canadian brothers were invited to make an "apotheosis" of Montcalm as well, the occasion being a great Canadian love-feast and not the renewal of the hates of former times. Evidently "M. Sunnyways" has failed in his mission of peace, but by the support accorded him in Quebec at the last election his "failure" has not displeased his supporters. How would it do to have a race-conference, an English-speaking conference in order to see if with the help of the Irish and Scotch we cannot come to some understanding by which race and religion shall both be eliminated from the list of antagonisms which divide us? Le Nationaliste must be well aware that no "insult" was intended to French Canada last summer, and if no insult was intended it can have been neither given nor received. At school we were taught to "take a licking" gracefully. So to do was considered the prime essential of strong boyhood. To weep or repine was considered weak. If we wanted another try at the boy who "did us up" it was of course open to us to ask for it, but on no pretence was it every considered even pardonable "form" to keep lamenting a fate which we were unable to avoid. The French everywhere are a great people, perhaps the greatest in the history of modern nations in many ways, and it ill becomes the descendents of that noble race to refuse to acknowledge a defeat which they have so often administered to others. The Anglo-Saxons have not cherished the hate of the conquered towards the Norman French. It is true that for years the Normans fanned it by every means in their power. But to-day we actually find the proudest boast of an Englishman to be that "he came over with the Conqueror," and yet our French friends here in Canada will under no condition return the compliment. If French-Canadians are in favour of a thoroughly United Canada, united in race, in language, in love and in interest, which shall it be? Or do they prefer a war that like a smouldering fire, continues to the slow but inevitable ruin of the fabric which it undermines.

POLITICAL APPENDICITIS

Two characteristic bits of news from Toronto are that the local Liberals are going to select a clergyman for their leader so that they can put Prohibition in their platform, and that the new Liberal Club has decided by a vote of fifty to nine to apply for a license to sell liquors to members. That is when the political Prohibitionists become thirsty fighting for the cause in the Legislature they want some place where they can go and "irrigate" while hatching schemes to carry on the noble crusade. Humor will never die out in the community as long as we have party politics."—The Montreal Star.

It will occur to the sane and serious citizen whether he be Liberal or Conservative, that the time is drawing near for some degree of consistency in the administration of Liberal party affairs in this Province. The Liberal party is one of two great camps of political thought. It has produced many great men and many that were not great. Like the Conservative party it has got into serious internal trouble at times. At present it has political appendicitis. The Liberal party as a party unquestionably wants Prohibition. It has wanted it through a long series of years, but it has steadily been betrayed by its leaders. In Ontario it took revenge on its leaders for this particular one of many betrayals. It forgave Sir Wilfrid Laurier for treating Liberal Prohibitionists as if they were children and ignoring their wishes. He can afford to do this. Liberals are easily moved by eloquence or what passes for it in this country, and their own emotion has with respect to Sir Wilfrid kept them in condition of open-mouthed obedience and admiration. Conservatism stands out in contrast as the party of maturer judgment. In fact that is what Conservatism relieved of its rags, fictitious garments and the usual party inconsistencies, really means. No one man by his eloquence could lead Conservatives. Sir John Macdonald did not do so. Mr. Borden, whom they adore, is not in any sense magnetically eloquent. Liberals are new to picturesque ideals and as a consequence are easily led astray by them. But to come back to our text. The whiskey wing in Ontario is in open rebellion against the prohibitionist wing. At a crisis in party management such as at present exists these iconoclasts call for whiskey and insists on getting it. They say the party cannot prosper without it. They say in so many words that whiskey and freedom are the same thing to them. They aver that a man must be free to get drunk or else he is not really free. Now as a rule whiskey and water blend fairly well, but in this instance it will be found that they will produce more than the usual quantity of disastrous results. Liberalism in Ontario is fast on the rocks if not on the rock. It has been put there by traitors who would utilize the voters for their own gratification and advantage. It is time for the electors to wake up and it is high time for them to realise that in the name of party and political institutions they are being led by the nose. It will be an instructive sight when Liberal meets Liberal only to pass each other in scorn and yet both will remain Liberal. How can that be? One or the other is a useless appendix. One or the other must go.

SAFETY OF THE GATUN DAM

That there is nothing in the published criticisms of the Gatun Dam on the Panama Canal, we are assured by reputable engineering journals. The reports that the dam is unsafe are stigmatized as sensational and misleading, and we are told that it is not only safe, but actually much stronger than necessary. The true story of the situation is thus told editorially in the Scientific American, New York, December 26th;

"The Gatun dam, as completed, will consist of an artificial mound of sand and clay, 135 feet in height, about 1,800 feet in width, and extending for 8,000 or 9,000 feet across the valley of the Chagres River from hillside to hillside. This huge mound is to be formed by means of suction dredges, which will pump sand and clay, mixt with water, from the bed of the Chagres River, below the dam, on to the site of the dam. Here, as the water drains away, the sand and clay will settle into a mass of very close consistency, so close as to be impervious to seepage. In order to confine the deposited material within the proper width of 1,800 feet, and prevent it from flowing away with the water, two walls of loose rock are being built entirely across the valley, one at the foot of the slope on the upstream side or lake side of the dam, and the other on the downstream side. The wall along the upstream toe, as completed, will be 30 feet broad at the top and 60 feet high. As the rock-fill was being built out across the valley it crossed the old French canal channel, which runs through the site of the dam. During the past 20 years this channel had become filled with silt and soft mud; and the engineers decided that, instead of excavating this material until firm bottom was reached, it would be more economical to dump the rock directly upon the mud, and allow the fill as thus formed to settle through the mud until it reached firm ground. As the fill was raised in height, its weight at length became such that the expected displacement occurred, the rock settling down and forcing the mud up into mounds on either side of the fill. So far from the settling causing any concern to the engineers, it is exactly what they expected to take place; and the greater the settlement, the more they will be pleased. There is nothing new in this, and certainly nothing to warrant the attempt to stir up public apprehension, to say nothing of Congressional anxiety, regarding the stability of the dam. Railroad embankments are being made every day by this very method of displacement; and when the rock-fill at the toe of the Gatun Dam has finally reached the underlying solid material, which it will do long before the dam is completed, the public need have no anxiety as to further settlement."

The editor of Engineering News, New York, December 24th, makes use of some pretty strong language on this subject. He says;

"The structure at Gatun is as sound and safe as any engineering work could possibly be. Indeed, the criticism of the design made to us personally by one well-known engineer expert in earth-dam construction is that the dam is so absolutely safe that at least half its width is wholly useless. It is undoubtedly the case that the long toe of the dam on the seaward side is a concession to the fears and ignorance of some of the engineers originally connected with the work who were better posted on bridge and railway work than on dam construction. . . .

"It is not at all difficult, as we have shown above, to account for the alarmist reports concerning the Panama plans and work. Besides the interviews given out by the disgruntled ones, whose ideas did not prevail, we have the undoubted fact that the newspapers give large space to every scare story from Panama and practically ignore statements of responsible engineers giving the real truth. The settling of the waste rock dumped in the mud in the old French canal channel along the south toe of the dam has been magnified into a disaster of ominous portent to the whole work. Stories concerning it have been published in ten thousand newspapers while hardly one has published the real truth — that the settlement of the rock was expected to occur and saved the needless expense of dredging out the layer of soft mud before dumping the rock."—Literary Digest.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Y. M. C. A. system seems to flourish at Ottawa, a large apartment building having been opened there while at Detroit an immense ten-storey block has been erected.

The watchword for 1909, as indicated by the opinions of a number of prominent merchants interviewed yesterday by the Spectator, should be; A greater Hamilton. All issues fall into insignificance beside that. Start Hamilton on the prosperity career that she was travelling two years ago. Boost Hamilton. Silence the knockers. Get rid of petty jealousies. Get together, and with a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, make the name of Hamilton known in every hamlet on this continent as the progressive, ambitious and prosperous city.—Hamilton Spectator.

It will be remembered that Mr. Costello was reported to have criticised the Canadian woollen mills severely;

"The report in part was as follows; The association is inclined to resent the action of the Government in allowing the newspaper reports of Commissioner Costello's remarks about the Canadian woollen industry to go uncontradicted. He was credited by the press with the statement that Canadian mills were badly managed, equipped with out-of-date machinery and operated with incompetent help. Just where the report emanated from it is difficult to learn, but the commissioner himself emphatically denies ever having made such statements."

OF INTEREST

Genius—especially that which finds expression in some grand opera stars—is "an infinite capacity for causing pains." In this phrase Oscar Hammerstein writes his spiritual autobiography as an impresario. In his twenty-five years' experience as manager no state of mind of which he has cognizance "approaches that of most grand opera singers." He thinks that had he had a course of training as an alienist he might have been spared "some unnecessary flights with unreasoning stars to the highest realms of irresponsibility." The trouble apparently all springs from the much overworked 'artistic temperament.' Mr Hammerstein, who is writing in The Saturday Evening Post, Philadelphia, January 2, has no hesitation in saying that "if some of the manifestations of the artistic temperament that have helped to divert me from sweetly solemn thoughts happened to the employer in any other business, he would either 'fire' the source of it instantly or take up another and less irritating occupation. The delightful purveyor of operatic goods in Thirty-fourth Street opens his pack in the frankest manner and we are permitted to see some of the things that go on in the manager's office. Thus;

"Not long ago I asked Mme Tetrazzini who is one of my greatest artists and who is absolutely assured of her position in New York and elsewhere, to sing the coloratura part in 'The Huguenots.' It was a very small part but she would have given it distinction and it was my intention to feature her in the production. When I suggested it to her she became indignant. She said, "I can not sing a small part like that.' One interesting feature is that I offered to pay her just as much for singing those seven minutes as if she had been required to sing for four hours. She could not see it that way. The danger, as she saw it, was not to her vocal cords, but to her reputation.

"A short time after this incident with Mme Tetrazzini I assigned a well known Italian singer to the part of the friar in Tosca. At the first rehearsal I saw that his voice was not big enough, so I put in Gilibert instead. The Italian who was superseded walked from the stage in tears and stood in the wings blubbering like an infant. He moaned; 'My career is ruined.' To his distorted imagination the fact of his having been superseded by Gilibert was to be announced from every housetop and cabled to all parts of the world. I noticed, however, that on the following Tuesday he was on hand in ample time to draw his pay envelop from the treasurer. His purse lacked the artistic temperament.

"In handling prima donnas there is no precedent, for the simple reason that each one is a law unto herself. The women stars are bad enough; the men are often worse. Their vagaries would make the most hardened actor look like an amateur. One trouble with these artists is that they live their lives, not as they themselves think they should be led, but as they think the public would have them do. They are always dreaming about the public which they long to conquer and keep conquered.

"There are many examples of this state of mind. I once cast Mme Zepilli for the part of the boy in 'Pelleas and Melisande.' When I told her of it she was offended

She said;

'I can not sing that small part. I am engaged for the Opera Comique in Paris. If they hear over there that I have sung the part of the boy in 'Pelleas' they will think that I have lost my reputation and will cancel my engagement.'

"Mme Zepilli did not say anything about the weekly salary of $250 that she was drawing whether she sang or not. So I said to her;

"You will sing that part or you can go at once to the Opera Comique. They are waiting for you.'

"She sang the part.

"Many stars seldom think ahead, and the result is they have many heartaches which they might avoid. Last season for instance, I brought over Mme Gerville Reache, whom I discovered singing in a Paris cafe. I gave her a five years' contract. She had a magnificent voice and only needed an opportunity to show it. It happened that I also had Mme Cisneros under contract, and she also was an excellent artist, a mezzo soprano. Her contract was only for one season so I put her on often and in good parts. Meanwhile Mlle Gerville Reache ate out her heart, not realising that she was drawing salary all the time and had a five years' contract. This year when I cast her for Delilah, in 'Samson and Delilah' her great chance came and she proved a sensation.'"

A singer who fails to awaken an audience concludes that the director and the public have conspired to ruin her. "She will believe that a green cat walked across the stage and hoodooed the performance.' Or sometimes she thinks the stage carpenter hammers on purpose during her big solo, or the conductor makes faces at her. Then the grand opera star is apt to add "a most extraordinary superstition' to her artistic temperament. Mme Tetrazzini, we are told will not go on for a performance until she has dropt a dagger in the floor three times. If it sticks each time it is a good omen, and she feels that she will sing well and have big success. If not, it disturbs her during the whole performance. Mlle Trentini will not go on the stage until she is given a quarter. "She saves them all," adds Mr. Hammerstein. Zenatello carries a rabbit's foot when he sings and has a bad case of nerves when he forgets it. A grand opera director "must be born; he can not be made," reflects Mr Hammerstein. He goes on;

"The reason why men fail at this strenuous calling is that they are not fitted by nature for the tremendous demands made upon them. Since no two operatic singers are exactly alike it follows that no two sets of troubles which they start are precise twins. You can not handle Melba in the same way that you handle Tetrazzini, and you must adopt a manner with Mary Garden that is different from that employed with Labia.

"The secret of handling big operatic stars, artistic temperament and all, is to commiserate with them. I appreciate their natures, their temperament, and their illusions. I simply put myself in their place."

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Bad Move For Anarchists.

London, Jan. 26.—The two men who on Saturday killed two persons and wounded many others in an attempt at highway robbery at Walhamstow, and later committed suicide were undoubtedly dangerous anarchists.

The London morning papers, in strong terms, urge the Government to take vigorous measures to protect the country against such desperadoes.

Heretofore anarchists have been very quiet in England, because of the immunity they enjoy from molestation by the police.

Dandurand For Cabinet.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—La Presse confirms the report published some time ago to the effect that Hon. Mr. Dandurand would soon be called to the Cabinet rank. Speaking of the Government having appointed him to assist Sir Richard Cartwright in the Senate, La Presse adds: "We believe that this means that before very long the ex-Speaker of the Senate will be called upon to form part of the Cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Japan Is Not Warlike.

Tokio, Jan. 26.—Marquis Katsuram, the Premier; Count Jaturo Komura, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Viscount Tersuchi, the Minister of War, declared in the Diet yesterday that Japan's relations with the powers of the world were so improved that the proposed reduction in armaments and the like were fully warranted.

New Dry Dock at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Jan. 26.—O'Boyle Bros'. Construction Co. have the contract for erecting a dry dock here, which will accommodate the largest boats on the lakes.

The deal, it is supposed, is backed by Canadian capital. The Board of Trade will make a formal announcement at its meeting sometime this week.

Oddfellows Sue Railway.

Windsor, Jan. 26.—John Gillespie, a prominent Detroit fraternity and business man, is suing the Michigan Central Railway for $35 in claims assigned to him by thirty-eight Oddfellows, who were included in a canton from Detroit at a celebration in St. Thomas last August.

Plaintiff claims that the Oddfellows were promised the same rate from Detroit as from Windsor, but when returning extra fare was demanded. Each man asked for a receipt, and while these were being made out the train left. Now damages are asked for those who were compelled to go to further expense.

Glory For Boston.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 26.—With a grand song service, in which 2,000 choristers participated, the largest and most remarkable evangelistic campaign ever attempted in this city, was opened in Tremont Temple yesterday.

The revival is under the leadership of Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman of Albany, N.Y., assisted by Charles M. Alexander, the gospel singer, and more than 60 evangelists from every part of the country.

$35,000 For Salisbury Wreck Victim.

London, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Brodt of New York yesterday obtained a verdict of $35,000 against the London & Southwestern Railway Co., for personal injuries sustained in the Salisbury train wreck of July 1, 1906, when 37 persons lost their lives. Mrs. Brodt is the widow of John E. McDonald, one of the victims of the accident. She has since re-married. She claimed damages also for the death of her former husband.

Three Years For Theft of Stamps.

Brantford, Jan. 26.—William Cheevers, who recently completed a three-years' term in Kingston Penitentiary, was sentenced to three years yesterday for theft of $3 worth of postage stamps from Woods' Mill. His younger brother, Thomas, was let off on suspended sentence.

Carrie Nation Egged.

Mrs. Nation was obliged to quit the house under police protection.

Firemen Drop Three Flats.

Rochester, N.Y., Jan. 26.—The largest industry of Canisteo, N.Y., the Canisteo Woodenware Co., was burned Sunday night. Six firemen at work on a bridge were dropped into the street from the third floor. One man had his ribs broken. Loss $60,000.

New "Maine" at Havana.

Usury Charge at Chatham.

Chatham, Jan. 26.—John W. White, local money lender, charged with usury, came up for preliminary hearing before Judge Houston yesterday. He pleaded not guilty, and elected to be tried by jury.

THE TARIFF IS NOT TO BLAME

R. L. Borden announced his election to sit for Halifax and resigned his seat for Carleton.

Ralph Smith, resuming the debate on the address, declared that the return of so many Conservatives from British Columbia was due to the fact that the issues of "better terms" and Asiatic immigration had not been presented fairly to the people of that province by the Conservatives. What Sir Wilfrid Laurier had asked the province to accept was what had been desired by the Premiers of the several provinces of the Dominion. In the campaign, however, the "better terms" settlement had been made by Sir Wilfrid personally, and so the grievance was saddled upon the Liberal party at Ottawa. So with the Asiatic question; it had been made a political football and the Conservatives had played the game well.

Two methods were open to settle the oriental question—employ white labor and pass reasonable legislation. He questioned if every one of the five British Columbia Conservatives could say they did not employ oriental labor.

"Don't all speak at once," he said, after a pause.

Martin Burrell said in his campaign he differentiated between Japanese and Hindus.

"The Government does and the Prime Minister does," called several Conservatives at once.

"Then," returned Mr. Smith, "I do not agree with the Government."

Still Coming In.

Mr. Goodeve (Kootenay), heralded as the greatest of all the British Columbia delegation in the way of oratorical display, followed. He gave a dispassionate resume of the oriental difficulty, proposing, he said, to appeal to the House in no mere party spirit. There was no disloyalty in the attitude of the people of British Columbia on this question, but he pointed out that notwithstanding the written agreement that Hon. Mr. Fisher alleged he had received with Japan, that the immigration from Japan would be limited to 600, no less than 8,125 Japanese had invaded British Columbia in ten months of 1907.

If, as Mr. Smith said, the people of British Columbia were swayed by a bogus telegram, it showed that they were very much in earnest.

J. D. Taylor (New Westminster) and E. N. Lewis also spoke. The address was passed at 8.45 p.m.

On motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G. H. McIntyre was appointed Deputy Speaker.

The estimates will be down this week, Mr. Paterson told Mr. Borden.

CROUP QUICKLY CURED

Hyomei, the miraculous, antiseptic dry air treatment, will cure croup in either the first or second stages. Easily inhaled, even when the breathing is irregular, it reaches more promptly than any other remedy the terribly inflamed membrane of the windpipe. Its soothing balsams act immediately, the inflammation is allayed and the swelling reduced.

George H. King, of 22 Willington South Woodstock, says: "We would not think of keeping house without Hyomei. It has warded off colds, croup coughs and sore throats for all of our three children many and many a time. When a child breathes badly and through the mouth and the glands around the eyes and nose commence to swell, then is the time that we find the Hyomei quickly relieves the trouble and gets the bronchial tubes, lungs and throat cleared up."

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is guaranteed by Wm. Madill, druggist, Peterborough, to cure catarrh, colds, coughs, asthma, bronchitis and croup, or money back. A complete outfit, including a neat hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs only $1.00 An extra bottle of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, costs but 50 cents.

NATURE A VERY SKILFUL PHYSICIAN

Have you ever tasted anything more delicious than the fresh, ripe, luscious fruits? These are Nature's medicines.

A regular diet without fruit is positively dangerous, for the system soon gets clogged with waste matter and the blood poisoned. Fruit Juices stir up Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, making them work vigorously to throw off the dead tissue and indigestible food which, if retained, soon poison the blood and cause Indigestion, Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia and a host of other distressing troubles.

But there is a quicker way to stimulate the organs to do their work properly. Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" tablets every night, besides eating some fresh fruit every day. "Fruit-a-tives" combine the medicinal properties—many times intensified—of oranges, apples, prunes and figs, with the best tonics and internal disinfectants added.

Their action on Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Skin is as natural as Nature's own, but quicker and more effective. Sold by all dealers—25c. for trial box—50c. for regular size — 6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CATTLE MARKETS.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 13c to 13⅝c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10¼c to 10½c per lb.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Jan. 25.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 52 carloads, composed of 1071 cattle, 10 hogs, 143 sheep and 16 calves.

Exporters.

There was a good demand for export steers and more would have sold. Dealers complain that there are few of the cattle offering that are finished. Steers sold from $5.10 to $5.60, but only one load at the latter figure; bulls sold from $4 to $4.75, and one choice bull brought $5 per cwt.

Butchers.

As will be seen by sales quoted below, the bulk of the butchers' cattle went over $4 per cwt., not many being sold under that figure. Choice picked lots, sold at $4.85 to $5 and a few were quoted for a little more money; loads of good, $4.50 to $4.75; medium, $4 to $4.40; common, $3.50 to $3.80, and $3.90; cows, $3 to $4.50, and in good demand; canners, $1.75 to $2.50.

Milkers and Springers.

About half a dozen milkers and springers sold at $30 to $55 each, and one at $60.

Sheep and Lambs.

A light delivery of sheep and lambs sold at steady prices. Ewes sold at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; rams, $2.50 to $3; lambs, $5.50 to $6 per cwt.

Hogs.

Gunns, Limited, quoted selects at $6.65, fed and watered, at the market, and $6.40 to drovers, f.o.b., cars, at country points. One drover from Western Ontario stated that he got $6.50, f.o.b., cars, last week.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 23, were 2818 cattle, 918 sheep and lambs, 6497 hogs and 170 calves, while the offerings this morning amounted to 1200 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 100 calves. There was no further change in the condition of the market for cattle to-day, prices being firmly maintained, supplies being smaller and quality generally good. The demand was not quite so keen as a week ago on account of the milder weather, but there was a good attendance of buyers, a good many being for shipment to Quebec and Ottawa. There was no demand from exporters. Cables from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade slow but firm. Choice steers sold here at 5¼c to 5½c; good, at 4½c to 5c; fair, at 4c to 4½c; common, at 3c to 3⅝c; and inferior at 2c to 2½c per pound. Owing to the continued small supplies of sheep and lambs prices show no change from a week ago. Choice lots of sheep brought 3⅝c to 4c, and culls, 3¼c to 3½c per lb. Lambs, sold freely at 5⅝c to 6c for choice stock, and at 5¼c to 5½c for good per lb. Calves continue to be scarce with the demand good, and prices rule firm. There continues to be a strong undertone to the market for hogs and prices are steadily tending towards a higher level, they showing a further advance to-day of 10c per cwt., due to the keen demand from packers and the limited supplies of frozen stock coming forward. An active trade was done with sales of selected lots at $7.25 to $7.35 per cwt., weighed off cars, but some lots coming from Chatham cost laid down here $7.50 to $7.60 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 25.—Cattle—Receipts 2500 head; fairly active and steady; prime steers, $6 to $6.50; shipping, $5.50 to $6.00; butchers', $4.75 to $5.85; heifers, $4 to $5.50; cows, $3.50 to $5; bulls, $3 to $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 15,000 head; active and 10c to 15c higher; heavy and mixed, $6.65 to $6.75; yorkers, $6.15 to $6.65; pigs, $5.60 to $5.70; roughs, $5.90 to $5.75; stags, $4 to $4.75; dairies, $6.25 to $6.60.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 13,400 head; active, sheep 25c, lambs and yearlings 40c higher; lambs, $5 to $7.75; yearlings, $6.25 to $6.75; wethers, $5 to $5.50; ewes, $4.50 to $5; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $5.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Beeves—Receipts, 5128. Steers, opened slow, closed firm to a shade higher; bulls and cows, steady; Steers, $5.30 to $6.30; oxen, $3.75 to $4.20; bulls, $3 to $4.20; cows, $2 to $4.25.

Calves—Receipts, 2236. Veals, 25c to 50c lower; barnyard calves, easier; western, 50c lower. Veals, $8 to $10; culls, $5; barnyard calves, $2.50 to $4; western calves, $3.50 to $4.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 15,582. Sheep, steady; best lambs, firm to a fraction higher; all others, slow; medium grades, no more than steady; sheep, $3.40 to $3.75; culls, $2.50; lambs, $6 to $7.50; one car, $7.75; yearlings, $6.

LOCAL SCOTSMEN CELEBRATE BOBBIE BURNS' ANNIVERSARY

Peterborough Scotsmen royally celebrated the 150th anniversary of the birth of Bobbie Burns last night by a banquet at the Snowden House. There was haggis, the skirl o' the pipes, Scottish songs and recitations, and speeches in which tribute was paid to the immortal bard of Caledonia. There was also present that spirit of brotherhood and good fellowship which is always so much in evidence, when the men from north of the Tweed are gathered together.

The banquet was under the auspices of Camp Clan Alpine, No 36, Sons of Scotland, and it was a greater success than the most sanguine expected. About a hundred were in attendance, those present including His Worship Mayor Rush and many prominent citizens. A number of Scotsmen from Toronto were also in attendance and contributed considerably to the programme.

The dining room where the banquet was held was prettily decorated with flags and bunting and an excellent menu was provided by Mr Fraser. The catering could not have been improved upon and the service and other details were everything that could be desired.

The menu was as follows:

"Nearer as they came, a genial savor
On certain stews, sheep's heid and trotters."—Burns.

HAGGIS
Meats
Jellied Tongue
Roast Turkey Boiled Ham
Salads
Potato Lobster
Pickles
Queen Olives Gherkins
Desert
Lemon Cake
Chocolate Cake Ice Cream
Mixed Nuts
Assorted Cake Layer Raisins
Jellies
Orange Jelly Strawberry Jelly
Fruit
Oranges Bananas
Tea Coffee Milk

"Food fills the wame and keeps us livin'"—Burns.

THE BANQUET.

The chair was occupied by Bro Dr McKinnon who presided in an excellent manner.

At 9.30 o'clock the banquet commenced. Bro MacKay entered the dining room playing a lively tune on the pipes and followed by a gentleman holding high a large dish of haggis. The entrance of the piper and the haggis was greeted with cheers.

Then came the "Address to a Haggis" which was given in splendid style by Bro. Weatherstone, one of the veteran Scotsmen of Peterborough.

The chairman then proposed the toast to the King, which was responded to by the singing of the National Anthem.

The chairman's address was a masterly one. He referred to the immortal memory of the Scottish poet and to what he had done for Scotland and for mankind generally. Burns was one of the world's greatest poets and his songs would live as long as the language in which they were written endured.

The next toast, "The Immortal Memory of Robert Burns was proposed by the chairman and drew forth an eloquent response from Mr W M. Bennett, who pictured the greatness of Scotland's singer, and referred to his ever-enduring fame. From the lowly-thatched cottage 150 years ago, there had come a philosopher as well as a poet, Burns was great as a man as well as a poet and was worthy of the greatest honors.

The toast to the "Grand Camp" was proposed by the chairman and responded to by Bro Mearns and Tyler of Toronto, both of whom made eloquent speeches, telling of the rapid growth of the Sons of Scotland and congratulating Camp Clan Alpine on its success.

Mr W McIlroy sang 'The Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond' in fine style and responded to an encore with "Annie Laurie."

Grand Organizer Robt Grieve proposed the toast to Camp Clan Alpine and Bro T S MacKay, Chief of the camp made a fitting response.

Mr F D Kerr made a splendid speech in response to the toast, 'Sister Societies,' which was proposed by the chairman, Mr Kerr advised Canadians not to forget the lands over the sea. The glorious traditions of the motherlands should be an inspiration in building up the great country in which they resided.

Mr Cowan, of Toronto, editor of the Canadian Scotsmen, followed Mr Kerr and gave an interesting and witty address.

"Canada and the Motherland" was proposed by the chairman and responded to by Mayor Rush, who told of the great resources and the rapid progress of the Dominion.

Songs by Bros Dr Bone and Galbraith were well given and encores had to be responded to.

Bro C MacPherson responded to the toast 'The Prosperity of the City,' in a fitting manner.

Bro Alex Chalmers proposed the toast to the 'Ladies' and responses were made by Bros J. F Linton and D B MacRae.

Mr McAllister of Toronto made a great hit with two recitations and Bro R Grieve rendered two Scotch songs and won great applause.

The gathering closed with votes of thanks to the chairman, the visitors from Toronto and to Mr and Mrs Fraser of the Snowden House.

Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King were sung in royal style.

Chief—J S MacKay.
Past Chief—J J MacPherson.
Chieftain—S Stewart.
Chaplain—J Mathieson.
Physician—Dr N C McKinnon.
Marshall—James Barr.
Standard Bearer—A Elliott.
Rec-Sec—J F Linton.
Fin-Sec—A M Chalmers.
Treas—G N Gordon.
Sr Guard—A M McCurrach.
Jr Guard—A H Webb.

Mr R J Devey was accompanist for the evening and his splendid work in this connection added greatly to the success of the function.

AMATEUR EVENT OF THE SEASON

Will be "The Private Secretary" Which Will be Given February 1st.

On February 1st at the Grand Opera House in less than a week the event of the season in the way of amateur theatricals will take place when "The Private Secretary" will be given by local artists under the direction of Mr. Irving Beers, whose production of "All the Comforts of Home," a short time ago, excited such praise. In view of the intelligent work of the cast in the last mentioned piece, Mr. Beers had confidence in the ability of Peterborough amateurs to give an acceptable presentation of "The Private Secretary," a much more amusing farcical play demanding hilariously funny, but carefully studied character acting, the splendid way in which the company is showing up at rehearsals proves that the presentation will be a particularly good one.

Many Peterborough theatregoers have seen "The Private Secretary" either in this country or England and the portrayal of this laughing success of two continents by city talent will be looked forward to with interest

LUNCH COUNTER FOR PETERBORO'

Jacobi Bros. of St. Catharines Have Purchased Fowler's Restaurant

Peterborough is to have an up to date lunch counter at an early date, the Jacobi Brothers of the St Catharines lunch rooms, having purchased the restaurant lately run by J. Fowler. The place will be closed for a few days while the remodelling in contemplation is being done, and will then be opened up under the management of Mr F A Jacobi, and will be called the Peterborough lunch room.

A HIGH CLASS ENTERTAINMENT

With the coming of the Old Southland Sextette Company to the Opera House next Tuesday evening, the Leaders Corps of the YMCA, are presenting to the citizens of Peterborough a high class entertainment at popular prices. This Company is an assemblage of seven of the most artistic and pleasing male and female voices of their class to be gotten together in this continent.

The manner in which they are delighting audiences in all parts of Ontario is evidenced not only by press notices but by the fact that in many places in which they appear, they are already engaged for a return performance next season.

The programme of the company consists of negro melodies, plantation songs, lullabies, songs of the Old Southland slavery days and instrumentations rendered in a manner such as only colored people can render them.

It is just one hundred years ago that Abraham Lincoln was born, that greatest of all friends of the people of the South, who did so much for the liberty of an enslaved people. So surely all who can will hear this company of entertainers present those selections that will take them back in imagination to the days that have become so historic in regard to the colored people.

YOUNG MEN DISORDERLY

On the Special Train From Lindsay Last Thursday Night---Two More Were Fined

Two young men were fined at the Police Court this morning, charged with creating a disturbance on the special G.T.R. train from Lindsay last Thursday night. They were fined two dollars and costs, amounting in one case to $5.72, and in the other to $6.87. The young men were given ten days in which to pay the fine.

They pleaded not guilty, but several witnesses were heard, proving that the young men were under the influence of liquor and were noisy.

GAVE LECTURE ON TENNYSON

An Interesting Address at Knox Church by Mr. Mowat

Being literary evening Mr. Mowat, inspector of public schools gave a lecture on the poet "Tennyson." Mr. Mowat asked those present to imagine themselves sixty years back in the Victoria era. There were several headings taken up by the speaker. Politics was put into some of the poems. True statesmanship was another. Here the poet shows his great patriotism. Poems on Monasticism, Art, Beauty, Religion and Love, with its conspicuous purity. Love songs were some of his works that shows how remarkable love is in the home life. Woman was defined by this great poet. A few lines was read by Mr. Mowat on this subject. Women are not to step into the business and intellectual life and compete against man but their plane was in the home. The conception of nature is given in lovely language by the poet. Mr. Mowat concluded by saying, he could speak for hours on "Tennyson." The poet was a steadying force in his generation and to all mankind. We neglect our poets and do not read and study them as we ought. Mr. Patten moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Mowat for his most interesting lecture, it was seconded by Mr. Ken Denoon. A recitation was given by Miss Barr. Next (Monday) Feb. 1st, is devotional night, the subject is, "Religious Laws and How They Are Enforced."

The second Italian wedding of the new year was solemnised at St. Peters' cathedral this morning, the contracting parties being Miss Leonardina Cupoli and Mr. Carmine Giardino, both of whom are residents of Peterborough and very popular among their many friends. They were supported by Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Febbo.

A marriage with an Italian bride and groom particularly in a foreign country where they are naturally not nearly so frequent as in the old land, arouses particular interest and practically the whole Italian section of the city's population attended the celebration of the happy event at the cathedral this morning. A number of the Canadian neighbors of the young couple were also present.

Nuptial events are observed by the people of the sunny land when the bride and groom are very young from the Anglo-Saxon viewpoint and Mr. and Mrs. Cupoli are only 20 and 17 years of age respectively.

The bride is a sister of Mr. John Cupoli of 528 Elm street, and has been in this country for about four years coming from Castelluccio Valmagiore, of the Province of Foggia. The bridegroom lives with her parents, at 508 Parnell street. He is from Rocco S. Grovannia, Province of Chietti, and has also been here about four years. He is a prosperous young member of the Italian colony. The couple in keeping with the Italian custom, will live with the parents of the groom, as he is their eldest son.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the groom's home, at which there were about fifty guests.

The presents given the bride were especially numerous and valuable.

FROM HERE TO NEW YORK

Hilda Spong and Her Company Will Appear Soon at Bijou Theatre New York

The appearance in this city of Hilda Spong and her company in H. R. Durant's phenomenally successful play "A Man and His Mate," is preliminary to her season at the Bijou Theatre, New York, which is managed by Leander Sire, who was so anxious to be sure of the attraction for its metropolitan run that he assumed the financial management of the road tour. This action of Mr. Sire's is quite a departure from usual theatrical methods, but his theatre has been most fortunate in record-breaking runs and he would not take the chances of other management getting Miss Spong and her play for some rival playhouse. The play will be given during its metropolitan run with the same cast and equipment that plays here, barring of course, unavoidable accidents and conditions beyond human control. This excellent attraction is at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, Jan. 20th.

GREAT CORELLI AND COMPANY

The most daring, bewildering illusion ever attempted. The dream of mid-air of the dainty Princess Aga surpasses the fabled feats of the ancient Egyptian sorcerers, nor can anything more magical be found in the pages of the thousand one nights. The result of these labours is a veritable masterpiece of magic. The sensational marvel of the twentieth century and the crowning achievement of his long and brilliant career. The Great Corelli, who, with his company will appear at the Grand Opera House for one night and matinee, Saturday, Jan. 30th. Some of the mysteries he performs are the marvelous production of live animals, or Corelli's feast. The crystal globe of gold fish. See the double cabinet mystery. The daughter of Isis, and the levitation of Princess Aga. You can see a drama comic opera or a farce comedy any day, but the Great Corelli perhaps once in a life time.

BRIGHT MEETING OF THE P. C. I. LITERARY SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the P.C.I. Literary Society was held yesterday in the Assembly Hall and proved a decided success. The Girl's Chorus, led by Miss Davies, opened the cycle of fun and delight and was followed by a spelling match. The contesting parties were the Upper Floor and the Lower Floor. Mr. Kenner kindly consented to read the words and after a hard struggle the Lower Floor won out. Miss Hazel Moffat then favored the audience with a piano solo, much enjoyed by every one.

The feature of the evening was the dialogue presented by the pupils. Mr. Cyril Moore as Don Pedro, was perhaps the most natural of the actors, but all the cast did particularly good work and Howard Armstrong and Marmaduke Pearson supplied the fun in a manner which continually convulsed the house. It is to be hoped that the Collegiate will in future have more such features as this. It proved a drawing card last night and everyone was sorry to see the curtain go down.

Between the acts of the dialogue Messrs. Adams, and Brightman gave the school a mandolin duet accompanied by Miss K. Leary. The school enjoyed the music so much that they forced the return of the performers and the second was quite as much enjoyed as the first. The musical part of the programme was concluded by Miss Alice Neill in a piano solo, who executed her piece in a very creditable manner.

The meeting then closed by singing of God Save the King.

ENTERTAINMENT ON FEBRURAY 8th

Miss Amy L. Doty Will Train Children of George Street Sunday School

Miss Amy L. Doty, of London, who trained the children of the George street Sunday school for their annual entertainment last year, came to the city last evening to train the children of the same Sunday school for a similar entertainment on Feb. 8th.

The programme to be given will be an attractive one and will consist of drills, singing, recitations. Under the capable and thorough direction of Miss Doty, a most successful entertainment is assured.

STYLES FOR THE SEASON OF 1909

Women will wear in 1909 almost exactly what they wore in the fall of 1908. There are a few things that are going to be avoided by the fastidious woman, whether she be rich or not fashionable or otherwise.

One of these is the extra narrow coat that confines the figure rather severely below the hips. These have been too much worn by a large number of women, especially girls who like to be conspicuous.

The fastidious woman who dresses well and never with eccentricities, will wear her long coat in the slightly newer and more approved fashion, which has a kind of circular fullness from hips to knees. It does not conform her figure and does not button all the way down.

Another pretty fashion that she is apt to discard because it has been run to ground is the wide Directoire flap to the hip pocket. It is a pity to abolish this, for it is distinctly good looking and adds character to the surface of a plain frock.

She will make her skirts even narrower and shorter than they have been but they will not have that distinctly freakish cut which every one has abhorred except the woman who wears it.

There are two distinct kinds of jabots, each intended to fit certain occasions. On the street when shopping the jabot is a single or double panel of plaited material edged with lace.

For matinees, luncheons, afternoon calls, the double, fluffy jabot is appropriate. The latter is made of accordion pleated mull, net or lace and runs from the collar almost, if not quite, to the top of the high-waisted skirt.

This is plain or lace edged. It was fashionable in the beginning to add many loops of velvet or satin ribbon throughout its length but this style has vanished and the plain material is used.

HOCKEY MATCH POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY EVENING

The weather man has become a little more considerate in the interests of the hockey fans but the ice at Brock street rink is not in good enough condition to permit the playing of the Intermediate OHA game scheduled to take place tonight between Peterborough and Lindsay. The match has been arranged to take place on Friday evening when it is hoped a hard and fast sheet of ice will be ready for the puckchasers.

Judging from the tone of the Lindsay papers they expect the Songog sover to win here and think they will have an advantage if the ice is good. They figure that the fast forward line will be able to get in their effective combination and individual play and carry off the honors.

THE NEGRO HAS ACHIEVED SUCCESS IN PRIZE RING

In a recent article written for a an Francisco newspaper, Sam Berger tells why the negro has achieved uch wonderful success in the prize ing. Although comprising a very mall percentage of the population of his country, the black man stands re-eminent as an exponent of the nanly art. Berger gives as the chief eason for the colored man's success he obstacles that are placed in his way by racial prejudice. It is the natural instinct of the human being to fight in the face of great obstacles—the greater the obstacles the arder he fights.

MUCH TO OVERCOME.

The black man's native disregard or dignity and propriety spurs him n to overcome the social inequality between him and his White brother hat has developed by a natural process through centuries of time. His native animal instincts and his acute ense of humor turn many thrusts hat are meant for indignities into ests.

Jack Johnston, the first colored eavyweight champion of the world, s typical of his race his every respect. For years he has been clamoring for recognition in championship ircles, but all the white men of his lass slammed the door of opportunity in his face by drawing the color ine. Some were inspired by race eeling and others by fear. By a ucky chance a white man's craving or money gave the big negro the hance to reach the topmost rung of he ladder of fistic fame. Tommy urns worshipped the coin of the ealm and Johnson was the tool that roved his undoing.

ROUGH ROAD TO TRAVEL.

All through the years that Jonhson was ostracised from high-class company, he bore his exile "with a patient shrug" and flaunted his happiness in the face of his greedy oppressors. He was robbed out of a decision in a twenty-found battle with Marvin Hart on the coast. The record books place victory over the Kentuckian's name, and the world accepts the victory. Hart later posed as the champion of the world. But Johnsu nwas still happy. He did not go around in sackcloth and ashes, haunting undertakers' establishments. The care-free smile did not leave the dusky face. He laughed, drank an occasional bottle of wine and continued his fight for recognition and a square deal. He knew.

HE'S A WISE BLACK.

With all this commotion over the probable return of Jeff to the ring, is Johnson hiding under the bed with a hot water bag on his neck? Is he stalling around like Tommy Burns did when challenges were flung in his face? Why, of courses not, my dear child. He is grabbing all the vaudeville money there is in Australia and and will cop as much more out of the music halls in London when he hits the dear old Strand. He is happier than ever before in his life, and all the crockery in his facial dining room is exposed by the smile that won't come off.

He will fight Jeff or a kangaroo, or anything that can put up its dukes. Like our cyclonic lady friend, he doesn't care. If Jeff comes back Johnson will fight him, provided he receives the proper consideration in the financial reckoning. This is due any champion. If Jeff does not come back then Johnson has the title cinched. The accessories of the heavyweight championship are enough to keep any man in ham and eggs money as long as ham and eggs are authentic.

HOCKEY TEAMS WILL PRACTISE

Juniors and Intermediates Will Workout To-morrow Night

The intermediate and junior O.H.A. teams will practice tomorrow night from 7 to 8, in preparation the intermediate's game with Lindsay here on Friday and the junior match in Port Hope.

The following men are asked to be on hand in time to commence the practise at 7 sharp;—

Intermediates — Derocher, Glover, Moore, Ray, Parnell, Morgan, Rose, Dusty.

Juniors—L. Giroux, Wade, C. Dobson, Rose, C. Giroux, Hillier, Shortt, Pentland.

HOCKEY

TURN OUT TONIGHT

The members of the Peterborough hockey team are requested to be at the rink tonight at seven o'clock. If there is no ice for practice the team will do some training at the YMCA.

WRESTLING

Montreal, Jan. 26.—Fred Beeil and Harold Pagos have been matched to wrestle to a finish at catch-as-catch-can style, best two out of three falls, at Sohmer Park, Friday night. Pagos has been wrestling the last two years in Scotland and is said to have defeated all the best men there, including Esson. He is 6 feet in height and weighs about 190 pounds. Like Beell, his strong point as a wrestler is his speed, so the match will bring together two men who should make it lively for one another.

BASKETBALL GAME WITH PORT HOPE

To-morrow night the Y. M. C. A. intermediate basketballers play the Port Hope seniors in Port Hope. It will be an exhibition match.

The Peterborough quintette will be; Laing, Loomis, backs; Wallace, centre; Dobbin, Kirn, forwards.

The Collegiate Institute seven are trying to arrange a game with Lindsay Collegiate, the game to take place on the latter's ice.

GOOD BUSINESS.

A millionaire, hoping to encourage his young son in ways of thrift, promised to give him 2 per cent a month interest upon any money that he might save out of his allowance and deposit in the paternal treasury. The young man was getting £5 a week for pocket money and promised to show his appreciation of his father's affectionate offer. He began to make deposits without delay and kept the practice up with remarkable regularity.

The old gentleman noticed presently that the deposits exceeded the whole of the boy's allowance, but accounted for this by supposing that he had saved some money previously. Besides this, he received money frequently from his mother. So the fond parent rejoiced in the saving disposition that his son was displaying.

This continued until the boy's deposits assumed such dimensions as to demand an explanation. It then turned out that most of the money he had been depositing had been borrowed. Inasmuch as he was drawing interest on his deposits at 2 per cent per month and was paying only 10 per cent per year for them he had found the business decidedly attractive and profitable.

THE DEVILFISH.

He Is Not a Man Eater, but a Gently Reared Monster.

Contrary to popular belief, the devilfish is not a man eater, according to an official publication issued by the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, after an authoritative study of the subject by Dr. Theodore Gill, associate in zoology in the national museum. "The food of the devilfishes," he says, "so far from being large animals and occasionally a man or so, as has been alleged, appears to be chiefly the small crabs, shrimps and other crustaceans and young or small fishes. Rarely does one prey on large fishes."

Dr. Gill says that in a number of respects the young devilfish grows up under nursing and training remarkably like that of a human being. It is nourished, for instance, from its mother's milk. It is a peculiarity of the devilfish, he adds, that, instead of laying many thousands or millions of eggs, it normally has only a single young one at a birth. A baby devilfish is sometimes as broad as five feet and weighs twenty pounds or more.

Dr. Gill adds that devilfishes move about from place to place in a sort of submarine flight, speeding themselves along by flaps of the long winglike fins.

Day Dreams.

If you have a particular piece of work to do, get it done. Don't wait for the mood to strike you.

Don't dream! There are more precious hours wasted in day dreams than any of us would care to think about if we counted them.

The queer thing about day dreams is that so few of them ever amount to anything. The dreamer is only semiconscious when building his air castles, so, as a rule, they have no practical foundation.

While you are at work, keep your mind on what you are doing, and do not let it wander off to what you would like to be doing. Only by keeping your mind on what you are doing now can you bring it fresh and keen to the things you like doing best when the time for doing them comes. Thinking too much about even great happiness takes the "edge" off it.

The best time for day dreams is after you have gone to bed.

The Better Part.

A delightful little story is told of Prosper Merimee, the French author. He was once guest at a royal hunt, when hares, pheasants and other game were driven before the emperor and his followers, and the servants picked up the victims of the sport.

"How does this happen?" asked some one.

"Where game is so plenty the merit of a marksman seems to me to lie in hitting nothing," replied Merimee, with grave courtesy, "so I fired between the birds."

Waiters on Horseback.

In great French houses of days gone by dinner was announced by the blowing of hunting horns, and it is on record that at certain gala feasts the dishes were brought in by servants in full armor mounted upon caparisoned horses, a practice we could only look for during the reign of chivalry. Of the attendants at dinner the carver and server took precedence over all the others. They stood probably on each side of their lord. The server, it may be mentioned, was the officer who placed the dishes on the table.

Tit For Tat.

First Teacher—You told me to remind you to punish Willie Thompson this morning for impudence. Second Teacher—I'll do it tomorrow. I'm called before the school board today for insubordination.—Lippincott's.

A Secret.

Sparks—I wonder why it is a woman lets out everything you tell her? Sharks—My dear boy, a woman has only two views of a secret—either it is not worth keeping or it is too good to keep.—London Opinion.

A great man is made up of qualities that meet or make great occasions.—Lowell.

Money Found In Piano.

A young couple who recently got married in Glasgow had among their goods an old-fashioned square piano bearing the date of 1789. It was purchased merely a piece of furniture. They called in a piano-tuner to see if he could better the tone of the instrument.

While handling it he came on a piece of paper, and, pulling it out, handed it to the owner, who on reading it found the faded handwriting to run thus; "Lucky one, whoe'er you be, this little store is all for thee; if many mouths you've got to feed, t'will help you in your time of need."

On closer examination a small canvas bag with £15 in notes was found. The piano cost them 40 shillings, a bargain in itself, with this marriage present thrown in.

COAL BUCKET FELL ON HIM

Couldn't Walk for Two Months—Worker Owes His Restoration to Zam-Buk.

Mr Daniel Goddard, of Bay Street, Sault Ste Marie, Ont, says; "While employed superintending the unloading of a coal vessel at Cohen's Coal Dock, a heavy coal bucket in descending into the vessel to be re-filled suddenly overturned, grazing my left leg and scraping the flesh off of the bone. I was compelled to discontinue work and go home for treatment, where I was confined for about two months.

"When able to get out again I got cold in the wound, inflammation started the wound opened again, and for another month I was unable to move about. I tried all manner of things to get ease and get the wound to heal up, but nothing seemed able to do it. Not only did everything I tried seem useless so far as healing went, but I could get no ease from the aching and the burning pains. At times I was just about crazy with the intense throbbing pains, and night after night got no sleep whatever.

"Not until my wife began applying Zam-Buk did I find relief. When applied to the injured member this balm quickly soothed the pain, and as we continued using it each day brought improvement. The throbbing pains were soon banished, the inflammation and soreness relieved, and the wound thoroughly cleansed of all poisonous and unhealthy matter.

"Healing then began and in a wonderfully short time —considering the seriousness of the wound — Zam-Buk effected a complete and lasting cure. I have since had no trouble with the limb at all and it is as sound and strong as before the injury."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, lacerations, burns, eczema, ringworm, cold sores, chapped hands, poisoned wounds, festering sores, bad leg, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a cure for piles. Druggists and stores everywhere sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations, sometimes represented as "just as good and cheaper."

Too Much Quiet.

On one occasion the hustling and energetic archbishop of York, Dr. Maclagan, wrote to the vicar in an outlying village suggesting that he should lend his church for the purpose of giving the clergy of the district a "quiet day" for meditation and fraternal reunion. The witty vicar of this sleepy hamlet in the wolds promptly replied:

> My Dear Lord Archbishop—Your very kind letter to hand. But what the people in this village want most in their spiritual life is not a "quiet day," but an earthquake.

—London Standard.

An Appeal For Mercy.

"Judge," said the prisoner, "I suppose you're going to soak me."

"You are a habitual offender," replied the judge; "were caught with the stolen goods, and the court will have to do its painful duty."

"I don't want to seem unreasonable," replied the prisoner. "I don't mind a long sentence. I'm used to it. But say, judge, cut out the lecture that usually goes with it, won't you."

The Brute.

"Yes, this room is dark, damp and positively uninhabitable. It is supplied for your wife's mother, if she has one."

"She has. I'll take the flat."

Have You Ever Been Abroad?

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!

THE PETERBOROUGH REVIEW will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven=Thousand=Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The dearest ambition of every Canadian, when analyzed and finally summed up, is to Travel Abroad—to tour in ease and luxury, and to enjoy in comfort the splendor and excitement of new scenes, and the pleasure and novelty of mingling with the people of the Old World. The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

IN ADDITION TO THE EUROPEAN TRIP, THERE WILL BE EIGHT DISTINCT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

SHOULD THE WINNER OF THE TOUR NOT FIND IT CONVENIENT TO TAKE THE TRIP, A HIGH-GRADE PIANO WILL BE GIVEN INSTEAD.

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes.

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them.

OTONABEE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY IN FINE CONDITION

becomes the descendants of that

Keene, Jan. 23.—The annual meeting of the Otonabee Agricultural Society was held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday afternoon, January 19th, when the following officers were elected for the coming year;

President—Robert Humphries.

Vice-President—Peter Drummond.

2nd Vice-Pres—Joshua Smithson.

Secretary—Andrew Shearer.

Auditors—J. C. Read and Jas. McNeil.

Directors—J. H. Fife, John Lang, J. J. Moore, W. J. Miller, Gilbert Howson, W. Renwick, Alex. Stewart, W. W. Shearer, W. B. Stewart, W. Drummond, John Miller, Robt. Weir, R. A. Nelson, D. Edwards, F. A. Eason and Edgar Wood.

A discussion took place regarding the prize list and a few changes were recommended.

It was decided that the society would hold a standing grain competition as they had done last year and that the grain selected should be white oats.

The superintendent of fairs will be requested to furnish the society with an expert judge who will judge all the exhibits of horses, and to enable him to do this the judging will be commenced at eleven o'clock.

The president, vice-president, secretary, J. C. Read, William Drummond, John Lang and W. J. Miller, were appointed a committee to look after the property of the society, attend to any necessary improvements and see about leasing the grounds. They were also given instructions to have plans drawn up and estimates prepared for a grand stand capable of seating about two hundred people.

The fair will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 5th and 6th.

Mr. Sculthorpe, Port Hope, attended the meeting and offered a prize of five dollars for the best field of grown under contract for his firm, judges to be supplied by the society. The offer was accepted.

The financial statement which was presented shows the society to be in excellent financial condition. They own a valuable property with a good race course and a fairly good and [illegible] buildings for [illegible] exhibits. Besides they have a surplus of $207.98.

Last year the society paid $513.70 in prizes, not including horse races and other special attractions and their receipts were $1,020.20 and expenditures $812.22.

Rehearsed Last Night

A rehearsal for "The Little Tycoon," was held at the Conservatory of Music last night. About forty were in attendance and the rehearsal was very satisfactory.

"The Little Tycoon" will be presented at the Grand Opera House for three nights in February.

TWO STRANGE STORIES BY W. T. STEAD

"I have the gift of automatic handwriting," said Mr. W. T. Stead in the January issue of the Fortnightly Review, his article being called "Do the Dead Return?" He justifies the statement quoted by relating the following anecdote;

A lady friend of mine, who can write with my hand at any distance with even more freedom than she can write with her own, had been spending the week-end at Haslemere. Late on Monday afternoon I wished to know if she had left the country, and placing my pen on the paper, I mentally asked if she had returned to London. My hand wrote as follows;

"I am sorry to tell you I have had a very painful experience, of which I am almost ashamed to speak. I left Haslemere at 2.27 p.m. in a second-class carriage, in which there were two ladies and one gentleman. When the train stopped at Godalming the ladies got out, and I was left alone with the man. After the train started he left his seat, and came close to me. I was alarmed, and repelled him. He tried to kiss me. I seized his umbrella and struck him, but it broke, and I was beginning to fear that he would master me, when the train began to slow up before arriving at Guildford Station. He got frightened, let go of me, and before the train reached the platform he jumped out and ran away. I have the umbrella.

I sent my secretary up with a note saying merely I was very sorry to hear what had happened, and added, "Be sure and bring the man's umbrella on Wednesday.' She wrote in reply, I am very sorry you know anything about it. I had made up my mind to tell nobody. I will bring the broken umbrella, but it was my umbrella, not his.'

The following story furnishes seasonable reading. Referring to the authenticity of spirit photographs, Mr. Stead states that he once paid a visit to a photographer whose mediumship enables him to photograph the invisibles;

I had hardly taken my seat before the old man said; 'I had a great fright the other day. An old Boer came into the studio carrying a gun. He fairly frightened me, so I said to him "Go away; I don't like guns." And he went away. Now he's back again. He came in with you. He has not got his gun now, and he does not look so fierce. Shall we let him stay?"

'By all means,' I replied. 'Do you think you could get his photograph?'

'I don't know,' said the old man; 'I can try.'

So I sat down in front of the camera, and an exposure was duly made. Before the plate was removed I asked the photographer;

'You spoke to the old Boer the other day. Could you speak to him again?'

'Yes,' he said; 'he's still there behind you.'

'Ask him what his name is!'

The photographer appeared to put a mental question and to listen for a reply. Then he said;

'He says his name is Piet Botha.'

When he developed the plate there was seen standing behind me a huge, tall, stalwart man, who might have been a Boer or a Moujik. When General Botha came to London I sent the photograph to him by Mr. Fischer, who was Prime Minister of the old Orange Free State. Next day Mr. Wessels, another Free State delegate, came to see me.

'Where did you get the photograph?' he asked, 'the photograph you gave to Mr. Fischer?'

I told him exactly how it had come.

'Why,' said he, 'that man was a near relative of mine. I have got his portrait hanging up in my house at home.'

'Really,' I said, 'Is he dead?'

'He was the first Boer Commandant killed in the siege of Kimberley.'

'And what was his name?'

'Petrus Johannes Botha,' he replied, 'but we always called him Piet Botha for short.'

I still have the portrait in my possession.

Mr. Stead adds that no one in England, so far as he was able to ascertain, knew of the existence of Piet Botha.

H. J. Griffiths, a Welland plumber, has disappeared.

Frank Nicol fell dead while at his wells at Oil Springs.

RECOMMENDATION TO COUNCIL RESULT OF INVESTIVATION

Fire, Water and Light Com. Met Again Last Night and Dealt With Charges Against Fire Chief Howard—More Evidence Taken—Report to the City Council.

The Fire, Water and Light committee of the City Council met again last evening and resumed their investigation into the charges against Fire Chief Howard made by Ex-Ald Johnston. Additional evidence was given in reference to charge number seven, the of "Fireman McBride paying $8.22 more than entitled to. He paid the sum back to the chief. The chief's book and pay sheet will show this. I asked the chief for an explanation. He promised it but I did not get one."

After all the evidence had been put in and after much deliberation and discussion Ald Hicks moved seconded by Ald Morgan that the following report be made to the council;

"That to Chief Howard is due the credit for organizing the permanent brigade in the face of many obstructions, but while doing so and after, we would judge from the evidence that the chief has been extremely indiscreet and his actions have left him open to criticism to such an extent as to convince us that the best interests of the city will not be served by his remaining at the head of the fire department."—Carried.

FIREMAN BROMWELL

Fireman Bromwell, one of the firemen, said that he had been trying to recall to mind whether a man by the name of Albert George worked on relief duty for six days but he could not remember it. He had no recollection of any man being on relief duty save one by the name of Nash, who worked for witness for a few days. He did not think that any man could have been there in July without knowing it. He was away in August eleven days.

Regarding Sunday afternoon, January the tenth Bromwell was asked if he saw Chief Howard under the influence of liquor. He had no particular recollection of that day. He did not think that he had ever seen the Chief incapable of duty.

Ex-Ald Johnston asked Bromwell if Chief Howard was at the fire at the gas house. The witness said that the Chief was not there until the fire was nearly out.

Bromwell stated, in regard to the testing of the fire alarm boxes, that he first went around with Chief Howard and then with Assistant Chief Taylor.

FIREMAN WEIR.

Fireman Weir said that there was no man by the name of George ever on relief duty at the fire hall. He would have known had there been. There were two men on relief duty. Their names were Nash and Davidson. Weir was never away since he went there at the organization of the permanent brigade. Weir presented the chairman with an affidavit to the effect that the statements he made were true.

FIREMAN HAWES

Fireman Hawes also presented an affidavit to the effect that there was no fellow by the name of George at the fire hall in July on relief duty.

FIREMAN GRANGE

Fireman Grange said that he went on duty on the 22nd day of July. He never saw Albert George who was supposed to have commenced the same day. He never saw the fire chief the worse of liquor.

Chief Howard asked if Grange wasn't on watch on the morning of his first pay that he was there.

In answer to a question from the chief, Grange said that on that morning a man called to see the chief, stating that there was some money coming to him. Grange said that the man who called was an Englishman, and light complexioned, and had a moustache.

Chief Howard said that the man wore a dark tweed suit, was light complexioned, bare faced and about 5 feet, 10 inches in height. Chief Howard further remarked that the man who recommended George was a man by the name of Nelson, now residing in Port Hope.

Ald. Buller got into communication with Nelson on the telephone but learned that Nelson never knew of any such man and never recommended anybody to the chief.

Chief Howard was asked if he had anything further to say on the matter and he replied that he had not.

Ex-Ald. Johnston and Chief Howard then retired and clause by clause of the charges was dealt with until the seventh was reached which resulted in the passing of the above resolution.

Knights of Pythias Have Attractive Programme---Meeting To-night

The Knights of Pythias will make their meeting nights interesting and attractive, by having songs, readings, stump speeches, instrumental music, etc. They have an entertainment committee in charge of this branch of the work and intend having a good time during the winter months.

The second of these entertainments will be held tonight at the close of the regular meeting and much interest is being shown by the boys in making these social gatherings a success.

COMMISSIONERS MET YESTERDAY

Annual Report of Chief Roszel Presented — Judge Weller Re-elected Chairman

The Board of Police Commissioners held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon. His Honor Judge Weller was re-elected chairman and Chief Roszel presented his annual report.

Chief Roszel reviewed the work done in the police department, giving a full list of the various offences, which prisoners were charged with and showing how they were disposed of.

During the year one appointment was made to the force, that of P. C. Meagher. The force is working together in peace and harmony.

Chief Roszel again brought before the notice of the Property committee, the totally inadequate size of the Police office, there being only one small room in which to do the police business.

The Review will publish the report in full tomorrow.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Dr. Greer will lecture this evening in his regular course of "First Aid and Home Nursing." This class is free to all members of the association. A full attendance of the class members is desired.

Miss Nicholls' class for study in the different English subjects, also arithmetic, meets this evening at 7.30. This is a free class and all girls who would like to continue their school work, will be made most welcome.

THE TRANSVAAL WEEKLY JOURNAL

The Review is indebted to Lt-Col. Greenwood who has lately returned from South Africa where for many years he has been in the British military active service for a copy of the Transvaal Weekly. This newspaper is in every way of the conventional British colonial type, reminding the reader forcibly of its great prototype The Weekly Times. The following interesting clipping from it refers to Canada and the race problem;

"The Times of India, raises a point which we imagine is as fresh to our readers as it is to ourselves. This is that Canada, which objects to the immigration of coolies, rightly so called, even more strongly, if possible, than we do—and, like ourselves, in our opinion; reasonably objects—does not seek to exclude the Asiatic intellectuals, but, on the contrary, welcomes them. We do not know if our Government will think it worth while to confer by cable with Ottawa on the point, and ascertain that Government's opinion as to whether we should not wisely in agreeing to admit a limited number of these intellectuals. In view of Canadian experience and Sir Wilfrid Laurier's belief in and support of our Prime Minister such a step might be of assistance to our administration in regard to a question which, as we have argued from the first, is full of difficulty."

Meeting at St. John's

There will be an important meeting of the Sunday school teachers of St. John's church in the Guild room tonight at 8.30 o'clock.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

LOCAL OPTION AT MIDLAND

Editor of the Review

Dear Sir,—I have been asked numerous questions regarding the condition of matters in Midland, in consequence of the passing of the local option bylaw in that town. I give you a few instances from a letter from Mayor Letherby, of Midland which will be of interest to your readers.

The Mayor says, "Over one and a half year's experience of local option serves to convince me that it is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon our town. Arguments advanced by the liquor interests, that local option would injure or cause a diversion of business from here to elsewhere, are in my opinion absurd. There has been absolutely no diversion of business from here to my knowledge with the exception of the liquor business. Our largest employers of labor, and proprietors of all our industries speak of the measure in the highest terms, and would sacrifice considerable, rather than return to license conditions

I have no knowledge of a single exception and almost without exception our merchants testify to a substantial increase in business, on a better cash basis, also to the payment of old accounts, written off as worthless under the license system. Higher wages have been paid during local option than ever before in the history of Midland. Difficulty has been experienced in securing sufficient houses for rental, to accommodate those desirous of becoming residents. Ladies can now travel our streets without having their ears assailed by foul and profane language such as only drunken men use. I am satisfied that there is no more liquor sold under local option than was sold illegally under license. We have the same number of hotels now as under license, and the accommodation is very much improved. There has been no reduction, either in value or assessment of hotel or other property subsequent to local option coming into force, excepting a small reduction in business tax on hotels. Total reduction amounting to less than $150. Any loss of revenue resulting from the cutting off license fees etc. has been fully covered by investment of money in real estate, and erection of houses. What was formerly spent over bars, producing no revenue, is thus becoming assessable, and a source of revenue.

There has been no increase in our tax rate, due to local option. —Our assessment has increased by about $55,000 over 1908, notwithstanding financial stringency.

I challenge those circulating reports when local option contests are in progress, to the effect that the measure has been injurious to the best interests of Midland, to prove the truth of such assertion. If they can show that either in commercial, physical, social, moral or religious life of the community has been injuriously affected, I will render financial assistance to defeat local option where contests are now being waged. In the interests of the best welfare of the citizens in any community, when local option fights are in progress I sincerely wish temperance forces success.

Yours truly,
E. LETHERBY,
Mayor.

The above letter speaks for itself, and needs no comment.

I thank you for your valuable space,
Yours sincerely.
JAS G POTTER.

Pittsburg People Prefer Boxing Matches---Orchestra Visited Here Two Years Ago

Pittsburg, Pa, Jan 24—The Pittsburg Orchestra is to combine with Cleveland under the name of the Pittsburg-Cleveland Orchestra and will play on alternate weeks in the two cities. Pittsburg refuses to support the orchestra alone. In fact, the city's interest in things musical is shown by the circumstance that while an audience of only one hundred attended a recent concert given by the orchestra 1800 turned out the same night to see a fight between an Italian and a negro. The admission to two attractions was the same.

TORONTO FINANCIER DEAD; H. C. HAMMOND PASSES AWAY

Widely-Known and Well-Beloved Broker Succumbs After Illness Extending Over Several Months—He Was a General Contributor to Charity and Was Widely-Known Through Canada

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Herbert Carlyle Hammond, the well-known financier of the firm of Osler & Hammond, died at 7.30 yesterday evening after an illness lasting for many months.

Taken ill in June, 1908, when on a visit to Winnipeg, where he was associated in the firm of Osler, Hammond and Nanton, with an incurable disease of the throat, he bore his suffering with patience and resignation. Last week his condition became critical, and five days before he passed away he lapsed into unconsciousness.

For several months, unable to speak, he had carried on cheerful communication with relatives and friends by writing.

The funeral will be private and will take place to-day at 3.30 from his late residence in Grosvenor street, to St. James' cemetery.

Herbert Carlyle Hammond was the son of the late Carlyle Pryce Hammond, and his wife, Margaret Butler. His grandfather was Capt. Charles Hammond, R.N., one of whose exploits was specially mentioned in The London Gazette, 1809.

He was born at Grafton, Ont., Oct. 19, 1844, and was educated at Cobourg Grammar School, and at Upper Canada College.

He began his business career in the Bank of Montreal, Cobourg, and was afterwards accountant in the Quebec Bank at the head office, being associated there with D. R. Wilkie, the present general manager of the Imperial Bank.

On the organization of the Bank of Hamilton, in 1872, he was appointed cashier. This office he resigned upon entering into partnership with E. B. Osler, M.P., when the firm of Osler & Hammond came into being. Members of the Stock Exchange, they have had to do with the promotion of many important commercial and financial projects, and of a large number of these Mr. Hammond was a director.

Mr. Hammond was a man of such broad sympathy and fine financial ability that men seemed naturally to turn to him in critical times, as the one best fitted to resolve their difficulties. On the occasion of the Federal Bank failure in 1888 his name was suggested as liquidator, and when, some four years ago the Northern Navigation Co. found itself called upon to face a difficult situation, it was Mr. Hammond who, taking the presidency of the company, devoted his time and energy to it to such effect that he may truly be said to have placed the company on its feet again.

The spirit of the man, which seemed to be ever aroused by the contemplation of the prospective suffering of innocent investors, was again shown in the recent Ontario Bank failure.

A CLEVER THIEF HAS BEEN CAUGHT

Eddie Quinn, Involved in Tilbury Job in 1906, Has Been Captured

Windsor, Jan. 27.—Provincial Detective Mahoney has been notified of the arrest at Cleveland of Eddie Quinn, an international crook, who was implicated in the sensational theft of $1,200 from the Sovereign Bank clerk of Tilbury in the fall of 1906.

The Sovereign Bank got insurance in full from Lloyds for the loss and the insurance company has declined to prosecute.

Quinn and a pal named Futzi Deihn managed to switch suit cases with the bank clerk, whose attention was momentarily withdrawn. The robbery was discovered before the train stopped, at Fletcher and preparations were made to nab the thieves, who, however, alighted opposite the station, ran across the fields and got away.

THE WARDENS ARE CHOSEN

Newly-Elected County Councils in the Province Select Their Chiefs

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Most of the newly-elected County Councils throughout Ontario held their inaugural meetings yesterday and elected their wardens. Those elected follows: Brant, Richard Sanderson; Bruce, S. J. Parke; Dufferin, W. J. Dynes; Elgin, J. R. Summers; Essex, J. A. Coulter; Frontenac, R. A. Hamilton; Grey, R. Agnew; Haliburton, Dr Giles; Haldimand, Julius Root; Huron, Peter Lamont; Hastings, William Rogers; Kent, William Abraham; Lennox and Addington, Cyrus E. Yarker; Lincoln, Thos. D. Allan; Lambton, Robt. G. Bailey; Leeds and Grenville, A. E. Baker; Middlesex, S. R. Gillies; Northumberland and Durham, A. A. Powers; Norfolk, William Sutton; Ontario, R. R. Mowbray; Oxford, H. S. Moore; Perth, David Bonis; Peterboro, R. N. Scott; Simcoe, Richard Bell; Victoria, Geo. A. Jordan; Wellington, H. J. Colwill; Welland, Jas. McKeown; Wentworth, J. W. Gage; Waterloo, J. F. Katsenmeir.

FIVE YEARS FOR F. LAW

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Frank Law, mining broker, was yesterday sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for defrauding the public by means of "wild-cat" mining ventures. He, with his wife, who was in court, was apparently unmoved.

His counsel, G. T. Blackstock, asked for leniency. Of Law he said: "From circumstances generally I conceived that he was a weak man, unexperienced so far as business ability is concerned. He is a man who was played upon by a powerful and astute person, in whose hands he was little less than a tool."

Judge Winchester said the evidence against him had been overwhelming.

"I quite agree that your partner was the leader, but you followed him very closely in most of the company's dealings, and aided and abetted him in duping the public," said his honor. "That was apparently what your company intended to do. When Russell comes back he will be dealt with by whatever court he comes before.

"You have not only duped hundreds, but you have cast a stigma on legitimate mining enterprises. However, with that I have nothing to do. My part is to deal justice to you. If the executive show you mercy I will be quite pleased."

BLYTHE'S TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Walter Blythe will not be tried for the murder of his wife in Agincourt until Feb. 8. At the opening of the Criminal Assizes yesterday his counsel, T. N. Phelan, moved for an adjournment to the May Assizes, on account of the impossibility of securing data from his family connection in England regarding the sanity of his progenitors.

GREAT INTEREST IN REVIEW'S PRIZE POPULARITY CONTEST

Most Remarkable Newspaper Enterprise In the History of this Vicinity is the General Verdict—Extraordinary Opportunity is Offered to the Popular Persons in this County.

Increased interest is being shown in the Review's "European Tour and Diamond Contest," and already many have signified their intention of competing for the handsome awards. We are assured of competitors in each list.

A great many popularity contests have been conducted by the newspapers of Canada, and almost invariably the competition has been open to ladies only. Outside of the larger cities we have no record of a contest where men were invited to enter, except the one recently conducted on the Woodstock Express. The results of this contest demonstrated that "we mere men" enter a contest as readily as ladies. True, the grand prize was carried off by a young lady, but the aggregate number of votes cast was almost evenly divided between the ladies and gentlemen.

While we have explained quite fully that the grand prize is a free trip to Europe, which will be won by the lady or gentleman polling the largest number of votes in the entire contest, we wish to call attention to the fact that the winner has the option of accepting a high grade piano instead. Think of it. A trip to Europe or a fine piano free.

And the district prizes—there are eight of them—are well worth extra effort. Diamonds never depreciate in value. Watches are always useful. A six months' course in the Peterborough Business College, including all supplies, costs from $56 to $61. Now wouldn't that be a fine reward for a young lady or gentleman who wishes a business education?

These nine prizes, costing the Review hundreds of dollars, will be given away without cost to the winners and the subscribers of this paper will have the entire say-so in regard to who shall be the lucky nine.

As the "early bird catches the worm," why not be the "early bird" and enter the contest NOW? Fill out the nomination blank, found on another page for yourself or a friend and send or bring it to the Peterborough Review office—and do it today.

PREMIER AGREES WITH MR. BORDEN AS TO THE TREATY

In Reply to Opposition Leader's Protest That Waterways Compact Should Be Published Before Being Signed, Sir Wilfrid Admits That Terms Should Be Made Public Before Treaty is Ratified

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The House sat less than an hour yesterday afternoon, clearing off many of the questions of private members and uncontested motions for returns.

R. L. Borden again protested against the rule that prevented the tabling of the waterways treaty simultaneously with the reference of the same documents to the United States Senate.

"I believe," said Sir Wilfrid, "that in the United States a treaty may be given to the press some time before it is given to the Senate. We do not admit anything of that kind in this country, and it is simply because in his matter we follow the traditions of British diplomacy, under which Parliament does not publish the treaty until it has been signed by the King. But I quite agree that it is inconvenient that we should not have the matter made public in this country as soon as it is in the United States."

"A treaty which we make with the United States is not valid or binding until it is ratified by their Senate," said Mr. Borden. "It might be worth considering whether or not our treaties dealing with important subjects should not have a clause to the effect that they should not become binding on His Majesty until they have been ratified by the Parliament of Canada."

Sir Wilfrid agreed, adding: "I would go even further. Even admitting that the King alone has the treaty-making power I see no reason why the moment the treaty is signed it should not be given to the public even before it is ratified by His Majesty. Although the present treaty has been signed I must say we have not yet received an official copy of it."

Mr. Speaker announced that he had issued his writ for the bye-election in Carleton County.

Claude Macdonnel introduced his election amendment to abolish the $200 deposit required and to make federal election day a public holiday.

DUNSFORD AND LEACH VS. THE EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION

The suit of Dunsford and Leach vs the Exhibition Association in the Division Court has after much argument and several enlargements been decided by the learned judge against the defendants, the Exhibition Association. Mr Hatton for the plaintiffs, contended that according to the rules of the National Trotting Association under which the races at the Central Exhibition last autumn were run it was incumbent upon the authorities in charge of the races to identify the horses entered in the different classes. Mr Kerr opposed, but the Court has upheld Mr Hatton's contention

It will be remembered that 'Walter G' was returned as winner in two events at the exhibition races. This horse, the plaintiffs suspected, was "Little Hector,' which is a horse of a superior record and not eligible for the events in which it took part. Mr Gerald Dunsford, of Toronto, is manager of "Hazel Belle,'" and Dr Leach, of this city is owner of "Holland Boy,' both horses having been entered and having started in the races. The premiums paid to "Walter G'" will now have to be paid over again to the other horses.

A CROSSING CLAIMS TWO; FARMER AND BOY KILLED

Level Crossing at Kingston, Which Has a Terrible Record for Fatalities, Is Scene of Another Disaster—Victim Avoided One Train Only To Be Slain By Another

Kingston, Jan. 27.—The Montreal street level crossing of the Grand Trunk was the scene of a terrible accident at 7.15 o'clock last night, when the train westbound struck a wagon and killed William Spooner, a farmer of Glenburnie, aged 40, and his son Wilfrid, aged 10; while his wife is so terribly injured that the doctors say it is doubtful whether she will recover.

Spooner and his family were homeward bound from the city. Reaching the crossing, Spooner checked up to let the suburban train pass into the station. He then went ahead. At this point there are six tracks crossing in a diagonal manner, and when he reached the centre the train from the east crashed into the vehicle. The wagon was picked up on the cowcatcher and the horses broke away. Spooner was crushed in between the box of the wagon and one of the front trucks of the locomotive, and death was instantaneous. His head struck the engine with terrific force.

The boy, who was sitting between his parents, was also thrown against the engine and was dead when found.

Mrs. Spooner was thrown several feet to one side of the track, and, despite her injuries, was able to tell her name to the railway men, and give the names of the others. Spooner's head was crushed and his back broken, and the boy's skull was crushed into an awful mass.

The horses had a miraculous escape. They started to run on breaking away from the rig and were captured about half a mile away. The train stopped within 175 yards.

At the crossing there is a watchman only from 5 in the morning till 6 at night. It is regarded as dangerous, and in the past 20 years has been the scene of several fatalities and many serious accidents. Some time ago the county endeavored to get assistance from the railway committee before the Railway Commission was formed, to build an overhead bridge. The bridge was ordered, with the understanding that the county, city and company pay equal. The city held back, claiming that as the railway was not in the city limits, they should not pay, and the matter was dropped.

RAILWAY MAN'S HEROIC ACT

St. Thomas, Jan. 27.—Pere Marquette Fireman John McArthur of this city and a South African veteran saved a child of four years of age near Niagara Falls Monday evening, leaping from a fast freight at the risk of his own life.

He was on a fast freight eastbound, about dusk, when he saw a child with its feet caught in a cattle guard on the westbound M.C.R. track. A little older companion was vainly endeavoring to extricate the child. McArthur landed safely and released the little tot with difficulty.

Less than a quarter of a minute later the fast westbound train passed over the spot.

LEGISLATURE ON FEBRUARY 16th

Cabinet Sets Date for Opening of Session of Ontario House

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Feb. 16, which is a Tuesday, is the day chosen for the opening of the 12th Legislature of Ontario. The date was announced late yesterday evening after a Cabinet Council meeting by Sir James Whitney.

Several points are obviously to be dealt with. The Niagara power situation requires attention, and the necessary legislation will not be delayed.

The very important change in the period of the fiscal year, which in future is to terminate at the end of October instead of Dec. 31, as at present, will be brought into effect.

The statutory revision commission has been sitting assiduously several times a week for months, and forty or fifty of the important statutes have been completed.

A revision of a different order is in the case of the Municipal and Assessment Acts, which it is anticipated will be taken up and dealt with as a whole.

Law reform is another of the expected subjects of legislation.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

J. & W. Boyd's general store at Flesherton was burglarized Sunday night.

A five-mile extension will be built to the Edmonton street railway during the present season.

The war cloud has returned to the region of the Balkans, and Bulgaria is mobilizing troops on the Turkish frontier.

A petition for a re-hearing in the New York Consolidated Gas case has been filed in the Supreme Court of the United States.

W. E. Mountain, a poet, is seeking a divorce in Philadelphia because his wife claims to have a soul mate in another world.

P. J. Kieran, head of the Fidelity Funding Co., was arrested in New York on a charge of larceny, but released soon after on receipt of instructions from Pittsburg.

It is stated that Miss Lottie Teeter, one of the two survivors of the level crossing accident at Grimsby a week ago Saturday, has no recollection of the affair whatever. She has not been informed of the death of five of her friends.

Rev. Father Forner, while driving over the prairie south of Macklin, Sask., got lost in the storm and drove for two days and two nights without finding food or shelter. When taken in he was almost exhausted, and he was badly frozen.

Water Has Raised

There has been a considerable rise in the Otonabee river since the recent rains. The water has gone up about ten inches.

GRAFT CHARGE IN PANAMA CANAL

Washington, Jan. 27.—Charging that William Nelson Cromwell, Roger L. Farnham, Charles P. Taft and others are parties to the "most infamous railroad proposition ever submitted to any Government," and that they "are being permitted not only to rob the Republic of Panama, but indirectly the treasury of the United States," Representative Rainey of Illinois yesterday in a startling speech supported his resolution providing for an investigation by Congress of the Panama Canal purchase.

"In their efforts in this direction," he continued, "they have had so far the complete co-operation and active assistance of the present administration and the next President of the United States."

Sifton Buys Mine.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Hon. Clifford Sifton and M. J. O'Brien of Renfrew have purchased the Bonsall properties on Miller Lake, in the Gowganda district for $500,000.

It is said the Bonsall claims are the richest in the silver area of the north. Samples averaging 20,000 to 30,000 ounces to the ton have been secured.

To Dissolve Huge Merger.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—The Federal Government's efforts to dissolve the famous $500,000,000 Harriman merger was again postponed yesterday owing to the continued absence in New York of C. A. Severance, the chief attorney of the Government. The hearing starts to-day.

The Care of Homeless Children.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 27.—Speakers yesterday at the conference of the care of dependent children appeared to agree that children of normal minds who must be removed from their homes should be cared for in families wherever practicable, but that the abnormal child should be placed in a children's institution.

An opinion was voiced that child-caring institutions should be conducted on the cottage plan.

Howdy For Shriners.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 27.—"Howdy" has been selected as the slogan for the Mystic Shriners. The executive committee, which is planning for the 35th annual session of the imperial council in this city June 7 to 10, has officially designated "Howdy" as the salutation.

"Howdy" is to be used verbally and on the banners. It is to be spelled in electric lights and to adorn the stationery that goes forth from Louisville business houses. "Howdy" will be uttered in a million forms, more or less, between now and the middle of June.

Train Leaves Track.

North Bay, Jan. 27.—A peculiar freight wreck occurred yesterday morning at Garry, on the C.P.R., 51 miles west of Chapleau, and 351 miles west of North Bay.

Eighteen cars left the rails and crashed into a telegraph pole, tearing down the pole and wires, severing communication entirely with the west. The cause of the accident is unknown at present. Traffic will be delayed for several hours.

A slight accident to an engine on the C.P.R. Toronto express, No. 95, also caused delay yesterday.

Buffalo Man Gets Job.

Welland, Jan. 27.—Frank L. Pattison of Buffalo has been appointed collector of customs and canal tolls at Port Colborne, made vacant by the death of S. J. Sidey. George Wells of Welland was an applicant.

A. L. Current of Welland has been appointed customs officer at Bridgeburg.

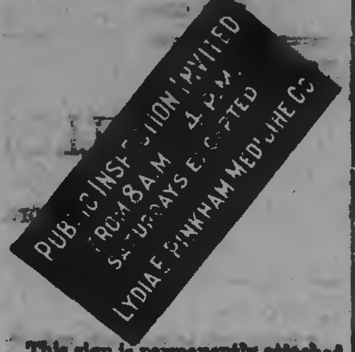
THE COME AND SEE SIGN



This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean?

It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and aboveboard."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs — without drugs?

Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick woman are asked to write?

Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

The Daily Review

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 27, 1909.

ON THE DEFENCE

There is at present a revival under the immediate auspices and incitement of Henri Bourrassa in the Province of Quebec, of the French-Canadian Theory which means in the rhodomontade periods of that gentleman that the French-Canadian must keep kicking, kicking always and remain irreconcilable. Only in that way can he get everything. Ultimately, no doubt, he expects the English-speaking Canadian to get down on his knees to him. On no other basis can the persistent and wholly needless championing of French-Canadianism be accounted for unless that it is due to Bourrassa's personal ambition (voila). At any rate he is beating the tom-tom at a furious rate, just now, but he may some day rank as the cause of inter-racial enmity not amity. In the meantime we should like to see the list of things that he wants for his stocking, anyhow. "Allons, donc M. Bourassa." Tell us what you want, all that you want, what we may be allowed to want, and what both are likely to get and be quick about it. It begins to look, if we are to judge by the inflammatory utterances of Bourrassa and his abuse of the Governor-General, as if Bourrassa wishes to drive the English from Canada, altogether. There is a Jean Baptiste federation. Why should there not be a Defence Association organized for protection of the British to be called "The National Defence Association of Canada for the Preservation of the Lives and Liberties of those who do not express the affirmative by 'Oui' and the negative by "Non." Any person, using both languages is qualified to belong to both societies but in case of strife he must fight on one side only, giving due notice of choice.

PROHIBITION IN TENNESSEE

Tennessee has been the scene of two revolutions lately, the prosecution of the Nightriders, many of whom were condemned to death and the inauguration of state-wide prohibition. The opinions expressed upon prohibition will astonish most people since few will be prepared to believe that the national constitution is founded to such an extent upon either whiskey or water. However, the following opinions gathered by the Literary Digest are both of interest and importance and no doubt our readers, who are forming their opinions, will be glad of an opportunity to see what the Southern States have to say regarding it.

"Why try to force prohibition on the cities where it is impossible to enforce it? This is the question which the urban press of Tennessee are indignantly asking their readers as an aftermath of the passage of the State wide prohibition bill by the State Senate which practically insures the final establishment of one more southern commonwealth under the sign of the full water-pitcher. That the passage of the bill was a surprise to those sections of Tennessee containing Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga is evident when it is noted that almost the combined press and business influence of these communities were actively opposed to it. "The business and commercial interests of these cities are almost solid against this arbitrary and damaging legislation," says the Nashville American. "Why should such unfairness and tyrannical spirit be shown towards the cities?" asks the Nashville Banner. The Chattanooga Times pleads that four-fifths of the voters and taxpayers of that city are unalterably opposed to the "passage of a law especially directed to the abridgment of their rights to govern and control their own local affairs, and a majority of the prominent business organisations are against prohibition in Memphis," says the Memphis Commercial Appeal, which goes on more at length thus;

"There is more in this opposition than the loss of revenue to the city and the injury that will be done to business.

"Certain it is that a majority of the people of Memphis are not for State-wide prohibition.

"We believe the leading objection on the part of those against prohibition is the knowledge of the futility of the measure. It is felt that public sentiment not being behind it, the law would not be enforced. The traffic would become outlawed, yet public sentiment would not be strong enough to have the law observed.

"It was a hard fight in Memphis to enforce the Sunday law. Our political rulers made it an instrument for gathering in votes. In order to whip the saloon people into line, the lid was put on tight. Then, when they were in line, the lid flew off."

The Nashville American is incensed over what it believes is political treachery in the passage of the bill. It says in part;

"No question is ever settled until it is settled right. Under the provisions of the bill which was driven through the Senate yesterday, there is neither right nor justice, neither common sense nor practicability.

"The frenzied prohibition forces, under selfish leadership, may way their bills through legislative halls, but they will have difficulty in making those whose sensibilities have been outraged, observe them.

"So far as this newspaper is concerned, if these measures are placed upon the statute-books, no matter how unjust they may be, it will do its part to see that they are enforced but it will never sanction the method of their enactment. No honest newspaper can.

"The American is a Democratic paper. There is not one drop of yellow blood in its veins. It is owned and edited by Democrats by Tennesseans whose every heartbeat is for Tennessee. It can adapt itself to conditions; it can submit to injustice, but the road is not too long nor the night too dark for it to falter in the face of the traitors within its own party and the enemy without—that enemy which has ever been a curse to Tennessee and will be again if given the opportunity.

"Defeat may come through the treachery of members of its own household, but dishonor never by its own acts. Those Democrats who yesterday forgot the declarations of their own party, who voted to sustain the principles of George N. Tillman and Clay Evans and Newell Sanders, may lay the flattering unction to their souls that they have done right, but the unterrified Democracy of Tennessee will renounce them in thunderous tones the next time the ballot-boxes are opened."

The Knoxville Sentinel, the only advocate of State-wide prohibition which we have read from Tennessee, in a long editorial on the economic side of prohibition, takes up the accusation that the new measure will throw thousands of people out of work and deprive the cities of many thousands of dollars of direct revenue. We read;

"The same sort of dire prophecies were made for Knoxville, and not one of them has been accomplished. The 114 places of business occupied by Knoxville saloons and the property used for wholesale liquor distribution before the sale of liquor was forbidden in this city are all occupied. The business of the city has gone ahead in spite of the general depression last year. Economically, Knoxville makes a better showing than Chattanooga in spite of the large liquor trade which has been concentrated in Chattanooga, or better said, on account of it. Crimes have been greatly diminished. The people are generally employed and the authorities say that never has the general level of temperate and industrious living been as high as it is now."

The comment of the country press of Tennessee it is supposed will be as strongly in favor of the prohibition success as its city contemporaries are opposed to it. The movement has gained its chief impetus from this source and it is in fact, acknowledged that the passage of the bill is a complete victory for the rural districts in their attempt to force the cities into dry territory. Ninety-two of the ninety-six counties of Tennessee have been under prohibition laws for some time."

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is as the Magistrate observed, about time that the rioters in special trains got what was coming to them. Special trains had got to be a bugbear to those desirous of travelling in them for the reason that roughs usually took possession and acted accordingly.

PATRIOTIC SONG

From Ocean unto ocean,
Extends its wide domain.
With its wealth of mines and forests,
And fields of golden grain.
Its a land that's fair to look upon,
With it's hills and valleys green,
Its people law abiding,
And loyal to their Queen.

With the swords our fathers won it,
And their sons would fight today
As they fought with Brock at Queenstown,
As they fought at Chateauguay.
And as part of Great Britain
With the Empire at our back.
We'll fight for King and Country,
And the grand Old Union Jack.

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for Dandruff and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald—Bald to stay—for not even the wonderful rejuvenating properties in Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead. Parisian Sage cures Dandruff. Wm. Madill, druggist, sells it—recommends it and guarantees it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure Dandruff, Falling Hair and Itching of the Scalp.

Norwood Jan. 26—Dr. Robertson and daughters, Phillis and Ruth, were in town last week.

Miss Ethel Richardson of Peterborough, is visiting her friend, Miss Mary Nicoll.

Miss Una Duffield visited friends in Peterborough over Sunday.

Mr. John MacLaughlan, who purchased the brick dwelling on Hasting road, owned by Mr. R. J. Stewart, of Calgary, is moving into the house this week.

Mrs. E. J. Laing has returned after visiting friends in Peterborough and Lakefield.

The Methodist Sunday school will hold their entertainment in the town hall on Friday evening, January 29th.

Mrs. Nelson Beavis, of Asphodel, is visiting friends in Lakefield and Peterborough.

Mr. M. B. Callander went to Lindsay on business last week.

Miss Mary Nicoll has returned after visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss Molly Johnston of Havelock visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston last week.

Mrs. Campbell and daughter, Mrs. R. Johnston, are visiting friends in Cavanville.

The remains of the late Albert E. Hall, who a few years ago was clerk in the general store of Messrs. J. B. Pearce & Son, but who has for some years past been employed in Toronto arrived here on Monday evening on the 5.20 C.P.R. local express. The late Mr. Hall was in the prime of life being just a little past 38 years of age. He was the brother of Mrs. F. J. Pearce, from whose residence the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

While in Norwood deceased made a host of friends. He was popular and well liked in the store. He leaves a wife and daughter and one son to mourn his loss.

The Presbyterian Sunday school held their annual entertainment in the basement of the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, January 22. The programme which consisted of drills, dialogues, songs and choruses, were appreciated by all. After the programme oranges and candies were passed around as a treat to the children of the Sunday school.

Mrs. McNab left for her home in Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday last. Mrs. McNab has been visiting for the past two months with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patterson, King-st.

Mr. Harold Patterson, who is attending the High school here, visited at the home of his parents in Indian River, over Sunday.

Mrs. T. Devitt and son Allen, who have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Patterson, King-st., for the past two months, intend leaving for their home in Winnipeg on Wednesday.

Mr. Auckland Anderson who is attending High school here, visited at his home in Hastings on Sunday.

Mr. E. V. Laing went to Havelock on Tuesday.

Owing to the soft weather we have not had any skating in Norwood for nearly a week, but if the weather keeps as it is we will have skating in in a day or two.

Mr. Puffer, who had his foot injured in a saw mill sometime ago, is able to be around again.

THE WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, DC, Jan 23—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbances to cross continent 18 to 22, warm wave 17 to 21, cool wave 20 to 24. This disturbance was expected to cause warm weather in lower Mississippi valleys, a cold wave and blizzard in northern States and Canada, causing very low temperatures north of parallel 40.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 22, cross Pacific slope by close of 23, great central valleys 24 26, eastern states 27. Warm waves will cross Pacific slope, about 22, great central valleys 24, eastern states 26. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope, about 25, great central valleys 227, eastern states 29. This disturbance will cause high temperatures, a great rise from the low temperatures preceding and the cool wave following will not bring very cold weather nor much precipitation. About and immediately following Jan 23, great energy will develop in all storm features and severe storms may be expected.

First disturbance of February will reach Pacific coast about Jan 29, cross Pacific slope by close of 30, great central valleys 31 to Feb 2, eastern states 3. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about Jan 29, great central valleys 31, eastern states Feb 2. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about Feb 1, great central valleys 3, eastern states 5.

Indications are that about last of January all storm features for all sections of the country will change, the storm centres crossing the continent well to northward and the cool waves far southward, causing relatively warmer weather in northern states and Canada than in southern states. On eastern part of the continent the cold will cover nearly all the country to the Canadian line.

The storm forces will develop great energy from January 23 to middle of February and dangerous storms are liable to occur at any time. Trend of temperatures will be upward till about first of February, and then downward till after the middle of February. General forecasts of February weather will be given in next bulletin. Expect dangerous storms February 5 to 10

FOR THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Mix This at Home if You Have Kidney or Bladder Trouble or Rheumatism

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

The following simple home treatment will cure Rheumatism and is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three harmless ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

PETERBOROUGH MEN GO EAST

Secure Work Repairing Telegraph and Telephone Wires Where Bad Storm Prevailed

Telegraph and telephone wires in the eastern part of Ontario and Quebec have been laid low by a terrific wind and sleet storm which prevailed there at the close of last week. A large number of men are now employed making repairs and a number of the unemployed from Peterborough have been able to get work as a result. A representative of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. was through here on Monday and picked up a large number of men to go down east to assist in repairing wires and straightening out the tangle generally.

MRS. HOPE, Morpeth, Ont.

Terrible Effect of La Grippe

How many people there are who know from bitter experience the evils which follow in the train of La Grippe! The whole system is run down, appetite entirely fails, there is a continual feeling of languor and weakness, and life seems scarcely worth living. In many cases the lungs are attacked, and the victim gradually declines, until prematurely carried off by the dreaded "white plague."

What would not the sufferer give to know of a SURE remedy—of some medicine that would not only arrest the disease, but build up the wasted system, and restore permanently the lost health and strength; in a word, give new life and hope? SUCH A TONIC IS PSYCHINE.

Mrs. Hope (née Cattle), of Morpeth, writes: "My lungs were in a terrible state, I had had La Grippe, and it had settled on my lungs. I kept steadily getting worse, and got so low that I was confined to bed, and could not even sit up. I consulted several doctors, but they said nothing could be done for me. Then I started taking PSYCHINE and it has certainly done wonders. I am now as strong as I was before my sickness, and can truly say that PSYCHINE saved my life." Such testimony as this is convincing.

If you are suffering in a similar way, and have almost despaired of ever recovering the health you once enjoyed, why not send for a sample bottle of PSYCHINE and test it for yourself? There is no reason why you should not be restored. PSYCHINE has proved the sovereign remedy in hundreds of other cases. Why not in yours? PSYCHINE is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. LIFE IN EVERY DOSE.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Girl Perishes in Fire.

Lavalee, Jan. 27.—Fire which started in the home of S. Shine, a mail carrier, last night, burned the house to the ground and caused the death of his only daughter, Gertie, aged 6. A family of four boys escaped with difficulty through an upstairs window. The girl, it is supposed, was suffocated while asleep.

The whole town might have been burned, but that Scotchmen were celebrating Burns' anniversary in a nearby hall and turned out in time to stop the fire. Lavalee is a siding next to Fort Frances.

Charge Against Town Foreman.

Galt, Jan. 27.—George Egerton has preferred charges against Town Foreman Adam Davidson of employing men to work on his farm and turning in their time to the town treasurer.

The mayor and council have decided to hold a conference with Davidson's solicitor, who has been instructed to learn whether this action cannot be made to cover the desired investigation.

Extradition Refused.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 27.—Secretary Root yesterday announced his decision not to extricate Christian Rudowitz, the Russian for whose possession the Russian Government made vigorous representations.

Telegraph Poles Blown Down.

Montreal, Jan. 27.—The storm is over, but the railways feel it badly yet. The C.P.R. has 260 poles down between here and Farnham, 30 miles. The G.T.R. has not a pole standing in the eight miles from Valois to St. Anne de Bellevue, yet the trains are not far behind. By the cancellation of freights and less important passenger trains, the others are running with care without any despatches. Even the Vancouver train came in almost on time after feeling its way with news of the other train from Smith's Falls in.

Leaves Fortune to Priest.

Kingston, Jan. 27.—Miss Emil Depres, who died in the General Hospital, left a fortune of $20,000 to Rev. Father Huntingdon of New York. Of this amount $6,000 is invested in real estate and the balance in stocks and securities. Father Huntingdon devotes his life to the relief of the poor. Her remains were cremated at her request and sent to her former home in Paris, France.

Dr. A. D. McIntyre, late superintendent of the General Hospital, has secured a fellowship at Edinburgh.

Laird-Scott Case To-morrow.

Regina, Sask., Jan. 27.—The famous Laird-Scott libel case goes to trial to-morrow morning, according to announcement made in court yesterday afternoon. Both sides have retained outside counsel, and these do not arrive till Thursday.

For the defence, Premier Scott has engaged Hugh Robson and N. P. Hogel of Winnipeg. The defence announces that they have filed a second plea and also objections to the pleadings.

Rail Broke at Game.

Cobalt, Jan. 27.—Ten or a dozen spectators of last night's hockey match between the Cobalts and Wanderers were injured by the collapse of a portion of the gallery rail, which allowed them to fall a dozen feet to the ice. The accident occurred with 1 3-4 minutes time left to play, and the Wanderers fighting furiously to overcome a lead of two goals. In the excitement the crowd pressed forward and the railing gave way.

Four Men Are Burned.

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 27.—Four men were burned or suffocated to death and another fatally burned here yesterday in a fire which burned out the Southern Hotel, opposite the Santa Fe passenger station.

An explosion of a gasoline stove caused the fire, which also heavily damaged six other buildings. All were frame structures.

Captains Exonerated.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 27.—Captain Edwin Farrer of Seattle and Captain Patrick Hamilton have been exonerated of charges of cowardice and neglect in connection with the wreck of the cannery bark Star of Bengal and the loss of 111 lives on Coronation Island, Alaska, Sept. 20.

COUNTY SCHOOLS

Report Presented by Inspector Lees at To-day's Meeting of County Council.

At this morning's session of the County Council, Public School Inspector Lees presented the following report,—

To the Warden and Council of the County of Peterborough,—

Gentlemen,—

I beg respectfully to submit my report on the schools of the county for last year.

During the first half of the year, I visited in the western, and during the last half in the eastern division of the county. In the former, there were employed 48 teachers in the rural schools, and 7 in the village of Lakefield. In the latter there were 55 in the rural schools and 12 in Havelock and Norwood, making a total for the county of 104 rural school teachers and 19 in the villages. Of the former, 2 held first class, 25 second class, 38 third class, 23 district and 16 temporary certificates or none at all. For the villages, the figures were 3 first, 15 second and 1 third class.

As in former years, the greatest obstacle to progress has been the shortness of tenure of office on the part of the teachers. At my visits in 1908, I found 34 out of 104 rural schools in charge of the same teachers that were there at the time of my former visit. In December last, there were only 7 of the rural schools in which there had been a change since I made my first visit, about three years ago. At the close of last year, there were, in the whole county only 26 teachers of those I met on my first round. Under such circumstances, it is impossible to carry out any definite plan of advance as the workers are away before it is possible to get them even started along any line of progress. Many trustees are exceedingly indifferent, and seem even more anxious than otherwise for a change when it is entirely uncalled for. Mere whims or prejudices, little personal feelings of spite or jealousy, the saving of a few dollars in salary or a simple desire for change, frequently constitute the only reason for unsettling the work of the school, and throwing things into that confusion, that inevitably results from a change even under the most favored circumstances.

I am pleased to say that this is not a universal condition. There are many boards of trustees that are anxious to promote the best interests of their schools, are willing and ready to adopt suggestions from teacher or inspector, and to make personal sacrifices on behalf of the schools. But there are others, who having no interest in the school themselves; except to meet the bare requirements of the law at the least possible expense, can not conceive that either teachers or inspectors can have any higher motive, and so look upon both as necessary evils. These are the really poor schools. The buildings and surroundings are usually uninviting, the equipment is inadequate, the children catch the infection of the officials and lack enthusiasm, there is no 'school spirit,' the teacher is often 'cheap' and if possessing some ambition, finds a deadness and inertia that are too great to be moved, and, soon settles down to the dead level of the surroundings.

My experience in the work so far, has led me to the conclusion that the inspector's visits are too far apart. It is not possible to get sufficiently into touch with either pupils or teachers to exercise that supervision that would be in the best interests of the schools. I am of opinion that during the first half year which contains more than half the teaching days, a good deal more could be accomplished by making two visits. This would be quite practicable, at any rate in the western division of the county, where there are fewer schools and the ground is more easily covered. I am willing to undertake this extra work for the half year, if an additional allowance is made to cover the added expense. I advise that this plan be adopted for the present half year as an experiment.

The grants for the year were generous. The amount received by the county from the various legislative grants were as follows:—

General fixed grant of $30 to each of 41 schools in the poor townships,—$1230.

Grant on account of salaries—$5014.

Grant on account of certificates—$660.

Special grant for accommodation and equipment—$1155.

Special grant for assisted schools—$125.

Special grant for libraries—$298.16.

Grant to continuation schools—$572.45.

Grants to village schools—$816.

The county pays the equivalent of the grants to continuation schools and that on account of accommodation and equipment, amounting to $1727.48. This added to the above makes a total of grants to public schools in the county of $12,690.

A considerable sum was expended during the year on the erection of new buildings. An addition has been made to No 8, Smith, Young's Point and two teachers are now employed there. New buildings were erected in Nos 6 and 8 Chandos, and in No 3, Belmont. These are all good buildings, modern in design and well built. Additions, each containing four rooms have been made to the buildings at Lakefield and Havelock. This makes a total of ten rooms in the former and eight in the latter. In Lakefield there will be, for the present, two rooms unoccupied, but as the cost of four rooms was only slightly more than of two, the board wisely looked to the future, and built the four. In Havelock, the space is practically all needed at present. The increased accommodation, was urgently needed there, and will prove a great boon to the educational interests of the village. Both places are to be congratulated on their enterprise and energy. I am informed that an excellent building has been erected in the Separate School section No 4 Asphodel. Including this the total expenditure in the county on new buildings will be over $17,000 for the year.

The continuation schools continue to make progress. There are now three Grade A schools, Lakefield having, since September, arranged for the principal to give all his time to this work. In the three schools, Ennismore, Havelock and Lakefield, there are more than a hundred students receiving an excellent training in high school work without the expense and inconvenience of going away from home. At the Ennismore school, 8 candidates wrote on the teachers' examination last July. Of these five took the stand necessary for entrance to the Normal school, two of them with honors, while the other three obtained the standing necessary for admission to the district Model schools. The probability is that in the near future all three schools will require the services of at least two teachers.

More than ordinary difficult has been experienced by many trustees in securing teachers for the present term. This matter will adjust itself at midsummer. The students at present attending the Normal Schools will then be available for positions. There are about 160 at the Peterborough school and trustees where the changes are in contemplation, would do well to move early and get into communication with these students before they have made engagements elsewhere. The day seems to have passed when it is possible to secure a "cheaper" teacher by waiting till the last minute.

It was my privilege, last June, to pay a brief visit to the city of Winnipeg and some parts of the Province of Saskatchewan. Though my time was limited, yet I found it possible to visit a few of the schools in both places. In Saskatchewan the rural schools are mostly small, but the buildings are neat, and so far as my observation went, fairly well equipped. The work being done is very similar to that in our own rural schools. The most marked difference I found was in the salaries of the teachers, which are, on the average, about double those paid here.

A great deal can be gained by an inspector, in having the privilege of observing what is being done by others. I would recommend that your inspectors be given, during the present year, a month's leave of absence for the purpose of observing the work in other inspectorates or outside the province if thought desirable, and that a fair allowance be made to cover the cost of such a visit. I am convinced that it would be money well spent in the interests of education in the county.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,
RICHARD LEES,
Public School Inspector.
Peterborough, Jan. 26th, 1909.

Husband Kidnaps Child.

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Charlotte E. Hamilton, 87 Cecil street, complains that her six-year-old child, Almer F. Hamilton, was kidnapped Jan. 13 while on his way to the Lansdowne school on Spadina crescent.

The next morning the mother received a 'phone message from her husband, from whom she is divorced. He said he was taking the boy to St. Louis.

When the divorce was granted the mother was given custody of the child.

ST. JOHN'S NOTES

St John's Sunday school teachers met in the Guild Room last night, when Rev Canon Davidson delivered an instruction on the Sunday school lesson for the next two Sundays.

A statement of the progress of the school for the first half of the Sunday school year was read by the Superintendent, showing a distinct advance in all departments.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

That Mr Donald Denham be appointed to the office of Secretary-Treasurer.

That the hearty thanks of this meeting be conveyed to Mr Rush for his long and faithful services to this Sunday school, both as teacher and treasurer.

That this meeting express its earnest sympathy with Mr and Mrs Denham in the serious illness of their son Donald, and prays that the invalid may soon be restored to health.

Mr. Alex Campbell of Smith Provided Enjoyable Time for His S. S. Class

An enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. Alex. Campbell, Smith township last Thursday evening when Mr. Campbell entertained the members of his class of young men from the Gilmour Memorial church Sunday school. The feature of the evening was a banquet to which thorough justice was done.

After the banquet speeches were made by all those present, Mr. Campbell being heartily thanked for his kindness and the interest taken in the young men.

It was decided to organize the class in order to carry on its work more efficiently. The following officers were elected:—

President.—W. Scott.
Vice-President.—Garbutt Mann.
Secretary.—Alex. Mann.
Treasurer.—Alex. Mann.

Before adjourning a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell for their kindness. The gathering closed with Auld Lang Syne.

CHIEF ROSZEL PRESENTS HIS ANNUAL REPORT TO BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS

Annual Meeting Held Tuesday Afternoon---His Honor Judge Weller Re-elected Chairman---Chief Roszel States That Police Office is Inadequate to Carry on Business.

Report of the Chief Constable of the City of Peterborough for the year 1908.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit my report of the work done by the police department during the year 1908.

Schedule "A" contains a list alphabetically arranged and classified of the principal offences which prisoners were charged with and showing how the cases were disposed of.

Schedule "B" shows the amount of fines and costs collected by the department during the year and handed over to the City Treasurer.

Schedule "C" shows the amount of property reported lost or stolen during the year and what proportions were recovered.

Schedule "D" shows the amount of licenses collected, with the assistance of the City Clerk, during the year, including dog tax.

GENERAL REMARKS.

During the year one appointment was made to the force, viz., P. O. Meagher. The general health and conduct of the force during the year has been good. I am pleased to be able to report that the police force is working together in peace and harmony.

SECOND HAND AND JUNK DEALERS.

I am pleased to report that all second hand and junk dealers have complied with the by-law.

HOTEL AND POOL ROOMS.

Seventeen persons were before the Police Magistrate for breaches of the Liquor License Act during the year. Eleven of these were convicted. Pool rooms have been very well conducted during the year

No illicit sale of liquor is done in the city, and the city is free from houses of ill-fame and gambling resorts so far as I am aware.

The Chief Constable's Association of Canada, meets this year at Niagara Falls, Ontario, in July next, and I trust gentlemen you will make it convenient for me to attend, as I was elected president of the association at our meeting last year in Quebec.

I would again bring to the notice of the Property Committee the totally inadequate size of the police office there being only one small room in which to do the police business.

During the summer months several houses were left in our care during the temporary absence of the owners. I am pleased to report that none were disturbed.

I am sorry to have to report that during the latter part of the year several petty thefts have been committed from delivery rigs, the perpetrators of which we have not been able to capture.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
Signed, GEO. I. ROSZEL,
Chief Constable.

PETERBOROUGH GIRL WHO TOOK POISON WILL RECOVER

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Suffering from bichloride of mercury poisoning, Miss Alice Howell, twenty-one years of age, was taken to St. Michael's hospital this morning.

The girl was a roomer at 42 1-2 Alice street, with Mrs. Florence Hawkins. Last night she came home from a party and complained of a headache. At about 4 o'clock this morning she arose and went to a drawer in a wardrobe in the room and took a tablet which she says she thought to be a headache tablet. In a short time she began to suffer from severe pains, and a doctor was summoned. He ordered her removal to the hospital. A stomach pump was applied and the girl put to bed. She is still in a critical condition, however, owing to the fact that the after-effects of this particular form of poisoning are very dangerous.

WHAT SHE TOLD HER FRIEND.

Cassie, the girl with whom Miss Howell was sleeping when she took the poison, told her story to The News.

"We had been out to a party, Alice and I, and did not get back until about four o'clock this morning. Alice said she had an awful headache. She told me, too, that she was tired of life, but I did not think much about this, as you often hear people say such things. I got in bed and was going to sleep when she got up and said she was going to the wardrobe to get some headache tablets that were there. She came back and I went to sleep. I was awakened in about an hour by her rolling around in the bed. When she saw that I was awake she said to me: 'Cassie, give me your word of honor that you will never tell anyone what I am going to tell you.' I said I would not and she said, "I think I must have taken something else besides headache powders. I have pains in my stomach that are awful.' I got scared at that and went to Mrs. Hawkins and told her about it. She went out and got Dr. Spiers, and he called up the police and had her taken over to St. Michael's hospital."

HOME IS IN PETERBOROGUH.

Miss Howell has boarded with Mrs. Hawkins since before Christmas. She came to the house at that time saying that she was out of work. She did not look for another position at once, but went home to visit her parents in Peterborough, returning to the city a short time ago. The police have possession of the remainder of the tablets which the girl used. They were used she said, for antiseptic purposes.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR EDMONTON

Mr. J. H. Hart Speaks Well of That City's Prospects

The Edmonton Journal of January 20th has the following under the heading, "Speaks Well of the City's Future.":

"Mr. J. H. Hart, of Magrath, Hart & Co., 44 Jasper avenue east, well known real estate agents, returned on Sunday last from a five weeks' trip east. Mr. Hart, during his vacation partly on business and pleasure, visited Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, Toronto, Belleville and Peterborough, and during his travels was particularly struck with the partiality of business men in the east towards Edmonton as the business centre of the west. At Toronto and Peterborough he made many acquaintances, who spoke of moving to this city, and states that early in the spring quite a large number of married men are expected to take up residence in and around Edmonton.

"Mr. Hart, who is an 'old stager' here, expresses his belief that this season will see some excellent business done, and if other statements of a like nature, mature, Edmonton is on the upward grade."

PRESENTATIONS TO TEACHERS LAST EVENING

Members of St. Luke's Bible Class Remember Ald. J. J. Turner and Mr. A. Kingdon

The Bible class of St. Luke's church was pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Ald. J. J. Turner, jr., 491 Water-st., Business was combined with pleasure and a very enjoyable time was spent.

Mr. A. Kingdom acted as chairman and the secretary-treasurer. Miss Clara Mitchell presented an excellent report showing a substantial balance in the treasury. Miss Carrie Whittaker presented the recording secretary's report which was very satisfactory.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:—

Hon.-Pres.—Rev. Dr. Langfeldt.
President.—J. J. Turner, jr.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. A. Kingdon.
Recording Sec.—Miss C. Whittaker.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss Clara Mitchell.

It was decided to hold the annual excursion on Dominion Day to Stony Lake provided that suitable arrangements can be made. A committee, consisting of Mr. W. F. Turner, C. Crane and S. Whittaker were appointed to look after the matter.

After much discussion on the subject of how to increase the membership it was finally decided to hold a welcome service on the first Sunday in Lent, Feb. 28th.

It was also decided to hold five minute discussions at the close of each service on Sunday.

Among the pleasing features of the evening were the presentitions to Ald. Turner and Mr. Kingdon, from the members of the class. On behalf of the class Miss Florence Butcher made a few appropriate remarks expressing appreciation of Mr. Turner's and Mr. Kingdon's services as teachers and thanking them most cordially for the kindly interest they always manifested in the welfare of each one. Butcher presented Mr. Turner with a handsome umbrella and Mr. Kingdon with a clerical bag containing a hymn book and prayer book in case.

Both gentlemen thanked the class for their kindness and assured them that their services were given most freely and they were pleased to know that they were appreciated.

Refreshments were then served and a social time spent. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Turner for the pleasant manner in which they had been entertained.

Lindsay People Delighted With the Concert--Varied and Excellent Programe

The Southland Sextette last evening at the Queen-st. Methodist church fully proved themselves to be one of the finewst companies of sacred and comic choirsters which has visited the town for some time past the 6 singers giving the large audience continued music from the opening until the close.

The entertainment which was given in behalf of the church was exceedingly well patronized the audience filling every seat in the church.

The different plantation songs given by the entire company in both first part and second part of the program were most beautifully rendered.

"Old Black Joe" given by Manager Overstreet assisted by the rest of the company in the chorus was one of the features of the evening also the imitation of an instrumental by the entire company was hold as one of the evening's features.

COUNTY COUNCIL RECEIVE SEVERAL REPORTS TO-DAY

House of Refuge and Finance Com. and School Inspectors Present Reports—Communications.

The County Council resumed its session this morning at ten o'clock with Warden Scott in the chair. The reports of the House of Refuge, School Inspectors and of the finance committee were presented and adopted.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The board of management reported that they had made the requisite number of visits to the institution. Everything was found satisfactory. An inventory of all chattels furniture, equipment, stock and machinery was taken and very little if anything was lacking, when compared with last year's inventory. There have been 41 inmates committed since inception. All seem to be in good health save two men and one old lady.

The harvest and stock and work of farm was done at a very nominal cost insofar as farm wages were concerned. The amount of produce used and produce on hand Dec. 31st. together with cash receipts will show earning power of the farm.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Prisoner's Aid Association re grant.—Finance committee.

From Bowman and Connor re plans etc. for proposed bridges. — Bridge committee.

From address to Judge of General Sessions 1908.—Received.

From the clerk of the county of Essex re collecting compensation from motor vehicles.—Road and Bridge committee.

From the hospital for sick children re grant.—Finance committee.

From the National Sanitarium re grant.—Finance committee.

From petitioners respecting municipal sanatoria for consumptives. — Finance committee.

From Dr. Graham re increase of salary as House of Refuge surgeon. Also report of visits during 1908.—Appointments.

AN ART EXHIBIT BY THE WOMEN'S ART ASSOCIATION

The Women's Art Association of Peterborough is arranging for an art exhibition to be held in the old Bank of Montreal buildings in the second week of February. The exhibition will cover a wide display of successful art work of various kinds.

Some very fine examples of oil paintings by Edinburgh and Glasgow masters will be shown; water colors by Dutch painters, and sculpture by Charles Van Wick. Special interest will be taken in the exhibition of sculpture by Miss Kathleen Walls the very talented sculptor from this city and also that of her teacher, Waldeman.

A feature of the exhibit will be a number of illustrations and designs by Walter Crane, the celebrated English artist. It will be the first time that these will have been exhibited outside of Britain.

THE DORCAS SOCIETY CONCERT

A charity concert given by the Dorcas Society, will take place in the lecture hall of St. Andrew's church on Friday evening, this week. The society got the names of twenty families from Mr. Miller and in two's have visited each family, finding great need in most cases. The city is helping some also, the King's Daughters but there is still room for more help. A great many condemn those poor people, but circumstances and their environment from childhood has much to do with their present condition. We know there are lazy men and drinking men among them, but the fact remains that the mothers and children need help. There are cases where delicate looking women are supporting the family. This work is not denominational but a Christian work and let us remember that even the "cup of cold water" given in "His name," shall not lose its reward.

The society has a large quantity of good, clean clothing given which we have repaired and distributed. We have also supplied food, but our funds are getting low and we want the "good people" of Peterborough to come out and give us a full house so that we may be enabled to carry on our good work for this winter and we will hope for better times another winter.—Com.

COMMITTEE OF WHOLE COUNCIL THIS EVENING

There will be a meeting of the committee of the whole council to-night at eight o'clock to consider several matters that are of an important nature.

The Legal committee will hold a joint meeting with a committee from the county council to-night at seven o'clock.

NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

Mi-o-na cures dyspepsia. If any of the readers of the Review are suffering from stomach trouble of any kind Wm. Madill druggist, Peterborough, will sell you a box of Mi-o-na for 50 cents with an absolute guarantee of relief or money back.

Neil Murray, of Huron Road, Goderich, Ont., says;—"I suffered with indigestion for over four years and had been given over as incurable by many doctors. I had become a nervous wreck through loss of sleep, and whatever I did eat did not remain on my stomach for over two hours. I would suffer with vomiting spells that would almost kill me, perspiration as large as beads would break out all over my body and leave me in so weakened a condition that I would be unable to stand, not a night's rest in over six months and was so weakened and run down that my family thought I would die. My heart was greatly weakened, and would flutter and a sharp pain would come through me and cut off my breath. I was reduced in weight from 150 to less that 110 pounds. Doctors would give different causes for my trouble, yet none of them gave me the slightest relief. I commenced treatment with Mi-o-na and when one-half of the first box was used I could eat my meals without suffering the dreadful vomiting spells. I used about ten boxes in all and am entirely cured. My stomach is as strong as ever, and there is not the slightest trouble with digestion. I have gained about 40 pounds in weight, am strong and like a new man. I will always speak highly of Mi-o-na, as it cured and, I believe kept me from sure death when all else had failed."

The corner of Bleury and St Catherine streets, Montreal was sold for $157,600 or $14.50 per square foot.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. PAUL'S

The annual meeting of the congregation of St Paul's church will be held on Wednesday evening, January 27th. All the annual reports will be presented and the work of all departments will be dealt with. The meeting is called for eight o'clock.

SPORTING NEWS

THE GAME MAY BE POSTPONED; AMATEUR PLAY ON MONDAY

The next intermediate O.H.A. game here will probably be played on Tuesday night and will be with either Cobourg or Lindsay. Monday was the night scheduled for the fixture, but the hockey club is making arrangements to have the game postponed if possible until Tuesday. The reason for this is that "The Private Secretary" will be produced at the Grand Opera House on Monday night and a great many citizens would like to see both the game and the play. A conflict of the two would be ill timed and as definite arrangements have been made for the presentation at the Opera House, it was decided, if possible to have the game played on Tuesday and in all probability this arrangement will be effected.

KAISER AND HURTUBISE MEET IN THE WEEK OF FEB. 5th

After much preliminary arrangement a handicap match between Gene Hurtubise and Charles Kaiser, the champion Oswego light heavyweight, has been definitely decided upon and will take place here between February 5th and 12th. The roller rink is the place that has been selected for pulling off the bout.

The conditions of the match, as is generally known, call for Kaiser to pin the Peterborough heavyweight twice in an hour and with Gene in good condition he should hardly be able to do it.

HOAGLAND THINKS HARRISON WOULD HAVE COME SECOND

Blake, the colored pedestrian, in writing to Jim Harrison, says he will be here for the 6 hour race with the Peterborough walker on Saturday afternoon and evening at the roller rink. He will leave Syracuse on Friday. From the tone of his letter, Blake seems to be quite glad to have the opportunity of stacking up against the local ped.

Hoagland writes that he is sorry Harrison did not compete in the 4 nights' walk recently held at Auburn, NY, an expresses the opinion that the latter could have landed second money. On February 10th to 13th another will be held in which the champion will give all comers a 1-2 mile handicap. There is a possibility of Harrison entering in this event

PETERBORO' BOWLERS PLAY IN TORONTO ON SATURDAY

J B Hay, of the Peterborough Bowling Club, returned last evening from Toronto and brings the glad tidings that the Queen City bowlers have heard so much of the prowess of local trundlers that they intend picking out a team of champions to meet the Peterborough five man team which will visit Toronto for a match game on Saturday evening of next week. Mr Hay received a number of applications for games here. Among the teams that are desirous of coming are the News team, champions of the Printers League, the Mail and Empire team an Editorial team from the Toronto Telegram, a team from the Toronto World, a picked team, the same that will meet the picked Peterborough five on February 6th and last of all a druggists team of five men.

The druggists in Toronto, have, in common with all classes of the community got the bowling fever in its most virulent form and an effort will be made to get five Peterborough pill pounders to meet their Toronto brethren some time in the near future.

In the meantime the local bowlers are all talking of the big match game between Peterborough and the proposed team from Toronto. The Toronto crowd are so impressed with what they have heard of Peterborough that they will pick the same team practically that played Buffalo in the biggest match of the season some time ago. This means that the local five will be staked against a quitette of Canadian champions next week, among them being Sutherland, Canada's best match bowler, Frank Johnston Bert Neil and a couple of others of the same calibre, the match being regarded as a preliminary to the game between the Brooklyn tourists who will visit Canada next month and who are regarded as the champion team of America at the present time.

However, the locals are not at all afraid of the outlook and with such men as Billy Wareham, McIlroy, Geo Cairns, Joe Pollard, Graham Ferguson Jeffreys, Lawless, Herb Martin and a few others to pick from Peterborough may well look forward to the big event with a feeling of confidence.

TO PLAY FRIDAY

Local Juniors and Port Hope Will Clash if There is Any Ice.

Port Hope and the local juniors will play there Friday night if there is any ice. As the nights are becoming sharper and more frosty there is every probability that there will be ice and if so a good game is certain. The last time the teams came together the score was 6-5 in favor of Port Hope in a match in which the locals had a big share of hard luck.

SPORTING TALK

The settlement of the Walter G case, to which reference is made in another column of the Review is a decision of interest to local horsemen. Walter G was suspected at the time of the protest, of being Little Hector, the celebrated stepper who was so conspicuous on the turf a few seasons ago. It has not been proven however that the horse is Little Hector, although the owner has not identified him in compliance with the National Trotting Association rules for such cases. The case has aroused much interest among horsemen of the district and in fact throughout the province.

THE RING

Seattle, Jan. 20.—As an aspirant for heavyweight pugilistic honors, Dr. B. F. Roller, erstwhile wrestler, was a yellow oval when he climbed into the ring with Denver Ed. Martin, the big shifty negro.

The doctor was on trial for the first time, and he is a long, long jump from championship class.

In six rounds the doctor managed to hit the negro once and in six rounds the negro had Roller lashing out like an old maid throwing a baseball.

As Roller was making his debut as a fighter the referee charitably called the bout a draw, which decision was received in a most painful silence.

The bout between these two big heavyweights was the principal feature of the programme of an elaborate smoker. Martin so far outclassed Roller in cleverness that there was no comparison and the hopes of the supporters of the athletic pill dispenser that he would prove as good with the gloves as he was at the grappler's game received a rude shock when they witnessed his disappointing showing.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMMISSION MEETS

"The members of the Hydro-Electric Commission had a busy session yesterday morning and opened tenders for insulators for the transmission line. The insulators must be tested and no decision will be reached regarding the contract until after the tests at Niagara Falls. Tenders for the equipment were also discussed. These tenders were awarded to the Westinghouse Company of Hamilton, and the General Electric Company of Peterborough, and the question to be decided is as to the division of the work.—Mail and Empire.

The above statement may convey an inaccurate impression since the Whitney government decided as far back as October 24th, 1908, to give the contracts referred to, to the Canadian companies in preference to foreign competitors. The shares, however, were not then precisely defined and it is doubtless to this division that the above paragraph refers and not to the original decision.

The body of Malcolm Mathieson, a clerk, aged 68, was found floating in Vancouver harbor.

Johnny Leitch, aged 8, drowned in Brantford canal was heir to about one-third of $20,000.

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes the value of such will be equally divided between them

KNIGHTS HAVE A JOLLY TIME

Entertained Their Friends in Splendid Style Last Night---A Fine Programme

When the Knights of Pythias undertake to entertain their friends they do it in knightly fashion and last night proved no exception to the rule.

After the regular meeting the Knights opened the wicket and no raps or signs were necessary to gain admittance to their Castle Hall. They gave their friends a knightly welcome 'mid song and smoke, reading, recitation, and music, the time passed only too quickly.

The programme was of unusual merit, and all present left with the impression that the night had proven one of both profit and pleasure. After the programme they had a dainty lunch.

Chairman's address—Bro Dr Middleton CC.
Instrumental—Bro L Mendel.
Speech—Bro Dr A W Macpherson.
Song—Bro W A Greenslade.
Solo—Mr J King.
Recitation—Mr Waring.
Solo—Bro F C Freeland.
Address—Bro Oliver Milburn.
Solo—Mr Walter Stocker.
Speech—Bro J Squares.

GRATIFYING ATTENDANCE

At First of Series of Meetings, of Historical Society --- "Volcanoes" the Subject

There were over a hundred in attendance at the meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society held last night at the Collegiate Institute. It was the first of a series of meetings arranged for the winter months and the large attendance was very gratifying to the officers. The President, Mr D A S Hay, was in the chair, and the feature of the evening was a paper on 'Volcanoes' by Mr G A Cornish, BA, of the Normal school staff. Mr Cornish went into the subject very thoroughly and in a most interesting manner.

At the conclusion there was an interesting discussion on some of the points touched upon by Mr Cornish.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr Cornish on motion of Mr D. W. Dumble and School Inspector Mowat.

Strong winds, fair and mild. Thursday, fair with lower temperature.

"INDIAN LIST" MEN AGAIN PAY FINES FOR BEING DRUNK

That part of the liquor license law that affects blacklisted men is apparently doing some good in Peterborough in getting after those men who after being "posted" persist in drinking intoxicating liquor.

Two more men were heavily fined in the police court this morning, having been found guilty of being intoxicated after having been placed on the "Indian list." It was the second time within a month for one and he was fined twenty dollars or one month in gaol. The other one was fined ten dollars to be paid forthwith or 30 days in gaol.

They were arrested yesterday afternoon in the shed at George St. church in an intoxicated condition by P. C.'s Adams and McGinty.

When asked where they got the liquor they swore that they found a bottle of whiskey partly filled behind a board in the shed. One of them swore that he had not been drunk yesterday and never had a drink. He afterwards corroborated what his fellow prisoner said concerning the finding of the flask.

STANDING COMMITTIES FOR THE YEAR OF COUNTY COUNCIL

At the conclusion of the election of Warden Scott yesterday afterday afternoon, the County Council met in committee of the whole for the purpose of striking the standing committees for the year.

On motion of Messrs. Breault and Knox, Mr. C. E. Packenham, of Norwood, was appointed high school trustee to replace Mr. Robertson, who has left the locality.

On motion of Messrs. Shaw and Kidd, Mr. Casement was appointed an auditor for 1908.

On motion of Messrs. Breault and Hales, Mr. Squires was appointed auditor for the year 1908.

The following is the report of the committee of the whole on the standing committees for the year for the County Council. This report was adopted.

That the following be members of the committee hereinafter named;—

County Property—Messrs. Stewart, Brault, Moher, Darling, Knox, Kidd, Perdue, Hales, and Brown. Mr. Brown to be chairman.

Appointments—Messrs. Knox, Shaw, Darling, Coben, Tucker, Fife, Graham and Hales. Mr. Hales to be chairman.

Roads and Bridges—All the members. Mr. Fife to be chairman.

Schools—Messrs. Perdue, Russell, Tucker, Darling, Shaw, Hales, Graham, Comstock and Stewart. Mr. Stewart to be chairman.

Joint Committee — Messrs. Brown, Stewart, Knox, Kidd, Brault, Moher, Russell and Darling. Mr. Darling to be chairman.

Legislative and Railway Committee—Messrs. Comstock, Brault, Hales and Knox. Mr. Knox to be chairman.

That the whole Council be a special committee to meet the Council of the City of Peterborough, to discuss matters relating to the management of the parks and market of the city. Mr. Shaw to be chairman.

Respectfully submitted,
J. FIFE,
Chairman.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT AND SUPPER AT KNOX CHURCH

Both in a financial way and from the standpoint of an enjoyable entertainment the concert given by the Ladies' Aid of Knox church last evening was a decided success. The attendance was large and the audience highly pleased with the programme given. Rev. H. J. Keith made a most acceptable chairman.

The programme was;

Selection by the George Street Orchestra.

Reading—Miss E. Smith.

Mandolin Club—Selection.

Banjo solo—Mr. F. Clark.

Solo—Miss Stewart.

George Street Quartette — Messrs. Cunningham, Zepp, Walton and Biggs.

Piano duet—Miss Chiles and Miss Grace Naylor.

Vocal solo—Miss Kidd.

Banjo Selection—Mr. Clark.

Instrumental—Miss Smith.

Violin Solo—Dr. Park.

Quartette — Messrs. Cunningham, Zepp, Walton and Biggs.

Selection by the Mandolin Club.

Vocal trio—Messrs. Davenport, McCannon and Thompson.

Miss H. McCannon accompanied Dr. Park.

While the entire programme was a very satisfactory one particular reference should be made to Dr. Park's violin solo. It was rendered with true musicianly skill and sympathy and earned a cordial recall the encore number being the Last Rose of Summer.

At the conclusion of the programme the ladies served an oyster supper.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

Wolfe Street Wharf

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—May I use a space in your valuable paper to protest against the way the work on the government wharf at Wolfe-st. is being kept in the hands of two or three for a winter's job instead of giving some of us who are out of work a chance to earn a few dollars.

Yours,
REFORMER

Is it Fair?

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I have for quite a long time looked upon you as one who was ever ready to defend the weak and downtrodden and am therefore sorry to see lately in your paper what can but hurt the feelings of many of your readers. You have been condemning, and rightly, the gross corruption and graft in our political system. You have also spoken in no uncertain voice as to the low plane in too many cases, of our commercial and social life. From this text you have taken the opportunity to ask the church and her ministry as to what they are doing to stem this awful tide of down-grade lowering of national morals. That question I will not deal with but will let you and the leaders of church life decide wherein lies the remedy.

I have waited to see if some one more able than I am, would not ask, why it was necessary to drag the question of the evangelization of the heathen into the discussion. Several times you have introduced this matter into your paper of late, and last night in speaking of Judge Cassel's report re the enquiry into the Marine Dept., you again refer to it.—I suppose the sound truth rung in your ears at the Laymen's missionary banquet is working in your sympathetic heart and will no doubt bear fruit in your life, but in the meantime I hope you will not sidetrack the good influence of that meeting on to something that has very little to do with Foreign missionary work. You seem to make the mistake that many others are guilty of—that is—thinking that the Bible teaches that the world will get better and better until every creature is saved from the power of sin. Where you get the warrant for such an assumption is more than I can find. I do know that the last words of our Saviour were these: Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation. Is it fair to more than half the human race that to-day they do not know, and have not heard of God's plan for the redemption of man from the power of satan. How can they hear without a messenger. It is a crying shame on the church of Christ which enjoys blessings untold themselves, and yet are so dead in selfishness and worldliness they take little interest in what would do so much good to countless millions in heathen darkness.

The church to-day is awakening as never before to their responsibility to the heathen and I am certain the men's Missionary moveent if controlled and guided by the Holy Spirit will be not only blessing to heathen lands but will, by the new life infused into the members as they rise out of their slothful ease, be a help in the awakening of public conscience as recommended by Judge Cassels in his late report. Let the light of the Gospel spread into the dark places of the earth. Whether at home or abroad but let us not be selfish and try to keep it all to ourselves.

Yours,
A. J. JOHNSTON.

We agree with much in Mr. Johnston's admirable letter but it still remains true in our opinion, that for people without a conscience as Judge Cassels finds us to be speaking generally, we assume too much when we assume that Christ spoke to such as we are when He commanded his immediate followers to go into all the world and preach the Gospel. For people whose own consciences are asleep to pose as divinely called to awaken others is the essence of Philistinism. It must surely never be forgotten that Christ did not speak to those whose hearts were far from Him while with their lips alone they served Him. Nothing is so dangerous anywhere as manifest inconsistencies and the very manifest inconsistency of a conscienceless people's (vide Judge Cassels) seeking to reform others is the most dangerous of all forms of it. But if men (as a whole or nation) may in the name of Canada and Christ go forth conquering and to conquer while "graft" is branded upon them as a nation as it certainly at the present is than we withdraw our protest and demurely ask what next we may expect. It would be more fitting, we are persuaded, as newspapers from one end of Canada to the other are proclaiming that we should put on sackcloth and ashes and mourn than that we should hold ourselves up as examples to others of what Christ has done for us. It is the "national" character of the movement that we object to under the circumstances alleged. For private individuals to undertake a mission may be as no doubt it is, in every sense, wise and Christianlike.—Ed.

CONCERT HELD AT BURNBRAE

Singing of Miss Jean A. Robson Was One of the Features

The social event of the season was held at Burnbrae Presbyterian church when the Young People's Guild held a social and concert.

The main feature of the evening was the singing of Miss Jean A Robson of Norwood, formerly soloist and choir leader of Knox Presbyterian church, Peterborough who delighted the audience with her selections and called forth much applause which required a second number each time. Miss Robson is possessed with a sweet, clear voice and her enunciation is particularly good. Her rendering of "The Swallows" by Cowen, was delightful and the ease with which she sustained her high notes was excellent. "Sunshine and Rain," "Jerusalem" and "Mary of Argyle" were great favorites. "My Ain Countree" was very much appreciated as was natural in an audience so loyally Scotch. Miss Robson may be sure of a warm welcome back to Burnbrae.—Campbellford Herald.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS PASSED

Reporting a meeting of the Lindsay Water Commissioners, the Warder says;

The Peterborough Water Commissioners extended an act of courtesy by allowing Lindsay the use of the pipe cutting machine free of charge. Mr T. F Matthews, chairman of the Peterborough board, wrote to this effect. A motion of thanks was passed and will be sent to the Peterborough board.

TWO TRAINMEN ARE KILLED; COLLISION NEAR HARRISTON

Fireman Root of Palmerston and Brakeman Smith of Southampton, Meet Instant Death in Most Complete Wreck in Years—Crew of North Train Saved by Jumping.

Harriston, Jan. 28.—Just before noon yesterday an Owen Sound freight train, drawn by a big mogul engine, instead of taking the Owen Sound branch at Harriston, signalled for the main line to Southampton. The switch was opened and the great engine steamed up the Southampton line at about 30 miles an hour.

When about three miles north of here, and going down grade in a blinding snowstorm, it crashed into the southbound way freight from Southampton, killing instantly Fireman M. Root of Palmerston, and Brakeman John Smith of Southampton. Engineer Joseph Arkell of the Southampton freight was not, however, seriously injured.

Just a little north of Harriston is a branch to Owen Sound, and, Engineer Kennedy, being a new man up this division, signalled for the Southampton line instead of the Owen Sound. The southbound train had right of way.

This is one of the worst wrecks up this way for some years, and the cars are literally smashed to pieces. One engine telescoped the other and remained upright on the track, but the tenders were thrown one on either side of the track.

Brakeman Smith was found partly under the tender of the big engine, and Fireman Root just at the edge of his engine. He was badly cut up and has his neck broken. Both bodies were brought here and an inquest was opened last night. Drs. Stewart of Palmerston and Henry and McCullough of Harriston attended the injured.

Two auxiliaries are working at the wreck, but it will not be clear before this afternoon. Superintendent Gillen came up from Toronto last evening.

The casualties were all on the southbound way freight, the crew of the north freight saving themselves by jumping.

WANT POWER TO SELL NOW

Windsor Company Proposes To Export Electricity, If Permitted To Do So

Windsor, Jan. 28.—Some months ago Hon. Adam Beck admitted that he had received application from private parties here for a large amount of Niagara power.

It became known last evening that the application came from the Electrical Distributing Co., which has been incorporated with a Dominion charter. It is backed by some wealthy men of this vicinity. John Davis, ex-mayor, is president, George M. Hendrie, vice-president, and W. C. Kennedy, who is managing director of the Windsor Gas Co., is secretary. O. E. Fleming, who unsuccessfully contested North Essex at the last Dominion election, and M. J. Dee, are directors.

It is announced that the company expects to export power, unless this is prohibited.

ASK THE COUNCIL

Not to Oppose Application for Extension of Time to Build Line

The Peterborough Radial Railway Company have asked the city council to defer action regarding apposition to the application of the company for an extension of time in which to build their line to Stony Lake till plans have been submitted to the council by the company.

Mr J H Larmonth and Mr E A. Peck waited on the aldermen at the meeting of the committee of the whole council last night in this connection.

Mr E A Peck said he was present on behalf of the Peterborough Radial Railway. The company is seeking an extension of time to build the railway. He understood the Board of Works would recommend the council to oppose it. Mr Peck asked a little consideration from the council as the service furnished this city would compare favorably with that in any place in Ontario. He asked that this city favor the company in opposition to any outside the city. He said the only company applying for a charter was the one from Cobourg. It would certainly be much better for this city to have the road built to the Kawartha Lakes by a local concern. It was extremely difficult to finance a road and the delay in the past was due to that.

Mr Larmonth stated that the estimates for the road to Stony Lake were from $350,000 to $400,000. The company has already put $80,000 new capital into the street railway here.

Ald Phelan explained that it was not the object to block the road, but to discuss the matter and find out just where the city was at in this matter. The company's charter expires in May, and it will soon be time to apply for a new lease. The city is interested in this matter and does not want that road delayed any longer than was really necessary.

No definited action was taken as the matter has not yet come before the council.

HAD BAD FALL ON SUNDAY EVENING

Mrs. Isaac Richardson, Homewood Ave, Confined to Bed for Several Days

No bones were broken, but Mrs. Richardson was severely bruised and has been confined to bed since meeting with the accident. Her many friends will hope for her speedy recovery.

THE KAISER IS FIFTY YEARS OLD

Emperor William's Birthday Celebrated Throughout Germany

Berlin, Jan. 28.—The 50th anniversary of the birth of Emperor William was celebrated yesterday in an unusual manner.

All the crowned heads of the German states, excepting the aged Luitpold, Regent of Bavaria, came to Berlin to present their congratulations. The city is beflagged and the illumination last evening was on an uncommon scale.

According to the old Prussian tradition the day was ushered in at 6 o'clock by the intoning of a chorus from the tower of the castle by a corps of trumpeters. At 8 o'clock the castle guard, headed by a military band, marched the length of Unter Den Linden to the Brandenburg gate and back. The streets were lined by crowds of people and a large assemblage cheered the Emperor when he appeared at one of the castle windows.

After religious services in the chapel the Emperor and Empress took up a position in the white room of the castle, before the throne, where they received the congratulations of the members of the diplomatic corps, Chancellor Von Buelow and the other Ministers.

FUNERAL OF THE PRIMATE AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Toronto, Jan. 28.—No more stately, more impressive nor yet simpler obsequies have ever been celebrated in Toronto than the ceremonial rites accompanying the interment yesterday of the remains of His Grace the late Most Reverend Metropolitan and Primate of Canada, Bishop of Toronto, Archbishop Arthur Sweatman, D.D., at St. Alban's Cathedral and St. James' cemetery.

All the bright morning the remains lay in state in the chancel of the cathedral of St. Alban the Martyr. Touches of purple drapery on the walls told that a prince of the church was being mourned. But white flowers on the altar and about the chancel were more in evidence.

At 10.30 the great concourse of mourners began to file through the cathedral, passing the purple draped copper casket in the middle aisle near the chancel steps. The crowds grew to such a size that the chancel of the cathedral would scarcely hold them all.

The service was very simple and characterized by the solemn dignity that dwells in the association of long years, through which so many of those present found it enriched by a wealth of memories. Nothing was added to the ordinary burial service but the processional hymn, "Love divine, each joy excelling." This was followed by Gounod's anthem, sung with fine pathos, "Come Unto Him."

Outside St. Alban's cathedral a vast concourse awaited the conclusion of the church service. As the procession bearing the casket emerged from the sacred edifice the deep silence was only broken by the solemn tolling of the cathedral bell. The sky was overcast and a chilling mist swept the streets, but the multitude stood as if spell-bound until the cortege moved slowly away to the cemetery.

Among the few flowers, few by request of the family and in accordance with the dead prelate's desire, was a wreath of orchids, palms and lilies of the valley from Earl and Countess Grey. Rupert's Land sent a wreath, and the boys of St. Alban's school a cross with the school motto: "Macte virtute puer," (increase the manliness of the boy).

MANY NOMINATIONS ALREADY RECEIVED

A Trip to Europe Seems to Have Struck the Popular Chord and Many People Have Signified Their Willingness to be the Review's Representative With the Party Abroad

The particulars of the Review's European Tour and Diamond Contest were published Tuesday. Within twenty-four hours we had received over a half dozen nominations in District 1 (City of Peterborough) and a couple of nominations from the country (district 2). Many others have have made inquiries and it is almost certain the number of nominations will reach a score by this evening. In order to give those residing in district 2 an equal chance we have decided not to publish the list of names for several days.

If you intend to enter your own name or that of a friend, do so at once and get the benefit that accrues to the early starter. The fine prizes the Review is offering will not go a-begging

The gentleman conducting the contest will gladly answer letters of inquiry from those who wish further formation. Ring up the Review if you wish further information. Ring up the Review if you wish a personal call. He is always at your service.

MORE ABOUT THE TOUR.

A more luxurious and free from care trip abroad could not well be planned than the one offered as a grand prize in the Review poupiarity contest. No worry about details. The routes of travel are comprehensive and attractive and offer as much variety of interest as is possible. The conductors are carefully selected on account of their knowledge and experience of the routes and conditions of travel and other business and social qualifications.

The conductors meet the party on arrival in Europe and accompany them over the entire route according to itinerary, until the embarkation for home.

The plan of sight-seeing is carried out in the most complete and liberal manner, carriage drives arranged in the various cities and local guides, familiar with the various places visited, being provided. These tours represent the maximum of luxury and convenience in pleasure travel and are essentially private parties. The complete itinerary will be given later.

FELL FROM MOVING CAR TO FOOT OF CEREAL DAM AND WAS SERIOUSLY HURT

Falling from the side of a moving freight car to the ice and rocks at the bottom of the dam, a distance of about thirty-five feet, Leo Sullivan, a brakeman on the G.T.R. sustained serious injuries and is now lying in St Joseph's Hospital.

Sullivan was hanging to the side of the car going from the Quaker Oats Co. mills to Auburn. As he passed the power house, before he had time to get out of the way, he collided with an electric light pole with such force that he fell from the car, dropping on the ice just below the dam. It was thought at first that the brakeman would have been killed. Assistance was soon rendered him. He was lying partly in the water and partly on the ice.

Dr McClelland was called and the young man was removed in the Dan Spence Ambulance to St Joseph's hospital. The injured limb was set by Drs McClelland and McGrath. This morning Mr Sullivan was resting easily. He resides on George St.

MAYES-McAVITY SCANDAL GETS AIRING IN THE HOUSE

Resolution Declaring That Tenders Should Be Put Beyond Power of Dishonest Officials, Raises Discussion of Dredging Affair—Hon. Mr. Pugsley Gives His Explanation

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—For the greater part of yesterday afternoon's session of the House the Mayes-McAvity dredging scandal was the subject of discussion.

The question came up on a resolution of Dr. Reid (Grenville), declaring that tenders should be placed in safe custody under seal, so as to prevent any possibility or suspicion of tampering, and should be opened in public in the presence of at least three officials of the Deparment, and that persons tendering should be at liberty to attend.

Hon. William Pugsley pointed out that it would be impossible, in some cases, for a Minister or Deputy Minister to be present. Dr. Reid had failed to make a case that the public were not well satisfied that everything was O.K.

"Does the Minister mean to say," asked Dr. Sproule, "that there was no collusion in respect to the alteration of the tender in which the price was changed from 50 cents to 55 cents and a rake-off went to Mr. McAvity?"

Dr. Pugsley jumped to his feet.

"There was no alteration of the tender referred to," he said. "There appeared in St. John what purported to be a solemn declaration, read by Mr. Hazen, and which contained statements that were absolutely false."

Mr. Pugsley had asked Mr. Hazen to have the declaration filed, but he said he returned it to Mr. Mayes, who refused to produce it.

"Does the hon. member meant to say that I advised changing the tender?" asked Dr. Pugsley.

Dr. Sproule withdrew. But was it not the fact that the information proceeded from the only authority that had the power to grant the contract?

Dr. Pugsley again denied the allegations. So far as he knew, no tender had been changed from 50 to 55 cents.

AIDING AN ELOPEMENT

A Young Brockville Man Is Held On Peculiar Charge —Father Intervened

Brockville, Jan. 28.—A man named Barnhart and Mrs. William Pyke from this town offered the residents of Lyn, a village five miles distant, an amusing spectacle. They left here after having purchased tickets for Kingston, and took the road to Lyn, where they had dinner at the completion of which they started for the G.T.R. depot, one mile distant.

Hardly had they left the hotel when the irate father of the girl appeared on the scene, accompanied by her uncle. Reaching the station just as the train was pulling out, the father grabbed the girl, while at the same time her uncle applied a stout horsewhip to the young man.

As a result of the affair Charles Murphy, a young man of 22 years of age, has been arrested on a charge of aiding an elopement. The charge against Murphy is that he helped Barnhart to make another attempt to elope the same night. Murphy was remanded for a week.

DELAY IN THE U. S. SENATE; THE WATERWORKS TREATY

Senator Smith of Michigan Protests Against Ratification of Compact With Canada Without Fixing Division of Power Possibilities in St. Mary's River

Washington, Jan. 28.—After devoting over four months to a consideration of the Canadian waterways treaty yesterday the Senate adjourned without having made any substantial progress toward ratification. The treaty probably will be considered daily until voted on.

Most of the time was consumed by Senator William Alden Smith (Michigan), who insisted that the treaty should not be ratified without a provision fixing a division of the interests of Canada and the United States in the 6,203,000 horse-power provided by the rapids in the St. Mary's river.

He argued that only one per cent. of the flow of the river is required to operate the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, leaving the remainder of the vast flow to be utilized for power purposes. To leave this division of the water undetermined at this time, he declared, would be to leave a vexing question open for the future, and he made plain his determination to fight the treaty.

If, as a matter of right, he said, 75 per cent. of this power belongs to the United States, as he was satisfied it did, he wanted that fact specified in the treaty.

In the development of the transmission of power he insisted it would be possible to utilise all of this vast energy for mining and manufacturing purposes on the American side of the St. Mary's river, and he did not wish to have the industries of his state crippled by a failure to conserve demands in the framing of a treaty.

Senator Lodge defended the treaty on the ground that the disposition of water rights related to a question of boundary and could be settled later. In this view Mr. Lodge was supported by Senator Carter of Montana.

Newfoundland Balks.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 28.—The Newfoundland Cabinet has not accepted the draft of the proposed fisheries agreement arranged at Washington, but on the other hand has submitted a counter proposal to Ambassador Bryce and Secretary Root.

The newspapers opposed to Sir Robert Bond's Government express the opinion that the Premier does not intend to accept the Washington agreement.

RECALL MILITARY REVIEW OF 1863

Article in Toronto Telegram Recently—Local Men Who Were Present at the Review

The Toronto Telegram of Monday last contains a lengthy article with two good illustrations of a military review held in that city in October of 1863, in which reference is made to a company of infantry from Ashburnham under Capt. Rogers also to a company of infantry from Peterborough under Capt. Kennedy, and a company of rifles under Capt. Poole.

Messrs. Erastus Green, Edward Greene, Water-st., and Wm. Logan, Brock street, now living here were members of Capt. Poole's company at the volunteer review of 1863.

Washington, Jan. 28.—There is little likelihood that the House ways and means committee will consider any proposition involving a tariff commission, as suggested by President-elect Taft.

Canadian Northern In B.C.

Victoria, Jan. 28.—At a luncheon tendered to D. D. Mann yesterday afternoon, he stated that while no definite arrangements had yet been made he had received great encouragement from Premier McBride and colleagues, and the outlook was promising for the Canadian Northern in British Columbia. He regarded Vancouver Island, and the mainland coast as the Reviera of the Pacific, and advocated a Canadian-manned squadron with Canadian training ships on the Pacific and Atlantic.

The Premier emphasized the statement in the House that he could see no difficulties in the way of satisfactory arrangements with the railway, which he hoped would soon be completed.

Benoit Coquelin Dead.

Paris, Jan. 28.—Benoit Constant Coquelin, the great French actor, whose culminating triumph had been awaited in Edmond Rostand's "The Chanticleer," which is now being rehearsed, died on Tuesday night at Pont Aux Dames Seine et Marne, from angina pectoris.

Benoit Constant Coquelin was the best known actor on the French stage. He was born at Boulogne-Sur-Mer, Jan. 23, 1841, the son of a baker. It was originally intended that he follow the trade of his father.

He made his debut at the Comedie Francais in 1860, and up to 1886 he created no less than 40 parts.

To License Imbibers.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 28.—Liquor drinkers in Washington will be forced to carry licenses, embellished with their photographs and other data of identification, and anyone will be permitted to engage in the traffic without the payment of fees if the measure framed by Elmer E. Hall of Spokane, and fathered by State Senator Whitney of Spokane County, is adopted by the Legislature, now in session at Olympia.

Licenses to drink anything stronger than ginger pop and the various other "stickless" concoctions will cost $5 a year.

Stowaways In Lifeboat.

Hoboken, N.J., Jan. 28.—Recorder McGovern listened to a remarkable stowaway story yesterday, when three young Germans were arraigned before him. They had finished their trip across the ocean in a lifeboat, swinging on its davits amidships on the starboard side of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Tuesday night, and were waiting to escape when discovered.

Each lifeboat is provided with a keg of water and a supply of sea biscuit, and on these supplies the stowaways subsisted comfortably.

Lutherans' School Campaign.

Berlin, Ont., Jan. 28.—The Lutheran conference, in session here, moved yesterday toward getting wider educational liberties for Lutheran children. A committee, including Valentine Stock, M.P., has charge of the campaign.

This action is the result of an arraignment of children of a local Lutheran parishioner in the Police Court for infringement of the school regulations by attending St. Paul's Lutheran Confirmation School in public school hours.

HOW TO CURE A HEADACHE

To attempt to cure a headache by taking a "headache powder," is like trying to stop a leak in the roof by putting a pan under the dripping water. Chronic headaches are caused by poisoned blood. The blood is poisoned by tissue waste, undigested food and other impurities remaining too long in the system. These poisons are not promptly eliminated because of sick liver, bowels, skin or kidneys.

If the bowels do not move regularly—if there is pain in the back showing kidney trouble—if the skin is sallow or disfigured with pimples—it shows clearly what is causing the headache.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure headaches because they cure the cause of headaches. "Fruit-a-tives" act directly on the three great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys and skin. "Fruit-a-tives" keep the system free of poisons. "Fruit-a-tives" come in two sizes—25c and 50c. If your dealer does not have them write to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE WATERWORKS LOAN

The Water Commissioners submitted to the committee of the whole council last evening their request for submission to the people of a by-law providing $120,000 for a new waterworks dam a new power house and new pumps. The accumulated and accumulating reserve will provide for the contemplated filteration plant. The request is accompanied by engineers' plans, estimates, etc., which are now open to the inspection of the public. The commissioners have presented the case to the council and to the people in a thorough and comprehensive manner. The suggestion that possibly meets with most favor is that the dam shall be built farther down stream where the bottom is solid rock at no great depth below the river bed. The river is narrower at the point referred to about 300 yards below the present dam, and at the same time the head will be at least a foot higher. That the work must be provided for and done as speedily as possible anybody at all acquainted with the present rather shaky dam is well aware. The undertaking is one of some magnitude and will require time and care.

A STARTLING ADMISSION

The Dominion Government's Labor Commissioner, Mr W. L. Mackenzie King, has handed in his report upon the Cotton Labor Disputes of last summer in the Province of Quebec. The following part of it which bears upon the relation of tariff to wages, etc, is of great interest. The admission to which we refer at the top of this article is stowed away (unintentionally, of course, in it in a belated reference to what is the real cause of the whole of that great trouble that affected over 6000 employees directly and a much larger number indirectly.

"Referring to the effects of the tariff on the cotton industry, the commissioner remarks that this tariff, apart from the present temporary depression with which it was identified, it had nothing to do, was not in any way responsible for the falling-off in trade in the cotton factories of Quebec, or the consequent recent reduction in wages, is abundantly proven from the statements of the head officials of the companies and the annual reports of the directors." Mr King adds, "The evidence as a whole proves conclusively that under the existing tariff the cotton manufacturing companies of the province of Quebec have until the present depression met as enjoyed prosperous years; that the tariff has been in no way responsible for the depression, which has been world-wide and greater in England and the United States than in Canada; that until the depression set in so prosperous were conditions that the effects of foreign competition were not felt. All the most all that can be said of the lowering of the tariff so far as the actual experience of the cotton mills of Quebec is concerned, is that during this period of temporary depression it has caused the effects of competition to be felt sooner than they otherwise would have been, whereas at other times it has not been such as to cause those engaged in the industry to feel the effects of foreign competition and has been an undoubted benefit to the consumer."

During the period of temporary depression then, the lowering of the tariff has caused the effects of competition to be felt sooner than they would otherwise have been. That is admitted. This part of the finding is worth reading and re-reading again and again. It gives the whole case for the government away. No one ever alleges that "the consumer" was not "benefitted" by being able to buy in a cheaper market. But the wage-earner, who wants a better standard of life than world-wide competition will admit it and employers who must have Protection if they are to pay those wages, are not benefitted by it at all both being at the mercy of the "open market" theorists who regard the welfare of the buyer (consumer) as supreme. Now the consumer considered as such, is the very last person in the country to be considered for the reason that the true consuming power is wholly dependent upon the foundation of employment. Work at fair wages is then the prime necessity of any country and the concluding words of Mr King's report, instead of being "consumer" should be "wage-earner."

The great triumph for the higher tariff, that it comes to the rescue in times of depression or frenzied competition, is here unquestionably and indisputably set out. What applies to the cotton trade applies equally to the woollens. There can be no hope for Canada under a low tariff except when times are good and then at one wants help. In bad times our men drinks the dregs of depression, and drink them all so long forsooth as the consumer remains to be pampered at the expense of the producer. When wages are low and employment scarce, surely the question at issue is this, "Is the COUNTRY AS A WHOLE more greatly benefitted, etc?" That is why Protection is called a National Policy. Wipe out the industrials and the employees dependant upon them, whether cottons, woollens, or agriculture, and what have we? We have the consumer left, who is able to live independently on his income rejoicing in a lower market-price but no one else in the whole range of our national life. To the well-to-do consumer, competition and sweat prices are the staff of life. They allow of greater luxury on a small independent income. But in the interests of the producer it is unwise to advocate the lowering of the tariff which is the only protection the workman has in what ought to be his own market. With the British it is quite different. Their market is the whole world. Yet even they feel the need. The report of Mr King should not be lost sight of. It is a most instructive document and one which (we are persuaded, will give a final quietus to the claim that a low tariff means prosperity, at any rate, in Canada.

PROSPERITY

Statisticians and physiological professors agree that the end of the world, that is the educated world, is in sight. Educated people have small families. The spread of education means the shrinkage of the birthrate. The remedy they propose is the cultivation of greater domesticity in school life or in other words, the revival of home-life and the cultivation of the family. It is impossible for a nation or for an individual to stray far from the beaten path of nature with impunity. She decrees what is good for the maintenance of the race. Neither fads nor phantasies can take her place. She is our mother and we must have no other mother before her. If, however, it is to be the aim of mankind that the race die a natural death in order that future inconvenience and suffering may be prevented or forestalled, then the end is being attained and Nature defeated. The idea that race-suicide is the cause is proven to be erroneous. Extreme mentality brings about physiological or functional changes which of themselves preclude progeny. The remedy is not a moral one. It is purely physical or physiological.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Yesterday Frank Law was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The judgment was just, for the notorious mining-stock conspiracy and fraud in which he was involved were criminal and wicked. But where is his chief, the arch-conspirator, Alexander Lockhard Russell? He is the real criminal. Why has not he been brought to justice?"—The Globe.

"In reply Senator Lougheed said there were 100 constituencies where the public conscience was stifled by the introduction, just before the election, of a rural mail delivery, and this after it had been announced that rural mail could not be undertaken because of the expense involved."

How does the rural mail delivery deception suit the public taste as an example of candour and consistency.

One of the unemployed in Toronto in voicing his regrets that he could not find work, said that feeding on "bread and soup" at the public expense made him feel ashamed to look up. If that poor man were only a through-going patronage-list politician, how different he would feel if indeed he had any feelings at all, except perhaps those of the Amoeba, the lowest form of animal life, which has a wholly instinctive longing for whatever it can "lay its hands" on.

Macklin, Sask., Jan. 26.—Rev. Father Forner, while driving over the prairie south of this place, visiting some of his parishioners, got lost in the storm and drove for two days and two nights without finding food or shelter. On the morning of the third day he sighted the residence of Wm. Scott, after he had given up all hopes of living through the ordeal. When taken in he was almost exhausted, and it was found that his feet, hands and face were severely frozen.

HAVELOCK WANTS DIVISION COURT

Petition Circulated to That Effect—Recent Rains Were Welcome—Personal News

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. John Garrat and children, who have been residing at Byng Inlet, Ont., where Mr. Garrat was engaged on the C.P.R., have returned to town.

Mr. Hitchcox, of Niagara, N.Y., was in town on Wednesday.

All is in activity at Swift & Co.'s ice house here, about 30 men being employed at the present time in storing next year's supply of ice. This year the supply is being brought from Norwood, and is of a very fine quality, as it is all clear ice, with no snow at all.

Owing to the very mild weather during the latter part of last week, the managers of the local open air rink had quite a difficulty in hanging on to the congealed moisture and as a result part of it has disappeared into the earth and its place not having been filled yet, there is no skating.

Mrs. A. E. Oldrey is visiting with friends in Toronto.

Mr. Jos. Knox, village reeve, left on Tuesday morning to attend the session of the County Council.

An attempt is being made to secure a long felt want in this growing railway town, that of a division court. The nearest one is situated at Norwood, and the most of the business there is from Havelock, and the country north and east of this village. Havelock being a railroad town, it therefore more so in need of such. At least all the business men of Havelock thought so, and lately a petition was circulated in town and signed by 35 of the business men. This petition was presented to the Council on Monday night and they were urgently asked to try and get a division court for Havelock.

A resolution was unanimously passed by the Council that the matter be taken up with Judge Weller at once.

The recent rains were indeed welcomed by a great many in town. Most of the wells at the east end of the village were entirely empty up to last week and it was necessary in some cases to carry water near half a mile. The C.P.R., although they have lately installed a dam to hold back the water in Plato Creek, were fearing that there supply of water was going to run out, but with the last rain they have enough water to keep them going until the spring.

Another effect of the lack of water were the electric lights and although they have been brightened up a little since the last rain, they are far from good.

There was a very good attendance at the piano recital given by Miss Annie Smith's pupils in the Opera House on Monday evening. Besides the piano selections from the pupils, several vocal solos were given by home talent.

Mr. Frank Coon, who was injured in a runaway accident last week, is improving nicely.

Miss Bessie Rose spent Tuesday in Peterborough.

HERE'S A MESSAGE TO ALL WOMEN

Read Why She Gives This Advice and How She Was Relieved of Her Sufferings.

St Paul Du Buton, Montmagny Co., Que., Jan 27—Special.—It is a message of hope that Madame St. G. Letourneau of this place sends to the suffering women of Canada.

"After my last child was born," she states, "I suffered with Kidney Disease which developed into Rheumatism Sciatica and Backache. I was terribly nervous. My limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across the loins and pains in the back of my head and through the eyes. I was a perfect wreck.

"Chancing to read that my symptoms were those of Kidney Disease I began to improve almost at once. Six boxes worked a complete cure."

Diseased Kidneys are the cause of nine-tenths of the ills that make life a burden to so many women in Canada. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased Kidneys.

OYSTER SUPPER AT ZION HALL

Zion Lodge of Foresters Held One on Tuesday Evening Last

An oyster supper was held at Zion Hall, Otonabee, on Tuesday evening under the auspices of Zion Lodge, Canadian Order of Foresters. The affair was a great success, the building being crowded to the doors.

Mr. W. Dickson, of Otonabee, acted as chairman, and addresses were made by Mr. Keyes, organizer of the Society, and Warden Scott.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning the offerings were 800 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 400 hogs and 150 calves. There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, as prices for all grades were well maintained. The attendance of buyers was fairly large and in consequence the demand was good for all the best stock during the early part of the morning and a fairly active trade was done, but towards noon it slackened up some as the common and inferior grades did not seem to be wanted, consequently the market closed quiet, but with a firm undertone. There was no business done for export account, owing to the fact that there were no suitable stock available. Choice steers sold at 5¼c to 5½c; good, at 4¾c to 5c; fair, at 4c to 4½c, and common, at 3¼c to 3¾c. Good cows brought 4c to 4½c, and common, 2¾c to 3¼c, while bulls sold at 2¾c to 4½c per lb. Supplies of sheep and lambs were very small, for which the demand continues good for local consumption and prices rule very firm. Sheep sold at 3¾c to 4c, and lambs at 5¾c to 6c per lb. The trade in calves was active and prices were firm at from $3 to $10 each, as to size and quality. The undertone to the market for hogs continues strong, owing to the small supplies coming forward and the good demand for the same. Prices showed no further change, but they were firm and sales of selected lots were made at $7.25 to $7.35 per cwt., weighed off cars.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

King and Queen to Visit Spain.

Madrid, Jan. 28.—It is announced that King Edward and Queen Alexandra will visit Villagarcia on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, Feb. 16. King Alfonso and Queen Victoria will receive the royal visitors. A British squadron will convoy the Victoria and Albert, and French, Italian and German fleet divisions are also expected to arrive at the same time.

Keeps Names of Assailants a Secret.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Jan. 28.—Emmet White, aged 32 years, died yesterday from injuries received Sunday morning, from a beating inflicted by a party of men.

While White admitted that he knew who his assailants were, he died without giving any names. The police have five men under arrest.

Treated His Prisoners.

Windsor, Jan. 28.—Joseph Lappan, an Essex County constable, has been suspended from duty, and will in all probability lose his position, for improper conduct. Lappan, who was given charge of two prisoners to take down to Sandwich jail a few days ago, had not reached his destination at a late hour in the evening, and it was feared he had been attacked and perhaps murdered by his charges. Instead, he was found in a road-house, treating the two prisoners to whisky and cigars. All three were intoxicated, and had to be conveyed to the jail on a dray.

A. D. Swan Appointed Engineer.

Montreal, Jan. 28.—A. D. Swan, C.E., who was chief engineer of the new Bristol, England, docks, costing $20,000,000, has been appointed resident engineer of the new Montreal harbor works, which is supposed will cost about as much as the Bristol Docks. These plans will be submitted to the Minister of Marine before the end of the present session, although the work is not expected to start before a year from the coming spring.

Last year 1,769 buildings were erected in Winnipeg at a cost of $5,513,700.

Burglars at Mount Forest.

Mount Forest, Jan. 28.—Burglars on Tuesday night forced an entrance into Volson's dry goods store, Skale's jewelry store and R. Scott & Co.'s departmental store. The tills in each case were rifled. Several gold chains were also taken from Skale's. Chief Cringle arrested a suspect yesterday morning. He had quite a collection of coppers and silver in his possession, and a cut on his hand. The glass in Scott's front door was broken to effect an entrance.

Successful Rural 'Phone Company.

Brockville, Ont., Jan. 28.—One of the thriving rural telephone companies of these united countries is the Leeds and Grenville company, with headquarters at North Augusta, and the first annual meeting, just held, disclosed profitable results.

The plant is valued at $11,000, and a handsome net profit was reported. 'Phones to the number of 137 are in use throughout the townships of Augusta and Edwardsburg, and preparations are being made for extending the line by 40 miles next summer.

Weds Chinaman For Spite.

New York, Jan. 28.—"I married him just to spite my parents," declared Mrs. Ong Sing, the radiant young bride of a Chinese bridegroom, as she held an impromptu wedding reception on Tuesday in the City Hall. Ong Sing, who reached just to the bride's shoulders, nodded an enthusiastic approval and beamed while his bride explained.

The newly-wed Mrs. Ong Sing gave her name as May Bohner of No. 92 Floyd street, Brooklyn, and said she is 21 years old.

Boys Start Out to Kill Indians.

Windsor, Jan. 28.—Three Windsor lads—Trumen Beecher, John Grant and Henry Smith—crossed to Detroit, and with their combined capital purchased a revolver, with which they started out to shoot Indians. The trio were arrested and escorted to this side.

Absence Is Costly.

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—For not appearing for examination preliminary to his trial, judgment was entered against W. J. Usher, Ottawa, in a suit by La Banque Nationale, for payment of a promissory note for $2,000. Usher was away from the city on business.

Says He Could Have Saved Republic.

New York, Jan. 28.—The opinion of Capt. Thomas Fenlon of the whaleback steamer City of Everett, that he could have towed the steamer Republic into a place where she could have been beached if Capt. Sealby had accepted his offer of help, was yesterday communicated to officers of the White Star line.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The Spanish steamer Trinidad has sunk an unknown Belgian steamer off Cape Roca. Eight Belgians lost their lives.

Four children of A. M. Kendall, Pittsburg, were cremated and their parents seriously injured in a fire which destroyed their home.

An epidemic of black diphtheria is causing much uneasiness in the village of Harlowe, near Kingston, and three families are quarantined.

MAYES-McAVITY SCANDAL AIRED

Only two tenders had been received and the lowest, at 55 cents, was the successful one.

"Will the Minister not say that the man who tendered at 50 cents got the work at 55 cents?" asked Mr. Lancaster.

"He refers to two different tenders," retorted Dr. Pugsley. "In answer to advertisement two tenders were received, one at 55 cents and another at $1.10 or thereabouts."

"Wasn't it the same work for which a tender for 50 cents had been received?" asked Mr. Lancaster.

"I think it was," said Dr. Pugsley.

"Then who gave the advice that the figure be changed?" Dr. Sproule persisted.

"I gave no such advice," corrected Mr. Pugsley.

O. S. Crockett (York, N.B.): Does he say that he did not send Mayes to McAvity and that McAvity advised Mayes to raise the price?"

Mr. Pugsley: "That is an entirely different matter."

A. C. Boyce (Algoma) referred to a contract for rails awarded the Lake Superior Corporation just before election. His opponent, he said, had come to Ottawa, and on his return to the Soo had brazenly boasted that if he hadn't exercised his influence with the Government, the Soo corporation would not have secured the contract.

Mr. Foster read portions of the Mayes affidavit, according to which McAvity received $25,000 of public money for no other return than his influence to secure a higher price for work than the contractor was satisfied to do it for. Yet on Tuesday the Minister said the Government was not aware that it had any claim for the return of the money.

Mr. Pugsley challenged his opponents to point to any wrong-doing in his Department in connection with the passing of tenders. It was a mistake to say that Conservatives would not tender for Government work. The records of the Department proved this.

The allegation that he had, while a Minister, accepted $2,000 from a contractor was the most infamous charge ever brought against a public man.

The requirement that tenderers should have a dredge in Canada forced the withdrawal of the Mayes' tender of 50 cents. The subsequent tender of 55 cents was 70 cents below the tender of Haney & Miller.

The Minister of Marine, in reply to a question, said the amount paid to March 31, 1907, for Marconi stations was $132,641 for construction and $67,556 for maintenance, and for 1907-08, for maintenance $56,232. There were 15 stations, handling 4,886 messages.

THEATRICAL

A MAN AND HIS MATE

Miss Hilda Spong made her first appearance in Peterborough at the Grand Opera House last night before only a fair but appreciative audience, in "A Man and his Mate." It is a three act play by H R Durant. The heroine is at the outset, a self-scouted, cold and sceptical lady, who falls in love with the hero, a dope fiend, who steals a horse while under the influence of morphine. Believing him to have killed her father she becomes possessed of a mad desire for vengeance, relying upon "the call of his mate" to bring her lover back to the scene of his supposed crime. At the crucial moment, and still believing him guilty, she loses her nerve and saves him from the vigilantes.

Miss Spong in the role of "Betty Breckenridge, MD," very cleverly portrayed the part as did also Wm. Bonelli, as "Harry Ogden."

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The regular weekly business boys' tea will be held tonight at 6.30 sharp. All business boys are invited to attend.

The skating rink is in good condition again and all members who have not secured tickets can get them from Mr Evans.

The rink is to rent two nights a week for teams to practice or play on.

Transfer of Mr. G. L. McClellan

Mr. G. L. McClellan, formerly of the local staff of the Ontario Bank and for the past two years and a half manager of the Warsaw branch of the bank, now of the Bank of Montreal, is leaving for Montreal on Wednesday. He will be transferred to the main office of the Bank in that city. The managership of the Warsaw branch will be taken by Mr. Glenn, of Montreal.

SYNOD TO MEET

In Toronto on February 17th —Invitations From Archdeacon Sweeney

The Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Toronto, which includes Peterborough, has been summoned to meet in special session on Feb 17th for the purpose of electing a bishop to succeed the late Dr Sweatman. The call has been issued by Rev J Fielding Sweeney, Archdeacon of York and Simcoe, as acting diocesan.

The summons to both clerical and lay delegates reads:

"Pursuant to the constitution of the Diocese of Toronto, I, the Venerable J Fielding Sweeney, DD, Archdeacon of York and Simcoe, being the senior archdeacon of the said diocese, do hereby summon a meeting of the clergy and lay representatives of the synod of the said diocese to be held at the school house of St James' Cathedral, Toronto, at the expiration of twenty days from the date hereof, Wednesday, 17th February, 1909, at 10 am, at which time and place the meeting is summoned to elect a successor to the late Most Reverend Arthur Sweatman, DD, in the vacant See of the said Diocese of Toronto.

J FIELDING SWEENY."

TO-DAY'S SESSION COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. J. J. Crowe of Dummer Makes Complaint—Officers of Children's Aid Address Council

The County Council resumed its sessions this morning.

Mr J J Crowe addressed the council with reference to the burying of a relative from the House of Refuge without notifying him of the death. He also said that the funeral was not satisfactorily or reverently carried, inasmuch as the death took place in the early morning and the burial took place at nine o'clock the same day. He also requested the council to have the body removed to the Dummer cemetery.

The chairman of the House of Refuge board of management assured Mr Crowe that the old gentleman referred to had been carefully nursed and cared for during his dying hours. The English church clergyman conducted the funeral services. The body was buried in the plot secured by the county in the Lakefield cemetery. The body was buried according to the by-law providing for the proper burial of inmates.

It was moved by Mr Knox, seconded by Mr Graham, that the council approve of the actions of the board of management and that Mr Crowe be allowed to have the body transferred to his own cemetery if he desires to do so.

Mr Crowe on being requested to do so retracted some of his statements reflecting upon the House of Refuge.

Secretary Mr E L Goodwill and Mr Geo Cochrane addressed the council upon the work being done by the Children's Aid Society. Mr Goodwill invited the council to visit the Shelter and asked for a grant to help on the work. This was referred to the finance committee.

FORMER LOCAL MAN'S RECENT PROMOTION

R. J. Stuart, of Calgary, Alta., who has been in the employ of the Sun Life Assurance Company for the past twelve years, first as special representative in Michigan, then as manager for Nova Scotia, later as special representative in China, and for the last few years doing special work for the company in the west, has accepted a position with Mr. Tory, supervisor of the Sun Life for western Ontario and Michigan, in Toronto, as an inspector for this division.

Mr. Stuart leaving Calgary will be a decided loss to that city as he is an ex-alderman, and at the present time vice-president of the general board of management of hospitals and holds several other important positions in Calgary.

Mr. Stuart is an old Peterborough boy, and has many friends in Toronto.

Mr. Stuart is well known here and his many friends will be glad to hear of his promotion.

WEDDING BELLS

FALLIS—MITCHELL

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the George street Methodist parsonage yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Ann Mitchell o Cavan, and Mr Hiram Fallis of the same township. Rev E A Pearson performed the ceremony. The couple were unattended. Mr and Mrs Fallis will reside in Cavan.

The South African war raised the national debt of Great Britain from 635 millions to nearly 797 millions sterling. The famous "Salada" Tea has raised the standard of tea consumption throughout the entire American continent.

THREE PHYSICIANS BEFORE MAGISTRATE CHARGED WITH PRACTICING UNLAWFULLY

Three well known physicians of this city were arraigned in the police court this morning, charged with practising medicine from January 1st to 27th, not being registered according to the Medical Council. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the accused and R E. Wood conducted the prosecution. The defendants pleaded not guilty. His Worship reserved judgment to allow both the Crown and the defence to put in authorities to support their contentions.

The doctors were charged with practising medicine on W. Gregory and Mrs. C. Beswick, professional witnesses, acting for Mr. C. Rose on behalf of the Ontario Medical Council.

Mr. Wood said that in these cases there was no doubt about the defendants having practised medicine this year, and asked that the accused admit this, but the counsel for the defence would not and the evidence was proceeded with. The doctors were called and Mr. Gregory and Mrs. Beswick also testified to having called on the defendants and in some instances having received medicine.

His Worship will give judgment in a week.

WILL BE MISSIONARY TO JEWISH COLONY IN TORONTO

Rev. H. Caplan, of Havelock, Has Been Appointed to the Position and Will Commence His New Work Next Week

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 27.—Rev. H. Caplan, who has been pastor of St. John's church here for the past four years has received the appointment of Anglican missionary to the Jews of Toronto and will leave to take charge of his new position on Tuesday next, Feb. 2nd.

The proposal to appoint an Anglican missionary to the Jews of Tornoto has been under consideration for some time. Last year the Presbyterian church appointed a man and as his work has proved a success, the Anglican church also decided to help along with the good work of converting the Jews of Toronto of which there are a very large number.

There is probably no man in the province at the present time more suitable for such a situation than the Rev. Mr. Caplan. He was a Hebrew by birth but has since become a Christian. He spent many years in the celebrated universities of the old world before going to his first position, that of Jewish missionary in the imperial city of London, England, and with his wide experience in that work in London he is admirably suited for his present work.

His parishoners in Havelock will wish him every success in his new position.

He will preach his farewell sermon in St. John's church on Sunday next, Jan. 31st.

BOARD OF EDUCATION EXPLAIN TO THE CITY WHY MONEY IS NEEDED

Part of the session of the committee of the whole council last night was devoted to a consultation with the Board of Education in which the latter explained the necessity for their large demand for this year's running expenses, and also for their request that debentures be issued to cover $10,000 spent on the Collegiate Institute above the sum voted by the ratepayers; also for debentures for $4,557.50 spent on the public schools in the way of permanent improvements.

Mr. R. Fair, as chairman of the Finance committee of the Board of Education stated that since they submitted their demand for this year they find that portions of that sum should be charged to permanent improvements. The total was $4,557.50. This should be provided for by debenture. The overdraft was $5,400 and this is what should be provided by debenture. The board also desries the council to issue debentures for an additional $10,000 for the new Collegiate Institute.

CHAIRMAN HAYES.

Chairman Hayes, K.C., stated that the first grant for the Collegiate was admitted by all to be too small. The amount was $71,000. Mr. Hayes read a statement as to how this money was expended. The items were as follows:—

Sundries and purchase of lot	$15 205.80
Langford and Sheehy	52 457.95
J. Kincaid	865.50
Duranceau	1 809.50
McGregor and Reid	4 989.87
J. E. Belcher	2 500.00

The amount expended in excess of receipts was $6 828.22, to which must be added $1 800 for sundries, making $79 628.62 as the total cost of the Collegiate Institute. The extra expenditure largely includes furniture and equipment. The building was erected well within the contract. The furnishing and equipment may be looked upon as an extra. If the city will issue debentures for $10 000 it will cover the full cost of the whole building.

Ald. Hicks pointed out that the Board of Education first asked for $50 000 and again for $60,000 which was defeated. The next year they got $71 000, saying that would be sufficient and have about $2 000 to come and go on. The alderman asked if the Board did not know that they would need furnishings and equipment.

Mr. Hayes stated that if he remembered correctly it was stated that the Board would have to come back for more to furnish and equip the school probably $10,000 or $15,000 would be required.

Ald. Hicks did not remember this and had no record of it.

MR. DUMBLE.

Mr. Dumble stated that he went into the Board to lend his influence to have everything done as economically as possible. After several years' experience he said he would say that no crookedness whatever to the extent of even ten cents had been attempted. He then went on to explain why they got the best buildings and best furniture, how the cost was run up. He thought everything had been done very economically.

Ald. Hicks pointed out that the people voted $71,000 to the Board of Education. Then the Board of Education spent something over $6,000 in excess of that and never notified the council or the people until after it was spent. That was not good business and the time to come to the council for money was before the money was spent, not afterward.

Ald. Hicks stated that so far as he was concerned he thought the Board had better carry that overdraft for a while and in the meantime the council would do something.

Ald. Bradburn agreed with Ald. Hicks and said that no money should be spent on such matters without going to the people or to the council first.

Ald. Bradburn pointed out that the school rate this year would be about 9.48 mills. The probable city rate would be 12 mills. In the past the tax bills were made out in a total sum. This year he would like to see the tax rates made in separate items; the city rates, the public school rate, the separate school rate and the Collegiate Institute rate. He said he would move a motion to that effect. This was seconded by Ald. Phelan and was carried.

The committee of the whole will deal with the Board of Education demand at another meeting.

FAVOR THE USE OF THE OLD CHURCH FOR Y.M.C.A. WORK

At a largely attended meeting of the members of the Park street Baptist church it was decided by a large majority to allow the old church edifice for the use of the Y.M.C.A. after it is vacated by the congregation.

Such a move will fill a long felt need in the south.

The pastor, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, is an enthusiastic Y.M.C.A. man and deeply interested in all that pertains to the developing of an all-round manhood. He will wait upon the Board of Directors at their next regular meeting for counsel and advice in the interests of the institution.

Yesterday afternoon Mr Samuel Sharp, on behalf of the 'Old Fire Brigade presented to the Victoria Museum a piece of "Serpentine" which was used in the construction of one of the old Roman Fire Watch towers, as explained by the following description:—

"These 'Vigiles' were organized by the Emperor Agustus—died AD 14—and acted as the firemen of Ancient Rome, keeping watch over the city from towers.

"This station has a courtyard with a well in the centre, a chapel and several rooms, with rude inscriptions of the 3rd century."

The stone was brought from Rome by the Rev Canon Davidson and presented by him to the boys of the Old Fire Brigade, in 1907.

The "Old Fire Brigade" having no organization, considered the best place to preserve this valuable relic of Ancient Rome, was the Victoria Museum, where it will be taken care of and where it could always be seen by the general public.

The Peterborough Historical Society expresses its appreciation of and sincere thanks to the members of the Old Fire Brigade for this valuable addition to its present collection.

MARKET BY-LAW

Some Clauses Not Popular With Farmers — Joint Meeting Last Night

A joint meeting of the county council and the Legal committee of the city council was held last night to discuss the market by-law. It appears that there is strong objections among the farmers of the county to clause eleven of the by-law which says that when certain goods of a vendor on the market are found to be short weight they may be confiscated as well as fine being imposed upon the person guilty of the offence mentioned above. It is the confiscation clause that is objected to and it will likely be changed.

Those present at the meeting last night were:—Messrs. Shaw, Brown, Breault, Kidd, Knox, Darling, Moher, Perdue, Coben, Fife, Stewart, Graham and Warden Scott representing the county council, while Aldermen Turner Metheral, Duffus, McIntyre, and Mayor Rush represented the city.

In opening Ald. Turner asked the County Council's committee to state the matters they desired to take up with the city.

Mr. Shaw said their purpose was to discuss first, clause 11 of the market by-law which they thought was rather harsh. The farmers on the Peterborough market would also like some shelter in case of storm.

The farmers would like to have the market on the ground floor instead of having to go upstairs with their baskets, etc.

WARDEN SCOTT.

Warden Scott stated that the question they proposed to discuss was the market by-law. There was considerable dissatisfaction among the farmers and it was felt that better arrangements could be made.

Clause 11 referred to the sale of potatoes, beef, etc., which must be sold according to weight and measure as represented.

This clause has caused several farmers to pay fines and lose their goods. They think it very hard to lose their goods. They think potatoes should be sold by weight and some other alterations could also be made.

Mr. Brown said that it was just as convenient for the city people to go to the market as it was for the farmers. If the farmers are to be hauled up in police court and to have their goods confiscated they will stop patronizing the market and sell to the grocers.

Mr. Brown said that if the city could afford to do so a covered market would be a great convenience to the farmers and they would come in large numbers on stormy days and the prices would be steadier.

County Solicitor Peck pointed out that the by-law as it stood was a hardship on the farmers. Some of them filled their bags and might be found short without any intention on their part to do wrong.

The city purchasers pointed out that the purchasers had to be protected, and the council tried to do justice to all parties. It was felt however that the farmers should sell all their produce according to a standard weight.

The county representatives finally stated that it might be all right to impose a fine but not confiscate the goods. For instance a man should not lose a whole load of potatoes or a basket of butter because they were a little under weight.

One suggestion made was to repeal the confiscation clause from the by-law.

The joint committee will refer the matter to the Property committee and endeavor to have a satisfactory arrangement made.

GREAT BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES IN GOWGANDA.

There are between four and five thousand prospectors in the district around Gowganda, dependant upon that point for supplies; it must therefore become a great distributing centre. The first men on the ground to start in business are bound to make money.

Through passenger service by the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway and the Gowganda Transport Company, has been established and the first train, with sleeping and dining car service will leave Toronto Union Station 5 p.m., Feb. 2nd, 1909, and daily (except Sunday) thereafter.

Those interested, should get their men in on the ground at once. The sleigh road from Sellwood, on account of its level location, is the natural way to the district, particularly for freight. Prospectors and all who have covered the ground are unanimous in saying that it is the only way to go. The people in Gowganda hail the advent of the new way as the solution of their great difficulty, the transportation problem.

Full particulars may be obtained by writing C. Price-Green, Canadian Northern Building, Toronto.

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT

An entertainment under the auspices of Sentinel Lodge No. 66, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association will be held in the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street, Friday evening, Feb. 5th, 1909. COUNTY PUPILS WANT TO ATTEND THE COLLEGIATE

Com. From County Council to Wait Upon Local Board of Education

A deputation from Smith waited upon the County Council yesterday afternoon. They asked that a committee from the Council wait upon the Board of Education of this city and endeavor to arrange with them to allow the pupils from the county to attend the Collegiate Institute. It was urged that arrangements were made in other counties whereby the county pupils attended the High schools upon certain conditions and the deputation desired that a similar arrangement be made here.

A special committee was appointed to wait upon the Board of Education at an early date.

OBITUARY

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cox, Concession street, Ashburnham, will sympathize with them in the loss they have sustained in the death of their infant child, which occurred this morning.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

DON'T MISS THIS

Are you going to hear the Southland Sextette at the Grand opera house tomorrow (Friday) evening? It is not often now-a-days that one has a chance to hear those sweet singers of the south who have long been famous as a nation for their pleasing melodies. Crowded houses have greeted this company at every concert given by them and if you do not arrange to hear them you will regret it. The prices are low and there are a few good seats left which may be reserved by phone or by calling at the box office.

Mr. Mowat's Class on Macbeth Will Meet at Y.W.C.A. To-night

Mr. Mowat will hold his class this evening for the study of Macbeth at the Y. W. C. A. It will be the last class of the Macbeth series. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the opening of the new study next month.

A DELIGHTFUL COMEDY OF LOVE AND LAUGHTER

Kathryn Osterman who will be remembered in this city by her clever performance of "The Girl who Looks Like Me" will return to the "Grand" Saturday, Feb. 6th, matinee and night. The clever comedienne will be seen in her delightful comedy of love and laughter "The Night of the Play" which is said to be even better than her offering of last season. Miss Osterman will have the assistance of an excellent company, including William Williams, Edgar Post, Charles Wer..ton, Guy Sampsel, Gavin Harris, Sada Wertewin Belle, Theodore, Elizabeth DeWitt and Edythe Ryley.

The story of "The Night of the Play" is that of an ambitious woman who writes a play and tries to keep the fact from her husband. She seeks the assistance of a poet to get the piece produced and this naturally makes the poet's sweetheart jealous. This with the husband's jealousy causes all sorts of complications and the wife gets her husband and her friends into all sorts of trouble. The fun is of the rich clean and crisp order, and Miss Osterman is said to be delightfully funny in the part.

Miss Osterman will introduce some entirely new gowns that are said to be simply gorgeous especially the cloth-of-gold directoire dress which she will wear in the fourth act. This it is claimed will be the handsomest garment ever worn by an actress on the English speaking stage, and the cost is said to be $1000. There will hardly be any need for any woman to wear the directorie gown on the stage of a Peterborough theatre after Miss Osterman is seen in hers which is one mass of gold from head to foot.

Great Discovery after 2000 years.

Two thousand years ago the usual method of healing skin injuries and diseases was to apply certain essences and juices obtained direct from various healing herbs and roots. The gladiators of ancient Rome and the athletes of Greece adopted this means of healing their injuries, and with wonderful effect. A gladiator would emerge from the ring having sustained terrible cuts and bruises, yet on the application of his favourite herbal balm, within a few days he would again be ready for combat.

As centuries rolled by, the secret of making these herbal extracts was lost, and ointments and salves made up of animal fats took the place of the pure herbal balm.

Zam-Buk, the great balm which during the past few years has revolutionised the system of skin-healing, was produced by returning to the idea of the ancients, that man's best medicaments must be found in herbal extracts.

In the investigation which followed, the necessity was seen for entirely excluding the rancid fats and coarse minerals from which most modern ointments are compounded, and sticking closely to nature.

Scientific inquiry eventually centred round the peculiar properties of certain vegetable saps and juices. These extracts from rare herbs had, it was found, a curious power that enabled them when spread on the broken skin, to knit the edges of tissues together—in short, the power of healing injuries in a marvellously natural way, and of annihilating any germs of disease harboured by wound or pore.

The choice of the right herbal juices and their refinement comprised the next step, after which came the more difficult problem of finding out just the exact proportion of the different ingredients which would give the best healing results. Early disappointment and costly experiments are often the forerunner of famous discoveries, but at length, when success arrived, the investigators found themselves in the possession of a substance of fine consistency, of slight yet agreeable odour, and unique for its marvellous healing, soothing and antiseptic value. The original medicinal power of the respective ingredients was found to have been multiplied many times by reason of the scientific and novel manner of their combination as they exert in Zam-Buk.

Careful tests established the exceptional value of the new balm, its constant reliability, and its unvarying success even in certain obstinate cases of eczema and ulceration.

From the first Zam-Buk has born out in practice what its discoverers expected of it from a practical standpoint. In four continents it has now become the favourite household balm. Cheap substitutes made up to look like Zam-Buk, and sold at so-called "cheap" rates, are constantly being produced, but the careful housewife, the mother, bearing the responsibility and the welfare of her ailing children, or the bread-winner, who once wastes money on them never repeats the experiment. There is no "cheapness" in nature. If one wants her treasure her price must be paid, and now people don't waste money on "cheap" imitations.

Zam-Buk, so pure yet so powerful, is good for young and old. The delicate skin of babes benefit from its application and it is widely used by nursing mothers for the rashes and chafings of very young children. Men of experience and of great attainments in varied walks of life have tested it, and speak of it in the highest terms.

Dr. Andrew Wilson, whose name as a scientist is familiar all the world over, in one of his recent medical works ("Homely Talks on First Aid") says: "Wherever a box of Zam-Buk is handy the preparation may be relied upon as an antiseptic dressing which requires no preparation and has the particular advantage of possessing unique healing properties."

Mr. Frank Scudamore, the great war correspondent says: "Zam-Buk cured me of blood-poisoning, which caused severe ulcers. It is a splendid healer, and I hope its merits will become even more widely known."

Mr. R. F. Perry, Justice of the Peace, of Goldfields, B.C., says: "Zam-Buk cured me of a skin rash of five years' duration, which no doctor had been able to relieve."

For skin eruptions, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, poisoning, cold sores, chapped places, frost bite, blistering, chafing, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is without equal. For piles it is the best remedy yet discovered. It relieves the burning, stabbing, throbbing pains, and gives ease. Almost all druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at fifty cents per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

SPORTING NEWS

FITZ. PLAYING BASKETBALL ON CINCINNATTI "Y" TEAM

The numerous friends of Mr. N. Fitzpatrick will be pleased to hear that he is making good in basketball circles in Cincinnati, where he is playing for the Cincinnati Y.M.C.A. team. A short time ago when the Cincinnati five defeated the St. Paul Tigers by 40—24, Fitz scored 12 points for the winners.

Judging from his letter Fitz thinks well of Cincinnati. He says he has passed up the wrestling game and expresses an interest in sporting matters in Peterborough. He asks to be remembered to Gene Hurtubise.

GEALE'S SEVEN CAPTURE THIRD GAME IN COLLEGIATE LEAGUE

The third game in the Collegiate Hockey League was played last night between Geale's and Anderson's hockey teams, the former winning by 6 goals to 1. The game was more even than the score would indicate, the play being at the winner's end of the ice as much as at the losers.

Four goals were scored by the Gealeites in the first half and two in the second. The lone tally for Anderson's team was scored in the second half by Armstrong, after going the length of the rink.

Those who showed up best on Anderson's team were Dennison and Halpany. The winners all played good hockey, especially Geale. Ken Crane made a satisfactory referee.

THE BANKERS AND PACIFICS NOW TIED FOR THIRD PLACE

The standing in the ten pin league underwent another change last night when the Bankers by taking three straight games from the Hams, succeeded in tieing the Pacifics for top place in the race.

The Hams later played-off their postponed series with the Iroquois, and defeated the Indians two out of three games. Hurtubise's 220 score playing a big part in the victory of his team. Rickey, who was making his first appearance in league ranks, rolled in fairly good form.

The scores;

IT'S UP TO PARK STREET SEVEN

To Break on St. Andrew's Line of Victories—Game To-night

The most interesting battle of the church league takes place to-night when St. Andrew's play Park street. There has been nothing to it but a list of wins for the Saints all season, but Park street will make a big attempt to take away the charm tonight. The ice is in great condition at the Knox rink where the game will be played. Mr. H. Morgan will act as referee.

LAKEFIELD AND T.A.S. IN CITY LEAGUE TO-NIGHT; STRATHS VS. WEST ENDS

After a long lapse in hockey activity and one that seems longer than it really is to the enthusiasts the puck chasers will get busy again tonight when the Thursday night double-header in the City League, will be played. The draw for this evening is a good one and the ice is hard and like a sheet of crystal. The games should be close and spirited.

Lakefield and T.A.S. will be there for the first battle and from the showing of both teams this year they should put up a mighty interesting match. Both teams have defeated West Ends and with the ice in the splendid shape it is should give a very even and interesting exposition of the game.

Strathconas and West Ends will come together in the second game. Straths should win all right, but West Ends are improving every time they play and the game should be a good one to watch.

COBOURG HERE TUESDAY; LINDSAY COMES FRIDAY, FEB. 5

Cobourg will play here next Tuesday night instead of on Monday as was originally scheduled, the change having been made owing to the fact that "The Private Secretary" will be given at the Grand Opera House by local artists on Monday night. The match will be the most important one of the season as Peterborough has arrived at the critical stage and a single loss will practically mean that the district championship goes to Lindsay as there is no likelihood of Belleville having any chance against the speedy Cobourg outfit.

On Friday Lindsay will be here. The locals will have to be in the finest of condition to get the district championship.

The team will practice tonight from six to seven.

ROGERS NEXT BIG BATTLE

Will be With Jess Westergaerde—Also Willing to Meet the Other Top-Notchers

According to a letter received from M. W. B. Naylor, this morning, Yankee Roger's next match will be with Jess Westergaarde the Swede. Westergaarde is 6 feet, 2 inches and weighs 220 pounds. Yankee is back to the carpet again and is apparently eager to emphatically make good again in the heavyweight wrestling world. Rogers is also willing to take on Yusuff Mahmout, Raoul de Rouen or Lundin, the Swede, who recently conquered the celebrated American grappler, Fred Beell.

PETERBORO' WON AT PORT HOPE

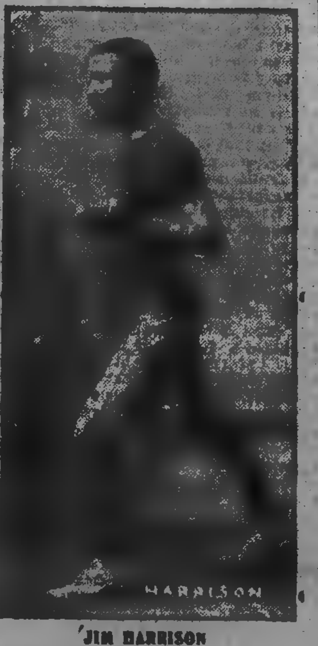
Local Y. M. C. A. Intermediate Basketball Team Land Victory in Lake Town

At Port Hope last night the local intermediate basketball team defeated Port Hope seniors by a score of 38 to 26 Peterborough led at half time. The local line-up was;

Defence—Loomis, Laing.
Centre—Wallace.
Forwards—Wallis, Kirn.

WRESTLING

Fritz Mohl wrestles in Hamilton on February 5th against Charlie Conkle and two others.



JIM HARRISON

TURF

In the 2.20 class Walter G, won in straight heats, beating out Bourbon Brooks and Holland Boy. This Walter G is the horse which was protested at the Peterborough meet and over which suit was brought in the courts to recover the prize money as it was claimed he was Little Hector. If he is Little Hector he has certainly changed that his own mother would not know him, but a mystery he is nevertheless—Hastings Star.

BOWLING

Four games were played in the ten pin league series at the FBC on Tuesday night and the Pacifics emerged from the melee with the leadership of the league firmly in their grasp.

In the first game the BAC dropped two to the Examiner B team, making eleven victories for the latter team out of the last fifteen games played.

Then the Pacifics hooked up with the Greys and took three straights and thus assumed the leadership, only to lose the top position to the Examiner A when the latter team took three from the Iroquois.

In the next game the Exam A team stacked up against the Midgets and the latter sprung a big surprise taking two out of three from the leaders, thus pulling the Exam A down to third place in the league standing.

Tuesday night's scores were;

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW

will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven-Thousand-Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this City or County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address, and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes.

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1900.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

Will Russia Beat Us?

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Please publish the following in your equal suffrage column;

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—In spite of bureaucratic statements to the contrary, Constitutionalism is really permeating Russian life, as has been proved by the Women's Congress, which has just closed after a week's session. Every effort was made by the members not to make it a "feminish affair, although in the end a group of working women, led by two or three Socialists, who had throughout the Congress done their best to subordinate party considerations to the interests of women generally, fought a vain battle over the wording of a resolution and then demonstratively seceded from the main body.

All the resolutions bore a democratic character, and were brought to a head in one affirming that the final realisation of the proposed reforms would only become feasible with the introduction of universal suffrage without distinction of sex or nationality. It was also enthusiastically announced that there was no longer a woman's movement in Finland.

The woman's question in Russia was opened about thirty years ago. Since then women have organised, with the consent of the state, institutions providing almost a full university course while in St. Petersburg there is a women's medical institute. Although the women have received many concessions that have not ceased working for more, and in 1905 all progressive parties included women's suffrage in their programme. In a Constitutional Democratic Congress held in the beginning of 1906, many males fought against this point, but the women carried the day. In the first Duma some deputies opposed the inclusion of women's suffrage in the address in reply, but the noted Russian jurist, Prof. Petrazhitsky, spoke in its favor, and the proposal was carried by a large majority.

Nevertheless, there are many who are beginning to doubt the advisability of giving women the suffrage, just as some in Germany, the United States, England and France are doubting. And the women are becoming more and more uncertain of their position, which, up to very recent times, they thought was so secure as to be envied by the foreign suffragettes. But they are hoping that the Congress just held will again revive interest and support.

Yours etc.,
FAIR PLAY.

Women Suffrage

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—While I admire the efforts of The Review to give this question a fair discussion I think that the public are not desirous of women's suffrage and I enclose for publication the following crushing rejoinder to the present agitation of Mrs Pankhurst & Co.

London, Jan 23—Lord Cromer is not only throwing all the weight of his influence, which with Englishmen is very great, into the balance against the woman's suffrage movement, but is going to take an active personal part in the campaign against Mrs. Pankhurst and her followers.

He has accepted the presidency of the newly founded Men's League for Opposing Woman's Suffrage, and will open fire on the feminine enemy at a great meeting to be held in Queen's Hall. This great British pro-Consul takes the uncompromising stand that he would not only object to seeing women in Parliament, but would debar them permanently from the right to the parliamentary franchise, as he believes that politics is not the proper sphere of woman, and that her influence if exercised in that direction, would not be for the good of the Empire.

Realising that the woman's suffrage agitation has made considerable headway, Lord Cromer is of the opinion that all sensible men should now bestir themselves to crush the movement before it gets beyond bounds. Under his guidance the Men's League will hold frequent meetings in London and the provinces to distribute literature and to instruct the public in the case against granting votes to women to create a volume of public opinion so strong that Government flirtations with the suffragettes will be discontinued."

Yours truly,
COMMON SENSE.

An Inquiry

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I would like some of your readers or yourself to define some of the following words—

First, the word citizen. Who is a citizen? Are women citizens?

Second. What is meant by constitutional government?

Third and last. Should those who are debarred from the privileges and immunities of free citizenship, bear its burdens and be punished by its laws?

MOLLY ANN.

P.S.—Please publish the enclosed:—

By Senator Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado.

"The state statutes permitting women to vote on an equal basis with men are working very successfully in Colorado. The experiment has been pronounced satisfactory and the sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of its continuance.

The women in my State do not vote so frequently as the men unless some important matter comes up, and then they all turn out in force and exert their energies to have the election go according to their views.

I think the granting of suffrage to women has a beneficial effect in just the same manner as any other good movement and its influence is altogether for the improvement of political conditions and the betterment of society.

The question of permitting women to exercis the right of suffrage is becoming an important problem at home and abroad. I believe its adoption will be advantageous to any St that makes the system operative.

And the following:

By Senator Weldon B. Heybu Idaho.

"No serious object on against wo suffrage in Idaho has arisen out of experience covering about tw years, during which time the wo of the State have participated in elections. The general tone of po tical affairs in the State has been proved and greater care in the se tion of candidates has resulted fr woman suffrage.

The women of Idaho do not generally participate personally in the primaries or conventions but their opinions is given due regard by those who do participate in conventions for the nomination of candidates. Between and 70 per cent of the women of Idaho vote at the general elections. In my opinion the result at the polls is not materially if at all, changed by reason of the woman voter.

In my judgment the question of women suffrage should be primarily submitted to the women of the State. In Idaho it was determined entirely by the vote of the men. I find many men in the State who would prefer not to be invested with the right and responsibility that follow its existence. What per cent. of such there is I am not able to say."

SATISFACTORY REPORT OF HOUSE OF REFUGE COMMITTEE

Presented Before the County Council on Wednesday Morning—Financial Statement of this Institution.

The following is the report of the House of Refuge Committee read before the County Council on Wednesday morning, which was adopted;

Your Board of Management have made the requisite number of visits to the institution called for in the rules and regulations governing the House. We have found everything, as far as it was possible for us to see, satisfactory. We visited as a last meeting for audit purposes the Home on the 17th of December and took an inventory of chattels, such as household furniture, equipment, stock, machinery etc. We found very little of anything lacking compared with last year's inventory, probably one or two dollars worth of dishes, etc, accidentally broken, not sufficient to make any note of and we considered the showing very satisfactory.

We also report that in all there have been 41 inmates committed since inception. All seem to be in good health, baring two old men and one old lady, who are more fit for an asylum at times than a Home.

We find the plumbing has not been giving satisfaction and the chairman was authorized to have it remedied as speedily as possible.

The harvest and stock and work of farm was all done at a very nominal cost in so far as wages were concerned. The auditors' report will show the amount.

The amount of produce used and produced on hand December 31st, together with the cattle receipts will show the earning power of the farm.

We would recommend to our successors the planting of ornamental trees in the front to make the House more attractive and give it the appearance an institution of this kind should have.

The increase of inmates will necessitate the purchase of clothes in the near future.

At the beginning of the year there were 25 inmates, 16 male and 12 female. Admitted during the year, 15; Otonabee sent 2; Smith 2, Dummer 2; Ennismore 4; Harvey 3; North Monaghan 2. Discharged during the year 6; died 3; leaving 34 inmates on December 31st, 1908.

NEWS NOTES FROM BETHEL, EMILY

Special to the Review.

Bethel Emily, Jan 25—On Sunday evening last, the Rev C W McKenzie, BA, BD, of Victoria University, a cousin of our pastor, preached the annual educational sermon in this church His sermon was a masterly exposition of the words contained in II Timothy, 2nd chapter and 15th verse.

The social evening that has already been announced in the Watchman Warder to be held on behalf of our Epworth League, on Thursday, Jan 28, has been postponed until Thursday, February 4th. A photograph contest will also be held in connection with the social evening. Keep in mind the date. Everybody welcome.

We are pleased to see Mr and Mrs. Wm Purdy in the vicinity again.

A number of our young men attended the Farmers' Institute meeting, held in Omemee last Thursday evening and report it a success.

Mr and Mrs W J Guthrie of Midland and Mr Wilson of Cookstown, attended the funeral of their friend Mrs J Guthrie last Tuesday.

Miss Ide Switzer has returned home after a month's visit with friends in Midland.

ANNUAL MEETING SHOWS MOST SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Yearly Congregational Assembly at St. Pauls Last Night —Reports of the Different Departments of Church Work Presented

The annual congregational meeting of St Paul's Presbyterian church was held in the lecture room of the church last night. There was a larger attendance than usual on such occasions. Preliminary to the business meeting a social tea was held at which refreshments were served.

REPORT OF SESSION

Mr Sheriff Hall presented the report of the session, which stated that "in every department of the work of the church there had been a decided advance,"—a substantial increase in membership, the Sabbath services have been well attended and the contributions to both ordinary revenue, and the missionary schemes of the church, have shown a marked increase over those of any former year, and there is an evident increase of interest taken by the membership generally. The mid-week services show a larger attendance. The report expressed warm approval of the Laymens' Missionary Movement. The number of members on the roll at the end of 1907 was 780. During the year 54 were added by certificate and 67 by profession of faith. There have been 42 removals by certificate, and 16 by death, leaving the present membership of 633.

MANAGERS.

Mr John Crane presented the financial statement which showed a balance from last year of $116.28. The receipts for the year were $7004.93; the disbursements were distributed as follows;—

Salaries, etc $3,885; fuel, light, heat int, etc. $1973.86; Sunday School, $200, music for choir $50; payment on mortgage $1000; balance $12.35.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr Wm Madill presented the report of the Sunday school. The report stated that last year was one of the most successful in the history of the school. The total enrollment was 483 with an average attendance of 333, or 69 per cent. There was an average attendance of 29 teachers and 5 officers.

A factor in the success of the school was the hearty co-operation of the pastor. The teachers' study class on Wednesday evenings were helpful to and appreciated by the teachers. During the year, 46 were added to the church roll. Six pupils of the school attended every Sunday and will receive prizes. They are, Nina Clark, John Clark, Gordon Clark, Frank White, Fred Sharpe and Stanley Anderson. Hugh Carmichael and Mary White earned the diploma of the General Assembly as well as the special prize of the school by repeating the whole of the shorter Catechism at one setting.

There has been a decided increase in mission contributions by the school.

The Home department has a membership of 100 and the Cradle department 45.

Good work is reported among the Chinamen of the city.

The total receipts were $1,202.52, and the expenditures $758.20, leaving a balance of $444.22.

CHURCH SCHEMES

Mr G M Roger, treasurer of church schemes, read the report which showed a total of collections of $3728.11; special contributions $1805.60, of the amount $1908.60 had been allocated, and $1772.64 was allocated at the meeting.

LADIES' AID

Mr D H Moore read the report of the Ladies' Aid Society. During the year the society has provided for various church improvements. The Thanksgiving offering for the poor amounted to $57.55, later increased by $50.75. The treasurer's statement showed receipts of $612.76 with disbursements $77.10 less

W.F.M.S.

Mr J H Connal read the report of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. The report detailed the activities of the society such as sending clothing to missions, etc.

At the annual Thankoffering meeting held in October the receipts amounted to $450.45, the largest in the history of the auxiliary

YOUNG PEOPLE'S GUILD

The various reports as they were read were on motion, adopted.

MANAGERS.

The four retiring managers were re-elected as follows,—

Messrs R Innes, John Crane, Wm. Scott and H Gillespie

Messrs W H Hill and A P McLean were appointed auditors.

THANKING THE CHOIR

On motion of Mr T A S Hay, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the choir.

Mr Crane in reply paid a warm tribute to the fidelity of all the members of the choir.

MOTIONS

Mr D H Moore introduced the question of greater attention to systematic contributions to missions. Remarks were added by Mr J C Shook, and Mr J H Connal and it was moved that the pastor be requested to call a meeting of the men of the congregation to consider the matter

A motion was also passed instructing the managers to print the annual report.

A motion was also adopted empowering the session to deal with the question of appointing an official to act as assistant secretary or to do stenographic work for the pastor.

Rev Mr Pogue, after referring to the excellent and encouraging tone of the church reports concluded the meeting with devotional exercises, followed by the Doxology.

WATER COMMISSIONERS OUTLINE SCHEME FOR NEW WATERWORKS DAM

Waited on City Council Last Night—Amount Required is $120,000 to be Raised by Debentures.

The ratepayers of Peterborough will be asked to vote on a by-law to raise $120,000 by debentures for the erection of a new waterworks dam. The Water Commissioners waited on the committee of the whole Council last night and laid their plans before the aldermen. The chief features are:

The whole equipment will be strictly modern in every detail and will last for many years.

The present surplus from the water works will more than pay for the interest and sinking fund on the debentures.

The rates to the consumers will not be raised one cent, and the taxes will not be affected one cent.

The revenue from the waterworks will be greatly increased.

The pumping capacity will be trebled.

1,200 electric horse power will be developed. 500 h.p. will be used by the commissioners and 700 will be available for the city.

Those present were;—Mayor Rush in the chair, Aldermen Hicks, Duncan, Buller, Duffus, Morgan, Turner, Gillespie, Motheral, Morrow, Phelan, Bradburn and McIntyre.

From the Water Commissioners were chairman T. F. Matthews, W. H. Moore and W. H. Hill.

THE CHAIRMAN.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Water Commissioners, stated that the water works property had been the cause of much consideration the past couple of years. The commissioners have reached that point where they are prepared to submit to the ratepayers a proposition to build a new dam, rebuild the pwoer house, put in a new pumping plant and an auxiliary plant. Before going into this matter Mr. Matthews gave a short review of the water works since it was taken over by the city. He said that the services had increased so rapidly that at times the plant was pumping to its full capacity and had there been a serious fire the water works system would not have responded sufficiently. The pumping plant now has a pumping capacity of 3,500,000 gallons and they desire to increase that to 10,500,00 gallons. It is proposed to build a new concrete dam about 500 feet down the river, erect a new power house and plant and to use the present plant as an auxiliary plant.

Mr. Matthews then read the following resolution which was passed by the Water Commissioners at their meeting in the afternoon;

Moved by W. H. Moore, that in the judgment of the commissioners the time has arrived, when a new concrete dam with the necessary accessories should be erected to replace the wooden one, built by the late Peterborough Water Co. in 1893-4; that such dam should be placed about 500 feet down the river from the present dam, where the river is considerably narrower, and where a much better rock bottom and increased head can be obtained; that the dam and accessories should be so designed, constructed and equipped, as to be thoroughly modern and efficient throughout, thus securing the greatest degree of permanency, reducing cost of maintenance to a minimum, and assuring the city the full benefit of the whole flow of the river, that the result desired can in the opinion of the commissioners, be secured, almost, if not altogether, out of current revenue from the works, without increase of water rates or other assessment; that such dam is estimated to produce about 1,200 horse power from an average yearly outlay on the dam of nearly 900,000, and also from all apprehension as to its safety that there be sent to the City Council this resolution and a copy of the report and letter of 17th December last of Wm. Kennedy, civil and hydraulic engineer, of Montreal, to the commission in relation to a dam of the character and capacity outlined above, with a request to submit to the ratepayers a by-law for the issue of $120,000 of debentures, for the above proposal, in case the Council shall approve of the proposal of the commissioners.

The surplus revenue of the water works will take care of the interest and sinking fund on the new debentures and will not cost the citizens any more than they are now paying. The rates will not be affected in the least.

MR. HILL.

Mr. Hill stated that it would cost about $7,500 to meet the sinking fund and interest on the debentures and this the commissioners are already providing as the surplus this year would be about $10,000. Therefore there is no reason why this work should not be gone on with this year as it would cost the ratepayers on water consumers nothing. Then the cost of cement this year is so much lower that about $8,000 would be saved in constructing the dam. Mr. Hill urged that the Council take immediate action so that the commissioners could get to work as soon as possible. The plans have to be completed, tenders called for, contracts let, etc. It is proposed to take two years on the construction of the dam and thus take advantage of the low water in the river. Mr. Hill also remarked upon a filtration plant which would have to be taken up in a few years, but this is now being provided for by the fund the commissioners now have of the accumulated surpluses amounting to $30,000.

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Turner, that the matter be referred to the Special Power Committee to be taken up at once.—Carried.

The Special Power Committee is meeting this afternoon.

BIG DRYDOCK FOR THE SOO

Company Wants Inducements and Will Put in New Line of Boats

Sault Ste. Marie, Jan. 29.—According to the terms of an agreement practically arrived at between the city and John O'Boyle, representating a company of capitalists, arrangements are made for the construction of a drydock and shipbuilding yards in the Soo, work to commence with the opening of spring. The company asks the city for exemption of taxes and a cash bonus annually for 20 years, and in return promises to contruct a shipbuilding plant and drydock 620 feet long, the initial expense to be $500,000, the plant to be 50 per cent. better than the one at Collingwood, which employed 300 men in 1908.

"I have the men with the money and will commence operations on building of dock as soon as weather permits, providing the city sticks by me," said Mr. O'Boyle. "We will also commence building vessels for an independent line as soon as we can. It is the intention of those interested to commence the construction of lake vessels as soon as the yards are in shape."

A favorable report on local conditions was read from Hugh Calderwood, an expert of Toronto, who recommended that the property of J. A. Wilde, near the boat club in the west end, be purchased. A committee consisting of members of the Board of Trade and Council was appointed to make a report at a public meeting.

ELECTIVE SENATE ?

The Hon. R. W. Scott Would Make It Two-Thirds So —Motive Is Given

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—In the Senate yesterday ex-Secretary of State Hon. R. W. Scott, backed by the authority of thirty-four years as leader of the Liberal party in the Upper House both in Opposition and in power, gave notice of a Senate reform resolution based on the results of his long experience. For seventeen years he has led the Senate on the Government side and for seventeen years on the Opposition side. In brief, his proposal is to have two-thirds of the Upper House elected every eight years by popular compulsory vote, and one-third appointed by the Government in power for an eight-year tenure of office.

His resolution, after premising that the time has come to amend the constitution of the Senate so as to bring the mode of selection of the Senators more in harmony with public opinion, provides as follows: That the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec be each divided into sixteen electoral districts for representation in the Senate; that the Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick be each divided into seven electoral districts, and the Province of Prince Edward Island into two electoral districts, and that for the present and until the four western provinces have been given increased representation Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta be each divided into three electoral districts, and British Columbia be divided into two electoral districts. In defining the electoral districts due regard is to be had not only to approximately equalizing the population in each district, but to the convenience of local interests and county boundaries.

TREATY WILL BE AMENDED

Waterways Agreement To Come Before United States Senate

Washington, Jan. 29.—An agreement was reached among the Senators yesterday for an amendment to the Canadian waterways treaty to satisfy the contention of Senator Wm. Alden Smith of Michigan that the treaty should fix a division of the waters of the St. Mary's river for power purposes between Canada and the United States. The exact terms of the proposed amendment of the treaty have not been determined. The treaty will again be considered at an executive session to-day.

A JOLLY TIME AT WARDEN'S DINNER

County Councillors, County and City Officials Gathered at Hotel National Last Evening—An Enjoyable Banquet—The Toast List and Addresses.

In point of interest and enjoyment the annual banquet of the Warden, Ex Warden County Solicitor and Treasurer held last evening at the Hotel National surpassed all previous ones. The members of the County Council, the Mayor of the City, County and City officials and a number of other prominent men met in a social way to discuss matters of vital importance to the residents of Peterborough County. The spirit of good fellowship prevailed throughout the evening. A splendid toast list which brought forth many excellent addresses was interspersed here and there with witty sayings and the relating of humorous stories.

The occasion was graced with the presence of men who have long since retired from active service in the municipal life of the county. These included Ex-Wardens Pearce of Norwood and G W Fitzgerald of this city.

The chairman of the evening was Ex-Warden Thompson, M.P.P., of Havelock whose remarks were most appropriate and interesting.

At eight o'clock the guests sat down to a most sumptuous dinner, prepared by Mine Host Denison. It was all that could be desired and numerous were the complimentary remarks paid to the cuisine and the efficient service of the Hotel National.

THE MAYES SCANDAL AGAIN; HON. MR. PUGSLEY SPEAKS

Lack of Numbers for Impressive Majority on First Division of Session is Responsible for Another Debate on Dredging Affair—Mr. Pugsley Talks His Fill, But Crocket is Barred

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Not having an attendance sufficient for a big showing for the first division of the session, the Government succeeded again yesterday afternoon in talking on the Reid resolution respecting the opening of tenders. By arrangement, the motion was number one on the orders of the day.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley spoke for an hour, repeating his version of the Mayes' charges. With some bitterness he assailed Premier Hazen and the Conservative press for not correcting the error which had it that certain moneys were paid to Mr. Pugsley by Contractor Mayes.

When Mr. Crocket attempted to give "the other side," however, the rules of the House were involved and the greater part of the Crockett ammunition was thus spoiled.

Reverting to the Mayes' affidavit, which he denounced on Wednesday, Dr. Pugsley said "it was a disgrace to the man who read it (Premier Hazen), and who never had the manliness to acknowledge the wrong he did me. Mr. Foster also did no credit to himself for fathering a false affidavit.

"We were not only prepared to answer the charges, but to carry on an aggressive campaign against the men who made them."

He said that Mayes had made repeated efforts to get the contract, saying he should have 90 cents a cubic for the work, but the Minister held him to it. Mayes had approached the Minister later on to have the Government take over his dredge for $150,000. Associated with him in the endeavor was Mr. Baxter, vice-president of the St. John Conservative Association, who had threatened to make it warm for Pugsley if the dredge was not taken over. Another man, Osman, said if the dredge was not purchased disclosures would be made. Osman had been led to believe that a cheque for $2,000 had been paid Pugsley, after he became a member of the Federal Government.

"But I told him," said the Minister warmly, "to go back and tell Mayes to go ahead." The Conservative party of New Brunswick had lent themselves to "this unholy campaign" to destroy him.

Mr. Pugsley claimed no credit for the result in New Brunswick, which was a recognition of the "splendid personality of the gentleman whom we are proud to follow."

CANDIDATES TO BE ANNOUNCED MONDAY

In The Review's Trip to Europe and Diamond Contest—Goodly Number of Nominations Already Received, Representing Both Lists in Each District.

Nominations are coming in every day. The list of nominees will be published for the first time in next Monday's issue. Would-be candidates should lose no time in entering the contest. They should see that their nomination blanks are filled in and forwarded to this paper in order to be included in the first published list. All nominations received up to noon Monday will appear in this list.

Nominations will be received after that date, but it means a lot to start among the first.

If you are interested in the contest for yourself or for a friend and do not understand the plan please call on the contest man who will fully explain and render all assistance possible. The field is open to all, so do not hesitate but fill out the nomination blank at once and send it in.

Contestants who have already sent in their nominations are no doubt gathering newspaper ballots. A suitable box is in readiness to receive these ballots and is conveniently placly placed in the Review office. New nominations may be dropped in this box. All ballots deposited will be allowed to accumulate until the first score is published. The names only will be printed on Monday and the standing will not be given for several days thereafter. This plan has been adopted in order to allow all candidates to secure support in the way of ballots and subscriptions so as to make a good showing in the first published score.

The choice between the European tour and the high grade piano seems to be about equally divided. Several likely contestants yesterday expressed themselves and the odd part of the matter was that the gentlemen favored the piano and the ladies preferred the tour. It's all a matter of taste. Either prize is away ahead of any similar offer in this vicinity. The trip will live in memory forever, while the piano will be an ever-present reminder of a conquest. The district prizes are all of good value and well worth striving for. Of the eight trophies, four are sure to be won in the county outside of Peterborough and the other four in Peterborough. The division of the contest is made in a manner so that the ladies and gentlemen do not compete with each other, neither do contestants in the city compete with those residing in the county, except for the grand prize.

The contest manager is always ready and willing to answer questions and letters and phone calls will receive prompt attention.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE IS CONSIDERING IMPROVEMENTS

Propose Lighting the Town Clock, Re-painting the City Council Chamber and Dan Spence Ambulance—Meeting Held Yesterday.

The Property Committee will endeavor to get along this year with the same appropriation that was allowed them in 1908. Besides the regular demands it is proposed to light the town clock on the Market building. It is also proposed to repaint the interior of the council chamber for the first time in ten years, and the Dan Spence ambulance is to have a coat of paint. The committee met yesterday afternoon at five o'clock with Ald Bradburn in the chair. Aldermen McIntyre, and Duncan and Mayor Rush were also present.

The Wm Hamilton Mfg. Co. made application to the council for the deed of that portion of Murray street, which they erected their buildings upon but have never been given the deed.

There was a by-law passed 25 years ago giving the company permission to erect their buildings on condition that they graded the remainder of the street. In return they were to be given a deed of the street.

The committee however, were not particularly anxious to hand over a deed as the city may want to use the street sometime in case the Wm Hamilton Company move or are burned out.

The matter was referred to the city solicitor.

Mr Hall stated that if the company had done the work the city would have to give the deed.

It was moved by Alderman Duncan and McIntyre, that a bylaw be prepared authorizing the execution of a deed to the Wm Hamilton Mfg. Co. Ltd.—Carried.

A letter was received from Mr W A Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal stating that he desired to move into a much larger building to accommodate the public, and he would like to rent the building formerly occupied by R Hall & Son.

Ald Bradburn stated that the committee should decide upon a price for the building and whether they intended to sell at once or not. The committee wanted to sell out as they intended to build the new public library this year.

The committee decided that the city should sell the building but not to give a lease for it. In the meantime the chairman stated that he would see Mr Edwards.

Ald Bradburn stated that he had prepared the estimates for this year and made it $800. This was less than last year by $100, but it did not allow anything for repainting the interior of the council chambers. The chambers were at present in a disgraceful condition and should be fixed up. It is ten years since the chamber was cleaned and fixed up.

The committee will endeavor to secure an extra $100 to fix up the council chamber, light the town clock and paint the ambulance.

THE LATEST CABLE AND TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

What Milner Accomplished.

London, Jan. 29.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—"Unionist," writing in The Mail, prognosticating the Secretaryship of the Colonies for Milner in the next Unionist Cabinet, declares that Milner's speeches in Canada and the public education which he revived in the imperial cause at a critical moment, upon the very eve of a tariff revision at Washington, saved the immediate situation. "Unionist" declared Milner now has a special support in Canada which holds the casting vote in the whole imperial problem.

Sovereign Bank Loses $40,000.

Aylmer, Jan. 29.—The first and final statement of the assignee of Stephen Pierce, manufacturer, of Aylmer, is of interest to the shareholders of the Sovereign Bank, which advanced $40,065 to the insolvents, upon which they will not realize anything. The total assets amounted to $9,853.98. The total liabilities unprovided for amount to $45,778. Mr. Pierce has taken up farming.

Motorman's Hard Luck.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Four persons have been killed beneath the wheels of electric cars, of which he was motorman, and two women having been maimed for life, L. A. Brodway is now taking a voluntary rest "to recover his nerve." In none of the accidents has Brodway been censured by the coroner.

When Roosevelt Says Good-Bye.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Roosevelt will not follow the custom and ride back to the White House on March 4 next with his successor in office. After Taft takes the oath of office he will go direct from the capital to the Union Station and take a train for New York.

Georgian Bay Fairs Association.

Barrie, Jan. 29.—The Georgian Bay Fair Association met yesterday afternoon to fix dates for the different fairs in the county. They elected the following officers: President, G. Raikes; vice-president, J. Kneeshaw, Bradford; secretary-treasurer, Geo. Greene, Bradford; directors, Wm. Wood, Bradford; W. Tom Collingwood; M. Saunders, Stayner; R. Graham, Elmvale, and C. L. Stephens, Orillia.

Royal Bank's New Issue.

Montreal, Jan. 29.—At the annual general meeting of the Royal Bank of Canada yesterday, it was decided to increase the paid-up capital stock from $3,900,000 to $5,000,000, the new issue being 1,100 shares.

T. J. Drummond of Montreal was added to the directorate, which gives a quorum of directors residing in this city. Mr. Bauld retires from the board.

The date of the annual meeting was changed from the fourth to the third Thursday in January.

Suicides at Sea.

New York, Jan. 29.—James T. Scheuer, 27 years old, of this city, plunged from the deck of the Old Dominion liner Princess Anne, en route to Norfolk, Va., Tuesday night, and was lost. He was on his way with a secretary to Virginia Beach for his health.

Attempt Successful.

London, Ont., Jan. 29.—S. B. Fawcett who attempted suicide on Sunday afternoon, by cutting his throat, died at six o'clock last night, septic pneumonia having set in. C. E. Henderson of West Toronto, his nephew, has been communicated with.

Local Optionists In Brant.

Brantford, Jan. 29.—It was the unanimous decision of the county convention of local optionists yesterday to prosecute a general campaign throughout the county for local option. Licenses at St. George and Paris, also in this city, to the number of 40, are thus jeopardized. Officers were elected as follows: President, Fred Mann; vice-president, D. M. Lee, Paris; secretary, Ald. J. W. Shepperson; treasurer, F. J. Maxwell.

Two Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 29.—A special from Big Falls, Minn., says: In a fire which destroyed the Audit Hotel and saloon here Wednesday night, two men met death in the flames and two other persons are probably fatally burned. J. J. Curley and Joseph LeBlanc, homesteaders of Waukonda, were cremated. Paul Lawrence and his wife, who ran through the flames in their night clothes, are not expected to live.

$2,000,000 Damages Claimed.

New York, Jan. 21.—Counsel for the Oceanic Steam Navigation Co., owners of the White Star line steamship Republic, yesterday filed a libel in the United States District Court against the steamer Florida of the Lloyd Italiano line. Damages amounting to $1,500,000 for the ship and $500,000 for cargo are claimed.

Sinclair For Canada.

London, Jan. 29.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Mail declares definitely that Hon. Mr. Sinclair's elevation to the peerage is merely preliminary to his appointment as Governor-General of Canada.

This appears to be the general opinion in Liberal circles.

Bomb For Korean Emperor.

Tokio, Jan. 29.—While the imperial train bearing the Emperor of Korea and Count Ito of Japan, who are making a trip of inspection through northern Korea, was en route to Pyeng Yang, one of the emperor's aides attacked the home secretary with a sword.

May Not Be Brought Back.

Chatham, Jan. 29.—Crown Attorney H. D. Smith gave out the information yesterday that he had as yet received no information whether or not Eddie Quinn, who was captured in Cleveland, will be extradited. Quinn is wanted for robbery from a Sovereign Bank clerk.

CUBA IS NOW INDEPENDENT

United States Sets Island Adrift To Manage Her Own Affairs

Havana, Jan. 29.—Jose Miguel Gomez was inaugurated president of the Cuban Republic at a few minutes past noon yesterday amid the firing of salutes from the forts on shore and from the warships assembled in the harbor.

Precisely at noon President Gomez stepped out upon the balcony overlooking the Plaza de Armas and took the oath faithfully to enforce the laws of the republic and defend the constitution. The oath was administered by the chief justice of the Supreme Court.

The new president received from the hands of Mr. Magoon the final decree turning over all the affairs of the island, together with an order from Washington terminating Mr. Magoon's commission as provincial governor.

The coming of the new day of Cuban liberty was signalled by a general display of fireworks. The streets of the city, which were brilliantly illuminated and garlanded with chains of incandescent bulbs, were thronged with people until an early hour. Thousands of people gathered around the club throughout the night, where inaugural and farewell balls were held.

Gomez is 53 years old. He participated in two revolutions against Spain and attained the rank of major-general.

AN OLD FRIEND

The Trouble In the Balkans Again Causes Unrest In Europe

London, Jan. 29.—The Balkan situation is again causing some anxiety at the European capitals.

Bulgaria's action in calling out her reserves is apparently explained by Turkey's attempts to secure rectification of the existing frontier as a condition for reducing her monetary demands from Bulgaria. Noting the danger of trouble between Turkey and Bulgaria, the powers are again resorting to negotiations to bring about joint pressure in favor of a peaceful settlement.

It is reported that Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, has sounded the powers on this subject, and a St. Petersburg despatch announces semi-officially that Russia has already addressed a circular despatch to all the signatories of the Berlin treaty. In this circular Russia proposed to make common representations to both Sofia and Constantinople against any change being made in the frontier line which would endanger European peace and enjoining both Governments to refrain from a military movement.

According to a Sofia despatch, Great Britain has advised Turkey to accept an indemnity of $20,000,000 and Bulgaria is inclined to pay this sum, provided Turkey abandons her claim for rectification of the frontier.

Negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Turkey are still dragging, owing to the fact that the Turkish Government has not yet succeeded in putting an end to the Austrian boycott.

B. C. Ex-Prison Warden Says He Will Explain Miners' Escape

New Westminster, B.C., Jan. 29.—Piqued because a recent despatch from Ottawa intimates that discipline in the British Columbia Penitentiary was not perfect during his tenure of office, D. D. Bourke, ex-deputy warden and for months virtually warden, has written to the press intimating that unless justice is done him he will "open up a new field for moral reformers by telling the world the truth about the escape of Bill Miner and three convict companions," who escaped from the institution in August, 1907. Mr. Bourke states that the disclosures he may make public would be sensational and [illegible].

FRIDAY, JAN. 29, 1909.

THE MONEY POWER

One of the most prominent of the citizens of Peterborough and a man thoroughly in touch with money and the great centres of money remarked in the rotunda of one of our leading hotels the other evening that money was becoming all-powerful and that it was gathering everything that we most prize into its relentless embrace. There is always the fear of this and the danger of it. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of our people spell Success m-o-n-e-y. It is all that religion is to the saint, honor to the honorable and food to the hungry in the estimation of the money mind. Not only should it be as Andrew Carnegie says, a disgrace to die rich, but it should be as Socrates said and as Christ said to the rich young man, really a disgrace to live rich. The love of money is a disease as well as a gratification. Besides being the root of ALL evil it is the chief means of living the purely animal life. The god of money has from the earliest times always been drawn with a cloven hoof or ass's ears. Still the money-lover will say "It is all very well. I'll take the money." There is no objection to the accumulation of money as water is accumulated in a reservoir or as wheat is kept in a granary or as any other means of subsistence, but what the citizen alluded to did not refer to that. He meant that, like the shepherd who gazed too long unworthily on the figure of Life, it changed at each succeeding moment until it lost its joyousness, its sweetness and its purity gradually fading away into the pale mist of death.

THE PRODIGAL'S RETURN

The leading article in the Globe of January 27th, 1909, might very well be taken as a text for his discourse next Sunday by every clergyman in Canada. There are three things connected with it that we wish to emphasize; one is that the dilatoriness of the Department of Justice at Ottawa has angered the Globe and well it might. Graft has gone wholly "unwhipt of justice," there. The next point that attracts our attention is the tenor itself of the article, which reminds one of the man who "with greedy ear devours up" a discourse and then breaks into righteous indignation over it. It is indignant with the general wholesale and retail indiscriminate, wicked political humbug that under the smooth and euphonious name of Graft has so long disgraced our civilization. The Globe cries "Havoc," and lets "loose the dogs of war." We can well fancy the Liberal journal shaking its copious locks in well-developed rage. Why couldn't Sir Wilfrid have forestalled the Globe's demand by long ere this giving some promise or hope of a vindication of the law, if not of God, at least of man. The third point to which we referred is the shortness, sharpness and decisiveness of the rap at Sir Wilfrid's door and at the door of Parliament. It is a call for them to wake up and see to it that we are no longer robbed even while we work to supply the booty. It is because words such as these can do so much that Sir Wilfrid is so much to blame for not having spoken them. The crisis is at hand and the Globe has risen to it. Let Sir Wilfrid take the warning that Mr [illegible] ignored.

"CRIME AND THE CIVIL SERVICE.

All the prima facie evidence of crime revealed in the investigation before the Cassels Commission should be placed in the hands of the law officers of the Crown. The offenders against the law should be adequately punished under the law. If there has been crime mere exposure is not adequate punishment. Of course every man involved in peculation and graft and breaches of trust will be dismissed from the service without pension and without delay. But that will not be sufficient. That punishment would not fit the crime in private business. Neither should it be regarded as a fitting penalty for public dishonesty. Indeed, if a distinction is made it should be in holding the man who offends against the honor of the civil service as the greater criminal. The ideals and the traditions of Government service should be such as would make betrayal of trust by a departmental official as heinous as a similar dereliction would be in the Northwest Mounted Police. In any case the evidence discovered or suggested by the investigations of Mr Geo H Watson, KC, should now be made the starting point for prosecutions by the proper authorities under the criminal code. Let us have an end to all administrative leniency, and the end of graft and rake-off and petty dishonesty among deputies and clerks will speedily follow. In the civil service, as surely as in banks and commercial houses, the way of the transgressor should be known to be hard. Let every man of them be prosecuted."—The Globe.

THE NEW TURKEY

The most wonderful event of 1908 is generally agreed to be the instantaneous bloodless and peaceful climax of the revolution in Turkey. The Turks are said to be a really very fine people. An especially wonderful thing is the coming to the fore of the women of Turkey. They have emerged from the seclusion of their previous life into the broad daylight of real freedom at a bound and they seem quite equal to it. The Sultan has called his parliament together and the members are acting with all the customary circumspection and prescience of the most highly developed representatives. Unlike other countries, new or old, where governmental institutions are far in advance of the people as a whole, notably Canada for one, Turkey takes her place as a fully developed nation not as yet perhaps high in the class but at any rate one of the advanced order of nations.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Parliament with a general election four years off has a splendid chance this year of showing that it is a business institution and not merely a voice."—The Globe.

"The Continuation schools continue to make progress. There are now three Grade A schools, Lakefield having, since September arranged for the principal to give all his time to this work. In the three schools Ennismore, Havelock and Lakefield, there are more than a hundred students receiving an excellent training in high school work without the expense and inconvenience of going away from home."—Inspector Lees' report.

Kingston Whig:—The alleged bribery of Bonaventure by Mr. Marcil is not a circumstance to the attempted bribery of British Columbia by the leader of the Opposition. The end of Mr. Borden's troubles has not been reached.

This comment of The Whig's copied into The Globe is neither fair nor true. Mr. Borden's message to B.C. was simply a reiteration of his pledge of policy. It had no reference to money or to any catch-as-catch-can effort to win B.C. unfairly. On the other hand Mr. Marcil handed out gifts of money subsidies galore which not only meant buildings at large in the constituency, a definite and confined field of operations but money in the pockets of workers on those buildings and contracts, and in addition pickings for the grafters as well. It is entirely unfair and disingenuous to compare the two cases although it may serve a purpose in disarming opposition to the studied attempt to orientalise B.C.

"A popular majority of only 24 117 Liberals over Conservatives at the recent Dominion elections seems to give comfort to the Opposition journalists. It would be cruel to begrudge them any little pleasure of this sort under the circumstances. The votes that count however, are those in the House of Commons not those outside of it."—The Globe.

It was hardly to be expected that The Globe or for that matter any other reputable journal would rejoice and be so exceeding glad over a catch or close vote. A small popular majority may as in the present case produce a large crop of representatives and it would be more becoming to face the issue as decided by the popular majority than to triumph over the wholly disproportionate result as manifested in the House at Ottawa. As a matter of computation the facts are not, however, as The Globe states. The Liberal majority is between 16-000 and 17,000, a pretty close call in view of the inducements held out to constituencies and contractors. "One more such victory and I am undone."

THE MAYES SCANDAL AGAIN

ed, and was about to discuss the Mayes affidavit, when Mr. Emmerson raised the point of order. It was time to get back to the resolution. This raised a laugh, as Mr. Pugsley had digressed for a full hour, but the Speaker ruled the matter was irrelevant.

Mr. Foster protested. The question had been debated for some hours, and not a word said.

R. F. Sutherland declared the irrelevant matter was introduced by Mr. Foster.

"Here," retorted Mr. Foster, "Is a man who was Speaker of this House making a statement that is not in accordance with the facts."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that everyone knew the affidavit was introduced by Mr. Foster.

"That is not true," said Mr. Foster.

Mr. Crocket then closed. W. O. Sealey (Wentworth) and several other Liberal members followed, it being apparently the object of the Government to kill time till 6 o'clock.

Henry Horton Miller (South Grey) was on his feet at that hour and he adjourned the debate, while Sir Wilfrid moved the adjournment of the House.

During the question hour, Mr. Blain was informed by Sir Wilfrid that it was not the intention of the Government to introduce legislation to prohibit or restrict the sale of cigarettes.

George Taylor was told by the Premier that George Anson Aylesworth is employed by the Government as immigration inspector at a salary of $100 a month and expenses.

Mr. Oliver introduced a bill to amend the Immigration Act, and Mr. Fisher introduced a bill to amend the act respecting infectious or contagious diseases affecting animals, by restoring the provisions of the old act. In revising the statutes there was a transposition in regard to the limit of valuation in respect to compensation for diseased cattle destroyed.

Mr. Lemieux introduced an amendment to the Railway Act. It makes the act passed last year to compensate for damages conform to the General Railway Act. Another amendment places the water powers on the canals under Government control in regard to rates.

Mr. Verville had a bill respecting hours of labor on public works. It limits the hours to eight a day.

"Would it not be the proper thing for us to consider the situation—if it would not be wisdom to join hands with the provinces and the municipalities in the creation of a fund so that when the Railway Board makes an order for the separation of grades, it may become binding?"

Hon. G. P. Graham made this statement in the House yesterday afternoon in discussing the question of protecting life at level crossings, brought to the attention of the Government by Dr. Edwards, member for Frontenac.

The Senate will adjourn on Friday till Feb. 16.

The members of the Upper House have decided to depart to-day from the long-established custom of electing chairmen of committees practically for life.

Drama as Lesson to Britain.

London, Jan. 29.—A scene of rare enthusiasm was produced at Wyndham's Theatre Wednesday night by the new play, "An Englishman's Home."

The play is by an anonymous author, who is known to be an officer of the British army. It is a sterling melo-drama, and evidently was designed to force Englishmen to realize their country's unpreparedness for invasion and the necessity for recourse to conscription. In thinly veiled fashion it depicts a German invasion of England and shows the English volunteers in a ludicrous light.

Officials Exonerated.

Cobourg, Jan. 29.—Superintendent McMillan and those in charge of the House of Refuge, by the finding of the counties council special committee appointed to investigate the charges of alleged ill-treatment of John Maynard of Bowmanville, are completely exonerated.

The evidence of the superintendent, the physician, two of the inmates who had charge of Maynard, and the counties' clerk was taken.

The committee reported "We are fully satisfied that the charges are absolutely false and without any foundation whatever."

Organized Gang of Thieves.

Hamilton, Jan. 29.—It is claimed that an organized gang of thieves is working on the Lehigh Valley trains running over the G.T.R. from Buffalo to Toronto. Their scheme is to board the trains either at Buffalo or Hamilton, and after sizing up the grips of the passengers, to walk off when the train is nearing a station with the pieces of luggage that have the appearance of containing valuables.

John MacKinnon, of Lucan, failed to pay a fine for violation at Granton of the liquor law and is serving fourteen days.

PETERBORO' PASTOR AT MILLBROOK

The missionary problem, in all its aspects, was brought before the Millbrook Methodist congregation Sunday last by the Rev. E. A. Pearson, of George street church, Peterborough. Mr. Pearson dealt with Foreign Missions in the morning, showing that a church to be evangelistic must be imbued with the missionary spirit to a marked degree. He convincingly showed the great progress in the fulfillment of the Saviour's last and greatest commission, the evangelizing of the world, converts from heathenism being increasingly brought from darkness to light. In the evening he spoke on the reflex movement of missions, showing distinctly and convincingly that commercially, morally, intellectually and spiritually Missions developed the people of the continent. That the small amount contributed towards this commendable project amply repays itself. The unquestionable claims of missions were presented logically and impressively.—Millbrook Mirror.

ST. ANDREW'S CONGREGATION IN FLOURISHING CONDITION

Annual Meeting Held Last Night—Reports, From Different Organizations in Connection With the Church.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's church held last night showed the congregation to be in a most prosperous condition. There was a large attendance and the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, presided.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. John McClelland.

The Session's report was presented by Mr. John Mathieson. The report referred to the fact that during the year so many young people had united in fellowship with the church and stated that it was ground for thankfulness and encouragement.

The session exhorted the congregation to continued fidelity to the work entrusted to them and urged a greater interest in the weekly prayer meeting.

Expressions of sorrow with the bereaved were made and an appeal in a greater zest in our days of life for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ

There were added to the church during the year 60 members and there were 20 baptisms.

The treasurer's statement showed collection $23.52, expenditure $15.50, leaving balance of $8.02.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

This report was presented by Mr. Cornish, and showed a splendid year. The receipts for the year were $314.37, with expenditures $216.25, with a balance of $98.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society was reported by Mrs. Potter.

Interesting work had been accomplished by the Missionary Society. Regular meeting were held and interesting papers and addresses given.

$159.111 was raised of which $152 was forwarded to W.F.M.S. treasurer.

The Young Ladies' Mission Band report was presented by Miss L. Shearer, and referred to the interesting character of their meetings.

The Willing Workers' Mission Band was reported by the secretary, Miss Blanche Hart.

They have been very busy in their meetings in studying different missionary topics, and also in their sewing circle and had contributed $16 to the missionary work.

Mr. F. D. Kerr presented the Sabbath shool report which had enjoyed a prosperous year in attndeance and finances.

The enrolled membership is 300. In all departments the work was most encouraging and there is an excellent prospect for a greater year's ork.

The school's finances showed receipts $202, with expenditure of $155, leaving balance of $17. To missions $75.91 had been given.

The Adult Bible classes showed signs of continuous and rapid growth.

Mr. Cornish's class of young men reported a membership of thirty-five with receipts of $30 and balance of $11.35.

Mr. F. E. Kerr's class of young ladies had increased with similar steady growth

The Young People's Society reported regular and helpful meetings. While existing primarily for Bible study and social improvement they had contributed some $20.

It referred in very eulogistic terms to the good work done by Mr P. C. Freeland, and to the help of Mrs Davidson, Mrs McGregor, Miss F Canning, Mrs C S McClelland and Mr. Gordon Wright.

DAUGHTERS OF ERIN

They had given $50 for the support of a pupil at Pointe Aux Trembles, and had given $35 for furnishing a room in a new building of the same institution.

Total receipts $100.

The report referred to the very severe loss sustained by the death of Mrs Alex Weddell, a highly valued member, and also spoke of the very high appreciation in which the society held Mrs Weddell who for some years now had watched over the interests of the young ladies.

The board of managers reported the total receipts for the year were $3,173.85.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER CITY'S INTERESTS

A meeting of the Board of Works was held last night, when several important matters were dealt with. Ald. Phelan presided.

A letter was read from the Ontario Asphalt Block Co. regarding paving blocks.—Received.

A letter was read from Martin Neary, applying for reappointment as foreman of sewers.

A letter was read from James A. Brown, complaining of an overcharge for sewer connection.

Mr. G. B. Brown was heard regarding his claim. It was moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Buller, that no action be taken in the matter.

A letter was read from Hon. G. A. Cox regarding the poles of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co. on George street. —Received.

A report was read from r. A. E. Hay, City Engineer, giving a comparative estimate of the cost of stone purchased and stone taken from the river and crushed and delivered on the streets.

It was moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the city purchase 200 cords of stone to be delivered in the yard at $3 per cord and that this Board be authorized to purchase a further quantity of it if needed.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Board enquire into the question of the reduction of the expenses of the Board of Works Department.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Gillespie seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the chairman be asked to enquire into the matter of procuring the stone from the river bed and the quantity that can be obtained and report to the Board.—Carried.

It was moved by Ald. Buller, and seconded by Ald. Gillespie, that the chairman, the Mayor, Ald. Bradburn, Duncan and McIntyre be a committee to look after the interests of the the city in regard to the application of the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. for an extension of time in which to commence and build an electric railway to Clear and Stony Lakes, with authority to attend at the Legislature in Toronto, when the matter comes up there, if they deem it advisable, in which case their expense be paid, and that the resolution of Jan. 20th on this matter be rescinded.—Carried.

PETERBORO' CAMERA CLUB

The Peterborough Camera Club has now completed its fourth month of existence and has now a membership of 31 active members and twenty honorary members and financially is on a sound footing. Its meetings have been fairly well attended. It was organized on Sept. 18th with 8 active members which has now increased to thirty-one active members.

The officers elected at the first meeting in October were:

Hon. Pres.—His Worship Mayor Rush.
Vice-Pres—The Professional Photographers.
Pres.—J. A. Morgan M.D.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. R. S. Rose.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. McCarthy.
Sec.-Treas.—N. A. Howard Moore.

Since that date an executive committee of six has been elected: Messrs. A. W. Patterson, Alfred Rogers and J. A. Brightman for two years, and Messrs. James English, Allen McCarthy and R. Ticard for one year.

At each meeting a programme of exceptional excellence has been presented which has been both entertaining and instructive consisting of papers on the "Dark Room," "Art of Negative Making," "At Home Portraiture," "Photography, an aid Surveyors and Surveying." All of these were accompanied with charts and illustrations on the subject. Demonstrations were also given on "Sepia Work" by Mr. Louis Mendel, "Analytical Composition of Sodium Salts" by Mr. Frank Russell, and "Printing and development and obtaining of Sepia effects on Velox papers" by Mr. S. F. Badgley, of the Canadian Kodak Co. of Toronto. All these were listened too by the members and their friends with a great deal of interest. A number of other features have also been promised for the balance of the winter including "Lantern Slide making," "Bank Development" and "Pyro Development." An exhibition sometime during April in under consideration.

The last meeting held on Tuesday evening was an unusually interesting one to the large audience which greeted the demonstrator, Mr. S. F. Badgley of Toronto. He gave a very instructive talk on "Printing and Development of Velox Papers" and "Obtaining of Sepia effects on Velox papers." The work done by Mr. Badgley was of the first order and was watched attentively by everyone present.

The questions which were asked by many showed an unusual interest and all felt that the two hours was all too short. Several hints which Mr. Badgley gave is worthy of reproduction. "Snap Shot" should be used only by new beginners. "Time exposures should only be practiced by those of experience." "The stronger the developer the softer the prints."

Those who were not present missed one of the most instructive of the series. The subject for the next meeting will be either "Pyro developing" or "Lantern Slide Making" with a demonstration.

Second Annual

JOLLY TIME AT WARDENS BANQUET

THE TOAST LIST.

After full justice had been done to the excellent repast, the chairman, Mr Thompson MPP rose and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present. He was sure that a large share of the intelligence of the city and county was represented at the banquet. He asked all to rise and drink the toast to the 'King' which was honored by the hearty singing of the National Anthem.

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS

The honor of proposing this toast fell to Mr R R Hall ex-MP, who after expressing his pleasure at being present said that there were great responsibilities concerning the government of the country which he thought devolved upon various municipal bodies. At the present time everyone was interested in level railway crossings.

The speaker believed that the county council could lend its quota of influence and money to the Government in helping to do away with that which is a menace to the lives of the people. Accidents have been brought about by these unprotected crossings and in the twenty-three thousand miles of railway lines in Canada there must be many of them. If railway companies were compelled to have protected crossings everywhere railway enterprise would receive a check and people could not expect to get cheap passenger and cheap freight transportation. There should be proper protection and the speaker believed that municipal bodies should give their assistance in providing it.

Mr Hall referred briefly to the Trent Canal stating that it behoved the County Council to urge its early completion.

He concluded by hoping that in the new Parliaments of both Canada and of Ontario, much would be done for the welfare of the people.

MR T E BRADBURN, MPP

Mr T E Bradburn, MPP, in rising to respond to the toast, was heartily applauded. He heartily concurred in what Mr Hall had said regarding level crossings and he assured the County Council that he would be pleased at any time to bring before the Legislature, any action that they desired to take in the matter.

MR THOMPSON, MPP.

In replying to the toast to the Parliaments, Mr Thompson, member for East Peterborough, remarked that he had no practical knowledge gained from practical experience, as to the work in the Legislature. However, he believed that the ideal of a member of Parliament should not be to get everything for his own personal welfare, or that of his friends. His first duty was to the Province, the economical conducting of its affairs and its advancement. Ontario was the richest Province in the Dominion. The Government estimates showed what wealth it possessed. One is lost in amazement in looking over its vast mineral riches. The Government must lend facilities for the development of these.

Speaking of the Ontario Legislature's Power question, the speaker remarked that it had been fought by strong financial concerns but the carrying out of it was one of the best projects for the welfare of the Province.

THE ELECTRIC CITY AND ITS INSTITUTIONS

The toast to the Municipal, Educational and banking Institutions and the Board of Trade was proposed by the County Solicitor, Mr E A Peck. In doing so, Mr Peck remarked that it was a little over 100 years ago that a number of the early pioneers met at Niagara Falls in the Legislature of Upper Canada and passed the Municipal Act. Every session since that new sections have been added till now they have reached seven hundred and twenty-three. He hoped the local members would see fit to further extend it. In some extent, the prosperity of Peterborough was due to the Municipal Act.

The schools of the city and county were something better than the ordinary. Every child was enabled to receive a first class education.

The speaker was not prepared to define the duties of the Board of Trade. It was a valuable institution. Mr Peck in speaking of the banking institutions referred particularly to the local Bank of Commerce, in which was kept the county funds. He coupled with the toast, the names of Mayor Rush, Mr L M Hayes, KC, chairman the Board of Education, Dr Morrison, President of the Board of Trade and Mr D Hughes-Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce.

MAYOR RUSH.

His Worship the Mayor spoke as follows,—

I am pleased to be present this evening to join with the members of the County Council in this very pleasant social gathering and to enjoy the hospitality so generously provided. The county and city are separate municipalities, yet they have many interests in common. It is in the interests of the city that we should have factories and other places of business, and these benefit the people of the county, for they provide a market for the produce of the farm and places where the residents of the county can transact their business to advantage. It is a wise policy for our Government to try to open the way for the produce of this country to foreign markets, but the market at home which the producer can reach himself with his produce, is of much greater value than any distant market so that when this city succeeds in securing the establishment of a factory which gives employment to a number of people the residents of the county share the benefit, for it gives them an increased demand for their produce in the home market. In this, as in many other ways, the interests of the city and the county are benefitted by the same measures, while there are other matters, such as the maintenance of the courts and other county offices, in which we are direct partners. There are many reasons why the two councils should work together harmoniously, and I am pleased to know that there has been co-operation many times between the two bodies. It is because we recognize this community of interest that we are pleased to give accommodation to agricultural and dairy interests in our city buildings for meetings and transaction of business as we have done for years, for the Agricultural Society, Farmers' Institute, Cheese Board, and other Associations of this kind. By recognizing that while we live in separate municipalities, we are still one community, with business and other interests in common, and that what benefits or injuries one section will benefit or injure the other, we can aid each other and help ourselves by working together with good feeling towards each other. That is the spirit, I believe, that has prevailed in the past, and I hope and have no doubt, that it will continue to be the principle upon which we shall act.

MR. D. HUGHES CHARLES.

Mr. Charles began by remarking that times must have greatly improved. He had attended many warden's suppers, but he believed that the one last night far surpassed anything that had ever before been held. He was pleased to be present among such an intelligent gathering of men. Speaking of banking institutions, Mr. Charles said that they came first. Then came the insurance and then the loan companies. Looking at financial year book of 1907, he was surprised to see the vast amount of money used by only six millions of people. "The country to the south of us say that we are slow," remarked the speaker, "but if we are slow, we are sure. We are not legalizing a piece of money that is only fifty cents for one dollar."

The policies of the Canadian insurance companies amounted to $423,000,000. The policies of life and fire insurance companies amounted to $450,000,000. The loan companies have capital and reserve funds of $75,000,000 and the banks have a reserve fund of $165,000,000.

The banks were most important institutions. The legitimate purpose of a bank was to assist business. Latterly the banks instead of assisting manufacturers have become such themselves. The directors were merely the trustees of the shareholders and the depositors and must use proper judgment.

There was a right and wrong way of banking. Managers must not go after people to get business. It puts the banks under an obligation which is dangerous. Canadian banks pay depositors promptly.

MR. L. M. HAYES, K.C.

Mr. L. M. Hayes, chairman of the Board of Education, was the next speaker. He congratulated Mr. Scott upon his election to the wardenship and he hoped that he would long be spared to direct the deliberations of the Council. He said that they all, no doubt knew that the Board of Education had erected a new Collegiate Institute. The building of it had involved a great deal of labor and responsibility, but he believed that they now were reaping their reward. To Mr. Belcher, who drew the plans, a great deal of credit was due for this beautiful edifice. To Dr. Morrison, chairman of the Building Committee, the Board owed much for his untiring labors. New Public schools had also been built and now the city's educational facilities were second to none in Ontario.

Mr. Hayes believed that a deputation from the county was about to wait on the Board in reference to sending county children to the Collegiate and he assured them that the Board would be pleased to discuss the matter with them.

DR. MORRISON.

As the representative of the Board of Trade, Dr. Morrison said that he was pleased to be present and took occasion to congratulate Warden Scott on his election. Mr. Peck, the speaker remarked, had said, that he did not understand the duties of the Board of Trade.

They strove to assist business men, artisans and mechanics and to further the interests of the city and county and also of the Dominion and Province. The Board of Trade had done much for Peterborough in the way of getting manufactories and cheap transportation. Dr. Morrison thought that the Board of Trade was a very important organization. Some very important meetings had been held. The interests of the county and city were combined. He thought that the advantages of one meant the advantages of the other. As the city grew in population and as everything advanced in price, the farms also increased in value. Farmers could get as much for their produce here as in Montreal and Toronto.

The speaker believed that the time was not far distant when there would be a network of electric railways running through the county. This would further advance the value of the farms and farmers would be able to get their produce to the city much quicker.

COUNTY COUNCIL OFFICIALS

Mr J H Burnham in rising to propose the toast of "The County Council and County Officials," expressed his appreciation of the great success of the banquet. It was an example to other bodies both in point of attendance and completeness of detail. He made a reference to the origin of the County Council in 1862, when it parted company with Victoria and became a separate municipality under its first Warden, Mr Peter Pearce. It is customary for toasters to praise city men as progressive and shrewd, but he was quite sure that no city council (not including that of the city of Peterborough of course), in Canada compared even favorably with the county council of Peterborough. County councils were the true cause and origin of national municipal development. The farm is the basis of life. Everything came from the ground which the farmer tilled as everything must ultimately return to that same ground. He is the foundation of all industrial life. It was a great pleasure for him to be present and enjoy the hospitality and old associations of the men of the county.

WARDEN SCOTT

Warden Scott was heartily greeted. He was pleased to be present. He believed that the present system of electing the County Council was the better way. The county council of to-day were striving for the best in education and in the building of roads and bridges. They were always glad to adopt the latest ideas in every line. Unfortunately they had still the statute labor law in Smith, but he hoped that the time was not far distant when this would be done away with. The pathmasters had different styles of road making and as there were 110 pathmasters in Smith, there were just so many different styles. This could not be satisfactory. An endeavor was being made to make suitable arrangements with the city Board of Education that pupils from the country may attend the Collegiate Institute.

MR J E BELCHER.

Mr J E Belcher in returning thanks for the privilege of being present said that it was the 35th or 36th Warden's dinner that he had attended. He was among the oldest officers of the county. He was pleased to see a contemporary of his, present in the person of Ex-Warden J B Pearce, of Norwood. He was an official of the county when Mr Pearce's father was Warden, and he was glad to say that the worthy actions of the father had devolved upon the son.

Mr Belcher was in a reminiscent mood, referring back to the time when he first began working for the county. Seventeen thousand lineal feet of bridges had been built in Peterborough county since then; He was glad to say that he had always enjoyed the confidence of the county council.

MR ED M ELLIOTT.

County Treasurer Elliott on rising to speak, said that if there was any time in his life that he was delighted it was when he was with a number of county councillors. His education in county affairs began when he was fifteen years of age. He was attending the town High School and used to eat his dinner each day with the late Edgcumbe Pears then county clerk. Discussing county questions with him, he became very much interested in municipal affairs.

Speaking of the city market by-law, Mr Elliott took exception to one clause which he thought was a little drastic. He thought that before the Police Magistrate or the Chief of Police began reprimanding farmers' wives for selling light weight butter, they had better take a course in an Agricultural College. Light butter was full of butter fat and therefore no butter could be properly tested by weighing. In conclusion Mr Elliott thanked the proposer of the toast for his flattering and encouraging remarks.

THE EX-WARDENS.

Sheriff Hall had the honor of proposing the toast to the ex-Wardens of the county. He referred to his pleasant associations with the Wardens of the county council during the many years that he had held the position of Sheriff.

Mr. J. B. Pearce of Norwood and an ex-Warden of the county, in responding said that his memory carried him back to the union of Peterborough and Victoria counties in 1850, when his father was the first Warden. It was always his father's desire to be of service to the county.

Other responders to this toast were Messrs. Casement of Lakefield, McNulty of Douro, and R. Shaw, reeve of Harvey, for 21 years a member of the County Council, who said that this would be his last year in municipal life. He would retire and give others a chance.

OTHER TOASTS.

Mr. R. Lees proposed the toast to "The Press" which was responded to by the representatives present.

Mr. Ed. Elliott proposed the toast to the "Ladies" which brought forth some happy remarks from Messrs. Russell and T. Hunter.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem and 'Auld Lang Syne.

News of Hall's Saturday Bargains

BLAKE HERE FOR HIS WALK WITH HARRISON ON SATURDAY

Looking in the very best of condition J. E. Blake, the colored champion walker of America, arrived in city last night for his match with Jim Harrison at the Auditorium Roller rink on Saturday afternoon and evening when he will atack up against the Canadian champion in a six hour walk.

Blake has been doing a lot of walking this year and is in the best of condition. He and Harrison should make a most interesting and exciting race and there is apparently little to choose between them. Both are capable of negotiating in very fast time.

A lot of interest is being taken in the tug-of-war for the Sykes trophy between Auburn and the Quakers. This event precedes the walk in the evening and will be held at 7.45.

LOCAL BALL PLAYER HAS RECEIVED OFFER FROM ERIE

Corney Burns, manager and captain of the Peterborough baseball team of 1908—the Midland League winners—has received an offer to play professional ball during the coming season with the Erie club of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. A contract has been forwarded Corney but the has not attached his signature yet. The contract provides a salary of $100 per month and Corney is considering it.

The O and P League is in class "C" and other teams in it are Youngstown and Wilmington with which Harry Burridge and Walter Jayes were connected last summer.

Burns is a heavy hitter and is fast on the bases and should be able to make good across the line.

Stolen Scrips In West.

Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—There is trouble here over stolen scrip. Many original holders of S. A. scrip, in selling, simply make out a power of attorney in the blank and attach it to the scrip. Many of these papers have been lost or stolen, and as they are worth more than the face value, persons thus securing them may re-sell them until finally someone attempts to get the title. Then the fraud is discovered and the scrip identified. Three of these dangerous flotsam are already in the city, all originally from Toronto, and at least one of them has been sold twice in the city before being discovered to have been stolen.

Castro Gives It Up.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—Cipriano Castro, the former President of Venezuela, interviewed yesterday regarding reports that it was his ambition to become the "new liberator" of Venezuela, said:

"I cannot accept the role of liberator of the Venezuelan people assigned to me because my experience of nine years as President has taught me that true freedom is a chimera.

"I am convinced more than ever to-day of the wisdom of the words of the great liberator, Simon Bolivar, when he was about to die: 'I have sown in the sea.'"

Invalid's Act Saves Five.

London, Jan. 29.—William Thompson, an invalid who has not left his bed for many months, saved the lives of five persons.

He awoke about five o'clock and saw the roof of a neighbor's house on fire. Getting into an overcoat he hobbled to the fire and climbing to the roof beat the flames out.

After arousing the neighbors and sleeping inmates of the house he collapsed and is at present very ill as a result of the reaction.

Attempted Poultry Fraud.

Kingston, Jan. 29.—Quite a sensation has been caused locally among the poultry fanciers by the discovery of an attempted fraud by two of the exhibitors at the local show. Prof. Robertson of Ottawa found that Messrs. Dougherty and Guay had painted their birds' legs and used caustic on their combs. The birds were disqualified.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

Against the Franchise

To the Editor of the Review.

"Sir,—The Review has to be congratulated on having thrown its columns open for a discussion by its readers of the "Women's Suffrage" question.

It is always interesting to hear what are the opinions of the public on such questions, and there is no better way of arriving at those opinions than by reading the views expressed by correspondents.

The question of "Women's Suffrage" is by no means a recent one. It has been discussed for many years; but in the last few years it has been brought very prominently before the public in Britain. The campaign waged by a small and it may be an ill-advised portion of women suffragists in England has certainly attracted the attention of many but whether this campaign has helped the cause any is doubtful. Men got votes by first of all convincing those who had votes that those who had not votes wanted them. To my mind it is clear that attacks on the houses of cabinet ministers, scenes at political meetings, rowdyism at the House of Comons are not the proper means to adopt to convince Parliament that women want votes. Such methods only alienate the sympathy of friends cause opponents to scoff and tend to defeat the object which the agitators have in view.

In Canada we do not hear much of the demands of women for votes. In municipal elections and in elections for school trustees unmarried women (of certain and uncertain age) and widows may vote and from the fact that a very small percentage exercise their franchise we may take it that Canadian women are as a rule indifferent on the subject. Probably they feel that they are the "man behind the gun" and that their influence can be wielded for good in their own way, but with better effect in their own houses.

Women are a mighty power for good in our public life to-day and their power in this direction is daily becoming stronger. Is it not possible that if they had the franchise in parliamentary elections this power and influence might be endangered?

It seems to me that there is not in Canada at the present time any public opinion to show that women want votes.

CATTLE MARKETS.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—London cables for cattle are steady at 13c to 13⅝c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10⅝c to 11⅛c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, as reported by the railways for Wednesday and Thursday were 122 carloads, consisting of 1816 cattle, 2419 hogs, 580 sheep and lambs, 90 calves and 1 horse.

Exporters.

There was a good demand for export steers of the right kind, but the trouble was that few finished cattle were offered. The best load offered for the last two days sold at $5.65. These cattle were fed by Farmer A. McLean of Port Elgin, weighed 1300 lbs. each, and were sold by Maybee & Wilson. Prices for export steers ranged all the way from $5.20 to $5.65; export bulls, $4 to $4.75, with one or two extra quality at $5 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked heifers and steers, 1050 to 1200 lbs. each, equal in quality to the best exporters, sold at $4.85 to $5.15, but there were few of this class on the market, probably not more than 20 or 30 all told, out of 1800 cattle on sale. Loads of good $4.50 to $4.75; medium, $4 to $4.40; common $3.65 to $3.90. The bulk of the cattle went in the medium class; stockers and common cows, $1.50 to $2.65.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report a fair sprinkling of feeders and stockers all week, about equal to the demand. The Messrs. Murby bought about 90 during the week at the following quotations: Best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $3.80 to $4.25; best stockers, 700 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.40 to $3.80, medium stockers, 600 to 800 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.50. There is some enquiry for short-keeps, but the demand for exporters has put this class out of reach of the ordinary buyers.

Milkers and Springers.

There has been a good demand for the best milkers and springers, caused largely by two Montreal and Quebec dealers, Messrs. Napoleon Dertel and Arthur Tardiff, being on the market. Prices ranged from $30 to $65, but only one brought the latter figure, the bulk selling between $45 and $55.

Veal Calves.

About 100 veal calves sold from $3 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The receipts were light. Sheep sold at about steady prices, while lambs were a trifle firmer. Ewes sold $3.75 to $4.25, rams, $3.25 to $3.50, lambs, $5.75 to $6.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Receipts were not large, with market strong all week. Hogs are higher in Toronto than at Chicago. Mr. Harris quotes the market steady at $6.65 for selects, fed and watered, and $6.40 at country points, f.o.b., cars. Some of the dealers report having to pay $6.50 to drovers, f.o.b., cars, at country points. H. P. Kennedy, commission salesman, stated that he had to pay $6.50 to drovers, and in one or two instances $6.60, f.o.b., cars, and $6.75 for selects, fed and watered, at the market, and then could not get what he wanted.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 28.—Cattle—Firm; prime steers, $6 to $6.50.

Veals—Receipts, 150 head; active and steady.

Hogs—Receipts, 3400 head; slow and 5c to 10c lower; heavy, $6.60 to $6.70; mixed, $6.50 to $6.65; yorkers, $5 to $6.50; pigs, $5.60 to $5.70; roughs, $5.30 to $5.65; dairies, $6 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 13,000 head; slow; sheep, steady; lambs and yearlings, 25c lower; lambs, $5 to $7.50; yearlings, $6.25 to $6.50.

New York Live Stock.

Calves—Receipts, 157 head; feeling, steady; veals, $7 to $10 per cwt. No barnyard calves or westerners.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4645. Market slow but steady. Sheep, $3 to $4.80; lambs, $6 to $7.60; culls, $4.25 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 1512; feeling weak to 10c lower; prime heavy state hogs sold at $6.70 per cwt.

Their Narrow Escape.

London, Ont., Jan. 29.—It is related that T. H. Smallman's thoughtfulness for the convenience of his daughter-in-law saved her life and his son's in the Republic wreck. They originally had booked passage in the stateroom in which Mr. and Mrs. Lynch were afterwards killed. On Mr. Smallman's advice, that another room would would be more convenient, the change was made.

STONY LAKE COTTAGERS DISCUSS RADIAL RAILWAY COMPANY'S APPLICATION

A large meeting of the Cottagers and Property Committee was held in the Council Chamber last night, to discuss the application of the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. to the Legislature for a further extension of time to commence their line to Clear and Stony Lakes.

Mr. Robert Neill acted as chairman and invited discussion of the subject.

Mr. Felix Brownscombe gave a history of the agreement with the City and Radial Railway, and what was promised by the City and Legislature, when application was made to the latter as follows;

At the time the Street Railway proposition came before the ratepayers we had two means of ascertaining the extent of the work which we believed they intended to carry out. The first was from the charter which they received from the Government and the second from the agreement entered into between ate Street Railway and the city. In applying to the Government for a charter they stated that it was their intention to build and operate an electric street railway in the city of Peterborough, and also in the townships of North Monaghan, Smith and Douro, and in the villages of Ashburnham, and Lakefield, and to connect the villages of Lakefield, Youngs Point and Chemong Lake, with the city of Peterborough.

Mr Brownscombe said that as the citizens had carried out their part of the agreement it was up to the street railway company to do its share.

Mr T O Elliott, Rev J B Webb, D W Dumble, T J Wilson, Geo Cochrance and B Shortly expressed their views on the subject.

R Neill, W H Meldrum, Wm Irvin, J D Collins, and D W Dumble were appointed a committee to appear before the Council and the Legislature and submit the following resolution:—

Moved by T J Wilson, seconded by Felix Brownscombe;

"That this meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, believe that the Peterborough Radial Railway Company should not receive from the Ontario Legislature a further extension of time in which to begin the work on the extension of their Electric Railway to Clear and Stony Lakes unless it is upon the condition that they must bona-fide commence the work this year and prosecute it continuously during the season that such work can be carried on and in such a way that the line will be ready for service before July 1st, 1910.

"Also that the city council be asked to take such steps as will give effect to this resolution and secure for our citizens and the thousands of visitors to our city the benefits of an electric railway to our beautiful lakes and which we were lead to believe would be given at the time the present Street Railway Company were granted a franchise to our streets.

Mr J S Knapman spoke on the advantage the Radial Railway Companies are to a city and the merchants. The city of Hamilton has four lines reaching out to a distance of from seven to thirty miles. On these lines the winter time tables show that forty-eight cars arrive every day, calling at all the villages and cross roads and bringing the people in all that large section of country to the city of Hamilton at cheap rates and giving a system that people can get a car any hour of the day up to eleven o'clock at night to return home.

CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN

Prosecution Pays Costs in Case Against Dr. Gray

The charge of practising medicine without being licensed, laid against Dr Gray, by Chas Rose, the Medical council detective, was withdrawn yesterday afternoon in the Police Court by R E Wood, Esq, the Crown Attorney. Mr G N Gordon, who defended Dr Gray consented to the withdrawal of the charge upon the prosecution paying the cost.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

Most Remarkable Gathering Ever Held in Canada in Toronto in March

In many respects the National Congress of the Laymen's Missionary Movement next spring will be the most remarkable gathering ever held in Canada.

The churches of the entire Dominion, without regard to denominational lines, have never before come together with such hearty unanimity in behalf of any cause, and strong denominational conferences will be held every forenoon during the Congress, but in the great sessions in Massey Hall lines of division will be entirely obscured.

In no nation have the churches ever been called upon to formulate a national policy in regard to their missionary undertakings, and possibly the most remarkable feature is the fact that so large an undertaking is entirely in the leadership of laymen rather than the clergy.

The clergy, however, will be present in large numbers, and the first session Wednesday afternoon, March 31st, will be of special interest to them. The Congress programme is planned with this in view, so that many of the pastors who attend will be able to get away Saturday, April 3rd, and yet not miss any of the features planned especially for them. The closing day, Sunday, April 4th, will be marked by the strongest possible addresses to different groups of laymen and college students.

In connection with the Congress there will be special conferences for ministers, students and Sunday school workers. The women's societies of several communions are planning great meetings at the same time, and the denominational congerences promise to be of great profit.

In addition to the British and Canadian speakers, invitations to address the Congress have already been accepted by Mr. Robert E. Speer, of New York; Bishop J. M. Thoburn, from India; Dr. J. M. Zwemer, formerly of Arabia; Hon. S. B. Capen, of Boston; Mr. J. Campbell White, of New York; Mr. Silas McBee, of New York.

It is expected that there will be 2,000 regular commissioners in addition to the group of honorary commissioners composed of clergymen, theological students and visiting Americans. Special rates will be given by the railroad companies and the action of Canada in her effort to meet the nation's share of responsibility in the world problem of missions will be watched by all Christian nations.

The theme of the Conference will be "Canada's National Missionary Policy," with such subdivisions as follows:

"The Relation of the Ministry to a Missionary Church."

"The Victorious Progress of Missions."

"The Stewardship of Life."

"How to Lead the Church to Its Highest Missionary Efficiency."

The Congress has been described as unique, broad, far-reaching and epoch-making.

TO LIGHT THE TOWN CLOCK

At the meeting of the Property committee yesterday Ald. McIntyre introduced the matter of lighting the town clock. It could be done very cheaply, he said. The wiring would not be more than $50 and one 30-candle power lamp on each dial would be sufficient. The chairman was authorised to look into the matter before next meeting.

The committee will endeavor to secure an extra $100 to fix up the council chamber, light the town clock and paint the ambulance.

William Seay Gets Twenty-five Years for Shooting Wife

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—William Seay, the mulatto coachman, who was found guilty last week on the charge of shooting his white wife, was sentenced this morning by the Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge, to twenty-five years in the Kingston Penitentiary. Seay's counsel and Seay himself asked for leniency, but Sir Glenholme said the crime of which the man had been found guilty was one that should be adequately punished and he considered whether the sentence should not be for life.

JUDGMENT WAS RESERVED IN TRUNK CASE

The charge against Alex. Elliott & Co., of selling liquor which was to be resold was resumed this morning.

OF INTEREST

Point Loma, San Diego, Cal., Dec. 1.—If slightly acquainted with the ways of a trapdoor spider you are reminded of that little insect every time you watch the men at work building caissons for a foundation for a new steel-ribbed skyscraper. You think how much better the spider engineer would do that work with his home made tools than the men with shovels and hoists and buckets and all the rest.

The trapdoor spider, curiously you say at first thought, selects the hardest and firmest abode, almost as hard as sandstone itself, into which to sink his caisson home, for his castle is built in the ground six or eight inches below the surface.

With infinite patience, grain by grain, he removes the sun-baked adobe making an opening in the surface about the size of a silver dollar, and burrowing almost straight downward until at six, seven or eight inches down he ceases his work. The main excavating work is done. The hole is beautifully rounded and ends in a smooth cul-de-sac at the bottom.

The opening made in the earth the next thing is to insure it against dampness, for when the rain comes even the dry adobe tries to drink in the water that all the surrounding land thirsts for.

What kind of cement and how it is mixed, the writer does not essay to to explain, but from top to bottom of that caisson is laid on a coating of cement quite as impervious to moisture as any cement ever laid by the hand of man. This is plastered on with the greatest care and more smoothly than if laid on with a brush.

And when the job is done his home is waterproof beyond question. When the cement dries expansion and contraction are proved to have been well considered, for not a crack shows anywhere in the walls. There is no settling, no swelling, no receding of the structure.

The plastering done, the house walls are not to be tapestried, to be made snug and warm. So from top to bottom a coating of downy substance is laid on, something similar to the material that makes up the hornet's nest, but of a much finer, smoother texture. This is laid on with the greatest care and precision, and when done it is a job well done, so much so that one might well envy the spider family in its fresh, snug home.

The main structure completed and furnished, now comes not the least important part, the building of the trapdoor. Here is displayed the ingenuity, skill and foresight of the trapdoor spider.

Water, air and dust must be kept out, and as the door is even with the ground surface and to all intents and purposes an undisturbed part of it the faculties of the spider are taxed to the utmost.

The fit of the door must be so perfect as to exclude the air quite as perfectly as a preserved can of fruit a housewife has put up. The shoulder of the caisson is so perfectly rounded that when the trap door fits in and rests upon the curved shoulder the naked eye fails to detect the joint except upon the closest inspection. The sharpest pointed knifeblade finds no lodgment in the crevice.

No bill of a road runner or a sickle bill thrush can make any headway in prying open that vault cover, even if the spider home is detected, which is not often the case. The trapdoor must be strong enough to resist the tapping of an inquisitive road runner who at times tests the engineering of the spider to the utmost.

Again the trapdoor is even with and a part of the earth must bear the weight of anything, animal or human, passing over. The heel of a heavy man makes no impression upon this entrance to the spider's domain. The inside of the door is rounded like the end of an egg, the strongest construction known.

The query now comes up as to how the spider gets in and out. The door is hinged, and it is a bit of nature's hardware work hard to equal, for it is a spring hinged door working as smoothly and as rapidly as a shutter on a camera. The spring tension, while amply strong to secure the door in place, quickly and easily responds to any outward pressure from inside.

The care with which the door is made to counterfeit the surrounding surface is wonderful. The door is undoubtedly made up as to the outside surface and not hewn from a solid disc fo adobe. Bit by bit it must have been put together, held by the underlying cement, and when all done the finishing touches upon the surface so adroitely arranged as to rival the art of any copyist who ever forged a Rembrandt or a Van Dyck.

If the adobe adjacent shows small deposits of moss the cover of the caisson is in no particular different. It would seem that the feeling of safety prompted the spider to exert his utmost ingenuity when simulating the surface of his trapdoor to the earthly surroundings.

of interest 22

As a copyist of nature the trapdoor spider is a master hand, for even the texture of the surrounding sun baked earth is stimulated. And when the last finishing touch is put on the job is done and well done.

One thing more. The door has a hinge and it is a spring type of hinge. When the spider sallies forth to forage he opens the door of his house wide open and it remains open. The spring hinge in some manner is set with a hair trigger. And there is a reason.

The spider while preying upon flies and small insects knows only too well that he is ardently sought for by scorpion, centipede, road runner, sickle-bill thrush and other enemies. Vigilance of the most eternal kind is the price of his life.

He must therefore keep his avenue of retreat open and his bridges in good order for a quick escape if the enemy presses too closely. It's a run for his life where every fraction of a second counts. When a long legged fleet footed road runner espies him he must not tarry on the way. Through the thickest of the chaparral he takes his flight, the better to impede or delay pursuit, and when the goal is reached, like the flash of an electric spark he has descended into his caisson, the door instantly closing snugly upon him.

Now is the time that tries his soul. The road runner has seen his retreat, and at once sounds the ground, with his sharp bill to break in and seize his prey. But it is of no use. The firm tough adobe resists the repeated blows of the horny bill of the bird and he goes to other pastures, giving the spider a new lease of life.

Not content with all his provisions for safety the spider must, like the hero of old, thrust his arm through the door fastening in lieu of a bar and hold his castle entrance against intrusion. Nests discovered and price open with difficulty by a knife blade have disclosed the fact that the spider has thrust his arm or leg through slots in the door and wall and that that leg has actually been torn loose from the body in the forcible opening of the door.

It is impossible in a short sketch to do justice to this wonderful of nature's engineers. Could one spare the time it would well repay a day spent with camera watching the egress and ingress of the little insect and studying its habits of life. As a caisson builder, an engineer of the first class, let the trapdoor spider be commended.

WAR PLAY HAS A MORAL; WAKENS BRITAIN TO PERIL

New Melodrama is Produced in London

J. M. Barrie and Gerald Du Maurier Credited with Authorship

London, Jan. 30.—The interesting announcement is made that the sensational play, "An Englishman's Home," which was produced at Wyndham's Theatre Thursday night, and which depicts an invasion of England by a foreign army, was revised and prepared for the stage by Jas. M. Barrie and Gerald Du Maurier.

Some difficulty was found in obtaining the sanction of the censor of plays, owing to the fear of offending Germany, until assurance was given that Germany was not intended as the invading force, and that the invaders represented would not wear the German uniform.

Viscount Esher, one of the public men most interested in the territorial army scheme, has expressed the hope that provincial committees will be organized to produce the play in every great town of England as an object lesson to the country.

It is predicted that this play will be the sensation of England. It was touch and go at the end of the first act, and even more so after the second act began, whether the play would be hissed off the stage or be a triumphant success.

It is without question the latter. It deals with what might happen to England, as the majority of Englishmen fear the worst thing that might happen to them would be a German invasion. The play shows minutely this much-dreaded invasion to the self-satisfied, smug, unthinking Britisher.

The play is no insult to those who have studied the present condition of English defence against a foreign foe; of the lamentable lack of volunteers for the territorial army, and in short, of the unpreparedness for war of England.

Gerald Du Maurier supervised the stage productions, and current rumor has it that his brother, Capt. Guy Du Maurier of the English army was mainly responsible for the text.

"An Englishman's Home," is a melodrama quite as good as any that has been produced in London for many years. It is crammed full of action, and the dialogue blends tragedy and comedy in a way that is as rapid as the fire of a Maxim gun.

It tells the story of the landing of a foreign army at Essex, near London, and the capture of a home whose master is finally killed. The piece goes along full of incident and scenic effect until the arrival of British troops from London saves the day.

The keynote of the whole play is the inexperience and incompetency of the defenders. The windows are barricaded with a piano, with tables, with mattresses, with anything that comes handy. The untrained volunteers are aligned against them with every willingness in the world and shoot at random, because none know how to regulate their sights. They expose themselves in the most useless way imaginable, and are shot down by the invaders in consequence.

The invaders on the other hand are the acme of efficiency and military skill.

THE STORY OF THE COMEDY

The story of "The Private Secretary," the clever farcical comedy, which will be produced at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, by a local company of amateurs, will appear in Monday's issue of the Review.

TO MAKE CHANGES

Salvation Army Barracks to be Enlarged — Dwelling Rooms to be Taken Out.

Extensive alterations will be made at the Salvation Army barracks on Simcoe street during the next few days. So rapid has been the growth of the Army in Peterborough during the past few years that more room is needed at the barracks and to have this the alterations are to be made.

After Monday of next week the head officers of the corps, who at the present time are Staff Captain and Mrs. Walton, will no longer reside at the barracks. They have taken a house at 354 Stewart street, and will move into it on Monday. The dwelling part of the barracks will be added to the hall. The partitions will be removed and new seats will be put in. A new platform will be erected at the front and the space taken up by the platform at the present time will be converted into a band room. At the present the band has a room in the basement, but it is not nearly large enough. The entire basement will be used for the Sunday school when the changes have been made. It will be divided into class rooms. The Sunday school has grown very rapidly.

It is proposed to change the front entrance on Simcoe street. One large door will be put in and inside a door will lead into the basement.

Work on the alterations will be commenced within a few days.

LABOR CONGRESS IS IN PROGRESS

W. R. Trotter Fiercely Arraigns the Salvation Army

London, Jan. 30.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The labor congress at Portsmouth passed a socialistic resolution by 362,000 to 313,000. A resolution to prevent labor members appearing in support of any measure on the same platform as members of the capitalist party was rejected by 788,000 to 113,000. Congress next declared for secular solution of the education question.

Tariff reform was denounced as no cure for unemployment, Ramsay MacDonald, M.P., declaring that tariff reformers said they wanted to broaden the basis of taxation, but the basis indicated was the people's backs.

A full report of Mr. Trotter's speech on Thursday is not available, but he fiercely criticized the Salvation Army, and, in addition to what was cabled Thursday, declared that a man who would attempt to Christianize Salvation Army headquarters would have a very difficult job. There were 5,500 white unemployed in Vancouver, and the same state of things prevailed at Montreal and Toronto. Yet, the Salvation Army was going to emigrate thousands. The Salvation Army had become the procurator-general of cheap labor for international capital.

On a Tramp

Three of our young men did a great walking stunt one day last week. They walked to Bridgenorth and back doing the distance in about 2 hours. It is reported all three were laid up for some time after.—Lakefield News.

REVIEW'S GREAT CONTEST FORMALLY OPENS MONDAY

With the List of Nominations Received Until Noon of That Day—Be Sure Your Favorite is Included—This Will be a Huge Popularity Contest and There Will be Some Great Hustlers in it.

The plan and scope of the Review's European tour and Diamond contest was given in full last Tuesday evening and with every passing day the interest has increased. There will be a number of contestants in each list to start with, and many more will be added from time to time. Already several are actively engaged in mapping out what will be a very active and exciting campaign. The grand prize—choice of a trip to Europe, or a high-class piano—is too valuable not to elicit competition. The district prizes are sufficiently noteworthy to create keen rivalry.

Each day a voting coupon is printed in the Review and is good for two votes; the coupon published in the Weekly calls for five votes. Fill out the nomination blank with the name of your favorite (one published in every issue) and then clip the coupons and vote for them. Or, if you do not care to make a nomination, save the coupons until the list appears on Monday, then fill them out with the name of the candidate you wish to support and bring or send them to the Review office, where they will be placed to his or her credit and help to give a good start in the race.

Many inquiries have been made in regard to the names of the entrants in the contest. However, no information is given out, except to the candidates and their friends. This system will be adhered to during the entire term of the competition. Impartial help will be given to all contestants, but everything we have to tell will appear in the contest articles daily.

There may be as many as eight or ten entrants in each list. The more the merrier. One thing is certain—the greater the number of contestants the fewer votes it will take to win.

The contest is open to any resident of the city of Peterborough or Peterborough county. Both ladies and gentlemen, married or single, are invited to compete.

Send in your name or the name of some friend and start with the first relay.

All nominations received up to Monday noon will appear in the first list. Ballots are already coming in for some of the nominated candidates. Remember, a nomination is necessary before newspaper coupons will be accepted and counted.

Watch for the list Monday. There will be some surprises.

THREE MEN DROP INTO DEEP CANYON

Prince Rupert, B.C., Jan. 30.—Reports have reached here that one day last week three men were killed outright by falling over high banks. From Port Essington, to the very last railway camp at Mile 98, up the Skeena river to the trail is exceedingly dangerous and men walking from camp to camp in several places along the route have to support themselves around these dangerous cliffs by means of half-inch ropes that have been stretched by the contractors around the most dangerous of these places.

It was at one of these high cliffs that these men lost their lives. They missed their footing and fell over 100 feet to the river below.

EARL GREY TO BE HON. PRESIDENT

The Canadian Council of the Laymen's Missionary movement have received word from His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, that he is pleased to accept the invitation extended to him by the Council to be Honorary President of The Canadian National Missionary Congress. It will be held under the auspices of the Laymen's movement in Massey Hall, Toronto, beginning Wednesday March 31st, and closing Sunday, April 4th.

ST. ANDREW'S SERVICES OF SPECIAL INTEREST

The services in St Andrew's church tomorrow will be of special interest. Rev Mr Potter will preach at both services.

The evening service will be of special interest to men. There will be a male chorus of some thirty voices and a special address "The spectator of tragedy and what became of him."

A QUAKE IN SPAIN

Several Towns and Villages Devastated—Coast is Submerged

London, Jan. 30—A special despatch received here from San Sebastien, Spain, says that a terrible earthquake has devastated several towns and villages in south and southeastern Spain.

A tidal wave partially submerged the coast near Barcelona, and a great landslide at Ceuta, in Morocco, just opposite Gibraltar, buried the village of Romara and several hundred inhabitants.

A despatch from Tarrasa says that Barcelona has been overwhelmed by a tidal wave. The loss of life is unknown. Subterranean roarings preceded the tidal wave, causing a fearful panic among the people on the promenades and in the buildings of the city.

News from Malaga says that many houses were damaged in the town of Totana, and several villages in the province of Murcia.

Tarrasa, whence comes the report of a great tidal wave at Barcelona, is fifteen miles distant from the latter city. Barcelona is the second largest city in Spain, situated on the Mediterranean, in the northeastern part of the country. It has a population of 450,000.

Murcia, where the shock is also reported to have been felt, is in southeastern Spain, a short distance inland from the Mediterranean coast. The meagre advices thus far received indicate that the earthquake was felt along the entire Mediterranean coast.

RAIDS MADE AT SUDBURY

Illicit Liquor Selling Results in Many Arrests—Gaol Was Filled

Sudbury, Ont., Jan. 30.—Sudbury's jail was filled to overflowing Thursday night. The long arm of the liquor license department fell upon the district of Sudbury and gathered in 35 keepers of "blind pigs," dives, boarding-houses and hotels.

The drag net has been drawn through the entire district by half a dozen provincial detectives, directed by Chief Inspector Morrison of Toronto, during the last 15 days. Illegal liquor-selling has been rampant throughout the district, but evidence appears to be hard to secure.

The hearing of the cases opened yesterday morning before Magistrate Brodie.

The biggest haul made by the detectives was at Crane Hill. A sleigh piled high with an enormous quantity of all varieties of liquor was required to bring the "evidence" to Sudbury.

Many of the offenders were allowed out on cash bail yesterday, but the worst will be held in custody until their cases are disposed of.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The White Star Dominion line service to Canada will commence on April 22.

A NEW USE FOR AUTOMOBILES

Galveston, Texas, Jan. 30.—An order for ten automobiles for the Ransom and Wellsford cattle ranches of Midland and Crane counties were placed on Thursday for use in the semi-annual round-up of cattle. A special machine suited to this work will be manufactured.

Col. Crowley, secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association, in describing the tests, said:

"Cowboys can drive through a bunch of a thousand head of cattle in automobiles without even disturbing a steer. A man on horseback can stampede a bunch of steers quicker than lightning."

MACHINE IS INTERESTING

Has Been Installed in Cubitt's Picture Framing Department

In fitting up his new department for picture framing, Mr F. C. Cubitt, installed a machine that is an interesting one to a mechanic. It is a mitre saw of the latest design made by J A Brandon, of Akron, Ohio and appears to make the question of perfect accuracy in the cut, one that need not bother the operator at all as the machine takes care of that itself.

There are no moveable parts, the saw running in a rigid frame, and the moulding being held in its place solidly by rapidly operated thumb-screws.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT CONSERVATORY

"Princess Chrysanthemum" to be Produced by Conservatory Classes on March 22nd and 23rd.

A musical comedy, "Princess Chrysanthemum," will be produced at the Conservatory on March 22nd, and 23rd, by the young people of the Conservatory of Music Classes. Over seventy will take part and the chorus will be assisted by the Conservatory orchestra. The music is pretty and interesting and the solo parts will be taken by competent vocalists. Rehearsals have begun and already much progress has been made.

Song Service

There will be a song service at George street Methodist church tomorrow evening when the following numbers will be given:

Anthem—Sing unto God; Bevan.
Duet—Twilight; Nevin.
Ladies' quartette—Abide with me; Parks
Solo—Miss Reesor.

MAGISTRATE'S JUDGMENT IN "LIQUOR IN TRUNK" CASE

The following is the judgment of D. W. Dumble, Esq., K.C., Police Magistrate for the City of Peterborough;

The charge herein is laid under section 61 of the Liquor License Act for selling to a person not entitled to sell and who sells such liquor or who buys for the purpose of reselling.

In order to sustain this charge Mr. Elliott, or his employees, who in this case sold the liquor, must be proved to have known;

1. That John Croker was not licensed to sell liquor and did sell liquor, or

2. That they knew Crocker was buying to sell again.

Mr. Elliott personally did not sell and it is not shown that he knew of the sales.

TWENTY NEW ROOMS TO BE ADDED TO SOUTH BEACH HOTEL

Mr. Brooks, proprietor of the South Beach summer resort, Clear Lake, was in the city on Thursday and in conversation with the Review said that workmen would begin in the course of a week or so to build a large addition to his hotel. Twenty new rooms would be erected, which will greatly increase the accommodation and Mr. Brooks will then be able to supply the ever increasing demand for rooms in this popular resort.

Last summer a number of people wanting to spend a holiday at South Beach were unable to do so on account of the lack of room and they will no doubt be pleased to hear that the building will be greatly enlarged.

COMMITTEE MET AND WENT OVER ESTIMATES FOR YEAR

Ald. Buller, chairman, Ald Morgan, Hicks and Turner, were present at a meeting of the Fire, Water and Light committee last night when the bulk of the time was spent in going over the estimates of the fire department for 1909. The list was gone over very carefully and the work in this connection was practically completed. The estimates, however, will have to go before the Finance Committee before they are submitted to the council.

Some of the matters under the consideration of the committee in the closing stages of last year were considered in order that the present committee might know just what the situation was.

Some applications for lights in different parts of the city were considered and listed along with others already on fyle. The committee will take a drive around the city shortly in order to deal with the requests to better advantage.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that the Water Commissioners be instructed to place a hydrant near the corner of Wolfe and George streets at a point to be located by the chairman of the committee and Mr T. F. Matthews. — Carried.

RAISE FOR THE "INSIDERS" IS FISHER'S RESOLUTION

Nothing for the Outside Civil Servants

Mr. Borden Opposes It—Premier Makes a Statement

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—In the House yesterday afternoon R. L. Borden asked when the House might expect the waterways treaty, and if the matter of the fisheries dispute had been submitted to The Hague tribunal.

Sir Wilfrid replied that the Governor-General had, on Thursday communicated with the Foreign Office in England for permission to release the treaty; as to the second matter, it had been agreed between Newfoundland and Great Britain that fisheries and other matters in dispute should be referred to The Hague.

Hon. Sydney Fisher introduced a resolution for a general increase of $150 in the salaries of officials of the inside civil service under the deputy heads, based on recommendations of the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Fisher at some length explained who would be benefited. Under the new classification of last session 59 received increases of 11 per cent. Under this resolution 2,605 receive increases of $150 a year, the average increase being 13 per cent. Thirty-five are not benefited in any way. Under the new classification the increases total $36,000. The resolution provides for increases totaling $347,000; a grand total of $383,000. The Civil Service Commission recommended a general increase of 12 1-2 to 15 1-2 per cent.

Mr. Borden pointed out that every argument in favor of increases for the inside service was equally an argument for increases for the outside service. The statute made a clear distinction between the two branches of the service, but the case of living did not. The Government ought to bring down the circular distributed among the civil servants of Ottawa bearing the signature of the junior member for Ottawa and endorsed by the Prime Minister, so that the House might know whether the promises made to the electors were being implemented in the resolution.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that it was the intention to reform the outside service also.

As to Mr. Borden's suggestion that the promise to the electors of Ottawa in the campaign was a bribe, Sir Wilfrid said it was the intention to introduce the resolution last year and to date the increase from Sept. 18. But now Mr. Borden said it was a bribe. It was not safe to make that charge in the election campaign. The outside service must come under the reform, but one thing at a time.

Hal. B. McGiverin, junior member for Ottawa, failed to see that the statement he made to the electors of Ottawa was a bribe. The Conservative candidates had promised to use their endeavors to see that the recommendations of the Civil Service Commissioners were carried out at once, and said they had "the assurance of our leader that this will be done."

Dr. Barr also argued for better pay for outsiders, and Dr. Sproule continued the discussion, the House going into committee shortly before six o'clock.

R. L. Borden, rising to a question of privilege, quoted an editorial in The Globe, which complained that he had allowed three months to pass without repudiating the faked telegram in The Victoria, B.C., Colonist, representing him to be in favor of the "absolute exclusion of Asiatics." It was not till his return from the south (about the middle of December) that his attention had been called to the matter. He had written to The Colonist, which had replied that no one connected with the management was responsible, and he was awaiting the result of further enquiries.

TRIP FOR THE BAND

Salvation Army Band Will Visit Montreal and Other Places at Easter.

The Salvation Army band are arranging a trip to Montreal to take place at Easter. It is understood that satisfactory arrangements have been made and that the trip is an assured thing.

The band will likely leave Peterborough on Good Friday and while away will stop off at Tweed and Perth and give concerts at these places.

The band is said to be playing better than it ever has and will no doubt make a big hit in the places visited.

The foreign population of the city has increased to 1,093, of whom 134 have been offenders.

An increase in the department is asked for.

Brother-In-Law Accused.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Jan. 30.—Theodore Adams, employed in the railroad round-house at Hopewell Junction, was arrested yesterday and charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, John Kliff, of that place, after Mrs. Kliff had accused Adams of wounding and robbing her.

Don't Like the Choice.

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—Considerable opposition is developing amongst the French-speaking population of Manitoba to the nomination of Noah Chevrier to the Senate to succeed the late Senator Bernier. There is talk of circulating a petition of protest.

Fatal Wreck.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—One man was killed and four others seriously wounded in a collision between a freight train and a construction train yesterday. The construction train pulled from a siding directly in front of the freight train.

Drowns With a Crucifix.

Southbridge, Mass., Jan. 30.—Mary Rose Girouard, 21 years old, was found drowned in a brook on Thursday, her hand clutching a crucifix. She had been a sleep-walker.

No Special Fares For Chinese.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Railroads cannot allow special fares for transporting Chinese to ports of deportation even though the expense is paid by the Government.

The hours of service law does not apply to employes on a ferry, even though the ferry be owned by a railroad company.

These were among several administrative rulings announced by the inter-state commerce commission yesterday.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—A bill introduced in the Legislature provides for the payment by the state of $50,000 as a reward to the man who first succeeds in discovering a cure for tuberculosis.

The act specifies that the cure must be as effective as is the anti-toxin now administered in cases of diphtheria.

Menelik Ill.

Rome, Jan. 30.—A special despatch received here from Abyssinia says that while King Menelik is ill his condition is not so bad as has been reported. Italy, France and Great Britain have reached an understanding for the protection of Europeans in Abyssinia in the event of an uprising in case Menelik should die.

Negro's Escape.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 30.—A negro answering the description of one who attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Jessie Holland was captured Thursday night and strung up to a tree with a telephone wire. The wire broke, and a second attempt was being made to hang the negro when a sheriff's posse scattered the crowd.

Moving Pictures Not Reliable.

New York, Jan. 30.—Despite moving picture evidence, introduced by counsel for the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railway Co. in the action brought against it by Stephen McGorty, 10 years old, a jury in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, on Thursday awarded the lad $8,500 damages.

The boy had been injured by being thrown from a trolley car by a conductor in 1905, and the moving pictures showed him running, boxing and wrestling, although it was claimed he is permanently injured. The jury held that the moving picture operator could control the speed of the film and misrepresent the boy's activities.

Attempts Suicide While Under Arrest.

Windsor, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Eliza Landon, arrested in Detroit in connection with the death of Ettie Sowler of Bothwell, Ont., is thought to have attempted suicide at her home while officers were searching her effects. Officers detected the odor of gas and found a jet wide open in a room where Mrs. Landon was being guarded.

A NATIONAL COSTUME

It has remained for the observant Scot in Scotland to administer a quiet but not the less effective rebuke, to those Canadians who borrow the costumes of their ancestors, or others for parade or private life, in Canada. People who do this sort of thing are flunkeys at heart who have lost the independent spirit of the race and are content to appear in borrowed plumes. The Glasgow News has a cartoon in which the true Scot expresses unfeigned astonishment at the Canadian curler's appearing in Scottish garb. It seems that the Scottish Curling Association had pointedly asked the Canadian curlers to appear in their own national costume. This request conveys two hints. One is as to the desirability of Canadians' having a national costume as they certainly have and the other is the undesirability of their appearing in other nations' national costume. What ever possessed Canadians born to put on the kilts either on or off parade, we never could see and certainly to our own knowledge it is heartily laughed at by Scotchmen in Scotland. Chuck it, gentlemen. Let us be Canadians, true and through. Britishers respect those most who respect themselves. A boy may love his father without having to put on the old man's clothes. It is absurd. Cut it out. The ordinary garb of ordinary men the world over, will do for us here in Canada on ordinary occasions and when we was to parade or "show off" then let us do so "off our own bat." The Scots have administered a well deserved rebuke or admonition and it is for us to take it up unless we are lost for good to all sense of national or even individual pride. Exit, flunkeyism.

THE SCAPEGOAT

Discussing the report of Mr. Justice Cassels and particularly his expressed opinion that the chief remedy for graft lies in the awakening of the public conscience the Toronto Star differs from the learned judge and expresses the belief that relief must ob found in the awakening of the consciences of the trustees and guardians of the public. This being its belief, it is for the Star to convince the Laurier Government that the time has arrived for it to demonstrate that it has a conscience. The opportunity exists in connection with the report made by Judge Cassels. As an investigation of the conditions prevailing in the Department of Marine and Fisheries, it was not a full one. That was not the fault of Judge Cassels. The blame belongs to the Government, which for its own purposes took care to bind the hands of the judge, so that his task was limited to finding a scapegoat. As his report indicates Judge Cassels was somewhat successful in the task imposed upon him. But any candid and impartial critic who will read the report of the Civil Service Commission, the evidence taken before Judge Cassels and the latter's report, and then take cognizance of the expenditures of the department during recent years, must arrive at the conclusion that only a glimmer of the whole truth has been allowed to reach the public. "The public is not the robber," declares the Star: "the public has been robbed and comes into court seeking to have the robbers punished and to have its property and interests more carefully guarded in the future." Exactly. What difference does it make to the public whether its dollars are pilfered by a dishonest public servant or garnered into a party campaign fund? Yet the public are requested by the Government to accept the conviction of some minor offender as a full vindication of its own honor and integrity. It is asked to continue its confidence in the administration because it has promised to punish the petty thief. Where does anybody profess to find sign of an awakening of conscience in the trustees and guardians of the public seeking to shelter themselves behind the report of the Cassels commission? There might have been a real awakening of conscience, however, if, in addition to finding out how much had been paid employees of the department, the witnesses had also been asked how much they had subscribed to the campaign fund. Judge Cassels pleads for an awakening of the public conscience. It is time for it to awaken and demand that there shall be a real investigation into the sins of not only the Department of Marine, but of other departments as well in which evil has conspicuously existed. And if the Star yearns for a real awakening of the conscience of the trustees and guardians of the people, it will find it most easily brought about by steadfastly refusing to accept the scapegoat the Laurier Government would thrust upon it.—The Montreal Gazette.

A GREAT RECORD

The new Laurier loan has been a fizzle. Half of it was not subscribed and remained in the hands of the underwriters. The rate of interest asked for is 3 3-4 per cent., but worse than that is the fact that the bonds sold below par. Some years ago a similar loan netted us much better terms than these. What else can be expected! The extravagance of the Government is alarming. The stealing is more than alarming. The revenue has gone down with a dull and sickening thud. The capital debt has increased enormously. The woollen and cotton industries are going to the wall. Our cheese and butter are going the same way in our biggest and best market. Our forests are depleted. We are in the hands of usurers at home and abroad. We are being robbed of everything worth picking up by unscrupulous politicians in collusion with crooks in and outside the Service. The judge giving judgment on the evidence says the people have no conscience, and—well! Such is the record of the Laurier Government. It is a wonderful record and yet the half has not been told.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The New York Evening Post says that Congress considers Mr. Roosevelt untruthful. That is nothing to what he thinks about Congress and with men like Tillman etc., in it many will think he is not far astray.

Professor Shaw in a new work on Schleiermacher says that Religion is "intense in its search for the fundamental in thought and the final in life." It would be well for many who lay themselves willing victims upon the altar of emotion or feed themselves only on the strictum jus of theological barren lands, if they would take this advice to heart.

"Even the plea of ignorance cannot be entered on behalf of Mr Brodeur. That gentleman became Minister of Marine and Fisheries on Feb. 6, 1906. Between that date and the end of the fiscal year ending with June following the Auditor-General wrote again and again to the department of which Mr Brodeur was then and is now head complaining of irregularities in accounts passed by the department."

An ice-making plant will have to be inaugurated in Peterborough if curlers are to be afforded full opportunity to play—and yell. Scotland is up to date in that respect. She has also asphalt rinks which "take" a thin sheet of ice with an hour's frost. There are great possibilities in store for Messrs. Sam Ray and Robt. [illegible] in Scotland. In sooth if the latter had gone to Scotland the roaring game would have been no mere name. Mr. "Charley" Brown could have "dazted" them a bit, too.

Judge Cassels' report on his enquiry into the conduct of the Marine Department of the Dominion government has not, at this writing, reached The Sun. All that is at hand is the summary of the findings given in the daily press. If this summary fairly stated the tenor of the report all we can say is that it is fortunate for the offenders in the department that their stealings were from the public treasury, and not from a private firm, and that it is well for them their conduct has been the subject of an enquiry by a commission, and has not formed the basis of a criminal prosecution.—The Sun.

The idea that money is the foundation upon which all human calculations must be based was received at the banquet of Thursday evening with "incredulity." The banking system is a detail in the business world. It is a part of the modern system of business. But it is no more the be-all and end-all of human affairs than any other branch of commercial transactive life such as insurance (fire and life) or railways. The Sovereign and Ontario Bank failures have caused a wide-spread feeling that banks are by no means what they seem. They are an operative detail of business life that need overhauling and amending. Some banks are no doubt founded on a rock, but the failures or swindles of late years have shown an astonishingly large percentage of collapses. A little more of it and business men may have to find another means of service perhaps in conjunction with the government which will then be called upon to give interest on foreign-loan rates to home depositors.

STUART STRATHY, General Manager.

Toronto, 31st December, 1908.

The General Manager, having read the foregoing report, made the following comments:

From the statement submitted, it will be observed that the results of the year's operations have been satisfactory, notwithstanding the severe financial disturbance, which was felt, more or less, throughout the world during the period under review. The wave of depression is apparently lifting, and we face another year with good prospects of a general return to normal conditions in several lines of business. A brief consideration of the yearly statement will readily show how successful the Bank's business has been during the past year. The net profits, after making allowance for all probable contingencies, and crediting interest to all interest-bearing accounts, amount to $500,217.60. Adding to this the balance carried forward from Profit and Loss the previous year, with one or two small additional items, makes the sum of $525,681.99, which was available for distribution. This amount was apportioned to pay four quarterly dividends at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, amounting to $304,699.50. $20,000 has been written off Bank Premises and Furniture Accounts, and $10,000 has been added to the Officers' Guarantee and Pension Fund, leaving the substantial sum of $190,982.49 to be carried forward at the credit of Profit and Loss new account.

The paid-up Capital Stock of the Bank amounts to .... $4,353,592, and the Rest Account .... $2,000,000, nearly one-half of the Paid-up Capital.

The total deposits of the Bank now amount to over .... $25,000,000. Of this sum over $4,000,000 is non-interest-bearing, and the total deposits of the Bank have increased $2,000,000 during the year.

The assets, which are immediately available, amount to over nine millions of dollars, being about thirty per cent. of the liabilities to the public, a condition which places the Bank in a very strong position.

Attention should be called to the excellent character generally of the assets of the Bank, as set forth in the statement.

During the year, seven new Branches were opened and two were closed, making a total of eighty-one Branches open at the end of the year.

The Bank continued, throughout the year, to increase both in volume and character of its business. It is interesting to note its growth by comparison with the figures of ten years ago:

	1898.	1908
Paid-up Capital	$ 700,000	$ 4,353,592
Surplus	50,000	2,000,000
Deposits	6,920,817	25,385,117
Circulation	697,480	2,600,905

The general depression of a year ago has resulted in a contraction of business throughout the Country. Now, that it would appear that the period of depression is passing away, and provided the incoming year is a prosperous one, it is natural to infer that more activity in commercial lines will ensue, followed by a more active demand for money. We find again this year, a considerably larger acreage will be ready for early seeding in the Northwest, consequent upon the continued flow into those lands of a most desirable class of settlers, principally from the Country to the South of us, the effect of which must benefit this Country at large. The greatly increased transportation facilities will also prove an important factor, not alone in the temporary large expenditure, which continues to be made on this account, but by this very large extension of our Railway System, making it possible to bring to the Seaboard the steadily increasing crops of our great Northwest, with the least possible delay. We have established several important Branches in this field, and, as the Country develops, extension in this direction, no doubt, will meet with your approval.

Before concluding, I wish to express my appreciation of the cordial co-operation of all the officials of the Bank in the work of the year. All the books and documents of the Bank have been carefully examined, and the affairs of all the Branches have been looked into, and reported upon in a manner permitting the Board to deal intelligently with all the assets of the Bank.

Mr. C. D. Warren, President, in moving the adoption of the Report, said:

I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the Report which has been presented. The Management and shareholders may well congratulate themselves on the result of the year's business. The Report affords strong evidence of the prosperous condition of the Bank, and of a satisfactory increase in the general volume of business. The period of prosperity which Canada enjoyed until about a year ago, led to extensive, and in some cases, unsuccessful expansion on the part of many capitalists and business men, and the resources of all financial institutions were taxed to the limit of their capacity to meet the demands of this abnormal enterprise. Depression followed, bringing about conditions that caused a restriction of all financial enterprises, thereby resulting in a withdrawal of capital from business undertakings and an increase in the amount of comparatively idle money not yielding the average return of profits. Last year was, therefore, not to be regarded as one favorable to profitable financial operation, but the results have nevertheless been very satisfactory.

A growing country like Canada, with unbounded resources, naturally has great power of recuperation. Trade depression consequently affected Canada less than almost any other country, and as a result, commercial and manufacturing interests are rapidly recovering from the embarrassment which retarded their progress for the past twelve months. The probability is that in the immediate future, the limit of the available resources of our financial institutions will be reached by the requirements of various legitimate undertakings, which are already beginning to show renewed vigor and vitality.

The Agricultural returns from the Dominion for 1908 indicate a large yield of grain and other crops, and this condition tends materially to create business confidence. With the prospect of fair prices and an increase in the wealth of the country from its natural products, commercial undertakings must receive a great impetus, and manufacturing and all its branches will be greatly extended. The distribution of this increased wealth rests largely with Banking Institutions, and whilst the rate of interest may be somewhat lower than it has been for a year or two, the increased volume of business will, it is believed, maintain the earning power at the same level.

The lumber industry, one of the great National sources of wealth, is rapidly reviving, and increased activity in railway extension and incidental enterprises has given a new impulse to our iron and steel works. Our mining interests now call for large outlays for operation, and our trade, increasing at home and abroad, gives good ground for the hope that Canada in a short time will more than make up for the temporary delay in her course towards the highest point of commercial greatness.

The employment of money is absolutely necessary for current operations, and as these are now extending in all directions, it is not unreasonable to look forward to several years of prosperous development of a substantial character.

To meet the demands involved in the interests I have briefly mentioned, as well as others that readily suggest themselves, our Banking and financial institutions may expect a largely increased volume of business and a ready and safe outlet for all their surplus money during the present year.

The Northwest is extending its cultivated area, and is being opened to the people by means of great trunk railway lines, and many local extensions. Here we have the true source of wealth. The mere interchange or investment of money does not add materially to the general wealth of the country, but the products of the soil, the forest and the mine create new and additional capital, most of which finds its way into Banks, Loan and Insurance Corporations, and other similar Institutions. By keeping a constant and energetic lookout, we hope to obtain a fair share of the handling of this increased wealth, and with this object in view, we have already established Agencies in some of the more important Western points. Yet, without unduly extending the Bank operations, there is still room for other openings, and advantage of this fact should be taken as occasion arises and circumstances permit.

Whilst the value of money chiefly depends on the conditions of the great financial centres of the world, there are many local demands which affect the money market here. It is true that municipal debentures principally find a market in Great Britain. Corporation bonds, such as railway, electric, etc., are largely sold abroad, but much of the cash resulting therefrom reaches our Banks eventually. To show the practical situation more forcibly, I might state that the value of Municipal and Corporation Bonds of this country sold in Great Britain in 1908, was over Nineteen Million Dollars, and that Canadian investors bought only Twenty-one Million Dollars' worth, but the total of over One Hundred and Ten Millions is likely to find its way here, to be used for Local and National development. In view, therefore, of the growth of our transportation and transmission lines, and the development of Municipal works, in every town and city in the Dominion, and the large foreign capital which will be brought into this country for these purposes our Banks may anticipate, not only a large amount of money in circulation and on deposit, but a greater demand for those local needs which cannot be supplied through foreign Agencies. The great industries of the country must be carried on, and these look to our Banking facilities for assistance, and with the return of prosperity the avenues of investment will materially increase. Your Directors have availed themselves of every favorable opportunity to meet this demand, but always having in mind that prosperous times demand greater care and watchfulness than periods of depression.

Instead of increasing a sufficiently strong reserve to meet all probable demands and thereby locking up a large amount of unproductive money in the treasury, we have invested considerable sums in high-class municipal debentures and other bonds, yielding the Bank a profitable return, and being almost as available as cash if occasion should arise in the future. The price of these securities is not much affected by the local market, the purchasers in Great Britain practically controlling values, and it was felt that no better or safer investment could be made with surplus or reserve funds which must be constantly and immediately available in every well-managed banking institution.

In call loans, we pursue a very conservative policy, so that no large amount of any particular stock shall be held as security by the Bank at any one time. The margin of safety is always large, and the fluctuations of the ordinary market do not effect the security.

Your directors examine practically all credits and accounts in the books of the Bank. No advance of any moment is made without their sanction, and whilst this method entails a large amount of work, we feel it to be the only safe way to discharge our duty. The various agencies have been carefully inspected, the returns scrutinized, and the state and nature of investments thoroughly considered. In this work, we find the services of the Directors' Auditor, Mr. Willis, most valuable, and through him, important information regarding the Bank's transactions is readily available to the Board.

Our inspectors are competent and efficient officers, and it affords me much pleasure in being able to testify to the great care and ability which they bring to bear in the performance of their duties.

I am glad to be able to state that every part of the Head Office building is rented, yielding a good return, and there does not appear to be any doubt as to this condition being continuous. The same satisfactory state of affairs exists in regard to the Yonge and Bloor Streets Office.

We hope that before long, the result of the careful attention and efforts of your Directors and the management may reach the Shareholders in a substantial and gratifying manner.

I move that the Report be adopted.

The Vice-President, Hon. J. R. Stratton, seconded the motion and said: The ground has been pretty thoroughly covered by the remarks of the General Manager and the President; but I can at least re-echo the congratulations and repeat the expression of pleasure which the report warrants.

I have personal knowledge that the directors have all devoted themselves faithfully to the service of the Bank during their tenure of office. This was to be expected from their high standing, high sense of duty, and ability. Besides, they are among the largest holders of stock, and are, therefore, the most directly and largely interested. Any indifferent or perfunctory performance of service or duty on their part would naturally more prejudicially affect them than shareholders with less interest at stake. It is certain, therefore, that when the responsible officers of the Bank are so directly and personally interested, there exists a guarantee of careful and effective administration. The Bank has more than 1,800 shareholders, many of whom are prominently associated with important and industrial enterprises. The character of these shareholders, associated with the rapid increase of the paid-up capital of the Bank, testifies to the confidence which its stability, and excellent management inspire.

The business of the Bank is expanding in every direction; and it is the aim of the directors to keep the Traders Bank abreast of the great progress this Dominion is making. Of this, its past is a guarantee, which the year just closed strengthens. To see gratifying results achieved, to see business and profits satisfactory, to see securities strengthened, and assets increased, in the face of conditions such as have prevailed during the greater part of the year, seem to be indications of good and efficient management. A financial institution which comes so creditably through a difficult year, can, with improved conditions in every important national interest, reasonably anticipate a prosperous future.

It affords me great pleasure to second the motion for the adoption of the report.

The motion for the adoption of the report was carried unanimously.

The Scrutineers reported the following gentlemen duly elected to act as Directors for the ensuing year, viz.:—C. D. Warren, Hon. J. R. Stratton, C. Kloepfer (Guelph), W. J. Sheppard (Waubaushene), C. S. Wilcox (Hamilton), E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., H. S. Strathy.

The meeting then adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the newly-elected Directors, Mr. C. D. Warren was re-elected President, and Hon. J. R. Stratton Vice-President by a unanimous vote.

STUART STRATHY, General Manager.

The Traders Bank of Canada, Toronto, 26th January, 1909.

THE TWO BOARDS COULD NOT AGREE

No Agreement Reached Between Two School Boards in County.

Lakefield, Jan. 29.—A joint meeting of the Lakefield School Board and the School Board of the new Douro school section was held in Mr. A.W. Sherin's office on Monday evening last. The meeting was called for the purpose of trying to arrive at an amicable settlement with regard to the line between the two school sections. The two Board's could not come to any agreement and the matter will now come before the County Judge for settlement.

Frontenac County Council will petition the Dominion Government for protection for level railway crossings.

AERONAUTS FELL 2900 FEET; APPALLING BALLOON ACCIDENT

The despatches bring an account of one of the most sensational escapes ever recorded. Two aeronauts had risen to an altitude of 2900 feet when suddenly the balloon burst and the gas escaped. It appears that two Americans, Messrs. Holland Forbes and Augustus Post, had entered the international balloon race at Berlin, Germany. The account of the fall given by Mr. Forbes in his own words is most thrilling. He says: "Six minutes after our departure we had attained a height of 2900 feet and the wind had carried us a distance about 2 miles when suddenly without the slightest warning our balloon blew up. "We are done for" exclaimed Post. "Good Heavens!" I cried. In the centre of the balloon-globe was a huge tear. The gas had escaped and left our balloon a useless wreck. We began to fall with a dizzy swiftness. However we were not idle. I succeeded in making a sort of parachute out of the balloon, while Post threw out the bags of sand, which being lighter than ourselves seemed to go skywards. But Post was not quick enough to suit me. I took out my knife and cut the cords which held the remaining sacks and let them go all at once. This lightened the balloon quite a bit and its speed slackened. The hope of escaping death had seized us once more when our balloon parachute also collapsed. Beneath us the roofs of the houses seemed rushing to meet us. Sharp points and angles upon the roofs looked threatening. We are lost! I cried. Good-bye said Forbes, extending his hand. Suddenly we crashed through the roof of a house, but to lessen the shock we had climbed into the rigging. As a window through which a stone is thrown lessens the force of the blow in breaking so the roof with us had the effect while being pierced of breaking our fall. When we had reached the bottom and stopped Post said "Where is my camera?" Policemen and firemen soon arrived and were amazed to find us safe and sound. We must have been about two minutes falling. It was a wonderful escape."

DON'T DIET FOR FAT

You have no appetite for gruel, have you. By the same token, if you scale in excess of 150 pounds, I know you have no great liking for gymnasium stunts. As a rule fat folks are neither athletic nor ascetic, they are not under compulsion to be either, no matter how necessary it is for them to reduce. There is a third, better, and surer way of getting rid of superfluous flesh.

The trouble with both dieting and exercise is, first the trouble; second, the danger,—fatty heart; third, wrinkles; and fourth, stomach disgust. You are liable to all four if you exercise or diet. On the other hand, you can sidestep all four, and still reduce as much or little as you please, even up to losing a pound a day if you see fit, by taking a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, of the following simple receipt; One half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Peppermint Water.

Any druggist will fill this prescription for you cheaply and you may take it with perfect confidence that it will do no manner of harm. Instead it almost invariably improves the health, and likewise the complexion.

LOCAL OPTION IN THE CITIES

The Matter in This Department is Supplied by the Peterborough Temperance and Moral Reform League Which Has Arranged for Its Publication.

Knoxville Tennessee for Example

The advocates of prohibitory legislation are constantly met by one or both of two arguments. We are told that while local option may work all right and give general satisfaction in the rural communities, villages and smaller towns, it is out of the question in the larger and more intelligent centres of population. Again it is contended that the introduction of prohibitory legislation into the cities and larger towns will be ruinous to business.

It is quite true, that so far as Ontario is concerned, local option laws have not been tried in any cities or many of the larger towns. The reason for this though is not to be found in their greater intelligence, but rather in the fact that in these centres of population there is a larger proportion of voters lacking in that quality and so more difficult to reach by any campaign of education. As to the injury to business, the very opposite has proved to be the case, as is shown, not only in our own province, but in many of the states of the American union, where the cause of temperance is even more advanced than with us.

The legislature of the State of Tennessee has just passed a State prohibitory law. Previous to that there has been for some time a local option law. This had been passed and was in operation in 92 of the 96 counties of the state. The legislature simply made it unanimous. This action was violently opposed in some of the larger cities, the chief arguments being those indicated above, viz., the ruin of business and the impossibility of granting such a law in the cities. In reply to this it is pointed out that the city of Knoxville, in that state, with 30,000 population, has been for a year under local option, and that all the 114 places that were formerly saloons, are now occupied by business enterprises that are a benefit to the community." In this connection the testimony of the mayor, the city judge and the Chief of Police are interesting. This is what they say;

STATEMENT OF THE MAYOR, HON. JOHN M. BROOKS.

"Prohibition has been and is, a marked success in Knoxville. Our criminal record has been greatly reduced and the drunk and disorderly list is almost entirely wanting. Families that had scarcely ever known what it was to have a 'square meal' or a good suit of clothes are now well fed, well clothed and happy."

STATEMENT OF JUDGE THOMAS A. R. NELSON.

"If larger and more regular attendance at Sunday school, preaching and other services at our churches; if a larger and more regular attendance at schools, by better shod, better clad, and cleaner children; if froty thousand dollars more money for increased room and better equipment and larger pay to teachers; if more revenue for the city from ad valorem and license taxes; if sixty per cent. decrease of arrests for drunkenness and kindred crimes; if a decrease of a like or even greater percentage in homicides and all grades of crime; if a million dollars a year spent for necessaries is less helpful than a like amount spent in liquor; if these things indicate failure, then prohibition has failed."

"No matter who says prohibition in Knoxville is a failure, it is not true. We have had a dry town a few days more than one year, and this city is better off in every respect. The most important matter to be considered in any locality, as I see it, is the moral condition, and I am glad to say this is the one most improved. Our city is 100 per cent. better today than when saloons were here. It is true we make arrests, and some for drunkenness, but where in the days of the saloon we made 150 to 250 a week we rarely make fifty arrests a week now, including all manner of cases. In the saloon days we would make ten to twenty arrests each day, and thirty-five to fifty on Saturdays, nearly all drunks or the result of drunks. Now we have an average of three or four a day, and rarely go over ten or fifteen on Saturday. There is some whiskey sold here, but we get the man doing it sooner or later, and some of the big ones, too, have workhouse sentences against them.

The liquor people and friends of liquor say that prohibition here is a failure, but they are crazy to get saloons back. I make this assertion and defy contradiction; That there are now hundreds of children in Knoxville with clothes and shoes to wear and something to eat, who went naked and hungry when saloons were here. The city schools of Knoxville never had such large attendance as this year. Teachers, policemen and firemen all get salaries raised this year, the first time in twelve years. The city comptroller tells me he collected more in (business) licenses in nine months this year than the whole of last year."

ABOUT THE CONTEST

Owing to the contest now being so largely advertised in this paper the conditions of the Local Option Essay Competition will be held over for another week. In the meantime pupils of the schools may gather together as much material as possible on the subject, "Why should Peterborough banish the bar."

COUNTY SCHOOL INSPECTOR BROWN'S ANNUAL REPORT

Inspector J. Coyle Brown of the county of Peterborough, presented his annual report before the County Council this week. Mr. Brown's report is as follows:—

Gentlemen,—I have the honor to present to you the following report for the year 1908:—

In the county there are three schools in the incorporated villages of Havelock, Lakefield and Norwood. Of rural schools there are ninety-nine; in Asphodel 7, in Belmont and Methuen 14, Burleigh and Anstruther 6, in Chandos 8, in Douro 10, in Dummer 8, Ennismore 4, in Galway and Cavendish 5, in Harvey 8, in North Monaghan 3, in Otonabee 14, and in Smith 12. During the year an application was made for the formation of another school section in Douro. The arbitrators who dealt with the matter made an award adverse to the application. An appeal was made and the second arbitrating board formed a new section. It is now the subject of litigation. What the result may be I am unable to state. I may be allowed to make the general statement that in the front parts of the county, and in parts of the rear, there are too many sections, more than can support effective schools.

The past year presents some aspects of progress. The school buildings in the villages of Havelock and Lakefield were in each case enlarged by four additional class rooms. These were much needed. The number of pupils exceeded the accommodation. Both of the villages named had considerable continuation classes, and a prospect of these classes being largely increased in the near future. Another room was added to the school building at Young's Point. The number of pupils attending the school in this section was greater than could be properly managed by one teacher. The trustees and ratepayers wisely determined on and carried out the enlargement. A new school house was built in school section No. three, Belmont, the old building becoming unsafe. The site was also changed so as to bring it nearer the centre of the section. Another new house was built on a changed site in school section No. 6 Chandos. No. 6 Chandos, up to last year was without a school site or building of its own. The school was held in an old unused dwelling. During the year a site was chosen and a school house built.

Many of the schools are fairly well provided with furniture and equipment, library included. The improvement made in these regards during the last two years must be very gratifying to all who have the educational advancement of the country at heart. In the course of a short time little more will be required in most of the schools than to make trifling additions and keep up the necessary repairs.

Of the 123 teachers employed, there were five holders of first-class certificates, 42 second class, 41 third class, 18 district, 4 temporary, and at the time of my visits 13 with no certificate at all. Some of these 13 got temporary certificates afterwards. At present the teachers constitute one of the great weaknesses of our educational system. Of the 123 employed in the county last year only 47 were in possession of permanent certificates; that is there were only 47 who had a thorough theoretic training for the work in which they were engaged. At present it is impossible to get anything like fairly qualified teachers for many of the positions in the county. The scarcity is partially owing to the low salaries paid to teachers in former years. Young men and women were on this account deterred from preparing themselves for teachers. The scarcity is also in some measure due to the change in the professional training of teachers recently introduced. In June next a large number of qualified teachers will issue from the provincial normal schools. This will relieve the situation, and, in all probability it will not be so acute in the future. Good buildings, good furniture, good equipment are all desirable, but these are of little value without good teachers. It is to be hoped that many trustees will avail themselves of the opportunity of securing such teachers at the approaching end of the Normal school term.

Perhaps the feature of our educational system that demands the greatest attention at present is the attendance. The attendance is not what it should be. Many parents appear indifferent as to whether their children go to school regularly or not. The children are often kept at home for trifling reasons. There is a compulsory law, but the machinery for carrying it out is defective. A parent who neglects to send his child to school regularly may be summoned before a magistrate and punished, but a trustee or a neighbor is averse to making the necessary complaint. In every section there should be a truant officer whose duty it should be to find out from the teacher or otherwise the names of the pupils who are not attending school regularly. The officer should warn the parents. If the warning is not sufficient the legal punishment should follow. The province, the municipality, and the section are compelled to pay for the support of the school. Parents should, if necessary, be compelled to send their children to take advantage of it. Education costs. In no other way, however, can parents make so much provision for the future welfare of their children at so little outlay.

I am gentlemen,
Your obedient servant.
J. COYLE BROWN,
Peterborough, Jan. 26, 1909.

CAR STRUCK MILK WAGGON

But No Damage Was Done---Narrow Escape on Park St.

Mr. J. J. McCrea, milk vendor, had a narrow escape from a serious accident on Park street one day this week. He was crossing the street railway track and did not notice a car approaching from the south. The motorman applied the brakes when he noticed what was ahead, but not in time to prevent the car striking the waggon. It struck one of the hind wheels and shunted the vehicle out of danger's way. No damage was done but the affair was quite exciting.

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT

LITTLE LIVES LOST HOW TO SAVE THEM.

The annual report of the Registrar General for Ontario shows that for every thousand children born, one hundred and eleven die before they reach the age of one year. Most of these deaths are due to the disorders of the stomach and bowels, and most of these little lives could be saved if mothers kept always at hand a safe and simple remedy like Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets cure all stomach and bowel troubles, but better still an occasional dose will prevent these troubles coming on. Mrs N. Shaffer, The Brook, Ont, says —"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and always find them satisfactory. I feel that my little ones are safe so long as I have this medicine in the house." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Brockville, Ont.

PRESENTATION LAST EVENING

A number of the young ladies of Mark street Sunday School East City together with Mrs W. M. Matchett's class of young men met at the home of Mr J. H. Callander, 114 Hunter St, to spend last evening with his son, who is a member of the class, prior to his departure for the West.

A pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment was an address read by Mr W. Crowe, and the presentation of a complete set of toilet brushes on a beautiful china tray by Mr A. Record, to Mr Lynn Callander on behalf of the class.

All expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable evening. Credit is due the young ladies present for the dainty refreshments served.

The following is the address that was read:

Dear Lynn—Our little gathering here tonight has an element of sadness in it.

We are indeed sorry to have you leave us, but trust you will have success and God's blessing in your new home.

We ask you to accept this little token of remembrance from your Sunday School class as an expression of our good will and best wishes.

TRADERS' BANK STATEMENT

The three principal officers of the Traders Bank, Mr. C. D. Warren, President; Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., Vice-President, and Mr. Stuart Strathy, General Manager, were unanimous in their speeches at the bank's annual meeting yesterday, in stating that they believed the wave of depression was gradually lifting, and a brighter future in financial and industrial circumstances to be in sight.

The Traders Bank shareholders are certainly to be congratulated on the report presented by Mr. Strathy. Notwithstanding the financial disturbances of the past year the earnings on the paid-up capital amount to the large sum of $500,217.60. The liquid assets of the bank are over $9,000,000, being about thirty per cent. of the liabilities to the public, which places the bank in a very strong position. A very large increase in the deposits has taken place during the year, the amount now on deposit being over $25,000,000, $4,000,000, of which are non-interest-bearing.

The Traders' Bank, in point of capital, is now the sixth largest bank in the country, and is certainly one of the most progressive of our financial institutions.

The note circulation of the bank amounts to $2,600,905, while the total assets now amount to $34,859,590.33.

TO RELIEVE HALIBURTON

From Grip of the English Land Co. Which is Retarding Progress

Lindsay, Jan. 29.—Some means of rendering assistance to the provisional county of Haliburton in the way of preventing the English Land Co. which has such a "grip" on Haliburton securing a further hold, will be discussed by the County Council.

Col. Sam Hughes who is acquainted with the conditions as intimately as any drew the council's attention to the state of affairs yesterday. He will do all he can, he declared, to relieve Haliburton and give that county a chance to progress.

SHOULD HAVE INSPECTOR

Of Electric Wiring for City---Suggestion of Ald. Turner

That Peterborough should have an inspector of electric wiring is the opinion of Ald. Turner, as expressed at the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night.

Ald. Turner referred to the fact that an inspector from the Underwriters' Association had been in Peterborough for several weeks and had ordered changes in the electrical wiring in many buildings.

Some of these were of comparatively recent erection, while in others the wiring had been overhauled recently. Under such conditions it was not fair to the owners of buildings to be put to heavy expense to have the changes made. The city should have an inspector of its own in order that the citizens might know that their electric wiring was done properly.

City Clerk Armstrong said that the Council had power to appoint an inspector of electric wiring.

The committee will consider Ald. Turner's suggestions.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ALL SAINTS'

There will be a special memorial service at All Saints' church on Sunday morning next, in memory of the late Archbishop Sweatman. The hymns, psalms, lesson and prayers will be appropriate to the occasion. The rector will preach on "An estimate of the life and work of the late Archbishop." In the evening there will be a sermon more particularly to men on "The real battle of life."

Hamilton stove founders ask the moulders to accept a cut of 15 per cent, and trouble is expected.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., headmaster of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has very kindly consented to deliver an address before the members of the Young Conservative Club on Saturday evening next Feb. 6th. His subject will be "Caesar." The great Roman general, who conquered Britain, and left perhaps the greatest name in history ultimately yielded up his life to what the Romans thought was his dangerous desire to rule them as king and dictator. He is best remembered, however, by the average man as the author of "The Commentaries," which begin with the oft-quoted statement that all Gaul is divided into three parts. The club has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Kenner for one of its series of educational lectures. Members only are entitled to attend. This provision has been found necessary in order to preserve the privileges of the club to members. A short musical programme will also be presented. The chair will be taken at eight o'clock sharp.

WAS THROWN OUT OF THE CUTTER

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Theo. Crawford had a narrow escape from serious injury. He had been out driving and in turning the corner of the street at the Presbyterian church, the cutter upset throwing him onto the hard road. The horse ran away but was caught before any damage was inflicted to the rig. Mr. Crawford escaped with a severe shaking up. —Lakefield News.

SPORTING NEWS

WALKING IS THE GAME THAT PLEASES THE AUBURN PUBLIC

Special to the Review.

Walking seems to be on the boom again and there are several matches ready for the near future. The entertainment committee of Company M met last night and decided to run another four nights' walk two and a half hours each night. The date fixed were February 17, 18, 19 and 20. Hoagland is to enter the race but the "old man" will have his work cut out for him because it is to be a handicap and the scratch man will give all entrants a half mile. When they get the word and make the start, the other contestants will have 10 laps to their credit on the score board and Hoagland will have to do some tall walking to overcome this lead and get inside the main money. The match is to be open to the wide, wide world.

Tom Slater is still in the city and he expects to have a match of five or 10 miles in the near future with Hubbell of Erie, Pa., at the Burt's rink. George Brown's foot is back in condition again and he too is looking for a race. He said that he would go on with either Slater or Hubbell. Either one of these would make a good race whilst a match between Hubbell and Slater ought to make an even go and prove attractive.

GREAT BATTLE BETWEEN BLAKE AND HARRISON AT WALKING MATCH TO-DAY

Blake and Harrison are fighting hard in their six hour walk which is taking place this afternoon at the roller rink. At three o'clock when one hour had been covered they were walking very evenly and in grand form. Both set an exceedingly fast clip from the start and the duel will be a keen one to the finish.

Harrison has improved so greatly since last spring that Blake is getting a big surprise in the man he is walking against and will have to travel some to win.

The afternoon period of the match concludes at five o'clock and the pedestrians will engage in the final three hours this evening from eight till eleven o'clock.

A 7.45 the Auburns and Quaker tug of war teams will pull for the Sykes cup and the city championship.

The band will be in attendance during the evening.

MUST WIN GAME NEXT TUESDAY

It's up to Locals to Defeat Cobourg Here on Tuesday Night

The chance of the locals to win this district intermediate OHA, depends on their game on Tuesday night with Cobourg. If they lose to Cobourg it practically means that the district is gone and that the laurels go to Lindsay. The home team however is confident of being able to take Cobourg into camp and if they do the rubber will be with Lindsay on Friday night.

HOCKEY

BUCKHORN WON.

An exciting game of hockey was played at Buckhorn on Thursday afternoon between Bridgenorth and Buckhorn teams. Bridgenorth was defeated by 3 goals to 0.

EDMONTON 9, STRATHCONA 5.

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 26.—Edmonton defeated Strathcona to-night in a fast and clean game of hockey by 9 to 5. Only five penalties were handed out. Geeting getting two. Whitcroft 1, Miller 1 and Greyburn, of Strathcona, 1.

Saskatoon plays here on Monday and Wednesday of next week to try to wrestle the Fit-Reform cup from the holders. The opinion here is "no chance."

CHALLENGE TO THE HAPPY THOUGHTS

The Joy club of the Peterborough Bowling club hereby issue a challenge to the Happy Thoughts champions of the Y.M.C.A. bowling league, to a series of twelve games six to be played at the Y.M.C.A. and six at the P.B.C. alleys. This match will be for the championship of the city.

HORSE RACES AT PIGEON LAKE

The sporting gentlemen of Bobcaygeon have arranged for their annual ice races on Pigeon Lake, and are looking forward to a good afternoon's racing on Tuesday next, the 2nd. Mr. J. Warren is President and Mr. D Cain Secretary, and they are very busy these days.

The green race open to horses that have never won money, will give a chance to win a scuffler as first prize a wheelbarrow as second, and rug as third.

The free-for-all same prizes as in 2.40 class.

There are said to some horses in the locality that are fairly good goers and some interesting contests will be put up.

CHANCE FOR LOCAL TRIO

Should Make Good in the Four Days Walk at the Auburn N. Y. Armouries

It's up to Jim Harrison, W Spencely and Joe Guerin, the three clever Peterborough walkers to get in line for the race which is to take place at the Auburn armories, on February 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th.

W A Hoagland, in writing to the Review, mentions the above three and thinks they should be able to get within the money. The conditions of the walk or any information concerning it may be had from the promoter J O Thomas, State Armory, Auburn NY. Fifty per cent of the gross receipts will be the walkers' division.

Public Service Commission.

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 30.—The longest session of the Legislature in the history of the state closed yesterday when the law-makers adjourned after a ninety-two days' sitting. The creation of a public service commission to supervise telegraph and telephone companies and railroad corporations was among the most important acts of the session.

Mine Workers In Hot Debate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 30.—Yesterday's session of the United Mine Workers' convention was enlivened by a bitter debate over the national organizers. The faction opposed to President Lewis charged that the organizers were sent into Pennsylvania for electioneering purposes.

Amnesty For Lincoln Offenders.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Speaker Cannon yesterday received a letter from Memphis, Tenn., conveying for his consideration a bill by which it is proposed to grant amnesty and a general pardon to any persons who aided or abetted the assassination of President Lincoln.

Bulgaria Dispersing Troops.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The governor of the Vilayet of Adrianople has telegraphed the Minister of the Interior that Bulgaria is disbanding the reservists recently concentrated on the Turkish frontier.

Wipe Turkey Off the Menu.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—A movement is on foot among the leading restaurants of Chicago to wipe turkey off their menus as a result of the high price now being asked for the meat.

Must Close on Sunday.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—The Attorney-General has issued instructions that actions be taken against twenty-two moving picture shows in Montreal, and also the Nationscope, in that city, for keeping open on Sunday.

New General Manager.

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—Robert Campbell, acting general manager of the Northern Crown Bank since the resignation of De Courcey O'Grady, has been appointed general manager by the board of directors.

Embargo on Horses Lifted.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 30.—After having been in force since Nov. 21, the embargo on horses was removed yesterday. Horses and wagons are now allowed to cross the bridges into the Dominion.

MAGISTRATE'S JUDGMENT

The two men in the shop swear that they did not know Croker, who he was or where he came from, and there is no evidence to contradict them.

It is shown that Croker got a trunk full of whiskey on several occasions at Elliott's retail shop and that he kept an hotel in Millbrooke, a local option village, and one might infer that he bought to sell again, but that does not fasten knowledge on Elliott or his employees or justify a conclusion of guilt.

Under sub-section 2 the defendant is not called upon to rebut a conclusion of guilt by proving good faith and want of knowledge on his part and on the part of his servants, until first a prima facie case has been made out. The evidence does not prove either that Croker sold liquor or bought to sell, and I would not be justified in finding from the quantity of liquor bought by him that Mr. Elliott's servants were bound to know that he was selling or bought to sell.

In fact his living in a local option village should lead us to suppose that Crocker was keeping the law especially where there is absolutely no evidence that he does sell liquor.

The charge is dismissed. The liquor seized will be delivered to Mr. Crocker,

D. W. DUMBLE,
P.M.

Jan. 30th, 1909.

The above judgment would seem to show that liquor can be purchased by persons living in a local option district, in any quantities, provided that the same is not bought for the purpose of re-selling or purchased with the intention of reselling. As long as a man purchases liquor for his own use, although living, in a local option district, he is free to do so.

In the above case Mr. E. H. D. Hall appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. G. N. Gordon successfully defended Mr. Alexander Elliott.

THIS ATHLETE OF FIFTY-TWO YEARS

Was Tortured With Rheumatism and a Cripple Till the Great Kidney Remedy Cured Him.

Six Nations, Ont, Jan 29—Special—Fifty-two years of age but still young enough to captain the lacrosse team. John Silversmith of this place can truly be looked on as a wonderful athlete. One would naturally think he was all his life a healthy man. But it was far otherwise, and he unhesitatingly states that his wonderful energy and vitality are due to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered from Rheumatism for over seven years," Mr Silversmith says in telling his story, "and it finally made a complete cripple of me. My back was bent nearly double and when I tried to walk I had to use crutches. Latterly I could not get around at all and I suffered excruciating pain.

"Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me relief, sixteen boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Rheumatism because Rheumatism is caused by disordered Kidneys and Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure disordered Kidneys.

Coquelin Buried.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The best known men and women in French art, science and literature gathered yesterday afternoon at Port aux Dames, a little village near St. Germain, to render their last homages to the famous French actor, Benoit Constant Coquelin, who died Jan. 27.

Messages of condolence have been received from all parts of the world. Sara Bernhardt, who is in Italy, telegraphed: "I am overwhelmed and grief-stricken. I salute the dear dead."

Says Judge Broke Sabbath Day.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Robert Brown, who claims the title of "Rev.," as pastor of the Chinese Mission, wanted the Lord's Day Alliance to prosecute Judge Winchester for a breach of the Lord's Day Act.

In giving judgment that Brown is not qualified to perform marriages, the pastor alleges a copy of the judgment he received was dated Nov. 17, 1907, a Sunday.

Export of Cattle.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—By order of the Department of Agriculture no Canadian cattle, sheep or other swine will be allowed to leave Canada for export to Europe except through the ports of St. John, N.B., Halifax, N.S., or Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Previous orders regarding exportation of cattle to Europe are rescinded.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

ELDERLY FOLKS SHOULD TRY IT

Simple Home Mixture Relieves Kidney and Bladder and Rheumatism

The great majority of men and women at the age of 50 years begin to feel the first signs of advancing age in some form of kidney trouble and bladder weakness. Few are entirely free from that torturous disease rheumatism, which is not a disease in itself but a symptom of deranged function of the kidneys which have become clogged and sluggish, failing in their duty of sifting and straining the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc. from the blood, permitting it to remain and decompose settling about the joints and muscles causing intense pain and suffering.

The bladder however, causes the old folks the most annoyance, especially at night and early morning.

Hundreds of readers who suffer will find the following which is known as the Dandelion mixture the most harmless and effective treatment to clean the system of rheumatic poisons, removing irritation of the bladder and relieving urinary difficulties of the old people. It is a true vitalizing tonic to the entire kidney and urinary structure, reinvigorating the entire system."

The Dandelion mixture consists of the following simple prescription the ingredients of which can be obtained from any good pharmacy at small cost; Compound Kargon one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and upon going to bed also drink plenty of water.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIAL EVENING

A very enjoyable social time was spent last evening by the members of St. Paul's Young People's Society. Mr. W. C. Lang presided. Two papers were read by Mr. Downey and Rev. Pogue on "Jane Austen."

An instrumental solo was rendered by Miss McGaw, and an instrumental duet was given by Misses McGaw and McKee.

Altogether a very profitable time was spent.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

COUNTY COUNCIL WEEK'S SESSION

Concluded This Morning — Reports Passed

The County Council concluded its week's session this morning when a number of reports of committees were passed and confirmed. The Council will not meet again until June.

The total wheat crop of Ontario last year was 18,628,192 bushels, as compared with 18,019,142 bushels in 1907. The total output of "Salada" Tea this year is over nineteen million packets. More packets of "Salada" than bushels of wheat. This is a sure indication of public appreciation of its excellent quality and value.

A meeting of the Court of Revision was held last night to consider appeals against sewer assessment.

THE DAILY REVIEW

PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1909

One of the finest characteristics of Seal Brand Coffee is its rich, full body.

Thin and watery coffee is unknown in households that use Chase & Sanborn's Seal Brand.

In 1 pound and 2 pound tin cans. Never in bulk.

SOME SMOKERS' DON'TS.

What to Do If You Would Enjoy Your Weed.

Don't wet the end of your cigarette before you put it into your mouth; you spoil the flavor of the smoke. To prevent the cigarette from sticking to your lips keep the cigarette dry and your lips dry.

Don't wonder why a home-made cigarette burns the tongue more than a ready-made one. The end of the home-made cigarette gets screwed up to a point, and thus you get a "pinprick of smoke on your tongue. In the same way a pipe with a small bore will burn the tongue more easily than will a pipe with a large bore.

Don't fill a new pipe full of tobacco the first time you are going to smoke it. Let the bowl be half full, but smoke it right out, charring the bottom of the bowl. This is the shortest way of breaking in a new pipe.

Don't smoke the same kind of tobacco always if you want to get the utmost enjoyment out of the smoke. After several Virginia cigarettes, smoke one of Turkish tobacco; you will then be able to appreciate the next Virginia cigarette much more thoroughly.

Don't believe all you hear about fine-cut tobacco smoking hotter than flake tobacco in a pipe. If the fine-cut tobacco is packed fairly tight in the bowl, the smoke will be just as cool as that of a coarse-cut tobacco.

Don't put a piece of raw potato in your pouch in order to keep the tobacco moist. Your aim should be to get out some of the moisture which is put in the tobacco when it is manufactured. The simplest way of doing this is to spread out the tobacco on a piece of paper and leave it on the table all night.

ODE OF WELCOME TO CANADA CURLERS

From The Scotsman, Jan 16, 1909

I

From craggy cliffs that beetle o'er the main,
And time-worn turrets grey, that seek the skies,
From Grampa's peaks and many a low land plain,
All fragrant still of Scottish memories,
Where Scotsmen found the fame that never dies,
Our Mother Scotia hails her sons from far,
Her welcome glowing in her queenly eyes,
To weld fraternal bonds, and join the mimic war.

II

Where from the plain the rugged Rockies spring,
And bathe their ice-clad ridges in the blue,
Our Scotia found her own, and on the wing,
Of ice sprites harnessed to her car, she flew,
Bearing a message to the leal and true,
To match their prowess on the crystal field
With boulders bright, and swishing brooms anew,
To meet the men of might and burly bield,
That dare full oft to fight, but never dare to yield.

III

Where Manitoba's mighty prairies roll
She watched with winged speed your gliding sleighs,
Forge forward night and day to Scotia's goal;
Proud has she been to horse them, but her Greys,
Alas are exiled in these latter days.
Then by Toronto and Ontario's shore
The peasants stood with open-eyed amaze,
To view the cavalcade—the brooms they bore,
And swell the curlers' cheer that hushed Niagara's roar.

IV

The Thousand Islands and the Rapids past,
Where mighty Lawrence hastes to wed the sea,
Or stately Hudson pours his waters vast
To wash the feet of new born Liberty,
Our knights of broom with jound jest and glee,
Amang their Argos high for Scotia bound,
Are these the Arran hills and Ailse Craig we see,
'Tis but a step to cross the Gulf profound,
Brooms, boulders, straps and we, all safe on Scottish ground.

V.

Hail, curlers of the West, the wale o' men,
Hail skip Strathcona, curler to the core,
Edina bids you welcome once again,
And joys to meet you on the crystal floor,
Wi' chaps an' wicks and eident brooms galore,
We elbow in and out to pile the score,
Then here to meet on beef and greens to dine,
And round with maple leaves the rough burr thistle twine.

THE CARE OF CHILDREN CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON

During the past week a notable conference of leaders in charitable work was held in Washington at the call of President Roosevelt. Canada was represented at this meeting by Mr J J Kelso, who was specially invited by the President to attend. The following were the conclusions arrived at and the President urged that all who were interested in the care of the nation's children should do all in their power to have them put into effect.—

1 Children of worthy parents or deserving mothers should, as a rule, be kept with their parents at home.

2 Society should endeavor to eradicate causes of dependency like disease and to substitute compensation and insurance for relief.

3 Homeless and neglected children, if normal should be cared for in families, when practicable.

4 Institutions should be on the cottage plan with small units, as far as possible.

5 Agencies caring for dependent children should be incorporated, on approval of a suitable State Board.

6 The State should inspect the work of all agencies which care for dependent children.

7 Educational work of institutions an agencies caring for dependent children should be supervised by State educational authorities.

8 Complete histories of dependent children and their parents should be recorded for guidance of child-caring agencies.

9 Every needy child should receive the best medical and surgical attention and be instructed in health and hygiene.

12 A permanent organization for work along the lines of these resolutions is desirable.

14 Suggest special message to Congress favoring Federal Children's Bureau and other legislation applying above principles to District of Columbia and other Federal territory.

PETERBORO' CAMERA CLUB

The Peterborough Camera Club has now completed its fourth month of existence and has now a membership of 31 active members and twenty honorary members and financially is on a sound footing. Its meetings have been fairly well attended. It was organised on Sept. 18th with 8 active members which has now increased to thirty-one active members.

The officers elected at the first meeting in October were:

Hon. Pres.—His Worship Mayor Rush.

Vice-Pres—The Professional Photographers.

Pres.—J. A. Morgan M.D.

1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. R. S. Rose.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. McCarthy.

Sec.-Treas.—N. A. Howard Moore.

Since that date an executive committee of six has been elected. Messrs. A. W. Patterson, Alfred Rogers and J. A. Brightman for two years and Messrs. James English, Allen McCarthy and R. Picard for one year.

At each meeting a programme of exceptional excellence has been presented which has been both entertaining and instructive, consisting of papers on the "Dark Room" "Art of Negative Making." "At Home Portraiture." "Photography, an aid Surveyors and Surveying." All of these were accompanied with charts and illustrations on the subject. Demonstrations were also given on "Sepia Work" by Mr. Louis Mendel "Analytical Composition of Sodium Salts" by Mr. Frank Russell and "Printing and development and obtaining of Sepia effects on Velox papers by Mr. S. F. Badgley of the Canadian Kodak Co. of Toronto. All these were listened too by the members and their friends with a great deal of interest. A number of other features have also been promised for the balance of the winter including "Lantern Slide making." "Bank Development" and "Pyro Development." An exhibition sometime during April in under consideration.

The last meeting held on Tuesday evening was an unusually interesting one to the large audience which greeted the demonstrator Mr. S. F. Badgley of Toronto. He gave a very instructive talk on "Printing and Development of Velox Papers" and "Obtaining of Sepia effects on Velox papers." The work done by Mr. Badgley was of the first order and was watched attentively by everyone present.

The questions which were asked by many showed an unusual interest and all felt that the two hours was all too short. Several hints which Mr. Badgley gave is worthy of reproduction "Snap Shot" should be used only by new beginners "Time exposures should only be practiced by those of experience." "The stronger the developer the softer the prints." Those who were not present missed one of the most instructive of the series. The subject for the next meeting will be either "Pyro developing" or "Lantern Slide Making" with a demonstration.

Jury Deplore Conditions.

Kingston, Jan. 30.—The jury in connection with the recent level crossing tragedy deplore the conditions of the crossing, and recommended immediate action to improve conditions and make it safe for the public. The jury further recommended that the conditions of the crossing and finding of the jury be brought to the attention of the Railway Commissioners.

W. Pope, solicitor, appeared for the G.T.R., and A. B. Cunningham for relatives of the deceased.

Probing Englishman's Death.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Suspicious circumstances connected with the death of J. W. Wheeler, an English manufacturer, whose dead body was found yesterday in his room at 331 Michigan avenue, have led the police to begin an investigation. The gas jet was found open, but, according to the police, there was not sufficient gas in the room to cause death. Wheeler arrived in Chicago four days ago and registered from Liverpool, England.

Penny Cables Not Yet.

London, Jan. 30.—A pessimistic note was struck at a meeting of the Norwegian Chamber of Commerce regarding penny-a-word cables. Sir F. Flannery said that the time had not arrived when a sufficient increase in traffic would be obtained by making the reduction. Mr. Machin said that the rate of a penny per word was impossible. Sir J. Cockburn remarked that cheaper rates would come in the future.

Conservative Paper For St. John.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 30.—The Standard Publishing Co., Limited, which will either purchase the plant of The Sun and Star or secure a new plant, to print a Conservative daily in this city was organized yesterday, with J. W. Daniel, M.P., president; Ald. J. B. M. Baxter, vice-president, and A. B. Armstrong, secretary-treasurer.

Didn't Regard Sheriff's Presence.

Tilbury, Jan. 30.—Geo. Chalmers, late proprietor of the Balmoral Hotel, with his bartender, Alvin Morrison, and stepson, Elmer Ainslie, were yesterday committed for trial at the spring Assizes for fraudulently removing horses, liquors and cigars from the hotel premises after the sheriff had placed the goods under seizure.

To Inspect Dangerous Crossings.

Windsor, Jan. 30.—Essex County Council yesterday passed a motion to petition the Railway Commission to inspect dangerous level crossings on town line between Sandwich West and Sandwich East, over Michigan Central and electric railways.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR INDIGESTION

The Only Sensible Way to Cure Stomach Troubles and Give New Health.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach and causes serious interference with other organs especially with the action of the heart and lungs. These poisonous gases have other ill effects. They are absorbed by the blood and so weaken and corrupt it as to cause aches in remote parts of the body and the formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. General bodily weakness and loss of weight is the result. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and discomforts such as dizziness hot flashes sleeplessness, irritability and despondency originate from this source. Experience shows that these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words it needs a tonic that will rouse it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment. The tonic ought to be one that will agree with the most delicate stomach and this is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. Here is a bit of strong proof;—

Miss Lizzie Macdonald, Harbor-au-Bouche N.S., says;—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me what no other medicine did or apparently could do. For almost three years I suffered untold agony from indigestion I would have the most distressing pains in the stomach after eating. I could not sleep at night and I would rise in the morning feeling tired and worn out. I lost in weight and was almost reduced to a shadow. I was under doctor's treatment almost constantly but with no benefit. One day I read the testimonial of a lady who had been cured of dyspepsia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. The first two or three boxes I took did not show any apparent relief and I began to fear the medicine would not help me but as I had bought a half dozen boxes I decided that I would use them up anyway. To my joy before they were all used I began to improve and I got three boxes more. By the time I finished these I was again in the best of health and had gained 12 pounds in weight. I have not since had a twinge of this terrible trouble and am more grateful than words can for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

BEFORE TREATMENT

☞NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands, scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. Chinese Trick Failed.

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The Trade and Commerce Department will deport two Chinese laborers who sought free entry to Canada at Montreal on the ground that they were merchants. They had each been loaned $500 to carry on the deception.

Men and Teams In Water.

New York, Jan. 29.—Five men and two teams and trucks were thrown overboard from a ferryboat as she smashed into the side of her dock yesterday. The men were rescued.

Sensational Charges, These.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 29.—A nurse and others made sensational charges against the Fitchburg Hospitals. Patients, they say, have been drugged to death that nurses might carry on intrigues with men.

Enquiry at Grimsby.

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—D'Arcy Scott, the assistant chief railway commissioner, and Dr. Mills will hold a sitting at Grimsby on Feb. 10 to investigate the recent catastrophe at the level crossing there.

Flying Machine In Berlin.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—The first experiments in Berlin with a flying machine were witnessed yesterday when Armand Zipfel, a French aviator, began a series of trials on Templehof field.

An enormous crowd, exceeding 50,000, was attracted to the scene, but the expectations of the people were disappointed, for the machine, a Moison biplan, failed to fly.

12 Tumors Removed Without an Operation

Silver Lake, Ontario, September 29, 1904.

Dear Mrs. Currah:—

"I am enjoying better health than I have for eight years, and I think I am entirely cured. I have none of the old symptoms, I am very grateful for my present health, and I think Orange Lily is the greatest treatment for women the world knows Its use in my case caused 12 tumors or growths of some sort to be expelled. Some were as large as a hen's egg, and others smaller down to the size of a walnut. You may use my case in your advertisement, for it is the solid truth, and pen cannot describe all the good it has done for me."

Mrs. Louis E. Bolteridge.

ORANGE LILY

This letter gives an indication of the positive benefits that always follow the use of Orange Lily. It is an applied treatment, and comes in direct contact with the organs. It produces results from the start in all cases of women's disorders including painful periods, falling of the womb, leuchorrea, etc.

I will send a sample box containing 10 day's treatment absolutely free to any woman who has not yet tried it if she will send me her address.

Address with stamp.

ANGER IS DANGEROUS.

It Wrecks the Whole System and Tends to Shorten Life.

It is well known that a violent fit of temper affects the heart instantly, and psychophysicists have discovered the presence of poison in the blood immediately after such outburst. This explains why we feel so depressed, exhausted and nervous after any storm of passion—worry, jealousy or revenge—has swept through the mind. It has left in its wake vicious mental poison and other harmful secretions in the brain and blood.

There is no constitution so strong but it will ultimately succumb to the constant racking and twisting of the nerve centers caused by an uncontrolled temper. Every time you become angry you reverse all of the normal mental and physical processes. Everything in you rebels against passion storms; every mental faculty protests against their abuse.

If people only realized what havoc indulgence in hot temper plays in their delicate nervous structure, if they could only see with the physical eyes the damage done as they can see what follows in the wake of a tornado, they would not dare to get angry.

When the brain cells are overheated from a fit of temper their efficiency is seriously impaired, if not absolutely ruined. The presence of the anger poison, the shock to the nervous system, is what makes the victim so exhausted and demoralized after loss of self control.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

THE BACK OF THE NECK.

Make It Proof Against Drafts and Colds in the Head.

"When I was a boy," said a doctor, "I didn't believe in drafts. I thought that they who imputed colds to drafts were cranks. But one November night at a concert I felt all the evening a strong draft on the back of my neck. It was so strong it resembled a suction pump. 'Now,' said I to myself, 'we'll see if this draft will give yours truly a cold.'"

He shuddered.

"For a week," he said, "I was laid up with so vile a cold that I couldn't breathe save with my mouth open. And now I am satisfied that nine out of every ten colds are solely due to a draft on the back of the neck.

"I know how to prevent such colds. Hence I may practically say that I know how to prevent all colds. It is a fact that none of my patients, thanks to my method, know what a cold is.

"They learn from me to do this—to bathe the back of the neck every morning in cold water. Thus the spot becomes hardened. It becomes draft proof.

"And when a new patient, peculiarly sensitive to colds, visits me, my peculiar treatment is to blow on the back of his neck with a bellows for several days in succession. The bellows, in conjunction with the icy douche, frees him from all future susceptibility. Thenceforth his winters pass without that horrid winter pest, a bad cold."

Colored Preacher's Text.

A colored man in Atlanta, Ga., is a preacher on Sundays and a barber on week days. One of his customers makes it a rule to be first in the chair on Monday morning, when he is sure of being entertained by a resume of "Uncle Rastus'" Sunday dissertation. At night the family always looked for the latest from the colored brother. This was one of his recent effusions:

"Yesterday I took for my text 'Cleanliness am next to godliness,' and I dun reach my climax wid dis argument: 'Now, what day follows Sunday? Why, Monday. Monday is wash day in all well reg'lated fambilies. Monday comes nex' to Sunday; so, my bredden, that settles it that the words of my tex' am true, "Cleanliness am nex' to godliness."'"

Too Much Quiet.

On one occasion the hustling and energetic archbishop of York, Dr. Maclagan, wrote to the vicar in an outlying village suggesting that he should lend his church for the purpose of giving the clergy of the district a "quiet day" for meditation and fraternal reunion. The witty vicar of this sleepy hamlet in the wolds promptly replied:

My Dear Lord Archbishop—Your very kind letter to hand. But what the people in this village want most in their spiritual life is not a "quiet day," but an earthquake.

An Appeal For Mercy.

"Judge," said the prisoner, "I suppose you're going to soak me."

"You are a habitual offender," replied the judge; "were caught with the stolen goods, and the court will have to do its painful duty."

"I don't want to seem unreasonable," replied the prisoner. "I don't mind a long sentence. I'm used to it. But say, judge, cut out the lecture that usually goes with it, won't you."

The Brute.

"Yes, this room is dark, damp and positively uninhabitable. It is supplied for your wife's mother, if she has one."

"She has. I'll take the flat."

An Old Timer.

"He's an old newspaper man."

"About how old?"

"Well, he can remember when they only issued extras when something happened."

IVORY TOILET SETS.

Extremely Popular, but Very Difficult to Clean Properly.

Ivory toilet articles are quite as fashionable as silver ones now, and the fact that they are more difficult to clean in no way detracts from their popularity.

It is not easy to remove stains from the mellow, creamy material without spoiling its tone.

Some useful hints on cleaning ivory are given herewith: When the stains are very slight and do not seem to be permanent, though they cannot be rubbed off with a dry cloth, wash the ivory thoroughly in warm water and soapsuds, and then, without drying it on a cloth, place it in the bright sunlight for a few minutes. This exposure will usually remove the stains. After they have disappeared wash the ivory again in soap and water, rinse it thoroughly and dry carefully with a soft cloth.

When the stains do not disappear entirely after contact with the sun's rays the ivory should be washed again in soap and water, then rinsed in clear water to which a little lemon juice has been added. Care must be taken to have the temperature of the water right, as too great heat will injure the ivory.

Very dark discolorations require the services of an expert to remove, though one may be fairly successful by rubbing oxalic acid solution, not too strong, and applying this to the dark spots or streaks with a brush. Afterward wash the ivory well in clear warm water and dry with absorbent cotton or a soft cloth, and then leave in the sunshine or in a warm place to bleach.

The acid of a lemon is not harmful to the most delicate piece of ivory. In fact, the juice of a lemon can be applied with a mixture of cleansing powder or whiting directly to the ivory without running any risk of spoiling its tone or texture. It should, however, be removed quickly and the ivory thoroughly cleansed afterward with plenty of warm water. Cabinet pieces that become discolored can be cleaned in this way and will be greatly improved in color and appearance.

THE FRESH AIR LADY.

She Could Sneeze at a Draft That Wasn't There.

Two women were traveling through Europe together. The one, a modern of the moderns, had the ozone habit hard; the other was of the good old fashioned type to whom a breath of air meant a sneeze, a draft a foreordained cold and an open window at night an immediate need for the undertaker.

One night fate forced these two to room together. Miss Ozone, being the last to retire, threw up both windows as high as possible after turning out the light. Immediately came sneeze after sneeze from the bed.

"Oh, I can never stand that draft! Those windows must come down. I'm taking cold already," cried Mrs. Fraid-of-air.

"But it would kill me to sleep in a stuffy room," replied Miss Ozone.

"Well, I'll have pneumonia by morning if you don't!"

"How ridiculous! Don't you know thorough ventilation is the surest safeguard against pneumonia?"

"Oh, dear, I'm getting a chill now. It's outrageously selfish of you to keep those windows up."

So Miss Ozone, being younger and really fearing the other would get sick from sheer fright, reluctantly pulled down the windows and endured a restless night, to wake up with a bad headache.

In the morning it was found that the open windows that had caused the sneezing and chill were double ones, the outer pair of which had been tight closed throughout the whole discussion.

IN THE KITCHEN.

Onion Cake.—Peel five or six large onions, cut in halves and boil fifteen minutes. Drain and chop fine, adding a small lump of butter. Beat two eggs and mix with them four tablespoonfuls of cold mashed potato, two or three tablespoonfuls of chopped ham, about a teaspoonful of caraway seed and a cup of milk. Mix in the chopped onion and season to taste with salt and pepper. Butter a large, shallow tin, line with a good short paste, spread the mixture over it and bake in a brisk oven. When cooked, lift out of the tin, put on a hot dish on a paper doily or folded napkin and serve hot.

Grape Fruit Salad.—There are several different ways of preparing a grape fruit salad. For a sweet fruit salad, cut in halves, remove the seeds and with a pointed pair of scissors snip the membranes that hold the center core in place and the pulp to the walls, then remove all together. Fill the cavity in the center with powdered sugar, moistened with maraschino liquor, sherry or grape juice. Let stand in a cold place for several hours before serving. When ready to serve, put a maraschina cherry in the center of each fruit. Serve a half fruit to each guest. White grapes cut up and seeded are aften added to the pulp, which is nearly always served in the grape fruit shell. When possible fresh sour cherries are often substituted for the maraschino. Another grape fruit salad is made by removing the pulp from halved grape fruit, discarding all the pith. This done, return the pulp to the skin, put a tablespoonful of mayonnaise dressing on each half and serve on lettuce leaves. Chopped nuts may be added to the grape fruit pulp or chopped celery when in season.

DIFFERENT STYLES.

How Meredith and Browning Might Describe the Same Incident.

If Browning and George Meredith were describing the same act they might both be obscure, but their obscurities would be entirely different. Suppose, for instance, they were describing even so prosaic and material an act as a man being knocked downstairs by another man to whom he had given the lie. Meredith's description would refer to something which an ordinary observer would not see or at least could not describe. It might be a sudden sense of anarchy in the brain of the assaulter or a stupefaction and stunned serenity in that of the object of the assault.

He might write: "Wainwood's 'men vary in veracity' brought the baronet's arm up. He felt the doors of his brain burst and Wainwood a swift rushing of himself through air, accompanied with a clarity as of the annihilated."

Meredith, in other words, would speak queerly because he was describing queer mental experiences. But Browning might simply be describing the material incident of the man being knocked downstairs, and his description would run:

What then? "You lie" and doormat below stairs
Takes bump from back.

This is not subtlety, but merely a kind of insane swiftness.—Gilbert K. Chesterton.

BEARDED LADIES.

A Parisian Showman Says They Are Quite Numerous.

An Englishwoman who confesses to a mild mania for attending the street fairs common in and around Paris says that she is always impressed by the extraordinary number of bearded ladies among the attractions.

"I was inclined to think that they were fakes," she says in the London Gentlewoman, "but when I discovered that they were quite genuine my surprise at this wonderful supply of phenomena grew stronger. And when a few days ago I saw at the fair in the Avenue d'Orleans a lady exhibited with a long flowing beard I could no longer withhold my curiosity.

"I applied for information to a gentleman well known in the showman world and who acts as a kind of agent to the people owning shows, supplying them with the necessary goods, human and otherwise. This gentleman appeared surprised at my question.

"'Bearded ladies!' he exclaimed. 'I can find as many as I like. You have no idea how many women, if they liked, could rival men as regards whiskers and mustaches. But they are not anxious to enter into that kind of competition.'"

Winged Burglars.

Buchner in his "Psychic Life of Animals" speaks of thievish bees which, in order to save themselves the trouble of working, attack well stocked hives in masses, kill the sentinels and the inhabitants, rob the hives and carry off the provisions. After repeated enterprises of this description they acquire a taste for robbery and violence. They recruit whole companies, which get more and more numerous, and finally they form regular colonies of brigand bees. But it is a still more curious fact that these brigand bees can be produced artificially by giving working bees a mixture of honey and brandy to drink. The bees soon acquire a taste for this beverage, which has the same disastrous effect upon them as upon men. They become ill disposed and irritable and lose all desire for work, and finally, when they begin to feel hungry, they attack and plunder the well supplied hives.

One Reason.

There may be two reasons for a thing, both equally true, and it may be the height of folly to attribute the effect to both. A gentleman to whom art was a strange thing asked a friend to whom the ways of its votaries were more familiar:

"Why does Conneray stand off and half shut his eyes when he looks at the pictures he is painting? I was in his studio the other day, and he made me do it too."

"That's simply explained," replied the other. "Did you ever try to look at them near to, with your eyes wide open? Well don't. You can't stand it."

Didn't Wait For It.

A couple of Scotch ministers were taking dinner together one summer day in a little manse in the highlands. It was the Sabbath day, the weather was beautiful, and the bubbling streams were full of trout and the woods full of summer birds. One turned to the other and said:

"Mon, don't ye often feel tempted on these beautiful Sundays to go out fishing?"

"Na, na," said the other. "I never feel tempted. I juist gang."

Plenty of Him.

"What sort of man is Jinks?"

"The impression you get of Jinks depends on the circumstances under which you meet him. If you're there to collect money you won't like him. But if you're there to pay money he seems a lovely character."

His Way Out of It.

"He don't give nuthin' to the church now?"

"No. Somebody told him the Bible says salvation is 'free,' an' he says fur be it from him to dispute the Scriptures!"

REAL LITERARY LABOR.

Example of Charles Dudley Warner's Infinite Painstaking.

The extraordinary pains and patience with which Charles Dudley Warner did his literary work are shown in an account given by a writer in the New Amstel magazine of the strenuous way in which Mr. Warner produced an obituary notice some years ago.

Professor Edward L. Youmans was a close personal friend of Mr. Warner, and on that account when Mrs. Youmans died the editor of a daily paper asked Mr. Warner to write a sort of personal appreciation of her. This he consented to do.

He was left alone from 10 a. m. until half past 12, when he went to lunch. Returning at 2 o'clock, he worked without interruption until 4 o'clock, when he turned over to the editor what he had written.

Yet the work was not complete. Mr. Warner read the first proof and in succession three revised sheets.

Each time he made change after change in phraseology, seeking out the one right word, while even in the nicety of paragraphing he seemed to make clearer what he desired to express. Nor did the close revision end with the marking of the last proof.

After the paper had gone to press and the first sheets had been brought up to the composing room for an O. K. Mr. Warner looked wistfully at the editor and observed:

"Would you object to lifting the form? I see a sentence in the last paragraph that might be somewhat changed. She was too good, you know, to have a slovenly tribute paid to her."

Even the printers refused to get angry over the delay, and forthwith the form was sent up and changes went on for an hour. At last, though publication was delayed fully two hours, the editor, but not Mr. Warner, had the supreme satisfaction of knowing that the work was as nearly perfect as human art could make it, and the edition was sent out.

FIRST NIGHTS.

The Way They Affected Some Famous French Playwrights.

The first night with authors is viewed with different feelings. This is how it affected some famous French playwrights. Sardou's nervousness was well known. Dumas fils was never able to preserve his sangfroid. As soon as the curtain rose Dumas pere would betake himself to a restaurant and dine from as many courses as his new piece had acts. His son reported on the success of the piece. At the first representation of "Toussaint Louverture" Lamartine found his work so tedious that he went to a cafe and read the papers. Balzac when he produced "Resources de Quinola" spent the day in selling tickets at a rate higher than at the box office and reaped a fine return.

Paul de Kock, seated in the orchestra, we also read, protested against his piece and made so much noise that his neighbors demanded silence. Casmir Delavigne remained at home. Alexandre Soumet went to be shaved when "Jeanne d'Arc" was produced. The barber had finished one cheek when the author cried: "Stop! Here are 30 sous. Go round to the theater and see if they hiss or applaud the piece." The barber returned, saying: "It is a success, monsieur. They applaud." "Since it is a success," replied the author, "shave the other." Scribe appeared in the best of spirits and encouraged the actors, but at the end he became nervous and tore his handkerchief with his teeth. Rossini walked about the back of the stage with his cane in his hand. Auber was never present on the first night of his works, and Bayard on reaching the stage is reported to have said that he experienced sudden illness.

Smoothed the Sea.

A gentleman aboard a steamer running between Southport and Blackpool approached one of the sailors during the passage and remarked to him:

"We have a very smooth sea this morning. It is like a sheet of glass. You don't always have it like this?"

"No, sir," was the answer, "but, you see, they knowed as how you were coming today, so the authorities at Southport telephoned to the corporation at Blackpool, and they at once ordered out the steam roller and rolled the sea down for the occasion. That is why it is so smooth."—London Tit-Bits.

Saved by a Puncture.

"I am a swift runner," said the man who was telling a snake story, "and as I fled down the mountain I outdistanced the huge python that was so relentlessly pursuing me. But these creatures are cunning. To twist itself into the shape of a cart wheel was the work of a moment, and now the python had gained. Faster and faster it rolled down the steep incline. Then, bang! The serpent had struck a sharp, jagged rock and punctured. I was safe."—London Globe.

A Large Toast.

A prominent man, unexpectedly invited to an entertainment, found himself called on for toasts among others. He was unprepared; but, being a quick thinker, he arose and said, "I toast to the toast that was toasted by the toaster who had toasted all the toasts that were ever toasted by a toaster."

Thankfulness.

"Thankfulness," said Uncle Eben, "ain' nuffin' but the common sense needful to recognize some of de good things dis world is chock full of."—Washington Star.

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW

will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven=Thousand=Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this City or County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City (of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

Most Remarkable Gathering Ever Held in Canada in Toronto in March

In many respects the National Congress of the Laymen's Missionary Movement next spring will be the most remarkable gathering ever held in Canada.

The churches of the entire Dominion, without regard to denominational lines, have never before come together with such hearty unanimity in behalf of any cause, and strong denominational conferences will be held every forenoon during the Congress, but in the great sessions in Massey Hall lines of division will be entirely obscured.

In no nation have the churches ever been called upon to formulate a national policy in regard to their missionary undertakings, and possibly the most remarkable feature is the fact that so large an undertaking is entirely in the leadership of laymen rather than the clergy.

The clergy, however, will be present in large numbers, and the first session Wednesday afternoon March 31st, will be of special interest to them. The Congress programme is planned with this in view, so that many of the pastors who attend will be able to get away Saturday, April 3rd, and yet not miss any of the features planned especially for them. The closing day, Sunday, April 4th, will be marked by the strongest possible addresses to different groups of laymen and college students.

In connection with the Congress there will be special conferences for ministers, students and Sunday school workers. The women's societies of several communions are planning great meetings at the same time, and the denominational conferences promise to be of great profit.

In addition to the British and Canadian speakers, invitations to address the Congress have already been accepted by Mr. Robert E. Speer, of New York; Bishop J. M. Thoburn, from India; Dr. J. M. Zwemer, formerly of Arabia; Hon. S. B. Capen, of Boston; Mr. J. Campbell White, of New York; Mr. Silas McBee, of New York.

It is expected that there will be 2,000 regular commissioners in addition to the group of honorary commissioners composed of clergymen, theological students and visiting Americans. Special rates will be given by the railroad companies and the action of Canada in her effort to meet the nation's share of responsibility in the world problem of missions will be watched by all Christian nations.

The theme of the Conference will be "Canada's National Missionary Policy," with such subdivisions as follows;

"The Relation of the Ministry to a Missionary Church."

"The Victorious Progress of Missions."

"The Stewardship of Life."

"How to Lead the Church to Its Highest Missionary Efficiency."

The Congress has been described as unique, broad, far-reaching and epoch-making.

"ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ME ANY GOOD"

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Backache After Doctors Failed Utterly.

"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I suffered for years from backaches and pain in the head and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches. I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

Mrs. Frank Eaton, Frankville, Ont.

Be wise. Profit by Mrs. Eaton's example, and start with "Fruit-a-tives." They will quickly relieve Pain in the Back, and stop Headaches because they keep bowels, kidneys and skin in perfect order and insure the blood being always pure and rich.

"Fruit-a-tives" is now put up in the new 25c trial size as well as the regular 50c boxes. All dealers should have both sizes. If yours does not, write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A LIVE COAL TRICK.

Teaches Natural Law, Yet Has All the Appearance of Magic.

No one would suppose that it is possible to hold a glowing coal on a piece of linen or cotton without burning the cloth, but that such can be done is easy for any one to prove, and at the same time the experiment teaches an important natural law. Every child knows that the telephone and telegraph wires are made of copper because that metal is a good conductor of heat and electricity, which is only another form of heat. If a poker is heated in the fire you pick up a cloth to hold the outer end, although it has not been in the fire, because experience has taught you that the heat is connected through the metal from the fire to the outer end.

This experiment with the flaming coal is based upon this principle and the additional one that linen and cotton are poor conductors of heat. Take a globe of copper and draw a piece of cloth tightly over it so that there is not a wrinkle at the top. If the linen or cotton is closely woven the trick is all the more certain. Then, holding the cloth tightly in place, you can safely put a glowing coal on top of the cloth, and, while it burns fiercely, the cloth will not even be scorched.

The reason is that the great conductivity of the copper draws the heat of the coal before it can burn the cloth. Do not make this experiment with a good handkerchief first, for if the cloth is not tightly drawn it may burn, but take some worthless piece of linen or muslin, and after you are certain of your experience you can astonish your friends who do not know the secret.

DEADLY POISONS.

One Whiff of Pure Prussic Acid is Sufficient to Kill.

Pure prussic acid is never sold or handled. The smell of it is always fatal. It kills not in three minutes or half an hour, but the instant it enters the lungs as a gas. The mixture ordinarily sold as prussic acid is 98 parts water to two parts of the drug. Even in this form it is very deadly. A 20 per cent mixture of the acid would kill nearly as quickly as if pure.

Atropine, though it has no harmful odor, is so deadly that as much of it as would adhere to the end of a moistened forefinger would instantly cause death.

Cyanide of potassium has a pleasant smell which is not injurious, but a small quantity swallowed kills at once.

Pure ammonia if inhaled would cause death almost as quickly as prussic acid.

When a carboy of nitric acid is broken some one has to suffer. It will burn wood, eat through iron plates and destroy whatever it touches. Such an accident once happened in an acid factory. Every one ran away, leaving the acid to amuse itself by setting fire to things. Soon it was seen that the building would be destroyed and hundreds of people thrown out of work, and four men volunteered to put out the fire in the acid room. They succeeded and came out all right. Five hours later all were dead.

Matthew Walsh, once secretary to Hon. John Costigan, is dead at Ottawa, aged 74.

Ottawa Conservatives will drop their protest against Sir Wilfrid Laurier's election.

THE ARTISTIC PIRATES.

Yo ho! for the sail-swept Spanish Main,
Yo ho! for the pirates grim,
With the shark agleam on the weather beam
And the crew a-studying him!

"Art is Art!" quoth Gory Tim,
(The gunner bold was he)
As he chewed the bight of a bowline wight
Abaft of the larboard lee.

"I stick for Art!" says he again,
"But I likes it red an' gory!
With a Frenchman's thumb (cut off, by gum!)
I've drawed me many a story!

"I've drawed my gun in action, too,
An' at point-work I'm a bristler!
I've plashed in red to the foretop's head,
An' painted decks like Whistler!"

Quoth Leary Jake the bosun's mate,
As he lowered the boarding-netting:
"I, too, likes art—but a carving part,
In a rich vermillion setting!"

"But ho! there's a sail on our starboard bow," Cried the Captain. "Lads, look hearty!
'Tis a man-o'-war, and furthermore,
She'll eat us, a la carty!"

And that she did—and they all were swung
From a yard-arm, most unwilling.
Quoth Jake to Tim, as they knotted him:
"Their line-work, mate is killing!"

SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Lord Strathcona Declares It is Perseverance and Good Credit.

What is the secret of success? Lord Strathcona has expressed his views on the subject recently for The Standard.

Giving evidence in the Federal Court at New York in the United States Government's suit for the dissolution of the Standard Oil Co., which organization has made him the richest man in the world. Mr. John D. Rockefeller, on being asked the question: "What was the secret of your success?" replied: "We always had credit, we kept out of convenants, and we paid on our paper."

"I think Mr. Rockefeller is right," said Lord Strathcona. "Mr. Rockefeller, by credit, does not mean only money trust—he means the readiness to oblige, which is aroused in all men by strong and reliable characters. I think he is right, decidedly.

"What the message does not mention is Mr. Rockefeller's perseverance and his ability of seeing what not to undertake.

"Tell your young men and young women readers to keep perseverance before them every moment of their lives and to proceed slowly and surely. Opportunity comes to some more frequently than to others. There are very few whom it does not visit at all. You have got to be ready for it. If you are not prepared, that's your fault. Work steadily for improvement, but don't gamble for it. Depend on your own efforts and don't wait for your friends."

The Old Spelling-Match.

The spelling-match, once the favorite arena of local learning in Canada, and the winter entertainment of many a countryside, has almost entirely disappeared. Perhaps country folk of to-day can spell as correctly as did their fathers and mothers, and much better than the average resident in city or town, but it is certain they do not get as much fun out of their knowledge of orthography as did the country folk of a generation ago. Then evening after evening throughout the long winter was spent in these battles over the words, the spelling team of one school being arrayed against that of another, and the contest aroused as much interest in the locality as a hockey match does to-day. The boy or girl (and it was usually the latter, for on the average the girls are better spellers than the boys), who "spelled down" the school, or who stood up last in one of these district matches, was the hero of the hour and the wonder was "that one small head could carry all he knew."

While these spelling-matches appealed to the sporting spirit and to local pride and rivalry somewhat as athletic games do, it cannot be denied that they also appealed to the intellectual side and possessed valuable educational qualities.

In the Muskrat Cities.

The queer, oddly-shaped houses of the muskrats present a peculiar appearance along the banks of the Otonabee river in Peterboro County. In practically all the weed beds and marshes the muskrats are plentiful, and their funny houses, unusually high above water, are to be seen along the shores, like trusses of hay. They almost resemble bee-hives, excepting that they are roughly finished in the exterior with protruding ends of rushes and marsh weeds. They are rounded on top, the rats gaining entrance from underneath. They are well made and warmly lined. In these the rats live through the winter, feeding on what they find under the water. In some of the low-lying places whole cities of these queer abodes may be seen, and the rats should be very plentiful next spring when the season opens for their capture.

More Good Indians.

Ravages of tuberculosis among the Indians of Canada is indicated in the annual report of the Indian Affairs Department issued a few days ago. During the fiscal year ending last March the Indian population numbered 110,000, a decrease of 10. The preceding year showed an increase of 169. To tuberculosis alone is the falling off attributed. The report notes that the Indians are becoming self-reliant. The expenditure for destitution, which ten years ago was $372,000 is now $143,000.

Young Folks

ABOUT A WATCH.

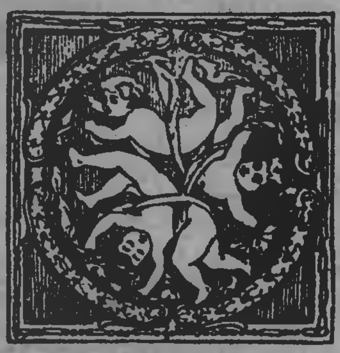
Marvelous Feats Performed by the Most Delicate of Machines.

The watch is the smallest, most delicate machine that was ever constructed of the same number of parts. About 175 different pieces of material enter its construction, and upward of 2,400 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture.

Some of the facts connected with its performance are simply incredible when considered in total. A blacksmith strikes several thousand blows on his anvil in a day and is right glad when Sunday comes around, but the roller jewel of a watch makes every day and day after day 432,000 impacts against the fork, or 157,680,000 blows in a year without stop or rest, or 3,153,600,000 in the short space of twenty years.

Find the Seven Babies.

Here is an ancient but interesting puzzle:



One and one and one make three, any one would say upon glancing at this picture of the fine little boys, but it is not what you see first that is the right answer to the question. "How many are there? Look again, and perhaps you will be sharp enough to see that one and one and one make not three, but more than twice three—seven. Look among the squirming arms and legs, among the chubby hands and feet, and you cannot fail to make up the puzzling addition. And after you have found all seven of the baby boys take the picture and have some fun with your friends watching them fuss and fume that they cannot see more than the original three babies.

New Candy Game.

The hostess should write the following questions on sheets of paper, of course omitting the answers, and give one to each guest, awarding boxes of bonbons for prizes:

What candy is a spice and a money making establishment? Peppermint.

And which consists of a famous river in the east and a variety of nuts? Jordan almonds.

What bonbons should show which way the wind blows? Straws.

The Dijon Poplar.

A traveler in France speaks of a poplar tree that the writer saw in the city of Dijon, which is the oldest tree of its kind in France. It is 122 feet in height and is forty-five feet in circumference at the base. The city council has an authentic record of the history of the tree since the year 722. The people of Dijon are proud of it, so much so that they not long ago voted to levy a tax to put a railing around it, so that it might be protected from possible injury. It is good to see sentiment of this kind.

Questions and Answers.

When could the British empire be purchased for the lowest sum? When Richard III. offered his kingdom for a horse.

What is the largest room in the world? The room for improvement.

When may a man be said to breakfast before he gets up? When he takes a roll in bed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Old Hen's Yardstick.

A little boy and his sister were allowed to collect eggs from the hen-coops, but were told that they must never take away the nest egg. The little girl, however, did so one morning by mistake, and her brother told her she must take it right back "because that was what the old hen measured by."

His Reputation.

Oh, yes, he's an extra high roller!
His hours are unusually late,
And that is the way,
The neighbors all say,
He's a kind of a roller skate.

—Smart Set.

Citing an Example.

"People admire a man who stands on his own feet," remarked the moralizer.

"Yes," rejoined the demoralizer, "especially in a crowded car."—Chicago News.

PUBLIC RIDICULE.

The Time When It Served as Punishment For Lawbreakers.

It is the problem of all ages to make the punishment fit the crime, but they seem to have come nearer its solution in Plantagenet times than they ever were after the introduction of flogging.

When burglary meant the total ruin of the man who kept his whole fortune in his house the burglar was hanged. But in the same period public ridicule served as a punishment for most crimes, and the man who sold bad meat was placed in the pillory and his bad meat burned to windward of him; the vintner who sold bad wine was forced to drink some of it and the rest was poured over his head; for more serious offenses the criminal had to walk along Cheapside bareheaded, dressed only in a shirt and carrying a wax taper, escorted by the mayor's sergeants.

The result was that law and order were maintained far better than when men became brutalized by the horrible floggings of Georgian times.

Punishments became worse with religious persecutions, and after the reformation the pillory, with its terrible accompaniment of slit ears, whippings, etc., became popular, to say nothing of torturing, burning at the stake, and so on. At St. Thomas' hospital one of the sisters, "for a grave offense, contrarie to ye lawe of God and according to the proffe of three wytnesses," was ordered to "be punished and have xii strypes well laid on."

But all this, bad as it was, was less demoralizing than the terrible criminal code of George II.'s reign, when there were forty-eight crimes punishable by death and forty punishable by whipping, transportation or pillory. Flogging for mere vagrancy began with Henry VIII., and as late as 1804 six women were publicly whipped at Gloucester for this unavoidable offense. And never did public morality sink so low.

In those good old days we flogged our sailormen "to encourage the others," and there were many trussed at the triangles who would now be simply admonished. A pleasant form of punishment was "flogging through the fleet." It was given to the ignorant sailorman who struck a superior officer. And when he had been carried from one ship to another and flogged in each he survived—if he was unfortunate—for six months. The lucky man died accidentally.—London Chronicle.

CONFEDERATE FLAGS.

The Stars and Bars and Then the Red Battleflag.

The first Confederate flag was the stars and bars, a blue field and three stripes, one white and two red, and on the blue field seven white stars in a circle, a star for each state that up to that time had seceded. In battle, however, it was seen that this banner bore altogether too close a resemblance to the stars and stripes, and thus there came into use the Confederate battleflag, the origin of which seems to have been as follows:

This is the statement of General William L. Cabell: "When the Confederate army commanded by General Beauregard and the Federal army confronted each other at Manassas, it was seen that the Confederate flag and the stars and stripes looked at a distance so much alike that it was hard to distinguish one from the other. General Beauregard, thinking that serious mistakes might be made in recognizing our troops, after the battle of July 18, at Blackburn Ford, ordered that a small badge should be worn on the left shoulder by our troops and, as I was chief quartermaster, ordered me to purchase a large amount of red flannel and to distribute it to each regiment."

This Confederate battleflag was adopted in September, 1861, and was designed by Generals Johnston and Beauregard. Red was its color, with a blue St. Andrew's cross reaching from corner to corner and white stars on the cross representing the different southern states. The women of the south made these flags by hundreds out of their red and blue silk dresses. Miss Constance Cary, who afterward became Mrs. Burton Harrison, the well known novelist, was one of the three southern girls who made the first three battleflags.—Magazine of American History.

The Man in the Moon.

The dark markings so conspicuous on the moon and known as the "man in the moon" are great plains, lying at a much lower level than the brighter parts. In all probability they are old sea bottoms, some of them having undergone upheavals and other changes since the water retreated from them, others presenting the appearance of being unchanged since the time when the waters dried up or were in some other way removed from them.

His Thirst.

Husband—May, just send up some filtered water. Wife—Which was it last night, "Detained at the office" or "A friend at the club?" Husband—Why? Wife—Because I didn't know whether you wanted a tumbler or a pailful.—London Opinion.

Off His Mind.

"Have you forgotten that X that you borrowed of me some time ago?"

"Oh, no. I still have it in my mind."

"Well, don't you think this would be a good time to relieve your mind of it?"

The sorrow of yesterday is as nothing, that of today is bearable, but that of tomorrow is gigantic because indistinct.—Euripides.

After suffering eight years, this woman was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read her letter.

Mrs. A. D. Trudeau, Arnprior, Ontario, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered terribly from ulceration of the feminine organs for eight years. I tried four doctors but got no relief, and thought I would have to die.

"One day I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper. I sent for some, and before I had used five bottles I was entirely cured. I hope every suffering woman will take my advice and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if you need advice about your sickness. She will treat your letter in confidence and advise you free. Because of her vast experience she has helped thousands. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE LITTLE DUKE.

Early Death of His Father Gave This Nickname to the Duke of Leinster.

The Duke of Leinster has had a beautiful bust of his mother chiselled in marble as a gift from him to the Alexandria College in Dublin, of which the late Duchess of Leinster was a brilliant student. The duke, who came of age in March of this year, is the premier duke, marquis, and earl of Ireland, and has held this unique position since his sixth year. "The little Duke," as he is called—a nickname which has stuck to him since childhood—lost both father and mother within two years. Under the terms of his father's will he is obliged to spend the greater part of the year in Ireland. One day a gentleman visited Kildare for a few days' hunting, and when the hounds were close to Carton, the duke's beautiful seat, every one was invited in for refreshments. The gentleman in question, riding up rather late, could see no groom to take care of his horse, but noticing near the hall a man dressed in the costume formerly worn by the Irish countryman—now rarely seen out of the patriotic Irish drama—smoking a clay pipe, he called him over and asked him to hold his horse. Returning about fifteen minutes later, the visitor found the animal in charge of a groom, to whom the countryman was talking. The latter had evidently finished his observations, for, to the visitor's horror, the groom touched his hat and replied, "Yes, my lord." "Surely not one of the family?" said the visitor to the groom a minute later, to which the answer was, "Yes, he is his grace's uncle, sir!" Two monkeys figure on the crest of the Leinsters. It is related that a fire broke out in the home of one of the duke's ancestors, and everyone was got out of the building except the youthful heir, who was sleeping in one of the top rooms. Just as he was given up for lost a monkey, which had been kept as a pet, was seen clambering up to the nursery window. The animal flung itself into the room, and shortly afterwards returned carrying the young heir in its arms!

KING'S NEW EQUERRY.

King's New Equerry-in-Waiting Is Member of an Ancient Family.

Captain the Hon. Seymour Fortescue, R.N., who has succeeded Lieutenant-Colonel F. Ponsonby as Equerry-in-Waiting to the King, belongs to one of the old Devonshire houses. The name is said to have been derived from the words "fort escu," which referred to the brave deed of an ancestor who shielded the Conqueror on Hastings field. Among the old Fortescues was a chief justice of the King's Bench, who died in 1476, over 80 years of age, and Sir Adrian, who was accused by Henry VIII. of intimacy with Annie Boleyn and executed. His son was a conspirator for Romanism against Elizabeth, whose tutor was his eldest brother, Sir John, the friend of Raleigh, Essex, and Bacon. Two Fortescues were Royalist leaders, Sir Faithful and Sir Nicholas. The latter fell on Marston Moor. Captain Fortescue, who entered the navy in 1869, served through the bombardment of Alexandria in 1882 and the Egyptian War. He was naval A.D.C. to the Comander-in-Chief in South Africa, and was mentioned in despatches. He was also a member of the Naval Intelligence Department for three years. Captain Fortescue is partial to a breezy sea-yarn and is very interested in novel inscriptions. One day a brother officer noticed on the wheel of a small destroyer the lettering "Ut veniant omnes." When the lieutenant in command was asked for an explanation he smilingly replied: "Oh, that means, 'Let 'em all come'."

C. W. Jarvis, of Fort William, has been appointed to the joint railway board of Fort William and Port Arthur.

ARE BURNED TO DEATH TRAGIC END OF FOUR PEOPLE

Philip Vansickle, His Son Martin, Daughter Meletta and Son-in-Law Harry Lose Their Lives Near Ancaster.

Ancaster, Ont., Feb. 1.—In a fire which destroyed their home at Jerseyville, 18 miles west of Hamilton, Saturday morning, Philip Vansickle, his son Martin, his daughter Meletta, and his son-in-law, Harry Vansickle, were burned to death. The whole affair is a mystery and many conflicting explanations of the affair are current throughout the countryside. A coroner's jury is sitting on the case and there is a great deal of doubt whether the tragedy is the result of an accident or of some terrible crime.

At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Seth Vansickle, who lives almost opposite the burned house was there and saw Meletta, his sister; the old man, his father; and Martin, his brother. He worked in the adjoining barns, which were used jointly by the old man and his sons with Harry. When they stopped at 7 o'clock Seth went to his home and Harry went into the house.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning Seth went to the pump outside his father's house and drew a pail of water. He says that he noticed smoke coming from the chimneys at either end of the house and concluded that those within had arisen. There were no marks of footprints to door or window that he could see at the east end of the house, which is that toward his own. He went back to his own house and did not see the other again until his cousin Peter Vansickle came rushing into his kitchen shortly after 11 o'clock crying, "Come, father's house is burning and they are all inside."

It appears that the first to notice the fire were Bert and Peter, nephews of old Philip Vansickle, who live immediately west of the homestead on opposite sides of the road. Bert with his son Stanley were at work in their barn when they noticed smoke issuing from the window sashes of the old man's house. The father sent Stanley to see what was the matter, but before he returned his father saw a little tongue of flame lick out upon the verandah which ran along the front of the house. This would be about 11 o'clock. Bert dashed across the road and told his brother Peter and then ran for the burning house.

As is the custom Peter sounded an alarm by frantically ringing the large dinner bell and then ran to join Bert in rescuing the inmates.

Meanwhile Bert had reached the house. He rushed to the east end and around to the north corner, where the old man's room was situated on the ground floor.

THREE SISTERS IN A FAMILY DIE WITHIN SIX MONTHS

Mrs. Michael Cadigan, who died last evening, is the third daughter of Mr. J. Cronin, who has passed away within the past six months. Only the week before last the deceased's sister, Mrs. Michael Eano, was buried. The late Mrs. Cadigan died at her late residence, Concession street, Ashburnham, after a lengthy illness. She was forty years of age and was born in the city, having resided here all her life. She was a woman highly esteemed by all who knew her and the news of her death will be learned with profoundest regret.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband and two young boys, who have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement. Her father, two sisters, Miss Jane and Kate, and one brother, Thomas Cronin, also survive her.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, from the family residence, Concession street, to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

TO CORNER THE MARKET

Wheat Market Feels Stringency That Bespeaks Big Manipulation Going On.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 1.—Not in ten years has there been a condition in the grain trade quite like that existing in Minneapolis and Chicago now, where James A. Patten operating in both markets, has bought anywhere from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels, and presumably is out to run a corner in May wheat.

The effect always felt before a corner gets under way is now apparent in the trade. Nothing is doing. Dealers agree that, as Patten stands and takes delivery of his wheat bought for May delivery, prices might easily advance to $1.25 or higher. They see also that in the grand statistics of the country he has the advantage, for there is not a great quantity of wheat in the United States, consumptive and export demand considered, and the present outlook is for a winter wheat crop next season smaller than for several years.

The exporting and manufacturing end of the business is getting the adverse effect. Buyers are afraid to stock up with flour or flour by-products or with grain, either wheat or other cereals, for fear that, should the Patten crowd ever decide to give up the deal and throw their holdings of wheat on the market, great decline in prices might follow.

The result of it is a deadlock. Prices fluctuate in narrow range and all business is down to minimum.

MONTREAL IS SHAKEN

Shock of Earthquake Alarms Citizens---No Damage Reported.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—Montreal was shaken by an earthquake at 11.45 yesterday. People in all parts of the city were awakened by the shock, which was so sharp that it was believed to be an explosion. Men were sent out from the police stations to investigate. While the shock gave a scare to the inhabitants, no damage is reported.

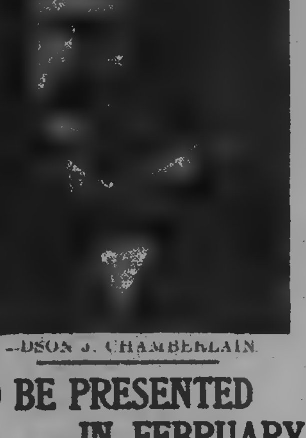
Mexico, Mo., Feb. 1.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Saturday. The motion seemed to be from north to south. Some of the inner walls of the Audrain County court house were cracked their entire length.

MISS HOPE MORGAN TO APPEAR HERE

Miss Hope Morgan, of Toronto, the distinguished Canadian soprano, has been engaged for the annual concert of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, which will be held in the Conservatory Music Hall on the evening of February 11th. The event promises to be a great success.

The G.T.P's New General Manager



--DSON J. CHAMBERLAIN

TO BE PRESENTED IN FEBRUARY

In Saturday's Review it was stated that the musical comedy, "Princess Chrysanthemum," would be presented at the Conservatory Music Hall on March 22nd and 23rd. This was not correct. The comedy is to be given on February 22nd and 23rd and it should prove a great drawing card.

REPRESENTATIVE PEOPLE IN FIRST PUBLISHED LIST

Nominations in the Review's Great Popularity Contest Are Expected to Continue to be Recorded for Some Time to Come---If You Intend Entering Don't Delay.

WHO WILL WIN TRIP TO THE OLD COUNTRY

If You Have a Friend in the List, Get Out Your Scissors and Contribute Your Share of Ballots to Their Success—Every Vote Counts.

The nominations received so far are not only very satisfactory, but very flattering indeed. The proposition has been enthusiastically received and indorsed by all who are familiar with the project, and that it will be a grand success is already an assured fact. The grand prize, free trip to Europe or high-grade piano, of course, is the great attraction, but the district prizes are of sufficient value to be noteworthy.

If the list does not contain the name of your favorite, and you think they would stand a chance to be successful send in their name, and it will appear in the next issue of the Review. Once you have given them a start, other friends will soon rally round their camp, the battle flag is unfurled and the march to victory is begun.

THE VOTING IS FREE. By free votes is meant that, for every payment upon subscription votes are allowed. These votes are to be cast in accordance with the voting schedule in favor of some candidate selected by the patron.

The fact that there is no additional expense attached to the votes makes it an honor and pleasure for enterprising candidates to solicit for votes among their friends, and acquaintances. There is no reason for hesitancy or apprehension in asking the support of people known to the contestants under the favorable conditions governing the Review contest, and the prizes will be awarded to the candidates who have the largest number of free votes at the close of the contest. Votes can not be bought.

A coupon will be published in each issue of the Review, the ones in the daily being good for 2 votes, those in the weekly counting, 5 votes. Write the name of the candidate you wish to vote for on the coupon, send or bring it to the Review office and it will be added to the score of your favorite. A ballot box is in readiness to receive all new nominations, newspaper coupons and certificates issued with subscriptions.

The nominations so far received are very representative. In the city the ladies outnumber the gentlemen, but in the county nearly an equal number are entered in each list. The nominations in the county represent every section of the south part of the county.

The names of the candidates will appear daily, and the votes in favor of each will be allowed to accumulate till Thursday when the first standing will be published. All votes to appear in Thursday's score must be deposited Wednesday evening. Each day thereafter the votes cast up to 8 o'clock in the evening will be added to the respective scores the next day.

The following nominations were received in the Review's European Tour and Diamond contest up to noon today.—

LATEST CABLE AND TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Arrested as Firebug.

Winnipeg, Feb. 1.—Incendiarism is alleged as the cause of Friday night's disastrous fire at Emerson, and, following the representations made Saturday to the Attorney-General's Department, the elder of the firm of Pereles and Brothers, dealers in "job lots," was arrested on Saturday. So intense is the excitement that the townspeople threatened him with violence, and also demanded the arrest of the others of the firm.

The firm have been selling bankrupt stocks and the fire broke out in their store, due, they claim, to a stove falling down. They carried $8,000 insurance.

Loses Both Feet.

Woodstock, Feb. 1.—John Slater, a man with no fixed place of abode, but who is well known in this county, had both of his feet amputated at the hospital yesterday.

Slater was found in a stable at Embro some few weeks ago. His feet had been frozen through exposure.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—The following Ontario appointments are gazetted: Arthur Alexander of Barrie; Walter H. Gregory of Stratford, and Arthur A. Fraser of Cobalt, notary public. Archibald McKellar of Dutton, Elgin, bailiff, succeeding the late Malcolm C. Leitch.

$10,000 For Airship Race.

New York, Feb. 1.—An airship race from this city to Albany, a pioneer event of its kind in the United States, has been arranged as one of the features of the Hudson-Fulton memorial next autumn.

The New York World will donate a prize of $10,000.

Tree Falls on Him.

Hamilton, Feb. 1.—Bertram Wylie, 20 years of age, the son of a Glanford farmer, lies in the City Hospital with a broken back and paralyzed from the waist down. With his father, brother and uncle, he was engaged in cutting down the stub of a maple tree about a foot and a half in diameter and about 12 feet high. After they had nearly finished cutting it off at the stump, the young man, who is six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds, climbed up in the tree in order that his weigh might incline the tree in the desired direction, when it fell. His instructions were to jump when the tree began to fall, but his foot slipped and the tree fell on him. Dr. James White performed an operation on him and he has been placed on a water bed. Slight hopes of his recovery are entertained.

Red Hat For Falconio.

Rome, Feb. 1.—It is expected that a consistory will be held in March, when Mgr. Falconio, the apostolic delegate to the United States, will be recalled and the appointment of Monsignor Aversa, apostolic delegate to Cuba, to take his place, will be announced.

Monsignor Falconio will be created a cardinal either immediately or shortly afterward.

Hypnotized Into Shoplifting.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Two young women who said they were formerly music teachers in Springfield, and that they had been hypnotized by a traveling salesman, who induced them to take up the profession of shoplifting, were arrested in a store here on Saturday. They gave their names as Jane Relsey, aged 21, and Henrietta Burtt, aged 20.

Great Northern's Assistant.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—It is announced at the Great Northern Railway that L. C. Gilman, formerly attorney for the Great Northern Railroad at Seattle, had been appointed assistant to President Lewis Hill of that road.

Half Million For War Balloons.

Washington, Feb. 1.—By voting an appropriation of $500,000, the House of Representatives made liberal provision for further experiments by the army with balloons and airships for use in warfare.

Level Crossing Tragedy.

Rochester, N.Y., Feb. 1.—Jacob Greenagle and his two sons were struck by the Chicago Limited on the New York Central Railway near Lyons Saturday night. One son, George, 7 years of age, was instantly killed and the sleigh demolished. Greenagle and the other child was badly injured.

Loved the Wrong Woman.

New York, Feb. 1.—George Kahn, 37 years old, fatally shot himself in a Brooklyn hotel late Saturday, in the presence of Mrs. Johanna Von Hasselin, wife of the proprietor of Saengerbund Hall, of which Kahn had until recently been manager.

She said: Kahn shot himself when she refused to elope with him.

Drank Wood Alcohol.

Orillia, Feb. 1.—James Loudfoot, a man of about 54 or 55 years of age, died here yesterday morning from the effects of drinking wood alcohol. It is reported that he had been out of town and on his return had drunk the alcohol in mistake. He had no friends or relatives here.

Laird-Scott Libel Case.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 1.—Saturday morning's session of the Laird-Scott libel case was chiefly occupied with cross-examination of Contractor Frye, who testified that he had paid $1,000 to Mayor Laird for influence as to a contract.

The defence produced several witnesses who swore Frye had said in their hearing that he could make more out of exposing Laird than he could make as a contractor in a year.

Dobson, Frye's partner, swore he had given Laird $500 for the provincial rights' party campaign fund.

The court was again crowded.

Would Wed Her Uncle.

Windsor, Feb. 1.—Charged with unlawfully detaining Lorraine Ulch, his 17-year-old niece, Forrest Ulch, residing in Sandwich East, was arrested yesterday and locked up. The girl's parents say that Ulch induced the girl to leave her home and go to him. Miss Ulch openly avows her affection for her uncle and declares that she would marry him were it possible. "Uncle" Ulch, as she calls him, is 42 years old.

Two-Year Term For County Councils.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The legal and legislative committee of the Carleton Council, Saturday afternoon recommended the passing of a resolution calling upon the Legislature to enact that municipal elections be held every two years instead of every year.

"Colonist" Regrets.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 1.—The Colonist newspaper Saturday contained an apology for the publication of the false Borden telegram, explaining that the wire was taken off the telegraph editor's desk and never returned.

TOWN OF GANANOQUE HAD A DISASTROUS BLAZE SUNDAY

Damage Amounting to $100,000 in Early Morning Fire—Opera House Destroyed—Burglars Started Fire.

Gananoque, Feb. 1.—Burglars are blamed for having caused a fire early yesterday morning which completely destroyed the Grand Opera House and the Turner blocks, involving a loss of more than $100,000.

At 3.30 flames were seen bursting from the front windows of Joseph McCauley's restaurant in the Turner Block, King and Stone streets. A gale was blowing, but the firemen responded promptly and soon had five streams playing. Prospects for the destruction of King street looked so certain that Kingston was telephoned for assistance and in 40 minutes an engine and men were entrained at Kingston Junction. As the fire was then under control, a message was sent countermanding the request.

While the origin of the fire is not certain, the discovery that Walter Abbotts' jewelry store had been burglarized during the night leads to the supposition that the burglars broke into the restaurant for something to eat and that they set fire to the building to conceal the crime.

Two men are said to have driven into a hotel shed about midnight, and left about three o'clock.

The fire sufferers are: W. G. Rogers, owner of the Grand Opera House, $30,000, insured for $8,000; also proprietor of the butcher shop, loss $25,000; W. Y. Boyd, owner of Turner Block, a three-storey brick building, loss $25,000; Clifford Sine, druggist, loss $15,000, insurance $8,000; Corrigan & Co., dry goods; James McCauley, restaurant and billiard room, insured; Tiger Hockey Club rooms; Prof. Jackson, musical studio; Colonial Theatre, on top floor of Turner building; Peters Brothers, restaurant; A.O.U.W. and Canadian Order of Foresters, lodge rooms.

Walter Abbott's loss by burglary is over $500. Entrance was secured by boring 13 augur holes around the Yale lock, and knocking it in. The store is six doors away from the restaurant.

SCHREIBER IS FIRE SWEPT HEAVY DAMAGE IS DONE

Schreiber, Feb. 1.—During one of the wildest gales ever experienced in this part of the county, fire broke out in the roof of the Queen's Hotel here about 7.15 Friday night, and in less than two hours the hotel, together with the whole business block adjacent, was reduced to ashes. Only the presence of a thick stone wall between the hotel and store occupied by the Schreiber Trading Co. and postoffice, aided by the efforts of a volunteer fire brigade with the assistance of the C.P.R. fire hose, saved the latter building from destruction also. As it was, the trading company's store and stock was badly damaged by fire and water.

The following is a list of the buildings and places of business destroyed: Queen's Hotel, partly insured; H. H Parliament, barber shop, insured; Schreiber Drug Co., drugs, total loss, insurance unknown; D. McCuaig, billiard and poolroom and tobacco store; A. Strachan, jeweler, loss $5,000, insured; P. McCuaig, bakery and confectionery store; J. H. Beamish, general merchant, loss $45,000; insurance about $35,000; E. J. O'Brien, merchant tailor, loss and insurance unknown; residence of F. Armstrong, contents saved.

K. C. McCuaig lived over the pool room and lost all his furniture.

The Schreiber Trading Co.'s stock is damaged to the extent of $6,000, covered by insurance.

Bad Blaze at St. John.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 1.—Fire early yesterday morning gutted three large establishments, Reid Bros., Dunlop & Cook, furriers, and part of A. D. Skinner's draperies.

WAS McBRIDE CAUSE OF IT ?

B.C. Premier Said to be Cause of Mr. Morse's Resignation ---Interesting Rumor.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The resignation of F. W. Morse as vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific continues to be discussed here. When it was first made known that he had stepped down it was said that it was because the Government had absolutely refused to deal with him. The story now is that it was Premier McBride who forced Mr. Morse from the management of the transcontinental road.

Mr. Morse is not the smoothest man that could be named for a post of that description and of late it is said he became so obnoxious to the British Columbia Government that they refused to conduct negotiations with him, and on one occasion at the request of Mr. McBride Mr. Wainwright was despatched west to deal with the Government.

To-day the Commons will discuss the academic question of the conservatism of the natural resources of the Dominion, on a motion placed on the order paper by R. L. Borden.

BRITISH MAIL IS WRECKED

Bad Smash-up on Intercolonial Near Campbellton, N.B.---Driver is Killed.

Moncton, N.B., Feb. 1.—At 12.45 yesterday the British mail special, in charge of Conductor Wm. Crockett, which left Moncton about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, with a double-header, was wrecked about four miles east of Campbellton. In the engines' cabs were Drivers C. Cool of Campbellton, and A. H. Fryers, Moncton; Firemen Thomas Clark and Walter Carson, Moncton. Driver Cool, who was in the head engine, was pinned beneath the engine and was killed, while Driver Fryers was scalded about the head, arms and legs, but none of the injuries are serious. The train was made up of seven cars, five baggage cars, combination baggage and colonist, diner and sleeper. The run-off is supposed to have been caused by a broken rail. Wrecking crews were rushed to the scene with hydraulic jacks, but it was 6 o'clock last evening before the dead body of Driver Cool was taken from beneath the wrecked engine. Both engines toppled over on their sides and were transferred to other baggage cars, and were forwarded as soon as possible. At the time of the run-off the mail special was running fast, and when the head engine left the rails both locomotives were plunged into the ditch and topple over on their side. There was a heavy snowstorm on the northern division and the special plow had been running on the track for the mail special, but there was no plow on the mail train.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

That Winston Churchill may be appointed Viceroy of India is the interesting piece of gossip in circulation in political circles.

The County of Carleton Conservative Association will meet to choose a candidate on Feb. 16. The choice will be equivalent to election by acclamation.

James McAnaney, about 50 years of age, was found dead in a St. Catharines' livery stable. He had a cut over the eye. Coroner Jory has ordered an inquest.

Burglars broke into the Van Hier Gallery and stole thirty of Van Hier's best paintings, valued at $50,000. A number of international diplomatic orders were also taken.

Mike Manson of Union Bay was the unanimous choice of the Conservative convention to oppose Hon. Mr. Templeman in Comox-Atlin, but it is not thought he will go to the polls.

The Persian revolution has gained such momentum in the last few days that Shah Ali Mirza is afraid that the movement will become national and sweep his capital into the rebel ranks.

Now that the Canadian and Mexican Governments have both formally accepted President Roosevelt's invitation to attend a North American Conservation conference, the session will begin on Feb. 18.

MR. BROWN'S REPORT

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, senior inspector of county schools for the County of Peterborough, has handed in his annual report to the County Council. It furnishes plenty of food for thought. One item of especial interest is that in which he refers to the very poor attendance of scholars in some sections. Even trustees offend in some cases in this particular. That children should be allowed to stay away from school three-fourths of the time spells illiteracy. They may learn to read and write after a fashion, but they are virtually illiterate. The question naturally arises "Why is the law not enforced?" The law is not enforced, because there is nobody whose especial duty it is to enforce. A poorly-paid, downtrodden, rural schoolteacher might just as well pick up his hat and go off at once as to incur the dislike of parents or trustees by "too much interference." The attendance of county children at school needs attention and needs it promptly. To maintain an elaborate and efficient system of inspection and then to neglect its advice, especially when that advice amounts to a warning, is suicidal. The blame for the continuance of such a state of affairs lies at the door of those who control the machinery of education and have bearing on the points or centres of lethargy referred to. A new generation arising more ignorant than their fathers and mothers, is intolerable. It is in vain to preach the Gospel and to encourage a higher morality, while at the same time the mental discipline of the people is neglected and the information acquired by them mere gossip and hearsay. That there are too many schools we are prepared to believe. It is a pity that circumstances compel people in some districts to live so far apart. What we need and need badly, in Ontario and Canada generally is a system of travelling libraries. Books must be brought right up to the door. Then people will read. But it is a rare thing for the love of knowledge to seize those who are not within easy reach of it. Travelling libraries with books of general and useful information and literary interest would do more to put our public conscience, now so much despised, upon a proper basis, than anything else we can think of. The pursuit of wealth by means of railways and highways to the mine may be well enough, but it is wasted time in comparison with the cultivation of a cheap and effectual method of educating the older as well as the younger people of the more remote districts.

FEBRUARY

The glorious month of February is at hand, the finest in the year. To us it is incomprehensible that there should be found objectors to the Ice Castle and Carnival at Montreal, or anywhere else. Except for a prevalence of pneumonia amongst old people there is no form of disease at all epidemic. Those who seek the open air and rejoice in the splendid freshness of real Canadian winter weather are rarely ill. With plenty of snow, stalling up the railways and the country stages with an occasional storm, but more often a playful breeze whirling and swirling the newly-fallen snow, with the bold flash of the sun returning towards his summer strength and the general brightness and hopefulness of all mankind, who would wish for a more delightful season? The month of February is par excellence the month of all the year in Canada.

A WOMEN'S MOVEMENT

We have received a letter, not for publication, asking us to say why there should be a Lay-men's Missionary movement and not a Laywomen's missionary movement, or rather why is it not one movement and not half a movement as it is now. Are women then, not qualified to take part in such a movement that the distinction is made? The letter goes on to say that it is "one more evidence of man's ingratitude and needless tyranny." It is evident that what women demand is that no distinction shall be made between the sexes. We cannot say that men have any inherent right to make that distinction. If not then why is it made? We doubt, however, if in the movement in question any desire to exclude women at any time arose.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"There is no problem, in my opinion, moral, social, economic, to compare with it. It is the supreme problem with which we are confronted at the beginning of 1909." said Mr. Arthur Henderson, M.P., at Wesley's Chapel, City-road, on Monday night. The leader of the Independent Labour Party had come as a listener and not as a speaker to the conference on "The Moral Aspects of Unemployment."—B.W.

"WE MUST HAVE GREATER MEN BEFORE WE CAN HOPE TO HAVE GREATER RESULTS FROM OUR POLITICAL, SOCIAL, COMMERCIAL, OR RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS," said Mr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Globe, in his opening address on "The Men Call of 1909," before the closing session of the second annual Provincial Adult Bible Class Conference in Broadway Tabernacle last night. The great necessity of this city and this land today is not the thing that will make a sensation, but men whose character has been built up solidly from the foundation with all the finer qualities of manhood, and whose lives are made to tell in the betterment of the world."—The Editor of the Globe.

The church worshipping at Ballynahinch, County Down, has been rendered temporarily homeless by the destruction of its building (a wood and iron structure) under the enormous weight of snow which fell last week. The roof fell in, bursting the walls and destroying the furniture, leaving the place entirely useless as a meeting house. Fortunately, the organ, some of the chairs, Bibles, hymnbooks, etc., were saved intact. An effort is to be made to raise money for the erection of a more substantial building of stone or brick which can be erected at a cost hardly exceeding that of the wood building destroyed. Meantime the congregation is finding an acceptable refuge in the town hall, where, last Sunday, well attended and enthusiastic services were held.

NOW IT IS DR. FALCONER WHO TALKS ABOUT THE PURIFICATION OF POLITICS. THERE IS NO DOUBT OF IT—THE POLITICS OF CANADA NEED CLEANSING. BUT THE JOB WILL NEVER BE DONE BY TALKING ABOUT IT.—British Whig.

The condition of Canada by general consent and despite the various so-called uplifting agencies, is low and corrupt. This is universally admitted. Is it not an appalling thing that we have fallen at this late date so low that we are right back where we began? What good is being accomplished? Let us have a good square common-sense talk about it without any further high-falutin' ornamentation, that has no foundation in fact. We are living on false assumptions. Why are the people more like animals than human beings. After all these centuries of church-going and supposed development? In any other department of human endeavor we would change our plans and bearings. We are assuming that a condition of affairs does or may exist, that seem really impossible of accomplishment, ever to the most trifling degree. The so-called sporadic leaders of public opinion and of the people had better call a halt and take stock. So low, so corrupt, so callous, so cynical, so regardless of the commonest details of honesty or truth, have we become, as to be stigmatised as without even a conscience? We were better than this in the days of Athens and Sparta. Even the African pigmies morally, are no worse.

Calais, Maine, Jan. 30.—Mary O'Neill, known as the 'Girl without a country,' is making no end of trouble for the immigration office. If Mary is found in St. Stephens' on the Canadian side of the line she is chased across the bridge to Calais and if an American immigration officer gets sight of her he chases her back to Canada. Mary's case has been referred to Ottawa and to Washington. Mary and her stepmother did not get on very well and Mary was turned out. Inspector Hawthorne of the Canadian service, was called in by the St. Stephens' town authorities, who believed that the girl must become a town charge. Mary was escorted to the international bridge and told to emigrate to Maine and stay there. The Calais city officials told Mary that she lived in St. Stephens, and that she must go back home.

And yet it is said that this is really a Christian country.

A MYSTERY FROM THE SKY

Vivid Imagination Makes Sky Noises Into Messages From Mars

Boston, Jan 30—Wireless telegraph operators in San Francisco and on Mount Wilson have been having an odd experience. The conclusions timidly advanced, are striking and fantastic—but then much that was fantastic a few years ago is now commonplace. What will be the status a decade hence of things that are fantastic today. The odd experience of the California wireless operators was the receipt upon their receiving instruments of strange messages in an unknown code.

Some days ago the operators on Mount Wilson were surprised at the vast increase in this unknown code. It was noticed that the messages came at regular intervals, and that the sending force must have been from instruments possessed of much greater power than any known to be owned in this country or in Japan, and stranger still, the intensity of the message and its clearness increased as the operator ascended the mountain. On the mountain top the crashes of the sending apparatus came in many times stronger than the record of instruments at Los Angeles, the nearest station having powerful instruments. The question, in this unintelligible language of the air, came again and again. It seemed a repetition of the same query. The San Francisco News-Letter ventures the inquiry "Was it Mars talking to us. Why not?"

There was a day when Jules Verne was regarded as the wildest of dreamers and romancers. Nowadays young folks find his tales dull reading—outstripped by modern facts. Who would now take eighty days to circle the globe. It is high time we opened up communications with Mars.

PRESENTATION TO MR. C. C. FORSYTHE

Given Beautiful Baton by Cambridge St. Choir, Lindsay

Lindsay, Jan 30—In point of interest and enjoyment the practise held by the Cambridge street Methodist choir last evening surpassed all others. During the practise, the members of the choir took occasion to present their popular organist, and choirmaster, Cert. Carl Forsythe, with a beautiful and expensive baton, pearl handled and nicely engraved, as a mark of their esteem and also as a token of appreciation for the amiable manner in which he has treated the choir at all times. The presentation was made by Mr Harry Brimmell, while Mr Musselman read the accompanying address.

Mr Forsythe was completely taken by surprise but in a few brief remarks he thanked the choir most heartily for their token of good will and high esteem. He would appreciate the gift not for its value, but as a mark of the appreciation in which his services were held by the members of the choir.

Jap Student Driven From Campus.

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 1.—Kenji Kaneko, a Japanese student of the University of California, and a graduate of the Imperial University of Tokio, was set upon on the college campus by a crowd of white students, knocked to the ground and driven from the campus with students in chase. He managed to reach his home safely and is being protected by the police. Kenji Kaneko declared that the Japanese colony here would avenge the attack upon him.

The matter will be taken before the Japanese consul-general at San Francisco. It is asserted that the assault was unprovoked; that Kenji Kaneko was attacked while walking quietly by a group of students.

A Railway Merger.

Franklin, Pa., Feb. 1.—Gen. Charles Miller has anounced that at a meeting of the directors of the Franklin and Clearfield Railroad, Jamestown and Franklin Railroad, Central Trunk Railroad and the Jackson coal road in New York last week, it was voted to consolidate the four roads under the name of the Jamestown, Franklin & Clearfield Railroad. All are controlled by the New York Central.

Feared Dismissal.

Mukden, Feb. 1.—The recent dismissal of Yuan Shi Kai, continues to cause unrest. The viceroy of Manchuria, forewarned that a similar fate would be his, has resigned. Regarded as a strong, forceful and progressive viceroy, it is feared that his resignation will have a bad effect upon the troops and the finances of the province.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Civil Servant Missing.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—The mysterious disappearance of Peter Robertson, accountant of the Interior Department, from his home at 472 Maclaren street, has caused much uneasiness to his family and fellow-employes. A vain search has been made for him since Wednesday, and those who know him fear he may have come to some sudden end.

At 2.30 on Wednesday Mr. Robertson, who has been a steady employe of the Interior Department for 30 years, left his office and was not seen again by any of the other clerks.

Mr. Robertson, who was about 60 years of age, had been in failing health for some few years.

The sudden leave-taking led to an enquiry as to his accounts and they were found in the most satisfactory state. His private property is not involved in debt in any way that would be likely to influence him to leave the city.

Girl Conducts Elopement.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 1.—When the immigration authorities at Port Huron stopped Miss Jeanne Boureau, aged 24, and Hugh Lawrence, aged 20, they put an end to an elopment which reversed the usual order, the woman in this case running away with the man. The couple declared stoutly that they were married and gave another name to the officers, but finally broke down and said that they were bound from Montreal to Detroit. The girl is a pretty French-Canadian girl, while the young man is described as a "regular Apollo." When questioned the girl told the officers that she happened to see the young man on one of the Montreal streets and had become infatuated with him. Other girls, however, took a fancy to Lawrence. Miss Boureau determined that she should have him all to herself, and finally succeeded in persuading him to start with her to Detroit, she paying all expenses. They were deported.

Henry James and his wife, an aged couple of Easttown, Pa., were found murdere in their barn yard.

Queen Nearly Well.

London, Feb. 1—Disquieting rumors have been current recently concerning the health of Queen Alexandra. Miss Knollys, her secretary, announced from Windsor Castle Saturday that the Queen has nearly recovered from her recent attack of influenza and hopes to return to London on Monday.

The Queen's physicians advise her to reserve her strength for her coming visit to Berlin, for which reason it is probable that she will not accompany the King when he goes to open Parliament.

Menelik Is Not Dead.

Addiz Abeba, Abyssinia, Feb. 1.—The reports recently circulated in Europe and America that King Menelik was desperately ill, and even that he had died, were wildly exaggerated. The King is a chronic invalid, but there is nothing in his condition today to cause immediate alarm.

Author of "Elsie" Books.

Elkton, Md., Feb. 1.—After several weeks' illness, Miss Martha Finley, the author, died yesterday at her home in Elkton, aged 82 years.

Miss Finley was born at Chillicothe, Ohio, April 26, 1828. Her best known works were the "Elsie" books.

King Edward as a Collector.

King Edward is very fond of collecting various things, and he is said to have the finest private collection of guns in the world. Many of these were presents, and one of the finest of them all was a gift from King Leopold of the Belgians. But probably His Majesty's most remarkable collection consists of the programs of all the theatres and operas at which he has been present for many years past. These number some hundreds, and form one of the most interesting records of the theatre in existence. Formerly, King Edward used to collect theatrical posters, but latterly he has given them up.

Money Found In Piano.

A young couple who recently got married in Glasgow had among their goods an old-fashioned square piano bearing the date of 1789. It was purchased merely a piece of furniture. They called in a piano-tuner to see if he could better the tone of the instrument.

While handling it he came on a piece of paper, and, pulling it out, handed it to the owner, who on reading it found the faded handwriting to run thus: "Lucky one, whoe'er you be, this little store is all for thee; if many mouths you've got to feed, t'will help you in your time of need."

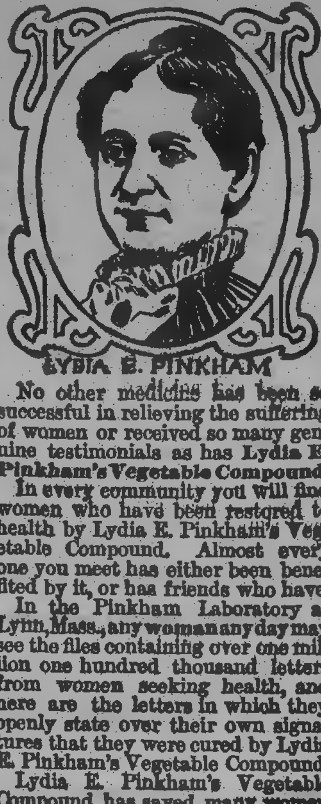
On closer examination a small canvas bag with £15 in notes was found. The piano cost them 40 shillings, a bargain in itself, with this marriage present thrown in.

The Hermit Crab.

The hermit crab is one of nature's freaks. Having no proper shell of his own, he takes possession of the empty house of a sea snail, winkle or other mollusc. It is not true, however, that he first kills and devours the owner. There are always plenty of vacant shells to supply him and his kind with a domicile. Like any other crab, he grows, and from time to time he finds himself obliged to move into a larger tenement. He may not always find one that suits him perfectly when he wishes to make a change, just like people, but he must take the best he can find. This will account for the fact that you often see a hermit crab dragging about a dwelling entirely too big for him.

Frontenac County Council will petition the Dominion Government for protection for level railway crossings.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN



LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

How It Struck Him.

It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in a crowded Brooklyn trolley car, and above the noise arose the walls of a leather lunged baby protesting against everything. After two miles of this din the mother left with her child, when a young man in the front end of the car thus expressed his sentiments:

Gee whiz! I'm glad I'm free!
No wedding bells for me.

The result can be more easily imagined than described.

ARE BURNED TO DEATH

He smashed the window to be met by a heavy cloud of pugnent smoke. Undaunted, he clambered in and, groping about in the deadly fumes, stumbled over the old man's body, lying prostrate at the door of his room, which was closed.

He dragged it to the window, but was there so nearly overcome that he was forced to drop his burden and seek the pure air without.

At this juncture Seth, who had been called by Peter, came up. Together they pulled the body through the window, throwing in pails of water to keep back the smoke. It was too late, however, the aged man was dead. The body was carried to the carriage house and the three returned to the burning building. They strove to force their way in through the east door, but were driven back by the heavy black smoke and tongues of flames which, fanned by the air, were now burning fiercely.

A great throng had congregated, but the flames, too, had gathered strength and any further attempt at rescue was hopeless.

When the roof fell the work of searching for the bodies began. These was burned almost beyond recognition. All were mixed with debris in the cellar of the smouldering ruins.

The body of Meletta, the daughter, was found at the northeast corner of the ruins. A patch of clothing under the arm showed that she had been still wearing her night clothes, and probably in bed when overcome by the smoke.

The body of Martin, son of Philip, was found below his room in the southeast corner. Embedded in the heap of the charred remains was a bed, indicating that he had gone down with his bed.

But the body of Harry was also found near this, while the room he occupied was in the northwest corner of the building. Upon his back, stuck in the burned flesh, was a buckle of his suspenders, but his watch was found under his own room.

Here is where his father begins to doubt. "The boy never slept with Martin," he says. "He always slept alone. What was his body doing there?"

It is suggested that he went to warn the others, being awakened by the smoke. This does not satisfy the father.

"The skulls of the two men are practically missing," he declares. "Oh, I think that there is something wrong. I feel it," he keeps repeating passionately until the thing becomes uncanny.

"I think there was a fight. Someone got in from the outside. I feel it. There was a will. There was trouble over that. One of the family said that he would fight it as long as there was a penny left.

"Some thought that the girls were getting too much. That was last spring. Then I believe there was another made by old Philip six weeks or so ago, and I was told at Christmas time that that made more ill-feeling."

Only the old man's passionate belief in his doubt and declaration stands against the seeming certainty of all.

Among the theories current many are wild and tangled, but a few bear weight from the intimate knowledge of those who hold to them concerning the habits of the unfortunate victims. Mrs. Harry Vansickle, who through a lucky chance had been staying with her three children at the home of her father-in-law, Wesley Vansickle, at Trinity, and so escaped death, says that it was the habit of old Philip to get up before the others and light the fires. He was just as apt, she says, to put the shavings, used as kindling, under the stove as into it, and it is known that for a time last fall his mind was unhinged. Others believe that a burning piece of charcoal must have fallen from the stove and smouldered in the carpet, overcoming all with the fumes before the actual burst of flames.

The jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of death is a curious one in that almost every man is related to the deceased, and so are nearly all who are to be witnesses. The settlement is the growth of two or three families of United Empire Loyalists, who settled at that spot as early as 1810, coming from New Jersey. Since then they have lived almost entirely to themselves, the intermarriage of first cousins being a not unfrequent occurrence.

J. Bethune and others.

It was moved by A. W. Austin, seconded by Dr. A. Smith, that Mr. E. B. Osler do take the chair, and that Mr. C. A. Bogert do act as Secretary.

Messrs. A. R. Boswell and A. H. Campbell, jr., were appointed Scrutineers.

The Secretary read the Report of the Directors to the Shareholders, and submitted the Annual Statement of the affairs of the Bank, which is as follows:

To the Shareholders:

The Directors beg to present the following Statement of the result of the business of the Bank for the year ending 31st December, 1908:

RESERVE FUND.

Balance at credit of account, 31st December, 1907	$4,[illegible]
Transferred from Profit and Loss Account	148,274.75
	$4,[illegible]

At the Annual Meeting in January, 1908, your Directors in their Report to the Shareholders made reference to the unusual financial conditions then prevailing and the policy which it was considered advisable to pursue in conducting the affairs of the Bank. Since then a marked change has taken place—there has been a steady contraction in the trade of the country, and the demand for banking accommodation has been limited, although we now find an improvement in this respect, and can confidently look for a gradual expansion in business. A crop somewhat above the average was harvested, and the proceeds distributed through the country, which has tended largely to increase deposits. From the causes just mentioned the Cash Reserves of the Bank have been particularly strong for some months, and the percentage of liquid assets is exceptionally high.

In January, 1908, we took over Branches of the Sovereign Bank at Baden, Linwood, Marmora, Mount Albert, New Dundee and Pefferlaw. The Pefferlaw office was subsequently closed.

Branches have also been established at the corner of King and Wentworth streets, Hamilton, on Upper Sherbourne Street, Toronto, and at Wawota, Sask. It is our intention to shortly erect an office at the corner of St. Clair Avenue and Vaughan Road, Toronto, where a site has recently been purchased.

Further expenditures have been made at Avenue Road Branch, Toronto, at Fort William and Windsor, Ont., at the North End Branch, Winnipeg, at Selkirk and Deloraine, Man., and at Grenfell and Regina, Sask., to an extent fully warranted by the importance of the Bank's interests at these points.

In connection with the issue of $1,000,000 of new capital stock in 1907, it is worthy of note that the amount subscribed for has now been paid in full.

A Special Committee of your Directors has completed the customary verification of the General Balance Sheet of the Bank as on 31st December, 1908, including the certification of our funds in the hands of Foreign Agents. They have also examined and found correct the Cash Reserves, Investments and Securities as shown on the Statement presented.

E. B. OSLER,
President.

The Report was adopted.

The thanks of the Shareholders were tendered to the President, Vice-President and Directors for their services during the year, and to the General Manager and other Officers of the Bank for the efficient performance of their respective duties.

The following gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year: Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, James Carruthers, R. J. Christie, J. C. Eaton, J. J. Foy, K. C., M.L.A., W. D. Matthews, A. M. Nanton and E. B. Osler, M. P.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. E. B. Osler, M. P., was elected President, and Mr. W. D. Matthews, Vice-President, for the ensuing term.

A MALE CHOIR AT ST. ANDREW'S

The service at St Andrew's church last night was particularly for men. The choir was composed entirely of men and the singing was of a high standard of merit. A trio composed of Messrs Cutting, Wright and Johnston sang "Praise ye," by Verdi, and Mr Wright sang a solo, "I stood outside the gate," by Main, in excellent voice. The anthem was "Remember me O Mighty One," by Root, Mr Wright taking the solo.

HE LOST HIS CASE

Priest Sued for Legacy of Girl Who Died in Rockwood Asylum

Thomas Shannon, of Seymour township, Northumberland county, who died Nov. 13, 1908, left a will dated May 10th, 1905, by which he left his estate, with the exception of the cash that might be in the bank at the time of his death, in equal shares to his eight children. One of the children was a daughter named Edith, who was at the time the will was executed, an inmate of Rockwood. The will directed that Edith's share would be handled by Father Whibbs, and that should Edith die before it had been expended upon her he should receive the balance, to be applied to the liquidation of the debt on the Roman Catholic Church of Campbellford. Edith, however, died before her father, and the executors considered that the legacy had lapsed, and that her share should be divided among the other children.

Father Whibbs, who had been left the whole of the money lying in the bank at Mr. Shannon's death, amounting to $609.45, half for masses and half towards the church debt, took the ground that he was entitled to Edith's share, and brought action for it.

Mr. Justice Clute, who heard the case, has just given judgment in Toronto, in which he holds that Edith never became entitled to any share of her fathers' estate, and that therefore the contingency had never arisen upon which only could gift in favor of Father Whibbs take effect.

AN ENJOYABLE PROGRAMME

At Meeting of Ladies Literary of T. A. S.—Paper by Miss V. Donoghue

On Friday evening the regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's TAS, was held and a very enjoyable programme run off. The essay of the evening was on Rt. Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, late Bishop of Rochester, NY, and was read by Miss Vivian Donoghue.

The essayist sketched, as a preliminary the very early career of Bishop McQuaid was born in New York City on December 15th, 1823, his early studies at Chambly College, Quebec, and afterwards at St. John's College at Fordham, where for three years after his graduation he remained as tutor. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1844 by the Rt. Rev. John Hughes in the old cathedral in New York. From that time on his whole life was a continual struggle but this struggle was his delight as he himself said: "My life has been one long struggle, but out of struggle comes strength; the peaceful life is not the happy one; we are only happy when we are striving to overcome obstacles. Struggle which ends in achievement is the force that makes life worth living."

Bishop McQuaid's first work was in New Jersey, where he was appointed to the arduous duties of a missionary priest and where he began his great work of education, realising that the school is one of the bulwarks of the church and in Morriston he organized the first Catholic school in New Jersey State.

His administrative ability was also shown early in his career. He mapped out new territory in which to establish missions and it was not long until they developed into realities. In 185[illegible] the New Jersey territory was separated from the diocese of New York and Bishop McQuaid was transferred to Newark, where he assisted Bishop Bayley with his duties. In 1856 he was instrumental in bringing about the establishment of Seton Hall and some ten years later when the diocese of Rochester was carried out of the great diocese of Buffalo, he was appointed Bishop. One of his first steps was to found a school—the first Catholic school in Rochester.

Others followed, and today the parochial schools of that city stand unrivalled among the sectarian schools of the United States.

In 1870 he established St Andrew's College and in 1893 St Bernard's Seminary was opened and this magnificent college stands today as a monument of Bishop McQuaid's increasing zeal in the interests of education.

In civic life, Bishop McQuaid took an active part. When Fort Sumter was fired upon by the Confederates he preached the first sermon in the land in favor of the preservation of the Union. In Rochester his works on the Park Board shows how highly he esteemed his duty as a citizen. He labored for the establishment of the park system, aiding in forming plans which have made Rochester famous for its parks.

His oratorical ability was well-known and he was a writer of great force, contributing many articles, not only to Catholic magazines, but also to the North American Review.

He was always prompt to co-operate, often at great and difficult sacrifice, of time and effort, in the promotion of municipal improvement.

He was a man of remarkable commercial skill and rare financial acumen and watched with undisguised satisfaction the upbuilding of many a great manufacturing and commercial establishment in Rochester.

Not only by Catholics will the death of Bishop McQuaid which took place on January 18th last, be mourned but also by the non-Catholic citizens to whom he showed a disinterested public service and a clear vision of public interest. In so doing he set a standard to be followed by his own people and to be respected by all of whatever creed or belief.

Instrumental duet—Misses Trombley and Tangney.

Vocal solo—Miss E Jayes.

Instrumental duet—Misses Hatrick and Gorman.

God Save the King.

The next regular meeting of the Society will be held on February 12th, when Rev. Father Galvin will deliver a lecture.

Chas Hawtrey's Clever Farce by Local Amateurs To-night

"The Private Secretary," which is being produced at the Grand tonight, by a clever cast of local amateurs, is one of the cleverest and wholesomest comedies ever produced. It is probably the most popular farcical production ever seen in London, where it had an engagement of record length in the original production and has re-appeared on several occasions being given simultaneously with its most successful runs in the provinces and the colonies.

The complications that arise in the unravelling of the plot of "The Private Secretary," serve to introduce hilarious funny situations and lines and the comedy element is in evidence from the first to the final curtain. The comedy is of an unusually clever and original character and there are hilariously funny surprises to innumerable to dwell even briefly on, the incidents of the the piece or the story would be impossible, except in a long review, as every moment sees some thing new and startling—startling of course, in the way of comedy—for about the only man in the house who is really startled during the play is Rev. Robert Spaulding, the private secretary. His moments of tremor in the coudcrous. He wants the position of dcrous. He wants the position of secretary to Mr. Marsland and Douglas Cattermole, for motives explained in the play, takes it and leaves the lamb like Spaulding at London. The latter gets a telegram to report at Mr. Marsland's and does so. When he arrives Douglas Cattermole is posing as Rev. Spaulding, and the way the real private secretary is used to keep him hidden and the treatment he has to undergo is embarrassing and terrifying to Spaulding, supplies pure delight for the audience. There are ten players in the cast, the action is rapid on the part of all, but the secretary and the stage settings are very attractive, that of the second act being particularly pleasing. The play in itself is superior beyond comparison, to "All the Comforts of Home," the other successful comedy given under the direction of Mr. Irving Beers.

GOOD PROGRESS IN WESTERN CHINA

Reported by Rev. J. L. Stewart in Missionary Sermon at George St. Church

Rev. J. A. Stewart, B.A., a Methodist missionary from Western China preached at the George street church last night and gave a most interesting account of the work that is being done in that part of the Chinese Empire. It was the annual missionary sermon and there was a large congregation. Mr. Stewart is home on furlough.

The western part of China has been handed over to the Methodist church for missionary purposes and Mr. Stewart reported most encouraging progress in that field. The Chinese he said were a peace-loving people and, perhaps, the most peace-loving in the world.

SHE MET WITH AN ACCIDENT THE FIRST TIME SHE WENT OUT

Mrs. James Fuller, 123 Chamberlain street, met with a painful accident the other day. She was going from her house to a nearby grocery store when she slipped and fell on the icy pavement. Her right arm was broken just above the wrist.

A peculiar thing was that Dr. Halliday had been at the house attending Mrs. Fuller's daughter and had not reached his office when a telephone message said for him to return at once to set Mrs. Fuller's arm.

Owing to her daughter's serious illness Mrs. Fuller hadn't been out for several weeks and it was unfortunate that when she did go out she should meet with such a serious accident.

Matthew Walsh, once secretary to Hon. John Costigan, is dead at Ottawa, aged 74.

LIFE AND WORK OF THE LATE ARCHBISHOP

Referred to in Memorial Services at St. Luke's and All Saints' Churches Yesterday Morning

Memorial services were held yesterday morning in St. Luke's and All Saints' churches at which fitting references were made to the life and work of the late Archbishop Sweatman. Hymns for the burial of the dead were sung and special prayers said.

At St. Luke's church Rev. A. L. Reid, M.A., preached an excellent discourse from the words of the Nicene Creed. "I believe in the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come." It was the hope of the life eternal that stimulated the late Archbishop in all his arduous tasks. Archbishop Sweatman was a man of quiet sympathetic disposition, and in carrying out the great responsibilities that rested upon him he was tactful.

At All Saints' church the rector, Rev. Mr. Trumpour, also delivered an eloquent discourse on the life and work of the late Archbishop.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ALL SAINTS'

Rev. Mr. Trumpour Paid Tribute to the Late Archbishop Sweatman

A memorial service in honor of the late Archbishop Sweatman, of Toronto, wa sheld in All Saints' church yesterday morning and was very largely attended. Special hymns were sung and special psalms were chanted. The anthem was "On the Resurrection Morning." Rev. Mr. Trumpour occupied the pulpit and delivered a most feeling and interesting discourse. He took his text from the first ten verses of Ecc. 3. His first point was an outline of the late archbishop's career. The next was an explanation of his work and how it had been affected by his election, referring to the two factions which had been fighting, and which even yet were in existence. When the late archbishop was elected it was not the time for an aggressive leader. It demanded a man of quiet strength who would conciliate the two parties.

Rev. Mr. Trumpour also dwelt upon the character of the departed. He had reserve and beneath that was strength, warmth and sympathy. Then there was his simplicity of life, sincerity, devotion to his duty and Christian character. In fact the late archbishop "had all those qualities which make up a good Christian gentleman.

THEATRICAL

"BERNARD DALY COMING"

"Sing, sweet harp, oh sing to me
Some song of ancient days,
Whose sounds, in this sad memory
Long buried dreams shall raise."

Like a breath from the green hills and vales of the Emerald Isle, is the work of Bernard Daly in "Rory of the Hills." The insouciance and Celtic temperament of the man, his merry quip and dashing camaraderie, mingled in the next minute with the romantic sadness or ever ready championship of the helpless, and his supreme nobility of character which must ever combat all that is mean and despicable, carries his audience with him in a heart-throbbing interest that never flags from the rise of the initial curtain until it has descended upon the last scene. The moments when Daly's phenomenally high and bell-like tenor voice rises in the notes of some dear old Irish melody, are moments when the theatres in which he plays are hushed, to be followed at the close of the strains by instantaneous bursts of applause.

Daly is hailed as another Scanlan and comes to the Grand next Thursday, Feb. 4th, for one night only, in "Rory of the Hills," under the management of A. R. Beer.

KATHRYN OSTERMAN'S DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

"The Night of the Play," is clever Kathryn Osterman's offering this season, and on Saturday, Feb. 6th, she will be seen for the first time in this city at the "Grand" in the delightful Augustin Daly comedy.

Not only is Miss Osterman numbered among the most capable and mirth-provoking comediennes in the country, but she is counted among its brilliant actresses. In her new play, she has numerous opportunities to exhibit as an emotional actress as well as a comedienne, but whether it be for laughter or for tears, the attention of her audience is rivited. As Nancy Brasher, the loving wife of a loving husband—but jealous — she has written a play collaborating with a prominent young playwright and wants to keep it from her husband until the night of the play. In doing so, she is forced to deceive and innumerable others resulting in a farcical mixup that keeps the audience in an uproar from start to finish.

A special ladies' and children's matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

CORELLI

Corelli, the great illusionist appeared at the Grand Opera House Saturday afternoon and evening and delighted the audiences with his clever and wonderful performance. The first part of the performance consisted of the marvellous production of live animals and a number of other mysterious feats, concluding with the levitation of Princess Aga.

Other magic performances by Corelli were the Flight of the Canaries, the Japanese box mystery, decapitation or the singing head without a body, the hypnotic handkerchief and the triple trunk mystery.

Altogether Corelli presented a very entertaining show.

Don't miss the entertainment at Sons of England Hall on Friday evening February 5th. Controller H.C. Hocken gives an address on "The Rise and Progress" of the Orange Association. Tickets 25c. d3

INCREASE SALARY OF THE CLERK

Lindsay, Jan. 30.—The Board of Management of the House of Refuge for 1908 included in their annual report a recommendation for the granting of an annual sum of $200 to the clerk Mr. J. R. McNeillie, for the extra work caused by the House of Refuge affairs. The council passed the recommendation in committee yesterday.

Mr. McNeillie is receiving a salary of $1,700 for his position as county clerk and treasurer. The previous occupant of the position received $2,000. Mr. McNeillie has been in the county's employ for 31 years, twenty-five years serving as assistant clerk. When he was appointed clerk his salary was fixed at $1,500. Since it has been raised $200 and the extra sum allowed him yesterday brings his salary up to $2,000.

DEATH CAME PEACEFULLY

Rev. Canon Davidson's Reference to Late Archbishop Sweatman

Just before the sermon yesterday morning in St. John's church Rev. Canon Davidson referred to the funeral of the late Archbishop Sweatman of Toronto. Rev. Canon Davidson was one of 140 of the clergy present at the last sad rites on Wednesday last. In speaking of the death of the beloved archbishop, Canon Davidson referred to it as being beautiful and peaceful, and it should be a lesson to all to live in the Lord so that they might receive the message as peacefully and joyfully as the late Archbishop had.

TRICKS SAID TO BE TRIED TO TRAP HOTELKEEPERS

Saturday Chas. N. Nixon, of the Grand Hotel, was charged before the Police Magistrate with selling liquor during prohibited hours on Saturday, the 16th instant. The evidence shown that Bert Howden, with two others entered the hotel bar just as the town clock had finished striking 7 p.m., each had a glass of liquor and immediately left the bar room. As Nixon was closing the bar the two men with Howden did not hear the clock strike and thought it was before 7 p.m.

The Police Magistrate thought the drink had been given after 7 p.m., but that there had been no intention to violate the law and that there had been a sufficient compliance with it and dismissed the charge.

Nixon then pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor on Sunday, the 23rd inst., to Howden and a fine of $50 was imposed. Nixon stated Howden pleaded illness to obtain the liquor and stated that Howden had deliberately planned to catch him.

Nixon was compelled at the same sitting of the court to answer a charge of selling to a minor, Wallace Irwin, who, by the way, is a brother-in-law of P. C. Mcharry, on the 19th inst. Irwin went into the bar and bought a glass of liquor and a flash of whiskey for a cold. Police Officer Newhall who by phone, knew there was a young man in the bar room, met him as he came out and asked him his age. He asked because Irwin, although 16, appeared much older and he wished to make sure he was the person referred to. The bartender had no recollection of having seen Irwin or of having sold him any liquor. He said he would have sold the liquor on the appearance of the young man as he was not apparently under 21.

Police Magistrate Dumble, on viewing the young man thought that on a careful examination he appeared under 21, but that to the bartender with his opportunity of judging in the ordinary conduct of his business he might very well have appeared over 21, and dismissed the charge.

Mr. Haverson, K.C., defended Nixon.

SPORTING NEWS

BIG DOINGS IN LOCAL HOCKEY CIRCLES THIS WEEK

City League Championship Will be Decided on Thursday Night—Two Intermediate Games.

The present week will see big things in the hockey arena in Peterborough.

To-morrow night the local intermediates will meet Cobourg here in an O.H.A. fixture and a fast game is assured. The homee team must this game to stay in the running.

On Thursday night the City League championship will be decided, when Lakefield and the Strathconas meet. Neither team has lost a game, and, while the Straths look the best on paper, the boys from the county village can be depended on to make a gallant fight. President Graham has made a change in the schedule, so that the Strathcona-Lakefield game will take place at eight o'clock and the Belmont-West End match at nine. There should be a big crowd on hand to see the championship decided.

On Friday night the Lindsay seven will be here to meet the Peterborough intermediates. The Midgets are coming full of confidence and state that they will beat Peterborough on their own ice. Perhaps they will, perhaps they won't. There is some money around these parts to say they will do nothing of the kind.

HOCKEY

NEED THE "COM."

In commenting on this game it may not be out of place to point a moral that is apparent. If the Midgets desire to win at Peterborough (and they do) more attention will have to be given to their combination. On account of the size of the Peterborough rink combination work will be imperative and it might be well for the boys to take the hint, as all in Lindsay want them to win out, go t the semi-finals and from there land the Ontario championship.—Lindsay Free Press.

YANKEE ROGERS AND FRITZ MOHL TO WRESTLE AT TORONTO

The Toronto Star says; — Fritz Mohl, the giant 245-lb. German champion of 1905-6, wired to-day to the Riverdale Athletic Club accepting their offer for a match with the famous American wrestler, Yankee Rogers, on Feb. 12th. Mohl and Rogers have been at loggerheads for over two years, and they met during August of last year in Peterborough, Ont., when Rogers secured the victory after a strenuous battle. Mohl secured the first fall, and during the progress of the second bout, when a victory appeared certain for the German, Rogers hurled him heavily off the mat, and his head striking the stage, he was rendered unconscious. When he did feel ready to go on, it was only a question of minutes before he was beaten. Since then Mohl has been looking for the chance he has just accepted, and a splendid struggle will result. Both men are giants. Yankee Rogers weighs 212 lbs., stands 6 ft. 2 in., while the German draws the scale at 242 lbs. and stands 6 ft.

It was certainly a magnificent go here.

GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE RACE TO BE HELD AT AUBURN

Dear Sir.—There is to be a big International six-day go as you please race at Auburn, N.Y., starting Monday, February 15th, continuing to Saturday the 20th. It is to be held at the Burtis roller rink and the manager, John J. White, requested me to write to you asking you to give this a little notice in your paper as he would like to secure all the entries he could from Canada.

The race will be for three hours each night.

Trusting you will grant this little favor, I am,

Respectfully yours.
TOM SLATER.

HARRISON DEFEATED BLAKE THE NEGRO DISQUALIFIED

That a two-man walking match is not a popular sporting event in Peterborough was proved by the very small attendance at the six hour pedestrian contest between Jim Harrison and Blake, at the roller rink on Saturday afternoon and evening. The fact of only twelve dollars being taken in at the gate proves this. A six day contest is a great drawing card for this city, but a team of walkers do not offer the same sensational sport to an audience. When Harrison and Hoagland raced here a little while ago, the audience during the day and evening was a pretty fair one, but at that it was by no means a profitable proposition. Harrison is popular and a favorite and Peterborough and everybody likes to see him make good and win but the two-man game doesn't seem to appeal.

In the afternoon two and a half hours were allowed, with Harrison in the lead and going magnificently. From the start the pace was a terrific one, and in the opening hours 7 miles and a lap were made, and 17 miles 3 laps were covered in that time. At the night walk Referee Rose disqualified Blake for running after 21 miles 7 laps had been covered with 1 hour and 20 minutes walking in the evening. Harrison continued walking till 10 o'clock, doing 27 miles in three hours and 50 minutes, giving him the fine average of 7 miles an hour.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE CITY

Winners of Church League May Meet City League Champions

It is understood that the winners of the church hockey league—and St. Andrew's look good for the honors at the present—will challenge the winners of the city league for the championship of the city. The church league teams are playing fast hockey and the winners would no doubt give the city champions a lively struggle.

A GREAT EFFORT.

How the Society Reporter Wrote Up a Fire at Night.

It would spoil a good story to suggest that the young woman of whom the paper tells may have had a sense of humor. In the absence of the regular reporter, the editor sent the young woman who writes the society news to report a fire in a remote part of the city.

This is what the young woman turned in:

"Quite a number of people in this part of the city attended a fire last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Blank in the High street. Some, it is said, went in carriages and motors, but a majority walked.

"The alarm was sounded about half-past eight, and many who attended the fire had just returned from church, consequently they were already dressed for the occasion.

"Mr. Blank was not at home, being out of the city on business, hence the affair will be a surprise to him when he returns. Mrs. Blank wore a light pale-blue kimono and had her hair done up in kid curlers.

"The firemen responded readily, and worked heroically to subdue the flames. Most of them were young and fairly good-looking. They were dressed in oilskin coats, cut short, with trousers to match. Their hat brims were narrow in front and broad behind, and drooped in the rear.

"When the flames broke out through the second storey and cast a lurid hue over the surrounding buildings the view was one never to be forgotten.

"At a late hour the sightseers went home, and all felt they had passed an evening full of interest and excite-

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven-Thousand-Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this City or County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them

TEN HOUR DAY WILL GO INTO FORCE AT THE C.G.E.

The Review learns on good authority, that commencing tomorrow, a ten hour day will again prevail at the C.G.E. works. For some months the staff has only been working eight hours a day.

It will be good news to the people of Peterborough to learn that activity again prevails at the city's leading industry and that the staff is to be employed full time.

MUSIC AS SHE IS EXECUTED

Attending service not long ago in an elegant church edifice where they worship God with taste in a highly aesthetic manner, the choir began that scriptural poem that compares Solomon with the lilies of the field somewhat to the former's disadvantage.

Although never possessing a great admiration for Solomon, nor considering him a suitable person to hold up as an shining example before the Y.M.C.A., yet a pang of pity for him was felt when the choir, after expressing unbounded admiration for the lillies of the field, began to tell the congregation, through the mouth of the soprano, that "Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed,"—

Straightway the Soprano was reinforced by the Bass, who declared that "Solomon was most decidedly and emphatically not arrayed —"was not arrayed."' Then the Alto ventured it as her opinion that Solomon was not arrayed, when the Tenor, without a moment's hesitation, sang as if it had been officially announced, that "he was not arrayed." Then, when the feelings of the congregation had been harrowed up sufficiently, and our sympathies were all aroused for poor Solomon, whose numerous wives allowed him to go about in such a fashion, even in that climate, the choir altogether, in a most cool and composed manner, informed us that the idea they intended to convey was that "Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." These what? So long a time had elapsed since they sang of the lillies, that the thread was entirely lost and by 'these' one naturally concluded that the choir was designated. Arrayed like 'one of these.' We should think not, indeed Solomon in a Prince Albert cut-away coat? Solomon with an eye glass and moustache, his hair cut pompadour. No, most decidedly, Solomon in the very zenith of his glory, "was not arrayed like one of these."

Despite the experience of the morning, the hope still remained that in the evening a sacred song might be sung in a manner that would not excite our risibilities, or leave the impression that we had been listening to a case of blackmail. But again —off started the nimble soprano with the very laudable, though startling announcement :—"I will wash" — Straightway the Alto, not to be outdone declared she would wash; and the Tenor, finding it to be quite the thing, warbled forth that he would wash. Then the deep chested Bass as though calling up all his fortitude for the plunge, bellowed forth the stern resolve that he also would wash. Next a short interlude on the organ strongly suggestive of the escaping of steam or splash of waves; after which the choir individually and collectively, asserted the firm, unshaken resolve that they would wash. At last they solved the problem by stating that they proposed to "wash their hands in innocency, and so will the altar of the Lord be compassed."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

Favors the Chief

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—As a citizen and one who is much interested in the good and welfare of our splendid city, I would like to express my opinion, on the much discussed question, regarding the maintenance of our present fire chief.

While the chief has had a very difficult task to perform in the organization of the new brigade, he taking hold upon the resignation of the old volunteer brigade. I believe he now has a brigade of much efficiency. The city has been most fortunate in not having any very serious fires since the installation of the new brigade, but should a disastrous fire occur, I believe the chief and his men are equal to the occasion.

I believe him to be the right man in the right place as a fire fighter. On the other hand I think the chief has made a very serious mistake in many ways and that he should be severely censured, with a final warning. Let him that is without fault cast the first stone. In consideration of the chief, his wife and family, at this period of the year, I sincerely hope our Mayor and aldermen will approve of a final chance. All things considered, this would not be asking more than any one of us would wish under similar conditions. Thanking you

Yours sincerely,
CITIZEN.

Equal Suffrage

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Some time ago, Alfred Austin, the poet laureate of England, (I don't know if he is of Great Britain or not) following in the wake of Lord Cromer whom Englishmen love to call the great pro-consul and the greatest business man of his time, (note his work in Egypt) wrote a piece of advice to women in which he said that the franchise was not for them. Now Mrs Fawcett, who in England bears as great a name as Mrs Humphrey Ward, the strongest opponent amongst women of the suffrage, writes in the London Times, which devotes three-quarters of a column to her, as follows;

"The argument of the latter (Austin) is based on the assumption that to men, and to men alone, belong calm and clear judgment and common sense, while to women and to women alone, belong enthusiasm, sentiment and emotion. The facts of life surely do not correspond with these hard-and-fast dividing lines. We all know men who are carried away by their emotions and we all know women who bring common-sense and shrewd practical judgment to bear on the facts of everyday life. Mr. Alfred Austin dreads the effect of woman suffrage on the happiness of home and domestic life. When great political issues are before the country and stormy passions are aroused in Parliament and the Press are these he says "to rage equally on the domestic hearth and between men and women?" But this is exactly what takes place now. We are a political people and every political question as it arises is discussed on the hearth as well as on the platform. Would it add to the attractiveness of the domestic hearth to the average man if the average woman knew nothing and cared nothing about the political issues of vital importance which arise from time to time in the history of every nation?

Mr Alfred Austin's argument is not against woman suffrage, but against women knowing and caring about the great things which concern national weal or woe. If the Poet Laureate would cease to depend upon his imagination and would inquire of his fellow-citizens in Australia and New Zealand about the effects of woman suffrage on domestic life, his fears would be completely and effectually assuaged. He imagines that women would lightheartedly or in a fit of emotional anger vote for war which men and men alone would have to fight. If the demands of the woman suffragists were granted women would only have approximately one-quarter of the electoral power now possessed by men, so that the votes of women could not bring about a war, unless they were re-inforced by the votes of men. And when in war it may be asked has the question of war or peace, been submitted to the people who are going to fight. The Secretaries of State, the Chancellors, the War Lords, decide on war, "Tommy," who has to fight it is not so much as consulted. I think it was who said that half the wars which are waged would be prevented if the first engagement had to be fought by the Secretaries of State of the countries concerned in the backyard of the Foreign Office.

In his last sentence, Mr Alfred Austin appeals "to the collective common-sense of the British people." We are not dismayed by such an appeal; on the contrary we are perpetually urging to it. Is it common-sense that a woman can be Queen, a Mayor, a town or county councillor, but may not give a vote? That she may enter the profession of medicine and as a doctor exercise the legal power to sign a certificate of insanity, which would deprive a man of his vote but may not vote herself? That she may take part in electoral contests and is encouraged by all political parties to do so and in this capacity advises, instructs and persuades men how to vote, but must not vote herself? Is it common-sense that she is present in the labor-market in millions and has to face the hard struggle for existence without the power of self-protection which the vote would give? That as a member of labor organizations she contributes her weekly dole which provides the salary of the Labor member of Parliament—she pays him but must not vote for him? Common sense British or the inferior foreign variety will be hard put to it to reconcile such confusion and anomaly. The admission of women to the franchise would cause the home and domestic side of things to count for more in politics than they do at present. We appeal to the justice and common-sense of our countrymen to see that some adequate expression is found in national affairs for all that women stand for in national life."

Thanking you, Mr Editor,
Yours truly,
EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

THE THIRTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING

The thirty-eighth annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Dominion Bank was held in the Banking House of the institution in Toronto on Wednesday, Jan 25, 1909, and the exceptionally satisfactory financial statement was presented. During the past year a twelve per cent dividend was paid in four equal installments, making a total of $473,462.64 that was given to the shareholders. The balance carried forward was $302,996.08, so that the institution is in splendid condition to start the new year. The reserve fund now totals nearly $5,000,000. Such a statement in the face of financial conditions prevailing last year, is indeed creditable to the president, Mr. E B Osler, MP, and the Board of Directors are to be congratulated. The Dominion Bank is one of the strongest and most carefully and wisely conducted chartered banks in Canada.

A paragraph from the president's report is as follows: "At the annual meeting in January, 1908 your directors in their report to the shareholders made reference to the unusual financial conditions then prevailing, and the policy which it was considered advisable to pursue in conducting the affairs of the bank. Since then a marked change has taken place —there has been a steady contraction in the trade of the country and the demand for banking accommodation has been limited, although we now find an improvement in this respect and can confidently look for a gradual expansion in business. A crop somewhat above the average was harvested and the proceeds distributed throughout the country, which has tended largely to increased deposits. From the cause just named cash reserves of the bank have been particularly strong for some months, and the percentage of liquid assets is exceptionally high."

Branches have been opened up in several new localities and several new buildings were erected where needed. Altogether the year's business has been very satisfactory. See another column for full details of the Dominion Bank's standing.

DEVISED A NEW MILITARY BOOK

Captain Birdwhistle of Ottawa Has Devised Book That Should Become Popular

Captain R. J. Birdwhistle, of the 43rd D.C.O.R., Ottawa, has devised a new military book no longer or broader than a sheet of letter paper, in which it is possible to keep accurately the records of each individual man of any corps from the time he enters the service until he is either retired or discharged.

One of the most important departments in the interior economy of regiments of the Canadian militia is the keeping of those books and records of the men under the various commands, and it is in this particular that corps are generally found to be deficient under inspection.

The reason for this, apparently, is because the books issued by the Militia Department have made it impossible to keep a record in the service. Many of the militia units were never supplied with books of any kind and it is said by the officers of these corps that perhaps it was just as well they were not.

EIGHTEEN BELOW THIS MORNING

Coldest Weather That Has Been Experienced This Winter

The coldest snap of the year was experienced last night and this morning. After the somewhat mild weather that has prevailed, the severe cold is not altogether desirable. During the night and early this morning the thermometer registered eighteen degrees below zero. This is the coldest that it has been this season.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE MEETING

Of City Council Which Will be Held To-night—Report on the Investigation

The City Council will meet to-night in regular session and more than ordinary interest attaches to the meeting, as the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee regarding Chief Howard will be presented. It is expected that there will be a lively discussion on the matter.

The Council will meet in comittee of the whole at 7.30 o'clock and will go into regular session as soon as the committee of the whole is over.

TWO MEETINGS WILL BE HELD

Canadian Club Arranging With Two Speakers for This Month

The Canadian Club has arranged for two meetings to be held during this month. They have two good speakers in view, who have assured the club that they would at some time give addresses. However, the secretary has not received a definite answer from the gentlemen and until then he did not care to publish the names.

Wentworth County Council voted down a resolution to remove all advertising signs from country roads.

LEGENDS AND FOLK SONGS OF FRENCH-CANADIANS

In brochure form with the title "Legends and Folk Songs of French Canada" comes to hand the address upon that subject delivered before the Sesame Club of London, England, by Mrs. Frederick Taylor. Those who have the pleasure of Mrs. Taylor's acquaintance can easily fancy that nothing not in every sense delightful and thoroughly literary could emanate from her capable brain. The booklet itself bears evidence of the artistry of the author in that it is tied with dainty mauve ribbon and is "got up" in the unaffected yet really elaborate style of the antique. The address itself is a very distinct contribution to the fascinating subject of Canadian folk-lore, apart altogether from its delightful style. The authoress, or author, as one may suppose she would wish to be called in these "equal suffrage" days, has mastered the art of selection and detail. It would be a decided mistake to review the address by analysis, and therefore without the permission of the author, the Review will publish from day to day in instalments, the entire lecture, which will be of great value to the vast number of those who have heard much but know little, of the legends and folk songs of the then Canada. The first instalment will appear in the "Of Interest" column of the Review to-morrow.

The Proposed New Dam and Power House---Engineer Kennedy, of Montreal, Outlines Plans in Letters to Water Commissioners.

In connection with the engineer's report to the Water Commissioners re the proposed new dam, power house, etc., Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Commissioners, received the following letter from Mr. Wm. Kennedy, jr., of Montreal, who made the report;—

Montreal, Dec. 11, 1908.

T. F. Matthews, Esq., Chairman Board of Water Commissioners, Peterborough, Ont.:

Sir,—I am sending you to-day by Dominion Express, three blue prints in duplicate, preliminary designs and plans for the proposed new dam, pump house, and pumping plant for your town.

The dam, as will be seen by reference to the plans, is intended to be constructed of concrete piers, built on a solid concrete base or low dam—the latter founded on rock bottom—with sluices between the piers of sufficient capacity to discharge the entire river flow at high water periods without causing flooding or unduly high back water in the pond, the sluices to be closed or partially closed by stop logs, as may be required to control the river dicharge, thus making available the entire low water river flow for power purposes. The stop-logs will be handled by power winches, probably electrically worked.

There will be a log slide in the dam, and the dam throughout its entire length will be covered by a steel re-inforced concrete floor or bridge.

The pump-house, situated at the westerly end of the dam, will have concrete foundations, penstocks and forebays, all founded on rock bottom, with rock bottom wheel pits and tail races.

The superstructure will be of brick, with iron window sashes; steel concrete floors in the pipe vault and machinery room, thus being of the most durable construction and absolutely fire-proof.

The pumping plant will consist of one new unit of three million imperial gallons capacity per 24 hours when pumping against 115 lbs. pressure in the air vessel for fire purposes, also the two 2 1-4 million gallons each pumping units in the present pump house. The new unit will be first installed, and set to work, after which the old units will be repaired, if necessary, and removed to the new pumping station, thus providing an uninterrupted water supply to the town. The pumping capacity will then be 7 1-2 million gallons per day, with provision in the pump house for an additional unit of 3 million imperial gallons per day, thus ultimately providing for 10 1-2 millions per day.

The pump house will be well lighted and provided with a travelling crane capable of handling any part of the machinery in the building.

There will be a concrete decked crib—situated in the pond—for the intake or suction of pipe, with centre well and revolving screens for convenient cleaning.

The suction and discharge pipes will be well supplied with stop valves for

UNCOMPLETED BUILDINGS SUFFERED IN THE 'QUAKE

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The chief topic of discussion in Montreal yesterday was the earthquake which on Sunday night startled those of the residents who were not in bed and asleep. The shock was a very light one, but a great many people declared that they had felt it, some even declaring that they had been awakened by it.

Westmount seemed to have been particularly shaken by the first disturbance at 11.45 Sunday night.

There were two others at intervals of about 15 minutes, but they were very slight.

About an hour afterwards there came a third shock.

The operators in the fire alarm office in the tower of the City Hall reported that there was a shock at 1.45 a.m. yesterday, and still another at 3 a.m. is vouched for by others.

In the section about Elgin avenue, Westmount, quite a few houses were quite severely damaged, especially where the construction work had not been carried out as perfectly as it should. One roof is reported to have split.

The McGill seismograph was found not to have been working. McGill scientists are of the opinion that the present disturbances are indirectly connected with those which have occurred on the other side of the world. Mount Royal, which overlooks the city, was at one period of its existence a living volcano, but not for many years has it been active, and scientists are of the opinion that it never will be again.

PIRATES RESIST

Fish Poachers at Niagara Show Fight to Officers —Were in Launch.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—A brush between Government officers and fishing poachers on the Niagara river in which rifles and shot guns were brought into play, has been reported to Superintendent Tinsley of the Ontario Department of Fish and Game.

Chief Officer T. J. Briggs of Black Rock advises that on Saturday night three provincial officers while patrolling the Niagara river in a boat, located a power launch, the occupants of which, three in number, were dynamiting for fish near the Canadian side. They gave chase and being unable to overhaul the poachers' craft, opened fire with rifles. The pursued replied with shotguns and disappeared in the darkness. No one was injured.

Mr. Tinsley has issued orders for a strict patrol of the river. The "fish pirates," as they are designated, are believed to have a rendezvous on an island and this will be closely watched. It has been known that dynamiting has been going on for some time, the discharges killing the fish, which come to the surface and are gathered in easily, boxed up, and sent to Buffalo or other cities for marketing. The United States officers have given assurance of their active co-operation in an attempt to capture the predatory band.

NO GAS AND THEY FREEZE

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 2.—With the thermometer ten degrees below zero yesterday, Lancaster, 25 miles from here, is practically without fire. The natural gas main from the West Virginia field has broken across the Ohio river and the city is without a supply. Lines of people are going to the coalyards with buckets, baskets and wheelbarrows, or anything else they can get, but the coal supply will soon be exhausted. All the factories and schools have closed.

At Upper Sandusky the natural gas has been reduced to the lowest pressure and the water pipes have frozen. Chillothe, Ohio, is also minus gas, and few houses are equipped for coal fires.

COMMITTED FOR ARSON

Alberta Brothers Charged With Deadly Plot---Evidence is Strong.

High River, Alta., Feb. 2.—One of the most sensational arson trials in the history of the country has been begun here by the commitment of M. Driscoll and his son, F. Driscoll, on a charge of setting fire to the barn and house of a neighbor named Demers. Settlers around saw the fire in the barn, and rushed to Demers' assistance in time only to avert a possibly horrible tragedy as the culmination of the crime. When they arrived they found the outbuildings in flames and a box full of inflammable material in the coalshed, to which a burning fuse had been attached, and which had burned down almost to the explosive point. Had it not been discovered when it was the lives of Mrs. Demers and four little children would have been menaced, if not sacrificed, as they were asleep in the house at the time. Strong circumstantial evidence connected the Driscolls with the crime, and they have just been sent for trial.

GET OUT YOUR SCISSORS AND CLIP THE BALLOTS

If Some Member of Your Family or Friend is a Candidate, Get Busy at Once—There Should be no Time Lost —Vote Early and Late—Vote Every Day.

The Popular European Tour and Diamond contest being conducted by the Review, is the greatest proposition of a like nature ever before opened to the people of this section of the country. It is not only in the scope of territory over which the voting extends, but in the splendor and magnificence of the prizes to be awarded to the popular people selected by the patrons of the Review.

The gentleman in charge of the details of the contest has been through many a similar campaign. Never before, in his experience, has the proposition been more enthusiastically received; in fact, the interest shown so far is away beyond expectations. The list of contestants is most representative. The present subscribers of the Review and the new ones we shall add to our already large list will select the most popular person in this vicinity to represent this paper on the trip to England, Scotland and France. The complete itinerary of the tour will be given in a few days. It should be remembered that the tour will be given in a few days. It should be remembered that the tour is entirely free of expense to the winner, the Review paying all the expenses. If your name is not among candidates, NOW is the time to place it there. This trip and the eight other prizes will be won by March 22nd. Hurry!

HOW TO OBTAIN VOTES.

When payment is made upon a new or old subscription to the Review (when it is asked for) is given a certificate for a certain number of votes, according to the length of the subscription. These certificates may be held as long as desired and voted at any time up to the last day of the contest.

If you are interested in the contest, either for yourself or a friend, and do not fully understand the plan, call up the contest manager by 'phone, or write, and the information will be given, together with all the assistance possible, of an impartial character.

A coupon will be published in each issue of the Review, the ones in the daily being good for 2 votes, those in the weekly counting 5 votes. Write the name of the candidate you wish to vote for on the coupon, send or bring it to the Review office and it will be added to the score of your favorite. A ballot box is in readiness to receive all new nominations, newspaper coupons and certificates issued with subscriptions.

The nominations so far received are very representative. In the city the ladies outnumber the gentlemen, but in the county nearly an equal number are entered in each list. The nominations in the county represent every section of the south part of the county.

The names of the candidates will appear daily, and the votes in favor of each will be allowed to accumulate till Thursday, when the first standing will be published. All votes to appear in Thursday's score must be deposited Wednesday evening. Each day thereafter the votes cast up to 6 o'clock in the evening will be added to the respective scores the next day. Watch! for the first published vote. At the same time help your favorite, make a good showing on Thursday. A running start helps a lot. Every contestant has the same chance.

Three new nominations have been received since yesterday noon, that of Miss Birdie Dawson, of 530 Bonacord street, Miss L. L. Hallihan, of 419 Downie street, and R. J. Cox, of 554 Downie street, all in district No. 1. The name of the candidates in the Review's popular contest follows;

THE FIRE CHIEF GIVEN A CHANCE

City Council Votes to Retain His Services as Head of the Brigade---Vote Was 7 to 5---Lively Session of the Council.

Fire Chief, W. A. Howard, remains at the head of the fire department of the city of Peterborough. Such was the decision reached at the meeting of the Council last evening, there being seven voting to give him another chance and five to dismiss him.

The Council Chamber was packed to the doors with citizens anxious to hear the discussion on the matter and every now and again giving vent to their feelings by cheering and tramping their feet. The deciding of the affair created a great deal of interest which was amply evidenced by the eagerness of people to gain admittance to the Council chamber.

Those present were Mayor Rush in the chair, and Aldermen Phelan, Morrow, McIntyre, Metheral, Turner, Bradburn, Gillespie, Buller, Morgan, Duncan, Duffus and Hicks.

Before Ald. Buller, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, presented his report, he made a statement to the effect that he had stated that when the report of the committee came up in the Council he would support a motion to give Chief Howard another chance and therefore added a ryder to the report, which is as follows;

Council of the City of Peterborough,
Gentlemen,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report as follows;

1 We recommend that the supplies for the Fire Department be bought as far as possible in the city, when the prices are reasonable.

2 We authorize the chairman to purchase fifteen tons of coal for the fire station.

3 Your committee received a letter from ex-Ald. W. J. Johnston, making a number of charges against W. A. Howard, Chief of the Fire Department, which is attached to this report. We investigated the charges and heard a number of witnesses

THE ESTIMATES PRESENTED REDUCTION LOOKED FOR

If no Supplementary Estimates Are Brought in There Will be a Reduction of Over Nineteen Millions This Year in Expenses.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The main estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910, were tabled last evening by the Minister of Customs calling for an expenditure of $110,489,774, a comparative decrease of $19,298,389. Should the Government stick to its decision to bring in no supplementary estimates this session, this would represent the net decrease in estimated expenditure. Last session supplementary estimates totaled over ten and a half millions.

Chief decrease are: In arts, agriculture and statistics, $585,500; militia, chargeable to income, $636,125; public works, chargeable to income, $8,000,000; lighthouse and coast service, $662,150; railways and canals, income, $636,125. The increases include: $1,741,180 in interest and charges on public debt and $1,874,679 in the item of civil government, which provides for the enhanced salaries of inside civil service.

For redemption of public debt the sum of $50,825,262 is asked, which takes in the "Canada reduced 4 per cent. loan, payable January, 1910, and the "4 per cent. loan of 1885, payable Jan. 1, 1910."

Under the head of immigration the decrease is $105,120. The sum of $150,000 is asked for preparing plans, etc., for the reconstruction of Quebec bridge.

Under the head of public buildings for Ontario there are the following, including revotes: Belleville armory, $15,000; Belleville, to reimburse City of Belleville re drill hall site, $2,025; Brantford drill hall improvements, $3,000; Cornwall Dominion public buildings, $20,000; Fort William public building enlargement, $11,000; Glencoe public buildings, $26,000; Hamilton drill hall, addition, $37,000; Kincardine public building, $15,000; Kingston Military College, addition, $57,000; accommodation for stables, $15,000; Kingston Veterinary Hospital, $15,000; Leamington public building, $23,000; Markham public building, $10,000; Ottawa, buildings for testing fuel, $15,000; Owen Sound public building, $20,000; Parkhill public building, $20,000; Peterboro armory, $37,000; Renfrew public building, $16,000; Simcoe public building, $20,000.

Toronto Dominion buildings, repairs, $5,000; drill hall, additional accommodation, $25,000; meteorological observatory, $44,000; military magazine, $1,500; post office, to make good damage by fire of 1906, $25,000; Welland, public buildings, $33,000; Whitby public buildings, $28,000.

The following additional expenditures are asked for public works in

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

M. Ravenstein, a Dutch painter, who will do some special decorating in Notre Dame Cathedral, Montreal, has arrived at Quebec.

Soon after the steamer Lake Erie left Liverpool A. Englebom, a C.P.R. interpreter, committed suicide by hanging himself in his cabin.

It is reported in Hamilton that Dean Mahoney will become Bishop of London. Archbishop McEvay may make the announcement there on Feb. 14.

George Busse, son of Mayor Busse of Chicago, who on Sunday night accidentally shot and killed Mrs. Lucius C. Tuckerman, was exonerated from all blame by a coroner's jury.

Joseph T. Clark, editor of Toronto Saturday Night for three years, has rejoined the editorial staff of The Toronto Star. C. Fred Paul of The Montreal Star will become editor of the weekly.

RUSSIA IN NEW ROLE

Now a Peacemaker — War Talk in the Balkans Ended.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 2.—The Turko-Bulgarian deadlock over the amount of money to be paid Turkey by Bulgaria because of the Bulgarian declaration of independence is practically broken and the war cloud in south-eastern Europe has been dissipated by the acceptance of a plan proposed by Russia, which reconciles in a novel manner the Turkish claim of 120,000,000 francs ($24,000,000) and the Bulgarian offer of 82,000,000 francs ($16,400,000).

This plan is based on the war indemnity of 8,000,000 francs a year, which, in accordance with the Berlin treaty of 1878, Turkey is to pay Russia for a hundred years. These payments bear no interest. The Russian proposal is to remit them until the Turkish claim against Bulgaria is satisfied. Russia will collect instead 82,000,000 francs from Bulgaria in similar installments. These payments will bear interest, and the amount of this interest will recoup Russia.

Bulgaria has formally assented to this proposal, and the Russian Government has assurances that the plan is satisfactory to the Turks

The settlement of the Turko-Bulgarian difficulties, it is stated in well informed circles, involves the recognition of the kingdom of Bulgaria, whose proclamation of independence precipitated the crisis.

MAYOR RUSH GAVE OYSTER SUPPER

Enjoyable Time at Close of Council Meeting Last Evening

Mayor Rush entertained the aldermen and representatives of the city dailies to an oyster supper at Hooper's grill room last evening at the close of the council meeting. A sumptuous supper was partaken of and an enjoyable social time was spent.

Dr. Nirman held that the removal of the colon would make one immune from diseases. As he was locally diseased in the colon he decided to experiment on himself to prove his theory.

Socialists and Police Clash.

Hanover, Germany, Feb. 2.—Socialist demonstrations here in protest against the Prussian election laws resulted in a collision between the Socialists and the police. The police used their side arms against the demonstrators and in the fighting between twenty and thirty persons were injured.

Eighty Cent Gas Assured.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 2.—The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday denied the application of the Consolidated Gas Co. of New York for a re-hearing. The case involved the validity of the 80-cent gas law.

Mexico Leads In This.

Mexico City, Feb. 2.—The physical merger of the Mexican Central and the national railways became effective yesterday, and the Mexican Government has taken over 7,012 miles of line.

Port Hope Council Gets Busy.

Port Hope, Feb. 2—The Town Council last night decided to have a representative of the Provincial Board of Health visit Port Hope to look into the smallpox scare. Pointed allegations were made that the trouble was being carried about by doctors.

Ald. Curtis introduced a bylaw looking toward compulsory vaccination, which measure carried, with a recommendation that several foreigners' families be specially cared for.

Two Freeze In New York.

New York, Feb. 2.—Two deaths resulted from the cold yesterday. Jas. Kelly, aged 70, was found frozen to death at Irvington, and Malcolm Meyer, 54, a hack driver, was found dead in a stable at Rockaway Beach.

Two thousand applicants for food and coffee were lined up at the Bowery Mission during the night, which was the largest number fed at that place thus far this winter.

THE COMMON APPLE A GREAT SOURCE OF HEALTH

Few people there are but enjoy a ripe, juicy apple. But how many realize that it is a medicine as well as a treat?

Apple juice has a very marked effect on the kidneys, increasing their power to throw off the waste products of the body, called urea, and thus prevent Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and similar troubles that come from poisoned blood.

Similarly, other fruits stimulate the action of the liver and bowels—others of the skin. Combined, they keep the blood pure—the body clean and healthy.

To get this effect, however, one must eat a great deal of fruit, or better, eat a little fruit and take "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" are tablets in which the juices of ripe fruits, with their medicinal value intensified, are combined with valuable tonics. They act directly on Bowels, Kidneys and Skin and put them in perfect condition — thus ensuring the thorough elimination of all waste matter and poisons from the body. Trial box 25c. Regular size 50c.—6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE FIRE BRIGADE

The City Council dealt very leniently with Fire Chief Howard last night. Efficiency is the watchword of the present day and efficiency is not increased by freedom of living nor does the latter afford a good example to others. No one will allege that the members of this year's council lack backbone. They upheld their respective opinions determinedly and it was interesting to note how men acting solely with a view to the best interests of the city as they undoubtedly did could come to diametrically-opposed conclusions. The efficiency of the department remaining unchallenged it became a question of "giving a man another chance." The Mayor and the Chief's supporters concluded the proceedings in this connection by very sharply emphasizing the fact that the Chief must discontinue his present manner of living. It remains to be seen if the very great leniency of the council will be appreciated. The question of discipline in the public service necessarily deserves close attention.

A SAVAGE ATTACK

"If he could come out here and get acquainted with the New Englander or the religious American of the Middle West or the cultured American of the South, he would find sin and lawlessness quite sufficiently covered up."—The Montreal Star.

This vital stab by the Star "of all that we hold most dear," was made in a recent editorial in that paper on Bernard Shaw, who scored Americans heavily, with the saving remark, however, that Americans, unlike Europeans, sinned openly and not under cover. To this the Star replies as above. The retort effective, is no doubt inspired by a vision of two hosts marching, the one consisting of a host marching on foreign-heathen lands and the other the incoming host swarming over us here at home and taking possession of the country vacated by the other host. The report of Judge Cassels, it will be remembered, says that it is useless to punish the criminals that are caught since the people of Canada at large are just as bad. As if this indictment of our Canadian Christianity by Judge Cassels was not severe enough the Star adds the deadly insult of insinuating that smug self-satisfaction is used to cover the sin beneath. Where is the Moral Reform League? Let us get a move on or in good sooth by Michaelmas twelvemonth we'll be like Alexander, weeping for more worlds to rob. Every journal from the modern Dan to Beersheba has been crying in the wilderness for relief from the the corruption that has encankered us but no notice is taken of it all, at least by the church. It, on the contrary, is regarded by many as a form of impertinence.

If then, these are the fruits, what must the trees be like. A million dollars to enlighten a few heathen, while the efforts of four centuries at home have come to worse than naught! Even Death has no victory over this, or the grave a sting. Rev. Dr. Falconer, President, of Toronto University, makes our moral downfall a subject of great concern. The editor of the Globe says we are a puny and a rotten lot, that we need bigger and certainly better men, that a man with a character is a rara avis, etc. But then what do these poor men know after all in comparison with those forming the new movement who do not hesitate to assume that a condition of affairs exists that bears no resemblance to the lamentable truth. Upon whom then, we ask, shall the ultimate responsibility rest? Upon those who cry the present need, or upon those who ignore and pass on? Which after all is the real Christian?

THAT TELEGRAM

The garbled telegram unwittingly made use of by Mr Barnard, MP, and others in British Columbia, was a disgrace to the man who garbled it. It is shown beyond all cavil that Mr. Borden knew nothing of it until long after the election nor for that matter did those who made use of it on the hustings. While the garbled part made Mr. Borden use the internationally offensive phrase, "the absolute exclusion of Asiatics," which would apply to ambassadors, travellers, students and the like the real meaning of the message that Mr Borden did send was that he was in favor of the exclusion of Japanese labor. It is charged that Mr Borden gained an advantage by the garbled message. Perhaps so. But we are fully persuaded that it was the situation created by Sir Wilfrid that gave us the victory and not the message. However it is to be hoped that the outcome will furnish a warning to the crooked of both parties.

LEMIEUX FOR LEADER

Some time ago, reading the signs in the political heavens (save the mark!) we saw the name of Lemieux writ large. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's followers must get the electorate used to the name of the new leader. Then gradually he will glide like a ship from the stocks, safely into the deep water of politics. Two years ago the Liberal press agent floated through the Canadian Press an item or two to the same effect. The British press took it up. Now a few more skilful touches are added and by the next election it will be "Lemieux forever." Then look out for the paragraphs in the French press demanding to know why the Tories oppose him. "It is because he is French," &c. But Canada will never forget the ambassador to Japan who has brought all this trouble upon the Labor market of Canada.

THE SENATE

The agitation for a reform of the Senate is again to the fore. The Hon. R. W. Scott one of the most "ancient and honorable" of that honorable body has a plan by which it might be made partially elective. The reproach heaped upon the Senate hitherto has been that of the extreme age and consequent supposed incapacity of the Senators. Remove this reproach and the "difficulty" is removed. Why would it not do to have a Senator retirable on attaining a certain age, say seventy? We cannot see how the process of electing will do away with infirmity of age and if it does not wherein does the reform consist? At the present time there are enough elections of various sorts to suit the most fastidious. Why give us more? At the same time the uninterrupted appointments by governments of their own supporters makes a farce of an "independent" body. Would it not be better to have the Senate recruited from time to time from the provincial cabinets, lieutenant-governors being ex-officio.

GREAT MEN WHO HAVE PROVED ZAM-BUK

Scientist, Analyst, Magistrate, and War Correspondent All Testify

Men and women great in point of knowledge position and experience, say that Zam-Buk stands superior to all other healing substances. Read the opinions of the following eminent men;—

Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co. N.S., a magistrate, a School Commissioner and Baptist Deacon, says;—"Zam-Buk cured me of eczema on my ankle, which had defied every other remedy tried during twenty years. It also cured me of piles; and I take pleasure in recommending it to my fellow-men."

Mr. Frank Scudamore, the famous war correspondent, who has gone through twenty-nine battles and whose dispatches during the Boer war were so eagerly read from coast to coast in Canada says;—"Owing to the poisonous dye from an undergarment penetrating a slight scratch my legs broke out in ulcers. At one time I had seventeen deep holes in my left leg, into each of which I could put my thumb; and had fourteen similar ulcers in my right leg. Remedy after remedy failed to heal these and I was well nigh worn out with pain and lack of sleep. Zam-Buk was introduced, and I am glad to say that it gave me speedy relief. A few weeks' treatment resulted in a perfect cure of all the ulcers."

Dr. Andrew Wilson whose reputation as a scientist is world-wide, in a book recently published "Homely Talks on First Aid" says;—"Zam-Buk may be relied upon as an antiseptic dressing which requires no preparation and has the particular advantage of possessing unique healing properties."

Mr. W. Lascelles-Scott the famous analyst to the Royal Commission for Victoria says;—"I have no hesitation in certifying the entire purity of Zam-Buk. It is of great healing power for open wounds or injuries."

So one could go on quoting authority after authority all of the opinion based on personal tests, that Zam-Buk should be in every home. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, burns scratches, cold-sores, chapped hands ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, blood poisoning and eczema. It is also used extensively for piles for which it is without equal. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box; 3 for $1.25; or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price. You are warned against harmful imitations.

LEGENDS AND FOLK SONGS OF FRENCH CANADA

My subject is so primitive, and must be so simply treated, that if Miss Edith Miller had not with friendly generosity acceded to my fervent request to sing—as she alone can sing—a few of our country's folk songs, I would have faced you this evening with apologetic diffidence.

It is mainly due to such Canadian patriots and writers as Sir James Le Moine, Sir Louis Frechette, Garneau, the Abbe Casgrain, Ernest Gagnon, and the late Dr W H Drummond and William McLennan that our legends have at last received the attention they were so long denied. English Canadians have been inexplicably, and almost criminally, indifferent to their fascination and value—and to the simple beauty and unique picturesqueness of the survival of Old France literally without their gates—even within their city limits in the Province of Quebec.

Having had the good fortune to pass my childhood in the agricultural valley of the Yamaska River, where the descendant of those venturesome settlers who came over with Champlain from Normandy and Brittany still weave and wear the blue grey "etoffe-du-pays"— where the men sit before the blazing maple logs greasing their strong home made 'bottes sauvages' on long winter evenings —where the wooden "sabots" of the women click gaily on the snow-white pine floor, or their felt slippers thud gently to the hum of the spinning wheel —I soon spoke, through this early intimacy, their peculiar "patois" more fluently than English, and became to them as one of themselves—learning the management of "boucanier," 'fournier and 'laiterie" years before hearing of trusty Mrs Beeton. And I knew the awful danger of seeing "La Jonglouse" by the riverside, or upon the water at twilight —of meeting 'fi-follets,' 'loups-garous' or 'lutins' in the woods—years and years before I had heard of Hans Andersen or Grimm.

What a delight it was to lean back upon Philomene's homespunclad knees on the Keronac farmhouse gallerie on a warm lilac scented night late in the month of May, when the frogs, our indefatigable Canadian nightingales, piped in continuous chorus promise of refreshing showers on the morrow —and the North Star's great gleam dazzled from the smooth surface of the river below and the vast blue above. Young men and women, returning from the farther shore, sang to the beat of the rowlocks or sweep of the paddle—

"Par derrier, chez mon pere
" Y a-t-un arbe plante.'

At the end of each verse the moccasined or bare feet about me thudded softly as all joined in with—

"Vive les rosiers,
Du joli mois de Mai."

But Miss Miller will give you its rythmical sweetness —and also the song that every true Canadian heart and foot beats to — the song that with peculiar sentiment permeates our lives—that, heard on a dahabeah, transforms palm and pyramid to tall pine and tin-roofed "paroisse," or changes Italian olive slope to Laurentian maple grove—I speak of our loved "A la Claire Fontaine" with its haunting refrain;—

"Lui ya longtemps que je t'aime, Jamais je ne t'oublierai."

Our legends are of five distinct periods;—

First, those of the days when Indian band warred only with Indian band—of their heroes, their gods, and their evil spirits.

Secondly, those connected with the coming of the French—the passing up the river of Jacques Cartier the colonizing and explorations of Champlain and La Salle, who undauntedly fought and hewed their way through virgin forests filled with savage hordes up vast rivers and across shoreless lakes. Of those fearless Jesuit fathers who carried the Cross and its message over mountain and prairies, of great nobles of France, and many other brave and intrepid Frenchmen.

Thirdly, the legends of European origin—of Normandy and Brittany —that have with time become identified with New France, such as "The Mass of the Ghost," and "The Black Horse of St. Peter" or "White Horse of St. Francis."

Fourthly, those relative to the English occupation and the alleged fearful atrocities and barbarities practised by the conquerors—universally credited until recently by these simple people.

Fifthly, those told over one hundred years ago (and now time-adopted) at French-Canadian firesides by General Burgoyne's Hessians and Brunswickers on their coming north to the Lower St. Lawrence at the close of the American War of Independence.

We are indebted to Lemoine for the first Canadian Indian legend definitely recorded. One told years after its making to Jacques Cartier by his Micmac pilot as, ascending the river, they passed the lonely "Islet au Massacre" guarding Bic Harbor. Fifty years before, ran the pilot's tale, two hundred of his tribe were camping there overnight—canoes were beached and in the great cavern, set high in the towering rock in apparent security lay braves squaws, children and papooses, wrapped in peaceful slumber. But stealthily, silently the snake-like canoes of the universal enemy the ferocious Iroquois slid out from the black serrated reflection of the fir-treed shore—out over the smooth mirror of Bic Bay—to that little islet. Noiselessly the cat-like fiends crept over the huge rocks. As a great swirl of choking smoke wound serpentinely into the opening of the cave and a scarlet tongue of flame shot high in air the stillness of the night was broken for miles around by that too-well-known war whoop the Iroquois "Kohe-Kohe"—that was later the passing bell of all isolated dwellers of the wilderness on whose ears it fell. Then the Micmacs knowing full well their doom was sealed crowded down the narrow egress—choking licked by the cruel flames pierced by showers of poisoned arrows the two hundred fell at the cave's mouth. As the golden pink band of dawn outlined the purple peaks of the Laurentides, the "Northland tigers" hung with reeking scalps and with reddened tomahawks, paddled out across the vast sheet of silvering water—and about that lonely islet fell a great silence a silence this time only broken for years thereafter by shrieks, and moans, and crackling as of burning faggots, when evil neared the Micmacs, or the Iroquois came down the river. Nearly a century later the "Bon Pere Daule" sprinkled Holy Water in that haunted cavern and over those chalky bones—and by many a vigil, and many a mass, eventually earned peace for the tortured heathen souls of the murdered Micmacs

Higher up the river, the great Algonquin Chief Piscaret, performed his wondrous feats. Alone in the wilderness and pursued by a large band of relentless Iroquois, he escaped by turning his snow shoes front to back, so that the enemy sped north as he fled south—and, circling back, this master of woodcraft seized every opportunity to destroy laggards and harass the ferocious enemy. Capable of outrunning a deer, he finally hid in an Iroquois village 50 leagues away, and when night fell crept into a hut and destroyed an entire family as a man would a nest of rattle-snakes. The next day he passed hidden in a pile of fuel, and when darkness came repeated his performance of the previous night. The third night the whole village remained on guard, and despite the tremendous risk, Piscaret issued from his shelter, opened the door of a hut filled with watchful braves, brained the nearest, and fled with the whole band at his heels. He ran all night, and at dawn hid in a hollow tree. The superstitious Iroquois decided it was an evil spirit they had been pursuing, not a human being, abandoned the chase, lighted a fire and slept. Piscaret, creeping up, slew and scalped every member of the band, and, as at dawn the smoke rose high and straight from his wigwam, strode into his village strung with bleeding trophies,

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Too Much Brandy In Chocolate.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Dr. Milton Hersey yesterday morning submitted to the court his report of the analysis of the brandy chocolates which were seized by detectives in a big raid on local confectionery establishments, made last week. Dr. Hersey stated that the liquid in the chocolates contained 8.26 pure alcohol, or 20 per cent. of brandy. The percentage of alcohol in the whole candy was about 7. The chocolates were about half the strength of ordinary brandy, and he considered them intoxicating.

British Steamer a Total Wreck.

Melbourne, Feb. 2.—The British steamer Clan Ranald is a total wreck near Edithburg, and the captain and 46 of the crew, most of whom were Asiatics, were drowned. The vessel was seen drifting ashore on Sunday night, but sank before boats could reach her. Eighteen members of the crew were picked up. The Clan Ranald was struck by a heavy sea on Saturday afternoon and rendered unmanageable. Then being driven ashore she turned turtle.

Level Crossing Accident.

Chatham, Feb. 2.—About noon yesterday a horse attached to a dray loaded with coal was crossing the tracks at William street when the wheel of the wagon became caught in a frog. A freight was approaching and struck the wagon, completely demolishing it. The horse was carried down the track 35 feet, but did not receive even a scratch.

One Resignation.

Regina, Feb. 2.—City Assessor Peter Cooper has handed in his resignation.

Cooper was the alderman whom Fry and Dobson, in King v. Scott, mentioned as having to be squared with Mayor Laing in order to get the contract raised $3,500.

Not Guilty.

Slovenly Farmers In Saskatchewan.

Regina, Feb. 2.—The Department of Agriculture yesterday published a final report dealing with the crop of last year.

"Compared with 1907," says the report, "returns of last year are almost twice as large, both in acreage and yield," but deduces the fact that for each farmer whose crops exceeded the average yield for the province, some other farmer or farmers must have had crops of which the average yield was correspondingly less. The report says that Saskatchewan is being retarded and damaged by bad and slovenly farming.

Sudden Change.

Chatham, Feb. 2.—Visiting the police station to ask the magistrate to permit the woman with whom they were boarding to keep a maid, Thos. Fobbiston and Walter Simmons, who have been here from England three years, admitted that they had boarded at the place, which is a house of ill-repute, in the estimation of the police. They were immediately charged with being inmates, pleaded guilty and each was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

Fernie Sufferers Squabble.

Fernie, B.C., Feb. 2.—There are lively times in sight because of an agitation among the work people burned out in the big fire against the repaying the money that was loaned them to rebuild their homes.

At a meeting attended by practically all the sufferers by the fire, strong language was used and ex-Mayor Tuttle vigorously replied to certain attacks made on the disposition of the relief funds.

Compulsory Insurance.

Minneapolis, Feb. 2.—Compulsory old age and disability insurance under state control and applying to workers in trades, crafts and professions, is advocated by Senator J. T. McGowan of Hennepin County. Senator McGowan is embodying his ideas in a bill which will be introduced at the present session of the Legislature.

Steamers Ice Bound.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 2.—Traffic between Prince Edward Island and the mainland is interrupted. The steamer Minto, which is from Georgetown, P.E.I., for Pictou, has been in the ice three miles off Pictou Light since Saturday and is landing mails and passengers over the ice.

Tanner Re-nominated.

New Glasgow, N.S., Feb. 2.—The Conservative convention here yesterday nominated C. E. Tanner to contest Pictou County for the seat in the local Assembly made vacant by Tanner's resignation to contest the county for the Dominion House. The polling is on Feb. 16.

Miss Keller's New Home.

Boston, Feb. 2.—A large farm house in Brunswick, Maine, is to be the future home of Miss Helen Keller, the famous deaf, dumb and blind young woman in order that her work for the blind may not be interrupted by so many social engagements.

To Light a Channel.

Brockville, Feb. 2.—Motor and steamboat owners are circulating a petition asking the Dominion Government to place more lights in the Canadian channel of the river between here and Gananoque, in order to make it navigable after dark.

The Earl of Morley, not Viscount Morley of Blackburn is visiting Earl Grey.

Joseph B Davis was sentenced at London to five years for stealing [illegible]

Anniversary of Assassination.

Lisbon, Feb. 2.—The first anniversary of the assassination of King Carlos of Portugal and his son, Crown Prince Luiz, occurred yesterday and passed off quietly.

King Manuel, Queen Marie Amelie and a number of court dignitaries attended a memorial service in the Pantheon of St. Vincent, where the remains of King Carlos and his son lie buried.

Ministers Asked to Help.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Secretary Caskey of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, yesterday began circularizing all the Protestant ministers throughout the Dominion with outline programs of the great missionary congress here in April.

Each minister is also asked to furnish a list of prominent laymen who will co-operate in the movement.

Judicial Inquiry.

Galt, Feb. 2.—The Town Council last night decided on a judicial investigation of the civic scandal in which Town Foreman Davidson is accused of employing men on his own farm and having their names on the board of works pay list.

Eskimo at College.

New York, Feb. 2.—Mene Wallace, the full-blooded Eskimo boy, who was brought to the United States 12 years ago by Commander Peary, was heartily cheered yesterday by a big crowd of students on the campus of Manhattan College here, when he appeared to enter the preparatory class of the institution.

Diamond-Maker Sentenced.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Henri Lemoine, the Frenchman, who claims that he could manufacture diamonds were aired in the courts of Paris last summer, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in default. Lemoine fled just before the final hearing of the case against him.

Two Hundred Burned In China.

Canton, China, Feb. 2.—At least 200 lives were lost in a fire which occurred yesterday in a fleet of flower boats. The charred bodies of 170 victims have already been recovered, but many persons are still missing.

Mexico's City Hall Destroyed.

Mexico City, Feb. 2.—Fire destroyed the City Hall, the Hotel Pasje, and two blocks of business houses and dwellings on Sunday. Loss $500,000.

Employers to Blame.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The royal commission appointed by the Provincial Government to investigate the question of compensation to workmen injured in the course of their employment, places the responsibility for all kinds of accidents upon employers without regard to contributory negligence on the part of the workmen unless an injury has been due to wilful acts of his own.

Woman Stole From the Dead.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—For what the magistrate characterized as a ghoulish act, Adeline Boivin, a middle-aged woman, was sentenced to four months in jail.

The evidence showed that she had stolen the rings off the fingers of the deceased wife of Nicholas Norman, and also some jewelry to the value of $20, from under the dead woman's pillow.

Exciting Times In China.

London, Feb. 2.—A special despatch to The Times from Pekin declares that since the death of the Dowager Empress, it has become increasingly evident that the Government is in the hands of the Regent and the Manchus, and that the palace is becoming a hotbed of party faction.

This, the despatch says, is reflected in wholesale impeachment by censors.

WHY SUFFER?

Breathe Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs.

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigor and vitality.

Joseph Dural, of Woodstock street, Tavistock, Ont., says; "Catarrh had given me all kinds of suffering for a long time. There was a swelling of the glands under the eyes and adjacent to my nose and the discharges would drop into my throat. I used several remedies, but never got the relief that I did from Booth's Hyomei. I have been so pleased with Hyomei results that I highly recommend its use to catarrh sufferers."

Wm. Madill, the druggist, will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh or money back. Don't delay this pleasant antiseptic treatment. Breathe in Hyomei and kill the germs.

Wm. Madill will sell you a complete Hyomei Outfit, including inhaler, for only $1.00. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds, hay fever and croup.

Bismarck and Music.

Bismarck's utterances regarding music are compiled in a book by Kendell, "Furst und Furstin Bismarck, Erinnerungen aus den Jahren, 1846-1872." Kendell once saw the man of blood and iron shed tears during a performance of Beethoven's Sonata Appassionata. His favorite composers were Beethoven and Schubert. The only thing he did not like in their works was the variations. These, he said, "do not speak to the heart." Concerning the sonata just referred to he remarked: "This is like the singing and sobbing of a whole human life. If I heard this music often I should always be brave."

Marie, dredging, $55,000; Southampton, extension of dock, $6,000; Toronto harbor, improvements, $375,000.

Under the head of customs salaries and contingent expenses in several parts, including pay for overtime of officers, the additional sum of $95,000 is asked. City postoffice salaries are increased: $18,000 in Ottawa, $53,000 in Toronto, $5,389 in Hamilton, $1,135 in Brantford, $4,866 in London, $3,426 in St. Thomas, $13,533 in Winnipeg, and $11,408 in Vancouver.

There is a big reduction on Intercolonial Railway, the item of $1,798,830, looking after capital expenditures, comparing with $4,502,240 last year.

There is a reduction of $40,000 in the item of industries of Kingston Penitentiary.

Tweny millions are provided for surveys and construction of the National Transcontinental Railway in place of thirty millions last year, while for the Hudson Bay Railway $65,000 is provided.

Canals get $1,720,300, of which the following items are for the Welland, chargeable to capital: Electric lighting and power plant, $8,000; to widen canal near Welland, $40,000; Port Colborne, improvements, $65,000; surveys, $10,600; dock, south of Welland, $40,000; siding to Port Colborne elevator, $21,000. Chargeable to income the following sums are included: To renew entrance piers, Port Maitland, $65,000; stone protection to banks, $10,000; heavy repairs, $10,000; to renew foundations of junction lock, $8,000; to build new steel gate lifter, $12,000; to renew bridge over raceway, lock No. 2, old canal, $1,500; to renew three feeder bridges, $3,000.

Most of the items for civil government passed last night when the estimates were taken up.

In seven minutes the House disposed of Mr. Lancaster's level crossings bill by putting it through all the stages as in the same form as it was last year, and it now goes back to the Senate, perhaps to be inhumanly slaughtered again.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier readily accepted R. L. Borden's suggestion that a select standing committee on natural resources be appointed. Mr. Borden asserted that development and conservation might well be the watchwords of the representatives of the people in Parliament, yet any stimulus to public interest had come almost together from the outside. Mr. Borden suggested that a sub-committee might be appointed to deal with the fisheries, resources and interests. Germany had greatly increased its forest wealth by turning the rough hill districts into timber lands, and he quoted a statement that the spruce forests of Nova Scotia are reproducing more rapidly than any other timber in the world. The water-powers should be held for the general benefits of the people, not handed over to private control. The mineral wealth of the country should also be carefully guarded. The committee could also investigate the advisability of preventing the export of pulpwood.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in favor of the principle of the resolution, but thought that as the subjects involved were various it would be better to have more than one committee, say one for fisheries, one for minerals and one for forests and waterways. It would be better to have smaller Parliamentary committees and more of them.

Mr. Borden agreed. He had only ventured to ask for one more committee, but would cheerfully accept three.

Mr. Aylesworth introduced a bill to prevent the payment or acceptance of illicit or secret commissions, explaining that there was already an act directed against persons receiving commissions from transaction while acting for the Governments or municipal bodies. The proposal goes further and makes it illegal on the part of any employe to receive commissions in considerations of favors to be given at the expense of the employe.

Dr. Barr introduced his bill to facilitate the crossing of railway tracks by telephone, telegraph or electric wires or water mains. It provides that the person or company requiring to cross the track may proceed with the work if no action is taken by the railway company within 15 days.

One Man's Downfall.

Brockville, Feb. 2.—Richard C. Grindlay, a tramp, locked up here on suspicion of being a murderer, wanted in Rochester, N.Y., was yesterday discharged. Grindlay is very well connected in Glasgow, his father being president of a large manufacturing concern, while a brother is an eminent lawyer. His wife and family live in Plainfield, N.J., but he is a confirmed inebriate, and they would sooner live without him.

SHARP TRICK ON A JUNK DEALER

Lindsay Man Buncoed by a Stranger in the Town

A sharp trick was practiced on a well-known junk dealer who resides in the east ward a few days ago, by a stranger.

The junk dealer was approached by the sharper who informed him that he had a carload of material at Newmarket which he wished to dispose of. He seemed somewhat anxious to sell it to the local dealer, who finally decided to purchase it, giving the stranger a sum of money to pay the freight charges to Lindsay. The car of junk did not arrive and investigation revealed the fact that the man was a flim flammer and that he buncoed the local dealer.—Lindsay Post.

WEDDING BELLS

ANDERSON—PORTER.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Jan. 27th, at 5.30 p. m., at the home of Mr. Joseph Porter, of Bailieboro, when his eldest daughter, Miss Eva Josephine, was united in marriage to Mr. Edmund Anderson.

The drawing room was very prettily decorated with evergreens and flowers for the occasion.

The bride was given away by her father and entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march which was played by Miss Vina Moncrief, of Bensfort.

The bride looked handsome in a gown of white silk with garniture of point lace. Her veil was surmounted by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower of bride's roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fanny Porter, and the groom was supported by Mr. Fred Anderson. Miss Roberta Anderson and Miss Helen Porter were ribbon girls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. McKenzie.

After congratulations guests to the number of sixty partook of a dainty dejeuner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and valuable gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future welfare.

The absolute purity and delicious flavor the refreshing and invigorating qualities of "Salada" Tea have made it the daily beverage of millions of satisfied users.

LITERARY SOCIETY AT ALL SAINTS'

Monthly Meetings Will be Held—First One Held Last Night

A Literary Society has been formed among the young people of All Saints' church and the first of a series of monthly meetings was held last night. Over sixty-five were in attendance and a most enjoyable and profitable time was spent. Rev Mr Trumpour gave a reading from the "Idylls of the King," by Tennyson, with a running interpretation. The other numbers on the programme were also very interesting.

The society will meet monthly and will take up the study of the "Idylls of the King."

THE DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. George Hazelhurst Passed Away at Jacksonville, Florida, Last Week.

Old residents of the city who remember the people of the town in its early days will be sorry to learn of the death of George Hazelhurst, which occurred at Jacksonville, Florida, last week. A letter received from Mr W J Nesbitt, of Fort Pierce, Florida, says that Mr Hazelhurst had been failing for some time, and went to Jacksonville for treatment and taking a bad turn just slipped away in the night and was found dead in his bed in the hotel in the morning. Mr. Hazelhurst was the son of the publisher of the Peterborough Despatch, during the 40's, the paper that preceded the Review.

PETITION BEING LARGELY SIGNED

Local Option Workers Received Encouraging Reports at Meeting Last Night

Enthusiasm ran high last evening in the committee rooms of the City Temperance League, 173 Simcoe St. Temperance workers have been busy during the past week securing signatures to a petition asking the city council to introduce a by-law providing for the taking of a vote on local option next January. The campaign committee met last evening. Workers were present from every polling sub-division in the city. After they had presented their report it was found that already over twenty-five per cent of the ratepayers have signed the petition. In some divisions over fifty per cent of the ratepayers have attached their signatures. The workers reported that ratepayers in all parts of the city are enthusiastic about the approaching contest and confident that it will carry by a large majority.

It was found last evening that considerable of the ground had not been covered. It was decided unanimously to press the canvass vigorously. Those ratepayers who were away from home when the workers called at their places will be visited again.

WILL BE MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

cutting off any pump or set of pumps as may be necessary.

It is intended that the dam, pump-house and pumping plant—in fact the entire development—shall be so designed, constructed and equipped as to be thoroughly modern and efficient throughout, as well as absolutely fire-proof. The materials of construction will be almost entirely of concrete, iron and steel, thus securing the greatest degree of permanence and reducing the cost of maintenance and operation to a minimum.

The estimated cost of the dam, with bridge, power house, intake cribs, 7 1-2 millions gallon capacity pumping plant, installed complete with suction and discharge pipes, valves, etc., is one hundred and seventeen thousand ($117,000) dollars. This amount includes 12 1-2 per cent. for contingencies, also 5 per cent for engineering and inspection, but, does not include land, legal or printing expenses.

With more time at command and detail plans fully worked out I expect the cost will be reduced from the preliminary estimate, but I deem it advisable that the estimate should exceed rather than fall short of the actual cost.

I may remark that it is the intention to provide a continuous roadway across the river on the dam, thus requiring slight changes from the preliminary plans, but included in the estimate of cost.

WM. KENNEDY, jr.

What head with the proposed dam give?

The head will fluctuate slightly, according to the river flow, but I propose the low water pond level to be maintained at an elevation 78.50 to 78.75, or at least, one foot higher than the present dam crest level, which, with a further gain of, say, nine inches in tail water by placing the dam further down stream, will be a total gain of at least fifteen per cent on the present head from the dam crest to tail water as given by Mr. Henderson for October, 1906, or from, say, present head 10 feet to 11 1-2 feet proposed head. This fifteen per cent, or over, extra head will give a NET GAIN IN RESULTS or output power to pumping or electrical machinery, of twenty per cent, or over, at the new dam.

I expect we will do better than this; but the exact gain can only be determined by actual tests under varying water conditions.

What number of horse-power will it give?

The horse-power will vary in proportion as the variation in river flow from low to high water but at ordinary low river flow of 65,000 cubic feet per minute (figure obtained by Mr. Henderson, Superintendent), and 11 1-2 feet head, the power will be 11.32 h.p., allowing 80 per cent. efficiency on water wheels increasing as above stated with river flow, or, probably, 1800 h.p. during a great part of the year, increasing to 2000 h.p. easily at a good flow.

PROVISION FOR RAISING THE WATER.

Provision is made in the design of the new dam to permit of raising the water four feet or more higher than the crest of the old dam (this being an advisable precaution to take care of extreme floods), but to maintain this extreme height would raise the pond so as to injure the turbines at the Nassau dam, and would not be allowed.

With the new dam and the proper use of the stop-logs, the pond level can be maintained to the greatest permissable height under all conditions.

Yours truly,
WM. KENNEDY, jr.

BEAR CAN SEE SHADOW TO-DAY

According to Old Saw Bruin Comes Out To-day for a Look Around

This is Candlemas day and the bear will surely see his shadow if he ventures out. According to an old saw, if the bear sees his shadow when he comes out today he will return to his sleeping quarters and repose for six weeks more. If he does not see his shadow he stays out and the spring will be an early one.

Of course many people will wonder why any well-bred bear should get out of his cosy corner in the middle of the winter to see if he can make a shadow, especially when there is so much pneumonia going around. Bear etiquette should be changed to suit modern conditions.

SOLDIERS ARE IN CUSTODY IN KINGSTON

Charged With the Robbery of Stores---Loot Valued at $3000

Special to the Review.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 2.—Percy P. Pare, aged 27 years, of the army service corps and Reginald Lewis, aged 23, are under arrest on the charge of robbing Louis Abramsons fur store here some weeks ago, of $2,000 worth of goods, and Abbot's store in Gananoque on Saturday night, of silver ware to the value of $1,000. All of the stolen stuff was found at a house on Corrigan street, where Pare boarded, some of it being buried in the cellar and some of it under the snow in the back yard.

STONY LAKE COTTAGERS DEPUTATION

Waited Upon Com. of the Whole Last Evening---Oppose Street Railway Co.'s Petition for Extension of Time.

A deputation from the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, consisting of Messrs. D. W. Dumble, R. Neill, F. Brownscombe, R. G. Kingan and J. H. Knapman waited upon the committee of the Whole Council last night, strongly opposing the Street Railway Company's application to the Legislature for an extension of time to build their road to Stony Lake.

Mr. Dumble addressed the committee and stated that the association was very strongly opposed to an extension of time. The cottagers wanted the street railroad to Stony Lake and they wanted it as soon as possible.

The Council assured the deputation that they would endeavor to secure from the Radial Railway Company a statement that the road would be built in the next year or two.

CHARITY BOARD ASKS CITY TO INCREASE THEIR GRANT

Mr S R Armstrong, secretary of the central charity board, read a letter before the committee of the whole council last evening to the effect that owing to the increased demands upon the board, the increased population of the city and the higher price of wood and other articles, the board was not able to meet the demands with the grant they received. They therefore asked for a grant of $2000 for this year, and that the repayment of $400 a balance of an advance to purchase wood, be remitted.

Mr Finch Miller, the agent of the board addressed the council, pointing out that since the board was formed, the city did not expended as much money on charity as they had previous to that and the population of the city had greatly increased. He gave figures to show this.

The Charity Board was formed 12 years ago today—Feb 2— The grants of the council to the board each year and the population of the city were as follows:

	Population	Grant
1897	10951	1269.54
1898	10854	1449.05
1899	10554	1346.48
1900	10879	1504.52
1901	10985	1403.20
1902	11548	1342.63
1903	11548	1312.00
1904	14175	1523.58
1905	14391	1542.18 1-2
1906	14962	1778.36 1-4
1907	1600	1877.99 1-4
1908	16491	2471,04 1-2

Before the board was formed the following were the amounts expended on charity,

1896	$2037.62
1895	1988.84
1894	2187.56

The board now has also to take care of contagious diseases while the hospitals used to take them. The past month the board had taken up two cases of scarlet fever among the needy people.

The board also had seven people in the Protestant Home and two in the House of Providence.

On motion the city assumed the $400 overdraft which had to be advanced for the purchase of wood.

The council thought that the request was a step in the right direction and promised the Charity Board that it would receive its earnest consideration.

SPORTING NEWS

THE CRITICAL MATCH OF THE DISTRICT PLAYED TO-NIGHT

Will Peterborough win the district championship? Well that depends directly on whether they are able to defeat Cobourg and Lindsay. The first obstacle will be removed if Cobourg goes under tonight but that is by no means certain. It is necessary for the homesters to win tonight and it is with that intention that they are going on the ice.

The lakeside septette is an aggregation to be much feared and have a chance of beating the locals here. They gave Lindsay an awful game and play splendid hockey. The match will undoubtedly be the finest one here so far this season.

The home team will line-up as follows,—

Goal—Derocher.
Point—Glover.
Cover—Moore.
Rover—Parnell.
Centre—Morgan.
Right—Rose
Left—Dusty.

Ray has not recovered sufficiently from his recent injuries and is being saved for the game against Lindsay.

LAKEFIELD AND THE STRATHS THE GAME OF THE SERIES

The Straths will practice tonight from seven to eight. This will be the final workout of the team before the game with Lakefield on Thursday night. All members of the team are asked to be out as the game with Lakefield will be the most important one of the season.

When the Straths and Cement Town seven meet the best game of the season in the city league will be seen. There's no doubt about it that the best match of the season will take place when the two teams come together. Neither team has suffered a defeat this season and they are the two leading septettes of the league.

Lakefield is practising hard for the battle and the speedy boys from the local option town will be in great shape to take a fall out of the Straths if possible.

NORWOOD DOUBLED SCORE ON KEENE, WON BY 10-5

Special to the Review.

Keene, Feb 1—Keene played their return game in Norwood, Saturday evening resulting in a victory for Norwood by 10-5.

Norwood were out to win by fair means or foul and not being able to do it fairly they chose the later.

Keene fought hard against the odds but were unable to win out as they are "hockey players" and not "club swingers." The conduct of the spectators was disgraceful, using a mild term it being more like what you would expect at a bull fight or in the prize ring.

The Keene boys entered a protest and by the kind of hockey and conduct that was dished out to them, should have no difficulty in maintaining their standing in the league.

Somehow all slugging and slashing escaped the eagle eyes of the referee but this can hardly be wondered at as it was next to impossible to distinguish the players in the hazy light, only at such times as the moon came from beneath a cloud, and threw his silvery rays on the subject.

Keene's line-up was:

Goal—E M Dean.
Point—J Dickson.
Cover—'Hattie' Dinsdale.
Centre—R Weir.
Rover—'Kruger' McCarthy.
Left—D Dinsdale.
Right—L Walsh.

THE METHODIST CURLERS AGAIN

George Street Rink Defeated That of St. Paul's by 13-8

'sport methodist

The rink of the George street Methodist church defeated the Presbyterian curlers of St Paul's by a score of 13-8 at the curling rink yesterday afternoon. Rev E A Pearson's rink has now defeated the Baptists, the Charlottee street Methodists and the Presbyterians and is open for any other denominational challenges.

The rinks and score in yesterday's game were as follows:

Methodists	Presbyterians
S A Oke	L L Hull
J S Knapman	C N Brown
H F Foote	D Davidson
Rev E A Pearson—13	Rev Pogue—8

LOCAL JUNIORS WERE BEATEN

Port Hope, Feb 1—By a score of 8-0 the Ontarios avalanched Peterborough here tonight in a junior OHA game. Half time score was 3-0.

The visitors showed some class in the initial half, but the strong defence of the locals gradually wore the visiting forwards into submission, and, as a result there was nothing to it in the last half but Port Hope. The combination work on the part of the visitors was decidedly crude, while the locals though not perfect along this line showed improvement.

For the visitors, Wade at point was the star. Giroux in goal, was also in the limelight.

The ice was in excellent condition and the attendance was fair.

The line-up—

PORT HOPE
Goal—Record;
Point—Nixon.
Cover—Hewson.
Rover—Brown.
Centre—McMillan.
Right—Stevenson.
Left—Gifford.

PETERBOROUGH
Goal—L Giroux.

VAIR WITH THE WANDERERS

Steve Vair, the Barrie centre forward, played that position for Wanderers against Ottawa on Saturday night and was one of the best men on the ice.

Vair may not be allowed to return to the Federal League, and may also be barred from Stanley Cup games He has played for Edmonton, Renfrew and Wanderers so far this winter.

CANADIANS WON 2nd TEST MATCH

Glasgow, Feb 1—In the second team match today, six rinks a side, and four hours' play, the score was; Canadians 100; Caledonians 77.

CURLING

The district cup games are being played at the curling rink today Keene Port Hope, Lindsay and Peterborough are the competitors.

HOCKEY

The Charlotte street Boys' Club will practice at Knox rink Wednesday night from 6 to 7 o'clock.

WRESTLING

Sam Anderson, the middleweight champion writes the Review from Canton, Mass. that neither Yankee Rogers nor Young Hackenschmidt had answered the challenge which had appeared in this paper. Both received copies of the paper and Young Hackenschmidt is willing to take him.

Anderson seems to think that they are both afraid of him, but it's safe to venture the opinion that it must be for other reasons than that, that the grapplers Sammy has challenged are holding back.

TIDY SUM FROM CHARITY CONCERT

Proceeds of Friday Evening's Entertainment Were $25.35---Presentation to Dorcas Society President

The Dorcas Society is very pleased to report the proceeds of the "Charity Concert" held in St. Andrew's schoolroom on Friday evening last, amounted to $25.35, which will help considerably in the good work it is endeavoring to carry on among the poor and needy in our city.

The ladies met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rankin, Gilmour street, and several hours were spent in preparing garments for distribution, after which Mrs. Carter on behalf of the members of the society presented the president, Mrs. Rankin, with a fern and jardineer, as a token of their appreciation of her faithful work and untiring zeal in connection with the late concert.

Mrs. Rankin, to whom the affairs was quite a surprise, responded in a few well-chosen words, expressing her pleasure, at the same time feeling it a privilege to work in such a cause.

"For inasmuch as ye have done it," etc.

Tea was then served and an enjoyable evening spent, the gathering breaking up about 10 o'clock.

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW

will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven=Thousand=Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this City or County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes.

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them.

VALUE OF SUBSCRIPTION CERTIFICATES.

FIRE CHIEF WAS GIVEN A CHANCE

notes of whose evidences is also attached to this report.

In reference to these charges we beg to report that to Chief Howard is due the credit for organizing the permanent brigade in the face of many obstructions, but while doing so and afterwards we would judge from the evidence produced, the Chief has been indiscreet and his actions have left him open to criticism to such an extent as to convince us that the best interests of the city would not be served by his remaining at the head of the fire department.

4. We recommend that the chairman be instructed to purchase supplies for the fire department where they can be bought the cheapest.

5. We recommend that such of the firemen's coats as require it, be repaired.

6. We recommend that the Water Commissioners be requested to place a hydrant on George street, near the corner of Wolfe street at a point to be located by the chairman of this committee and Mr. T. F. Matthews.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. BULLER,
Chairman.

The ryder reads as follows;

Moved by Ald. Buller, and seconded by Ald. Turner, that the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be amended by striking out the second paragraph of section 3, and substituting therefore the following;—"In view of Chief Howard's services in organizing the permanent brigade and his abilities as head of the fire department, although he has been indiscreet and injudicious, and in view of his promise of amended conduct, he be given an opportunity to show that he will keep his promise and that as thus amended the report be adopted.

It was moved by Ald. Morgan, and seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the report without the amendment, be adopted.

Before a vote was taken, several of the aldermen expressed themselves as to their views on the matter.

Ald. Hicks said that after spending many hours threshing out the evidence taken on the charges against Fire Chief Howard, three out of four members sanctioned his motion, which was as read in the report. It seemed strange to him that this amendment should come in at the Council meeting. Of course, the affair looked different to him than it did to Ald. Buller. When the charges were first brought by ex-Ald. Johnston he didn't think that there was any occasion for Chief Howard's dismissal, but believed he should be reprimanded. On Thursday evening last, things took a different light. It must be noted that the charge against the chief, which prompted Ald. Hicks' motion, took place thirty days after Chief Howard arrived here. He would like to see his way clear to give the chief another chance, but he did not believe that he (the chief) would make good. Ald. Hicks said that he would stand for the honest administration of civic affairs.

Ald. Turner said that he had strongly opposed the phrasing of the motion in committee. He wanted one, giving Chief Howard another chance. Ald. Turner was not in the Council to support men to do away with the city's funds, but he would like to see Chief Howard make good, and if he does not do so he (Ald. Turner) would be the first to move for his dismissal. He believed that Chief Howard had been taught a lesson and would profit by it.

Ald. Morgan said that he had been elected to help run the city's affairs in a business-like manner. "We are not running a reformatory," he said, "to make bad officials good. The Council threw down the best brigade in Canada. (Applause.) Chief Howard does not try to make good. His own men testified that he was given to drink. He walked out of the committee room with a lie on his tongue. He could not clear himself. If he had admitted that he had done wrong, I would have been willing to give him another chance. It has been said that I have been out with him. I have been and as long as the booze lasted the chief was there. I went out with him to see if the charges against him of drinking were true."

Ald. Buller—"Oh yes. Sure!"

Ald. Metheral had attended the meetings of the Fire, Water and Light Committee investigating the charges against the fire chief. He could not see how any man unbiased in his judgment, could fail to see that the charges had been proven. The chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee would not employ a man that would pad the pay sheets and Ald. Metheral did not see why the citizens should.

Ald. Duncan agreed with Ald. Hicks. He said he had seen the chief drinking since the investigation.

Ald. Duffus said that personally he did not believe in throwing the chief down, but looking at it in a businesslike way, he thought that the best interests of the city would be favored by his dismissal.

The vote was then taken, Aldermen Phelan, Morrow, McIntyre, Turner, Bradburn, Gillespie and Buller favored giving Chief Howard another chance, and Ald. Morgan, Duncan, Metheral, Duffus and Hicks voted for his dismissal.

His Worship the Mayor, said that in future if the chief was proven to take one glass of liquor he would be dismissed without warning.

Eleven year old Willie Conlon of Guelph was struck by a GTR train and had his right thigh broken.

Railwaymen of Alberta are petitioning for an eight hour day.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., headmaster of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has very kindly consented to deliver an address before the members of the Young Conservative Club on Saturday evening next Feb. 6th. His subject will be "Caesar." The great Roman general, who conquered Britain, and left perhaps the greatest name in history ultimately yielded up his life to what the Romans thought was his dangerous desire to rule them as king and dictator. He is best remembered, however, by the average man as the author of "The Commentaries," which begin with the oft-quoted statement that all Gaul is divided into three parts. The club has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Kenner for one of its series of educational lectures. Members only are entitled to attend. This provision has been found necessary in order to preserve the privileges of the club to members. A short musical programme will also be presented. The chair will be taken at eight o'clock sharp.

Colder again tonight; Wednesday, northerly winds, fair and cold.

"THE PRIVATE SECRETARY" AN AMATEUR COMEDY OF UNUSUAL EXCELLENCE

Its Presentation at the Grand Last Night Surprised and Pleased the Audience—Brilliant Work of Local Amateurs — Will be Repeated.

"The Private Secretary" made a big hit. That is expressing it in a somewhat ordinary way but it sizes up the situation exactly, and its what everyone who saw the play last night is saying. The piece is a difficult one even for professionals, and the fact that it met with such general approval and appreciation, must be most gratifying to Mr. Beers and his company of local amateurs.

It is generally conceded by those who witnessed the production of the very amusing farce at the Grand Opera House last night that it was infinitely superior to the "All the Comforts of Home," as thoroughly satisfactory as that clever comedy presentation was. As there were four members of the cast of the above mentioned piece in "The Private Secretary" this can be no reflection on their ability, but "The Secretary" is a more original and cleaner cut play.

The large crowd of auditors at the Opera House last night were in constant laughter and from this and their enthusiastic applause were highly pleased and in every way satisfied with the presentation.

Congratulations to Mr. Beers and the performing company are in order and when the play is again given in a couple of weeks' time it should draw a capacity audience. Every member of the cast played his or her part in a very capable way and the presentation as a whole was unusually good for an amateur organization.

The stage settings were well arranged and tasteful, and stage manager Stanway and property man Tamblyn handled everything to perfection.

The cast was as follows.

Mr. Marsland, M. F. H., B. B. Gillespie.

Harry Marsland, his nephew, Wm. Hillhouse.

Mr. Cattermole, D. B. McRae.

Douglas Cattermole, his nephew, Chas. Barber.

Rev. Robert Spalding the Private Secretary, A. C. Yokome.

Mr. Sydney Gibson a Bond street taylor, W. S. Davidson.

John a servant, Claude Brady.

Edith Marsland daughter of Marsland, Miss M. Brooks.

Eva Webster, her friend, Miss Bessie Brightman.

Mrs. Stead Douglas' landlady, Miss May Overend.

Miss Ashford, Mrs. J. N. Barber.

T.A.S. "AT HOME" THIS EVENING

Bylaw No 1435 authorized the execution of the conveyance of part of Murray street.

Bylaw No 1436 authorized the appointment of city trust commissioner.

VOTE OF THANKS

A vote of thanks was moved by Ald. Gillespie, seconded by Ald. Turner, to Rev E A Pearson, pastor of the George street Methodist church for his municipal service and to the choir for their musical service.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Ald Bradburn, chairman of the Property committee submitted his report as follows;

Gentlemen— Your Property committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows;

That a deed of the north forty-six feet of Murray street between Reid and Downie streets be given to the William Hamilton Mfg. Company, Limited, in accordance with by-law No 467, and that a bylaw be passed for this purpose.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Mr Wm Logan, Brock street, took exception to the clause in the Board of Works report, offering him $30 in settlement of his claim for injury to his business while the Brock St bridge was being rebuilt. He asked for $60 and thought that was little enough.

The matter was referred back to the Board of Works.

Ald Morrow, chairman of the finance committee presented the following report;

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Ald Morrow, chairman of the Finance committee, presented the following report;

Your finance committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows.

That a bond of the Peterborough Hardware Company with one surety approved by this committee be accepted instead of the cheque the company deposited with their tender for supplying the city with cement this year.

That a grant of $15 be made to the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto.

PEOPLE OF AUBURN WANT ADEQUATE FIRE PROTECTION

Messrs James Kendry and James Downing, of Auburn, waited upon the council last evening in reference to the matter of providing adequate fire protection for the residents of that part of the city.

Mr Kendry said that they paid taxes for fire protection in all parts of the city and yet they received none. There were a number of houses in that vicinity which were entitled to some protection. There was none in the Auburn Woollen mills, only what had been provided by the company. The people of Auburn paid taxes but received no consideration.

Mr Kendry also asked to have the road on Dunlop street cut down and repaired.

Mr. Downing also urged that some adequate fire protection be provided by the city for Auburn residents.

Mayor Rush assured the gentlemen that the Fire, Water and Light Committee would deal with the matter at an early date. He also said that the Board of Works would take up the matter of cutting down the Dunlop street hill.

Major J W Malley is president of the Deseronto Board of Trade.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

WILL GIVE AN ADDRESS ON "THE ATTACK ON FORT YORK"

The Peterborough Historical Society has another treat in store for its members and for the public generally. On Thursday evening, Feb. 11th Mr. Barlow Cumberland will deliver an address on "The Attack on Fort York, April 27th, 1813." Mr Cumberland, who is President of the Ontario Historical Society, has been very active in the agitation for the restoration of the Old Fort Toronto, and of course, equally active in opposing all attempts to detract from its historic value. He has delivered this address at many meetings in Ontario and Quebec and it has always been much appreciated.

Regarding the attack on Fort York, Clements, History says;—"American historians gravely assert that the American troops found hung up over the speaker's chair in the Legislative Assembly Chamber a human scalp, which so incensed them that they proceeded to burn a number of public buildings."

Many intensely interesting details never printed in school histories are brought out in an address such as Mr. Cumberland will deliver. The Historical Society hopes that the public will take advantage of this opportunity of hearing real history. The meeting will be held in the Collegiate Institute.

EXTRACTED FIVE DOLLARS FROM HIS CHUM'S POCKET

Joseph Robertson was charged at the police court this morning with stealing from John McGrath, in his room at the American hotel, five dollars. Robertson pleaded guilty but was allowed to go on suspended sentence, the money having been returned to the owners.

McGrath said that he slept with Robertson at the hotel last evening and during the night he saw Robertson get up, light a cigar, and proceed to take the money from the McGrath's pocket.

The prisoner denied having taken it whereupon he was arrested.

REVOLVER IS FOUND

Harry Vansickle's Weapon Found Near Body—Factions Warring as Result of Case.

Brantford, Feb. 3.—The Jerseyville cremation tragedy is further complicated by the announcement of the finding of Harry Vansickle's revolver close to the spot where his body was picked up in the ruins of the burned homestead.

It was picked up Sunday morning by Seth Vansickle between the spots where lay the bodies of Harry and Martin. There were four cartridges in the five-bullet cylinder, and the caps in two of these showed that they had been discharged by the trigger, and therefore to have been fired before the revolver was burned.

This fact had been concealed by the members of the family until yesterday.

The theory that Harry, whose body was found in the east end of the building, while he is supposed to have slept in the west end, was dressed and had risen before he died, is confirmed by the finding of his keys and the chain upon which he wore them attached to his trousers, close to the spot where the body was picked up.

The breach in the Vansickle family is widening, and it now needs but a spark to bring the different factions into open conflict. Indeed there was trouble yesterday, even at the funeral, which was the largest in the history of the district. After the service a great crowd started to the ruins and descended to the basement.

There, Wesley Vansickle, father of Harry, voiced his doubt as to his son's death being accidental. He was engaged in argument with Sam Misner, a neighbor, distant relative and sympathizer of the other faction. The old man became excited and his arguments came close to being charges. This lasted nearly an hour and was watched and heard by more than a hundred of those who had attended the funeral. It was this that led to the disclosure of the finding of the revolver, which, it was urged, showed at least that Harry had not been attacked. It is said that shots were heard in the house about 11 o'clock Saturday morning, shortly after the fire was discovered. These may be explained as coming from three shotguns. A small 22 calibre revolver belonging to old Phillip was found in the ashes of his room.

The question of motive for foul play still remains far from decided. The statement that a new will had been made by old Phillip at Christmas time loses weight from the fact that J. G. Cochrane of Jerseyville, who drew the one made last May, and also the one made two years before, says that the one drawn in May is the last will. This is further supported by all the sons of the old man, who say that they knew of no other will.

Of course the point is brought out that even without a will the fire destroyed two of the natural heirs to the old man's property and two likely to share largely in his estate under any will owing to their close attendance upon him in his last years. Mr. Cochrane would say nothing as to the contents of the will.

Maitland Vansickle, son of Philip, was at the funeral yesterday from northern Michigan. He is indignant that Wesley should hint at foul play, and it was he who disclosed the finding of Harry's revolver, which he says shows that Harry at least was not attacked.

Practically nothing has been done to collect evidence of the crime. The suspender buckle found in the back of Harry's body has been lost. The coroner has not yet learned of the finding of Harry's revolver, the few bits of the clothing are not collected and neither coroner, farmer nor Constable Phillips has been on the ground since the fire.

HE OPPOSES STOCK ISSUE

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The process known in the terminology of Wall street as "cutting the melon" was the subject of a brief but spirited debate in the House yesterday afternoon. For the benefit of members not familiar with the phrase, Mr. W. F. Maclean cited, as an illustration, the proposed increase of capital stock of the C.P.R. from 150 to 200 million dollars, authority to issue which has been granted by the Government. In this method of finance Mr. Maclean declared there was an attempt on the part of the C.P.R. to pocket twenty-five millions of the people's money for the benefit of its shareholders, and he vigorously denounced the proposal as a "public scandal." Hon. Mr. Graham, while admitting that there was room for argument as to the best and safest means of financing the big railway corporations, pointed out that in authorizing the C.P.R. to issue the additional stock he had simply followed the policy usually adopted in the past.

Mr. Maclean found his opportunity to raise the question on the motion to go into supply. He claimed that the increase in the capitalization of Canadian railways was of the utmost concern to the people, and argued that there should be some control exercised by Parliament over the issue of railway securities. The State of New York had passed legislation in that direction, and it had proved to be in the public interest. The issuing of fifty million dollars of stock by the C.P.R. to its shareholders at par, when in the open market it would bring at least $150 per $100 share, would be a public scandal. The stock ought to be sold in the open market to the highest bidder, and there should be a provision in the railway act giving the Railway Commission power to control the issue of such stock. Alternatively, the C.P.R., if it wanted to raise money, should be limited to floating bonds, carrying, say, 4 per cent. The C.P.R. would have to pay dividends on an additional fifty millions of stock, which it proposed to issue, and in order to realize those dividends the people might be called upon to pay higher freight and passenger rates.

Hon. Mr. Graham pointed out that the C.P.R. was one of the best-managed railway companies in the world. It was necessary that the credit of Canadian undertakings should stand high in the eyes of the world, and the C.P.R. had carried out its undertakings with a marvellous degree of efficiency. If that company, after years of experience, asked authority to raise money to enable it to meet the demands for greater railway facilities in the west, it was the duty of the people to as far as possible to acquiesce in that request, in order

The planters of the Hawaiian Islands are arranging to import laborers from Porto Rico to supply the demand caused by the stoppage of Japanese immigration.

The U. S. Congress has reversed its former action and struck from the Army Appropriation Bill the additional $500,000 for war balloons and airships, authorized last week.

James Irwin, cattle drover at Sharbot Lake, had a narrow escape from being burned to death early yesterday. He was alone in his home, which was totally destroyed. Railwaymen aroused the sleeping man.

A special despatch from Naples says: The captain of the steamship Galileo, which arrived from Palermo, reports that his ship was nearly overwhelmed by a tidal wave off Cape Gallo, Sicily, at 11 o'clock Monday night.

BAD TRIO IS ROUNDED UP

Phoenix, B.C., Feb. 3.—Chief Bunbury and Constable Dockstader, assisted by the deputy sheriff of Okanagan County, Washington, rounded up three bandits at Oreville, Washington, 70 miles west of here. The deputy sheriff arrested Bill and Cleve Newman, lodging them in the county jail. Both carried revolvers. By a ruse a third bandit, Ben Hart, believing he had only American officers to deal with, headed across to the Canadian side, where he was captured after a little gun play.

Hart confessed to participating in the Bridesville hold-up, and has offered to turn King's evidence. The police believe they are the desperadoes who held up a hotel at Midway on Aug. 26, when one man was killed.

FIRST STANDING OF THE CANDIDATES TO-MORROW

All Accumulated Newspaper Coupons and Certificates Issued With Subscriptions Voted in Favor of the Various Contestants Will be Counted.

A number of the candidates in the Review's popularity contest will start with an excellent score. In affairs of this kind it is the exception for contestants to start off so auspiciously. And the city may not lead the county in the number of votes cast. Taking into consideration the population of Peterborough and the number of candidates and computing the number of candidates in district No. 2, according to population, there is no advantage one way or the other. Every one in either district has an equal chance.

There are but two ways of securing votes. The coupons —good for 2 votes when clipped from the Daily and 5 votes when clipped from the Weekly—appearing in each issue may be voted in favor of any candidate. Simply fill in the name of your favorite and bring or send to the Review office. That's one way. The other is through certificates issued with every paid-in-advance subscription. For instance, a yearly subscription to the Daily calls for 1500 votes; a yearly subscription to the Weekly carries 500 votes. This schedule is for renewals (old subscribers renewing). Double the above number of votes are given for new subscriptions.

Candidates who wish to make an early start should call or write for supplies and thus be prepared to begin their campaign fully equipped for business. The contest man can and will help you.

Are you afraid to enter this contest because you think you might not win? If that is the case, by all means send in your name at once to the contest editor and make a start for you have a much better show to win than the ones who think they cannot be beaten. You ask why. Here is the reason: Giants are usually taken into camp by the smaller fellow, because when the overmatched man does go into battle he has previously made up his mind that the least he can expect is a thorough defeat, and he enters the fray determined to acquit himself with honor at least, and slugs away with that blind determination that is born of terror, and he comes through with flying colors because the bigger chap was too self-assured to frighten himself into the belief that there was any danger, and lacked the equal zeal of resistance. Don't be afraid of entering the contest because some one looks big to you. You hold an advantage over them. Victory belongs to the ones who make themselves victorious, and not to those who merely deem themselves entitled to it.

Victory in this great contest will go to the ones who strike out in every direction after subscriptions, and strike as fast and often as they can. The best way to land a telling blow on your opponents is to land first, and when they go for a subscription they had counted on as sure, they find you have come and gone with the coveted votes and scored another point on the way to victory. Don't lose a minute.

New nominations since yesterday were Miss Tryphena Chasty, 655 Union street; C. G. Graham, Oriental Hotel, and Bruce W. Kemp, 126 Park street, in the city, and Miss Laura Kelly, Chases Corners and Fred A. Kidd, Indian River, in District No. 2.

Who May Vote

It is not necessary to be a subscriber to the Review to vote in this contest. Ballots good for two votes are published in each issue of the Daily, and one calling for five votes appears in each issue of the Weekly. Any one may vote them for any contestant whose name appears in the published list. Simply fill in the name of your favorite and send or bring the ballots to the Review Office, where a ballot box is ready to receive them. These votes will be added to the score of the candidates daily. If the name of your favorite is not in the list, clip the nomination blank found on another page, fill in his or her name, and send or bring the name to this office. The candidate's name will appear in the next issue of the Review. If you have any questions to ask call up contest department. If you live outside the city, use long-distance if available, and the contest man will pay the toll.

GOOD SPEAKER IS SECURED

Mr. J. S. Ewart, K. C. Will Address Peterboro' Canadian Club on February 14th

The Canadian Club is to be congratulated on being able to secure Mr. John S. Ewart, K.C., of the firm of Ewart, Scott, McLaren and Kelly, of Ottawa, for their next meeting, which will likely be held on Friday evening, Feb. 12th, at the Hotel National.

Mr. Ewart's subject will be "The Monroe Doctrine." Mr. Ewart is a very brilliant man. He is a lawyer, writer and a very clever lecturer. The subject on which he is to speak is very interesting and one with which he is perfectly acquainted.

LAIRD-SCOTT CASE IS ENDED

Agreement is Reached by Which Charges Will be Dropped.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 3.—Following the disagreement, after 12 hours' duration, of the jury in the Laird-Scott criminal libel case, an agreement was reached yesterday afternoon by which all the cases arising out of graft charges are dropped.

The case of Laird against The Regina Leader, Premier Scott's paper, for $25,000 damages, is dropped and Laird is to ask the Attorney-General to definitely discontinue criminal action against Scott.

The reason given for the arrangement is the prospective difficulty of arriving at a verdict and an agreement is made that the costs in each case will be paid by the parties incurring them.

The foreman of the jury told Judge Nelands they had reduced the charge to that of Laird having received $500 for his city campaign fund, and found him innocent of all but this.

The sticker was whether or not this $500 was used for his personal profit.

FOURTEEN YEARS SIXTY LASHES

Judge Coulter of St. Thomas Deals Out an Example to an Immigrant.

St. Thomas, Feb. 3.—Charles Fiveash was sentenced yesterday to fourteen years in Kingston Penitentiary and to receive 60 lashes, 20 in one month, 20 in a year, and 20 in two years.

This punishment was meted out to him by Judge Coulter, who found him guilty after a trial lasting only a few hours of a criminal charge, his accuser being his eighteen-year-old daughter, who admitted relations covering the past year. The prisoner's wife made the complaint.

Fiveash is a recent immigrant, and has not worked for the two years of his residence here. In court yesterday he said he was under the hypnotic influence of his wife.

The judge ordered an examination as to his sanity. Three doctors declared him sane, and in passing sentence the judge said the only use of Fiveash's whole life should now be the warning the sentence might be to others.

Fiveash did not wince when sentenced.

PASSED AWAY IN CHICAGO

Death of Mrs. Robert Walton Occurred There Yesterday

Word was received this morning from Chicago of the death of Mrs. Walton, widow of the late Robert Walton, who had been living with her daughter in Chicago for some time. She was a former resident of Peterborough. She had been sick for several months and died yesterday.

The body will arrive on the noon G.T.R. train Friday and the funeral will be from the station to the Little Lake cemetery.

NO CHANGE IN MARKET PRICES

No Increase in Amount of Produce Being Marketed---Meat Not Plentiful

The market has been very quiet during the past week. Even with the higher prices for all classes of stock quoted last week still prevailing, offerings are small, indicating that holdings are light in the county. Dressed beef is about the only meat now seen on the market. A good supply of hay and wood is brought in daily, the prices realised being the same as last week.

NEW OFFICERS OF THE COUNTY ORANGE LODGE

The County Orange Lodge has elected the following officers for 1909:

County Master, W. H. G. Armstrong.
Deputy Master, Wm. Preston.
Chaplain, Joseph Batton.
Rec. Sec., E. G. Clarke.
Fin. Sec., N. A. Howard Moore.
Treasurer, Wm. Watt.
Director of Ceremonies, R. W. Nettall.
Lecturer, H. Dodds.
Deputy lecturers, Newton Hopkins and C. H. Luffman.

FRAUD IS CHARGED

Two G.T.R. Conductors and Three Others Arrested —Are Accused of Swindling.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—A big swindle by which the Grand Trunk Railway has been the victim for three and a half years, was ended last night, with the arrest of two Grand Trunk conductors and three alleged "phony" ticket manipulators.

Two of the arrests were effected in or near Montreal, and three in Toronto, being practically simultaneous, since all happened between the hours of 8 and 9 p.m. The prisoners are:

Conductor Daniel Corrigan, 375 West King street, Toronto, arrested on the 8.30 train for Montreal.

Conductor Frank McCallum, Montreal, arrested on train No. 5 out of Montreal.

Jacob Woods, 117 York street, arrested at 8 p.m. on York street, opposite the bar entrance to the Palmer House.

Joseph Woods, arrested in Montreal at 8 p.m.

The round-up is due to the efforts of the Thiel Detective Agency, who planned the swoop from both ends of the line and materialized it with the aid of the local detective department, whose agents made the arrests.

Local Manager James E. Stein of the Thiel Agency states that the depredations have been systematically going on for three and a half years, and that during the month of January alone Harry Rosenbes, in collusion with Conductor Corrigan, has defrauded the company of $520 clear, to say nothing of the extent of the company's losses if the 130 passengers carried had paid the regular $10 single trip fare.

They operated chiefly among Jews, who thought they had struck a bonanza in the way of cut rates, at $4 per fare to Montreal.

The system was worked at both ends, and this is how Conductor McCallum and Joseph Woods of Montreal happened to get tangled into the snare.

Jacob Woods, the third Toronto man, wasn't in on the deal with the Corrigan, Rosenbes, McCallum, Woods quartette, but he is charged with carrying on a system all his own.

He would sell his patrons a regular ticket good for a short distance out of Toronto at $4 and go down to the depot personally and "fix" it with the conductor, according to the story of the Thiel sleuths.

But the quartette are charged with using bolder methods. Rosenbes, working in Toronto, and Jos. Woods in Montreal, issued tickets of their own, improvised by marking blue pencil stubs on yellow Imperial Bank checks.

The yellow checks of the Imperial Bank are the exact color of the G.T.R. second-class ticket, and a "spotter" sitting in a train, seeing no cash transaction, allowed the thing to pass.

These yellow slips bore the initials "H. R." also "T. M."—indicating a through passage to Montreal. They were also numbered.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST JUDGE

License Inspector Makes Report to Provincial Department---Cases Tried at Madoc.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—Judge E. B. Fralick of Belleville was at Madoc on Jan. 28, when the license inspector at Madoc obtained the conviction of two hotelkeepers, Wm. Goulding and John Quinn of Marmora, for selling liquor to minors. R. R. Casement, J.P., imposed a fine of $20 each upon the offenders.

Judge Fralick's court sat the same day, but only for an hour, and the judge sojourned to the hotel afterwards.

The inspector reports to the Provincial Secretary's Department that the judge talked very loud about the cases. He reminded the inspector that if the cases were appealed, they would come before him as county judge, and if this were the case he would "soon upset the convictions."

The notices of appeal being now issued, the inspector reports the matter so as to make certain that Judge Fralick should not be permitted to adjudicate upon them.

The Department will lay the matter before the Minister of Justice.

CAN'T LEAVE THE COUNTRY

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 3.—Told to leave Canada within five days or serve time in the Central Prison, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick James Lawrence, the man and woman who made an unsuccessful attempt to gain admission to the United States last week, and who were intercepted, have decided to serve time in the Canadian prison rather than have any further trouble. The Lawrences were charged with keeping a disorderly house in Sarnia. Lawrence was sentenced to three months in prison or to leave Canada in five days, while the wife was given six months with the same alternative. Immigration officers refused to allow them to enter the United States.

Peter Robinson, an accountant in the Interior Department, has disappeared from Ottawa.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness — you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of to conquer all female diseases.

Mrs. Frank Emsley, Lindsay, Ontario, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"When I wrote to you some time ago, I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the feminine organs and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do.

"A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman.

"I most heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who suffer with female troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

MORE ABOUT THE TELEGRAM

Victoria, B. C., January 30.—The Colonist, regarding Mr. Borden's telegram, says this morning; "We find on investigation that Mr. Borden's telegram of the 24th of October was taken from the telegraph editor's desk shortly after it was received, and was never returned to the Colonist Office. It was nearly midnight when the telegram was required, and about that time a transcription of the report from the notes mentioned was taken to the photo-engraving plant for the purpose of reproduction. It was at this point that the Colonist felt very badly indeed. We cannot excuse ourselves for being remiss in allowing the telegram to be published in this manner. We should have satisfied ourselves of its bonafides by going to the C.P.R. telegraph office and in the absence of the original, securing a certified copy of it. We would then have discovered the regrettable alteration and put it right at once. We must, however, assume the responsibility of inexcusable neglect, and endeavor, exerting the greatest care in the future, to protect our paper and its friends."

We do not find any cause for congratulation in this miserable business. That the Colonist is the party to blame, has been made clear from every quarter and that the objectionable clause was not the means of our winning B.C., is also true. The clause simply served to embroil us with Japan, since a total exclusion clause includes everybody in transit. Nevertheless Mr. Borden's skirts have been so spotless that it is very regrettable that even the treachery of a pretended friend should even, if only for a moment, cast a shadow upon the conduct of a great leader or an honorable member.

COW'S TEETH

It is now a settled measure of sanitary science that cows' teeth shall be cleaned twice a day. This will add to the chores about the barn and will not add to the popularity of dairying. It seems that an American has discovered that microbes play about like kittens in the capacious mouths of bovines and that they get into the milk and sit upon the edge of the child's bowl of milk or at the suction end of baby's bottle. This microbe business has got to be stopped. They will be wearing top boots next and going about in blue overalls and merry-widow hats.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The blow to rural battalions through the action of the Laurier Government in leaving them without provision for the annual drill, will likely prove a fatal one. It is a wonderful government.

London, Jan 30—John Oliver Arnold, professor of metallurgy at the Sheffield university, in a lecture before the Royal Institute scouted Andrew Carnegie's prophecy concerning the decadence of British steel. He said he had certain specific information enabling him to declare that the best high speed in existence would shortly be out of date. There would be on the market, probably within a year, an entire British steel with a cutting power four times as great as any now known.

The Edmonton fire department turned out last year to ninety calls; the fire insurance on buildings and contents involved $224,900. The actual losses paid after adjustment amounted only to $21,423. This speaks well for the efficiency of the department, which is under the control of Mr R. C. Davidson.

The Edmonton municipal council consists of a mayor, who is elected annually, and eight aldermen, each of whom is elected for a term of two years, four being retired annually. Under the supervision and direction of the council, the active administration of civic business is in the hands of a board of three commissioners, the mayor being senior member. The other two commissioners are appointed by and hold office at the will of the council, being salaried officials of the city—Edmonton Bulletin.

We have heard much of the burden of life insurance taxation as expressed in aggregate figures. We know that life insurance—the co-operative sharing of losses caused by the untimely death of productive human beings—is burdened anually for the support of government to the aggregate amount of at least $11,000,000. That this burden is borne solely by policy-holders is not so well known, nor has it hitherto been seriously considered by policy-holders themselves. While expenses of management are very properly being carefully scrutinized it may be well to tell those who do not know it, that the tax burden nearly equals the large aggregate of the salaries paid to the executive officers, clerks, and all others employed in connection with administering the affairs of the various companies at their home offices—Insurance.

BLESSING THROATS AGAINST DISEASE

Feast of St. Blaise Being Observed To-day

The blessing of the throats of adults and children of several of the local Roman Catholic parishes took place today, the feast of St. Blaise.

St Blaise was a bishop of Sebaste in Armenia, who suffered martyrdom in the early ages of the church. While on his way to prison or to Martyrdom he is said to have blessed at the request of a mother, a child suffering from an affection of the throat. Blessing the throat soon began to be practised considerably and the practise received the sanction of the church as a means of warding off diseases of the throat. For a number of years past in the local churches the ceremony has been performed for older people in the morning and for children in the afternoon.

HARRY REID KNOWS

Wm. Madill, the druggist, Peterborough does not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on every bald head but if there is any life left in the roots of your hair, Parisian Sage will stimulate the hair bulbs and cause your hair to grow again. Here is one case. "I am now using the second bottle of your Parisian Sage and can notice a new crop of hair appearing. I am glad to say it is a darker color than my hair was before I became bald." Harry Reid, 10 Manhattan St., Rochester, N.Y.

Don't wait till you're bald before using Parisian Sage, use it now. Kill the dandruff germ and prevent baldness. Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells Parisian Sage at 50 cents a large bottle and he guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and cure all diseases of the scalp or money back. Parisian Sage is a delightfully invigorating hair dressing; it makes the hair soft, fluffy and beautiful.

HE OPPOSES STOCK ISSUE

that the requirements of the west might be met. There was room for argument as to whether the issue of additional capital stock or floating of bonds was the better method of financing, but in authorizing an increase in the capital stock of the company the Government had simply followed the course pursued in the past. It had to be remembered that it makes a marked difference in the value of C.P.R. stock and in the credit of the company if it was to issue bonds of any large amount in order to raise more capital. The C.P.R. had to look to the future, and should be given every opportunity to retain its high financial position. In view of the desire of the company to extend railway facilities in the west, he thought the Government were justified in authorising an increase of capital stock. There was a good deal to be said in favor of giving some control of such matters to the Railway Commission, but it was a question whether the Government, who were directly responsible to the people should entirely divest themselves of such responsibility in a matter of that kind, or whether the Railway Commission should advise the Government.

Hon. John Haggart maintained that the stockholders of the C.P.R. had a right to be considered, and that the interests of the people, so far as freight rates were concerned, were safeguarded by the Railway Commission.

Dr. Sproule supported Mr Maclean's contention that the stock should be sold in the open market at the highest price it would bring.

Dr. Chisholm thought that the C.P.R. could get all the money it wanted by selling its western lands at a reasonable price.

The matter then dropped, the House going into supply.

Hon. Sydney Fisher was prepared yesterday to introduce his bill giving effect to the resolution increasing the salaries of the inside civil service, but Mr. Foster and other members of the Opposition desired more information as to the details of the scheme, and, after a desultory discussion regarding the hours and duties of civil servants, consideration of the resolution was adjourned.

The House spent three hours in committee of supply. Hon. Mr. Paterson put through the excise estimates, and several civil Government items were also passed.

Mr. Sealey (Wentworth) has given notice of a resolution asking the Commons to declare that, inasmuch as the manufacturers of Canada are given the benefit of tariff protection, a similar protection should be given by the tariff to Canadian agriculturists and stock-raisers upon hogs, hog products, garden vegetables and "such other items as it may appear possible to protect with advantage to agriculturists and without undue injury to Canadian consumers."

Middlesex county council declines to act with London in erecting new municipal buildings.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

Equal Suffrage

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Delighted to see that your progressive paper is open to discuss the great question of the hour, Women's Suffrage. It is one that has been set aside too long, and women at last have to demand what should have been given long ago. But this is not the first great reform, as we all know that has been opposed by the narrow-minded, the prejudiced and the ignorant. Why should woman's liberty on these matters make her less a mother and home-maker? Surely, she will be able to broil a steak properly, mend the clothes, if necessary, look after the education and health of her family as well or better. The following are 14 reasons brought forward by the Union of Women's Suffrage Societies in England in support of their claim to the franchise;—

1. Because it is the foundation of all political liberty that those who obey the law should be able to have a voice in choosing those who make the law.

2. Because Parliament should be the reflection of the wishes of the people.

3. Because Parliament cannot fully reflect the wishes of the people when the wishes of the women are without any direct representation.

4. Because most laws affect women as much as men, and some laws affect women especially.

5. Because the laws which affect women especially are now passed without consulting those persons whom they are intended to benefit.

6. Because laws affecting children should be regarded from the woman's point of view, as well as the man's.

7. Because every session questions affecting these home up for consideration in Parliament.

8. Because women have experience which should be helpfully brought to bear on domestic legislation.

9. Because to deprive women of the vote is to lower their position in common estimation.

10. Because the possession of the vote would increase the sense of responsibility amongst women towards questions of public importance.

11. Because public-spirited mothers make public-spirited sons.

12. Because large numbers of intelligent thoughtful, hard-working women desire the franchise.

13. Because the objections raised against their having the franchise are based on maudlin sentiment, not on reason.

14. Because—to sum all reasons up in one—it is for the common good of all.

Cordially yours,
MRS. W. J. PATERSON.

HAS VERY MANY VICTIMS HERE

Reports Many Cases of Rheumatism and Gives Simple Home Recipe

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and torture of this dread disease, which is no respector of age, persons, sex, color or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proven it not a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by inactive kidneys. Rheumatism is urea in the blood and other waste products of the system, which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The function of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood clean and pure. The kidneys however, are of sponge-like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure, become clogged and inactive, and failing in their function of eliminating these poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, decomposed and settling about the joint and muscles, cause the untold suffering and pain of rheumatism and backache, often producing complications of bladder and urinary disease, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism because of its direct action upon the blood and kidneys, relieving, too, the most severe forms of bladder and urinary troubles; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be had from any good prescription pharmacy, and are absolutely harmless and safe to use at any time.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., headmaster of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has very kindly consented to deliver an address before the members of the Young Conservative Club on Saturday evening next Feb. 6th. His subject will be "Caesar." The great Roman general, who conquered Britain, and left perhaps the greatest name in history ultimately yielded up his life to what the Romans thought was his dangerous desire to rule them as king and dictator. He is best remembered, however, by the average man as the author of "The Commentaries," which begin with the oft-quoted statement that all Gaul is divided into three parts. The club has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Kenner for one of its series of educational lectures. Members only are entitled to attend. This provision has been found necessary in order to preserve the privileges of the club to members. A short musical programme will also be presented. The chair will be taken at eight o'clock sharp.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Civil Servants to Give Evidence.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—With an agreement reached by the local newspapers not to publish the names of civil servants who give evidence, Provincial Inspector Rogers is enabled to call upon 12 Ottawa money lenders to answer charges of making loans at usurous rates of interest.

Witnesses are now ready to give evidence on the understanding that their private affairs will not be made public in the press.

New Way to Finance Strike.

South Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 3.—A new and unique plan for the assistance of the hatters who are employed in the closed down plants of the Associated Hat Manufacturers, which are to resume next Tuesday on the "open shop" plan, was brought forth here yesterday. The proposition is for the employes of the independent shops to work during the morning and allow the strikers to fill their places in the afternoon.

Champion Bone-Player Dead.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 3.—The death is announced of Charles H. Atkinson, said to have been the oldest negro in the country. Atkinson was born in Limington, Me., 72 years ago. He was famed as a ballad singer and was at one time called the champion bone-soloist.

Good Health For Marriage.

Salem, Ore., Feb. 3.—A bill requiring that applicants for marriage licenses be provided with a certificate of good health from a licensed physician, unanimously passed the Senate yesterday.

200 Negroes Arrested.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 3.—More than 200 negroes have been arrested, in an effort by the police department to render the Shefrin Hill section of the city safe.

Sixteen Miners Killed.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 3.—Latest information is that at least 16 men are dead and many are seriously injured in a mine explosion yesterday.

Hotelmen Fined.

Stratford, Feb. 3.—Eight hotelkeepers were summoned to court yesterday on charges of selling liquor after hours or on Sunday. In this "clean up" by the provincial license department half the hotelmen in the city were involved. All pleaded guilty. Magistrate O'Loane imposed fines amounting to $600 and costs as follows: Queen's Hotel, Norman Reinhart, $125 and costs, second offence; Albian, James, $75 and costs; Victoria, Chas. Casson, $50 and costs; American, Geo. Richardson, $50 and costs; Dominion, Mat Strode, $50 and costs; Windsor, Thomas Gillespie, $75 and costs; Commercial, J. J. Hagarty, $75 and costs; Mansion, Ephraim Killer, $100 and costs, second offence.

Confesses to Burglaries.

Kingston, Feb. 3.—Reginald Lewis, aged 23, and Percy Pare, 27 the latter belonging to the Army Service Corps, having confessed to Saturday night's burglary at Gananoque, but they deny having been responsible for causing the subsequent big fire.

In addition, they admit having committed the recent burglaries in this city, the loot amounting to thousands of dollars. Much of it has been recovered. They will be sentenced on Friday.

The police here found that the men had hired a livery and had been to Gananoque. They secured Lewis and he admitted the fact. After being put through a sweating he gave in.

Teamsters Lockout in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—At four o'clock yesterday afternoon the Manitoba Cartage Co., a subsidiary to the C.P.R., locked out 25 teamsters for taking an active part in the establishment of a union.

A general strike among the teamsters is expected to result.

Aeronauts Dashed to Death.

Saint Pons, France, Feb. 3.—A balloon which was drifting over the mountains at night was overcome by a gale. The occupants of the car, two Bordeaux aeronauts, tried to make a descent, but a violent gust dashed the balloon against a boulder and both were killed.

Village Carried Underground.

Rome, Feb. 3.—Prince Scalea, who has just returned from Calabria, brings reports of some telluric phenomena which seem almost incredible.

One of the villages, he says, was carried 250 feet underground by the opening of the earth and the subsequent landslide.

Elected by Acclamation.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—Hon. Jeremia Decarie, the new Minister of Agriculture in the Gouin Government, was elected yesterday by acclamation in his old constituency of Hochelaga, while the Liberal member, Mr. Galipault, was also returned unopposed in Bellechasse.

No Real Capital.

Cape Town, Feb. 3.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—After prolonged debates, verging to the point of rupture, it is understood the convention has decided on Pretoria as the administrative, and Cape Town as the legislative, centre.

Sunday School Treasurer Disappears.

Orangeville, Feb. 3.—G. H. Coopman, local agent of a sewing machine company, who left town suddenly two weeks ago, taking with him about $70 belonging to St. Mark's Church Sunday School, of which he was treasurer only a couple of weeks, and also, it is stated, funds of St. Andrew's Brotherhood. Coopman deserted a wife and three small children here. He is an Englishman, about 35 years of age, and came here from Wingham.

Tariff, Not Frost, to Blame.

London, Feb. 3.—George Wyndham, M.P., addressing a meeting at Birkenhead, said Mr. Lloyd George, in a speech some time ago, had accused him of not having told his audience at a former meeting that the St. Lawrence being frozen in winter we had no direct route for taking tinplates directly to Canada.

"I ask him to apologize to his audience and the whole Dominion. Lloyd George ought to have told his audience that the anti-dumping clause of the Canadian Act, not frost, was the reason that checked the dumping of tinplates in Canada to the detriment of our trade."

Taft to Become a Mason.

Cincinnati, Feb. 3.—The grand master of the Ohio Masons, Charles S. Hoskinson, of Zanesville, has tendered to William Howard Taft, President-elect of the United States, the rare and high honor of being made a Mason at sight. Judge Taft has accepted and the ceremony on Feb. 18 in the Scottish Rite Cathedral will be a notable one.

To Improve French Navy.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Alfred Picard, who was named Minister of Marine in succession to M. Thomson last year, for the purpose of reorganizing and carrying out reforms in the French navy, has presented to the Cabinet an extensive plan of development which, not counting new ships, involves an expenditure of $45,000,000.

Roosevelt Refuses $10,000.

Washington, Feb. 3.—President Roosevelt, in a letter to the attorneys for the administration, says that under no conditions will he accept a legacy of $10,000 left by the last will of Benj. Hadley, an East Somerville recluse, who died Dec. 16, 1907. The will disposes of property valued at $150,000.

Hotel Afire.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 3.—Fifty lives were imperilled early yesterday morning by fire which partially destroyed the Old Homestead Hotel at Homestead, a suburb of Pittsburg. The sleeping guests, aroused by firemen, escaped in night attire and three children were rescued.

C.P.R. Cuts Rate.

New York, Feb. 3.—The Canadian Pacific Railway have joined the other interested roads in cutting rates in retaliation for the recent reductions made by the Boston and Maine.

MAKES ASTONISHING CURES

Mi-o-na Tablets Cure Dyspepsia by Promptly Removing the Cause, or Money Back.

There is just one way to cure dyspepsia and stomach disorders, trivial or serious, and that is to tone up or put energy into the stomach walls, so that they will be able to properly mix or churn the food.

Mi-o-na tablets quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction and in a short time it is able to do its work properly.

Harry Dodd, of Bridge Street, Hastings, Ont., says; "For seven years I have suffered and spent much money doctoring, but all to no avail. I could eat but very little, as the food would ferment and sour, making gas, which caused serious heart oppression. I was in constant misery, sour gas would belch from my stomach, I was languid and weak and had no ambition. I did not feel like going anywhere or seeing anyone. There was a constant dull pain in the pit of my stomach. I was unable to sleep, was nervous, restless and would awake more tired than on going to bed. I tried Mi-o-na and soon found relief, and in less than six weeks Mi-o-na had completely cured me."

Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells Mi-o-na tablets at 50 cents a large box, under a rigid guarantee to do all that is claimed for them or money back.

P.E.I. Legislature Opens.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Feb. 3.—The Provincial Legislature opened yesterday afternoon, being the first session since the general election, when 17 Liberals and 13 Conservatives were returned.

The Lieutenant-Governor's address states that some of the outstanding claims against the Dominion were satisfactorily adjusted. Reference is made to the success of the Government's agricultural policy, the benefits derived from the short course at the Truro Agricultural College, and to the proposed rural telephone system.

Owing to the closeness of the parties, the session promises to be lively. This is the earliest opening of the Legislature for some years.

Evades Emigration Laws.

London, Feb. 3.—During the application for the renewal of the license of H. P. Bright, passage broker, it was stated that Bright had evaded the Canadian Government's objection to premiums on emigrants by starting a tuition farm in Sussex, where emigrants had to pay an indirect premium. The license was renewed.

Sues Municipality For $10,000.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Annie L. McGuire is suing the Corporation of Burk's Falls and the mayor for $10,000 for loss by fire of her hotel. She claims that the water pressure was too low for protection, whereas she had lots of hose, etc. She alleges the water was being supplied to the G.T.R. engines instead of the village.

Fast in the Ice.

Pictou, N.S., Feb. 3.—The steamer Minto is still stuck hard and fast in the ice, about two miles off Pictou light. The ice is exceptionally heavy. Four passeners and mails came off the Minto on Monday by teams. Provisions have been taken out to the steamer.

Author Suicides.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Lower—Hogs 10c to 15c Lower at East Buffalo and Chicago.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 12c to 13¼c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10¼c to 10⅝c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, as reported by the railways, were 116 carloads, consisting of 2225 cattle, 1910 hogs, 395 sheep and lambs and 150 calves.

Exporters.

Not many export steers were on sale, and not many are wanted at present, owing to scarcity of space. Dealers say that space on ocean steamers will be scarce next week also. Export steers sold at $5 to $5.40; bulls, $4 to $4.75, and two were sold by McDonald & Halligan at $5 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.90 to $5.10, with one lot of six, sold by Corbett & Hall, at $5.20, but they weighed 1200 lbs., and when space was plentiful would have been taken as exporters; loads of good, $4.30 to $4.65; medium, light cattle, $3.75 to $4.10; common, $3.50 to $3.75; cows, $3 to $4.25; canners, $1.50 to $2.

Feeders and Stockers.

Messrs. H. & W. Murby report the stocker and feeder market as unchanged, with a fair demand at following quotations: Best feders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $3.90 to $4.35; best stockers, 700 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.40 to $3.80; medium stockers, 600 to 900 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.50. There is some enquiry for short-keeps, but the demand for exporters has put this class out of reach of the ordinary buyers.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair delivery of milkers and springers, for which high prices were paid, when quality is taken into consideration. Prices ranged from $30 to $60, but the latter price was seldom paid, as there were few cows good enough to bring it. The bulk of the best on sale sold at from $45 to $65 each.

Veal Calves.

The receipts of veal calves were larger than for some time. Prices for the best of them were firm, ranging from $5.50 to $6.75; common to medium calves sold at $3 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts are decreasing as the season advances being light to-day, which caused prices to be firmer. Export ewes, $4 to $4.25; rams, $3.25 to $3.75; lambs, $5.50 to $6.35 per cwt.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris quotes selects, fed and watered, at $6.90; selects, f.o.b. cars at country points, $6.65; sows, $5 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; steady; prime steers, $6.35 to $6.75.

Veals—Receipts, 175 head; active and steady.

Hogs—Receipts, 2850 head; active; pigs steady; others 10c to 15c lower; heavy and mixed, $7 to $7.10; yorkers, $6.90 to $7.10; dairies, $6.50 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2000 head; active, steady and unchanged.

DEPUTATION FROM COUNTY COUNCIL ADDRESSED THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

In Reference to the Admittance of County Pupils to the Collegiate Institute at the Same Rate as City Students—County Will Pay Eighty Per Cent.

Before the regular business of the meeting was proceeded with at the Board of Eduation last evening, a deputation from the County Council, consisting of Warden Scott, Inspectors R. Lees and J. Coyle Brown, and Messrs. Ed. Elliott and W. B. Stewart, addressed the Board in reference to the matter of throwing the Collegiate Institute open to county pupils so that they would be able to attend, and at the same time without it being too expensive.

Warden Scott was the first to speak. He explained the object of the deputation, that of endeavoring to rearrange the fees charged by the Collegiate Institute, so that county pupils might attend without it being too expensive.

INSPECTOR BROWN.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown said that the county wanted an arrangement whereby county pupils might attend the Collegiate at the same rate as those from the city. He understood that the fees at the present time for city pupils were $10 per year, and 400 pupils attending would mean $4,000 annually.

If the county pupils were allowed to attend on the same basis the county would pay $2 500. Mr. Brown also claimed that the presence of county pupils would influence the intellectial standing of the school for the better, as the county boys and girls always took every advantage of the opportunities offered, while the city pupils were somewhat indifferent. The Government made a grant of $2 000; the fees amount to $4,000, making a total of $6,000. The balance had to be raised by the citizens. If the Board opened its doors to the county pupils the County Council was called upon to pay 80 per cent of the total cost of maintenance.

INSPECTOR LEES.

Mr. Richard Lees M.A., read the section in the High School Act bearing on the question. The act required the County Council to pay 80 per cent, of the total cost of the maintenance, less the amount of fees. Mr Lees also pointed out that it would be a long time before another teacher would have to be engaged at the Collegiate and the cost would be increased very little.

COUNTY TREASURER ELLIOTT.

Mr. Ed. M. Elliott, County Treasurer, said that they had a county High School, but every pupil in the county was not within reach of it. If the Board of Education said that the Collegiate Institute was opened to the county; the County Council would have to pay 80 per cent. of the cost of maintenance.

MR. W. H. HILL.

Mr. W. H. Hill said that the matter of the admittance of County pupils to the Collegiate Institute had been freely discussed last July. There was very little room left in the building for pupils at present, there being 350 in attendance, and if many were added another teacher would have to be engaged. Mr. Hill thought that if the County Council would pay 80 per cent. of the cost of maintenance, and if there were not too many pupils attended from the county, an arrangement might be reached. He thought that the county pupils should contribute the difference between the present county and city fees. It would be an advisable thing to have the county pupils attend the Collegiate.

RD. MORRISON.

Dr. Morrison said that he always felt and always maintained that a school like the Peterborough Collegiate Institute should be sufficient to admit both county and city pupils. But he thought that the matter of admittance could be arranged on an equal basis. He did not think it was fair for the city to pay 100 per cent. while the county only had to pay 80 per cent. However, such was the law. The county pupils should have to pay the difference between the county and city fees, which would amount to about $45 per month.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE.

Mr. D. W. Dumble said that the question of admitting county pupils to the Collegiate had been reduced to one of dollars and cents. It was desirable that the county should received a good education, but the city was not bound to sympathise with them at their own expense. The obligation was upon them to provide High Schools of their own. If they (the county) could utilize the city school and only contribute 80 per cent of a portion of the cost, they were better off than the city.

But on the other hand, if they could attend, under the basis proposed, without injury to the school in the way of overcrowding the rooms, Mr. Dumble would favor their admittance.

Principal Kenner explained that there were 39 pupils from the county attending the Collegiate at the present time. He did not think it would be feasible to have any more with the present size of the school.

Upon motion of Mr. Hill and Dr. Morrison the matter was referred to the whole committee of the Board, and Mr. Kenner was requested to furnish them with a statement of the attendance in each room.

A SPLENDID NUMBER OF "COLLEGIATE ECHOES"

The January "Collegiate Echoes" which has just been issued is the best number of the popular periodical that has ever been issued. Many improvements have been made since the last number was published. Among them are new headings for the different departments which were designed by students at the Collegiate. They are highly creditable and add considerably to the "make-up" and general appearance of the magazine.

The reading matter is of the usual high standard of excellence and the editorial staff deserves great credit. The "Echoes" is under the following management;

Managing Editor—Maxwell J. Dobbin.

Sub Editors—Edith Connor, Katie Leary, Phyllis Denne, Harold Brown, Cyril Moore.

Business Board—Garnett Rankin, Wallace Armstrong.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE IN MAY

A meeting of the City Sunday School Association was held last evening, in the YMCA parlors. Rev H J Keith occupied the chair. The advisability of holding a County Sunday School convention was discussed and after due deliberation it was decided, with the concurrence of the County Association to hold a convention here on Monday and Tuesday, May 3rd and 4th. It is expected that Canon Sweeny, President of the Provincial Association will be present as well as a number of other prominent workers.

COULDN'T GET DISPENSATION; MARRIED IN THE STATES

Special to the Review.

Plattsburg, N.Y. Feb 3—Mabel A. Slater, daughter of Geo M Slater, the wealthy shoe manufacturer of Montreal and Charles W Moffit, son of Wm H. Moffit of New York, were married in the rectory of the Catholic church of this city yesterday. The bridegroom being a Protestant and the bride a Catholic, they could not obtain a dispensation in Canada and as a consequence the bridal party, with a hundred guests, came here by special train and had the ceremony performed. When this was over the party returned to Montreal, where a dinner, reception and dance for 300 persons were given by the bride's parents at the Windsor Hotel last night.

AN IPMORTANT MEETING OF REBEKAH LODGE

A successful and important meeting of the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge No 81, I.O.O.F. was held last night. Twenty-eight were instructed into the mysteries of the Rebekah Degree. Since the lodge was established less than two years and a half ago it's growth has been most encouraging and it is now in a very flourishing condition.

At last night's meeting the lodge was honored by the presence of District Deputy Grand Master A. A. Fowler, Past Grand Bro Lt-Col Miller, Past Grand Bro Kelly of Lakefield, and Past Grand Bro Patterson, of Havelock. They all gave short addresses and dwelt on the prosperity of the order and the excellent results being secured by the degree team, which was as efficient, they stated, as any they had ever known of in any of the subordinate lodges.

Noble Grand Sister Watts conducted the meeting.

Great credit is due Bro Reason, conductor of the degree staff, who has spared no pains in his work of instruction.

T.A.S. "AT HOME" LAST EVENING

Was an Enjoyable Event—The Prize Winners

The "At Home" given last evening by the Ladies' Literary Society of the T.A.S. proved to be one of the most enjoyable functions that have been held this year. About two hundred people were present. Progressive euchre was played in the early hours of the evening and after supper, dancing was enjoyed.

There were thirty-five euchre tables. The winner of the lady's prize was Mrs Burdick and of the gentleman's prize, Mr. Patrick O'Donnell.

Dainty refreshments were served at midnight by several young ladies, among whom were Misses O'Connell, K. McGrath, Picard, Gilman, Lennett, and N. Fitzgerald.

The committee of gentlemen whom credit is due for the success of the affair, consisted of Messrs J Hanrahan W Landry, Ed English and V. Corkery

Music for dancing was provided by Misses McCann and McGarrity and Mr P. Kane.

THEATRICAL

Power Stock Company

The above company will open an engagement of one week at the Opera House next Monday evening. There will be a matinee on Saturday on which occasion the company will produce, "Cinderella, or the Little Glass Slipper." which should prove of special interest to the children. Little Gladys will play the leading part and will also introduce a novel specialty.

During the engagement the following array of vaudeville will appear between the acts;

Bebee and Hyers, Queens of Song; Louise Robinson, imitations; Gladys Gillen, juvenile songs and dances; Jas Mac, illustrated songs; Kennedy and Derby, in a little of everything; Herbert H Powers, always something doing. A list of prices, etc, appears in another column.

IT PLEASED THE TORONTO CRITICS

Speaking of Kathryn Osterman, who appeared in Toronto the week before last, the Toronto Mail and Empire has the following to say;

It is to laugh, Kathryn Osterman is at the Grand in "The Night of the Play." All have to laugh; they laugh often and long, for when the laughter-loving Kathryn throws her head, tilts her chin to an elevation of 45 degrees and the ripples of her mirth bubble forth and grow and swell into waves and billows of merriment there is no use trying to resist. The bacillus of joy is in the air, and one can escape it no more than one can escape during an influenza epidemic. All the company laugh that is, all except Betsy, the new girl at the Griffing's. This important functionary was not once detected with even the semblance of a smile. But laughter is the keynote of the whole production; it is featured in the advertising and in the performance; it breaks out at the most unexpected times and places, until sometimes there comes a vague wonder whether or not they are going to overdo it and spoil the fun by too much of it. But, fortunately, they do not.

The play is well called "an eccentric piece." The mirth comes principally from the situations, and the lines are brilliant and funny. Feminine interest went out strongly to Miss Osterman's gowns. One of them was especially elaborate. The veracious press agent states that is cost $1,000 Perhaps it did, for while it is good to look at, no mere masculine intelligence could even venture a guess at its value.

Aside from Miss Osterman herself, there are several members of the company who should be mentioned. Gavin Harris as Jack Brasher, the husband, does some work which is as as Toronto people have seen lately. He is natural, unaffected. There is no straining for effects, but he is equal to each situation and is easily the best of the male members of the cast. C. L. Worthington, as Ebenezer Griffing, "a caution and a warning to parents and guardians," and around whom the storm centre always hovers, is worth seeing. He has a most difficult part, from both an artistic and physical standpoint, but his work is creditable. Guy Sapsel, as George Hemingway, "a lamb from Wall street," has a laugh which may be described as unique. Edgar Post. William A. Williams and Sadie Wertheim are also valuable as assistants to the clever star.

Not the least feature of the production are the magnificent gowns worn by Miss Osterman, particularly the cloth-of-gold directoire she displays in the last act, which caused a chorus of "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the ladies in the audience.

The Blue Ribbon White Event

Of all the white sales that we have ever held, this will prove the best. Dainty undergarments, fabrics, linens, domestics, laces, embroideries, and wear-things, all in white—snowy billows of them—tables and counters piled high and overflowing with them—and every component the finest looms and the most expert needleworkers find it possible to produce.

THIS WHOLE STORE IS A VISION OF SNOWY LOVLINESS

And how advantageously we bought—how painstakingly we prepared for this great annual event is reflected in the unusual low prices which you will obtain on these charming garments, sheer fabrics and delightful wear-things. The spirit of economy overshadows even the splendid qualities and almost endless varieties—the bargains are doubly magnetic by reason of their timeliness.

It's to be an event that will long be remembered by prudent housewives and thrifty shoppers—the greatest White Sale of all—THE BLUE RIBBON WHITE EVENT.

THE GREAT WHITE SALE BEGINS ON THURSDAY

COME EARLY IN THE DAY

Be among the first to revel in this Carnival of White—come early—in advance of the great rush which will later in the day respond to this announcement. Make your selection from complete assortment, before they are disturbed.

PROMPT SHOPPERS WILL PROFIT

The fact that many of the choicest values will go first must not be overlooked when planning to attend this sale. Be prompt and thus be sure of obtaining the BEST BARGAINS, while varieties are yet intact.

OBITUARY

JAMES MONGRAW

The death occurred at St Joseph's hospital early this morning of James Mongraw, after a lengthy illness. The deceased was removed to the hospital only a few days ago where he underwent an operation yesterday, the effects of which resulted in his death.

The deceased was 52 years of age and was born in Gananoque. He came to Peterborough a number of years ago and until he was taken ill, conducted a successful barber shop on Simcoe street.

A wife and a family of eight children are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

MRS. WM. HALES.

An old resident of the county in the person of Mrs. Wm. Hales passed away on January 27th, at the age of 78 years. She had resided in Burleigh over 40 years, having removed from Hales' Bridge. Otonabee. She leaves to morn her loss Mary Ann at the homestead; Mrs. R. Hales. 25 grandchildren, also John Waldon of this city, and Watson, of Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Brown, of New Ontario. She was a consistent member of the Apsley Methodist church, and it could be truly said she was beloved by all who knew her, as her kindness and hospitality were far-reaching.—Com.

MRS. JOHN GUTHRIE.

Another aged and respected resident of Emily township was called by death away early Sunday morning, January the 17th, in the person of Catherine Jackson, beloved wife of the late John Guthrie.

She had been in poor health for some time, but her death was unexpected. The deceased was seventy-one years of age and was well known in this vicinity, having resided in the township of Emily all her life. She was a member of Bethel Methodist church, and a continuous supporter towards the advancement of that cause.

The late Mrs. Guthrie leaves to mourn her loss three sons and two daughters. The daughters are Mrs. John Wright, Fowler's Corners, and Mrs. Wilson, Cookstown. The sons are William S., of Midland, and Robt. and Forest of Emily; also Mrs. Jos. Bell, of Midland, who is a sister of the deceased.

The funeral took place from her son-in-law's, Mr. J. Wright's, Fowler's Corners, on Tuesday, January 19th, at two o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. McKenzie, pastor of Bethel Circuit, Service was held at the house, after which a large number of friends followed the remains to Emily cemetery, where they were interred.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Chas Miller, Gabriel Switzer, J. T. Switzer, S. Henry, Henry Jackson and Gustavus Howden.

GAME MAY BE PROTESTED

The game in the Senior Church League between Knox and Park st. will likely be protested, as Park st. claim that Henderson, of Knox, is not eligible on account of his not being a member of Knox Young Men's Guild by first of September, 1908.

LATE NEWS FROM BETHEL, EMILY

Presentation at Epworth League Meeting---Auction Sale on February 9th

Bethel, Emily, Feb. 2.—We were pleased to see the large attendance at the Epworth League last Thursday evening. The topic entitled "Life Lessons for Me." (from the book of Genesis." was very ably dealt with by the pastor. After the topic and just before opening the regular monthly business meeting, Mr. M. Ruth was called to the front and presented with a handsome writing desk, after the reading of a well-worded address by the pastor. Mr. Ruth has been an energetic worker in the Sunday school and Epworth League for a number of years, and as a token of esteem in which his work was held by these societies the presentation was made.

Mr. Ira Switzer, who attended the Stock and Seed judging courses in Lindsay last week, returned home Saturday night.

Miss Winnifred Purdy was the guest of her brother. Mr. W. Purdy, East Emily, over Sunday.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of little Miss Hilda Boate. We hope for a speedy recovery.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

It was stated in last week's Weekly Review, that the stock and implement sale of Mr. Robert Henderson would be held on February 19th. That was an error. It will be held on Tuesday, February the 9th. This sale is without reserve, as Mr. Henderson has given up farming. Sale will be under the management of Auctioneer Gardiner.

SPORTING NEWS

MORGAN IS BIG ASSET FOR LOCALS FOR GAME WITH LINDSAY ON FRIDAY

Lindsay will have to hustle to beat the locals here on Friday night. With Morgan as the backbone of the forward line the locals will be able to travel at a much steadier clip than they did in Lindsay and will be able to play more effective hockey.

The Lindsay supporters claim that their favorites will be able to put up a much better article on keen ice and from the way the cold weather is keeping up there is every reason to believe they will be accommodated. The Scugog team has been keeping in the best of trim in anticipation of a hard and fast game and seem to think if they can win out the district they ought to pretty nearly go in the finals with Stratford. A big band of supporters will accompany the team on the special which is being run for the match.

LAKEFIELD AND STRATHS. PLAY TO-MORROW NIGHT

Owing to the fact that they did not wish to cut up the ice the Straths did not practice before the game between Peterborough and Cobourg last night but will do so tonight between seven and eight o'clock. This will be the Straths' last work out before the game with Lakefield to-morrow night.

The Straths will be able to make the best showing of the season when they stack up against the clever local option seven. The latter are going to make a big effort to snatch the laurels from the champions and regardless of the result the game is certain to prove the best one of the year in the series. Whichever team wins will put itself firmly in the position of the best one in the City League.

Belmonts and West Ends will be the opening game.

LOCALS HAD EASY TIME BEATING COBOURG TEAM

The game between Cobourg and Peterborough last night started with a spectacular swish that made the spectators expect they would see something of an interesting order in the line of intermediate hockey, but before the game had progressed many minutes they saw that they were to be disappointed. There was nothing to it but Peterborough and Cobourg had practically none of the play during the whole evening.

At times the visitors line brightened up but was never dangerous or effective. To make use of an oft repeated phrase the score indicates the play and the score was 13-1. At half time it was 5-0 and the locals were offered so little opposition that it was nothing more than a good workout for the game with Lindsay on Friday night.

Cobourg has a handy seven but they came here with four juniors on the lineup and when Peterborough once got going the goals came so regularly that the exhibition began to lack interest.

Referee Waghorne had a comparatively easy time of it, neither team being at all keen to mix it up. Quite a number of penalties were given, but the infractions were not of a serious character.

The ice was in the very best condition and the home team performed in good fashion. They gave the impression that they could set a very fast clip if called upon to do so and will be in fine fettle to give Lindsay an argument that will keep the Scugogites going all the time. Last night they did not display their best for the simple reason they did not have to, but at that the defence and forwards looked after their positions in excellent style.

Cobourg was weak in the forward department but the defence did some nice relieving at times. Crossen at cover and Patton in goal, being the best men on the visiting seven.

Morgan made his bow for the first time this season and loomed up to just as much advantage as he did when he was a big factor in helping Peterborough land the championships. He was aggressive and effective and his work around the nets was especially telling. He will put lots of confidence into the forwards for the game against Lindsay.

Parnell played a nice game at centre particularly in the first half.

Moore, Glover and Derocher all put up the brand of hockey that makes them one of the best defences playing intermediate hockey.

There was a fairly good attendance at the match.

THE GAME

Clarence Pratt was benched 1 minute for tripping Morgan.

Crossen took a minute for tripping.

Skitch followed him with the same penalty.

An unusual happening took place, Waghorne being hit on the head with the puck. He was not hurt much, however.

The next goal was a long time in coming, Dusty getting it in 16 min.—4-0

In 1 1-2 minutes he got the next.—5-0

SECOND HALF

Morgan scored on a pass from Parnell. 2 min—6-0.

Dusty was retired for 1 min.

Morgan scored in 3 min—7-0.

Rose repeated in 1 min—8-0

Morgan again scored—9-0.

Morgan and Parnell got the nicest combination of the evening working and the latter scored in 1 min—10-0.

Payne secured the only goal for Cobourg by angling the puck around from the back of the nets and sliding it past the goal post 2 min—10-1.

Parnell was penalized for 1 min.

Moore scored in 22 min—11-1.

Glover rushed and passed to Morgan who finished the play for a counter. 2 min.—12-1.

Dusty took the last in 1 1-2 min.—13-1.

KNOX WON GAME, 7—2

Had the Advantage Over Park St in Church League Game Last Night

By a score of 7—2 Knox put it over Park street in a Church League game last night at the Park street rink. The half-time tally was 4—1.

Individually neither team had anything on the other but Knox church had the advantage on team play. Johnston for Park street, was the fastest man on the ice, but had no support. Loumis also played well for Park street. Denoon, Bartley and Hillier were the pick of Knox, their three man combination puzzled the Park street defence at every turn. In goal for Knox was a whirlwind, his brilliant stops were all that saved Park street from keeping the score more even.

Referee Patterson was impartial, but by no means strict, letting a great deal of tripping and checking go by.

The teams lined up as follows;

Park Street.
Goal, Killenbeck.
Point, Barrie.
Cover Point, Gellespie.
Right Wing, Gilbert.
Left Wing, H. Reid.
Centre, Johnston.
Rover, Loumis.

Referee Patterson, of St. Andrew's.

STRATHCONAS TO PRACTICE.

The Strathconas will practise tonight between seven and eight o'clock. A full turnout of the players is asked for.

St. Andrew's and George st. play Thursday night in the Senior Church League at Knox rink from eight to nine. St. Andrew's will line up as follows;

Goal, Petterson.
Point, McDonald.
Cover Point, Flannagan.
Rover, Stanton.
Centre, H. Rae.
Wings, Dormer, Currie N. Rae.

THE DISTRICT CUP WAS CAPTURED BY LINDSAY; FOUR PLACES REPRESENTED

The district cup goes to Lindsay this year. The games were played off yesterday by four towns, Lindsay, Port Hope, Keene and Peterborough. In the first draw Port Hope was pitted against Lindsay, and Keene were against the city. The primary was begun at half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, and the finals wound up at about 11.30 last night. The play was watched with great interest by a great many people from start to finish.

The finals created great interest and many good ends were played, although Peterborough was never in the running at any time. Pete Laing however, made a sensational play in the 14th end. Lindsay was lying three when Pete came down with a running shot, took the guard and jammed it against the other three shots and knocked them all out, while he remained shot. The end was lost, however.

The rinks and scores were as follows;

BOWLING

A double header was played in the local ten pin league series yesterday Belmonts taking three straights from the Lock Works, while the Bankers captured two from the Exam B.

Wareh's remarkable performance was the feature of the evening, the Belmont captain rolling a high single of 225 and a total of 589 for the three games, only eleven below the record established by George Cairns some time ago.

This afternoon the Midgets and Iroquois hook up at five o'clock while the Hams and Belmonts meet tonight.

The scores were:

BANKERS

Ferguson	117	147	143—407

FREE TRIP TO EUROPE

THE REVIEW will send the Most Popular Person in Peterborough County on a Trip to Europe, Visiting Scotland, England and France.

A Seven-Thousand-Mile Tour of Elegance and Luxury

The advantages of this magnificent tour, which includes the most luxurious railroad and steamboat travel, and a sojourn of several days in both London and Paris, will be placed at the disposal of the most popular person in this City or County, positively without cost or care, and with every detail carefully planned and calculated, so that the entire trip may be made to the best advantage and afford the fullest measure of pleasure and profit.

PLAN OF THE CONTEST

THE REVIEW has inaugurated a great subscription contest, in which the men and the women of the City of Peterborough and Peterborough County will be given an opportunity of winning, in eight weeks, very valuable prizes, which will be awarded to those securing the most votes, which are given on subscriptions to The Review. Votes are allowed on all subscriptions, either NEW or OLD. The price of the paper will be the same as usual, as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Any respectable man or women may enter the contest by simply filling in the nomination blank. Coupons will be run daily and count two votes each. They must be polled on or before the expiry date appearing on each coupon. Votes secured on subscriptions may be cast at any time desired. It costs nothing to enter the race, nor does it cost anything extra to cast the votes. Votes are allowed on advance payments for the paper, also on arrearages. There is absolutely no "chance," "luck," or guessing in the contest. The best hustlers will get the prizes. The records of the contest will be open to friends and candidates at all times. As soon as you have entered, get busy! Call on your friends and have them take The Review for a year for you. Send in your name today—A good start is everything.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO ENTER THE CONTEST---VOTING IS FREE

SEND IN THE NAME OF SOME WORTHY FRIEND AT ONCE

9-NINE PRIZES-9

Grand Prize "Free Trip to Europe" covering transportation from Peterborough to London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Paris, and return to Peterborough. All transportation and hotel expenses paid.

PIANO-$400.00-PIANO

As an alternate Grand Prize, the winner of the "Trip to Europe," may, if he or she wish, accept a Piano, to be supplied from the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, and valued at $400.00.

DISTRICT PRIZES:

Four Elegant Diamond Rings

Or a 6 Months' Course in the Peterborough Business College

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

Nomination Ballot on Page 6 Voting Coupon on Page 2

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District No. 2—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of each will be equally divided between them

PRESENTATION AT ENNISMORE CHOIR MEMBER IS HONORED

Given Handsome Pieces of Silverware—Successful Concert Held—Death of an Old Resident.

Special to The Review.

Ennismore, Feb. 1.—Last Sunday the members of St. Martin's choir, Ennismore, waited on Mrs. Dan Crough, and presented her with two very handsome pieces of silverware, a cake dish and sugar bowl, accompanied by the following address, read by Miss Agnes Scollard, organist:

To Mrs. Daniel Crough;

We, the members of St. Martin's choir, Ennismore, avail ourselves of this opportunity of expressing to you our deep appreciation of your valuable services as a member of our choir, and your honest, persevering efforts at all times, to make it a success. Twenty-five years ago this winter Rev. Father Keilty, then pastor of St. Martins', with his accustomed anxiety for the moral and social elevation of his parish, decided to start a choir. In you he recognised a fit and proper person to whom he might with safety, entrust this difficult task of organization. Results have proved the correctness of his judgment and if to-day we have a choir of which any country parish in the province, might justly feel proud, it is owing in no small degree, to your unselfish, untiring labors, and that love of music and song, which you so happily and successfully instilled into the minds of our people, and which has ever since borne abundant fruits. Nor did your efforts in behalf of the choir cease when circumstances obliged you to resign your position as organist. You have continued faithful during these long years, despite the many difficulties which your family duties must of necessity have imposed upon you. It is this fact, which we wish, especially to emphasize today. Besides, your willingness to assist at all our practices, your kind, agreeable manner, with all our members, your ever anxious care to hear the Holy Mass and the sacred hymns of the church, sung in a way befitting the solemnity of the occasion, have won for you, a very warm place in our hearts and our sincerest wish is that you may be spared for twenty-five years more to encourage and stimulate us in the sublime work of singing the praises of Almighty God. As a token of our regards we ask you to accept this small present, and couple with it our best wishes for a happy and prosperous new year.

Signed on behalf of the choir, Agnes Scollard, J. K. Galvin, T. T. Crough.

Mrs Crough was taken entirely by surprise, but however, succeeded very well in thanking Father Fitzpatrick and the members of the choir for their valuable present and their still more valuable address. She described briefly the many difficulties she had to contend with at the outset but the Irish love for music and song, came to her rescue, and before long she had a very good choir. She was pleased to notice that the musical talent of the parish was well looked after, and that the choir is still improving as year succeeds year.

Father Fitzpatrick added a few words, in which he stated that the ordinary opinion of people was, that musicians, as a general rule, were no much use as wives or home makers, but he pointed with pride to six of his parishioners all married to retired organists, every one of whom gave evidence of being well fed and well looked after and whose homes gave evidence of taste, care and labor.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Last Tuesday evening the second concert of a series, to be held during the winter was put on. The following programme speaks for itself;

Selection by local orchestra.

Song—"The Last Rose of Summer is the Sweetest flower of all" by Evelyn Carew.

Song—"Face in the Firelight" by Eliza Flood.

Song—"The sweet girl of my dreams" by Geraldine Rudkins.

Song—"I'm tying the leaves so they won't come down"; Lyde Killen.

Song—"The hat me father wore" Bernard McManus.

The first act of the play— "The Parish Priest.

Selection by the orchestra.

Song—"When my girl from Tipperary tips me." Celia Twomey.

Song—"Cy going to the circus" by Tim Crough.

Song—"Rory Darling." by Geraldine Rudkins.

Song—"Nora McNamara." by Fanny Scollard.

Song—"The Holy City" by Ernestine McManus.

The second act of the play.

Duet—"Mary and Marie" by Misses Eliza Flood and Stella Cadigan.

Song—"When the blue bells ring" Loretta Kennedy.

Song—"Did I ever have a mama" Kittie O'Connor.

Song—"Tipperary." by Miss Agnes Scollard.

Song—"On the Old Missouri Shore" Stella Cadigan.

Third act of the play.

God Save the King.

Those taking part in the play,—"The Parish Priest." —were as follows—

Rev John Whalen—Frank Scollard.
Dr. Thos. Cassidy—Mr J A O'Donohue.
Dr. Ed. Welsh—Joe O'Reilly.
Jas Welsh brother—Jas Mahoney
Michael Sullivan—Joe Carroll
Frank Dougher lawyer, Ed Crough
Agnes Cassidy—Agnes Scollard.
Helen Durkin—Lottie Scollard.
Kate Corrigan—Fanny Scollard.

"The Parish Priest." is a high class comedy and teaches many useful and practical lesson for everyday life. The parts were well taken, and the actors deserve great credit for their skilful work. The play will be reproduced early in March by special request.

We have to record the death of Mrs John C. Sullivan of this township at the ripe old age of ninety-six years.

Mr. Leonard McAuliffe has returned home from St. Joseph's hospital where he has been for the past month under the doctors treatment and we are sorry to say, very little improved.

The first train over the GTP for three weeks went east from Saskatoon on Friday.

REPORT OF PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education;

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg to report as follows;

That they have received an estimate from Alexander and Miller for the installation of two mechanical weather proof enclosed iron box bells with 5 in. gongs to operate over hallway of first floor of Collegiate Institute for $28; two similar bells but larger for 10 in. gong $40.

The rollers for towels at this building have been furnished.

Queen Alexandra, 19 shades.
Central school, 6 shades.
New Collegiate, 8 shades.

These are the best Holland and are mounted on rollers of suitable length the price complete being $48.28. It was thought advisable to leave all the blinds on the windows as at present, thereby having two shades, when the new ones are placed. Messrs. Hall & Son have agreed to refit the blinds now on, at any time we desire to do so.

Your committee have had a compressed air spring placed on the north outside door of the Collegiate Institute, also chains have been ordered to be placed on fanlights, in daily use, in the building.

It was found that the fanlights were without sufficient support when opened, and several accidents were narrowly averted.

The matter of the janitor of the East City school is still under consideration.

The old stoves in the Central school have been disposed of to the Higgins Hardware Company for the sum of $13.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. F. NELSON,
Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education;

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report;

That they have carefully considered the High School Inspector's report, and recommend as follows;

That the Property Committee be authorized to purchase a gong, towels, and extra blinds for one room on the south side of the Collegiate Institute building.

That the scientific apparatus, art models, and books required under the departmental regulations be referred to the Supervision Committee with instructions to purchase the minimum amount necessary and that the same be expended under the direction of the Supervision Committee.

The committee also considered the Public School Inspector's quarterly report, and are pleased to find the Public school in such a satisfactory condition, and we believe at the present time we have a staff on the public schools second to none in the province.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. HILL,
Chairman.

BOOKS FOR LIBRARY.

Mr. Dumble brought up the matter of asking citizens to donate books for the Collegiate Library. Books of standard authors were what would be most desirable.

It was moved by Dr. Burnham, and seconded by Dr. Morrison that the matter be referred to the Supervision Committee to act in accordance with the suggestion of Principal Kenner.

The Board then adjourned.

RECTOR OF LAKEFIELD

Writes Warden Scott in Reference to Charges Concerning Death of Henry Argue at House of Refuge

Warden Scott has received the following letter from Rev. W. J. Creighton, rector of St John's church, Lakefield;

Mr. Scott,
Warden of the County,

Dear Sir,—I notice by the paper that Mr J J Crowe, of Dummer, has been finding fault in regard to the funeral of the late Henry Argue, who died at the House of Refuge last July. I might say that I knew the old man all the time he was at the Refuge and officiated at his funeral. He always seemed to be contented and happy during his stay there. I do not now remember as to what notice I received of his death, which is itself proof, that there was no unseemly haste, but I assure you and the council that I was perfectly satisfied with the arrangements and that the old man received a respectable burial.

Yours sincerely,
W. J. CREIGHTON,
Rector of St John's church, Lakefield.

VOL. LVIII., No. 29. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1909 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

TO REFORM LITIGATION DEPUTATION AT TORONTO

Lawyers Wait on Ministers—Mr. Foy Says Some of the Present Evils Must be Remedied and Cost and Delays of Law Reduced.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—"There are undoubtedly some evils to be remedied," said Hon. J. J. Foy, the Attorney-General, replying to the large deputation of legal men who waited upon the Government yesterday afternoon in reference to the proposed measure of law reform. "There is something faulty in the matter of appeals. We expect to place a bill before the House and some little time will be allowed for its consideration, both in the House and throughout the country. We are anxious to secure the views, not only of the judges and lawyers, but of the laymen—the litigants—as well. Their views will be well considered and digested.

"The measure will aim at curing some of the evils that we believe exist. The cost of litigation should be lessened; delays—many of them unnecessary and vexatious—should be made less frequent and less possible, and the public generally should have greater satisfaction with the final judgment given.

"I do not think a commission is necessary to deal with this matter. There are voluntary and self-constituted commissions sitting upon it all the time. We shall be glad to consider all suggestions, but, in my opinion, the time is ripe for the measure, and it will be duly introduced."

"This is not a hysterical or periodical change process," added Sir James Whitney. "There has been a growing conviction in favor of the one appeal, and around that idea have clustered subordinate views."

The suggestions submitted by the deputation were diverse and discursive. Their general trend was toward conservatism touching legal procedure. A commission of judges was recommended to consider the whole question before it was tackled by the Legislature. The deputation declared themselves unanimous as to the retention of the present Court of Appeal, the right of higher appeal and the establishment of a permanent divisional court. One speaker declared the law reform movement to be largely the result of newspaper agitation based upon appeals taken from jury verdicts in negligence cases, and urged the abolition of juries in damage suits of this character. The "block" system for the payment of lawyers by their clients was also advocated, another speaker declaring it was "infra dig for lawyers to itemize every fifty cents in their accounts."

Mr. D. B. Maclennan, K.C., of Cornwall, who spoke at the Premier's suggestion, rounded upon his legal brethren with a pronounced advocacy of "all the Attorney-General has outlined." "There are now sixteen proceedings to an act, while six is all we require," he said. "We should cut out the other ten."

FINED FOR UNLAWFULLY PRACTISING MEDICINE

A local physician and a medicine man were each fined forty dollars and costs, amounting to $42.70, at the Police Court this morning. The charge was for the unlawful practise of medicine. The evidence in these cases was taken last week, the prosecution having been carried on by Mr. Chas. Close, acting for the Medical Council. The cases against two other doctors were dismissed, the complainants having to pay the costs.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE POULTRY ASSOCIATION

A full attendance of members is looked for at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association, which is being held to-night at the association's place of meeting, a hall over C. N. Brown's store, Simcoe street. The election of officers will take place, the reports of the auditors and officials presented and general business will be discussed.

It is the members plans to make the society more successful than ever this year and there seems nothing to impede their progress. Considering last year was the first one, it was particularly successful and much encouragement was given by the great success of the show.

AN ACCIDENT SAYS JURY

Verdict Says no Murder, But Are Still Uncertain in Vansickle Case.

Jerseyville, Feb. 4.—"We find that the fire which destroyed the residence of Philip Vansickle was purely accidental, and that Philip Vansickle, Martin, his son, Melita, his daughter, and Harry, his son-in-law, came to their deaths by suffocation, and that there is no suspicion of foul play."

This was the verdict of Coroner Farmer's jury, which yesterday closed the inquest into the fourfold tragedy at Saturday morning last.

Despite this verdict, there still remains a doubt in the minds of jurors and of the neighborhood. The whole inquest seems, in the minds of many of the jurors and of the inhabitanats to have been held more for the purpose of dispelling the particular suspicion so broadly hinted at by old Wesley Vansickle, father of Henry, than for real discovery.

Every witness was questioned as to whether there was any ill-feeling among those living in the house, or between any of them and the close relatives living near by. None knew of any save one, George W. Meisner, who said that Harry had complained of Martin, who worked the farm with him on an equal basis of remuneration, saying that it was not fair that he should do three-quarters of the work and Martin be equally rewarded.

Albert Vansickle, uncle of Martin and Seth, spoke of the much discussed will of Peter, of which he was a witness. This was the will made in the winter of 1906. He believed there was no dissatisfaction with the will.

STATION IS DESTROYED

Beautiful Building at Temagami Which Cost $15,000 Demolished.

North Bay, Feb. 4.—Fire broke out at 6 o'clock last night in the T. & N.O. Railway station at Temagami, and this handsome structure, completed about one year ago at a cost of $15,000, is in ruins, only the massive stone walls standing.

Details are meagre on account of the wires having been put out of business by the blaze, the operator just having time to briefly report that the building was on fire and make his escape.

Books and records in the office were saved, but the fire spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to check the flames. A wooden building adjoining, occupied as restaurant and baggage room, was saved.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Fire did $15,000 damage to Thomson & Co., contracting electrical engineers, at Montreal.

The Financier states that the Canadian $30,000,000 loan has been gradually absorbed by investors.

Wilbur Wright's aeroplane has been equipped with a new motor, which has turned out to be a great improvement on the old motor.

At Philadelphia an aged couple who registered as Mr. and Mrs. Lomax of Lewistown, Pa., were found dead with a gas jet turned on full.

Louis Simpson, for 20 years or more manager of the Valleyfield Cotton Mills, has resigned and will go into the electric smelting business.

Packard Electric Co.'s automobile works at St. Catharines, which were closed down some time ago owing to trade depression, are starting up again.

POWER SCHEME FOR BROCKVILLE

Brockville, Feb. 4.—Mr. Beach, an Iroquois man who owns an extensive water power there, accompanied by his engineer, J. Gilmour of Toronto, is in town submitting a proposition for the transmission of electric power to Brockville.

If the scheme goes through he will also include the village of Cardinal and the town of Prescott in a similar manner. Mr. Beach interviewed several of the manufacturing concerns and is understood to have received much encouragement.

The idea is to supply power and light to the civic light and power department, as well as to the waterworks station. Mr. Beach would guarantee at least 1,000 horse-power at a reasonable cost, and undertake the construction of his own transmission lines.

Thunder Bay is still open and a sailboat was out on it yesterday.

Kingston, Feb. 4.—The Wormwith company has received liberal offers to locate its piano factory, from Stratford, Uxbridge, Prescott, Gananoque, Niagara Falls, Iroquois, Deseronto, Peterboro, North Bay, Chatham, Arnprior, Welland, Alexandria, Port Hope and Guelph.

To-day Kingston ratepayers will vote to grant the company a bonus of $10,000.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST LETTER CARRIER

Accused of Opening Two Letters Which Contained Money---Charles Mitchell Committed for Trial at Police Court This Morning.

Charles Mitchell, a letter carrier, was committed for trial at the police court this morning on the charge of opening two letters each containing three dollars, the property of the Postmaster-General of Canada.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. F. D. Kerr defended the prisoner, and declined to elect or plead.

INSPECTOR'S EVIDENCE

Mr. Henry Merrick, Post Office Inspector for this district was called. He had complaints of letters disappearing on the prisoner's route. Witness put on two decoy letters yesterday morning which were now in the possession of Chief Roszel. One was addressed to Mrs Arthur Head, 257 Bethune street and post marked Toronto. The other was addressed to Mrs. Robt. Martin, 55 Dalhousie St, and post marked Rochester. No dates were placed on them. These two letters were prepared in the Inspector's office at Kingston.

In the letter addressed to Mrs. Head three dollars in Dominion Bank bills was enclosed numbered M-625266, N-263736 and N-263737

In the other one there were three one dollar silver American certificates numbered M-84936143, N-25267887 and N-96921422.

This money was enclosed by witness. The Postmaster kept a memo of the numbers and witnessed the enclosures They were then put in the post office.

The Inspector went with the Chief of Police and a constable to Mitchell's house. Some time after their

A GOOD START IS MADE IN THE REVIEW CONTEST

The First Published Figures Show That Many Candidates Have Made a Good Beginning.

If your name has been sent to the contest editor as a candidate it is because the friend who placed you in nomination believes you to be the one who is justly entitled to that distinction and they undoubtedly believe you can fulfill their prediction and be declared victorious.

You most likely have many more friends who are of the same opinion Those friends will anxiously watch your progress and await the moment when you will call upon them for their support. Many will rush to your assistance unasked, while countless others only need to receive the call and they will readily lend their support and influence in your behalf

A confidential word to candidates Don't go into the contest half heartedly, but go after the prizes in a manner creditable to yourself and your friends. Be enthusiastic. Once you get a start, it is easy. The first few votes are the hardest to get Once you show you are in earnest people will watch every day for your standing. Quite unconsciously they become interested in you. The Review is helping introduce you to the people of this vicinity. In many cases there are hundreds of votes already waiting for you, which can be had for the asking.

THE WAY TO INCREASE YOUR SCORE.

Some people still being in doubt as to the various ways of securing votes, we wish to explain the plan again. Clip the coupon which is being published daily in this paper, fill in the name of the person you wish to vote for and sent it to this office and it will be credited to your candidate. Voting certificates are issued on all subscription payments of $1 or over. If your subscription is paid in advance you can pay further in advance and receive votes on your payments. If you are a new subscriber you will receive double the vote given to an old subscriber. This is done as an inducement to secure new names on our list, but an old subscriber can vote, no matter how old the account may be by making a payment of $1 or over.

It is not necessary to vote these certificates as soon as issued. They may be held until the last day of the contest if desired.

If there is any feature of the contest you do not understand, 'phone or write the Review office and it will be fully explained, and the managers of the contest will call on candidates when so requested.

The figures published below shows that a number of the candidates in the Review popularity contest have been busy. Many, however, are mapping out their campaigns and are satisfied for the present with the simple nomination. After the contest is a week older no doubt the majority of the entrants will have increased their scores to the five figure mark. All newspaper coupons and certificates issued with subscriptions deposited up to six o'clock in the evening will be added to the scores of the various contestants the following day.

The standing of the candidates up to six o'clock last evening follows;

CROSSING BILL IS BALKED SNAG AT THIRD READING

Hon. G. P. Graham Delays Passage of Measure Through Commons Until He Confers With the Chairman of Railway Commission.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Though the House accepted unanimously the Lancaster level crossings bill when it was before the House on Monday, the member for Lincoln encountered an unexpected difficulty yesterday afternoon when the third reading, which was expected to be a mere formality, was delayed at the request of Hon. Mr. Graham, who said he desired to get the opinion of the chairman of the Railway Commission, who was at present in Winnipeg.

Mr. Lancaster made a strong plea. If it was delayed in getting to the Senate and then sent back for amendment it might not be reached again by the Commons, as was the case last year. The bill represented the combined intelligence of this House for three sessions, and surely the chairman, who is an administrator, had nothing to do with making the law. This was the business of Parliament.

Mr. Graham said his object was to get rid of dangerous crossings. He thought the men who had to administer the law could give some practical hints as to the way it should be drawn.

R. L. Borden observed that the Minister had a year to get the opinion of the chairman and it was late to ask for postponement. Any modifications could be presented to the Senate.

Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) declared that in view of the activity of the G.T.R. in the recent election there must be another reason why the Minister asked delay. Haughton Lennox also protested against delay.

Mr. Graham said it was not a question of putting the jurisdiction of the commission against that of Parliament, but he had asked the chairman to put his views in the form of a bill.

Mr. Lancaster said if something was not done to protect level crossings, trains would be derailed. The people would not stand for this nonsense.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier handled Mr. Lancaster diplomatically. What has occurred recently at level crossings was appalling, but would it not be better for Mr. Lancaster to follow the course suggested? The legislation proposed had been passed by the House twice, but had failed in the Senate because of its drastic character. There would be no delay by waiting till the chairman had given his opinion, as the Senate would not meet till the 25th, and the bill would remain the first order. And Mr. Lancaster accepted Sir Wilfrid's undertaking.

In the House yesterday afternoon Mr. Sinclair (Guysboro, N.S.) brought up his resolution declaring it advisable to appoint a select standing committee to deal with questions relating to marine and fisheries. Mr. Sinclair ad Mr. Jamieson (Digby) made out a

MURRAY-ST. CONGREGATION CONSIDER INCREASING OF CHURCH ACCOMMODATION

A congregational meeting of Murray street Baptist church was held Tuesday evening when a large number were present. The question of increasing the accommodation of the church and Sunday school was taken up and discussed. The congregation under the pastorate of Rev. J. R. Webb has grown to such large numbers that the present building is very inadequate to seat all that desire to attend.

It was the opinion of those present that something would have to be done this coming summer, a new church would either have to be built or the present one enlarged.

A committee consisting of Messrs. T. F. Matthews, V. Eastwood, J. Montgomery, T. J. Wilson, and Geo. Cochrane, was appointed to bring in a recommendation at a meeting to be held on March the first.

FAVORS IMPERIAL GENERAL STAFF

Australian General Favors the Scheme---Canada Club in London.

London, Feb. 4.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—General Hoad of Australia, speaking at the Canada Club, said a better understanding and better results would follow the inauguration of an Imperial general staff.

The efforts of Britain in connection with the territorial force would be watched with greatest sympathy in Australia, where the citizens had accepted the responsibility of the country's defence.

Sir Gilbert Parker, president, referred to the visit of the imperial pressmen, each of whom was a minister of instruction, and the conference was bound to lead to a larger understanding and the bringing nearer of the goal of interdependence and co-operation in high ideals, tending for the good of civilization.

THIS AGENCY WAS A FAKE

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 4.—L. A. Horthy, wanted by the federal authorities upon the charge of operating a fake matrimonial agency, was found upon the streets here yesterday disguised as a Catholic priest. He was taken into custody. He will be held on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

It is alleged by the authorities that Horthy advertised for suitors for an orphan girl with a moderate fortune who desired to marry. He taxed the applying affinities $4 each and over 300 letters were found in his office when it was raided last Monday.

Horthy by a clever ruse escaped when first taken into custody on Monday.

PERHAPS THERE'S SOMETHING IN IT

Cold Weather Has Frequently Followed a Sunny Candlemas Day.

The saying that if the bear sees his shadow on February 2 six weeks cold weather will follow has proved partially or wholly true in several recent years.

Last year he saw his shadow and cold weather followed. In 1907 the day was cloudy and moderately cold weather came. In 1906 the day was sunny and weather a little less chilly than usual came. In 1905 a sunny day brought cold weather, but the same result came from a cloudy day in 1904. In 1902 and 1903 cloudy days brought weather less chilly than usual, and in 1901 a cloudy day was followed by coldness. In 1900 the day had a little sun and the succeeding weather was cold. In 1899 a sunny day brought cold weather, and in 1898 a little glimpse of Old Sol was followed by conditions less cold than usual.

NO BAIL FOR CONDUCTORS

Railroad Officials Are Indignant Over the Affair---May go Hard With Prisoners.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—Although their counsel offered all kinds of surety, bail was flatly refused the five men arrested Tuesday night charged with defrauding the Grand Trunk Railway, when they appeared in the Police Court yesterday.

T. C. Robinette, K.C., who is defending Conductor Corrigan and Jack Woods, was ready with an offer of $3,000 for the former, but Acting Crown Attorney Bell was insistent that no bail be taken. The five were remanded for a week, and taken to the jail.

It is anticipated that if the charges are proven against the two conductors it will go hard with them. Railway officials are highly indignant over the affair, and particularly so on account of the warning the conductors should have got a year and a half ago, when a wholesale dismissal of conductors was executed by both Grand Trunk and C.P.R.

It is hinted that the loss to the Grand Trunk in this one district through the alleged fraud will run into many thousands of dollars.

Conducor Corrigan, it is said, feels badly cut up, because of his parents and sisters, whom he supports. In the detective office he said he never intended to be dishonest.

The charge read against the prisoners in the Police Court yesterday was:

"That they did combine, conspire and agree to defraud the Grand Trunk Railway by allowing certain persons to travel and be carried on part of the said company's line without paying their fares."

The two Woods are cousins, and Joseph is Rosenbes' brother-in-law. Joseph's father is a court interpreter in Montreal, and on this account he had a good opportunity of becoming acquainted with foreigners wishing to travel.

PENGELLEY FOUND GUILTY

Of Chicken Stealing — Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence.

Mark Pengelley, who last week was charged with stealing chickens from Mrs. Margaret Hurd, and afterwards selling them to C. Q. Woo, the Chinese restaurant keeper, appeared before his Honor Judge Weller this morning this morning for trial, having been committed by Magistrate Dumble. Mr. G. M. Gordon appeared for the prisoner.

He was found guilty and his Honor allowed him to go on suspended sentence.

Roberto Benedetti, an Italian serving a two-year sentence for wounding, hanged himself in his cell at New Westminster.

BEWARE OF LA GRIPPE

At this season of the year La Grippe is more than usually busy and its victims are to be found everywhere. PSYCHINE, the greatest of tonics, should therefore be in every home.

The after effects of this terrible scourge are even worse than the malady itself, leaving the patient utterly prostrated and too often leading to consumption.

PSYCHINE strengthens the whole system and brings back health and vigor. Weakness cannot exist where this powerful remedy is taken.

Mr. G. D. Colwell, of Walkerville, Ont., was stricken down with La Grippe in 1906 and it left him in very bad condition. He says: "I was all run down and bordering on Consumption. I could not sleep at nights, had awful sweats, and coughed nearly the whole time. This is how I was when I began to take PSYCHINE, in a low nervous state, but from the first bottle I began to improve. It did marvels for me and brought me back to health in no time, making a new man of me.

It fortifies the body against the attacks of La Grippe and is a sure preventative. I always take PSYCHINE if I feel a cold coming on and it puts me right in no time."

TRY PSYCHINE FREE

This Coupon entitles you to a Free Trial of Psychine, the greatest of Tonics. Mail to Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.

A WONDERFUL TONIC!

PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

If you use Psychine regularly it will ward off La Grippe. Psychine tones the system and keeps the body in good physical condition. No one can afford to be without it. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. and $1.00. Prepared only by Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Slocum Bldg., Spadina Ave., Toronto.

THE FRENCH TARIFF

The promised French tariff has at last come into force. It is 20 per cent. higher than before and by just so much the more protective or prohibitory. And yet the French have risen to the proud pre-eminence of being positively the bankers of the whole world, the richest nation in it. Would it not be a nice and easy pastime for the Globe to show that the high, the very high tariff hitherto used by France and now increased, had ruined that fair country? More absurd things even than that have been tried by that journal.

THE ASIATIC QUESTION

The Asiatic question, albeit it is rising large upon the horizon of the twentieth century is no new problem. It represents indeed one of the oldest factors of the world's history.

The records of European civilisation begin with the half legendary siege of Troy, the first conflict of the two continents, while the wars of Rome and Carthage, the fight against the Saracens, the Moors and the conquering Turk, carry down the history of the ages the story of the struggle of Europe against the invasion of the races of the East.

For a time the inventions that have created the machine industry of today and converted war itself into a machine made product, elevated the European races to a position in which the territory of Asia seemed only a proper ground for their exploitation and their commerce, and the apprehensions of Asiatic conquest faded before the rising splendor of industrial democracy in the nineteenth century. But now Asia itself has taken over the arms and the industry of Europe and again that old time struggle for supremacy bids fair to be renewed.

We in the British Empire are interested in this problem in three distinct ways.

We are the owners of a vast Asiatic territory and among our citizens are three hundred million people of Asiatic blood.

We are owners also, in Australia, and in this Dominion of a vast unoccupied domain, a large part of which is specially suited by its climate its resources and its geographical situation to offer a place of settlement for the outward migration of the Asiatic people.

Finally we are interested in the fact that we are a Pacific power and as such specially interested in the commerce and the control of that great ocean whose future is intimately associated with the relations of Europe and of Asia.

So it comes that in all parts of the Empire, in all the outer domains, from Vancouver to Halifax, from Bulawayo to Cape Town and from Fremantle to Brisbane, the Asiatic question has become the most pressing question of the hour.

It is in Australia that it most vitally affects national life. The victory of Japan over Russia has profoundly altered the face of Australian politics. The northern territory of the Commonwealth, only four days by steamer from the continent of Asia, lying as yet unoccupied, fertile in its resources and great in its potentialities is thought to offer a standing temptation to the Empire of Japan, whose occupancy and exploitation of Formosa are depicted in Australia as a possible warning of what may happen elsewhere.

Thus the policy of exclusion, associated only a short time ago with the selfishness of the labor class and the self-seeking ambitions of the trade union demagogue, has been widely adopted among all classes in Australia and is now one of the settled bases of national policy.

As far back as fifty years ago the beginning of this policy has been laid. Within the first ten years of the opening of the Victoria gold fields, over 50,000 Chinese came into that province and then increasing numbers and the impossibility of competition with them as workers stirred the people of Victoria to adopt a code, not of absolute exclusion, but at any rate of severe restriction.

A similar influx into New South Wales, about a generation later, led to tumults and demonstrations in the streets of Sydney in which the veteran prime minister, Sir Henry Parker, breathed defiance itself.

So it has come about that with the consolidation of the commonwealth a policy of absolute and complete exclusion has been adopted. This is the white Australian policy. Its most ardent adherents are willing rather to have an empty and an undeveloped country than to pay the price of racial degeneration for the material gains of increasing progress.

"We believe," said a member of the Queensland parliament a few years ago "that this continent can be developed with white labor. But if this hope is false, then we say rather let it remain untilled till all eternity than saddle this continent with the presence of an alien and hostile people."

More conservative exponents of the White Australian policy urge that at any rate the policy of exclusion must be maintained as long as there is reasonable hope that Australia can be occupied and developed by a population entirely European in descent.

The existing federal immigration law of Australia absolutely excludes all Asiatics and among them the people of British India. This is not done explicitly. The wording of the law forbids the entrance to all persons who fail to write out a sentence of fifty words in a European language on the request of the immigration officer. In interpretation the selection of the language is left to the officer in charge who is thus able to exclude anybody and everybody by assigning Turkish, Polish or let us say Lithuanian as the language to be used. But the test is only put in practice with the Asiatic races.

Some ten years ago it was used to exclude a high Indian dignitary, the potentate of a native state, a person of such wealth and magnificence that even his teeth were filled with diamonds instead of gold. In spite of the fact that he came only as a visitor he was stopped at Fremantle and was informed that the Australian continent was no home for him. True he was presently admitted but not until the desired demonstration had taken effect.

Now it must be freely admitted that in some ways Australia is forced to pay a high price for this policy. Here is a case in point. It is urgently desired in Australia that a railroad shall be built from north to south, across the continent which by uniting Adelaide with Port Darwin shall shorten by many days the transit of mail to Europe.

Between the northern limit of the South Australian railways and the southern limit of the little railway at Port Darwin is a space of 1100 miles. For several years past the government of South Australia has held out a standing offer to any company that will build this line from Pine Creek to Oodnadatta, of 75,000,000 acres of lands with all rights pertaining thereto. But the charter is to carry the clause that all labor employed must be white labor and hence the offer remains without acceptance and there is no likelihood of its being taken up.

In Natal a contrary picture presents itself. Here is a colony that forty-five years ago scarcely contained a single Asiatic. For forty-five years it has pursued the policy of the open door. With a statute similar in form to the Australian it uses an interpretation which admits every Hindoo who presents himself and writes down fifty words of what the considers English. What is the result?

This colony of Natal nowadays is more Asiatic than Briton. The white people number 95,000, the Asiatics, nearly all British Indians, number 125,000. Every year the white population declines, every year the yellow and brown population is recruited by the incoming of fresh arrivals from India.

The traveller to Durban may well fancy himself in a city in the east. Asiatic trader, the Indian street peddler, the juggler, the snake charmer, the Hindoo merchant of the bazaar, these swarm about the streets of Durban while the Asiatic rickshaw drawn by a feathered Zulu replaces the European cab.

In the hotels brown men with noiseless slippered feet, white suit and crimson sashes move to and fro obsequious to every word. The first impression of the traveller is one of regal magnificence and a sense of Oriental ease.

But as one looks further into the situation the deeper meaning of it becomes apparent. This intrusion of the Asiatic masses means the driving out of the white man. The Hindoo has come into the factories of Durban; he has intruded into the quiet streets of Pietermaritzburg, now redolent with the smells of Asia. You cannot oust him. He is a tailor, a cobbler, a laundry man, a laborer. He can outwork, outlive and he can even, if he tries, outloaf the European. Even the tramp flees before his coming.

Now I know that there are some people who will be inclined to fall back upon the teachings of what they consider to be political economy and to say that if the Asiatic man can outwork and undersell the European laborer then it is to the common interest that he should do so.

This is the outcome of that distorted creed of mere cheapness, that foolish gospel of blind and brutal competition that would regard the workman as a mere tool of production, a driven part of the machine that must be geared high and speeded fast to match the pace of the roaring mechanism of modern industry; a creed that makes mere cheapness the test of efficiency and that exalts as the typical product of machine civilization, the man that can work longest, live upon the worst fare, rear his children in hopeless squalor and undermine in his fierce competitive struggles with his fellow-workers the basis of physical manhood and soundness of character upon which only our civilization can be built.

And yet in the face of this there are those among us who will measure all things with this miserable little yardstick of cheapness. They must have the Asiatic because he can work cheaply and well, because he can stand in a laundry unwearied and working still till midnight has gone by, or because he can shovel sand and gravel on a railroad bank, tireless and impassive long after the white laborer has cast aside the implements of his forced drudgery clamoring for some share, before the day is done, of those things for which God made the world.

It is upon this point, this aspect of the labor market and of material development, that the Asiatic question comes upon us in the colonies in its most insidious form. It tempts us where we are most weak.

The prospect of cheap Asiatic labor falls in with that mad passion for rapid material development; that eagerness for prosperity at any price, for wealth, luxury and material gain even at the expense of private integrity or public honor, which is running like a poison through the veins of the people of Canada. Must we move so fast? Must we move so quickly? Must we become so rich?

These forests of ours that have stood for ages in the silent north, must they resound now to the mad shout of incoming workers? Can they not stay a little longer in their silence till we have trained ourselves into a form of national character and national honesty consistent with the splendor of our national heritage?

Or shall we draw upon the black and yellow races of the world, pour into the valleys of Columbia and the grass plains of Australia the litter of Asiatic civilization, pile high our dollars and revel in the new luxury of our cities and leave to those who follow a polluted civilization and an heritage broken and divided?

CAN'T BATTLE AGAINST HIM.

Gentlemen, you cannot work against the Asiatic. His life is not ours; his code of life and the outlook of his mind are different from that of our working people. He is a dull, untiring industry of the man crushed in the mould of the ages. If blind competition is everything, if the surviving races are to be those who disregard all things save the brute endurance of work, then the people of western civilization would be destined to go down before the oncoming of the millions of Asia.

We are sometimes told, gentlemen, that we need the Asiatic in the west because without him we can find no servants for our homes, no menials to perform the social drudgery that the brute pressure of circumstances long has enabled society to exact. This argument I will not entertain. Its force, I say, tells in the direction contrary from that intended by those who formulate it.

THE REAL CARE.

If it is true that in our west we have reached a stage of civilization when our young men and girls are so well situated that they will not accept the lives of servants, on the conditions that now obtain—if this is true, then, indeed, it is at last a sign that some of the accumulated wealth and progress of society is beginning to insure to the benefit of its humblest toilers. If this be so, then elevate and exalt the conditions of your servants, lighten their hours, humanise their toil, restore to them the dignity of their task, but do not seek to force them back again to the hard and painful conditions from which they are emerging by turning loose against them the relentless competition of a lower race.

MUST BE SETTLED IN COLONIES

Gentlemen, it is in the colonies that this great question must be settled. It is not here that we can invoke the aid or experience of the people of the Mother Land. Of this problem they know nothing. Those in Britain are still able to entertain, if they will, the senseless creeds that all men are free and equal, to parade a cosmopolitan brotherhood of man and to glory in a supposed liberality of mind which is the hallmark of nothing but ignorance and inexperience.

To them a black man or a yellow man may well be an object of an interested and benevolent curiosity, he may well be petted as a social lion, or encouraged as a living proof of the liberality of the London intellect.

NOT BROUGHT HOME TO BRITAIN

To them the Asiatic question is a thing afar. They cannot judge it rightly. But if they could see the people of China, settling upon the hopfields of Kent or the farms of the Lothians, driving out the operatives from the mills of Lancashire or the foundries of Birmingham, they would learn then some of the elemental truths of racial difference learned in the plain light of experience by the people of the outer Empire.

I say this in no spirit of malevolence to those in Great Britain, who do not see this question as I do. All that I claim is that it is a question the right of decision in which lies and ought to lie with the people of the colonies.

I am an Imperialist, and one who is not afraid of the word. But I should hold it a poor kind of imperialism that would sacrifice the true development of the greater colonies to any false idea of the obligations of British citizenship.

We are told that the Hindoo is a citizen of the Empire. I am glad that he is. I hope that he may remain so. But if in that word were implied that he must enter upon the full enjoyments of the privileges of the races which have made modern civilization, that he must have an unrestricted right of entry into all parts of the Empire, at all stages of their development, then I say that such a conception of Empire is a worthless and sterile fiction.—Leacock.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Watch the Globe write from day to day with joy of the Laurier Government's retrenchment. Fancy calling an excess of expenditure over revenue of some twenty millions a retrenchment.

Religious statistics show about fifteen millions each of Catholic and Protestant communicants in the United States. The balance, some fifty millions, are largely heathen.

At a bonspiel not a thousand miles from Peterborough, a player allowed another player deliberately, as it was quite apparent, to make a mistake in assuming that a stone he was about to have raised was his own. The raising was successful, but to the great loss of the mistaken ones. This is equivalent to watching an opponent play with the wrong ball at billiards and claiming the forfeit. Neither is "sport" it is quite needless to say.

Fire at Westaskiwin destroyed Perkins & Vandusen's livery and the Alberta Opera House. Loss $20 000.

Fire destroyed the Halifax Fish Company's factory at Dartmouth last night. Loss, $15,0000; insurance, $11,000.

Policeman Saves a Life.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 4.—Alexander Ray of this city had a narrow escape from suffocation by gas fumes on Tuesday night.

Ray is caretaker for Mr. Rowland, and police had been instructed to keep a watch on the house. Officer Dart on his round was trying the doors and looking through the window saw Ray leaning over a stove, which had the lid off. Dart broke into the house and found the man unconscious from the combined effects of whisky and gas fumes.

Rockefeller Generous, If——

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—President Thomas of Bryn Mawr College announced yesterday that the general education board having charge of the John D. Rockefeller foundation for higher education had agreed to contribute $250,000 toward an endowment fund for the college, providing that $380,000 is contributed from other sources before June 2, 1910. The alumnae of the college have raised $100,000 of this amount after about five years' work.

Ship Carries 5,000 Bodies.

New York, Feb. 4.—Five thousand Chinese corpses, bound for their final resting places in the flowery kingdom, will leave Brooklyn next Wednesday on the steamer Shimosa.

The bodies of the dead celestials were disinterred from burying grounds all over the United States and placed in sealed caskets which in turn were enclosed in pine boxes, each labelled with the name and history of its silent occupant and stored between decks on the ship.

To Sell Liquor on Sunday.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—The Licensed Victualers' Association is holding a meeting this week to discuss three requests they are to make to the Provincial Government.

They are: To legalize Sunday selling of liquor as in England, the saloons being closed during church service hours; opening at 7 a.m. instead of 6 a.m., and keeping open till 1 a.m., instead of midnight as at present.

Storm Ties Up Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Feb. 4.—The first through train since Saturday to arrive over the main line from Edmonton will reach the city to-day. Since Saturday a local has been running daily from Humboldt to Winnipeg. The district most affected by the severe storm is in the vicinity of Bonda, a small station east of Warman, where an exceptionally severe blizzard made it utterly impossible for trains to be operated. The track will be in first-class condition to-day.

Gas Overcomes Firemen.

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 4.—New York's $25,000,000 capitol was slightly damaged and a dozen firemen were overcome with gas as a result of a fire which broke out late yesterday in a storeroom in the basement of the building. Although the gas in the building was quickly shut off, the heat melted a four-inch gas pipe and the firemen entering the basement to fight the fire were overcome. All are expected to recover. The damage was slight.

School Panic at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 4.—Fearful that an earthquake was about to occur 600 Italian children at Our Lady of Mount Carmel school were thrown into a state of great excitement at 10 o'clock yesterday, but through the strict observance of the fire drill no one was injured. The skies darkened with the fall of snow, a little girl shrieked, and a panic almost resulted.

The report was circulated that the school was on fire, and hundreds of frantic fathers and mothers rushed to the school to get their little ones.

Engineer's Watch an Hour Out.

Spartanburg, S.C., Feb. 4.—Three men were killed and several injured in a collision between two freight trains on the seaboard air line railroad near Greenwood yesterday. The collision is alleged to have been caused by the engineer on the extra setting his watch one hour wrong. The engineer who made the mistake and his fireman jumped and saved their lives.

Governor's Veto Doesn't Count.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 4.—Governor Patterson yesterday sent to the State Senate a message vetoing the bill prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicants in Tennessee after Jan. 1, 1910, and the Senate immediately passed the bill over the governor's veto by a vote of 20 to 12.

The governor's veto message will reach the House to-day.

Another 'Quake at Montreal.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—An earth tremor similar to the ones of Sunday night which most people put down to an earthquake, but which were not registered by seismographs occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

There is again no record at McGill or Ottawa, and the professors at McGill are at a loss to explain the phenomenon.

Tilbury's Cheap 'Phones.

Tilbury, Feb. 4.—The Tilbury Council have granted a franchise to the Tilbury Telephone Co., Limited, to use the streets for twenty years, the maximum price of phones on this rural line not to exceed $12 per year. Tilbury will ask the Legislature for incorporation as a town.

Takes Wife and Cash.

Brantford, Feb. 4.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Walter Williams, who is said to have eloped with the wife of John Curley, a storekeeper in Tuscorara Township.

Williams, it is said, carried the cash box and considerable goods with him when he left.

Runaway Jeweler Sentenced.

Galt, Feb. 4.—Hedrich, the jeweler, who recently made an assignment and then left for Toronto, taking with him several hundred dollars' worth of his stock and watches and jewelry left with him for repair, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment. He pleaded guilty.

A Linotype Deal.

London, Feb. 4.—The scheme for the absorption of the Linotype and Machinery Co., London, by the Mergenthaler Co. has received the assent of a requisite proportion, viz., 75 per cent. of the shareholders.

Four Months For Stealing Fowl.

Kingston, Feb. 4.—James McIlroy was convicted yesterday of stealing fowl and was given four months in the Central Prison. His wife and mother were in court and broke into tears when the sentence was imposed.

Banquet For R. L. Borden.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The Conservative members of the Senate and the House of Commons will tender a banquet on March 3 to R. L. Borden.

Authoritative denial is given to the report emanating from Montreal that Mr. Borden was likely to again tender his resignation as leader. He has the confidence and respect of the members and will continue at least until the proposed national party convention is called.

Wills Business to Employe.

Boston, Feb. 4.—Twenty-five years of service given by Miss Mary E. Holmes of Medford to the late Amos B. Hall, a Boston real estate broker, have been rewarded by the gift of his business to his employe. Miss Holmes had been his stenographer and private secretary. It is understood that Mr. Hall's widow was acquainted with his purpose and sympathised with it.

Railways and Electricity.

New York, Feb. 4.—The Harriman lines are investigating water powers for the electrification of the Montana and Washington railways and on the Atchison lines.

The Pennsylvania and Canadian Pacific and other roads are also to develope the use of electricity as a motive power.

Loses Arm In Chopping Box.

Cayuga, Ont., Feb. 4.—Louis Effinger, who lives near Selkirk, Ont., while operating a power-cutting box, got his hand caught in the rollers and had his arm cut off by the knives midway between the wrist and elbow.

FROM AWAY OUT ON THE PRAIRIES

Comes Proof of Another Wonderful Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mark Southern Tells How They Raised Him From a Bed of Sickness, Cured His Kidney Disease and Made Him a Well Man.

Skipton, Duck Lake, Sask, February 3—Special— After thirteen years suffering from Kidney Disease brought on by accident Mark Southern, of Healaker Farm near here, is a well-man and he is not slow to state that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"It began with pains in my back," Mr Southern says, "and across my loins, and of late years I became very weak and for days I had to keep to my bed. I had all kinds of advice and tried a great many medicines, but all to no purpose.

"Reading an advertisement induced me to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial and I wrote for six boxes. After taking the first box, I began to feel relief, and after using five boxes I felt quite well again. I am now able to get about my work and feel no effects whatever from the old complaint."

Dodd's Kidney Pills clean all Kidney Diseases and all diseases resulting from disordered Kidneys right out of the system. That's how they cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism, and Backache. They do it by putting the Kidneys in good working order and they always do it.

New Navy For Spain.

Madrid, Feb. 4.—The Cabinet has decided to accept the tender of Vickers, Sons & Maxim, the English shipbuilders, for the construction of the new Spanish squadron, on condition that the firm consents to certain modifications. The amount of the contract is $40,000,000.

Route to Gowganda.

North Bay, Feb. 4.—Two C.P.R. survey parties leave Thursday morning, one from Sturgeon Falls and one from Warren, to survey the Sturgeon river valley route to Gowganda for the proposed extension which will connect with Toronto-Sudbury line near Bying Inlet.

Greek Coins on Sale.

London, Feb. 4.—The sale of a fine collection of Greek coins formed by the late F. S. Benson of Brooklyn, N.Y., commenced at Sotheby's yesterday. Some notable prices were obtained, single specimens of small silver pieces bringing from $250 to $350.

Farmer Takes Poison.

Brockville, Feb. 4.—A report has reached here of an attempted suicide on the part of Frank White, a wealthy Oxford Township farmer. Shortly after taking a dose of paris green his act was discovered. He may recover.

WAS AT HOME TO HIS FRIENDS

Councillor Morrow of North Monaghan Gave Delightful Party and Dance.

One of the most enjoyable and successful social functions of the season in Monaghan was held at the home of Councillor James Morrow, North Monaghan, last night, when he gave a party to his friends in the township and vicinity. About ninety were in attendance and a delightful time was spent.

Games and dancing were features of the evening's pleasure, excellent music for the latter being supplied by the musicians in attendance. It was in the late hours of the morning when the merry makers dispersed.

All present wished Mr. Morrow a successful year in the Council and expressed the hope that he would be re-elected at the next municipal election.

W. F. Maclean (South York) observed that there were a good many committees now and they had a good deal to do, and he thought the time was opportune to consider if some of the work could not be put on the Senate. He believed the Senate ought to be reorganized to take up such matters as the fisheries, and the conservation of natural resources.

J. B. Crosby (Halifax) endorsed the idea and was followed by A. K. McLean (Lunenburg), who stated that such questions as the modus vivendi, giving United States fishermen privileges in Canadian waters, the coasting trade privileges granted to Norwegian vessels and the decline of the shipping industry might properly be referred to the new committee.

Mr. Brodeur announced that the Government accepted with pleasure the suggestion contained in the resolution and it was adopted by the House.

W. B. Northrup introduced a bill to empower the Railway Commission to compel a railway company which absorbs another to carry out its contracts with municipalities.

In the question hour Mr. Lancaster ascertained from Mr. Graham that the number of men employed on the Welland Canal was swelled to 416 in September and 611 in October. The men were taken out on the recommendation of the engineer in charge of the work.

Mr. Jamieson (Digby) enquired if it was the intention of the Government to spend the money voted last session for wharves in his constituency. Digby has since gone Conservative, Mr. Pugsley answered that it is not the intention to proceed with the wharves.

Mr. Graham informed Mr. Lennox that negotiations are in progress with the Vancouver Drydock and Shipbuilding Co. for the construction of a dry dock under the act of last session.

Mr. Armstrong learned from the Minister of Customs that the exports of agricultural products to Germany from Canada in 1908 totalled $551,920.

Dr. Sproule directed Mr. Graham's attention to the alleged fact that in a recent railway wreck on the Pennsylvania road where both engines and wooden cars were crushed into a mass of ruins, a steel Pullman car immediately behind the engine escaped without a scratch. What did the Minister propose to do towards introducing steel cars on the I.C.R.?

Mr. Graham pointed out that the cost of changing from wooden to steel cars would preclude the reform for some years to come.

"THE NIGGER IN THE WOOD-PILE"

Thousands of people go through life feeling more or less miserable without ever knowing the reason. They suffer from headaches, indigestion, pains in the back, and at the slightest chill get rheumatism or neuralgia.

They try to cure these separate outbreaks, never suspecting that the root of the whole trouble is the failure of the bowels to move regularly, and in many cases the sluggish action of kidneys and skin. The result, of course, is that the whole system gets clogged with impurities, which soon turn to poison, and show their presence in various ways.

"Fruit-a-tives"—or fruit juice tablets—promptly stir up the sluggish liver, regulate the bowels, and stimulate the kidneys and skin to do their work properly. Thus they cure all these troubles by removing the cause, and make it possible to really enjoy life. 50c a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

WILL LIKELY GET THE CONVENTION

There is every probability of the Master Painters holding their convention here next year, although no arrangements of a definite character have yet been made. The Association met in Hamilton on January 25th, and a local representative was in attendance and preached the subject of holding the convention here, and it was favorably received. The painters are meeting again in Toronto on the 18th of this month when a representative will interview them again on the same subject.

BUSINESS BOYS HAD SLEIGH RIDE

And Afterwards Had a Supper at the Y.M.C.A.—An Enjoyable Time.

The Business Boys of the Y.M.C.A. had a sleigh ride last night. A large number were in attendance and spent a very enjoyable time. After riding around the city for two hours the boys returned tot he Y.M.C.A. and sat down to a supper. After supper a programme of speeches and recitations was much enjoyed.

Mr. Waring favored the boys with a number of humorous recitations, which were very much enjoyed.

Mr. Geo. Hogan gave a stump speech on "Girls." It was extremely sentimental.

Mr. Evans told a very thrilling story of camp life.

Dr. Middleton was bubbling over with wit and humor and occasionally the boys saw the joke.

The function was brought to a close with the singing of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and God Save the King.

CANADA LIFE ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. C. E. Barnett Becomes District Agent for Central Ontario With Headquarters Here.

An important change made during the past month in the Canada Life office was the promotion of Mr. C. E. Barnett, who has been for some time cashier of the Detroit office, and latterly Inspector of Agencies for that district, to the position of District Agent for Central Ontario District, with headquarters at Peterborough. This opening has occurred through the removal of Mr. S. E. Salls from Peterborough to Toronto. Mr. Barnett received his early training in the Toronto office and the tribute of his former manager is that he is one of the most progressive young men in the Company's employ. He has gained considerable reputation as a producer of business, and his training particularly fits him for his new position, where he will have in his charge an important district comprising the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Hastings, Lennox and Addington, with the responsibility for several capable representatives of the Company who have been devoting some time to its business and who will in future under the new arrangements, pay particular attention to the field which Mr. Barnett has under his management.

The Davis-Thompson Co., Limited, have assumed the Peterborough agency and necessary alterations are being made in their office at No. 432 George street to accommodate the business. A very vigorous campaign is being planned to keep the Canada Life before the insuring public, and the District Agent, as well as the local agents will give the best attention and most courteous consideration to all intrerested in the Canada Life or wishing to do business with the Company.

DANCED WITH KING EDWARD

Death of an Ottawa Lady Who Was Present at Opening of Cobourg Town Hall in 1860.

Ottawa, Feb 3—There passed away in the city yesterday a venerable lady, Mrs. George Taylor, who had the honor of dancing with King Edward VII when, as Prince of Wales, he visited Canada in 1860.

Her maiden name was Mary Boswell, daughter of the late Judge G. M. Boswell, of Cobourg, and the ball at which she danced with the Prince marked the opening of the Cobourg town hall. It was an important event in Mrs. Taylor's life, for it was her first ball and the one at which she took her position as a young girl in the social world. The royal visitor was at the time accompanied by the Duke of Newcastle and General Bruce.

The late Mrs Taylor, who was the wife of Mr Taylor, I.S.O. clerk of the English Journals of the House of Commons, was ailing for some time. Her illness was not considered serious, however, until about two weeks ago, when she was forced to take to her bed. The end came at her late residence, Ottawa Chambers, Metcalfe St. She was 66 years of age.

Reform Suggested

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Now that things are taking a turn for the better and the old order is passing away for, we may hope, a glorious resurrection of our better, saner and cleaner selves and conscience (popular or public) is being roused by its law judges to a sense of its responsibility, would it not be a truly Christian idea for us to give up doing things in the name of, and for the service of the great Creator of the universe such as pie socials, &c. I believe in socials to get the people together, for joy is part of our life. We must know each other to love each other and help each other, but let the meetings for Christian work be no more held under the name of a Valentine or a bunfeed. It is this kind of thing that has brought us down into the low mire where we are. We are no longer babies because we are Christians. Let us rise to the glorious fullness of our heritage.

Though I am not fond of going to lectures or concerts or socials, I believe in them. But do not make them part of our worship of God,

Yours,
ONE OF THE LEAST.

SECOND ANNUAL FEBRUARY
"Mark Down" Sale

COMMENCING February 5th (Friday), the Smallwares Dept. will give forth scores of the biggest values that you'd expect to find anywhere. Values that are only found where an object such as we have in view is the incentive, viz. the bringing of February to a standard with other months of the year, in the turnover of merchandise. We realize that to do this we must offer the public New Spring Goods at such low prices, that to purchase early is a consideration worth while. Every Dept. is represented in this sale every day during the month, but each has five days of publicity—Watch the advertisements—Watch the windows.

THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HELD "AT HOME"

Enjoyable Social Function Last Evening in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe St.

The Knights of Columbus were at home to a large number of their friends in the Foresters' hall, Simcoe street last night. One of the most enjoyable social functions of the season was held, it being the annual event of its kind under the auspices of this order.

The early part of the evening was spent in progressive euchre. Mr. T. B. McGrath won the gentleman's prize, it being a handsome tobacco jar. Miss J. O'Brien was the successful contestant among the ladies. She on a pretty chatelaine bag.

At midnight, dainty refreshments were served, the catering being done by Coleman Bros. After luncheon, dancing was enjoyed, excellent music being provided by the Grand Opera House Orchestra.

The committee in charge of the arrangements of which Dr. McNulty was chairman and Mr. J. Foley, secretary, are deserving of great credit for the success of the affair.

CONCERT AT COLLEGIATE

Will be Given Tuesday Evening in the Assembly Hall

On Tuesday night an entertainment will be given under the auspices of the athletic societies of the boys and girls of the Collegiate Institute in the assembly hall of the Collegiate.

At attractive programme will be given and the talent contributing will be the pupils of the Collegiate.

THRONGED WITH HER ADMIRERS.

The Toronto Globe in a recent issue says;—"Fashionable Toronto turned out in goodly numbers to welcome Miss Hope Morgan on the occasion of her first appearance since her return from England when the capacity of of the Conservatory Music Hall was tired to its utmost. Miss Morgan has won many triumphs abroad when the largest halls in England and Europe have been thronged with her admirers but it is doubtful if any of her audiences were more spontaneously appreciative than were those who gathered to welcome her in the lyric-dramatic programme presented."

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST LETTER CARRIER

arrival Mitchell came in. Witness took him into a room and charged him with the theft of the letters mentioning the addresses. He denied having seen either of them. The policeman searched him and he was demanded to produce the bag. He found upon him some money and several letters but not the two in question. In the post bag were a number of letters undelivered. Among them were the two decoy letters, opened and the money gone. Other envelopes were found in similar condition.

POSTMASTER ROGERS

Col. H. C. Rogers, local Postmaster said that he was present when the money was enclosed and when the letters were sealed. He had numbers corresponding with the ones given by Mr Merrick.

Col Rogers placed the letters in Mitchell's compartment for delivery. He saw Mitchell get the letters and start out. Mr Rogers said that he then immediately went to Mrs Head's house and to Mrs Martin's and told them that they would probably get letters and to hold them till he came for them. Col Rogers waited in Mrs. Martin's house and saw the prisoner go by. Mitchell called at several places nearby but he did not call at either Martin's or Head's residences. He then returned to Chief Russel's office. Col Rogers identified the prisoner.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Mr. F. D. Kerr argued that there was no evidence that the letters had been posted. They were not post letters. He did not think that they were the property of the Postmaster General.

Magistrate Dumble said that the letters had been put in the office for delivery. He committed the prisoner for trial.

A HUGE VARIETY OF VALENTINES NOW ON SALE AT
F. C. CUBITT, 370 GEORGE ST., PETERBOROUGH

The Blue Ribbon White Event

Of all the white sales that we have ever held, this will prove the best. Dainty undergarments, fabrics, linens, domestics, laces, embroideries, and wear-things, all in white—snowy billows of them—tables and counters piled high and overflowing with them—and every component the finest looms and the most expert needleworkers find it possible to produce.

THIS WHOLE STORE IS A VISION OF SNOWY LOVLINESS

And how advantageously we bought—how painstakingly we prepared for this great annual event is reflected in the unusual low prices which you will obtain on these charming garments, sheer fabrics and delightful wear-things. The spirit of economy overshadows even the splendid qualities and almost endless varieties—the bargains are doubly magnetic by reason of their timeliness.

It's to be an event that will long be remembered by prudent housewives and thrifty shoppers—the greatest White Sale of all—THE BLUE RIBBON WHITE EVENT.

THE GREAT WHITE SALE BEGINS ON THURSDAY

COME EARLY IN THE DAY
Be among the first to revel in this Carnival of White—come early—in advance of the great rush which will later in the day respond to this announcement. Make your selection from complete assortment, before they are disturbed.

PROMPT SHOPPERS WILL PROFIT
The fact that many of the choicest values will go first must not be overlooked when planning to attend this sale. Be prompt and thus be sure of obtaining the BEST BARGAINS, while varieties are yet intact.

INSPECTOR OF CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY IN THE CITY

Mr. S. M. Thomson of Brantford, Speaks Highly of Work of Peterborough Society—What the Children's Aid Society Does.

Mr. S. M. Thomson, of Brantford, provincial inspector and visitor of the Children's Aid Society was in the city yesterday and called upon the officers of the local society and was also shown over the shelter by Mr George Cochrane. To the Review he expressed himself as highly satisfied with the work being done in this city. The Peterborough society, he said, was regarded as one of the best in the province.

Mr. Thomson has gone to Perth and Smith's Falls and from these places will go to several towns in the northern part of the province. He will likely return to Peterborough in the near future to give an illustrated address on the work of the Children's Aid Society. Mr Thomson is said to deal with this subject in a most interesting manner.

In connection with the visit of Mr. Thomson it will not be out of place to show in a few paragraphs what the Children's Aid Society does;

Receives neglected and homeless children.

Temporarily cares for children in need.

Investigates all complaints of ill-treatment.

Places homeless children in family homes.

Selects these homes after careful enquiry.

Makes many homes happy.

Supervises children by visits of agent.

Receives back children when necessary.

Co-operates with philanthropic societies.

Is maintained by freewill offering.

By timely invention saves much misery.

Greatly reduces crime and vagabondage.

Is supported by good people.

Are you among the number?

What you can do—

Report neglected children.

Adopt a friendless child.

Help the cause financially.

SORE THROAT, COLDS ON THE CHEST, & CATARRH.

Wherever there is soreness, irritation, inflammation, Zam-Buk will give you ease. In cases of sore throat it is without equal. Place a layer of Zam-Buk on the sides of the throat as near the seat of pain as possible, and then gently rub it well in. Don't press too hard, but rub with a circular motion of the fingers. The healing essences will sink into the tissues, become absorbed, and then commences at once a soothing, healing process. Next spread on a piece of undyed flannel another layer of Zam-Buk and wrap this round the throat, taking care that while it 'sits' well on the neck it is not too tight.

Mothers who do this as soon as the children complain of sore throat will be amply repaid for their trouble. The little ones get ease very speedily, and generally when this treatment is followed at night, by next morning the sore throat is pretty nearly cured. In stubborn cases two or three applications of Zam-Buk should be made.

In cases of colds on the chest, "tightness," and difficulty of breathing, rub Zam-Buk well into the skin of the chest.

For Catarrh also, Zam-Buk is a perfect cure, as the following cases illustrate. Every home should have its box of Zam-Buk always handy for there is nothing like it for the diseases of and injuries to the skin and subjectal tissue.

ZAM-BUK IS A SURE CURE FOR CATARRH.

The following are but a few out of thousands of similar statements made by grateful patients who have tested the merits of Zam-Buk in cases of catarrh, colds on the chest, etc.

Mrs. B. Gorie, 76, Berkeley St., Toronto, writes:—"I cannot speak too highly of Zam-Buk. I have used it for some time and find it an excellent remedy for colds in the throat, chest, and rheumatism in the limbs. A few weeks ago I was suffering from a bad cold, which had settled in my throat, chest, and limbs. I tried all kinds of remedies, new and old, but yet found very little relief until I used Zam-Buk. On rubbing some well into my throat and chest I found such ease and relief from the tightness and soreness that I determined to use only Zam-Buk. I also rubbed this balm on my limbs whenever I felt the rheumatic pains to which I was subject. In 3 days from the time I first began applying Zam-Buk I was free from the cold in throat and chest, and afterwards the rheumatism was driven by it from my limbs. I have the greatest faith in Zam-Buk and will always use it to prevent colds getting deep-seated."

Miss Ruth V. Carr, of Grantley (Ont.), says:—"Recently I had a sore on the inside of my nostril and at the same time was suffering with catarrh. I put some Zam-Buk inside my nose to cure the sore, and was surprised how the exhilarating healing essences gave me ease from the catarrh."

Voices from many Homes.

Here are a few expressions from homes in various parts of the dominion showing how universal is the adoption of Zam-Buk, and how wide its uses. Keep a box always handy!

"My hand was crushed by a heavy mould falling on to it, and for some days I could not use it. We bandaged it in Zam-Buk, which reduced the swelling and healed the serious wounds." So says Mr Wm. Burdett, of 198, Simcoe Street, Hamilton (Ont.)

Mr. E. Jasper, of Hartney (Man), says: "I had some very troublesome cold-sores, which defied all ordinary treatment. Zam-Buk heal'ed them."

Mrs. Plastow, of High River (Alta.), says:—"Zam-Buk healed my hands which were frost-bitten and covered with cold-cracks." Similar testimony is borne by Mr. A. Redmond, of Kimberley (B.C.)

Mr. J. Parkinson, of East Clifton (Que.), says:—"I had an ulcerated leg for six years. All the remedies I tried during that period proved unable to heal the sore, but I am delighted to say that Zam-Buk proved successful."

Mr. Alf Hy. Orth, of Shipley (Ont.), ran a rusty nail into his finger. Blood poisoning ensued, and he had a frightfully bad hand. "I was told nothing would do me good but Zam-Buk," he said. "So I tried this balm. The advice was sound enough, and in a week my hand was quite cured. I think Zam-Buk a really wonderful healer."

DID YOU KNOW THIS?

That Zam-Buk is now used as the leading family balm throughout four continents, and that the majority of the population of the globe use it, and prefer it! Surely, to gain this eminence, it must have unusual merit! That unusual excellence lies in the fact that it is nothing more nor less than Nature's own healer. Compounded as it is of pure herbal extracts and juices, it may be said to be independent of human knowledge. The human element in Zam-Buk is merely the putting together of the component parts. Nature merely provides the curative properties. The proprietors of Zam-Buk merely hand them out in concentrated handy form. In using Zam-Buk, therefore, you are "going back to mother Nature"—the kindest, wisest, and the only "never-failing nurse" in creation.

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES.

Zam-Buk is a certain cure for piles, festering sores, blood poisoning, cuts, burns, bruises, ulcers, scalds, chapped hands, cold cracks, eczema, scalp sores, ringworm, bad leg, and all skin injuries and diseases. Rubbed well into the parts affected it cures neuralgia, rheumatism, and sciatica. All druggists and stores sell it, 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

SPORTING NEWS

HURTUBISE IN GOOD SHAPE; KAISER A FINE WRESTLER

Gene Hurtubise will be in fine trim for his bout with Kaiser and expects to put it over the celebrated American middleweight. It should be borne in mind that when the Peterborough heavyweight tackled Kaiser in Hamilton he was weak and generally incapacitated by boils. Now, however, he is in good shape and is anxious for a chance to redeem himself.

Kaiser has lots of confidence and going on his showing in Hamilton expects to pin the local grappler twice in an hour as conditions call for.

He is a beautiful wrestler and it is a delight to the mat game connoisseur to see him work. No matter which way the bout goes it will be a most interesting struggle.

The preliminaries are being arranged and they will be an attractive bill. A definite date is being decided upon.

WHAT THE LINDSAY PAPERS ARE SAYING OF THE GAME

The Lindsay Midgets on Friday evening next will meet the fast Peterborough seven in Peterborough for the district championship and for the large crowds which will follow the team, the managers have arranged with the Grand Trunk railway to pull out a special from the local depot, leaving at seven o'clock sharp. Fare $1.00. return. The special will again leave Peterborough after the game at 11 o'clock sharp. A large crowd should be in attendance at the game to assist the blue and white socks of the old Lindsay burg to put the finishing touches on the blue and white of Peterborough.

The game, above all doubts will be fast and exciting and will be clean hockey if the Midgets know what they are doing.

If the Peterborough seven play hockey and not shinny, the locals will give them a chase on their own ice.

The Midgets have had successful practices and all that is needed now is a sure 'cem' which counts in clean hockey.

The team will be composed of the old line-up:

Lindsay nee dlook for little assistance from Cobourg to win the district, taking the game in Peterborough last night as a criterion. Cobourg was defeated 13-1.

The Midgets will have to do the necessary themselves and if anybody can do it they can. Peterborough has a good team. This is admitted in Lindsay and admitted cheerfully. The "Petes are not as fast as the Peterborough papers, in chronic spasms of delight would lead one to believe—hardly.

A special train will carry a crowd to the neighboring city on Friday night when the teams meet for the second time. The fare is $1 return, and the special should be loaded.

Probably the fastest and most exciting game ever played on Peterborough ice will be played on Friday night when the local Midgets will clash with the Peterborough seven for the district honors. The Midgets are practicing hard for the struggle and will be in the pink of condition when they step on the ice. If the ice is in good condition the Midgets will show the Quaker City a thing or two. A special train will be run from town and a big crowd is expected to take in the game. If the Midgets win they will have the district won without a loss. The fare for the trip will be one dollar—Post.

Premier McBride says that the British Columbia Government must soon deal with the question of local option.

The Citizens' Band at Parry Sound greeted the first Canadian Northern vestibuled train from Toronto to Gowganda.

LAKEFIELD AND STRATHS. TO-NIGHT IN BEST CITY LEAGUE GAME OF SEASON

The climax of the City League season will be reached to-night, when Strathconas and Lakefield play at the Brock street rink. The importance of the game and the interest attached to it is due to the fact that on the result the championship of the league practically hinges. The match will no doubt attract the biggest crowd of the season, as both teams have a large following and Lakefield will bring a large crowd of fans with them.

On paper the Straths look good to win but Lakefield has a clever and well balanced seven, and it will be a pretty exhibition from the first sound of the bell. The game starts at eight o'clock, and W. Rose, of the Peterboroughs will referee.

Gordon Nicholls formerly of the Charlotte street seven may play for Lakefield, but the line-up of the teams are given as;—

STRATHCONAS—

Goal—Wilson.
Point—Smith.
Cover—Dusty.
Rover—Dobson.
Centre—Long.
Right—Seymour.
Left—McMillan.

LAKEFIELD—

Goal—W. Croft.
Point—M. Sabatini.
Cover—Quinn.
Rover—Simpson.
Centre—T. Sabatini.
Right—Moran.
Left—Quigley.

Belmonts and West Ends will play their scheduled game at the conclusion of the Strath-Lakefield match.

THE CRICKET CLUB'S OFFICERS ANNUAL MEETING LAST NIGHT

The Peterborough Cricket Club has a small balance on the right side of the ledger which is very satisfactory in view of the fact that no admission is charged to games and on account of considerable expense incidental to the cricket season. A lot of material is also on hand and with the enthusiasm which was aroused last year a most successful season is looked for. There was a good attendnace at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club at the YMCA last night when the reports for the season were presented and the election of offivers for the coming year took place.

In the absence of the president, Mr Cyril Hill occupied the chair. An enthusiastic discussion of the season's prospects was held and the election of officers was held resulting as follows:

Hon-Pres—Dr Burnham.
Hon. Vice-Pres—Mr T F Matthews.
Patrons and Patronesses—Mr and Mrs J R Stratton; Mr and Mrs A P Poussette; Mr and Mrs R R Hall; Mr and Mrs T F Matthews; Mr and Mrs Montizambert; Mr and Mrs T W H Young; Mr T E Bradburn, M.P.P.
Pres—Mr Cyril Hill.
Vice-Pres—Mr Dela Fosse.
Sec-Treas—Mr A C B Poussette.

The executive committee and captain will be chosen later.

THE HAMS SPRUNG SURPRISE; TOOK TWO FROM BELMONTS

Another double header was played in the ten pin league series at the P.B.C. yesterday and only a couple of games now remain in the first round. The second series will start on Monday next.

The Hams sprung a decided surprise in their game with the Belmonts taking two from Billy Wareham's trio. The first game was decided by two pins, but the victory was a decisive one in the second game. The third string easily went to the Belmonts when Wareham came to the front with one of his big scores.

The Iroquois and Midgets hooked up in a postponed game and the Indians had all the better of the play, taking two of the three games. Billy Stroud was high man for the winners, while Giroux led the losers.

The scores follow;

IROQUOIS
Adams	187	155	153—495

HAPPY THOUGHTS WILL PLAY THEM

In reference to the challenge to the Happy Thought bowling team which appeared in these columns a few days ago, from the Joy Club of the Peterborough Bowling Club, the Happy thoughts beg to state that at first glance they do not recognise these joyful individuals from their euphonious title. Nevertheless they will be overjoyed at an opportunity to annex the scalps of these gentlemen and would request that a representative from the Joyless Club call upon them immediately in order that the details of the duel may be arranged.

HOCKEY

The game in the Senior Church League tonight between George St. and St. Andrew's at Knox rink from 6 to 9, should be a very exciting contest. Both teams are keyed up to a high pitch and seem to be very evenly matched. Harry Morgan will handle the bell.

CLOSE GAME AT KNOX RINK

Fresh Air Club Defeated All Saints' by 2-1—No Scoring Second Half.

One of the best games seen on Knox rink this season was played last night between All Saints and the Fresh Air Club. The score at half time stood 2-1 against the All Saints' aggregation, and in the last half neither team found the nets. The game never lagged a minute and the rooters present thoroughly enjoyed it. Both forward lines worked hard and got away with some fine rushes but the defence men were always there when wanted and prevented much shooting. Killingbeck, the Fresh Air goal tender was undoubtedly the star of the game and turned aside many good shots from the All Saints' forwards. Moore in the nets for the Saints also got in the way of some likely looking ones. The teams were:

ALL SAINTS'

Goal—Moore.
Point—Priene.
Cover—Allen.
Rover—Layfield.
Centre—Gilbert.
Left—Lebar.
Right—Armstrong.

FRESH AIR CLUB

Goal—Killingbeck.

Right—Barrie.
Left—Chambers.

Percy Johnston of Park street Baptist team made a satisfactory referee.

THE LOCAL SEPTETTE

The Team That Will Play Against Lindsay To-Morrow Night

There has been quite a bit of figuring lately as to just what team would be the best one to represent Peterborough in the game with Lindsay to-morrow night. It is decided that the following shall be the seven that will do battle against the Scugog outfit;—

Goal—Derocher.
Point—Glover.
Cover—Moore.
Rover—Ray.
Centre—Morgan.
Right—Parnell.
Left—Dusty.

W. Hancock of Toronto, will referee the match.

Nomination Ballot on Page 6 Voting Coupon on Page 2

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day. Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them

Equal Suffrage

Editor of the Review

Sir,—It is a splendid tribute to the progressiveness of The Review that it has not played the copperhead in the great question of the franchise for women but has given women and their claims to a franchise, a fair chance. It will not be forgotten in the day of women's triumph and emancipation. Please publish the following lecture by Mrs Borrowman, one of the London martyrs:

"We want the right to vote so that we can protect the women who toil in the factories and the big stores, and who do the sweat work in their own homes in the large cities," said Mrs Wells.

"People tell us that we have so many privileges, for instance, the property priileges.

"Do you know why the men have given us the property privileges. It is to protect the men themselves against their creditors.

"I say take away the privileges and let us have our rights.

"No man would give up his position of independence for the dependence of the woman's privileges with all the privileges thrown in.

"What man would change places with the women and work ten and twelve hours a day for their food and keep as many women do.

"Women could do without some of the privileges if they got equal wages for equal work.

"Women, it is said, are too emotional to take part in politics, too easily influenced and would vote for the handsomest man. I do not believe that.

"I don't believe there is a woman who would forget the interests of her children and of her home, to vote for the handsomest man and it is not the experience in countries where women have been granted the vote.

Is it always the handsomest man that gets married. It would be a bad look out for some of you men if it were so.

"If keeping out of politics has made us so superior, as the men say, isn't it a little strange that we should be ruled by those who are inferior.

"We do not claim the vote on the ground of inferiority or superiority but on the ground of justice.

"We have to pay taxes and obey the laws and do our share of the world's work, and we have as much right to vote as the men have, and we mean to get it.

"You men sometimes think too much of the protection of property and not enough of the protection of life. Look at your railway accidents and the way schools are built.

"The humanizing influence of woman is needed in politics.

"I say we claim it as our right. But you say some women don't want to vote. Just as soon as a woman understands the value of the vote she will want it and demand it.

"The question is not 'Do they want it,' but 'how to get it.'

"In England the women have tried for fifty years to get the franchise. For fifty years they have been saying 'Please give us the right to vote' but have they got it. Logic, reason and argument has failed.

"We do not claim originality for our methods. We got them from our teachers, the men, by reading the history of the past.

"We have to adopt these methods since all peaceful methods have failed and we have to bring pressure on the Government.

"We know that in order to win the game we must take such vigorous action.

"We are in the game to win and we will get the vote.

"We'll go as far as we have to in order to get it.

"The conditions created by men drive women more and more into the market.

"We went to the Liberal Government in England and said we needed the protection of the vote. The Government said they sympathized with us but our petition went into the waste basket. Instead of being fooled and tricked, as we had for years, we said, "If you won't give us the vote we will make you. We will put the fear of political death into you."

"No Cabinet Minister can speak anywhere without being reminded that women are persons and have their rights, and we ask what he is willing to do for the women.

"A young man, a prospective voter, can ask questions, but if it happens to be a woman she is apt to be thrown out.

"When we go to the House of Parliament, the sacred hall where no woman is allowed to enter — but sometimes we slip in.

"We went there in October to interview Premier Asquith but we found six thousand policemen on guard, and Mr Asquith was not to be interviewed. We made a demonstration and thirty-eight women went to Holloway jail as a result.

"Then we had a later demonstration, and made our protest outside the House of Parliament, and I and 14 other women went to Holloway jail.

"But we don't mind that, and if it should be necessary we are prepared to do it again. Plenty of women go back the second time.

"We are going to have the vote, we don't care how far we go.

"If you think we like our tactics, I want to say that no one dislikes them more than we do.

"Do you suppose we like to have unemotional men fling rats and mice and other things at us when we get up to speak. But we are going to win in the end.

"Nobody but a fool will condemn you for standing out for your privileges.

"It is the duty of every woman to come out and help.

"It is better to have tried and failed than never to have tried at all, but we are going to win."

Thanking you, Mr Editor,

Yours &c.,

Fred Simpson Going to Georgia to Get Into Shape for Dorando Race.

It is stated that Tom Eck, Fred Simpson's manager, will have the Indian train in Georgia for his coming race with Dorando. The idea is to get the Hiawatha man working in a congenial climate and it is thought that a month's workout in the southern state will put him good and fit for his contest with the Italian. It is expected that word will be received from Eck in a short time concerning the Indian's doings.

A COUPLE OF GOOD GAMES

Interesting Contest at the Curling Rink Last Night

There were two hard fought battles at the curling rink last night which attracted a lot of attention and which created a lot of enthusiasm One was between J. Connal's rink and H. R. H. Kenner's rink. From beginning to end the score was in favor of first one side and then the other. Kenner's rink started off with a lead of three, but latter on Connal's men got together and took a couple of ends which brought them up. The final score was 11 to 12 in favor of the scholastic profession.

Messrs. E. B. Clegg's and C. N. Brown's rinks played a tie game by Brown taking three shots in the last end. He tried hard for the fourth, but his last stone did not come just right.

A peculiar thing is the way Mr. T. F. Matthews' rink hangs to the number 13. His rink number is 13 and the best of it is the number has usually been a lucky one.

There were seven games last night. The rinks and scores were as follows;

C. James	C. D. Biggs

NEW LEAGUES IN THE SPRING

School and Church Basketball Leagues Likely to be Formed in the Spring

Arrangements are being made for a church basketball league, to be run off at the Y.M.C.A. in the spring. It is expected that teams will be entered by all the boys' clubs in connection with the churches and the league should prove a good one.

It is also probable that a school league will be formed after the skating season has closed. Nearly every school in the city should be able to put a team on the floor and this league should also do much towards booming the game in the city.

WHITBY WON CLOSE GAME

Defeated Port Hope 10-8 in Junior O. H. A. Match

Whitby, Feb 3—Whitby saw a game of real hockey tonight when the Port Hope juniors were beaten here. The visiting team was encouraged by 200 supporters who came by special train bringing a brass band and a 'skidoo' band

The game started with a rush, the visitors scoring first. Then Whitby took the lead, and at half time the score was 6-4 in Whitby's favor. After the rest Port Hope evened up when Whitby again led and kept there till the game was won by 10-8. The visitors were a lively lot and played splendid combination. Blanchard was the star for the home season and Nixon and Brown for the visitors. Referee Hancock was very strict, noting almost every offside or rough play. The crowd was a record breaker for the season.

The line-up was;

Whitby—Wilson, goal; Lavery, point; Waugh, cover; Wilson, rover; Smith, centre; Paquett, right; Blanchard, left.

SHALL LASH BE USED ? A BILL IN THE COMMONS

Introduced by Mr. Bikerdike and is Severely Criticized—First Vote of Session—What is Happening in the Commons.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—On the first vote of the session a Government majority of 42 was recorded yesterday afternoon.

It was on Mr. Reid's motion in regard to the custody and opening of tenders, and Hugh Guthrie's amendment thereto. For the amendment, the vote was 118, against 76. There were loud Government cheers, which the Opposition immediately took up, in expressing satisfaction that the majority is not more.

All the newcomers were applauded. Beginning with Mr. Stratton on the Liberal side, after the first outbreak which always follows the rising of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as each baby member recorded his preference, there was a rising tide of enthusiasm. The Conservatives applauded lustily their leader, and when the back rows were reached there was tumultuous desk pounding. Glen Campbell, the vanquisher of Theodore Burrows, was given probably the most boisterous reception, but Capt. Wallace, Capt. Sharpe, and Joe Russell also were greeted with a tremendous volley of acclamations by the Conservatives. In a full House the majority would be 42, with Comox-Atlin vacant. In the last House the majority was 60.

The bill of Dr. Reid of Grenville to amend the Passengers' Ticket Act was given a second reading and referred to the railway committee. Dr. Reid insisted that the law should be so amended as to make mileage books good on the train instead of the holder being compelled to go into the station to have his mileage ticket marked off.

Mr. Bickerdike's bill to amend the criminal code came in for severe criticism. It provides "three years' imprisonment and to be whipped" as the punishment for anyone "who assaults his wife or other female and thereby causes bodily harm." Whipping is also prescribed for robbery and several other offences, including the carrying of concealed weapons.

The Minister of Justice opposed the indiscriminate use of the lash. It was a survival of old-time doctrine of retaliation in punishment. He pointed out that it would be difficult to find men to inflict the punishment, even in the case of crimes against women. Mr. Aylesworth was disposed to regard imprisonment as the proper penalty.

E. N. Lewis retorted upon the Minister of Justice the remark that his argument might as well be applied to the obtaining of men to inflict capital punishment.

W. B. Northrop argued that the Verdun Asylum Patient Dies From Eating Junk---Thrived on Strange Diet for Time.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—A human ostrich has just died in the Hospital for the Insane at Verdun. He has been an inmate for the past nine years, and during that time developed a fondness for nails, wire, glass, hairpins, etc. Had not a piece of wire punctured his stomach he might have lived and thrived for many years on his diet of hardware.

Following is the almost incredible list of articles found to have been swallowed by him. Three bundles of broom fibre; one piece of whalebone, eight inches long; one bundle of hair; one four-inch nail; a piece of wire, bound with string; one piece of wire, four inches long; one three-inch nail, with piece of cloth attached; one buttonhook; six pieces of pipe stems; twenty-one tobacco tags; thirty-one small pieces of wire; four screws; one piece of insulated tape; one booteye; one steel spring; twenty-seven pins; five one-inch nails; two plum-stones; one paper fastener; one piece of twisted picture wire; nine pieces of iron; nine pieces of glass; one iron nut; four hairpins; four tacks; one horseshoe nail; fifty-two two-inch nails; seven two-and-a-half inch nails; thirty-two three-inch nails; one five-inch nail, and two pieces of stone, one half an inch square, the other an inch long by half an inch wide and half an inch thick.

ANARCHY IS HINTED AT

Socialist in British Columbia House Gives Warning to Legislators.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 5.—The Attorney-General's bill to amend the provincial elections was up in the Legislature as a theme for debate. The bill was roundly attacked by the member for Delta and by the three Socialist members.

The statements of the Socialist members in attacking the bill were of quite a sensational character.

Mr. Williams (Newcastle) warned the Government that there were in this province growing bodies of workingmen whose aim was to get their rights otherwise than by the ballot. He said it was time to reform the election methods now, to prevent any encouragement of these bodies. His view was that the present electoral lists should be cancelled and new lists prepared for each election.

Advises Defence Of Pacific Coast

MAJOR-GEN. SIR PERCY LAKE.

LAKE SOUNDS A WARNING DEFEND THE PACIFIC COAST

Inspector-General of Militia at University of Toronto Trophy Presentation Propheaies That Time Will Come When Orient Will Turn its Eyes Toward the Western Territory.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—A note of warning, for Canada to be prepared to resist an invasion on the Pacific Coast, was sounded by Gen. Lake, inspector-general of Canadian militia, in presenting the D.R.A. trophy to the University of Toronto Rifle Association yesterday.

Now that Japan and China had become awakened to their national greatness and that India was destined to become a nation in the next century, these densely populated countries would begin to look for a place in which to expand, and in all probability cast their eyes in the direction of Canada, he says.

The question of trade and commerce was at the bottom of every way. Britain's policy and Gemany's policy of war was usually for trade or food, and in fact the same principle had moved every nation in Europe to military strife.

When Japan came to realize that she had reached the limit of food supply and when China found that its hundreds of millions of people were existing with great difficulty, they would not be satisfied to mark time. Nor would India, a nation that had been educated by Britain. The recent agitations in India might check the progress for a time, but it would not be a century before Britain would have to face the desire to expand on the part of the orientals.

Western ideals and western civilization must be imposed on the Orient, and if England couldn't make them submit by mere argument, it might become necessary to use force—"and we must be prepared to fight," added the general.

Rifle shooting was a most excellent training and the faculty of the universities should have an interest in the great question of defence. The trial was approaching; it was possibly not near, but it was inevitable, and who could say that the neighbors to the south might not show uncertain traits? Rifle shooting should be encouraged, because it developed cool heads, steady nerves and good judgment.

Continuing, Gen. Lake said he would like to see Canada spend more money on its militia. It is quite impossible for the present recruit to become efficient with the training afforded him. If Canada was to have an army fit and capable of defence, the men personally must become interested, and the university and collegiate institute, cadet corps must provide the training.

VALUABLE JEWELLERY FOUND IN MITCHELL'S HOUSE, THE PROPERTY OF W. H. PERKINS

As a result of a complaint from Mr W. H. Perkins, King street, to the effect that he believed a parcel containing valuable jewellery coming to him from England had been intercepted by Charles Mitchell, the letter carrier, charged yesterday with taking money from two letters, the property of the Postmaster General, P. C. Newhall with Mr Perkins, visited the home of Mitchell last evening, where most of the jewellery was found.

Mr. Perkins said that the parcel had been mailed him from England on January fourth but he had never received it. He believed that it had been intercepted by the postman, Charles Mitchell.

P. C. Newhall and Mr Perkins went to Mitchell's house last night. The parcel contained one plain gold dressed ring 15 karat, and one silver exhibition medal which had been presented to Mr Perkins' grandfather and was dated either 1827 or 1847 which were not found.

The following articles were found after considerable searching and were identified by Mr Perkins;

One gold keeper, nine karat, one nine karat gold dressed ring set with nine diamonds, one plain silver ring, one silver neck chain, with anchor and heart attached, one silver Mizpeth brooch with the following inscription "The Lord watcheth between me and thee when we are absent one from another," and one silver brooch inscribed "Preston Guild 1882," and initialed P.P. (Polly Perkins). The image of a lamb was in the centre of this brooch with the horn of plenty on each side. A pair of gold ear rings set with diamonds was also found.

Mr Perkins said that while waiting for the parcel he had asked Mitchell to let him know as soon as it arrived. He promised that he would, but never did so.

103 PERSONS QUARANTINED AT HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE

One hundred and three people are under quarantine at the House of Providence owing to there being a few cases of scarlet fever in the home. Some of the smaller children are suffering from the disease, but it is learned that it is of a mild form and in no way serious.

Every precaution has been taken to prevent an outbreak in the building. The boys and girls have been kept home from school.

BARNHART SENTENCED

Young Eloper Gets Five Years in Penitentiary for Theft---Rebuked by the Judge.

Brockville, Feb. 5.—Yesterday afternoon Judge McDonald sentenced A. E. Barnhart to five years in the Kingston Penitentiary on a charge of theft.

The prisoner was mixed up in an elopment with Mrs. J. A. Pyke, who stole her husband's household effects and portions of his clothing before making her departure with Barnhart. The couple were separated at Lyn and the trunk containing the articles, which had been shipped to Kingston under the name of E. Smythe, was returned. The crown's theory that Mrs. Pyke took the goods at Barnhart's suggestion was borne out by her evidence, but the judge showed the prisoner no quarter on account of the schemes he evolved to get possession of Mrs. Pyke and at the same time professing friendship for her husband, at whose house he visited. The prisoner broke down when sentenced.

SAFE PLUNDERED GOAT CARRIED OFF

At Chatham, Ont., a burglary was committed some time during the dead hours of last night, by which the secrets, grips, paraphanalia, etc., of the local Oddfellows' lodge were taken away and feloniously made off with together with the family goat, which had been tethered in the ante-room for the purpose of disturbing the butt-end of any or all who might deserve the attentions of the animal. The loss of the goat has produced a feeling of unrest in the village, as in the case of the advent of a jack-the-hugger or other ill-advised and inopportune visitors. If the grip is found to be permanently lost influenza will be used instead.

NEWFOUNDLAND GAINS BY IT

Fisheries Dispute is Settled With Concessions to the Colony.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 5.—Sir Robt. Bond, the Premier, announced last night that an agreement in the fisheries dispute between the United States and Newfoundland had been reached and that Newfoundland had gained certain concessions. The Government claims that the terms of the agreement as a whole are of a satisfactory character.

It is announced that the Americans agreed to the arbitration of the question of their rights to fish within the inlets of the west coast. The Americans have contended that the treaty of 1818 gave them this right to fish there. The Newfoundland Government set up the claim that the treaty permitted the Americans to fish only along the seaboard.

Should The Hague Tribunal decide that the treaty does not give the Americans the right to fish in the west coast inside the frozen herring industry, in which scores of New England vessels are engaged each year, will have to be abandoned.

TO COMPEL USE OF THE WIRELESS

Washington, Feb. 5.—Appreciating the value of suggestions that have arisen since the introduction of his bill to require all ocean passenger vessels to be equipped with wireless telegraphy, Representative Burke of Pennsylvania re-introduced his bill, with several amendments, making it apply to ocean passenger steamers certified to carry 50 passengers or more, between ports 200 miles distant, instead of 500 miles, as in the first bill.

The new bill thus makes the requirements applicable to coastwise vessels except on the great lakes.

The penalty is changed so as to provide for a maximum fine of $1,000 or one year's imprisonment.

"JANE CABLE" TO-MORROW

To-morrow THE REVIEW will start the publication of a new serial, which has been secured by special arrangement. It is George Barr McCutcheon's new novel, "JANE CABLE," which has been described by the critics as the most fascinating tale written by this famous author. George Barr McCutcheon has written "Graustark" and "Beverly of Graustark," and those who have read these two novels will look forward with keen delight to "Jane Cable." A generous instalment will appear in THE REVIEW each day. Don't miss the opening chapters of this interesting story to-morrow.

A SUGGESTION IN CONNECTION WITH PROPOSED DAM

The question has been asked whether the Waterworks Commission was making the best bargain by placing the proposed new waterworks dam at the point which has been practically decided upon. That a new dam has to be built is not denied and as the sum to be expended upon it is a large one—nearly a hundred thousand dollars—many citizens have been considering the question carefully and as a result of this investigation a suggestion has been made that appears to have many feasible points. Without predjudice either one way or the other the Review gives the suggestion to its readers.

The proposition is for the Waterworks Commission to purchase the Auburn dam and reconstruct it lower down instead of building a new dam at the point propoed in the report of Engineer Kennedy. It has been suggested that the city should purchase the dam of the Auburn Woollen Mills Company and build a new one a short distance down the river where the stream is narrower and the head considerably higher. After the new dam is completed the present Auburn dam could be removed and the Auburn Mills could secure power from the city generated at the new waterworks dam.

As the river is narrower at the point suggested below the present Auburn dam than it is where the water works dam is now located it would cost less to build the new structure that at the point it is proposed to construct it at farther up stream. The surface bottom of the river is also said to be much better below the Auburn dam than it is farther up and this would be an important factor in regard to the cost of the work.

By coming down the stream a greater "head" would be secured and this is something greatly to be desired in the construction of the new waterworks dam.

Of course the building of a new dam below Auburn would result in some "flooded land," but the property which would be effected is not very valuable and the loss in this connection would not amount to a great deal. This matter could be arranged satisfactorily if it was decided to go ahead with the scheme outlined, as the Auburn dam, it has been understood for some time, is for sale.

The generation of power is an important matter to be considered in connection with the building of the new waterworks dam. It had been strongly agitated that the city should have power of its own to offer and dispose of to manufacturers locating here and the new dam will give the city what it has long been after in this connection. It should be the endeavor to generate as much power as possible at the new dam and if more electrical energy can be developed by having the dam further down the river than it will be to the city's interests to have the new structure as far down stream as is feasible in order to obtain the greatest "head."

There may be some merit in the proposition outlined above and if there is it should be given consideration.

The new waterworks dam as at present proposed would have a head, say of 11.6 ft. while the proposed Auburn dam would have about 17 feet of a head. The Lakefield road could be moved up to the edge of the ridge.

NOW OCCUPIES NEW QUARTERS

Mr. W. G. Lendrum, Photographer, in Handsome New Studio

When building his new block of stores on Charlotte street, Mr. W. G. Lendrum, the photographer, had one part of the second floor arranged according to design of his own, to be used as a photo studio. Last week he moved into his new quarters and is now settled in up-to-date and handsomely fitted rooms. Every convenience has been provided for his patrons, and complete appliances for the production of high-class photographs have been installed.

ASSISTED AT INSTALLATION

Peterborough Knights of Pythias Fraternize With Lindsay Brethren

Lindsay, Feb. 4.—A large number of members of the Knights of Pythias assembled in their lodge rooms over Adams Bros.' store last night for the purpose of installing the new officers recently elected for the ensuing year. District Deputy Blewett and Messrs. Squires and Savigny, of Peterborough, were present and assisted in installing the officers and conferring degrees.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members adjourned to the Royal Hotel, where a dainty banquet was partaken of.

SHOULD MARRY BEFORE THIRTY

Decision Given in Debate Held at Knights of Pythias Hall Last Night

That a man should marry before he is thirty years of age was the decision given in a debate held by the D.A.C. members at the Knights of Pythias hall last night. The subject was, "Resolved, that a man should marry before he is thirty years of age," and the speakers were,

Affirmative— Messrs L. Turner, leader; J. E. Middleton and Wallace Weed

Negative— Messrs W. Richardson, W. Warne and Chas. Sisson.

The debaters covered the ground very fully and discussed the subject with sincerity and breadth.

The judges were Messrs C. Harmer, W. Cochrane and W. Campbell and in giving their decision they reached the verdict on the points scored by the debaters and not on their own personal opinion. This statement is justice to the judges. Another debate will be held in the near future.

AMERICAN CONSULAR AGENCY CLOSES

The American Consular Agency over 415 Water street closes tomorrow. All business of a consular character must be done through the consulate in Toronto hereafter. This decision has been reached by the American government owing to what it has said, is insufficiency of business although the amount of business here has grown since the agency was opened from $100,000 per annum to $722,000 per annum. Mr F. J. Bell has given perfect satisfaction both to the American government and his customers. The closing will be a matter of serious inconvenience to the Cereal works and others shipping to the United States. An effort was made to close it once before but the strenuous efforts of the cereal people successfully opposed it.

TO BE TRIED BY JUDGE WELLER

Chas. Mitchell Will Come up for Trial on Wednesday, February 10th

Charles Mitchell, the local letter carrier, was committed for trial on a charge of taking three dollars from each of two letters the property of the Postmaster-General, on Wednesday, came up before Judge Weller yesterday afternoon at half-past four. Mr. R. D. Kerr appeared for him.

He elected to be tried by His Honor Judge Weller, and pleaded not guilty. Wednesday, February the 10th, at eleven o'clock in the morning, was the day set for the trial.

MAN PERISHED IN BLIZZARD

St. John, N.B., Feb. 5.—Half covered with snow and ice, the body of James Semple of Fredericton, who, with his team of four horses, made such a gallant struggle for life when lost in Lake Spidnik, near Vanceboro', was found on the lake yesterday afternoon close to the spot where three of his horses were discovered dead on Tuesday. Search for the unfortunate man had been kept up, and the searched had passed several times close to the spot where the body was found. It lay half concealed by drifting snow, and from appearances Semple had made a brave fight to the last. There were signs that he had fallen into the water, and managed to scramble back on the ice only to succumb to the cold. It was supposed that he had been dead since Sunday. The body was found on the American side of the lake, and about five miles from Vanceboro'. It will be sent to Fredericton for burial.

The Manitoba Cartage Co. at Winnipeg has locked out 82 teamsters for taking an active part in establishing a union.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Rich men, as the world knows them, are understood to take pensions on retirement from public positions without objection from themselves or the public at large. These pensions are not a reward. They are simply a provision for old age. The extension of this principle to the aged and deserving of the whole nation has been tried in Germany and Great Britain with conspicuous success. It should be tried in Canada. It is a simple and honest means of the nation's providing for the nation's own. The system of government annuities proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier is by no means the same or at all equal. The annuity plan has been in vogue in Canada a long time. No modification of it will ever make it an OLD AGE PENSION System. Mr Borden intends moving for the adoption of the latter plan and we await the notice of his resolution with confidence that it will seek to confer the blessings already felt in Great Britain.

THE REFORM OF CRIMINALS

"The theory of congenial criminality that would refer the cause of crime, action to some abnormality in the structure of the brain, finds scant comfort in the post-mortem of the four murderers recently guillotined in Bethune, France. It will be remembered that these men were so hardened, and their crimes were of such a desperate character, that the people of the section where they had lived seemed to rejoice in their deaths as they would in the destruction of some dangerous wild beast. It was expected that if criminality were to be connected definitely and solely with the convolutions of the brain, then the brain of these notorious criminals would show abnormal characteristics to an exceptionally large extent. But the very reverse was true. The brains of these men, the worst French criminals for decades, showed no variation from the type of the ordinary respectable member of society. The brains weighed above the average, and all the lobe convolutions were in good condition. Prof. de Bierre of Lille who conducted the examination, concludes that if the dynamic value of a machine can be determined from the condition of its component parts, there was no reason, except in their own free will, why these notorious criminals should not have led perfectly normal and moral lives. It does not follow that no criminality is the result of brain defect, but it would seem to be pretty well established that there is criminality which has its roots in the human will, rather than in a defective brain, and for such criminality the individual himself must bear, in a very large degree, the responsibility."—Christian Guardian.

The modern theory of the proper means of dealing with the criminal is to reform him. The opposing or dissenting theory is that the criminal especially the old offender, is a hopeless one, in that Nature has endowed him with an abnormal instinct and liking for criminal work. The criminals referred to in the clipping were cruel and wicked but dissection shows that the brain was normal, if not above it. Then education and environment must then have been at fault. Cupidity, vanity and a desperate sort of courage, characterize the generality of criminals. It is not an easy life by any means. Watched, hunted, and wherever possible, punished, the criminal has not an easy time, but the prospects of living high on a sudden "haul" lure many into the paths of vice. Conscience seems to be the only restraining principle. If conscience is wholly or partially due to education as some stoutly maintain, the education reform theory is unimpeachable. If on the other hand it is something that may be dulled or destroyed, but not developed or revived the reform plan is useless. This therefore is the great and as yet in punitive circles "the only question of the hour." The idea that punishment is an improper mode of treatment of the perverse needs revising. Any boy who has experienced the cussedness of youth, knows that nothing succeeds with him in such a condition like a momentary pang. Then again, the ravening human wolf, the destroying marauder the devil in human form goes about seeking whom they may devour must all be dealt with at once. There is no time for reform with them. It is a case of life and death.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"WE MUST HAVE GREATER MEN BEFORE WE CAN HOPE TO HAVE GREATER RESULTS FROM OUR POLITICAL, SOCIAL, COMMERCIAL OR RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS," said Mr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Globe.

American scientist, whose P. O. address is Mare's Island, explains that the "origin of the solar system is due to cosmic dust."

Many thanks for one mystery cleared up, but where is the answer to that other question of the ages; "WHERE DID THE MONEY COME FROM?"—Toronto Telegram.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education for Ontario, recently stated his belief that a Dominion grant of a million dollars to each Province for technical education purposes would do more for the country's welfare than a dozen $100,000,000 transcontinental railways.

The remark has been made by some one "in the street" that there is a desire on the part of the Conservative party somewhere to have a saw-off involving West Peterborough. We had hoped that the day of saw-offs was done. But whether it is or not elsewhere it certainly is in Peterborough so far at least as Conservatives are concerned.

"Modern science has ascertained that all matter is in a state of eternal vibration. The vibration, according to the professor, is analagous to the vibration of a violin string. Of such complex character, assumed Korn, are the vibrations of all particles of matter, and it is these vibrations which lead respectively not only to the attractive force of gravitation, but also to the repulsive force which, in the case of the heavenly bodies is observed at the same time."

"A local option vote was taken throughout New Zealand at the time of the general election in November last," says the Manchester Guardian. "The result was an astonishing victory for the temperance principle. Not only did the six constituencies which had voted for total prohibition in 1905 do so again with increased majorities, but seven new electorates were carried for prohibition and ten for reduction of licenses, with the result that 125 licenses will be cancelled on June 30th next."

"Their guests might wonder how, in view of the erratic weather conditions, curling ever came to be practised in Scotland. The explanation was simple. A Scotsman did not really enjoy anything unless it was difficult. The whole history of the Scottish nation had been a record of surmounting difficulties. This had characterised the Scot alike in his game and in his work."

The above is an extract from a speech by Lord Strathcona, made in welcoming the Canadian curlers. It is well worthy of being carefully studied and it accounts for the high standard of Scottish endeavor the world over.

Without in any sense criticising the fact, it nevertheless causes a query, as to why it is that a decoy letter is considered a proper means of attempting to focus matters while a decoy sent into get a drink or, to otherwise contravene a sumptuary law is considered worthy of execration. The answer may be that in the one case it is a very serious matter, while in the other the "corrupt act" may have been one of mere indulgence or "kindness" on the part of the victim who, yielding to the apparent craving or other solicitation of the decoy, in a moment of weakness gives way. It is doubtful, however, if that feeling arises where the crime is one deserving serious punishment. In the one case where guilt is established there is only one party to the act, in the other there would necessarily be two. Hence in the latter there is an assumed lesser degree of impropriety. Then again per se taking what does not belong to one and the property of another is a wicked offense where no quid pro quo has been forthcoming, whereas in the other case it has been merely a forbidden business transaction without other objectionable feature as a rule.

The Martyrdom of Cadieux.—At the "Portage-des-Sept-Chutes," at the foot of the Grand Calumet one beautiful day in May after a winter thus passed these people (Micmacs) were peacefully awaiting the arrival of some other bands before starting down the river to sell their furs at Montreal, when a young Algonquin who had been fishing at the foot of the rapids rushed into camp, hoarsely shouting, "Nattaoue! Nattaoue!"—The Iroquois! The Iroquois! He had seen below the rapids a war band of those terrible enemies lying in wait to pounce upon and murder the innocent hunters as their loaded canoes were being carried down over the portage. There was but one chance of escape—and one a feat that had never been considered possible and never attempted—to run those foaming swirling rapids! Even this desperate attempt would be utterly futile unless by musket shots in the woods the attention of the Iroquois was diverted from the falls; therefore Cadieux and a young brave on whose courage he could rely undertook this perilous service; once having decoyed the Iroquois into the underbrush they would fire a shot as signal for the canoes to start, then would endeavor to rejoin their people by a circuitous route, and if too long in so doing were to be searched for. Cadieux and his young companion, after a hurried farewell, disappeared into the forest, and soon, at the report of a firearm, quickly followed by others, the frail birch bark canoes shot forth out into the hideous chasm; down through the seething cauldron they swooped like birds, paddles flying, rocks on every side, foam rising high. Cadieux's wife, a pious and truthful woman, invoked St. Anne, patron saint of the mariner, and afterwards averred that they "all saw nothing in that frantic plunge through the milk-white spray but the figure of a tall lady in luminous cloud-like raiment—une grande dame blanche"—who going before, led the canoes to safety. Two days later these people arrived at the Lake of Two Mountains near Montreal. Meanwhile Cadieux, placing his devoted follower an acre farther back, quietly watched the portage and, allowing the Iroquois scouts to pass half way up it then fired with unerring aim—a simultaneous shot fired by the Algonquin echoed through the forest—and the Iroquois as Cadieux had foreseen, immediately separated, and charged in both directions.

Cadieux, a master of woodcraft, then fled by a preconceived trail to join the noble youth, only to find his corpse surrounded by Iroquois dead! For three days and nights the Iroquois never imagining the enemy would attempt running the rapids searched for the encampment—three days without sleep or food, or fire for Cadieux. Finally they returned to their canoes and passed on up the river in pursuit. A week elapsed and two Algonquins and a half-breed came back in search of Cadieux. As they approached the Portage-des-Sept-Chutes they noticed a bower of maple boughs apparently abandoned and after firing a shot and shouting passed on up the river, thinking from the silence he had taken refuge with the Calumets at the Island of that name fifteen miles north. Two days later—the thirteenth day after the alarm—as they again passed on their return, they noticed with awe a small wooden cross near the seemingly abandoned bower. The cross they found on landing, stood at the head of a half-dug grave, and in that grave, with folded hands, and hunger hollowed face, lay the corpse of Cadieux. Clasped in the gaunt hands was a sheet of birch bark, on which the brave man and splendid hunter had recorded in his beloved verse his awful sufferings, his fear of even warming his chilled body, lest the smoke of his fire should betray him to the merciless Iroquois, his joyous excitement and renewed hope, as he, lying at the point of death in the little arbor, beheld the approaching canoe and the familiar faces of his friends—his utter despair as they passed on up the river, and when their familiar voices could no longer be heard—of the near approach of a hungry wolf whom he haughtily ordered to feed upon the Iroquois corpses, not that of a Frenchman. He notices a watching crow—his appeal to a "rossignol" to fly south and carry his last message to his beloved Algonquin wife so far, far below—his preparation for death—then that last haunting cry of a soul going out, going out alone in that vast wilderness,—"C'est donc ici que le monde m'abandonne. Mais j'ais secours en vous, Sauveur des hommes. Tres-Sainte Vierge, Ah! m'abandonnes pas, Permetteamoi d'mourir entre vos bras."

Another legend of this period is "La Jongleuse"—as the French called the "Matsch Skoueon," the Iroquois watch spirit. In those early days of New France—when the sanguinary raids of the tireless Iroquois made passing without a gateway of Old Quebec a danger—one dark and moonless night Madame Houel, young and beautiful, and her eight year old son, put off from shore below the Lower Town Church in the canoe of "Le Canotier," the most expert voyageur of those parts. Accompanied by a faithful Algonquin named Tchinipek, they were going to M. Houel, who lay at the point of death at a Huron village down the south shore. Silently the frail craft sped out over the dark waters, the light of the little sanctuary fading out behind them, the faint roar of distant Montmorenci lulling the child to sleep. Suddenly he started up from his mother's lap, —"Mother, mother," he cried, "The awful woman, can you not see. She comes walking over the water." Then he fell back shuddering and besought "Le Canotier," to turn back. But "Le Canotier" had ceased to paddle. He and Tchinipek knew the boy had seen "Matsch Skoueon"—evil spirit of the hateful Iroquois, "she of the spell-weaving sea-green eyes, hair black as the loon's wing, and violet lips—she who rises as she goes abroad a cloud of bluish sparks—who, at the time of the new moon, awaits her victims under water, close to shore—who tears and rends, and even destroys the very spirits of her dead for ever," Anguish racked the faithful Algonquin as he peered into the darkness to the left, and even as he besought protection of the "Great Manitou" there came a murmur of voices, two loud reports of firearms, followed by the awful "Kohe, Kohe," "The Iroquois," whispered Tchinipek, listening intently, —"seven in one canoe. White woman, smother the cry of your child, —Iroquois to the right, on the left Matschi Skoueon—the Great Manitou calls us." Again he listened, then stringing a bow he shot an arrow with unerring aim right to the spot where floated the enemy, killing a warrior. Instantly an Iroquois bullet split his companion's paddle. Realizing the struggle was hopeless the brave savage slid like an eel into the water, diving far and silently; rising beside the bow of the enemies' canoe he swiftly seized it and without a jerk upset the overladen craft—destroying in the subsequent confusion three of the surprised Iroquois with his tomahawk. Regaining his canoe, he and "Le Canotier" reassured their terrified charges, and got them across across the river to shore, where they camped until daylight. At sunrise "Le Canotier," taking his gun, went into the woods for game. On his return a horrible scene awaited him. There scalped and almost hacked to pieces, lay Tchinipek, and two dead Iroquois bore witness to his brave passing to the Happy Hunting Grounds. Of Madame Houel and her son there remained no trace, but far on the horizon were two specks, two Iroquois canoes! Loud wailed "Le Canotier" the warrior's death chant then seizing his friend's knife he scalped the two Iroquois—and driving the knife far into the nearest tree trunk, hung a scalp on either side—and went his lonely way of vengeance. Years later there landed at Riviere Ouelle two men, "one advanced in years, the other a handsome youth"—"Le Canotier" and young Houel. Too late to save the beautiful young Frenchwoman had the brave "Le Canotier" found them—only just in time to save the poor lad, who had witnessed his mother's tortures before mercifully becoming insensible to his own—only just in time to cut down the dying boy and lead him back to life—and, after many years, to home.

SHALL LASH BE USED?

Minister of Justice seemed to view the matter rather from the standpoint of the offender than the offended. He failed to see how any punishment could further degrade the man who would beat his wife.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that it should be remembered that the Minister of Justice, while dissenting generally from the use of the lash, admitted that in the case of offences such as some of those described in the bill, such punishment might be permissable. The inflicting of corporal punishment was doubtless abhorrent to every man, but in the case of a wife-beater the House should be prepared to say that a man who inflicts corporal punishment upon his wife should be administered a dose of his own medicine.

It was true that the application of the lash had diminished the crime of garroting in England, but he was doubtful whether it should be applied, as suggested, in the case of such offences as robbery.

Mr. Madden (Conservative, Cape Breton) opposed the bill as a return to barbarism, but wanted to know why the promoter had omitted women who beat their husbands. There was a laugh at this, but Mr. Madden declared that criminal statistics would show that this offence was quite as prevalent as that of wife-beating.

Mr. Lancaster moved in amendment to restrict the use of the lash to the offence of wife-beating, striking out the phrase, "any other female." The amendment was defeated on division by 71 nays to 41 years. The bill goes over.

Dr. Roche of Marquette asked what progress had been made towards arriving at a settlement with the Government of Manitoba in regard to defining the boundaries of Manitoba.

In reply Sir Wilfrid said that a bill was now being prepared in the Department of Justice to give effect to the resolutions adopted last year with regard to Manitoba will be submitted to the Provincial Government in time to be considered by the present Legislature.

Mr. Staples asked when the vacancy on the Railway Board would be filled, and was told by Mr. Graham that no decision had been reached. The Government had received representations from a number of agricultural bodies, but it would not be in the public interest to announce the names suggested.

Mr. Oliver told Mr. Sharpe (Lisgar) that no changes in the conditions relating to South African land grants were contemplated, and Capt. Sharpe (North Ontario) was told that the amount of the trust funds held by the Government on behalf of the Indians on the Rama Reserve (North Ontario) was $14 335. The capital account of this fund had not been diminished by the Government lately.

Claude Macdonnel was informed by Mr. Pugsley that the delay in issuing checks to men employed on the Toronto harbor works was owing to the exhaustion of the appropriation.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

Girl Kills Herself.

Kittanning, Pa., Feb. 5.—Laura Fitzgerald, 15 years old, grieving because a schoolboy friend had shown more attention to another girl than to her, blew herself to pieces in her father's home yesterday morning. She emptied into her breast both barrels of a shotgun. Attired in black to go with her mother to a neighbor's funeral, she asked Mrs. Fitzgerald to wait a few minutes and went to her room. There she took her father's gun, strapped it to a chair, tied a string to the triggers and, standing in front of the weapon, fired a large quantity of buckshot into her body.

Barristers Nearly Fight.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—Two well-known barristers almost reached fisticuffs yesterday. Senator N. A. Belcourt, former Speaker of the Commons, acting for one Cunningham in a suit for damages against the Ottawa Electric Railway, during the heat of discussion, snatched a book from J. C. Brooke, counsel for the defence, while he was reading extracts, and left him with only a leaf in his hands. Mr. Brooke prepared himself for any emergency but the judge, expressing his disapproval of the Senator's conduct, adjourned the case.

Negro Shot by Police.

Memphis, Feb. 5.—Following a daring hold-up on a busy thorofare yesterday, Henry Morgan, a negro, armed with a revolver and with pockets filled with ammunition, ran amuck, firing repeatedly into street cars and houses and at pedestrians, and terrorised a section of North Memphis before he was shot to death by police and citizens.

Riot Follows Theatre Raid.

Amoy, China, Feb. 5.—Serious complications are likely to ensue as the result of the raiding of a theatre which is being run by a Chinese, who is a Spanish subject, in defiance of the imperial mourning edict. The theatre was raided by police and a riot followed. Several shots were exchanged and two policemen are missing.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Gypsies Camp in Open.

Kingston, Feb. 5.—A pitiful case was brought to light by the police yesterday. At Cartwright's Point they found six people, one a babe in arms, living in a tent in zero weather. For two days, they had no tent and endeavored to keep warm at a bonfire. They slept on the ground. The party includes a man of 80, his wife, another married couple and their two children. The men were sent to jail for vagrancy and the women and children will be cared for. They are in ill-health from exposure. The party lived all summer as gypsies and are well known, having been driven out of several places. The men were arrested several times for theft from farmers.

All the World to Blame.

Cleveland, Feb. 5.—"The world, debtor in account with Edward Mellan, creditor. To one life, ruined; to carbolic acid, 10 cents; to hell, one eternity. This account may be squared by giving me a decent grave."

This is all that remains to tell of the identity of a man who died by his own hand in a lodging house here Wednesday night. The inscription, written on a torn and dirty scrap of paper, was found on a chair in the suicide's room. The man who died was not of the lodging-house type. He was fairly well dressed. His thin face was that of a man of refinement.

Liable to Death Penalty.

Baltimore, Feb. 5.—So small that her head fell below the magistrate's desk in Central Police Court, eleven-year-old Katherine Doerch of Brooklyn stood shaking from head to foot from weakness and fright, and related the story of her abduction by Joseph Janer last Monday.

When she had finished the Maryland authorities, headed by the governor, were so enraged that they agreed to resist all attempts to extradite Janer to New York, and determined to indict and try him within a week for a crime that, under Maryland law, is punishable with death.

Wolf Shot in Kent County.

Glencoe, Feb. 5.—A wolf, supposed to have escaped from the park at Belle Isle a couple of years ago, and which since that time has been devastating the sheepfolds of Mosa Township, was shot yesterday afternoon on the farm of Donald McAlpine, by Malcolm McKellar. The wolf was a fine specimen, weighing 42 pounds. The animal has killed nearly $1,000 worth of sheep.

Lodge Secrets Are Stolen.

Chatham, Feb. 5.—The carefully guarded news leaked out yesterday that the Oddfellows' Temple, King street, was broken into Tuesday night by burglars, who got the combination of the safe and robbed it of many of the costly jewels and ornaments.

Copies of the secret work of the order, kept in one of the inmost shelves of the safe, were taken.

Noiseless Motor Boats.

Washington, Feb. 5.—No more will motor boats disturb landsmen with their exhausts, if a bill which was unanimously reported yesterday from the merchant marine and fisheries committee becomes a law. This bill would require mufflers on motor boats which do not have exhaust pipes under water.

An "Empress" Record.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—The Empress of Ireland entered Halifax harbor yesterday morning at 10.15, making the passage from Liverpool in five days, 18 hours, which is the record winter voyage, being one hour faster than the trip her sister ship, the Empress of Britain, made in 1907.

Veterans to Form Reserve.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—A delegation representing the South African veterans, who were not resident in Canada at the time of their enlistment, waited yesterday upon the Minister of Militia.

They asked that they be given a grant of 320 acres of land each under the terms of the bill of last session with the alternative that if given the grant they would form a "veterans' reserve" under obligation to serve ten years.

They represented that if given the land fully 90 per cent. would become settlers.

Judgment For Creditors.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 5.—Judge Wells, in the Division Court here yesterday, gave judgment in favor of Harvey Bush and several other Hamilton tradesmen, against W. H. Hall and J. Hyke, for fraudulently removing a carload of furniture from Hamilton. Hall and Hyke were Hamilton undertakers and secured furniture and horses without paying for them. The horses were taken to the United States, where they were seized by the customs. The furniture was shipped here and seized by the police. It will be sold to satisfy creditors' claims.

Fumes Were Fatal.

Cornwall, Feb. 5.—Joseph Sibley is dead from inhaling sulphur fumes. Sibley was employed in the Toronto Paper Co.'s pulp mills, and remained in the room one day last week after the digestors were emptied. As the sulphur fumes cooled they dropped, and Sibley and a man named Morin started for the window, but Sibley was overcome. He was 33 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

Carrie Nation Fined.

London, Feb. 5.—Carrie Nation became acquainted with the London police courts yesterday when she was fined $7.50 for thrusting her umbrella through a window of a car on the underground railway, upon which a cigarette advertisement was pasted.

When the magistrate announced the amount of the fine, Mrs. Nation said: "Thank you, I expected it would cost me more."

Fear of Race Riot.

Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—The situation in the Heron Hill district, where over 150 negroes have been arrested, following the many attacks on young girls, was quiet last night, but a double force of police and plainclothesmen is still on duty.

American a Revolutionist.

Moscow, Feb. 5.—The police of this city have arrested a man who passes with an American passport bearing the name of Richard T. Stevens of Washington, D.C., on the charge that he was associated with revolutionists.

New Electric Line.

London, Ont., Feb. 5.—Application will be made at the next session of the Legislature for a charter for an electric road from London to Sarnia, and the Southwestern Railway Co. will ask for power to run cars on Sunday.

Another Crossing Accident.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Another level crossing accident occurred in Berlin yesterday. The victim is a farmer, named Herman Schaaf, aged 29. He is at the hospital, but the doctors say he cannot live, as his skull is badly fractured.

The accident occurred at the Lancaster street crossing as the 3.30 Grand Trunk train from the east was coming in. Schaaf's team became unmanageable just as he was attempting to cross the tracks.

One horse was killed outright and the other had to be shot.

Recover $6,000 of Stolen Goods.

Montreal, Feb. 5.—Detectives recovered $6,000 worth of jewelry, furs and other articles in two Westmount houses yesterday, and this explains a number of thefts from apartment houses recently. Henry Carrington, under arrest for vagrancy, is charged with the thefts.

Mrs. J. H. Stanford went from one room to another in an apartment house, and her jewel box disappeared, containing $1,200. All is recovered in this lot.

The Capital For South Africa.

Cape Town, South Africa, Feb. 5.—(C.A.P. Cable)—Responsible papers in the Transvaal refuse to denounce the compromise on the location of a capital for the new confederation. The Cape press is moderate, but Natal is still hostile. It is understood the arrangements for administration follow the Calcutta and Simla, London and Dublin, model, including the establishment of an official telegraph and an accelerated train service.

Manitoba Opens House.

Winnipeg, Feb. 5.—The second session of the twelfth Legislature of Manitoba was opened yesterday afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor Macmillan with the customary ceremony. The speech from the throne makes a record for brevity, being under 300 words. Bills to amend the King's Bench Act and Succession Duties Act will be brought down, and the estimates at an early date.

Behind Closed Doors.

Edinburgh, Feb. 5.—Tired of having his court turned into a theatre filled with curious men and women who have seemed to regard the Stirling-Cross divorce case as a lurid melodrama, produced for their benefit, Judge Guthrie yesterday closed the doors on all except those directly identified with the suits.

The Moving In Party.

"Yes, they have a new sort of function in Chicago that is quite the rage."

"What is it called?"

"It's called a moving in party. When the hostess learns that the empty house next door is to be occupied she calls her guests by telephone, and they come and draw cuts for the front windows and then sit there and size up the new neighbor's stuff as the movers carry it in."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Watch for "Jane Cable" in to-morrow's Review.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Shade Higher at Chicago, Lower at Buffalo.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 12c to 13½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10¼c to 10⅝c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO Feb. 4.—The railways reported a total of 129 carloads of live stock at the City Market for Wednesday and Thursday, consisting of 1981 cattle, 2646 hogs, 938 sheep and lambs, 118 calves and one horse.

Exporters.

There were a few export steers on the market, the bulk, if not all, of which were bought by Mr. George Rowntree for the Harris Abattoir Company, as prime butchers' cattle were scarce. Mr. Rowntree quoted them at $5 to $5.30, altho for a few odd cattle of extra quality he paid more money. Bulls for export ranged from $4 to $4.50.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers' cattle were very scarce, not more than two loads, or, say, 40 cattle out of nearly 2000 on sale, could be classed as such. These sold from $4.90 to $5.25, the latter figure being paid for 16 cattle, 1135 lbs. each, sold by McDonald & Halligan; Maybee & Wilson sold 10 cattle, 1080 lbs. each, at $4.90, but it must be remembered that these were equal in quality to best exporters. Loads of good butchers', $4.50 to $4.80. McDonald & Halligan sold two lots of 25 each, 1100 lbs. each, at the latter price; medium loads, $4 to $4.40; common, $3.50 to $3.90; cows, $3 to $4.25, with some extra quality, $4.40; canners and common cows, $1.50 to $2.60.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report a fair trade on the feeder market with a slightly easier feeling. Prices were about 10c per cwt. lower in each class of feeders and stockers. The Messrs. Murby bought 275 at following quotations: Best feeders 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $3.70 to $4.15; best stockers, 700 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.30 to $3.70; medium stockers, 600 to 900 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.50.

Milkers and Springers.

Receipts fairly large, with a fair trade at a little lower quotations generally. Prices ranged from $30 to $60, but few brought the latter figure. The average price of three loads of the best was $45 and $50 each. Common cows, $30 to $35.

Veal Calves.

A moderate supply of veal calves sold at $3 to $6.50, with a few of choice quality going at $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were light, which sold at firm prices. Sheep, ewes, $4 to $4.25; yearling ewes, $4.50; rams, $3 to $3.50; lambs, $5.50 to $6.40 per cwt.

Hogs.

Receipts of hogs were fairly liberal, 2646 from all sources for the two days. Mr. Harris quoted the market about steady at $6.90 for selects fed and watered at the market, and $6.65 f.o.b. cars at country points to the drovers.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Feb. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 150 head; fairly active and steady; prime steers, $6.25 to $7.50.

Veals—Receipts, 250 head; slow and 25c lower; $7 to $9.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 6800 head; slow and 5c to 10c lower; heavy and mixed, $6.60 to $6.70; yorkers, $6.25 to $6.60; pigs, $6 to $6.15; roughs, $5.50 to $5.80.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 14,000 head; slow and 25c to 35c lower; lambs, $5 to $7.40; yearlings, $6 to $6.50; wethers, $5 to $5.50; ewes, $4.50 to $4.75.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Beeves—Receipts, 255; feeling steady; choice stable-fed bulls sold at $4.40 per cwt.; dressed beef, slow, at 8c to 10c per lb. for native sides.

Calves—Receipts, 300; market steady; all sold; western calves at $4.75; no sales of veals; dressed calves, low; city dressed veal, 8c to 14c; country dressed, 7c to 12c.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2201; market steady; sheep, $3 to $5; lambs, $7.00 to $8; culls, $5 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2446; feeling nominally lower.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 2000; market steady; steers, $4.60 to $7; cows, $3 to $5.50; heifers, $3 to $5.75; bulls, $3.40 to $3.90; calves, $3.50 to $8.75; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5.40.

Hogs—Receipts, 42,000; market 10c higher; choice heavy shipping, $6.45 to $6.52½; butchers', $6.25 to $6.50; light mixed, $6 to $6.10; choice light, $6.15 to $6.30; packing, $6.10 to $6.45; pigs, $5 to $6; bulk of sales, $6.25 to $6.40.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 8000; market steady; sheep, $4.25 to $6.25; lambs, $6.75 to $7.55; yearlings, $5 to $6.50.

New Steel Discovery.

Sheffield, Eng., Feb. 5.—The Sheffield Independent announces that the firm of Jonas & Colver of Sheffield is now placing on the market a steel with from three to seven times the cutting power of existing high speed steel. This steel can be hardened in water, oil or blast.

Lake Traffic.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Domestic shipments from the various great lake ports were 25 per cent. less in 1908 than during the previous season, and about 20 per cent. less than during the season of 1906. During 1908 the shipments amounted to 60,518,024 tons.

George Barr McCutcheon's new story, "Jane Cable," starts in tomorrow's Review. Don't miss a copy of the paper while it is appearing.

Count Cassini Would Retire.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—Count Arthur Pavlovitch Cassini, who has been nearly 54 years in the Russian diplomatic service, has applied for retirement.

Coin Sells For $2,150.

London, Feb. 5.—At the sale at Sothebys yesterday of the coins collected by the late F. S. Benson of Brooklyn, N.Y., a rare tetradrachm, a silver coin of ancient Greece, sold for $2,150. A number of other coins brought from $100 to $1,600.

Kingston Votes Bonus.

Kingston, Feb. 5.—The bylaw to grant the Wormwith Company a bonus of $10,000 to rebuild the piano factory carried yesterday, for 2,114, against 206. This is 641 votes over the number required.

WANTED A NOTE

Strange Request of Man Out of Work — Wanted to Give it to His Wife.

A Peterborough man who called at several places in the city recently and asked for work doubtless knows the popular song "I used to be afraid to go home in the dark. Now, I'm afraid to go home at all."

The man in question saw a city official and asked for work. The officer told him he was sorry but he had none.

"Well, say Mister,' was his reply, 'would you mind writing a note to that effect saying there is no work to be had. I'm afraid to go home to the wife until I get either a job or the note.

The official staggered at the unusual request and said he could not do this that there might be some odd jobs available and that while the city had no work for the applicant that would not justify them in making a written statement for the wife's perusal, stating 'there was none available in Peterborough.

The man explained that he and his wife had no children but that they had been living on his father-in-law for some time. As he feared an "outbreak" when he got home and reported "nothing doing," he wanted to be prepared to pour oil on the troubled waters.

Don't miss the entertainment at Sons of England Hall on Friday evening February 5th. Controller H.C. Hocken gives an address on "The Rise and Progress" of the Orange Association. Tickets 25c. d3

IMPORTANT ADVICE
TO
SPECTACLE WEARERS
THREE PLAIN FACTS.
I.—That more eyes are injured by the injudicious use of Glass than by any other known cause
II.—That a great number of people are wearing spectacles unsuitable for them, and for which their eyes have not been tested.
III.—That the old fashioned and unscientific method of testing the eyes by trying on various spectables of different strengths until the sight is apparently suited, is to say the least of it, dangerous.
It cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the minds of those who suffer from defective eyesight that proper lenses and correctly fitting frames are absoluely essential for comfortable spectacle wearing. We grind our own lenses. Charges moderate.

ART EXHIBIT AT OLD BANK OF MONTREAL BUILDING WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

Successful in every way as was the exhibit last year under the auspices of the Peterborough Branch of the Woman's Art Association, there is every indication of the one this year being even more attractive. Practically all the pictures are here and have been placed by the committee in charge of the exhibition. The pictures are of rare value and recognized as masterpieces by the connosseiours of art.

They were recently exhibited in Toronto and were brought out to Canada through the personal influence of the President of the Women's Art Association, Mrs. Digman, of Toronto. She personally met the artists who painted them while she was on a trip abroad, and they consented to having them exhibited in Canada. At the exhibition in Toronto one of Jos. Israel's works sold for $3000, and the Dominion Government purchased some of Walter Crane's illustrations and designs for $500.

At the exhibition in Peterborough, which will be open to the public all next week at the old Bank of Montreal building commencing Monday at two o'clock. The admission will be 25 cents.

A SUCCESSFUL RECITAL BY ADVANCED PUPILS OF MR. RUPERT GLIDDON

The recital given by the advanced piano pupils of Mr. Rupert Gliddon at the Conservatory Music Hall attracted an attendance of about 400 persons, who were thoroughly delighted with the indications of instruction and capable musical culture, which the programme afforded. The work of the pupils during the evening was uniformly good, showing an intelligent spirit of the selections performed allied with very effective technical skill. In these respects the excellence of the teaching imparted by Mr. Gliddon was very gratifyingly demonstrated. The pianists were assisted by Miss Myrtle Kline, of Lakefield, a vocal pupil of Herr Lautz of the Conservatory staff. She gave pleasing variation to the programme by singing very sweetly the selection "Coolan Dhu," by Weatherly, and in answer to a recall she sang "Absence," with the same excellency of expression and method that characterized her principal number.

Special attention is due to some of the numbers. Miss Sisson rather ambitious double number, "A Berceuse," by Chopin and Liszt's "Venezia Gondoliera," one of his characteristic travel numbers, exhibited a fine conception of the selections and the technical ability to give them becoming expression.

Altogether the performance of the young artists was excellent and represented a fine tribute to the teaching resources of the Conservatory. Following is the programme:

Liszt, Rakocy, Marsh, Faust, for two pianos, Mrs. Hodgson, Misses Sison, McKee and Starke.

Lack, Valse, Arabesque, Geraldine Rudkins.

(a) Chopin, Berceuse.
(b) Liszt, Venezia Gondeliera, Miss Sisson.

Godard, Mazurka, Miss Irvine.

Nevin, Notturno, from "A Day in Tuscany," Miss Starke.

Weatherly, Coolan Dhu, vocal, Miss Kline.

(a) Chopin, Valse—A flat
(b) Nevan, Shepherds All the Maidens Fair, Miss Buck.

Beethoven, Moonlight Sonata, Miss McKee.

Rachmaninoff, Prelude, C sharp Minor, Miss McGill.

Mozart, Zauber Flaute, for two pianos, Mrs. Hodgson, Misses Sisson, Starke and McKee.

DEATH OF MR. WM. J. GORDON

Aged Resident of the City Passed Away Last Evening

Wm. James Gordon, an aged resident of the city, and one known and respected by a large circle of friends, passed away yesterday at his home, 253 Stewart street. He was seventy-eight years of age, and had been confined to his room since the first of the year, and had not been in the best of health for the past five years. Mr. Gordon was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, and came to Canada thirty-six years ago, settling in Peterborough. For thirteen years he had been city nightwatchman, and for five years was nightwatchman at the Peterborough Lock Works. He is survived by his wife and one son, Mr. James Gordon, of the Street Railway Company. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock from 253 Stewart street, to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

FEBRUARY 8, BOOK CLOSES Don't forget that; Monday, February 8th is the last day for settling accounts by cash or note· H. LeBRUN & CO. d3

THE ART EXHIBIT

"So you are having an exhibition in the rooms over the old Bank of Montreal next week. I suppose you have some local work and the same Dutch pictures that were here last winter."

"No Sir. Both your suppositions are incorrect. The oil paintings are from Scotland; the water colors from Holland the designs from England and none of them have ever been in our city before.

All, including Miss Wallis' and Monsieur Valdeman's statuary are for sale with the exception of course of the bronze statue loaned to the association by Mr Walters of Montreal, and by the way, Mr Walters is a brother-in-law of our local furrier, Mr Leoh.

This statuary will attract a great many people. You should make it a point to attend the exhibit when it opens at two o'clock. The light is good then.

I hear you have several interesting series of illustrations for books."

"Yes. Our room is devoted to Walter Crane's designs which have never been exhibited in Canada. The flower wedding is a series almost covering one wall. In the hall are costume designs and illustrations of such stories as "Puss in Boots'; "Beauty and the Beast,' "'Faerie Queen." decorate other walls, as well as designs for stained glass, carpet, etc.

The name of Walter Crane is almost a household word among English speaking people and well known in Germany, Holland, France and Italy. If you have never heard of him don't let anyone know. The oils and water colors are creating a great deal of enthusiasm. I think we have altogether about 100 pictures.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., headmaster of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has very kindly consented to deliver an address before the members of the Young Conservative Club on Saturday evening next Feb. 6th. His subject will be "Caesar." The great Roman general, who conquered Britain, and left perhaps the greatest name in history ultimately yielded up his life to what the Romans thought was his dangerous desire to rule them as king and dictator. He is best remembered, however, by the average man as the author of "The Commentaries," which begin with the oft-quoted statement that all Gaul is divided into three parts. The club has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Kenner for one of its series of educational lectures. Members only are entitled to attend. This provision has been found necessary in order to preserve the privileges of the club to members.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Mr. Mowat's class met as usual last evening. The evening with the "Vicar of Wakefield," proved most interesting, and Mr. Mowat promised that next week's study from "Pride and Prejudice," will be equally good.

The Bible Circle will study "Joseph" this evening. All girls made most welcome. Come and enjoy an hour with us.

The Junior Sunshine Club meets each Saturday at two o'clock. Bright music, stories, sewing and games in the gymnasium. All girls invited.

Tuesday evening is the social evening of the association. We hope to welcome new faces next Tuesday.

THEATRICAL

"Rory of the Hills"

Bernard Daly in "'Rory of the Hills" attracted a large audience to the Grand Opera House last night, and the Irish singer and his capable company were given an enthusiastic reception. "Rory of the Hills" is an Irish play of the conventional type and it possesses much that appeals to the lover of this class of drama. The are bright and the plot an interesting one. The climax of each act was excellent and great enthusiasm was occasioned. Mr Daly sang several Irish songs in good voice and had numerous encores.

The supporting company was excellent

PRESENTATION TO MR. M. RUTH

Librarian at Bethel Sunday School Honored a Few Days Ago

Bethel, Feb 2—As has already been intimated in these columns many of the Sunday School teachers of Bethel received presents. Bethel people believe in retaining the Christmas spirit. On Thursday evening last, the League and Sunday School presented Mr Moses Ruth with a handsome writing desk and an address. Mr Ruth is librarian and takes an active part in all church, Sunday School and League work as the following will testify:

To Mr Moses Ruth,—

The occasion which draws us together tonight is one of special interest to all, an occasion into the spirit of which each may enter with general appreciation and esteem as we meet to offer our praise, in a more permanent and tangible form than in the mere expression of words, to one who has been and is yet the mainspring of all our church polity in all the organizations of church work, we find him fulfilling no secondary position, but it is for his undying fidelity and devotion, his regular attendance at the Sabbath School and Epworth League, that we wish to express our unfeigned appreciation and esteem in a manner which shall yet live when these lines of address have long been relegated to the mystic realms of the forgotten.

Dear Brother, we have not been unmindful of your keen interest, pertaining to the spiritual, and especially have we marked, with appreciation and gratitude your earnest zeal and devotion in performing your duties as officer in both the Sabbath School and Epworth League.

The influence of a good life shall never pass, "like fragrance on the desert air," but shall make itself felt not only in the church but in the community and hence in the body politic we have received your teaching, which has been so freely given by precept and example, and the influence of your life has been a stimulant prompting us to better things; an incentive to nobler deeds.

It was Aristotle who said "Every person should have a purpose in life sufficiently lofty to justify the spending of life in endeavoring to reach it," and over against this statement we may place the words of another authority the one preeminently sublime, "I am come that they might have life and that they may have it more abundantly. We are persuaded that in the higher life you have found the ultimate of your life, and though it requires life's service, yet the influence of such a life can never go unrewarded.

We, the members of the Bethel Sabbath School and Epworth League, therefore take this opportunity of presenting to you this writing desk and humbly ask that you accept it, not on account of its material value, but as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held, and while using it may you feel you are using your friends.

May you long be spared, not only to use the desk, but to employ your talents in the service of the Master, rendering such assistance in the Sabbath school and Epworth League as He may deem your portion, in the establishing of his glorious kingdom and to wield a general influence for righteousness in the community. In future years we may be scattered, God knows where, but as fond remembrance upon her downy wings, carries you back to the present evening and attending circumstances we humbly beg to share of your thoughts, and may this token be a tie to bind our hearts in mutual friendship.

Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love,
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above.

Signed in behalf of the Bethel Sunday School and Epworth League.
REV. G. T. McKENZIE.
Bethel church, Jan 28th, 1909.

After the reading of the address, Mr Ruth, who was completely taken by surprise made a very appropriate reply thanking the donors for their kind wishes and for the beautiful present and exhorting the young people to strive to take up Christian duties when their parents grew too old to perform them.

Don't forget Mr. Robt. Henderson's gigantic sale of farm stock and implements one week from Tuesday, February 9th. The sale will be without reserve as Mr Henderson is going to the West. Good accommodation for horses. Everyone come.

WEATHER FOR FEBRUARY ACCORDING TO MR. HICKS

A regular storm period covers the first five days of February, which is central on the 3rd. By the 1st and 2nd the barometer will be falling, and the temperature will be rising in western sections of the country. By the 3rd, cloudiness and storm areas will be organized, and during the 3rd to 6th, rain, wind and snow will prevail generally, passing progressively from western to eastern extremes of the country. The storms of this period will reach their culminating severity, and extent in connection with the full moon on and touching the 5th. By the 5th storms will have turned to driving snow in the north and west, followed closely by rising barometer, high north-west winds and change to much colder. Cold, fair weather will advance eastward and southward in the immediate rear of those progressive storms, reaching in varying dgrees of frigidity most parts of the country by the 7th to 8th. We believe that earthquakes and general seismic shivers will grow less frequent as we pass through the interim between the Jupiter periods; but, in some degrees such phenomena will continue in regular cycles. The 5th is the central day of such a period, embracing about the 3rd to 8th, notably the 4th, 5th and 6th.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 8th, 9th and 10th. At this time look out for marked reaction to warmer beginning in the west. Falling barometer will follow, bringing cloudiness and rain, with possibly electrical storms southward on and touching the 9th. As these storms move eastward, the west sides of storm areas will turn to snow, and be followed immediately by rising barometer and much colder, fair weather. Learn well this lesson of storm and anti-storm areas passing periodically across the country from west to east, and you will rarely "get left" in your calculations of what will reach your locality at regular intervals.

A regular storm period extends from the 13th to the 18th, being central on the 15th. This period, as is shown by the storm diagram, lies within the interference of Earth's vernal equinox. Hence equatorial disturbances are possible, and probable in southern extremes at this and following periods in February. We will name the 15th, 16th and 17th as the central days of the storm developments. On and touching these dates, low barometer and storms of rain, turning to snow, will touch most sections in their eastward passage across the country. Astronomic conditions at this time indicate that disturbances may over-run the limits of this period, uniting with the next storm period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 20th, 21st and 22nd. This period is at the incoming of the Mercury disturbance, with new moon immediately preceding, also containing moon in perigee and on the equator. Marked barometric depression will appear at the beginning or as early as the 19th, attended by growing warmth, and during Saturday, the 20th, to Tuesday, the 23rd, general and decided storms of rain, wind and thunder will visit regions to the southward, turning to heavy and destructive sleet storms over central to northern sections. Blizzards are entirely possible at the culmination of this period. There is strong probability of West India hurricanes at and about this period. Barometer conditions in all the Gulf and south coast regions should be persistently watched and heeded. In all probability seismic shakes will be reported from many parts of the Globe within three days of sunset on the 19th, most likely on the 20th, 21st and 22nd.

A regular storm period falls on the last four days of the month, being central with that of the mercury period, on the 26th. Moon also passes first quarter on the 26th. The barometer will fall decidedly on entering this period and renewed storms of rain, sleet and snow will visit, in some form or other, almost the entire country on and touching the 26th, 27th and 28th. This is a time when the sleet god will have a picnic with the wires. Watch and see!

OTTAWA AS THE CENTRE FOR THE ANGLICAN CHURCH

Proposal of the "Canadian Churchman" to Make Ottawa the Permanent See for Canada—Advantages are Outlined

That the city of Ottawa be made the permanent seat of government for the whole of the Church of England in Canada is the interesting suggestion made in the last issue of the Canadian Churchman of Toronto, which is recognized as the official organ of the Anglican Church of the Dominion. The Churchman also announces that the Bishop of Ottawa will succeed the late Archbishop Sweatman as Primate of all Canada.

The Churchman says;

"The successor to Archbishop Sweatman will presumably be Bishop Hamilton, of Ottawa. The principle followed up to the present has been to hand on the office to the Senior Bishop, and there is no reason for deviating from the practice at this juncture. Bishop Hamilton will in every way grace the office with dignity and efficiency. Although now the senior Prelate of the Canadian Church, Bishop Hamilton is recognized as one of the most democratic in attitude and action of all the bishops on the bench.

"In theory it would not seem to be a wise method to place the responsibility of the highest office of the Church upon the shoulders of the oldest prelate. Age is not always the best qualification for the most exacting duties. There is this advantage at all events in the method, the spirit of rivalry is removed from among our chief pastors. There are no searching of hearts, no casting up of chances, no reaching out for promotion, for the date of election settles the question.

"Some day the alternative may be reasoned of having a small diocese erected—say the city of Ottawa and suburbs,—a diocese that would require but a small portion of a bishop's time, and to the head of the diocese would be elected the Primate of all Canada from among the Bishops throughout the country. The man best qualified for real leadership in the Church would then be selected, not by the diocese, but by the whole Church. In this way the office of Primate would become a much greater force, possessing greater initiative and control."

FAVORS PROPOSAL.

Then Lord Bishop of Ottawa when questioned in regard to the proposal to make Ottawa the permanent centre of the activities of the Canadian Church, pronounced strongly in favor of the idea.

"The advantages of having a permanent centre," said Lord Bishop, "are unmistakable. Continuity of management one diocese would bring greater influence and permanency than can be obtained under the present system of having the central seat of the Church at whatever diocese the prelate who happens to be elected Primate is stationed. Winnipeg is now the permanent seat of the Church in the west, and there is no reason why Ottawa, for instance, should not be made the permanent capital of the whole Canadian Church. I think the proposal will be carried into effect in time. However, I expect that it will meet with some opposition, as some of the other dioceses might not wish to give up their chances of sometime becoming the Primate's see."

THE PACIFICS WON IN THREE STRAIGHT GAMES AT P.B.C.

The Pacifics took three straight games from the Examiner A team and are now the undisputed leaders of the ten pin league. With the exception of the second string, which, by the way, comprises a league record the games were close and hard fought throughout, no better bowling having been witnessed since the league opened.

The Pacifics won on their team work Connors pulling them out in the first game while his team mates saved the other two games when John eff.

Cairns, of the Examiner A team, was hardly himself, but the other two were toppling the pins over in winning form and succeeded in piling up mnh form and succeeded in piling up a score that would have won the majority of games.

The bowlers who are to meet the Toronto teams will leave tomorrow afternoon and the party will include Barber, Ford, MacRae, Lillie, Martin, McIlroy, Lacheur, Cairns, Ferguson and Hay.

The Toronto club has selected its team and they have made sure to get the strongest five available to meet the locals in the big game, the Queen City representatives including such renowned trundlers as Bert Neil, Yorks, Pinler and Herb Gillis, all names to conjure with the bowling world.

Last night's scores were;

PACIFICS

Lillie	148	196	181	525
Connors	180	159	150	489
McIlroy	148	236	185	569
	476	591	516	1583

EXAMINER A

Cairns	154	174	133	461
Glover	160	168	180	508
Lacheur	140	181	174	495
	454	523	487	1464

Majority for Pacifics—119 pins.

THERE WILL BE GOOD ICE FOR THE GAME TO-NIGHT

In spite of the mild weather there will be good ice for the game tonight between Peterborough and Lindsay. The local interest in the game is intense and it has been the chief topic of conversation in sporting circles since the great battle between the two teams in Lindsay when the Soumas seven captured the game by 7-3. On this they will give the Peterborough seven a great run and seem to be confident of winning. With the team strengthened by Morgan the locals should be able to trim the visitors but things often shape up differently than anticipated as was shown by the Lakefield-Strath game last night.

Referee W Hancock of Toronto will officiate and the teams will line-up as follows;

LINDSAY

Goal—Newton.
Point—Koyle.
Cover—Sullivan.
Rover—Stoddard.
Centre—Taylor.
Right—Randall.
Left—Cotey.

PETERBOROUGH

LAKEFIELD ARE CHAMPIONS SURPRISE FOR STRATHS; WERE DEFEATED BY 8-6

It came as a big surprise and probably a bigger surprise to the champion Strathconas than any others—Lakefield 8, Straths 6. That's how the City League game at Brock street rink resulted, and it was by long odds the most exciting struggle seen in the series this season. The Cement Town septette made the big audience gasp by the way they scored 1, 2, 3, 4, before their opponents could realize that they were up against an altogether unexpected proposition. Nobody thought that the villagers would be able to defeat the winners of the red and white at least no one with perhaps the exception of a few enthusiasts, who were confident supporters of the northern outfit. Even in Lakefield among those who were inclined to place any money on the game, a favorite wager was even money that Strathconas would double the score.

For the first ten minutes or so the champions were played completely off their feet, and it was easily to be seen that if they didn't brace up it would be a runaway match with nothing but Lakefield to it. But the locals did brace up however, and during the whole of the second half had the better of the argument. Lakefield was in the game all the time though, and played a fast and hard-checking game. The forward line worked with speed and system, checking and rushing in a very determined way. The form and vigor of the line was unexpected, and in spite of the great pace set at the commencement of the game, the local option men were playing strong at the finish and in fact, scored the last goal of the night.

The crowd seemed very much pleased with the exhibition, and the fact that Lakefield carried off the game and the championship of the city league. The Straths are a local team and that they were not more popular with the audience is somewhat unusual, but nevertheless the victory seemed to be met with a great deal of approval. The Straths also had a big crowd of supporters, and during the entire match the shouting and cheering were intense. The game was an unexpectedly good one, the players of both teams showing clever individual work. In the matter of combination the Straths appeared to better advantage and made some sweeping onslaughts on the Lakefield nets. They managed to beat out the visitors defence on many occasions, but Crawford played a good game and turned aside a large number of shots that looked like sure scores.

The most brilliant and most consistent man on the ice was Quinn, the cover point of the new champions. He played a strong and dashing game and followed the puck around with great persistency. He played cover and a second rover at the same time, and when he started a rush Lakefield supporters always became excited and urged him to find the nets. He seemed to play pretty much of an individual game, but used his head well and passed when he thought it was advantageous to do so. Simpson, Moran Quigley and Sabatino also played their positions excellently, Moran putting up the best exhibition he ever has on local ice. Sabatino played a cool and effective game at point while Crawford in goal, as has been before mentioned, guarded his flags in good fashion.

To the credit of the Strathconas it must be said that they have a seven that can play the game from the drop of the hat; but when they came on the ice under the impression that they would be able to defeat the Lakefield aggregation with something held in reserve, there was a big surprise package to be handed them. The hockey public thought that the home team would win, and while the match would be an interesting one, would be on the top at the finish with a good majority. The Straths themselves apparently had lots of confidence, which was perhaps justified by their fine showing all this season. And last winter they defeated the same line-up that Lakefield presented last night by a score of 9—0.

For the losers Dusty, McMillan, McWilliams and Long did clever work, and the first mentioned deserves special commendation, when it is considered that he was not in the best of shape. Jack Seymour scintillated at times, but his style of playing did not meet with the approval of Referee Rose. That official, it might be said, had the task of his career, but he handled the game in a capable way and showed good judgment.

THE GAME.

Moran scored the first in 1 1-2 min. 1—0.

Quinn took the next in 2 min. 2—0.

Simpson was given 1 minute for tripping.

Lakefield was having decidedly the better of the play, and it was quite apparent that Strathconas would have to do much better than they were doing if they expected to win out. T. Sabatinio got the third goal in 2 min. 3—0.

Quinn scored in 2 min. 4—0.

Dusty was benched for 1 minute. Dusty started the first bit of playing that showed Strath's real form for the first time of the night and passed to McMillan, who found the nets. 3 min. 4—1.

Quigley and Long were each given a minute. Long sent one between the posts on a pretty shot. 4—2.

McWilliams took the penalty seat for 1 minute. Moran tallied the last goal in the first half. 5 min. 5—2.

Seymour Sabatino and Long were all penalized before the bell rang for half time.

SECOND HALF.

The Strathconas played Dobson at point and McWilliams on the line, and the change seemed a good one.

Long took the first on a pass from Dusty. 5—3.

T. Sabatino scored in 5 min. 6—3.

T. Sebatino was penalized 1 min. for slashing.

McMillan did the trick in 2 min. 6—4.

Seymour was given 2 min. for bodying Quinn too heavily.

Moran sent in one that beat out Wilson. 2 min. 7—4.

Seymour was put to the boards for 1 minute. Long was given the same. Simpson was sidetracked for two minutes. Long scored. 1 min. 7—5.

Dusty incurred the referee's displeasure and was given a short rest. Crawford laid across his goal and was penalized for 1 minute. Seymour tallied in 3 min. 7—6.

Quinn on the most spectacular play of the night, took the next goal in 2 1-2 minutes, making the final score Lakefield 8, Strathconas 6.

"ART" MANN IS PLAYING IN THE WEST

"Art" Mann, formerly of Peterborough, is playing hockey with the the team at Grand Forks, B.C., where he is residing at present. The Grand Forks team is playing in a league composed of Grand Forks, Phoenix and Greenwood. Grand Forks and Phoenix are tied for first place. Reporting a recent game the Grand Forks Gazette says;

"A very nice individual play was made in the latter part by Mann, he taking the puck the full stretch of the rink alone and making a successful shot on the Greenwood net.

Cold Storage Poultry.

The state board of health of Massachusetts has issued a bulletin on cold storage poultry in which this advice is given to housekeepers: "In order to avoid obtaining waterlogged and refrozen fowls the consumer should demand the frozen bird and thaw it himself. If thawed quickly by immersion in a bucket of hot water it may be eaten with impunity and with relish the same day it is purchased, or if hung overnight at room temperature it may be ready for use the day following."

The Funny English.

James S. Palmer, vice president elect of the United States, may possibly look forward to filling one day the position of president. It will be remembered that on the death of President McKinley, Mr. Roosevelt, who was then vice president, succeeded automatically to the presidency without opposition. Should anything happen to Mr. Taft (which we sincerely trust, for his sake, may not be the case) Mr. Palmer would probably, if precedent were followed, take his place. — Illustrated London News.

Restrictions in New York Society.

The lines drawn by the different sets are more rigid in New York than ever before. There is a rush of new people to get into society, and old families who have stayed away for a decade or a generation are coming back and trying to assume their old places. Sometimes victories have to be accomplished with the aid of the nouveau riche, and the results are quite confusing and yet laughable. Localities do not count as much as they once did, and gradually New York is getting away from the Philadelphia idea of fencing in a small territory and condemning every one who lives outside of it.—Vogue.

A Monster Loaf.

Bakers in Germany are fond of making odd experiments, the following being reported from Duisburg, in Westphalia. At a children's party recently held in that town there was exhibited and afterward cut up and distributed among the youngsters present a bread twist which for size at least has surely rarely been equaled. Weighing no less than 180 pounds, it had a breadth of 1.70 meters and a length of 3.20 meters and was thus found sufficient to supply a satisfactory afternoon collation to as many as 500 boys and girls.—Bakers' Weekly.

World's Busiest Railway Station.

Which is the busiest railway station in the world? One would naturally expect to find it in the world's metropolis, but it is located in a city that has only a tenth of the population of London. Every day 150,000 passengers pass through the Flinders street station in Melbourne. Our own Liverpool street station, according to an Australian statistician, comes next, with 128,000.—London Chronicle.

Royal and Presidential Wages.

The great white czar gets a salary of $25,000 a day; the sultan of Turkey, $18,000; the emperor of Austria, $12,000; the kaiser, $11,290; the king of Italy, about $7,200; the king of England, $6,270; Leopold of Belgium, $1,700, and President Roosevelt, $137. Napoleon's salary was about $15,000 a day. The president of France gets about $617 a day.—Chicago Journal.

ANOTHER FOR ST. ANDREW'S

Defeated George St. in Leagu Game Last Night, 7-0—Play Was Slow

St. Andrew's beat George street in a listless game last night at Knox rink and went up another rung towards the championship of the church league. The match was played between eight and nine o'clock, and was slow in spots, the spots being rather numerous. The ice was a little soft and this had something to do with the slowness of the pace. The half time score was 1—0, but the second half was somewhat of a walk-over for the Presbyterians. The George street forwards couldn't get by Flanagan, who was the best man on the ice. Harry Morgan was referee and gave perfect satisfaction. Eight penalties for minor offences were handed out.

LOWERS RECORD

Fred Simpson Broke American Outdoor Mark for Fifteen Miles in Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 4.—Fred Simpson, the Canadian Indian, who is ambitious to wrest the laurels from Longboat, Shrubb, et al., lowered the outdoor record for fifteen miles here to-day. He ran over a part of the Grand Prix automobile course. Time 1.27 24-5.

Five miles of the run was in the teeth of a stiff wind. He finished strong, and afterwards gave an exhibition of his sprinting in front of the grand stand. Simpson is here to train for the international Marathon which will be run in Madison Square Garden on St. Patrick's Day.

LIKE HAMMERED GOLD.

Proposed Monument For the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition monument, to be the crowning work of sculpture of the international exhibition of 1909, will be covered with solid gold leaf. Gold donations to the amount of $7,000, necessary to completely cover the great shaft with the shining metal, will be solicited from Alaskans, Yukoners and the people of Seattle.

An appropriation to cover the cost of building the monument in staff has been authorized, the drawings made and the sculptor is engaged in building his clay model. The monument is to stand in the center of the plaza in front of the magnificent group of United States government buildings and directly at the head of the Cascades.

Looking south from the monument will be first the central features of the exposition, and then the eye will travel over a panorama of eighty miles of mountain, lake and woodland scenery to Rainier and the Cascade range.

The exposition monument is to be more than seventy feet in height. The monument proper will stand on a pedestal twenty feet high. This column will be of Corinthian design on the top of which will be a globe giving the signs of the zodiac. On top of this globe will be a huge American eagle with outstretched wings, as in flight. Grouped about the base of the monument will be three seated female figures symbolic of the northland, the south seas and the orient. Every foot of this great monument will have the appearance of having been hammered out of pure gold if the donations are sufficient to complete the undertaking.—Seattle Times.

Youthful Suicides.

There is a shocking proneness among youthful Bengalis to kill themselves on the least pretext. It seems to be an exaggerated form of sulkiness, and one would like to have a medical opinion on the matter. A student is reprimanded by his parent because his studies don't show the advancement expected. The boy swallows some opium and ends his studies. A girl wife in Howrah takes a dislike to the second choice of her husband. She also secures an exit by the easy means of opium. A Bengal woman in Howrah wanted to go on a pilgrimage to Gaya. Her mother said she could not advance the railway fare, and the girl went out to a tree and hanged herself. These are all recent cases.—Calcutta Empire.

A Pleasant Prison.

The prison at Cettinje, Montenegro, has been described as surely the most extraordinary one in existence. It presents little to indicate that it is a place of confinement, there being apparently nothing between the prisoners and absolute liberty. There are no outer prison walls, and in the cells the men—about eight or ten to each—are as contentedly and comfortably housed as their own personal domestic belongings can make them. Moreover, they are generously fed, and cigarettes without stint, wine occasionally and no work at all combine to check any desire to escape more effectually than would strong walls, iron bars and an army of jailers.—London Globe.

Tees In the Treetops.

Here is a story speaking better for the German emperor's goodness of heart than his knowledge of the ancient and royal game of golf. "So you want ground for your golf club, Sir Frank?" said the kaiser to the British ambassador at Berlin. "We haven't got nice grass meadows round Berlin, as you have in England, but I'll give you a bit of the Grunewald," a pine forest near Berlin and a great Sunday resort of the Berliners. "Ah, sire," Sir Frank Lascelles replied, "I am afraid there would be too many trees!" "Trees!" instantly replied the emperor, with bonhomie. "All the better to keep the sun off you when you are playing in the summer!"

THE SEA BAT.

Specimen of a Fish That Is Both Queer and Rare.

One of the rarest specimens of the fish kingdom known to waters contiguous to the North Carolina coast was captured in a seine at Masonboro sound by William Hewlett, a fisherman, says the Wilmington Dispatch. The fish, which was brought to the city, is what is called "the sea bat," and it is a perfect reproduction of a leather wing bat on a large scale. The fish is about fifteen inches long and about thirty inches across the back.

Strange to state, it had a thin, threadlike tail about fifteen inches in length, and on each side of the rear appendage were two perfectly formed gloved feet, with a smaller dimension having the exact appearance of a thumb with the other part of the hand mittened. The mouth of the strange specimen was about five inches across, and on each side of the mouth or the underside of the body there were five "strainers," or holes, through which the fish is said to rid itself of refuse products resulting from the forage it picks up at the bottom of the sea. The top of the fish was a dark slate color, and the under part of the body was white.

One old negro fisherman more than seventy years old declared that this was only the second specimen of the sea bat he had ever seen in his long experience as a fisherman. The specimen, which had a truly uncanny appearance, will probably be sent to the state museum at Raleigh.

Frying Pan Stage.

"The late Mrs. William Astor," said a colonial dame, "took, after all, an optimistic view of American society. She criticised our faults, but she believed in our future. American society, she used to say, would eventually be the finest in the world. Once she declared at a dinner that it was the proper social sequence to get, like us, the money first and the refinement and culture afterward. She said that when she looked at the uncouth millionaire of today and thought of the splendid creature to come after him she felt as optimistic as the fisherman who, casting his line, brought up a frying pan and said:

"'Oh, that's a good beginning—a frying pan! I have only to catch a fish now and I shall be all right.'"—Washington Post.

Ancient Mariners.

That the Egyptians made sea voyages long before the time of Solomon, hitherto considered the first ocean traveler on a large scale, is declared by Professor James H. Breasted to be conclusively proved by a tablet found by him in Palermo, Sicily, during the three years' exploring trip from which he recently returned. Professor Breasted asserts that the inscriptions on the tablet show that the Egyptian king who built the first pyramids made a voyage with forty ships across the Mediterranean to Lebanon to obtain cedar for a temple. This journey, according to the professor, was made in the thirtieth century B. C., or 2,000 years before Solomon made his voyage for a similar purpose.

An Ocean Sanitarium.

Some particulars are given in the British Medical Journal of a proposal to provide an ocean sanitarium for tuberculosis. The suggestion is to fit up a sailing ship of about 2,000 tons for not less than fifty patients, each to be provided with a large and well ventilated cabin. The deck would be used for what is commonly called the veranda treatment. The intention of the promoters is that the ship shall cruise in the neighborhood of the Canaries, where it will have the advantage of the trade winds and of an equable climate, while a port will not be far distant in case of the onset of bad weather.

A Majestic Ice Wall.

In a letter from Professor Edgeworth Davis, a member of the British antarctic expedition now seeking a way toward the south pole, there occurs a vivid description of the great antarctic ice barrier, which was encountered by the little ship Nimrod. "It is a sight," says Professor Davis, "that beggars all description. Imagine a continuous ice wall 500 miles long and one to two hundred feet high, the exquisite blue of the crevasses contrasting finely with the dazzling white of the weathered ice on either side of them."

Good Word For Veils.

"It is those big veils that fasten down tight under the chin and ears that I want to put in a good word for," said the bacteriologist. "It may be that they ruin the eyes and shut out a lot of fresh air, as some folk claim, but they prevent women from putting dirty pieces of money into their mouths and so keep enough germs out of the system to make up for the other disadvantages."—New York Press.

Bull of the Irish Secretary.

A genuine bull is credited to Augustine Birrell, secretary for Ireland, by a Bristol correspondent of the London News.

"It is easier," Mr. Birrell affirmed in the course of a public speech at Bristol, "to face your foes in front of you than your friends behind your back."

A machine helper named Stafford fell 60 feet in the City of Cobaltmine and was instantly killed.

THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION

Report of Proceedings of the Twenty-seventh Annual General Meeting.

The Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of The Toronto General Trusts Corporation was held in the Board Room of the Corporation, on the corner of Yonge and Colborne streets, Toronto, on Wednesday, the 3rd of February, 1909.

There were present.—

Hon. J. J. Foy, K.C., M.P.P.; Hon. Senator Jaffray, Hamilton Cassels, K.C.; Sir Wm. Mortimer Clark, K.C.; W. D. Matthews, B. E. Walker, S. Nordheimer, Thos. Long, Geo. Porter, Frederick Wyld, J. Bruce Macdonald, Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C., LL.D., John L. Blaikie, Hon. S. C. Wood, Peter Freysing, E. Galley, Fred. C. Jarvis, J. G. Scott, K.C.; Alex. Nairn, Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D., J. W. Langmuir, W. B. Couch, W. R. Brock, A. L. Malone, W. Ince, John Paton, H. J. Wright, F. R. Dymond, A. Brunning, A. D. Langmuir, W. G. Watson.

The President, Dr. Hoskin, took the chair, and Mr. A. D. Langmuir, the Assistant Manager, acted as Secretary to the meeting.

The financial statements showing the operations of the Corporation for the year ended 31st December, 1908, were submitted and commented upon by the Managing Director, Mr. J. W. Langmuir.

The report to the Shareholders was then read as follows:

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st DECEMBER, 1908.

To the Shareholders.—

Your Directors have pleasure in submitting the Twenty-seventh Annual Report of the Corporation, together with the usual Financial Statements, showing the operations of the Corporation, and the results of the same for the year ended 31st December, 1908.

Business has been accepted by the Corporation during the past year to the amount of $3,312,171.00, as follows,—

Executorships	$997,552.52
Administrations	432,360.57
Trusteeships	983,922.45
Guardianships and Committeeships	37,670.58
Agencies	248,616.91
Guaranteed Investments	382,238.32
General Investment Agencies	82,503.85
Lunatic Estates, Receiverships, etc	147,305.80
	$3,312,171.00

The Corporation has also been appointed during the year as Trustee for the issue of Bonds for a very considerable amount, as well as to the position of Registrar, Transfer Agent and other capacities not included in the above summary.

The gross profits derived from the operation of the various branches of the Corporation's business are plainly set out in the Profit and Loss Statement herewith submitted, amounting to $275,150.69, as compared with $262,726.54 in the previous year, or an increase of $12,424.15. After deducting the entire cost of the management at Head Office and the Winnipeg and Ottawa Branches, the net amount at credit of Profit and Loss, including the balance brought forward, is $153,350.66, as compared with $135,868.78 last year. Out of this amount your Directors have declared and paid two semi-annual dividends at the rate of seven and one-half (7 1-2) per cent per annum, amounting to $75,000; have entirely written off the amount at the debit of office furniture and vault fixtures, amounting to $5,933.50; have placed $50,000 to Reserve account bringing that fund up to $450,000, and have carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss the sum of $22,417.16.

Your Board appointed Sir William Mortimer Clark, K.C., to the Directorate in the stead of Mr. Albert E. Gooderham, who resigned therefrom owing to the great press of work and inability to attend the meetings of the Board; otherwise the personnel of the Board remains the same as at the beginning of the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director
JOHN HOSKIN, President.

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE.

We the undersigned, beg to report that we have made a full examination of the books, accounts and vouchers of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation to the 31st December, 1908, and find same to be correct and properly set forth in the above statement of Profit and Loss and Assets and Liabilities. We have examined and find in order all the mortgages, debentures, bonds and scrip of the corporation, as well as those negotiated for the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario and Trusts, Estates and Agencies in the Corporation's hands, and have checked same with the Mortgage and Debenture Ledgers and Registers. The Bankers' balances, after deducting outstanding cheques, agree with the books of the Corporation.

We have also examined the reports of the Auditors of the Winnipeg and Ottawa Branches and find that they agree with the Head Office books.

MANAGING DIRECTOR'S ADDRESS.

The Managing Director, Mr. J. W. Langmuir, in presenting the voluminous statements showing the operations of the Corporation during the past year said:

I feel confident that the results of the year's work as set out in the statements which I have just read will be accepted by the Shareholders as satisfactory. The Profit and Loss Statement so plainly sets out the operations of the Corporation during the year that I need not take up your time in commenting on the various sources of revenue as given in that statement. Suffice it to say that the gross profits of the year amount to $275,150.69, and after paying the entire expenses of the management of the business. At Head Office and the Ottawa and Winnipeg Branches the net profits amount to $131,181.88, to which has to be added $22,168.78, brought forward from last year, making the total amount at credit of Profit and Loss $153,350.66. Out of these profits your Directors have paid the Shareholders a seven and one-half (7 1-2) per cent dividend for the year, amounting to $75,000; have written off $5,933.50 from vault equipment and office furniture, being balance at debit of this account; have placed $50,000 to Reserve Account (increasing that fund to $450,000), and have carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss Account $22,417.16.

Included in our Capital and Reserve funds are our buildings at Toronto and Ottawa. The former is taken in at $150,000, including vaults, vault fixtures and safe deposit boxes, which alone cost over $50,000. The Ottawa building, which stands at $175,000, is situated in the very best part of that city, and, as some of you may know, is one of the finest buildings on Sparks street. The net rents from these buildings, including a very moderate charge for our own occupation, and also including the rents received from the safe deposit vaults amount to $22,988.50, being equivalent to a return of a fraction over seven (7) per cent on the $325,000 at which amount our buildings stand on our books. You will therefore see that this portion of our $1,450,000 of Capital and Reserve is well and permanently invested. I think that these buildings at a very conservative valuation and having regard to the net rents received, are worth somewhat over $400,000, and even if increased to that amount would yield a return of nearly 5 3-4 per cent, thereby increasing our Reserve Fund to over half a million dollars instead of $450,000. You will also observe that, in addition to the $325,000 of our capital so well invested in real estate, we have over $900,000 invested in mortgages on real estate, all of which have been carefully selected.

Regarding the dividend that we pay, I am frequently asked why it is that it is fixed at seven and a fraction, instead of an even amount. The Shareholders are perhaps not aware that when we amalgamated with the Trusts Corporation of Ontario the Act of amalgamation restricted us to the payment of a dividend not exceeding 7 1-2 per cent. until the Reserve Fund reached the sum of $750,000. No such provision exists in the charters of any other trust company in Ontario, nor is it provided for in the general Act respecting trust companies; nor, indeed, in any joint stock company of which I am aware. If such a law is necessary in the working of trust companies it should have been incorporated in the general Act and made applicable to all companies, but as this was not done it is obviously unfair to the Corporation that it should be bound by this provision. Application has therefore been made by petition for the issue of Supplementary Letters Patent with a view to placing this Corporation on the same footing as all other trust companies in respect to the payment of dividends.

Another question that is frequently asked—chiefly by investors in the stock of the Corporation and Shareholders in banks—is: Why is it with the enormous mass of business under the care of the Corporation, aggregating over $35,000,000, that the net profits are only about $130,000? I have endeavored to answer this inquiry when addressing the Shareholders at previous annual meetings, but will again do so: With the exception of the investments of our capital funds and of moneys given to us for investment under the Guaranteed Investment Principle, this Corporation is simply a Corporate manager of estates, trusts and agencies committed to its care and for such management and care we receive a moderate compensation fixed by the courts. We do not speculate with our capital funds or with any funds, and even when we accept moneys for investment under the Guaranteed Principle we do so strictly within the terms of the Trustee Investment Act. We do not underwrite or invest in any industrial issues. Under these circumstances our profits may be smaller than they otherwise might be, but in strictly adhering to this rule the investment of our capital money and that of our clients is as safe as human care can make it.

After all, while our profits do not, perhaps, equal those obtained by banks, or even long-established loan companies with large reserves, still we have from the origin of the company paid our Shareholders good dividends, and, in addition, have accumulated, almost entirely out of profits, a rest of $450,000. I think, therefore, that I am warranted in saying that the statements I have just read, and have commented on, should be satisfactory to the Shareholders. So much from the Shareholders' point of view in the Corporation's operations.

Coming now to the general work and utility of the Corporation, I have very little to add to what has been said at previous annual meetings. It will be seen on reference to our statement of Assets and Liabilities that the Corporation has now under its control and management assets to the extent of over $35,000,000, showing a net increase over 1907 of approximately $2,250,000. This, together with the fact that over $3,000,000 of new work, exclusive of Trusteeships for Bond Issues, etc, etc, has been placed under our care during the year notwithstanding the increasing competition that exists between Trust Companies, shows that the Corporate Executor, Administer and Trustee continues to gain in public favor. And why should it not, with the great advantages it offers over that of individuals acting in these capacities? An unchanging and undying trustee—a Board of Directors drawn from the best ability in the community, comprising presidents and directors of banks and loan companies, railway directors, lawyers, merchants and capitalists—methodical and systematic bookkeeping and a continuous audit of estates accounts and securities—careful selection of mortgages and other investments for estate or trust funds, inspected by competent appraisers and passed upon by a competent Board and the setting apart and earmarking of the securities to the estates or trusts to which they belong. All of this is done at a minimum of expense, the charges of the Corporation as fixed by the Courts of the Province being no greater than the compensation allowed to individual Trustees: indeed, if anything, rather less.

I might point out that of about $17,000,000 of Trust and Guaranteed Funds invested by the Corporation (exclusive of the unrealized original assets of estates), nearly $12,500,000 is invested in mortgages on real estate, indicating that the Corporation, while strictly keeping within the terms of the Trustee Investment Act, thereby safeguarding the Capital of the estates is obtaining the largest possible revenue return for its clients. It will be seen therefore, that in addition to being the pioneer and largest Trust Company in Canada, we also take place as the second largest Mortgage Loaning Company.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the Advisory Boards at Ottawa and Winnipeg and the staff of the Corporation both at Head Office and Branches for the interest and efficiency manifested in the discharge of their several duties during the year.

The President, Dr. John Hoskin, K.C. in moving the adoption of the report, said:

On former occasions in moving the adoption of the annual report, I have dwelt at some length upon the various functions of this Corporation, its aims and objects and the advantages resulting to the public, all which matters have been discussed and their particulars published and are now well known; therefore, reference to them may, for this year, be dispensed with.

The Managing Director has in his remarks gone into the details of our year's operations, which I need not repeat. The report is shorter than usual, but not the less interesting, and not the less satisfactory, and I am sure it will commend itself to the Shareholders. A glance at the figures will give you some idea of the volume of business under the control of the Corporation to manage which entails upon your Directors and the staff much anxiety, responsibility and labor, and the results, as shown in the statements, together with the increasing confidence of the public speak for themselves. It is, therefore, with confidence I now move the adoption of the report, which motion will be seconded by the Hon. Mr. Wood.

The Report of the Directors was adopted as was also the Report of the Inspection Committee, as presented by Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C.

The following Shareholders were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

W. H. Beatty, W. R. Brock, John L. Blaikie, Hamilton Cassels, K.C.; Sir William Mortimer Clark, K.C.; Hon. W. C. Edwards, Hon. J. J. Foy, K.C., M.P.P.; Hon. J. M. Gibson, K.C.; A. C. Hardy; John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D.; Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C.; Hon. Robert Jaffray, J. W. Langmuir, Thomas Long, W. D. Matthews, Hon. Peter McLaren, J. Bruce Macdonald, Hon. Sir Daniel McMillan, K.C.M.G.; Samuel Nordheimer, E. B. Osler, M.P.; J. G. Scott, K.C.; B. E. Walker, D. R. Wilkie, Hon. S. C. Wood, Frederick Wyld.—Carried.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., was re-elected President, and Hon. S. C. Wood and W. H. Beatty Vice-Presidents.

A nominating committee consisting of Messrs. E. C. Scrigley, Kelley, Robson and Bickle was appointed to draw up a list of officers. The report of the committee, which was adopted, was as follows;

Hon. Pres.—Mr. James Baptie.
President—Mr. Geo. Paxman.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. J. T. C. Laing.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. Thompson.
Secretary—Mr. Jack Eastwood.
Treasurer—Mr. Kelly.
Directors—Messrs. Leslie Stovens, Sam Bickle, A. Head, Robson, Cunningham, W. E. Dunnett, Cameron and Cowie.

VOTES OF THANKS.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Superintendent of recent poultry show, Mr. Geo. Paxman, the retiring secretary, Mr. A. Hicks, and to all those who worked so faithfully and to whom great credit is due for the success of the association.

It was moved by Mr. E. C. Scrigley, seconded by Mr. Baptie, that the directors meet on Saturday evenings previous to regular meetings, approve of accounts to be passed, and prepare a programme for the coming meeting.

INTEREST IN THE BIG EUROPEAN TOUR CONTEST IS INCREASING DAILY

Everyone is Taking a Very Lively Interest in the Review's Popularity Contest—Now is the Time to Help Your Favorite.

Several new nominations were received yesterday. In the ladies' list in the city Miss Edith Aylmer has been placed in nomination and in the gentleman's list Mr T. J. McDonough has entered for the trip abroad. Miss Annie Jamieson from Hastings, is the only new entrant from the outside district.

The greater the number, the better chance each candidate has because it divides the competition. Had you ever thought of that?

Ballots are commencing to come in in fairly large numbers. Nearly every candidate in the city increased their score and in the country many made gains. Several of the candidates have scores in the thousands. However, one or two year's subscription to the Daily or three or four year's subscription to the Weekly, would place any candidate who has less than 100 among the top notchers. At this stage no one has the least advantage.

Remember there are two fine prizes in each list, not considering the grand prize. There are thirty-seven candidates in the contest today. Nine prizes will be awarded, which means one winner for about each four contestants.

The London Advertiser, which circulates over the whole of Western Ontario, has inaugurated a contest, giving several European tours similar to the one the Review is giving. There are no smaller prizes. Outside of the city of London several counties are included in a district. The average number of contestants at this time in each district is about fifteen.

ABSOLUTELY FREE TRIP.

Fancy a trip to Europe at no expense whatever. A chance to visit places renowned for centuries in song and story. The Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, London Bridge, Edinburgh, Holyrood Castle, Paris. — Have they not appealed to you and has it not been your lifelong desire to see them?

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES.

All money paid on subscriptions, whether in arrears or advance count for votes.

Candidates do not have to confine themselves to the district in which they live and have been nominated, but can accept subscriptions from their friends anywhere in Canada or the United States.

Have your friends save the coupons in this paper and send them to the Contest Department to be placed to your credit.

Ask your friends to subscribe for the Review and give you the votes, and if they are already subscribers, ask them to pay something on their subscriptions so you can get the votes.

In asking your friend to subscribe remember that they can pay as far in advance as they care to, and that they will not be bothered with a collector or receive a statement, until the expiration of the time for which they pay.

The standing of the candidates up to six o'clock last evening follows:

MacLEAN RAKES THE C. P. R. STOCK ISSUE DISCUSSED

Charges Road With Giving Preference to Americans and Neglecting Ontario Service—Laurier and Borden Think Lord Crewe is Wrong About Treaty

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—In the House yesterday afternoon, W. F. Maclean (South York) called attention to what he called the delinquencies of the Canadian railways in connection with their capitalisation, pointing out that in giving wide powers to the C.P.R. the service accorded the people ought to be considered.

He demonstrated that the C.P.R. was not giving the public the service it ought to give in consideration of the great franchises granted the company, and the enormous resources at its command.

Mr. Maclean charged:

That the Canadian railways gave a preference to traffic originating in a foreign country.

That in carrying out its system of expansion in the west the C.P.R. neglected its Ontario business.

That the railway corporation disregarded the lives of their servants and of the people at large because they could not "afford" to provide adequate life-saving devices.

"It would surprise anyone who looked at the railway service now given to this country," said Mr. Maclean, "to see the preference given by Canadian railways that we subsidise with land and money, roads to which we give splendid franchises, to the traffic of a foreign country. They devote their main energies to accommodating the freight or passenger traffic that originated in a foreign country. In Ontario we know that the great C.P.R., with all its resources, gives its first attention to what is called the American trade. In Toronto, and all along the main line in Ontario, you see what are called the produce and beef trains from Chicago, which are given the right of way and precedence over Canadian traffic."

There was another disastrous feature of railway operation in Canada to-day, Mr. Maclean proceeded, and that was the wanton disregard by these great corporations of the lives of the people and the lives of their servants. The sacrifice of human life on the railways was increasing from year to year.

"It was all wrong that the C.P.R. should be allowed to do what is commonly called 'cut a melon' and distribute it in the shape of from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 among its shareholders, and which it could only do if it was allowed to continue charging exorbitant rates. On that surplus they could well afford to reduce

REAR WALL OF FLOUR MILL BLOWN DOWN THIS MORNING

The high wind blowing today, blew down the rear brick wall of the Peterborough Cereal Company's mill on Simcoe street.

The roof of the flour mill had been raised several feet to provide for the installation of new machinery. The walls were left standing without any support, and when the strong wind came the rear one soon fell.

The chopping mill adjoins the flour mill and when the wall fell it knocked in a large section of the chopping mill.

BAD FLOODS IN GERMANY

Twenty Lives Are Lost and Damage Steadily Increases--Many Fatalities are Reported

Berlin, Feb. 6.—The floods in Germany arising from several days of heavy rains and a spell of warm weather are to-day taking on a most serious aspect in many parts of the country.

The first fatalities are reported from Nordhausen, where many bridges have been swept away and ten people drowned. Along a number of the small streams, however, the freshets are subsiding.

At Nuremberg the Pegnitz rose 12 feet Thursday night, yesterday morning it was raging through the lower streets of the city. The water is higher than it has been for 33 years. The newspapers of Nuremberg have suspended publication, and enormous damage has been caused.

A special signal service has been put in operation along the Rhine, where it is expected that the danger point will be reached in a day or two.

Seven miners returning home from the Potash mines, near Brockhausen, Brunswick, were drowned in the flood, and three other victims have been reported from Gera. This makes a total of twenty casualties.

FELL HUNDRED FEET AND IS STILL ALIVE

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Falling over 100 feet in the hoist shaft of the nine-storey Darling Building on Adelaide street and Spadina avenue yesterday afternoon, Harry Moss of Lambton Mills still lives in St. Michael's Hospital.

He has a broken jaw, a broken arm, and internal injuries, and is expected to die, but his escape from instant death is nothing short of miraculous.

A wire grillwork near the bottom of the shaft through which he crashed broke the full effect of his fall.

Moss was crossing on a concrete beam which supports the floor at the nineth storey, when he lost his balance and fell. He struck a window on the first floor, and a glancing blow then demolished a wire work at the basement.

ICE IS FIRM AT CHEMONG LAKE

Despite the rain and mild weather the ice is still firm on LLake Chemong and Mr. D Whetung, jr., crossed it coming to the city this morning. The change in the weather will result in the ice becoming firm again.

HAD TO HAVE LEG AMPUTATED

Mr. B. Cooney underwent a successful operation at Nicholls Hospital this morning. He had a leg amputated just above the knee, this being necessary as a result of an attack of gangrene. Mr. Cooney is getting along as well as can be expected, although the shock was a very severe one.

FIGHTS ON THE FLOOR OF HOUSE

Germans and Czechs in Vienna Fight in the Austrian Parliament

Vienna, Feb. 6.—The present session of the Austrian Parliament came to an end yesterday after a scene of turbulence extraordinary even for an assembly where violent outbreaks are comparatively common.

The trouble, which arose from the old racial feeling between the Germans and the Czechs, broke out during the debate on a Government bill, the object of which was to reconcile these differences. The radical Czechs, obstructionists, who have been hindering the debate on this measure for several days past, with a continuous din from drums and tin whistles, so exasperated the Germans yesterday that the opposing deputies came to close quarters and a fierce scrimmage ensued.

One of the Radical Czechs deputies, who has been most violent in his obstruction, was captured and whipped until he howled for mercy. Another Czech was bitten on the cheek by a German and sustained an ugly wound, and black eyes and sore heads were numerous.

The Premier closed the session and sent the deputies home.

ANNUAL VISIT OF MR. GEO. BUSKIN

Geo. Buskin, agent and missionary, of the Evangelical and Colportage Mission of Algoma and the North-west is making his 26th annual visit to Peterborough in behalf of the work of disseminating Biblical literature through those districts. The mission has supplied 46,000 copies in 23 languages and could do a great deal more if means were on hand to do so. The Ojibway and English dictionaries fo rthe Indians are completed and in use, and application has been made to the Ontario Legislature for a grant of $500 towards the $1,200 cost in publishing it. Eighty various editions, books and tracts have been published by the mission in five languages, and their influences have been for much good. The donations of Peterborough last year in aid of the work was $23.95, which is gratefully acknowledged, and the appeal respectfully renewed. The depot is still at 202 King street East, Toronto, Ont. The journies of last year in the work were west to Winnipeg and north to Sudbury and to intermediate points.

MACKLEN WILL KEEP POSITION

Toronto, Feb. 6.—T. C. Street Macklem, provost of Trinity College, has addressed a letter to the members of the corporation of Trinity College withdrawing his resignation of a month ago on account of "so strong a protest from many whose opinion I am bound to respect," and a pressure he is unwilling, if not indeed unable, to withstand.

The letter concludes with particular reference to the confidence and friendship of the students and staff of the college. It is unfortunate, he comments, that to the leaders is commonly attributed praise which belongs largely to others, certainly it has been so in this case.

SERIOUS EARLY MORNING BLAZE

Heavy Damage to Building--Contents of Two Sections Destroyed—Nearby Residence Saved

Serious damage was caused by fire at 4.40 this morning in the block of building at the corner of George and Sherbrooke streets. The alarm was was rung in by Nightwatchman Finnie.

It was owing to some defect in the wiring it is stated, that the fire was caused, and the flames broke out in different parts of the building through which the wires ran. There is a dwelling at the rear with an upstairs and Goselin's butcher shop and a cobbler shop in the front. These with their contents were destroyed with the exception of the butcher shop, which for some reason or other, escaped from the ravages of the flames. Some of the meat was badly tainted by smoke, but the damage was not very heavy.

A man by the name of Downer with his wife and family, were occupants of the tenement and narrowly escaped being burned to death. None of the contents were saved. The loss on them is estimated at about $250. In the cobbler's shop there was a total loss $90 worth of new stock being amongst that destroped. The loss on the building is placed at about $1,000. It is not known whether there was any insurance.

The flames spread to the residence of Ald. Duncan and had broken out when the brigade arrived. Chief Howward directed the fire fighters to turn the hose on the building and it was saved with but little damage, some due to water in the cellar.

Four lines of hose were used in the battle against the flames this morning.

This morning the firemen pulled the ruins down so there would be no damage done to passersby by the high wind.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, LONDON'S HISTORIC CHURCH, WILL BE VISITED BY THE WINNER OF THE REVIEW'S POPULARITY CONTEST

Westminster Abbey occupies the site of a chapel built by Siebert in honor of St. Peter. A church was erected by King Edward about 980, but this church being partly demolished by the Danes, Edward the Confessor founded an abbey and church, which was completed in 1065, only part of which remains. The rebuilding of the church was commenced by Henry III. in 1220 and was practically completed by Edward I., but improvements were added down to the time time of Henry VII. The length or the Abbey is 531 ft., breadth 203 ft., height of Abbey 102 ft. and towers 225 ft.

ABOUT LONDON

Historic Places to be Visited in the World's Greatest City by Review's Representative

It is very probable that while in London the Review's popular candidate will take more than one ride on the top of one of the 5000 omnibuses which can be found most any place at most any time in that largest of all cities. The seat on the top is what the experienced traveller would term a place of vantage from a sight seeing point of view. Competition has so greatly reduced the fares and improved the service that the omnibus has become the most popular vehicle among travellers who wish to study the ever varying, ever-fascinating panorama of London street life or visiting the nearer suburbs, such as Highgate, Hampstead, Clapham, and Hammersmith, Richmond and Hampton Court. The omnibus to affords the best view as you gaze for the first—and likely only time — upon the hurrying crowds of Cheapside, Oxford street, Whitechapel Road, or the Burough. It is most likely while in London our candidate will spend most of his or her time — which ever the case may be— within the area lying between Westminster and the Tower, in one direction and the Angel, Islington and the Elephant and Castle in the other. This is the very heart of London. Within it lies the centres and springs of the British Empire. Here are to be seen the palaces of England's monarchs, the stately Houses of Parliament, the mighty Cathedral of her patron saint, and the ancient Abbey wherein are interred so many of her illustrious dead.

Perhaps the best starting point for any journey for inspection in London is the open space in front of the Mansion House, which is continually thronged with foot and carriage traffic.

Several of London's most famous streets, both ancient and modern, converge here. Here stands the Royal Exchange, founded in Elizabeth's reign and destroyed in the great fire. It was rebuilt and destroyed the second time by fire in 1838 and erected for the third time in 1844. Opposite the Exchange stands the famous Bank of England. From this point omnibuses will convey the wayfarer to almost any part of London.

Our representative will probably choose King William street for one of his first trips and going southward from the Bank will soon reach London's great waterway, the Thames river. It is here crossed by London Bridge most famous in the city annals and the site of many an exciting and tragic event in London's history. It is probably the most crowded spot on earth during twelve hours of the day. There is no telling when a bridge was first built here. We have many reasons to believe that one stood here in Roman times. We know that our Saxon ancestors possessed one. Olaf the Saint, King of Norway, the converter of that land to Christianity took part in a battle fought there in 1008.

The first stone bridge over the Thames was built in 1176 and took 33 years to complete. This was a remarkable piece of work and with patchings and restorations and alterations it actually stood until the nineteenth century. This structure was remarkable also in the fact that it had a little town built upon it, and was a street of stone buildings of different kinds and on the central pier was built a chapel where the architect, Peter the Curate of St Mary's Colechurch of Cheap was finally buried in 1205.

The gate at the Southwark end was known as the Traitors' Gate from the fact that there the heads of many of those who had been executed for high treason were exposed. It was here that the head of Wallace, the Scottish hero, was exposed in 1305 and here the crowds came to look upon the disfigured features of Bishop Fisher, and Sir Thomas Moore, two centuries later. It was here that Sir David Lindsay in 1390 met and defeated in deadly conflict, Lord Wells. It was over these old arches that Henry V passed in triumphant state and amid extravagent civic rejoicings leading in his train the prisoners taken at the battle of Agincourt. Seven years later amid a nation's lamentations his body was borne along the same pathway as its final resting place in Westminster Abbey.

In the reign of Elizabeth the bridge was restored which stood until the present grand structure was erected after seven years' work in 1831 at a cost of $7,500,000. It is the main crossing to the south bank of the Thames and from 20,000 to 30,000 vehicles and 150,000 human beings cross it every week day.

Near the southern approach stands the Church of St Mary, one of the very finest in London. Hard by, along the river bank stood the theatre in which both Shakespeare and Ben Johnson played their parts. Within a few minutes walk were situated the old Tabard Inn to which Chaucer's pilgrims restored —which is now a very commonplace gin hop. Many other places of ancient glory abound in this neighborhood.

HAMMERSTIEN IS GIVEN LECTURE

New York, Feb. 6.—Frederick M. Hall and James J. Doyle, local reporters, accused of assaulting Oscar Hammerstein, the impressario, were held in $300 bail for trial in special sessions.

Magistrate Finn referred scathingly to the letter written by Hammerstein regarding the reporters.

"Any man with a drop of red blood in his veins," he said, "would naturally resent such a letter. There are a lot of gentlemen in this town who seem to think they can insult a man with impunity, who have the idea that anything bad they do is good, but, as I have stated, two wrongs do not make a right."

nual meeting and in addition to the day evening the Rev. F. W. Anderson, M.A., of Toronto, secretary of the Young People's Missionary movement for Canada, will give his first address to the young people of Peterborough. Rev. Mr Anderson is one of the prominent young men of Canada and he recently resigned from a large influential church in Sydney Cape Breton to accept the responsible work of secretary of the Young People's Missionary movement. He is a very attractive, forceful speaker, and will no doubt receive a hearty welcome from the Young People's Guild of Peterborough.

The local officers for the past year are as follows:—

President—Rev. H. J. Keith B.D.
Vice-Pres.—Rev. J. R. Webb.
Secretary—Miss F. Thompson.
Treasurer.—Miss E. Munroe.

A programme has been arranged for Monday evening and an offering will be received for the Young People's Missionary movement.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The temperance people of Port Arthur and Fort William are organising for a local option campaign with the vote to be taken at the next municipal elections.

It is announced in militia orders that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to accept the honorary colonelcy of the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

On returning home after an absence of an hour, the parents of Wilmot Longfield, of Queensville, aged 13 years, found he had hanged himself in the garret of his home.

The Port Arthur Board of Trade has passed a resolution opposing the Ontario and Michigan Power Co.'s bill at Ottawa, on the ground that it would blanket all water-powers in the district.

The Brooklyn jury before which William Gow, formerly president of the International Trust and director of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, was tried on a charge of larceny of $145,000, disagreed.

A bill proposing to give the women of British Columbia the right to vote in the next provincial elections has been introduced in the Legislature by the Socialist leader, Hawthorne Thwaite of Nanaimo.

WIND BLEW DOWN THE TROLLEY LINE

The high wind this morning blew down the street railway trolley line on Park street between the West Ward school and Hunter street. A staff of men was at once put at work repairing the damage. The cars were out of commission on that part of the service for some time.

FATAL STRIKE IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 6.—One man was killed and three others injured in a riot incited, the police declare, by walking delegates of a garment workers' union, who descended upon the tailoring establishment of Jacob Greenfield in East Second street late yesterday and attempted to coerce the employes of the place into quitting work.

Greenfield and his brother, Wolfe, employed as foreman, attempted to prevent wholesale destruction of the shop by the invaders, and a melee ensued, in which clubs, shears and pressing irons were freely used.

Police reserves dispersed the rioters.

NOW OCCUPIES NEW QUARTERS

Mr. W. G. Lendrum, Photographer, in Handsome New Studio

When building his new block of stores on Charlotte street, Mr. W. G. Lendrum, the photographer, had one part of the second floor arranged according to design of his own, to be used as a photo studio. Last week he moved into his new quarters and is now settled in up-to-date and handsomely fitted rooms. Every convenience has been provided for his patrons, and complete appliances for the production of high-class photographs have been installed.

Temperance Meeting

A gospel temperance meeting will be held at the Crystal tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. E. A. Pearson, and the chair will be taken by Mr. Armstrong, Grand Councillor of the Royal Templars. The George street orchestra will supply music.

"The Christian Race"

"The Christian Race," will be the subject of the sermon by Rev. J. G. Potter at St Andrew's church tomorrow evening.

BRITAIN IS WAR CRAZY

Martial Spirit Has Taken Hold of the Island — Melodrama is Having Big Effect

London, Feb. 6.—English theatregoers seem in somewhat of a panic over the possibility of invasion by a hostile army. Numerous incidents, following the production of the play, "An Englishman's Home," built on such a possibility, show the state of mind of a section of the general public. Lord Esher appealed through The Daily Mail for 11,000 volunteers to complete the quota of the county of London in the territorial army, and an anonymous reader sent him a check for $50,000 to assist in the work of recruiting this force. The solemn warnings which Lord Roberts has been uttering for two years and the fervid speeches which Mr. Haldane, the Minister of War, has been making all over the country, have done their work, and suddenly under the influence of the realistic play, the people have awakened to a realisation of what war would mean. Nothing is talked of in the street, the club, the home, except the defence of the island. Efforts which can be described only as frenzied are being made to recruit the territorial army.

The Admiralty is asking the Government for authority to lay down six Dreadnoughts this year. This is a panic program, and taken in connection with the fresh concentration of naval strength in the North Sea—most inopportunely announced on the eve of the King's departure for Berlin—is sufficient evidence of the hollow mockery of the pretence that Britain and Germany are prepared to abandon their mutual suspicions.

Disgraceful Scenes on Line Near Brockville---Prosecutions to Follow

Brockville, Feb. 6.—Returning to Westport Thursday night with the Newboro' and Athens hockey teams, who had played exhibition games here, and 250 supporters, a special B., W. & N.W. train was the scene of a continuous melee until Athens was reached. Bottles flew, windows were smashed, four passengers are suffering from fractured noses, while a Newboro' man is nursing a badly lacerated thumb, bitten by one of the fighters. One member of the party, a resident of Athens, named Curry, was pushed off a car, but the train stopped and he was picked up. Wholesale prosecutions are likely to follow.

WANT NEW LINE IN THE WEST

C.P.R. Asks Power to Build New Line in Province of Alberta

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Canadian Pacific Railway is applying for power to construct a line eighty-five miles long, from a point on the Crow's Nest Pass line to Aldersyde, on the Macleod branch. The company is also asking for an extension of time to construct several other branches authorized.

The London & Northwestern Railway Co. will seek incorporation, with power to build a line of railway from London to Sarnia, and from London to a point on Lake Huron, in Huron County.

Orders-in-council of Nov. 28, relating to foot and mouth diseases, have been rescinded. It is also ordered that ships leaving Atlantic ports carrying live stock must not stop at Canadian ports.

The Government has entered into an arrangement with F. P. Aylwyn, civil engineer of Ottawa, to irrigate 69,275 acres of land east of Calgary at an expenditure of half a million dollars.

G. G. McNab of Gravenhurst has been appointed school inspector of North Renfrew.

SATURDAY, FEB. 6, 1909.

AN EXPLANATION NEEDED

Why is it that the Laurier Government does not ask for subscriptions for its loans from our own people? We have 700 millions of dollars in the banks, etc. It draws 3 per cent. The loans draw from 3 1-2 per cent up. The loss to the country is therefore about one per cent. $2,000,000 a year that should go into the pockets of the people. The Ontario Government adopted this suggestion made possibly by the Globe, some years ago, with great success and with a great increase of patriotic fervour on the part of our own people. That the Laurier Government does not adopt the same plan is probably due to the fact that money so utilized would be just so much capital taken out of the hands of the banks upon which the big dividends are earned, that gladden the hearts of the moneyed shareholders. There can be no other explanation of so plain, obvious and desirable a consummation.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

The Canadian Club will meet at the National Hotel on Friday evening, Feb 12th. Dinner will be served at 7.30 p.m. sharp. The speaker of the evening will be John S. Ewart, Esq., K.C., of Ottawa. The subject of the address will be, "The Monroe Doctrine." Mr. Ewart is an eminent writer, a most excellent speaker, and bears the reputation of being one of the leaders of the Canadian Bar. The committee have had great difficulty securing a speaker for this evening, and desire that the members show their appreciation by being present and thus ensure a large meeting.

Dinner tickets may be procured from members of the Committee, the secretary or at the hotel. Membership tickets may be had upon application to the secretary.

SEATS OF THE MIGHTY

The federation of the various South African states from Cape Colony to Rhodesia, including the Transvaal, etc., has led to a squabble about the capital. Cape Town is to have the Parliament, Pretoria the executive, Bloemfontein the judiciary. This would in Canada correspond to Halifax, Winnipeg and Hamilton. This would lead to a rebellion in this country in about a week. The arrangement cannot make for concentrated energy or harmful speed in the accomplishment of inquiry or settlement of disputes. The poor man will remain poor if he has anything to interview any of these branches concerning. Jealousies will no doubt in time wear away as they did when we had a regimen perambulans in which case probably Pretoria will become a seat of authority.

FARMING

It is not necessary to be a farmer to see that the local governments of the various provinces are not doing what they ought for agriculture. It is true that much very much, has and is being done apparently. But the practical result is what tells of success in everything and it cannot be said that the farm is deriving the benefit it should from the desire to aid it and the means at our disposal to carry out our plans or theories. It is the one great branch of industry that is in actual need of applied education. After all few farmers know more than the simplest rudiments of farming. We find at least that we are away behind many countries in this respect.

WOOL DUTIES IN CANADA

For a half dozen years or more the wool manufacturers of Canada have found it difficult to carry on their business at a profit, their position not having been made any the less difficult by the tariff revision in 1906 by which the preference given the English exporter was increased and not lowered. If any preference is to be given, no doubt the Canadian may favor it for England, loyal in his devotion to the Mother Country rather than for any other country, but it is very manifest that even the British preference is highly distasteful to those engaged in the Canadian wool manufacture.

Last July, just before the Canadian Parliament adjourned, the Canadian Manufacturers Association, espousing the cause of the woollen manufacturer made an urgent appeal to Premier Laurier for immediate relief in the form of increased duties on imported wool manufactures. The appeal was made at so late a stage of the session that, owing to an agreement between the parties, no new legislation could be introduced for the remainder of the session. Answering the demand Premier Laurier expressed the government's hope that the difficulties of the manufacturers were due, not to tariff conditions, but to the depression in trade, believed to be temporary. The "Canadian Textile Journal," advocating the cause of the manufacturers, believes, notwithstanding the refusal of the Premier to do anything at that time for the industry, that sooner or later "the great majority of our people will see that if this country is to stand alone a native Canadian woollen industry is vital to our economy."

Mr E. B. Biggar, the editor of the "Textile Journal", who, heretofore, has not advocated a duty on wool, has experienced a change of view and now favors such a duty with a correspondingly increased duty on the manufacturers of wool to compensate the manufacturer for the duties he would have to pay on his raw material. He believes that the woollen industry must ultimately collapse if present tariff conditions are continued.

This opinion is based on the steady decline in the number of woollen mills in Canada which have decreased from two hundred and seventy in 1899 to one hundred and ninety-seven in 1908 the manufacturing capacity of the mills declining at the same time. With the severity of the Canadian winters to be prepared for it is essential that the country should be able to furnish clothing for her population. In a recent article Mr Biggar shows the size of the textile industry in the United States and its importance to the country, although two wars, that of 1812 and 1861-5, were necessary he writes, to teach the States that its textile industries were a vital part of its scheme of national defence. He doubts the wisdom of spending millions of dollars out of the public treasury in bonuses to create in Canada an iron and steel industry, together with other millions for industries based on raw materials not native to the country and asks whether the Canadian people will confess themselves helpless when they come to face a problem which their forefathers dealt with successfully.

After stating that the manufacture of woollen textiles was among the first undertakings of the colonists in the various provinces of Canada, he declares that "the growing of wool and the manufacture of woollen textiles throve together" in harmony, not only through the long period when it remained an industry of the home, but well into the era of machinery and until the two interests were divorced by tariff laws.

Having studied the history of wool manufacture in the United States he is convinced that the principles for which this Association has stood and now stands —protection for the wool grower and the wool manufacturer— are wise, and he advocates the adoption of a similar policy in Canada as the only means to save the wool manufacture to the country. What he says on this point is interesting and well worth reproduction. We quote;

"Strange as it may at first seem to protectionists, tariff legislation brought about the decay of the woollen industry of Canada, and unless the whole principle of this legislation is changed a few more years will see the complete ruin of its most important branches. Tariff legislation has brought about this decay, not because the protectionist policy is wrong in itself, but because it has been applied at the wrong end of the business. The framers of former woollen tariffs began the edifice at the second storey instead of at the foundation. The foundation of a woollen industry is wool, and the protection that Canada needs, to re-establish this industry is a system that will begin with the sheep-raiser, and continue by progressive stages to the spinner, weaver, and knitter, and on to the clothing manufacturer."

The same readiness to concede to the wool-grower a duty on wool was shown at the September meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by President Roland, who, in setting forth the deplorable conditions of the Canadian woollen industry, said,

"It is now apparent that unless a helping hand is stretched forth from some quarter to stay it in its downward career, the Canadian woollen industry, which ought to be indigenous to the country is doomed to speedy extinction.

The question for the Canadian people to decide and decide at once is whether or not the industry is worth preserving. If it is not let them immediately close its doors and tell its 4500 workmen and workwomen to seek out other employment. If it is then let them give it fair treatment to the end that the farmer may receive a reasonable price for his wool, the workman a decent living wage for his labor, and the manufacturer at least ordinary interest on his investment."

It is interesting to these manufacturers in this country who favor wool duties for the American flockmaster and farmer to discover that in Canada where wool has been little considered in tariff making, the wool manufacturers are rapidly reaching the conclusion that if their industry is to be rescued from the slough into which it has been brought by the too liberal British preference, it must be by imposing a duty on wool with compensating duties on its manufactures.

Since 1897, except for three years, that policy has governed the tariff legislation of the United States and under it all branches of the wool manufacture have been tremendously expanded. Prior to that time before the growers and manufacturers made common cause and stood together in their demands for fair treatment in tariff legislation, these two interdependent interests were so antagonistic to each other in their contests before Congress that they were in constant turmoil—first one and then the other—gaining a supposed advantage and neither meeting with the success it deserved. During the forty years since 1867, the manufacturers have adjusted their business to the wool duty, and we believe there are comparatively few at this date who insist that free wool is essential to the success of the wool manufacture. When the experiment was tried from 1893 to 1897 it is generally agreed that no more trying years were ever experienced by either the wool grower or the wool manufacturer of the United States. The prediction of enhanced prices for domestic wools, because of increased demands by domestic manufacturers, to be created by the expected larger exports of American made goods all failed so utterly that none who passed through these trying years wish again to experience a like period of stress and trial. Of exports of finished goods there were practically none, and the domestic consumption dwindled to such small proportions that machinery stood idle and the wool-grower, not finding sufficient demand at home for his clip, essayed to enter the exporting lists only to do so at a heavy loss. During these long-to-be remembered years the wool-grower and the wool manufacturer suffered equally and it was only after some seasons of prosperity that they were again free from the burden under which they labored during the free wool period. Whatever may be the outcome of this agitation in Canada, to us on this side of the border the aspirations to be a self-sufficing nation and to be entirely independent of other countries seems reasonable and natural. That Canada may attain that position and at the same time expose her wool manufacture to the ruinous competition before which it is now prostrate does not seem possible. With the tremendous extent of her domain, capable of sustaining a large population which at the present rate of development seems sure to be many millions fifty years hence, the industry ought to be worthy of the country and her enterprising people. With such development within the range of probabilities the men who predict a great future for the industry, if given a chance, have as a basis for such belief the wonderful development of the wool manufacture in the United States under the same policy as is now urged in Canada by those seeking relief from present hardships.—Official bulletin of National Association.

EDITORIAL NOTES

We expect almost any day to hear of an Ottawa Government project to build a railway through Labrador to Davis strait with a line of steamers (subsidised of course) connecting it with Greenland. This is such a progressive government don't you know!

It must be gratifying to Mr. "Sam" Ray to see his son developing into a fine hockey player. Sam himself has exemplified all that it is clean and fair in sport (and that means life) and his record as a cricketer will probably stand him in good stead both in the near and far future.

Lindsay, Feb. 3.—The charge against Mrs. Jas. Simpson, of Kinmount, who was charged before Magistrate Moore yesterday with having on her premises intoxicating liquors, was dismissed. Arising from the evidence given by Mrs. Simpson in the case, Dr. White, of Kinmount, after the finish of the other charge, swore out a charge against Mrs. Simpson on a similar basis. The case will come up in the near future before Magistrate Moore.

Lethbridge Herald.—R. L. Borden allowed the false telegram to do its deadly work against the Liberal party in British Columbia and then denied that he sent it. Not much evidence of statesmanlike qualities in conduct like that.

It is a downright scandal for the Globe to quote the above without adding that Mr. Borden had said that he knew nothing of the garbled telegram until long after the election. The Herald probably does not know any better.

THIS WELL-KNOWN ADVOCATE STATES

His Doctor Advised Him to Take Dodd's Kidneys Pills.

And He Found Them to be all They Were Advertised—How and Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure.

Montreal, Quebec, February 5.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by our family physician, and I must say they have proved to be what they were advertised."

This statement was made by J. R. Hubert, the well known advocate of 214 James street is a double tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills. It shows that they are recognized by reputable medical men as a peerless remedy for diseases of the Kidneys and also that they are now looked upon as a standard medicine by the best people in Canada.

And the reason of this is that they do just what they are advertised to do. They cure diseased Kidneys and put them in condition to clear all impurities out of the blood. They cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes and Backache, because these are Kidney diseases. They cure Rheumatism, Lumbago and Heart Disease, because these are caused by impurities in the blood that the Kidneys would strain out of the blood if they were in good working order. If you haven't used them yourself, ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE DOCTORS SAID "THERE MUST BE AN OPERATION"

"Fruit-a-tives" Saved Mrs. McCready Untold Suffering and Almost Certain Death.

"Publish this for humanity's sake," writes Mr. C. McCready, of Putnam, Ont., in his letter to the owners of "Fruit-a-tives." Physicians said that only an operation could save his wife's life. But again "Fruit-a-tives" proved its wonderful powers. The doctors were wrong—Mrs. McCready is to-day well and strong—and "Fruit-a-tives" have made friends of every one for miles around Putnam.

"Dear Sirs,—My wife suffered for over a year from Indigestion and Bowel trouble. Several doctors treated her for this trouble and advised her that only an operation would save her life, as they stated it was a tumor that was causing the trouble. The operation was to cost $200.00 and, while she was debating in her own mind about being operated on, she was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives," which I procured for her from our local merchant. From the first box she improved, and after having taken four boxes she is completely cured and is now as well as ever.

I decided then that "Fruit-a-tives" was the most wonderful remedy in the world and it certainly saved my wife's life. She still takes one tablet every night, we also give them to the children with excellent results, and they have to thank "Fruit-a-tives" for the fact that their mother is now with them, they fully expected she would be in her grave. Publish this for humanity's sake."

(Sgd.) C. McCready.

For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness—for all troubles due to defective action of Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, "Fruit-a-tives" is a certain cure. These tablets are made of fruit juices and tonics, are pleasant to take and quick to act. Trial size, 25c—regular size, 50c a box or 6 for $2.50.

At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Costly Floods in California.

Marysville, Cal., Feb. 6.—Five hundred cattle were drowned by the flood waters on the Stanford ranch, near Tehama, and 1,500 sheep perished near Colusa. The damage from the flood in Colusa County will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 with a quarter of that in other places.

Fire at Goderich.

Goderich, Feb. 6.—Five minutes after the Cameron & Moore departmental store was closed at 6 o'clock, it was discovered to be on fire, in the cellar, near the furnace. The fire was not extinguished until the store was flooded with water, practically destroying the entire stock.

Children Perish in the Flames.

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 6.—The Haskell Memorial Home, a three and a half storey brick orphanage located on the western boundary of this city, was destroyed by fire early yesterday. Three of the 37 little inmates were missing.

Good Crops in the Far North.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with the growing of cereals at Fort Vermillion, 350 miles north of Edmonton, and has received reports up to Dec. 19. The wheat crop of the district has been 35,000 bushels, with an average of twenty-four bushels to the acre; the barley crop 5,000 bushels, average sixty bushels to the acre; oats 4,000 bushels, average fifty bushels. Root crops have given: Turnips, 16 tons; mangels, 15 tons, and white carrots, 12 1-2 tons to the acre. Hardy fruit trees and vegetables have done well.

Award of Arbitrators.

Guelph, Feb. 6.—The award made by the arbitrators in the expropriation of property for water extensions purposes was opened yesterday by the Guelph water commissioners.

Judges Snider, McMillan and Hardy, who were the commissioners, decided that the amount of property required by the city for its new water system was worth $4,100 or $3,800 if Mr. Rudd took the buildings. The city pays the cost of the arbitration, about $600. This is about the city's valuation of the property expropriated.

Land Grants For '66 Veterans.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier in replying to a deputation of 200 veterans of 1866-70 asking for land grants, expressed surprise that some fitting recognition had not been made many years ago of the services which these men had rendered. It would be his pleasure to report to His Excellency the Governor-General what seemed to be the unanimous wish of those interested in this matter, and of the representatives of both parties in Parliament.

Prohibition Strong in Texas.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 6.—The House yesterday, by a vote of 85 to 44, defeated the resolution to submit state prohibition to a popular vote.

The prohibitionists only lacked two votes of the necessary two-thirds majority.

New York Doctor Fined at Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 6.—Dr. Thomas Snyder of Niagara Falls, New York, was fined $25 by Magistrate Fraser yesterday in this city for not being fully qualified according to Canadian law. Dr. Snyder pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the Medical Act. Though the physician has passed his examinations in Toronto and is qualified, still there are some subjects which he must yet pass. The prosecution of American physicians for practicing in Canada have occurred before very rarely.

Says Will Is a Forgery.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 6.—Since the belief expressed by Boston attorneys that the will of the late Benjamin Hadley, the Somerville hermit, found recently on a doorstep in England, disposing of property valued at $500,000, is a foregry. Charges will be brought against four persons in England for forgery and conspiracy. Hadley was believed to have died intestate. In the alleged will was a bequest to President Roosevelt of $10,000, which the President refused to accept.

Gets Ready For War.

New York, Feb. 6.—John J. Conway, a war correspondent for an English magazine, arrived yesterday on the Majestic on his way to Japan, his mission being to be one of the first on the ground when the U. S. and Japan declare war, which he thinks inevitable.

"The British public," says Mr. Conway, "regards the relations between Japan and the United States as so strained that war cannot be avoided."

On Dangerous Ground.

Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 6.—Speaker Philip A. Stanton took the floor yesterday and secured, by a strong personal appeal, unanimous consent of the Assembly to postpone further action on the Japanese school segregation until next Wednesday.

He declared he had information which he could not reveal, that proved the Assembly was treading upon dangerous ground in passing the anti-Japanese bill Thursday.

Can Inspect Schools.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—The report of the Department of Education was tabled in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. It contains the opinion of Donald Macmaster, K.C., and a member of the British Commons.

Macmaster says the Government of Manitoba has the power to enact compulsory education, and also to inspect the denominational schools.

But should they put such measures in force there is no doubt that the minority would have reasonable ground on which to appeal to the Governor-in-council, claiming that their rights and privileges as subjects of the King were affected, and they were fairly entitled to be exempted from contributing to the support of public schools.

Manslaughter Is Charged.

Guelph, Feb. 6.—Conrad Kennedy, engineer, and Matthew Fleming, conductor of the freight train, which took the wrong track from Harriston and killed two men in a collision, which resulted, appeared in court yesterday charged with manslaughter. They were sent to trial at the next Assizes, bail being refused until permission from the Attorney-General's Department was secured.

Complete Works of Tolstoi.

Moscow, Feb. 6.—A local publishing house is planning to bring out the long-awaited complete edition of the works of Count Leo Tolstoi. Royalties to the amount of $250,000 will be paid in annual instalments of $25,000. It is declared that with the approval of Premier Stolypin the censored works of the count will be included in this edition, which will number about twenty-five volumes.

Aunt Leaves Her $500,000.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Mayme McKenna has, through the death of an aunt at Oswego, N.Y, fallen heir to $500,000.

Mrs. McKenna also is one of several heirs to an estate which has pending a suit against the City of New York for possession of property valued at $200,000,000.

Whole Town to Move.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—Cowley, in Southern Alberta, a small town on the Canadian Pacific Railroad, will be moved bodily next week to a new site two miles south of its present location. Regrading on the line made the moving of the town necessary. The railroad will pay the entire expense.

Old Mail Carrier Dead.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—Joseph B. Gillespie, one of the oldest of the Government mail clerks, collapsed on the street yesterday, and died of heart disease in a few minutes.

Thirty years ago he brought the first direct mail from Port Arthur to Ottawa.

Six Years For Burglars.

Kingston, Feb. 6.—Reginald Lewis and Percy Pare, the young men who on Tuesday pleaded guilty to burglarising the stores of Louis Abramson and Andrew McLean here, came up for sentence yesterday before Magistrate Farrell, and were each sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. Both were married only recently.

War Supplies For the East.

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—The close of the present week will see an unusual amount of war material and supplies shipped from this port to the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands.

Two Boys Burned In Fire.

Montreal, Feb. 6.—Advices from Wickham, Que., tell of the burning of the home of Arthur Dubreuile, in which the lives of his two sons, aged two and five years, were lost.

McLEAN RAKES THE C. P. R.

their rates, to give the farmers of the west lower transportation for their products and to provide devices to safeguard the lives of the people."

Mr. Maclean hoped the Minister of Railways would regulate the issue of these securities by the railways. There could not be a regulation of railway rates until there was a regulation of the issue of securities, and securities should not be issued unless the railway could show that it had no further resources. The C.P.R. had a treasury the extent of which nobody knew.

R. L. Borden brought up in the House yesterday afternoon the subject of the despatch from Lord Crewe, Colonial Secretary, to the Governor-General, which Sir Wilfrid Laurier communicated to the House on Thursday, and quoted authorities in support of his contention that Lord Crewe was wrong.

Mr. Borden held the Government of Canada wholly responsible to Parliament, not only for the negotiation of the treaty, but in the matter of upholding the rights of this country in relation to any communications with the Government of Great Britain.

"For my part," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "I agree altogether with my hon. friend. I see no reason whatever why the moment the treaty has been signed by the plenipotentiaries, and even before it has been signed by the sovereign, it should not be communicated to Parliament.

"I shall look up the authorities to which Mr Borden has called my attention and then communicate with the Colonial Office in reference to the matter."

In committee of supply yesterday afternoon, there was a lively discussion on the Lemieux Compulsory Investigation Act.

F. D. Monk (Jacques Cartier) referred to some complaints by labor bodies, and asked if it was the intention of the Government to make any amendments to the act this year.

Mr. Lemieux said the C.P.R. employes had made application to have the act amended, but it was not the intention to make any change. He thought the act was quite satisfactory and in time that labor men would approve of it. What the C.P.R. men wanted was that if the company desired to force a reduction of wages, it would have to call for an arbitration board.

W. F. Maclean (South York) put the view as he had learned it from communication with men in his own constituency, where there are a large number of C.P.R. employes. These men had said that if they are dissatisfied with their conditions before they could strike they must ask for a board and then, if they refused to accept the division of the board, they were charged with bad faith.

Martin Burrell (Yale-Cariboo) strongly endorsed the view expressed by Mr. Maclean. The men were at a decided disadvantage, as the act took the edge off their only weapon, the power to strike.

The House adjourned at six o'clock to give the members the opportunity to attend a ball at Rideau Hall. Estimates of the Agricultural Department aggregating $400,000 were passed during the afternoon.

HAD GIVEN UP HOPE

But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Vigorous Health

Medicines of the old fashioned kind will sometimes relieve the symptoms of disease, though they never touch the disease itself—they never cure. Ordinary medicines leave behind them indigestion, constipation and headaches. Purgatives leave those taking them feverish and weakened. On the other hand Dr Williams' Pink Pills do direct good to the body, the blood and the nerves. They fill the veins with new rich blood; they tone and strengthen the nerves; they cure disease by rooting it out of the blood. They always do good —they cannot possibly do harm.

Mrs George R Wilson, Moncton, N B, says "A few years ago after confinement I contracted a severe cold and although I took considerable medicine, I got no better. In fact my condition was gradually getting worse. I was all run down, had no appetite, and grew so weak that I could not do my housework. At last the doctor who was attending me told my husband that I was going into a decline and I feared so myself for a sister had died of consumption. When almost in despair a friend suggested my taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and I got half a dozen boxes. Before I had taken them all I began to get better. Then I got another half dozen boxes, and before I had used them all I was able to do my housework again and was in better health than I had enjoyed for years. I believe Dr Williams' Pink Pills saved me from going into consumption and I warmly recommend them to every weak person."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr Williams Medicine Co, Brockville, Ont.

Laymen's Congress.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Secretary Caskey of the Laymen's Missionary Movement received a letter from Robert Speer, New York, stating he would be pleased to address a mass meeting of ladies during the missionary congress on Thursday, April 1.

Rev. A. E. Armstrong of this city and James Roger, Montreal, met to make a tour of the Maritime Provinces for the next two weeks on behalf of the congress.

The Bishop of Fredericton and R. W. Allin are placing the claims of the movement.

Fisher Boy Heir to $600,000.

San Sebastian, Spain, Feb. 6.—A poor fisher-boy of San Sebastian named Lojabeits, upon returning from a cruise, was met on the wharf here by two strangers, who asked him if he knew who his parents were. The boy replied no. The strangers then informed him that they were the executors of the will of his mother, an American woman, who died, leaving him $600,000.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures sick women.

Miss M. R. Morin, 835 Ontario St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was in very poor health and doctored for months, receiving very little benefit. I had lost all ambition, was nervous, and subject to dizzy spells and painful periods each month.

"A friend suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the proper medicine for me. I procured a bottle of this remedy and began taking, and before it was finished, I felt so much better that I continued its use and gave it a thorough test, with the result I am to-day well and a much healthier girl than I was three years ago. I have no more painful periods, dizziness or nervous troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

An Irish Admiral.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 6.—The British steamer Katanga, from Guayaquil, on her way to Comox for coal, was mulcted $7,500 by an Irish admiral of the Ecuador Government when at the southern port.

The admiral, said to be a deserter from the British navy, who was raised to his position after saving the life of the President during one of the periodical revolutions, had a small tugboat mounted with guns and came to the Katanga demanding $5,000.

"What for?" asked Capt. McBride.

"For a lighthouse we are going to build," said the admiral.

Under protest Capt. McBride paid, and was then ordered to pay another $2,500 for wharfage, and he had also to pay this sum.

The Katanga took coal to Guayaquil from Newcastle.

German Officials Sentenced.

Kiel, Feb. 6.—Three officials of the imperial navy yard were sentenced yesterday to terms of three years, twenty months and six weeks' imprisonment respectively, having been convicted of the embezzlement of several hundred thousand dollars.

Their speculations extended over many years. Three other officials were acquitted of a similar charge on insufficient evidence.

THE YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, M.A., headmaster of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has very kindly consented to deliver an address before the members of the Young Conservative Club on Saturday evening next Feb. 6th. His subject will be "Caesar." The great Roman general, who conquered Britain, and left perhaps the greatest name in history ultimately yielded up his life to what the Romans thought was his dangerous desire to rule them as king and dictator. He is best remembered, however, by the average man as the author of "The Commentaries," which begin with the oft-quoted statement that all Gaul is divided into three parts. The club has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Kenner for one of its series of educational lectures. Members only are entitled to attend. This provision has been found necessary in order to preserve the privileges of the club to members. A short musical programme will also be presented. The chair will be taken at eight o'clock sharp. Do members desire to have a Mock Parliament?

IMPORTANT ADVICE

TO

SPECTACLE WEARERS

THREE PLAIN FACTS.

I.—That more eyes are injured by the injudicious use of Glass than by any other known cause

II.—That a great number of people are wearing spectacles unsuitable for them, and for which their eyes have not been tested.

III.—That the old fashioned and unscientific method of testing the eyes by trying on various spectables of different strengths until the sight is apparently suited, is to say the least of it, dangerous.

It cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the minds of those who suffer from defective eyesight that proper lenses and correctly fitting frames are absoluely essential for comfortable spectacle wearing. We grind our own lenses. Charges moderate.

LADIES' SENTINEL L. O. L.
No. 459 HOLDS CONCERT AND LECTURE BY CONT'R HOCKEN

The Ladies' Sentinel L. O. Lodge, No. 459, held a successful entertainment and lecture last evening in the fine lodge-room of the Sons of England, Hunter street. The attendance was fair. Lt.-Col. Miller occupied the chair. The preliminary part of the programme consisted of a recitation by Miss E. Calder, a piano solo by Miss Wylie, a piano duet by the Misses Spier, and a mouth-organ solo by Mr. Frost, all of which were encored.

Mr. Roy Jackson gave a very amusing reading entitled, "The Model Servant Maid," and in response to a hearty recall gave "The Dutchman's Superstition." The main business of the evening, however, was a lecture on "Orangeism," by Controller Hocken, of Toronto, editor of The Sentinel, and author of the famous article on "The Duty of the Hour," which created such a stir immediately prior to the late general election. Mr. Hocken is a slight pleasant-mannered gentleman of medium stature and quiet unassuming way of speaking. His lecture was chiefly a defence of Orangeism against the indifference of Protestants who, as a rule, argue that Orangeism is unnecessary in Canada. Orangeism began in 1791, in Ireland, where the speaker said it was impossible for Protestants to live without combination. The order was founded upon the finest principles in the world, viz., maintenance of the Christian religion, charity, tolerance, love of one's fellowman and the upholding of law and order. He strongly deprecated the use of any words or acts likely to cause offence to others of a different faith. The order was purely a defensive one. To prove that Orangemen had no grudge against the religion of Roman Catholics, he stated that where in a community Protestants found a priest not interfering in politics, it was their duty to assist him in every way in their power in the practise of his religion and in promoting the welfare of his parishioners. Orangemen had no desire in any way to prevent Catholics exercising the full and free enjoyment of their religion. He remarked that Prince William of Orange of glorious pious and immortal memory, had himself been a Roman Catholic and that it was not until the persecution of Alva drove him to protect his people and himself that he became a Protestant. He referred feelingly to the murder of Scott and the death of Hackett, and asserted that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had betrayed his trust as a guardian of the constitution, when at the bidding of a foreign ecclesiastic he had introduced into the new Canadian provinces a system of Separate schools. He again affirmed the necessity of winning the good opinion of Catholics and Protestants alike by fair treatment and kindly and courteous conduct. He thought political patronage an evil. Of women's suffrage he thought rather little, maintaining that women did not need the franchise. He closed by complimenting the ladies of Sentinel Lodge on their successful efforts.

The chairman then called upon Mr. J. H. Burnham, who, he said, he noticed in the audience, to say a few words. Mr. Burnham remarked that he thought what was the matter with the country was what Judge Cassels characterized as a lack of conscience. We assumed too much when we assumed that Canadians were a model lot of Christians. Exposed facts and the severe arraignment by such men as the Liberal judge just quoted, ought to give the advancing hosts pause. But before even this consideration it was necessary to love and practise justice and to make every effort to secure and maintain perfect freedom of conscience. With these two facts well in hand the country would be safe. He did not agree with the speaker's attitude towards women's suffrage. He was inclined to think that women's influence in the field of human endeavor was largely what was lacking to give it "sweetness and light."

Mr. Keyes spoke of the high character and ability of the lecturer and especially of the good work of the Sentinel. A hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer was moved by Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong, (who remarked that the speakers seemed determined to taffy the women) and seconded by Mr. Jones. The entertainment closed with the national anthem.

The Grand Lodge will meet in Peterborough in May.

THE LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY

The Matter Appearing in This Department is Furnished by the Peterborough Temperance and Moral Reform League Which Has Arranged for its Publication.

Now that the local option campaign is well under way the interest being taken in it is increasing rapidly. During the past two weeks, temperance workers have been canvassing ratepayers in all parts of the city for signatures to the petition to the city council asking for the taking of a vote on local option. This has had the effect of bringing the fact that a campaign is on to the attention of a large number of people. The reception the workers have received has been very encouraging. Signatures have been received with greater ease and in larger numbers than was anticipated. Already over the required number of names have been secured. The workers will meet again next Monday evening, in the league rooms, 173 Simcoe street to report progress.

Wholesaling and Penalties

The temperance workers are being asked what will be done in regard to the wholesale and shop licences and with the brewery in Peterborough in the event of local option being carried. Should local option carry, the retail shop business will be cut off the same as the hotel licenses. The brewery will not be closed but it will not be allowed to make sales in small quantities or to any person who intends to retail it in a local option district. The law in regard to this matter is briefly summarized as follows;

A local option bylaw does not prohibit the issue of licenses to sell liquor. Wholesale licenses, however, are only issued directly by the Provincial Secretary, under regulations provided by the Government through the Provincial Secretary, has definitely announced that no such licenses will be issued to take effect in municipalities in which local option bylaws have been carried.

The smallest fee that is charged for a wholesale license is $250, and it authorizes sale only in large quantities and on premises entirely devoted to wholesale business.

A wholesale license would only pay in a place in which there was a large retail liquor business. There are only twenty-three such licenses issued in the whole Province of Ontario.

The Bear and the Bar Room

Already references to the campaign in Peterborough have been made in a number of city pulpits. Several ministers are planning to deliver a series of temperance sermons.

At the evening service in St Andrew's church the pastor on Sunday last made use of the following illustration.

On the premises of one of the local hotels, for some time recently, a bear was kept. Though petted, pampered and well-fed he was securely chained as time went on his temper became exceedingly irritable. So much so was this the case that he became a menace to the safety of all who came near the limits of his range which he was constantly trying to extend. Finally in a moment of carelessness, one woman came very near losing her life by falling into his power. As a result the bear was promptly destroyed and his carcass was put on exhibition so that all might know the danger was removed.

But on the premises of every hotel there is a far more dangerous monster than the bear. True like time, it is chained and like him also it is constantly striving to get beyond the limits of the chain in its reach for fresh victims. This monster, unlike the bear, who nearly killed one captive has done to death hundreds of people and has brought misery, degradation and ruin worse than death to hundreds of others. What shall we do with it. Some would shorten the chain and let him go on killing victims in a range that would perhaps be more limited. But if for threatening one life, the bear should be killed, surely no time should be lost in despatching a monster that is actually taking many lives and is stretching out with insatiable appetite for the blood of every man that comes within its reach.

Catholic Clergy and Temperance

All over the world, the Catholic church is doing a splendid work in the interest of temperance. Perhaps nowhere has this been better illustrated than in our own community, where great progress has been made under the leadership of this church.

We quote here the opinion of one prominent clergyman, Archbishop Ireland who says;
up of Ireland, who says;

"The Catholic Church is absolutely and irrevocably opposed to drunkenness and to drunkard-making. In vain, we profess to work for souls if we do not labor to drive out an evil which is daily begetting by the ten thousand and peopling hell. In vain we boast of civilization and liberty if we do not labor to exterminate intemperance. Christianity, the elevation of the masses liberty—all that the age admires—is set at naught by this dreadful evil. The individual conscience is the first arm in opposing it, but the individual conscience has to be strengthened and supplemented by law. The claim of saloon keepers to freedom in their traffic, is the claim to spread disease, sin and pauperism."

Campaign Notes.

A vigorous local option campaign has been begun in Belleville. An organization meeting has been called for an early date.

Several people in Peterborough seem to think that the local option law is identical with the Scott Act. This is not the case. An article pointing out the great superiority of the former will appear in this column in the near future.

Full arrangements in regard to the essay competition have not been completed. They will be announced shortly.

The temperance workers in Brantford are not going to be caught again this year. At a largely attended meeting held recently, officers were elected and organization affected.

A well known Farmers' Institute speaker, Mr W. F. Stephen, of Huntingdon, Que., who has been addressing a series of meetings in rural districts of Ontario states that where local option has been in force for over a year, the hotels are as well kept as they ever were. It is only where local option is new that the hotels are inferior to what they were. Mr. Stephen claims that in a few months, conditions will right themselves.

Local Option

Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I think you will agree with me that in all matters concerning public and other questions, fairness and honesty should accentuate the efforts employed to advance a cause in the matter of local option. In this city the so-called temperance advocates are misrepresenting facts in order to secure signatures to the petition. Statements have been made that local option would only imply the closing of the bars, while liquor stores would still be allowed to sell, such statement is not true and it is used to get votes from those who would gladly see the bars abolished, but do not approve of having the sale of beer, etc., suppressed. Fair-minded people are already seeing the evil of local option enforcement in those districts where the measure was carried. While the sale of liquor is prohibited in unlicensed places, it is sold on an extensive scale in drug stores and other stores as "medicine or peruna," the influence upon the character of the people who thus see the law defied and evaded, cannot be otherwise than bad. I hope that Peterborough citizens will not fall into the way of those who wish to force upon others their peculiar views.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

I remain,
CLOSE OBSERVER.

The Blue Ribbon White Event

Of all the white sales that we have ever held, this will prove the best. Dainty undergarments, fabrics, linens, domestics, laces, embroideries, and wear-things, all in white—snowy billows of them—tables and counters piled high and overflowing with them—and every component the finest looms and the most expert needleworkers find it possible to produce.

THIS WHOLE STORE IS A VISION OF SNOWY LOVLINESS

And how advantageously we bought—how painstakingly we prepared for this great annual event is reflected in the unusual low prices which you will obtain on these charming garments, sheer fabrics and delightful wear-things. The spirit of economy overshadows even the splendid qualities and almost endless varieties—the bargains are doubly magnetic by reason of their timeliness.

It's tc be an event that will long be remembered by prudent housewives and thrifty shoppers—the greatest White Sale of all—THE BLUE RIBBON WHITE EVENT.

THE GREAT WHITE SALE BEGINS ON THURSDAY

COME EARLY IN THE DAY

Be among the first to revel in this Carnival of White—come early—in advance of the great rush which will later in the day respond to this announcement. Make your selection from complete assortment, before they are disturbed.

PROMPT SHOPPERS WILL PROFIT

The fact that many of the choicest values will go first must not be overlooked when planning to attend this sale. Be prompt and thus be sure of obtaining the BEST BARGAINS, while varieties are yet intact.

OBITUARY

Fanny Matchett, relict of the late Alexander Stewart, passed away yesterday at her home, lot 13, concession 17 Otonabee. She was fifty-three years of age and had been predeceased by her husband last December.

Mrs Stewart was born in Otonabee and was a daughter of the late Robert Matchett of Otonabee. She was a member of the Stewart settlement Presbyterian church and was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

Mrs Stewart is survived by three sons, Melville, Livingstone and Dalton and two daughters, Clara and Blanche, all residing at home. Three brothers, James, of Peterborough; Creighton, of Lethbridge, Alta, and Alexander, of Otonabee, and one sister, Mrs John Bennet, of Otonabee, are also left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to Little Lake cemetery.

The late Mrs Stewart was an aunt of Messrs O S and Stanley Matchett, of this city.

ELLEN TROTTER.

The death occurred at Nicholls hospital early last evening of Ellen Trotter, second daughter of Mr. Alexander Trotter, Water street north. The late Miss Trotter was fourteen years of age. She had been ill for only a week, her death being due to pneumonia.

The deceased was a member of the Murray street Sunday school and was highly esteemed by a large number of young friends, who will be deeply grieved to hear of her demise.

Her parents, four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn her loss. The brothers are Messrs. Dave, John, William and Alexander of this city, and Misses Annie and Margaret residing at home.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence, concession two, Smith, north end of Water street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

TWO CALLS IN QUICK ORDER

At 11.40 this morning the fire brigade answered a call to put out a chimney fire at Peter Hamilton's foundry. No damage resulted.

They had just returned to the fire hall when another alarm was sent in this time for a chimney fire at the home of Mr Wm Derry, 469 McDonnel street. There was no damage done there either.

NEW BROKERAGE FIRM IN BUSINESS

F. R. Bartlett and Company, Ltd. Open Offices at Royal Bank Building, Toronto

The stating of a new brokerage firm is always of interest in financial circles, but the launching of the F. R. Bartlett Co. Ltd., is doubly interesting because of the popularity of its members, Messrs. F. R. and J. W. Bartlett.

These two young men are well and favorably known in Toronto and parts of Canada. They have opened offices on the fourth floor of the Royal Bank building, and have entered into the banking and brokerage business with excellent connections in New York and London, England. They are handling nothing but first-class securities and gilt-edge stocks, making a specialty of the stock of that well-known silver mine in Gow Ganda, the Bartlett Mines Ltd.

Mr. F. A. Bartlett has been for about 11 years connected with the Dominion Bank, acting for the last three and a half years in the capacity of Manager of their north end branch at Winnipeg.

John W. Bartlett controls the famous Bartlett Mines Ltd. and has had a long experience as a Mineralogist in the Cobalt and Gow Ganda fields.

With such enterprising men as these at the helm the new concern is in an excellent position to serve the investing public and will be able to give their clients the benefit of their experience and excellent connections.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY IN CHURCH

Special Speakers at Peterboro Presbyterian Churches To-morrow

To-morrow is being observed as Young People's Day in the Presbyterian church in Canada. Special orders of service have been prepared and these will be used in the local Presbyterian churches. Rev. F. W. Anderson of Toronto, will conduct the service at St. Andrew's in the morning and at Knox church in the evening. The special speakers at St. Paul's will be the Revs. Messrs. Thomson of Hastings and H. J. Keith, B.D., M.A., of Knox church.

Rev. F. W. Anderson of Toronto, will address the Bible class at St. Paul's church to-morrow afternoon.

NEW MOVE BY SCHOOL BOARD

The Board of Trustees has decided to institute a library of high-class reading matter. The intention is to give the pupils an opportunity of enjoying the fruits of their education. The employment of spare time in the application of newly-acquired methods of education to sources of information and inspiration is vitally necessary to the success of the whole scheme. The public is earnestly invited to assist the Board by contributions of classical works of literature in the English language.

PETERBORO' WON 5-2 1-1 AT HALF TIME

Great Game on Soft Ice—Lindsay Put Up Fine Argument—Penalty List Was a Heavy One.

Owing to lack of space in to-day's issued of the Review, it is impossible to publish the play of last night's game.

Peterborough—5.
Lindsay—2.
Half-time.
Peterborough—1.
Lindsay—1

Peterborough won and deserved to win, but a large share of the credit must go to Leo Derocher, the clever goal tender, who stopped shots that would have beaten out eight goal tenders out of ten. On the general play all round Peterborough only had a shade of the advantage and on keen ice the struggle would have been as intensely exciting one. As it was the exhibition was a remarkable one considering the condition of the ice, which was wet and slo wfrom the start. In the first half it held pretty well together at half-time there was a thin sheeting of water on the ice and it was like the surface of a river in a spring thaw in the second half. The going must have been very hard for the players, but nevertheless they stayed with it all the time and the play didn't lag a single minute nor did the spectators lost interest. And there was certainly a big enough audience on hand to remind one of the days when the old stalwarts were upholding the honor of Peterborough in the O.H.A.

Shortly after eight o'clock the rink was filled with eager fans and a couple of hundred or more had to turn away, unable to secure admission. Between 300 and 400 were from Lindsay and they gave their favorites all kinds of encouragement. When Lindsay got their first goal their supporters made a noise that fairly shook the building, but only once during the evening were they given the opportunity of again displaying to the limit their Indian-like vocal powers.

The game was a strenuous one and a couple of scraps lent variety to it. Referee Sutherland was very strict and pursued th ewise plan of inflicting penalties for small offences and thus discouraging the bigger ones. Randall was given the longest rest of any, being sent to the bench for ten minutes for mixing it up with Parnell, the latter being given five minutes at the same time, but the match was not an unusually rough one by any means, when the rivalry between the two teams is taken into consideration and also the condition of the ice, which, on account of its slowness gave lots of opportunities for rough play and close checking.

The penalty list, which was constituted by minor offences, was a record one, 31 men being ruled off altogether—21 in the first half and 10 in the second.

Play had not been in progress many minutes before it was easily seen that clean cut combination play would not be practicable. In the first few minutes both teams showed some combination, but could not get away with it very long. Lindsay showed signs of a biff bang combination, that would have been dangerous on hard ice. Peterborough also did their best, under the adverse conditions, in the matter of combination play.

In the first half the players were pretty certain of their movements but in the second period the puck seemed glued to the ice at times and it was a matter of great difficulty to get it into fast motion. The shooting on goal was greatly interfered with also and it became an impossibility to introduce any systematic or clean cut work and individual play with hard close checking became the order of the game. This applies especially to the second half. In this half a mist settled over the ice and this with the reflection of the lights in the water must have been very confusing to the puck chasers.

As before mentioned however, the teams played with the greatest vim and dash they could under the circumstances and held the interest of the crowd throughout.

None of the players were seriously injured. The only man at all seriously incapacitated was Dusty who was accidentally hit in the face with the puck in the second half. It was necessary for him to retire for the remainder of the game. Gene Hurtubise, who was goal umpire picked him up and carried him off as if he had been an infant. The spectators were in a mood for cheering and yelled loudly as the big grappler carried Dusty to the dressing rooms.

In the first half of the game, the play was very even and with the game half finished and the score 1-1 the local supporters felt a little shaky for fear Lindsay would pull up in the second half and possibly win out. They didn't do so however and the locals had the score 4-1 before the Seagoo outfit could locate the nets. Then it was 4-2 and Peterborough got the last tally, making the final score 5-2 in their favor.

Derocher in goal stopped some shots of the most difficult character and relieved in a quick and heady way.

Rollie Glover always plays a good game at point but last night his work was phenomenal. He broke up combinations and rushes, stopped shots [illegible] for Derocher and carried the puck up the ice in those heel and toe rushes of his. He certainly acquitted himself with great credit and played one of the most brilliant and effective games on the ice.

Ray on the forward line sprang the surprise of the night. Although a star performer on good ice, there was some doubt of him being able to stand the pace on the heavy surface on account of his youth and of being so light. He set all these doubts aside however by playing the cleverest forward game on the ice, and was in the game at top pressure from the first to the last curtain. He handled the puck beautifully and gave the Lindsay seven all kinds of annoyance by his puzzling and effective rushes.

Moore was in fine form at cover and was a hard man to pass. He also relieved in excellent fashion.
ad hockey

Dusty looked after his wing in a way that won him the approval of the locals supporters and in the second half beat out Randall, his check on almost every occasion.

Morgan seemed to tire after the first fifteen minutes and the soft travelling apparently bothered Parnell.

There was little to pick among the Lindsayites, Koyl at point being probably the most conspicuous and effective man. He shaped up splendidly on the defence and tore off some breath-taking runs.

The forward line played wwell, although Stoddard did not scintillate like he generally does under more favorable conditions.

TURF

Lindsay, Feb. 4.—The bay golding, Walter G., owned by Tom Hodgins, of Orillia, was sold in town yesterday to A. C. Dafoe, of Foxboro. The horse was shipped to Bobcaygeon and won a prize of forty dollars for his new owner, taking the free-for-all in straight heats.

The two principal in the deal are "mum" about the price the pacer brought, but the understanding is that a goodly number of dollars changed hands on the deal.

Walter G has won a lot of prize money for Tom Hodgins during the time the Orillia owner possessed him. Last fall the gelding beat Patterson, now owned in Peterborough in one of the tightest races ever seen on the local track. At Hastings Walter G. won from Gracie Pointer, the white-faced North Bay mare. There was a little trouble caused in Peterborough over this horse, it being claimed that the bay pacer was Little Hector, but little came of it and Walter G. has been racing without dispute since.

LONGBOAT'S WIN POPULAR HERE

The news of Tom Longboat's victory over Alfie Shrubb was received in Peterborough about midnight and as the Indian was the favorite here the win was a popular one. Shrubb's admirers were confident and are still of the opinion that up to twenty miles the little Englishman is the superior of any man in the world. The returns were given at the Oriental hotel and a big crowd waited there to hear the result. The C.P.R. telegraph office received the bulletins.

LINDSAY CURLERS MADE A CLEAN-UP AT CANNINGTON

The Lindsay Warder says:—Lindsay curlers have once more demonstrated that they can win prizes and trophies wherever they go to curl. This time Skips Knowlson and Thomas almost cleaned up the Cannington bonspiel in which a number of strong rinks from Toronto, Peterborough, Scarboro and Beavertonn took part in it. Knowlson's rink won first prize in the consolation, receiving four beautiful travelling hand bags, and Skip Thomas' rink won second prize in the primary event, winning four sets of silver knives and forks.

In the primary event Skip Knowlson's rink was defeated in the second round by a rink from Claremont. He then entered the consolation and made a clean sweep, defeating every rink with ease. He also made a record by playing five games yesterday and winning them all, playing in all seventy ends. This is a record that will stand in Canada for some time even in the great "spiel" at Winnipeg, where four games a day constitute a record. Following are the results of Skip Knowlson's wins in the consolation:

Knowlson 15, Hicks, Peterborough, 5.
Knowlson 18, Palmer, Claremont, 9.
Knowlson 9, Purdy, Scarboro, 8.

SEMI-FINALS.

Knowlson 14, Ormond, Toronto Aberdeens, 3.

FINALS.

Knowlson 14, Guilding, Toronto Aberdeens 8.

Too much credit cannot be given Skip Thomas and his merry band of curlers who won second in the primary event. The rink played a fine game throughout, winning every game until the finals were revealed, when they were defeated by a rink from Scarboro on heavy ice. The fact of the matter is that they were "all in" and unable to put up their stones.

Scarboro men as everybody knows, are at home on soft ice, and won out by thirteen shots.

Following are Skip Thomas' scores:

Thomas 15, Birchard, Beaverton, 13.
Thomas 12, Palmer, Clareont, 6.
Thomas 12, Bease, Claremont, 11.

FINAL.

Thomas 14, Crawford, Scarboro, 27.

SHRUBB BEATEN

New York, Feb. 6.—Another Marathon has been run and won. The victor, Tom Longboat, well deserves the race, as he met and defeated the world's greatest ten and fifteen-mile runner, Alfred Shrubb, the English champion. The task was too much for the little fellow, and he gave up the fight at the twenty-fifth mile, fifth lap.

Shrubb jumped to the front and kept the lead until he quit. He gained lap after lap, and at one time was nearly a mile ahead of the Indian, who, at the twenty-third mile, began showing signs of distress. At the twenty-third and half mile Shrubb stopped, knelt and adjusted his shoes. Longboat gained a lap he had lost, but the English man arose and sprang after him with the speed of a deer. At this juncture Flanagan appeared at the track side with the Indian's bride. Tom smiled broadly, nodded his head and took fresh life. The little Indian squaw waved encouragement at each lap and the new life injected into the race caused Shrubb to lose heart. Shrubb began to walk in the twenty-fourth mile, and Longboat began to make lap after lap. Shrubb was done for. He was wobbling and tears streamed down his cheeks. He knew defeat was his, yet he staggered on, refusing to quit. His gait was nothing but a walk. Honors were even as the end of the race drew near. Had Shrubb had anyhing left it would have been anybody's race. As it was it was nothing but Longboat.

THE DEFEATED RUNNER.

Tom Flanagan was beside the ring and working like a trojan. "I'm satisfied," said he, as he notices the distress of Shrubb. At the end of the twenty-fifth mile and fifth lap Shrubb walked into the arms of his trainer and was led from the track. Longboat continued and finished the race. He received a rousing ovation.

TOM LONGBOAT.

YOU MANUFACTURE FAT?

If it were not for the fact that you add to your fat every day, you would soon get back to a decent figure. Each day's activities consume some of your excess. But it is "off with the old—on with the new" with you every twenty-four hours, so that the fat balance remains unchanged.

Now, people who take Marmola Prescription Tablets really get thin, but harmlessly so, and a hint as to the reason is given above. They eat and drink with undisturbed delight as formerly, and yet they lose, many of them, a pound a day. The reason is Marmola causes the body to stop manufacturing useless fat; hence the body it is introduced into gets thinner as a matter of course. Each day's activities alone would account for the delightful result.

Check up results from this point of view and you can readily understand why Marmola Prescription Tablets cause no ill effects or wrinkles, but, on the contrary, help the stomach and the appearance. They are nature's allies, not her competitors. This commends them to all, even the timid, as safe; and since they reduce one as fast as is desirable, that is all that is required.

When you get tired trying other methods of getting thin test this one. Marmola Prescription Tablets come in large, generously filled cases, and if your druggist cannot supply you, which is unlikely, you can get one or more cases by mail by sending the price, 75 cents, direct to Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich.

BOY'S FINGER SAVED

DEADLY
EFFECT OF BLOOD POISON

There is nothing so deadly in its operation as Blood Poison and yet how subtly and unsuspecting it commences its work. First a tiny scratch or wound, not enough to demand attention. Then a little redness followed by a tiny red streak which rapidly broadens and travels upwards. The doctor is called in. The wound is lanced, but in nine cases out of ten mortification has set in and amputation is necessary in order to save the life of the patient.

Ernest Bartlett, of 31 Northern Place, Toronto, just escaped this. He had a terrible finger. This is his story:—"I accidentally knocked the joint of my finger and it turned to blood poison. I tried lots of remedies but the hand got worse. Finally I secured a sample of CUROL. This did so much good that I bought a 25c box and in five days the wound was doing nicely and finally healed. Had I used CUROL earlier it would have saved me a lot of suffering. I certainly advise everyone to use CUROL for all sores and injuries."

A cut, wound, or sore should be treated at once with CUROL. It is a wonderful salve, Healing, Soothing and Antiseptic, it touches the spot every time. A popular remedy at a popular price. All druggists and stores sell it, 25c per box, or sent on receipt of price by the CUROL SALVE CO., Spadina Ave., Toronto. Don't pay big prices when you can get the best for 25c.

Fighting Seabirds.

The penguin, a notable diver among seabirds, wins his mate by right of conquest, the male birds fighting for the possession of the females. These curious birds have regular duel grounds, where relics of innumerable combats, in the shape of feathers, lie scattered about. In the centre is the fighting arena, clear of all debris. The penguin's feathers and blubber form an efficient shield against their opponents' beaks, so the weapon used is the short flipper, the only wings the birds possess.

The fight begins with the two combatants walking solmenly round each other, waiting for an opportunity to grip. Once this is done the flippers come into play and the fighters shower blow after blow upon each other. There is no record as to how these fights end, but it is a safe supposition to say that they are seldom fatal. The force of the blow from a penguin's flipper is such that three or four of them will draw blood from the human hand.

Giving Away £5 Notes.

Lord Petre, who died in London a few days ago, was known as "Mr. Petre" in the neighborhood in North London in which he had lived for some time in quiet, modest apartments. His death ended a romantic and curious career. He married a famous American hostess in London twenty years ago, but later on renounced society and severed himself from all his friends, spending a roving life in England and America. It was only about a fortnight before his death that the real identity of "Mr. Petre" was discovered by the people of the house in which he lived, through a letter arriving by post addressed to Lord Petre. One of the late peer's eccentricities consisted of extravagant acts of generosity. It was no uncommon thing for him to stop his car at sight of a poor woman with a baby selling matches in the gutter, astonish her with a present of a £5 note, and drive away without waiting to be thanked.

"LO" AT THE PHONE.

Any of His Tribesmen Will Do to Answer His Call.

The Indians are great on using the telephone. They have but little or no use for the local boards, their calls being over the long distance. They do not put in a call for the individual. They do not ask for White Eagle at Canton or Flying Cloud at Darlington. The call is for "any Cheyenne." The same is true as to the Arapahoes. Any member of the tribe serves.

An Indian puts in a call for any member of his tribe at Canton, Darlington, Colony, Lawton or any point. It is "up to" the manager to go out on the street and pick up an Indian. Any one will do, so he is of the tribe asked for. He is put up to the phone and the talk proceeds. The talk being in Indian, no one knows what it is about.

If an Indian, say, in Clinton wants to reach one of his people, say, forty miles from Canton or any other given point, he calls for one of his tribesmen, tells him the message he desires delivered, and it is his business to deliver it, even though it requires a night trip and in a storm.

A little Indian baby died near Clinton last year, and his mother desired that her relatives attend the funeral services. They lived out on the prairie northwest of Canton. The telephone was used and a member of the tribe directed to deliver the message to the mother's relatives. It was delivered by a courier across the prairies and canyons, and the relatives came in over the Orient next day.

Last summer a call came to Clinton for a Kiowa that was a poser for the manager. However, he found upon inquiry among the Cheyennes that there was one who had lived among the Kiowas and spoke the dialect. He was put up to the phone and received the call.—Clinton Cor. Dallas News.

Seedless Grapes.

What's become of the "coreless" apple? Twenty years ago it was announced as a discovery or a development calculated to revolutionize the orchard industry. Of late we hear less about it. A little later the "thornless" blackberry appeared on the horizon. It certainly was thornless, but somehow it failed to drive the ferociously armed brambles of the berry gardens into the desert. It is still produced, but the older kinds are yet much more common. Now the "seedless" grape bids for favor. Such a fruit would surely "meet a long felt want." If the quality and flavor of the few thus far grown can be perpetuated and it proves remuneratively productive and capable of "standing up" for shipment there is a big future before it.—Country Life In America.

Camille Flammarion's Home.

M. Flammarion, with his wife, who, by the way, is also a keen thinker and her husband's constant assistant, lives in a chateau at Juvisy, built right on the spot chosen by Louis XIII. to erect a royal residence. Besides being an admirable housewife, Mme. Flammarion is one of the charter members of the Disarmament league. Before Louis XIII. cast his eyes on the place there was a chateau there. Napoleon stayed in it on his way to Fontainebleau. The mansion was acquired later by an amateur astronomer, who had an observatory constructed on the grounds. When he died he bequeathed the entire property to a man whom he had never seen. This man was Camille Flammarion.—"Memoirs of Loie Fuller" in New York Herald.

To Stop Hiccoughs.

Dr. Louis Kolipinski reports the arrest of persistent hiccough by depressing the tongue. A patient was attacked by hiccough which had persisted for four days before being seen by the doctor. He complained of the fullness in his throat, a condition which he thought the result of the hiccough. He was directed to sit up, and with a large spoon handle the tongue was pressed down and back with steady force to allow inspection of the fauces. Firm pressure on the tongue with the hope of further noting the action of the palatal muscles was continued, when, to the doctor's surprise and the patient's astonishment and joy, the hiccough ceased. When the hiccough returned the patient himself stopped it by using the spoon handle.—London Express.

The Flat Wheel.

The enormous energy developed by a flat spot in a wheel has been estimated by Professor Hancock of Purdue university. He finds that a flat spot two and one-half inches long on a thirty-three inch wheel, carrying a load of 6,000 pounds at thirty miles per hour, will deliver a blow to the rail of more than 1,000 foot pounds. The same flat wheel supporting a fifty-five ton interurban car running sixty miles per hour would deliver a blow with an energy of 9,500 foot pounds. Such a flat spot would be produced by wearing off less than five one-hundredths of an inch of metal.—Scientific American.

The Atmosphere of Mars.

Professor Percival Lowell, the astronomer, says that the assistants at his observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., have been able to determine that there is measurable water vapor on the planet Mars and that the atmosphere of Mars affects the spectrum in the same way, though only one-fifth as much, as does the earth's atmosphere. There has been much controversy with reference to the atmosphere of Mars and its qualities. Those scientists who disbelieve in any life on the planet have known that their point could be proved if the absence of an atmosphere should be shown.

Widows as Freemen.

Interesting facts regarding the privilege of being a freeman of the Borough of Launceston have been brought to light by C. L. Hart Smith. The widows of freemen, he declares, are themselves by right freemen, and any descendant of a freeman who marries the daughter or widow of another, or who served seven years as an apprentice to a freeman, becomes himself entitled to the freedom of the borough.

The New Dam

To the Editor of the Review:

Dear Sir,—Your suggestion in last night's Review, regarding the building of the proposed water works dam is a good one, although not a new idea.

The proposal to build a new dam at large expense on or near the site of the present waterworks dam, with its small head of eight feet, is, I think, going to prove a very expensive one for the town, $100,000 for eight foot head means $100 per horse power, while $200,000 expenditure for purchasing and developing Auburn dam, would only be $65 per horsepower, and would not only furnish power for the waterworks, but street lighting and for sale.

The idea would be to purchase the Auburn dam immediately below the present one, building it sufficiently high to unite the head of the present water-works dam with the Auburn, thereby getting a large head and a cheaper development.

Another point in its favor would be in connection with our water supply; the town is, or soon will be, up against the question of water filtration, and filtration beds can be cheaply constructed just above the present Auburn dam. It would not be very expensive for the town to put them in while building the dam.

I would suggest that nothing be done until the whole question is thoroughly threshed out by competent experts not only as to relative cost of the two schemes, but as an investment for future needs, water works, filter beds, street lighting and sale of power. If this is not done we blindly spend $100,000 or more not knowing what it is worth to us commercially or how we could have made a better investment, merely that something must be done and that it is a stop gap, for the time being, ending in finding that it has been practically thrown away and that for everything other than water supply, we are like Montreal, in the hands of the Philistines.

Yours,
ENGINEER.

ALL ABOARD FOR EUROPE ARE YOU ON THE LIST?

Are You Getting the Full Benefit of the Ballots Published Each Day? Vote Every One—Do Not Let Them Go To Waste

IT IS NOT YET TOO LATE TO NOMINATE

Although the standing of the candidates has been published but two days the score of a number of the contestants show activity. The highest vote of the entire contest is held by Miss Rose P. Moore of Lakefield, Miss Murtin Colin of Monaghan township, having second place in the ladies' list in the county.

The ladies in the city are coming to the front rapidly. While Miss Maude Adams has the highest vote in this list, Miss Maude Perry, Miss Mamie Thompson, Miss Tryhena Chasty and Miss Edith Bell have a splendid beginning.

The men's list in the city contains more candidates than any other section, but so far W. G. Rundle is the only one to appear in the limelight, but Norman Allison has shown his friends he is active by stacking up several hundred votes.

The gentlemen's list in the country covers the entire outside district nicely, and will be vigorously heard from in due time. The district prizes are too valuable not to excite competition.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Question—Is it too late to enter the contest? No; send in the name of a friend. Answer.—Nominations will be received until the latter part of February—date announced later.

Q.—Do candidates in one list compete with those in other lists? A.—They do not, except for the grand prize.

Q.—Are candidates allowed to secure support out of the district from which they enter? A.—Yes; subscriptions may be secured in any district or anywhere in Canada or the United States.

Q.—Do you give votes on all payments of subscriptions? Yes. We give free votes on all payments of $1 or more, whether for renewals or arrearages. If you have already paid in advance, you may secure votes by paying further in advance.

THE GRAND PRIZE.

The Grand Prize to awarded the successful candidate in this great test consists of first-class railroad travel with Pullman sleeper and meals a la carte, from Peterborough to Philadelphia, Pa., where a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son will be joined and steamship for Glasgow will be boarded. After the voyage across the great Atlantic the first place to be visited will be the land of the thistle. In Glasgow the old cathedral and fine public buildings will be seen. This trip will be by train to Edinburgh and the chief points of interest will be visited, including Calton Hill, Holyrood Palace, the castle, etc. Then travel by Midland railway via Carlisle to London, the capitol of Enland. Four days will be spent in London and a carriage will be provided to visit the many points of interest, including the Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, National Gallery, the Parks, Thames Embankment, etc. From London to Dieppe, thence to Paris, the capitol of the French Republic, where four days will be passed. Carriages will be furnished and the interesting places and abjects in and around the city, including the Invalides and Tomb of Napoleon I., Palace of the Louvre, Cathedral of Notre Dame, the Boulevards, Place de la Concorde, etc., will be visited. Also an excursion by rail to the palace and gardens of Varsailles. Leave Paris by rail for Harve, and then sail for America and HOME.

All necessary expenses are paid and a guide furnished from arrival at Glasgow to departure at Harve.

First-class railroad fare with Pullman sleeper, will be furnished from port of arrival in America to Peterborough.

New nominations since yesterday were Miss Jane E. Layfield, of Gilmour street, Miss Margaret Weir, of Lang, Miss Stella Rorabeck of Norwood, and Miss Lavina Whetung, Chemong Village.

ARRANGED FOR PUBLIC MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society of George street church has arranged for a public meeting to be held at the church on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 9th, at 3.30 o'clock. Miss McGriffin, assistant editor of the Missionary Outlook will give an address and Mrs R. W. Davidson and Miss Frances Manning will sing. There should be a large attendance.

George Barr McCutcheon's new story, "Jane Cable," starts in tomorrow's Review. Don't miss a copy of the paper while it is appearing.

GLASSES ARE PLENTIFUL

But it is almost a certainty that they would be even more common still if everybody wore them who should. You find people doing without them just as long as they possibly can which is a very wrong thing to do, indeed, every day makes the case harder to deal with. If you, reader, have the slightest cause to believe that your eyes need the attention of an optician, we shall be pleased to advise you if you need glasses, and if glasses are not neccesary we will tell you so. We invite you to call and ask us about your eyes.

TRIALS OF THE LAWMAKERS SOME GREAT M. P. CASES

Henry Labouchere's Appearances in Court in Connection With His Paper, Truth, Are Now Historic

The sensational case in which Mr. Horatio Bottomley, M.P., is figuring so prominently at the moment in the British House of Commons recalls several other famous trials in which M.P.'s have been interested.

As in the present trial, so in the Hansard case, Mr. Bottomley conducted his own defence, and his brilliancy on that occasion stamped him as the best "lay lawyer" in the country.

Probably no M.P. ever fought more actions in the law courts than Mr. Henry Labouchere has done in connection with his popular paper, Truth. "Labby" did not seek re-election at the last General Election, after representing Northampton for twenty-six years. It is said that the libel actions in which Mr. Labouchere has been involved have cost him between $200,000 and $250,000.

Not since [illegible], however, when Mr. Hugh Watt, M.P. for a division of Glasgow, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude—he was released at the end of the first year—for inciting to the murder of his former wife, has a member of Parliament figured in such a sensational case as that which is now engaging public attention at the Guildhall. But in 1901 Australia was considerably perturbed by an article which Mr. Findlay, Labor member for Melbourne, republished in his paper, libelling the King. This article resulted in Mr. Findlay's expulsion from the Victoria Legislative Assembly by sixty-four votes to seventeen.

Six Weeks' Imprisonment For Burns.

Just twenty years ago members of Parliament were suffering fines and imprisonment for militant tactics with the same cheerful willingness which seems to characterise the Suffragettes of to-day. The Parliament of 1888, in fact, was in a constant state of turmoil, chiefly owing to the troubles in Ireland; while Mr. John Burns, M.P., and Mr. Cunninghame Graham, also a member of the House at the time, introduced a little variety into the excitement of the session by getting sentenced in January of the same year to six weeks' imprisonment, without hard labor, for inciting to unlawful assembly in Trafalgar Square.

A few days after Mr. Burns and Mr. Graham were sent to prison warrants were issued under the Crimes Act for the arrest of several Irish members. And then the fun commenced, for in spite of an ambush of lynx-eyed detectives the gentlemen of the Emerald Isle proved as elusive as the wily De Wet.

Detectives in Ambush.

Mr. Douglas Pyne, M.P., who was subsequently drowned under mysterious circumstances between Holyhead and Dublin, dodged the detectives for some months. He was beleaguered in his house in Ireland for weeks. Then he escaped from the besiegers, crossed to London, drove in a cab to the foot of the Clock Tower, and was making a dash for the steps leading into Palace Yard when the officers seized him. Another moment and Mr. Pyne would have been safe. As it was he struggled violently to cross the border, when the Parliamentary "privilege" would have protected him from arrest, but it was too late, and finding resistance of no avail he good-humoredly surrendered.

That same afternoon the police made a sad blunder. They wanted to arrest Mr. Gilhooly, who was a little man. A detective on the lookout, seeing an Irish member of short stature in the neighborhood of the House, promptly arrested him. To the detective's horror, however, he found he had got hold of the wrong man, and had collared Mr. Patrick O'Brien instead of Mr. Gilhooly. Naturally the detective was most humble in his apologies, but the mistake did not allow Mr. Gilhooly much more freedom, for he was captured that night outside Palace Yard amid one of the most remarkable scenes in the history of Irish politics.

"Hanged, Drawn, and Quartered."

Mention of Mr. Patrick O'Brien recalls the famous trial of Mr. James Francis Xavier O'Brien, the Nationalist M.P. for Cork City, who was tried in 1867 for treason-felony, having been arrested while leading an armed party who attacked a police barracks. He was convicted and sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered. At the trial it appeared that the barrack was set on fire, and the inmates, including some women and children, were in imminent danger when Mr. O'Brien, at great personal risk, went to their relief. This circumstance was commented upon in terms of praise by the judge when passing sentence, which was commuted to penal servitude for life. Some years later Mr. O'Brien was amnestied.

A year after the arrest of Mr. Gilhooly the police were in pursuit of the genial and eccentric Dr. Tanner, who has since gone over to the great majority. Suddenly, amid wild Irish cheering, the doctor appeared in the House itself.

He had driven at great speed into Palace Yard in a friend's carriage, jumped hastily from the vehicle, and rushed through the members' entrance before the ambushed detectives could seize him. That night, when the House rose, Dr. Tanner proceeded to the Westminster Palace Hotel, surrounded by a crowd of Irish members, who formed a solid square round their colleague, and lustily sang "God Save Ireland" as they marched. On the steps of the hotel the doctor said good-bye to his escort, and when his friends had dispersed was quietly arrested in the smoke-room.

No Irish member, however, suffered more from the rigors of imprisonment than the late Mr. Michael Davitt, who was sentenced in 1870 to 15 years' penal servitude. He served seven.

A Pincushion For a Sovereign.

Mr. James Welch kept a crowd in a very merry mood recently when he opened a bazaar at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. He commenced by saying that he supposed he was asked to open the bazaar because the vicar had heard the story of a certain burglar. The latter when asked how he was getting on, said, "Very well; I have opened a shop." Asked where the money came from, he said, "Oh, I opened the shop with a jemmy!" He would open the bazaar with a jemmy. In Cockney slang a sovereign was a "jimmy" — a "Jimmy O'Goblin"—and he would give that for the first article placed in his hands. The stall-holders promptly rushed Mr. Welch, and a pincushion was what he got for his "jimmy." Mr. Welch, however, has not always been able to spend sovereigns in so generous a manner. There was a time when he had to pawn his watch to get a meal, and walked through the streets without a coin in his pocket.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

WAR ARTIST TELLS OF HIS WORK WHILE CAMPAIGNING

Famous London Correspondent Confesses That Is Particular About His Comforts When He is at the Front and His Cart is Famous

A few weeks ago, when the trouble in the Near East had reached an acute stage, an interviewer ran up against Mr. Melton Prior, the famous war artist and correspondent, in the Strand, London, and under the shadow of the fine old church of St. Clement Danes the following conversation ensued:

"Off to Bulgaria and Turkey?" asked the reporter.

Mr. Prior (laughingly): "Not this time. In the first place, I don't believe a shot will be fired, and, secondly, I am getting a little too old for European campaigns. They entail a tremendous lot of 'hustling' nowadays in order to get 'live' sketches and copy. The fights are conducted at such long range—often six and seven miles—and the movements are carried out with such rapidity, that a man requires a very good pair of legs and strong constitution to keep up with the line of fire. I would not mind a Nile Expedition or a Zulu war, which can be taken in a more leisurely fashion. They would be a nice holiday."

"From which I gather that you still have a main eye for creature comforts?"

Mr. Prior (with a chuckle): "Well, I always believed in making myself comfortable. Other correspondents used to crack jokes about my cart, in which I carried all the little luxuries I possibly could; but they laugh best who laugh last and the joke was mine when we had to camp in wild regions, right away from any commissariat.

"I remember that at Ulundi, where, in 1879, Lord Chelmsford beat the Zulus in a decisive battle, I was the only man with a tent. Even Lord Chelmsford slept under a tarpaulin."

And then, as the reporter accompanied Mr. Prior to his office in The Illustrated London News building for a smoke and chat, the famous war correspondent told him of the great loss he had at Ulundi. "That Zulu campaign," he said, "lasted about six months, and the Battle of Ulundi was practically the last fight. In the excitement I was robbed of my sketch-books containing my notes of the whole campaign. I was utterly broken up with disappointment, and I remember how I fell to the ground and burst into tears. Sir William Gordon Cumming, who was passing, called out, 'Never mind, Prior, here's my note-book. Run about and make your sketches again.' And this I did, but the loss of my earlier sketches was irreparable.

"It is rather a 'tall order,'" Mr. Prior remarked, when asked to tell something about his earliest campaigns. "It means carrying my mind back over a distance of thirty-five years; for it was in 1873 that I made my first appearance on a battlefield in the Ashanti War. And I remember that I made a vow, when the enemy were screeching and yelling around us and sending their slugs from all parts, that if I ever got out of that fight alive I would try a more peaceful vocation. But, alas! I have been false to my vow. It was a case of 'What's bred in the bone,' etc., I suppose.

"By the way, if ever you go out to that part of the world don't forget your tips for the natives. I did, when I went out to the war in '73. My luggage was put into a surf boat, manned solely by the natives of the coast, and as we paddled to the shore they seemed to sing 'You plenty dash me.' I paid no attention, not understanding what they meant, the result being that out of revenge for not having 'plenty dashed' them—meaning paid them well—they let the boat swing broadside on to the shore, and the next heavy surf turned it over, landing my luggage and myself in the water."

"Did you ever hear, by the way, how The Standard was able to announce that peace had been signed between Briton and Boer after the war of 1881, not only before any other newspaper had the information, but also before the Government had received the official news from Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood?

"I knew one of Sir Evelyn Wood's aides-de-camp, and I asked him to give me the quiet tip when Kruger had signed the peace document and Sir Evelyn was about to sign. The document was signed at O'Neil's farm, at the bottom of Majuba Hill, and a whole crowd of war correspondents waited outside for the official information. I had arranged, however, that as soon as the process of signing had begun the aide-de-camp should come outside and wink at me, while I signalled to Cameron, The Standard correspondent, who was lying on the ground some distance away with a horse behind a boulder, by raising my hat.

"The whole thing worked out exactly as I had planned, and Cameron was traveling as fast as his horse could take him to the camp telegraph station, when Sir Evelyn came out of the house and said to us, 'Gentlemen, I have to announce that peace has been signed, but I shall block the telegraph wires until my official despatch has reached the Government.'

"I never think of my South African campaigning days," Mr. Prior continued, "without recalling that it was in the Boer War of 1881 that I was credited with making one of the standard jokes of South Africa. In those days we generally traveled from one town to another in heavy, uncomfortable post carts, usually drawn by six horses. The roads were of the worst possible description. But I did hundreds of miles in these post carts, and on one occasion, having a cheery colonial companion by my side, he asked me how I liked South Africa, and what did I think of the country. Carefully readjusting my pince-nez, I replied 'that I thought it was a fine country to live—so—out of.'"

THE ART EXHIBIT HERE WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

Successful in every way as was the exhibit last year under the auspices of the Peterborough Branch of the Woman's Art Association, there is every indication of the one this year being even more attractive. Practically all the pictures are here and have been placed by the committee in charge of the exhibition. The pictures are of rare value and recognised as masterpieces by the connoisseurs of art.

They were recently exhibited in Toronto and were brought out to Canada through the personal influence of the President of the Women's Art Association. Mrs. Dignam, of Toronto. She personally met the artists who painted them while she was on a trip abroad, and they consented to having them exhibited in Canada. At the exhibition in Toronto one of Jos. Israel's works sold for $3000, and the Dominion Government purchased some of Walter Crane's illustrations and designs for $500.

At the exhibition in Peterborough, which will be open to the public all next week at the old Bank of Montreal building, commencing Monday at two o'clock. The admission will be 25 cents.

PENNY-A-LINER IS AFTER ALL A PROSPEROUS PERSON

Well-to-do Free Lance Scribbler for London Papers Tells of His Work—A Good Man With Well Established Connections Can Make Good Income.

The old notion that "penny-a-lining" is an impecunious business is all nonsense, declares one of them writing in London Tit-Bits. I am a journalist and proud of my profession, and I think I will show you that 'flimsy-pushing" is a profitable branch of literary work. You must have ability, of course, but you must also have industry and pluck if you want to get on. Here is my own little life story.

Still on the sunny side of thirty, I live in a house rented at $200 a year, own a pony and trap (I hope soon to change them for a motor-car), keep two servants, own two prize dogs, belong to two or three good clubs, and, as my income is, roughly, $2,500 a year, I have more than a passing acquaintance with His Majesty's collector of income-tax.

Every penny I expend is made out of 'lineage,'' or "flimsies."

"But what are 'flimsies'?" the uninitiated, with thoughts of bank-notes, may ask. "Flimsies" are very thin sheets of white paper. Between each sheet a piece of carbon the same size is inserted, and with a "Stylus" or a very hard lead pencil you can with one impression make fifteen or even twenty copies of a report. One of the white sheets is forwarded with all speed to each London newspaper, and the remuneration is in proportion to the amount used.

Personally, I am the acknowledged representative of about twenty London newspapers at a police court a few miles from Fleet street. But from none of these papers do I receive a salary. Every single incident of a humorous, pathetic, dramatic, or romantic nature I "flimsy" and supply to the papers "without fear or favor, affection or ill-will." In addition, I attend inquests, football matches, public meetings, and, in fact, any imaginable function in my particular district—which I ought to mention is a large and important one—likely to yield "copy." In a number of cases the report can be used, if not for the London dailies and evenings, for the Sunday, the provincial, or the trade papers.

Speed and accuracy are absolutely essential if you would be successful as a penny-liner. The public taste is ever changing, and the needs of the moment must be carefully studied. Of course, it pays to occasionally pander to the peculiarities of certain papers, and short, specially-written—not flimsied—articles should be sent on subjects of which they are at the time making a feature.

If the sheets of "flimsy" I have written during my career as a liner were placed end to end they would reach from St. Paul's Cathedral to the Bull Ring in Birmingham, and the subjects dealt with include every phase of human life and character.

Murders, suicides, elopements, love episodes, humorous sayings of prominent people, and artistic swindles are the most remunerative subjects to the "flimsy pusher," whose harvest time is the period known as the silly season, when newspapers have to fill the space usually devoted to Parliament and the law courts with other matter.

Of a recent celebrated case which went all over Europe I "flimsied" no less than forty-two columns, and of this amount thirty columns were published. This, I should imagine constitutes a record in "lining." The case concluded at the court where it was heard at ten minutes past two, and by four o'clock every line of the forty-two columns had left my hands on its way to the newspaper offices it was destined for. Of another famous case I had twenty-five columns published. Of course, the complete report is not handed in at once.

It is dispatched by trusted special messengers, two of whom are in my regular service, as the case proceeds, in batches, and I so arrange it that the final delivery for the evening papers only consists of a few lines embracing the result.

Another achievement of which I am proud is the raising of nearly a thousand pounds from the charitable public for really deserving cases of want and poverty, recommended to me by the magistrates in consultation with that excellent and hardworking official, the court missionary.

I could take you to two flourishing shops near London which have been bought out of money subscribed by the public in response to a touching "flimsy" story I have written. And a year or two ago their owners were on the verge of starvation.

Similarly I have been instrumental in restoring over a score of missing husbands to their wives, and how many swindles I have been the means of exposing I should not like to say.

If a penny-a-liner is good at writing "specials" he can materially increase his income. There is, perhaps, no place more calculated to reveal unusual phases of life than a police court and from hints which applicants or witnesses let drop a remunerative "special" is often obtained. Sometimes these are suitable for a weekly or monthly periodical, in which the rates of payment are higher than ordinary newspapers.

Why we are called penny-a-liners is not exactly clear, because many of the papers pay three-halfpence a line, some twopence, and one threepence, and on several occasions I have been remunerated by The Daily Telegraph at the rate of three and sixpence per line of seven words.

There is a comfortable berth on a great London daily with an immense circulation open to me when I like to take it.

But so long as my income remains at $2,500 a year I prefer to lead the free, unfettered life of a liner who dispenses "flimsies" by the mile.

TELLS US HOW TO MAKE MIXTURE

Splendid Remedy for Stomach and Kidnys and Rheumatism

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy" exclaimed a well known authority. "The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine has been neglected.

Stop loading your system with medicines and cure ails; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why of course, take the proper medicines—plain, common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach.

To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription. Fluid Extract Dandelion one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

MAY BE TAKEN INSTEAD OF THE DIAMOND

Four Beautiful Gold Watches

Of the Diamond and Watch prizes, two of each, will be awarded to contestants in the city, and two of each to contestants in the county, who take first and second places respectively, in city and county.

Nomination Ballot on Page 6 Voting Coupon on Page 2

The choice of the prizes was made after considerable deliberation, and we believe them to be the things most desired by the people of the present day Watches are almost indispensable, while diamonds are not only beautiful, but have a true cash value. A course in a business college is invaluable to a young lady or young man. A trip abroad is the one thing we all want and all expect or hope to make some day. Now is your chance to go at no expense to yourself.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start:

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them

DOMINION ALLIANCE TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual meeting of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance will be held in Elm street Methodist church, Toronto, commencing at 9 a. m. on Wednesday, March 3.

Every church congregation in Ontario, every Temperance Society, every religious organization, every body of citizens, desiring the deliverance of our land from the awful evils of intemperance, is earnestly requested to appoint delegates to the annual meeting of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance, to be held at the time and place above stated.

In issuing this invitation, the executive committee recognizes with gratitude the splendid victories that have been won by the united efforts of moral reformers in this Province, in their endeavors to banish the bar-room temptation. The substantial success that has been attained is an inspiration to renewed effort, and an example that is helpful to our co-workers in every part of the world.

This annual meeting is now fully recognized as Ontario's Provincial Parliament of Temperance workers. It unites all denominations and classes and agencies for consultation, decision and action. It voices public opinion. It speaks with influence and authority, and it has been the directing agency that on behalf of the people, has secured our advanced legislation and directed the great movement which has made that legislation so successful in the overthrow of the bar room curse in many localities. This year's meeting will be one of the most interesting and important that has yet been convened.

Among the important matters around which the interest of this convention will centre, will be a demand for the abolition of the unfair three-fifths requirement, the question of a provincial prohibitory law, and the laying of plans for another big local option campaign. Everyone of these issues will need the thought and counsel of men of earnestness, experience and sound judgment.

One of the distinguished visitors who will take part in the convention will be Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, the leader in the great campaign that resulted in the carrying of his State for Prohibition. Hon. Mr. Wright has been a conspicuous figure among the statesmen of the South for a long term of years during which he has been a leader in the Georgia Legislature. He is a strong, wise, progressive politician, a broad-minded philanthropist, and a forcible and eloquent speaker. His presence will add much to this great meeting, in which other men of wide experience and high ability will take part.

Every organization entitled to representation ought to make it a special duty to send delegates to this convention. Every delegate appointed ought to make a special effort to be present. Every citizen who reads this "Call" is earnestly urged to use his or her influence to make the meeting a great success. Pastors are requested to lay the matter before their congregations. Officers of all societies into whose hands this convention call comes are requested to bring it before their respective organizations. Newspaper editors are asked to give it as much publicity as its importance deserves.

Let our convention be a rousing rally of faithful, fearless, earnest men and women resolved to unite regardless of all personal or party consideration, in a supreme effort to effect, as far as possible, the deliverance of our Province from the terrible liquor evil that works widespread destruction, degradation, and distress.

Let the gathering be both large and representative so that such wisdom, enthusiasm and unity may govern our decision as will ensure the soundest policy, the most perfect plans and the greatest possible success.

The accompanying further information concerning this meeting ought to be carefully read closely followed and acted upon immediately. The Alliance Secretary will cheerfully furnish additional copies of this Convention Call, credential forms, or any other information in his possession.

Yours for God, Home and Country,
BEN H. SPENCE, JOS. GIBSON,
Secretary. President.

Jane Cable

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Author of "BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK," Etc.

How far a man's natural inclination toward evil may carry him, despite the fact that his wrongdoing involves the wrecking of the happiness of his only son, is well shown in this story of Chicago, the Philippines and New York. The tale is not all one of evil, however. In it figure also love and romance, daring and danger, patriotism and the self sacrificing if mistaken devotion of the Filipino to his country's cause. Our narrative is essentially one of modern times, and its characters or their originals walk the streets of American cities today, but their actions and the story of their loves and hates recall with distinct force the scenes and persons depicted by Dickens. Especially is this true of Elias Droom, the elderly lawyer's clerk, who is worthy of comparison with any one to be found in the pages of the English master.

CHAPTER I.

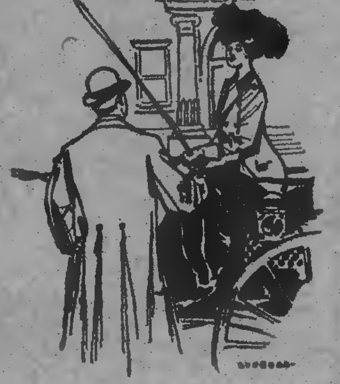
IT was a bright, clear afternoon in the late fall that pretty Miss Cable drove up in her trap and waited at the curb for her father to come forth from his office in one of Chicago's tallest buildings. The crisp, caressing wind that came up the street from the lake put the pink into her smooth cheeks, but it did not disturb the brown hair that crowned her head. Well groomed and graceful, she sat straight and sure upon the box, her gloved hand grasping the yellow reins firmly and confidently. Miss Cable looked neither to right nor to left, but at the tips of her thoroughbred's ears. Slender and tall and very aristocratic she appeared, her profile alone visible to the passersby.

After a very few moments' waiting in her trap the smart young woman became impatient. A severe little pucker settled upon her brow, and not once, but many times, her eyes turned to the broad entrance across the sidewalk. She had telephoned to her father earlier in the afternoon, and he had promised faithfully to be ready at 4 o'clock for a spin up the drive behind Spartan. At three minutes past 4 the pucker made its first appearance, and now, several minutes later, it was quite distressing. Never before had he kept her waiting like this. She was conscious of the fact that at least a hundred men had stared at her in the longest ten minutes she had ever known. From the bottom of a very hot heart she was beginning to resent this scrutiny when a tall young fellow swung around a nearby corner and came up with a smile so full of delight that the dainty pucker left her brow as the shadow flees from the sunshine. His hat was off and poised gallantly above his head, his right hand reaching up to clasp the warm little tan one outstretched to meet it.

"I knew it was you long before I saw you," said he warmly.

"[illegible] How interesting!" she responded, with equal warmth. "Something psychic in the atmosphere today?"

"Oh, no," he said, reluctantly releasing her hand. "I can't see through



"I knew it was you long before I saw you."

these huge buildings, you know. It's impossible to look over their tops. I simply knew you were here, that's all."

"You're romantic, even though you are a bit silly," she cried gayly. "Pray, how could you know?"

"Simplest thing in the world. Rigby told me he had seen you and that you seemed to be in a great rage. He dared me to venture into your presence, and that's why I'm here."

"What a hopelessly commonplace explanation! Why did you not leave me to think that there was really something psychic about it? Logic is so discouraging to one's conceit. I'm in a very disagreeable humor today," she said, in fine despair.

"I don't believe it," he disputed graciously.

"But I am," she insisted, smiling brightly. His heart was leaping high—so high that it filled his eyes. "Everything has gone wrong with me today. It's pretty trying to have to wait in front of a big office building for fifteen minutes. Every instant I expect a policeman to come up and order me to move on. Don't they arrest people for blocking the street?"

"Yes, and put them in awful, rat swarming dungeons over in Dearborn avenue. Poor Mr. Cable, he should be made to suffer severely for his wretched conduct. The idea of"—

"Don't you dare to say anything mean about dad," she warned.

"But he's the cause of all the trouble. He's never done anything to make you happy or"—

"Stop! I take it all back. I'm in a perfectly adorable humor. It was dreadfully mean of me to be half angry with him, wasn't it? He's in there now working his dear old brain to pieces, and I'm out here with no brain at all," she said ruefully.

To the ingenuous youth such an appeal to his gallantry was well nigh irresistible, and for a moment it seemed as if he would yield to the temptation to essay a brilliant contradiction, but his wits came to his rescue, for, quickly realizing that not only were the frowning rocks of offense to be avoided, but likewise the danger of floundering helplessly about in the inviting quicksands of inanity, he preserved silence, wise young man [illegible] he was, and trusted to his eyes to express an eloquent refutation. At last, however, something seemed to occur to him. A smile broke on his face.

"You had a stupid time last night," he hazarded.

"What makes you think so?"

"I know who took you in to dinner."

The eyes of the girl narrowed slightly at the corners.

"Did he tell you?"

"No; I have neither seen nor heard from any one present." She opened her eyes wide now.

"Well, Mr. S. Holmes, who was it?"

"That imbecile, Medford."

Miss Cable sat up very straight in the trap. Her little chin went up in the air. She even went so far as to make a pretense of curbing the impatience of her horse.

"Mr. Medford was most entertaining. He was the life of the dinner," she returned somewhat severely.

"He's a professional."

"An actor!" she cried incredulously.

"No; a professional diner out. Wasn't that rich young Jackson there?"

"Why, yes. But do tell me how you knew." The girl was softening a little, her curiosity aroused.

"Of course I will," he said boyishly, at once pleased with himself and his sympathetic audience. "About 5:30 I happened to be in the club. Medford was there and, as usual, catering to Jackson, when the latter was called to the phone. Naturally I put two and two together." He paused to more thoroughly enjoy the look of utter mystification that hovered on the girl's countenance. It was very apparent that this method of deduction through addition was unsatisfying. "What Jackson said to Medford on his return," the young man continued, "I did not hear, but from the expression on the listener's face I could have wagered that an invitation had been extended and accepted. Oh, we boys have got it down fine. Garrison is"—

"And who is Garrison?"

"Garrison is the head door man at the club. It's positively amazing the number of telephone calls he receives every afternoon from well known society women."

"What about? And what's that got to do with Mr. Medford taking me in to dinner?"

"Just this: Suppose Mrs. Rowden"—

"Mrs. Rowden!" The girl was nonplused.

"Yes—wants to find out who's in the club. She phones Garrison. Instantly, after ascertaining which set, younger or old, is wanted, from a small card upon which he has written a few but choice names of club members he submits a name to her."

"Really, you don't mean to tell me that such a thing is actually done!" exclaimed Miss Cable, who as yet was socially so unsophisticated as to be horrified. "You're joking, of course!"

"But nine times out of ten," ignoring the interruption, "it is met with: 'Don't want him!' Another: 'Makes a bad combination!' A third: 'Oh, no, my dear, not a dollar to his name—hopelessly ineligible!' This last exclamation, though intended solely for the visitor at her home, elicits from Garrison a low chuckle of approval of the speaker's discrimination, and presently he hears, 'Goodness me, Garrison, there must be some one else!' Then, to her delight, she is informed that Mr. Jackson has just come in, and he is requested to come to the phone, Garrison being dismissed with thanks and the expectation of seeing her butler in the morning."

"How perfectly delicious!" came from the girl. "I can almost hear Mrs. Rowden telling Jackson that he will be the dearest boy in the world if he will dine with her."

"And bring some one with him, as she is one man short," laughed Graydon, as he wound up lightly: "And here is where the professional comes in. We're all on to Medford! Why, Garrison has half a dozen requests a night—six times five—$30. Not bad—but then the man's a 'who's who' that never makes mistakes. I won't be positive that he does not draw pay from both ends. For, men like Medford, outside of the club, probably tip him to give them the preference. It would be good business."

There was so much self satisfaction in the speaker's manner of uttering these last words that it would not have required the wisdom of one older than Miss Cable to detect that he was thoroughly enjoying his pose of man of the world. He was indeed young, for he had yet to learn that not to disillusion the girl, but to conform as much as possible to her ideals, was the surest way to win her favor, and his vanity surely would have received a blow had not David Cable at that moment come out of the doorway across the sidewalk, pausing for a moment to converse with the man who accompanied him. The girl's face lighted with pleasure and relief, but the young man, regarding uneasily the countenance of the general manager of the Pacific, Lakes and Atlantic Railroad company, saw that he was white, tired and drawn. It was not the keen, alert expression that had been the admiration of every one; something vital seemed to be missing, although he could not have told what it was. A flame seemed to have died somewhere in his face, leaving behind a faint suggestion of ashes, and through the young man's brain there flashed the remark of his fair companion: "He's in there now, working his dear old brain to pieces."

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting, Jane," said Cable, crossing to the curb. "Hello, Graydon! How are you?" His voice was sharp, crisp and louder than the occasion seemed to demand, but it was natural with him. Years of life in an engine cab do not serve to mellow the tone of the human voice, and the habit is too strong to be overcome. There was no polish to the tones as they issued from David Cable's lips. He spoke with more than ordinary regard for the queen's English, but it was because he never had neglected it. It was characteristic of the man to do a thing as nearly right as he knew how in the beginning and to do it the same way until a better method presented itself.

"Very well, thank you, Mr. Cable, except that Jane has been abusing me because you were not here to"—

"Don't you believe a word he says, dad," she cried.

"Oh, if the truth isn't in me, I'll subside," laughed Graydon. "Nevertheless you've kept her waiting, and it's only reasonable that she should abuse somebody."

"I am glad you were here to receive it. It saves my gray hairs."

"Rubbish!" was Miss Cable's simple comment as her father took his place beside her.

"Oh, please drive on, Jane," said the young man, his admiring eyes on the girl who grasped the reins afresh and straightened like a soldier for inspection. "I must run around to the University club and watch the score of the Yale-Harvard game at Cambridge. It looks like Harvard, hang it all! Great game, they say"—

"There he goes on football. We must be off or it will be dark before we get away from him. Goodby!" cried Miss Cable.

"How's your father, Gray? He wasn't feeling the best in the world yesterday," said Cable, tucking in the robe.

"A case of liver, Mr. Cable. He's all right today. Goodby!"

As Jane and her father whirled away the latter gave utterance to a remark that brought a new brightness to her eyes and a proud throbbing to her heart, but he did not observe the effect.

"Bright, clever chap—that Graydon Bansemer," he said comfortably.

CHAPTER II.

THE general manager of the Pacific, Lakes and Atlantic Railroad system had had a hard struggle of it. He who begins his career with a shovel in a locomotive cab usually has something of that sort to look back upon. There are no roses along the pathway he has traversed. In the end, perhaps, he wonders if it has been worth while. David Cable was a general manager. He had been a fireman. It had required twenty-five years of hard work on his part to break through the chrysalis. Packed away in a chest upstairs in his house there was a grimy, greasy, unwholesome suit of once blue overalls. The garments were just as old as his railroad career, for he had worn them on his first trip with the shovel. When his wife implored him to throw away the "detestable things" he said, with characteristic humor, that he thought he would keep them for a rainy day. It was much simpler to go from general manager to fireman than vice versa, and it might be that he would need the suit again. It pleased him to hear his wife sniff contemptuously.

David Cable had been a wayward, venturesome youth. His father and mother had built their hopes high with him as a foundation, and he had proved a decidedly insecure basis, for one night in the winter of 1863 he stole away from his home in New York. Before spring he was fighting in the far southland, a boy of sixteen carrying a musket in the service of his country.

At the close of the civil war Private Cable, barely eighteen, returned to his home, only to find that death had destroyed its happiness. His father had died, leaving his widowed mother a dependent upon him. It was then philosophically he realized that labor alone could win for him, and he stuck to it with rigid integrity. In turn he became brakeman and fireman. Finally his determination and faithfulness won him a fireman's place on one of the fast New York Central "runs." If ever he was dissatisfied with the work, no one was the wiser.

Railroading in those days was not what it is in these advanced times. Then it meant that one was possessed of all the evil habits that fall to the lot of man. David Cable was more or less contaminated by contact with his rough, ribald companions of the rail, and he glided moderately into the bad habits of his kind. He drank and "gamboled" with the rest of the boys; but, by nature not being vicious and low, the influences were not hopelessly deadening to the better qualities of his character. To his mother he was always the strong, good hearted, manly boy, better than all the other sons in the world. She believed in him. He worshiped her, and it was not until he was well up in the twenties that he stopped to think that she was not the only good woman in the world who deserved respect.

Up in Albany lived the Widow Coleman and her two pretty daughters. Mrs. Coleman's husband died on the battlefield, and she, like many women in the north and the south, after years of moderate prosperity was compelled to support herself and her family. She had been a pretty woman, and one readily could see where her daughters got their personal attractiveness.

Not many doors from the boisterous little eating house in which the railroad men snatched their meals as they went through, the widow opened a book and news stand. Her home was on the floor above the stand, and it was there she brought her little girls to womanhood. Good looking, harum scarum Dave Cable saw Frances Coleman one evening as he dropped in to purchase a newspaper. It was at the end of June, in 1876, and the country was in the throes of excitement over the first news of the Custer massacre on the Little Big Horn river.

Cable was deeply interested, for he had seen Custer fighting at the front in the sixties. Frances Coleman, the prettiest girl he had ever seen, sold him the newspaper. After that, he seldom went through Albany without visiting the little book shop.

Tempestuous, even arrogant in love, Cable, once convinced that he cared for her, lost no time in claiming her, whether or no. In less than three months after the Custer massacre they were married.

Defeated rivals unanimously and enviously observed that the handsomest fireman on the road had conquered the most outrageous little coquette between New York and Buffalo. As a matter of fact, she had loved him from the start; the others served as thorns with which she delightedly pricked his heart into subjection.

The young husband settled down, renounced all of his undesirable habits and became a new man with such surprising suddenness that his friends marveled and—derided. A year of happiness followed. He grew accustomed to her frivolous ways, overlooked her merry whimsicalities and gave her the "full length of a free rope," as he called it. He was contented and consequently careless. She chafed under the indifference and in her resentment believed the worst of him. Turmoil succeeded peace and contentment, and in the end David Cable, driven to distraction, weakly abandoned the domestic battlefield and fled to the far west, giving up home, good wages and all for the sake of freedom, such as it was. He ignored her letters and entreaties, but in all those months that he was away from her he never ceased to regret the impulse that had defeated him. Nevertheless he could not make up his mind to go back and resume the life of torture her jealousy had begotten.

Then the unexpected happened. A letter was received containing the command to come home and care for his wife and baby. At once David Cable called a halt in his demoralizing career and saw the situation plainly. He forgot that she had "nagged" him to the point where endurance rebelled; he forgot everything but the fact that he cared for her in spite of all. Sobered and conscience stricken, he knew only that she was alone and toiling; that she had suffered uncomplainingly until the babe was some months old before appealing to him for help. In abject humiliation he hastened back to New York, reproaching himself every mile of the way. Had he but known the true situation he would have been spared the pangs of remorse and this narrative never would have been written.

A LIVELY CHASE.

And the Poor Dear Girls Didn't Enjoy It a Bit.

"Aren't you afraid to go home alone, girls? If you'll wait just a few minutes John will be home, and he will be glad to go over with you."

Thus spoke Mrs. Smith to three young ladies who lived 200 yards down the road and who were about to leave her house after an evening call.

"Oh, no, we're not afraid! We'll just get out our hatpins, and then if any one comes for us we'll give battle." This was from the youngest of the three, and she flourished a long and dangerous looking pin, finally jabbing it into an imaginary foe. The two others took their hatpins in their hands, and the three, bidding good night to their hostess, made their way down the path to the gate, all on the alert and in readiness to repel attack. They were as brave and bold as ever warriors were. They turned from the front yard into the road and started toward home.

"Girls, what's that?"

The three stopped and listened, but only for a moment. Away back on the road they could hear the footfalls of a man. They went on at a rapid walk. The footsteps of the man grew nearer, and they could hear that he was walking more quickly than he had been.

The girls walked faster.

The man walked faster.

The girls almost ran.

The man was coming nearer, and he almost ran.

The girls broke from their walk and scurried rapidly on. They were but a little distance from their front gate now.

Then, oh, horrible! The man began to run after them! They did not have the strength to scream out. It was all they could do to keep on running. The villain was almost on them now, but they were just a few feet away from their front gate. They got to the gate, opened it, and their pursuer was upon them. They would probably have fainted, but they caught a glimpse of the man who had chased them, and—it was the brother of two of them.

"Well," said he, all out of breath, "you're nice ones to run away from me that way. I was going to stop in at Mrs. Smith's to bring you home, and then I saw you starting out."

The girls did not speak just then, nor for many months did they say anything of the fact that two of them could never afterward find their hatpins.—Detroit Free Press.

The Root of the Trouble.

Crabshaw was too crippled with the rheumatism to leave the house, so his wife went to the doctor's to get something for him.

"So your husband would rather have a medicine to take internally for his rheumatism," remarked the doctor. "Why does he object to the liniment?"

"He doesn't," replied Mrs. Crabshaw, with a weary sigh. "You see, doctor, I object to it, because I have to do the rubbing."—Harper's Weekly.

All the Same.

"What is the size of your large men's handkerchiefs?" asks the shopper.

"They are just the same size as the small men's handkerchiefs, madam," explains the affable sales person. "The size of the man doesn't make any difference in his handkerchief."—Judge.

The Gentle Art.

"I'm going to have one of these artificial figures made to have my new gowns fitted over," states the first lovely damsel.

"Going to?" smiles the second. "I thought you had one made every time you got a new gown."—Chicago Post.

BOERS PRAISE KING.

Transvaal Journal Compares Him With Wilhelm of Germany.

De Transvaaler, one of the leading Dutch papers in South Africa, in an article on "The British King," after emphasizing the nationality of the Boer race and language under the protection of the British flag, then proceeds:

"Apart from these considerations, the Dutch have special reason to respect the person of King Edward. His Majesty's conduct at the present moment stands out in magnificent contrast above that of the German Emperor, whose recent utterances have given us all a thorough insight into his Germanic Majesty's heart and inwardness.

"We have never known the King to utter anything that was ungentlemanly or in the least calculated to offend the feelings of the subjects of other monarchs, not to mention his own. His Majesty has too much good sense for that, and is too thorough a gentleman. Nor have we known him to play the Judas towards a people struggling for their independence and the freedom of their fatherland. He is too gallant a lord for that. We have not known him to place any of his Ministers in the painful position in which Prince Von Buelow finds himself, nor to make his nation a laughing-stock as the Kaiser has done.

"We deeply sympathize with the German nation. Their Emperor has done them a bad turn indeed. Comparisons are odious, and we have particular delight in making this comparison between the King of England and the Kaiser as odious as we can very well make it. The King fought us, and put us under. He did so in the face of the world. The Kaiser pretended to be our frend, and secretly he planned our destruction as a Republican nation.

"The Boers are not slow to notice this contrast between the two monarchs, and they silently bless God that they have at least no Kaiser's birthday to celebrate!"

SOME LOCAL NICKNAMES.

English Names Have Old Associations Connected With Them.

Among the old things that have died out are the local nicknames given to inhabitants of various cities or counties. There is a well-known Lancashire saying connected with a stage-coach driver, which is remarkable for its nice grades of distinction between four passengers. The old driver was asked: "Who has ta gotten i' th' coach, Jem?" And Jem replied: "Wha, there's a gentleman fro' Liverpool, and a mon fro' Manchester, and a chap fro' Oldham, and a felly fro' Wigan."

"Yorkshire," again, is a term used for cunning or shrewdness. "He's a deep 'un," says someone in one of Charles Reade's novels, "but we are Yorkshire, too." A lying old proverb says: "Shake a bridle over a Yorkshireman's grave, and he will arise and steal a horse."

A jocular nickname for men of Norfolk is "Norfolk Dumplings," perhaps because these East-country folk still maintain the custom of serving "dumplings" or pudding before meat, which in old days was a general custom, especially in economical households, for the pudding took the edge off the sharp appetite.

The Lincolnshire nickname is the uncomplimentary one of "Yellow Bellies," in allusion to the frogs and eels which abound in the fen country. A neighboring county has long been called "Bean-belly Leicestershire," and there is an old saying: "Shake a Leicestershire yeoman by the collar, and you shall hear the beans rattle."

Latest In Tower Clocks.

The new tower of the Birmingham University is to be fitted with one of the largest clocks in this country. It will have four dials, each 17-1-2 feet in diameter, made of cast skeleton iron filled in with white pot opal for illumination at night. The hands are made of strong rolled sheet copper, and each pair weigh about [illegible] pounds. The extreme length of the minute-hand is 10 feet 4 inches, and the hour-hand at the widest part is 2 feet. The clock itself is over 9 feet long, the frame being one solid casting, weighing alone about half a ton. It will strike the hours and Westminster chime quarters on five bells, weighing about ten tons, the largest, or hour-bell, weighing five tons. The clock will only require winding once a week, the total weight when installed, including the dials, bells, weights, etc., being quite twenty tons. The makers, Messrs. Joyce & Co., Whitchurch, Shropshire, England, have erected hundreds of important clocks in all parts of the world.

"That Reminds Me."

Many and varied are the methods to which busy men have recourse in order to keep their memory "posted." A very successful method is that of a shrewd London man, who has recourse to the use of pepper or snuff to jog his memory. A liberal dose spread over his handkerchief greets his olfactory nerves whenever he extracts it from his pocket, and, as he himself says, then "that reminds me." It is a somewhat uncomfortable plan, but, it must be admitted, it is decidedly effective. There is one old Government clerk in Whitehall who is an amusement to all the juniors. When he has any matter of urgent importance to attend to in the morning he invariably ties two of his fingers together with a small piece of red tape.

Bluestockings.

Boswell in his "Life of Dr. Johnson" states that in his day there were certain meetings held by ladies to afford them opportunity of holding converse with eminent literary men. The most distinguished talker of these gatherings was a Mr. Stillingfleet, who always wore blue stockings. When away his absence was so felt that the remark became common, "We can do nothing without the blue stockings"; hence the meetings at which he figured began to be called "bluestocking clubs" and those who frequented them bluestockings.

TWO LUNATICS.

By P. Y. BLACK.

"It was a shameful trap," he said, "on the part of my people. The doctors were very careless in their diagnosis. To shut me up in a place like this was really too bad. In a very short time, however, I expect to leave."

"Oh, dear," she thought, her eyes dimming, "they all say that! To think that the poor man will never, never, never leave! I am so glad—for you," she said aloud. "You will be overjoyed."

"Oh, I—yes. But do you know this sanitarium is not so bad?"

"Do you mean," she said gently, surprised, "that you will—er—have any regrets in leaving?"

"No," he said, "not exactly that, of course—not regrets so far as concerns myself, for it is so humiliating to be committed, you know." He paused. "But," he went on, "even in asylums one makes friends, and—one regrets—for them."

He looked down with a tenderness and a pity he could not hide, and she blushed, and for a moment there was silence. Then she said, with an obviously strained laugh:

"We are friends, of course, Mr. St. John. What an awful existence it would be here if one had no sympathetic friends! But you must not regret so much on my account. In a very short time I think my friends will take me home."

He choked a groan before she could hear it.

"The poor little thing!" he thought. "They all say that. And that decent young fellow, the doctor, assures me her case is very puzzling and her friends fear incurable. I am so glad for you," he said. "Would it not be jolly if we became friends in the world as we have been when out of the world?"

Then he blamed himself again.

"If she really likes me," he thought, "and I think the unhappy child does, I should never had said that. It is cruel, brutal, to put such thoughts in her head."

She was looking at him with the tearful smile we essay when we encourage one who does not realize that death is near.

"It would be nice—very nice indeed."

They were silent again, each sorrowing for the other.

There were many other patients strolling on the lawns or sitting in the summer houses, patients of all kinds.

Miss Tracy and St. John stood together, silent now and unostentatiously observant. A sturdily built (all the attendants were that) man was taking a patient to the iron barred house. He did not do it violently. He did it as one may see a policeman occasionally escort a quiet prisoner with a light touch on the captive's arm above the elbow. The patient was a little excited, but there was no disturbance at all. A visitor might never have noticed it. The strange thing was the unanimous backward withdrawal from the attendant's path of the patients encountered, the look of fright or dislike on their faces directed not at the captive, but at the guard.

"How they all dread him—instinctively, it seems," said the young woman who "expected to leave soon." "He is polite enough and not ill looking, but"—

"A man of great experience in his peculiar work, I'm told," said St. John musingly.

"It's his eye and mouth that do it, I fancy."

"A thoroughly ill dispositioned man, with a plausible exterior," said St. John. "I believe him capable of it."

"Of murder? Do—oh, what are you talking of, Mr. St. John?"

St. John looked very uncomfortable. Miss Tracy looked vexedly embarrassed.

"I heard some rumor of a strange death in the institution just before I came. I was thinking of it. Were you here? Have you heard anything of it?"

He was a little eager.

"How could I be here? We came on the same day. Don't you remember?"

"Ah, true!"

So they watched the attendant out of sight and turned to go inside themselves.

They shook hands, although there was no reason for it. They would meet at the dinner table in a few minutes, but—they shook hands, and that lingeringly.

"It's awfully sad," St. John pondered, "So sweet a face, seemingly so intelligent. I wish—oh, pshaw! What's the use of wishing? These things are not to be remedied. I wonder if—she'd give me a photograph."

Miss Tracy went to her room slowly.

"I am silly to be so affected by an ordinary case. There are thousands like him. But—oh, dear; oh, dear! If I'd known I was to have this sad experience I would never have consented to come—never!"

They had no opportunity to meet alone for several days. Perhaps they might have made opportunities, but they did not. Doubtless it occurred to each of these two lunatics that it was the wiser thing to stifle at once any friendship which each thought likely to cause useless pain in the future to the other.

Dr. Hall found these two of his residents particularly interesting in these days, and so did the attendant. It was strange that they both so markedly preferred the company of the sanitarium people to that of their fellow unfortunates. The young house doctor thought Miss Tracy charming and never was abrupt with her.

"Very puzzling case," he mused. "Now, why does she dwell so on that recent death? It seems to excite her too. That's morbidity, I'm afraid; bad sign."

The doctor liked St. John too. St. John's friends acted very nicely in sending him new books and boxes of cigars. The books were well chosen; the cigars were unexceptionable.

"Like all these paretics," he pondered, "in the first stages you would not think there was anything much wrong with the man, but it is a little singular that he should be so interested in that unlucky death also."

As for the attendants, Miss Tracy had flowers and little things and could teach the women quite a number of new fads in hairdressing, and so forth. For the men St. John's cigar box and full pocketbook sufficed to make them extremely courteous. The man with the wicked eyes and mouth benefited most, however. It was wonderful what a lot of little things he could do for Miss Tracy. It was strange that St. John should find anything in the man to talk about with common interest.

Just once the two lunatics met. It was just before bedtime in the music room. He had sung to her accompaniment. When she rose to say good night he almost whispered to her:

"I expect to go to New York tomorrow."

"I am so glad for your sake," she said.

"And—and you—you have made my stay almost tolerable. Is there nothing you will allow me to do for you?"

"Oh," she answered, with sprightliness, "I shall not be long in going myself."

"Poor, poor little dear," he said to his pillow, "it breaks me all up to think of her staying here incurable."

Miss Tracy packed her trunk, and tears dropped on silk and linen indifferently.

"Oh," she murmured, "I do so wish I had never come here. I can never, never forget the sad, gentle way he used to look at me."

There was lively work next afternoon in the building of the Gazette. A young man sat at a desk apart in the reporters' room, and he scribbled and he scribbled. By and by the managing editor came in and looked over the busy writer's shoulder and told him that he had only an hour to finish up in. Then the great presses began to clatter, and in a little while the first edition of the Gazette was ready for the street, with an enormous black scare head on the front page.

And in the office of the Morning Jury there was also a very lively bustling, and there, at a retired desk, a young woman sat, and she scribbled and she scribbled, and late at night the presses began to rumble, and in a little while the first edition of the Jury was ready for the street, with an enormous black scare head on the front page.

The Gazette and the Jury were within a few minutes of each other in getting out. A copy of each paper was hustled into the office of the other, for rival editors watch each other's work with catlike intentness. And the Gazette office read with dismay that the great asylum mystery had been solved by the indefatigable efforts of a Jury reporter, while the Jury night staff tore its editorial hair over the flaring boast of the Gazette that its "special commissioner" had given to a waiting world the first and only enlightenment of the famous crime. There had been no time for one paper to lift the news from the other. How had the expected scoop been spoiled?

Tumultuous was the wrath in the two offices. Miss Tracy was explaining to her managing editor, with tears in her eyes, that she could not understand at all, at all, how the Gazette had got hold of it. In the Gazette office Mr. St. John stormed and swore and said that for the life of him he could not understand how the Jury had got almost the same story.

"Good heavens!" shouted St. John suddenly, and he dashed out to the Jury office. There he found a friend, with whom he conferred. The two lunatics were introduced to each other and a minute or two afterward were alone together.

They laughed a great deal at the idea of two reporters on the same strange assignment, never suspecting each other, but their laugh was not very loud. The tender pity for each other of yesterday was still in mind.

"The attendant is arrested," said St. John. "You did not get it quite right. The patient he poisoned when nursing him was an old enemy. It was not done through trouble arising between them in the sanitarium."

"Oh, bother!" she said. "It doesn't matter. We've done our appointed work. Let's talk of something more pleasant."

So they did, and when he was about to go away he said:

"You said once we might be friends in the world as well as out of the world. Will we be friends, dear Miss Tracy?"

She looked at him so smilingly, yet so tremblingly, that he put his arm around her.

"Will you be more than friend, darling?" he whispered.

"Yes," she said, and it was quite five minutes after, when some one's feet were heard approaching, that she jumped away and held up a warning finger.

"If your friend came in he'd think us mad," said she.

"Two lunatics!" he answered, laughing, as the door opened.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions, having the same meaning, are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who have suffered agonies from falling of the womb, others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily, and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc, etc. For all these and other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific never failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth 35c, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Address with stamp. BERLIN IN GALA DRESS FOR VISIT OF THEIR MAJESTIES

Little Easement of the International Strain, However, is Expected as Result of Trip—Wave of Militarism Grows and Every Device is Being Used to Fill Up the Recruiting Lists.

London, Feb. 8.—Keen interest is being shown both here and in Germany in the visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra to the Emperor and Empress.

Their Majesties started this morning, and to-morrow will find them in Berlin, where no British king has been for the past 166 years.

A large and distinguished suite, which accompany the King, and which includes the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, as Minister in attendance, and Sir Charles Hardinge, representing the Foreign Office, emphasizes the importance attached to the visit, but those behind the scenes hardly anticipate that the present effort to ease the relations between Great Britain and Germany will be attended by much more striking success than that which followed the Emperor's visit to the Brtish court last year.

A remarkable wave of newspaper militarism has suddenly swept over England during the past week, which delights the friends of the "larger army" and alarms the supporters of the Liberal party, who see in this only unnecessary public expenditure and incitements to war with Germany. The territorial army scheme of Mr. Haldane, Secretary for War, still lacks more than 50,000 men of the number necessary to its fulfilment.

The National Service League, of which Field Marshal Roberts and Lord Curzon are the moving spirits. have chosen the psychological moment to issue an appeal for more recruits. The newspapers, which have taken up the cry for soldiers, are using sensational devices to advertise their propaganda and to incite apathetic youths in England to enlistment. Some employers have been stirred to interest themselves in the cause, and are offering inducements to their workmen to join the territorial forces.

The matter is becoming more and more a political question of defence. The agitators proclaim that the country must have more volunteers or adopt conscription. Conscription as a possibility has come up for discussion to a greater degree than ever before. A strong faction of the Liberals are doing everything possible to suppress the heated newspaper talk, as they believe this tends more to bring on war than to strengthen the country's defence.

In all quarters Germany is pointed out as the possible enemy against which the island must prepare, and the call for soldiers and for six more Dreadnoughts, which comes on the eve of the visit of the King and Queen to Berlin, seems an unhappy coincidence, for Germany's increased naval program was launched at the time of the Emperor's last visit to England. and created much feeling here.

STEWART REMANDED

Prepetrator of Awful Crime in Shelburne Appeared Before Magistrate

Special to the Review.

Shelburne, Feb 8—George Ernest Stewart, the perpetrator of the awful crime of yesterday appeared before Police Magistrate Rutherford this morning but as no person was present to represent him he was remanded to Orangeville jail till Thursday next at 1 pm.

Stewart admitted to his guards last night that he did the deed charged against him, but he refused to say why. He seemed very violent at times and the constables before leaving with him for Orangeville this morning took every precaution and had him securely handcuffed.

Mrs. Spanhouse, whom Stewart left for dead, is reported this morning to be sinking fast.

SMUGGLING OF CHINESE

Big Operations Alleged in the Vicinity of Niagara—Developments Expected.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 8.—Sensational developments in connection with smuggling from Canada of Chinamen into the United States are expected within a few days.

Evidence has been secured by United States detectives which disclosed full details of a scheme of illegal traffic which is said to be largely carried on between this city and Fort Erie, and in which prominent residents on both sides of the border are involved.

In the case of one man, a farmer in Welland County, the evidence is said to be conclusive.

The Chinese are said to be brought here from Toronto and concealed on the farm, and later conveyed by boat to Buffalo. The magnitude of the operations was discovered when Riley and Balts were arrested at Fort Erie.

As the men cannot be extradited for the offence it is not known what course the law will pursue, but the technicalities of the law will be exhausted to bring the men to justice.

IMPROVEMENTS TO SNOWDEN HOUSE

Bar-room to be on Main Floor Again—Other Alterations

Extensive improvements are being made at the Snowden House, the bar is to be removed from the basement to the main floor. It will be situated along the east side of the hotel. A wall has been built to divide the sitting room from the bar, and the office in future will face towards the front. A writing room will be fitted up at the rear of the rotunda.

The bar and office will be fitted up with the most modern fixtures and the Snowden House will be among the finest in the city.

GENERAL LAKE IS CRITICIZED

Fighting Speech Severely Criticized by the Ottawa Free Press.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Military men and members of Parliament who spend the week-end in the capital are discussing with serious interest the editorial raking over which The Ottawa Free Press, the organ of the Government, administered to Gen. Lake in its Saturday issue, because his remarks in Toronto forecasting an ultimate conflict with the orient. The article, which is specially displayed, has the earmarks of a studied rebuke, and is not lacking in indications of having been inspired from high political sources.

At the outset The Free Press says: "Gen. Percy Lake, by his speech in Toronto on Thursday night, has, we are very much afraid, once more proved how difficult it is for an imperial officer to grasp the importance of weighing his words before uttering them. We would have thought from Gen. Lake's record that he had learned the lesson taught to his predecessors that it is the duty of an officer of the Canadian Government to keep his lips sealed upon matters of controversy in Canadian politics."

"Surely," says The Free Press, "such a speech was not only inappropriate at this time, but it was also dangerous.

"What will be thought at Tokio when the news goes there that the inspector-general of the Canadian militia urges the youth of Canada to prepare to fight for our ideals,' with especial reference to the time 'when Japan has pulled herself together?'"

THE DEATH OF JOHN BUTLER

Passed Away at Lindsay at Age of 103 Years

Special to the Review.

Lindsay, Feb 7—The remains of the late John Butler, who passed away on Friday were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery this afternoon. Deceased was the oldest man in Lindsay and probably in Ontario, having reached the remarkable age of 109 years.

The late Mr Butler was born in Ireland and emigrated to Canada 80 years ago. He lived in Montreal for a short time then went to the United States where he served in the Civil war. At the conclusion of the war he settled in Lindsay and has been a resident of the town for about fifty years.

ANNIVERSARY ENTERTAINMENT

Will be Given By Pupils of George St. Sunday School To-night

The anniversary concert of the George street Methodist Sunday school will be held tonight when an interesting and clever programme will be given by the Sunday school pupils. They have been under the capable direction of Miss Amy L. Doty, of London for some time past and have prepared some very attractive drills recitations, etc.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY NEAR SHELBURNE

Lunatic Runs Amuck, Kills Two and Wounds Four—George Stewart Uses Revolver, Club and Rifle in Early Morning.

Shelburne, Feb. 8.—A terrible deed of blood in Shrigley, in the northern portion of Melancthon Township, 12 miles from here, was the result of an outburst of maniacal frenzy by George Ernest Stewart, a thresher of the township. Two persons were killed and four severely injured by the madman, who was armed with a revolver. The victims are:

John Spanhouse, farmer, aged 65, dead.

Mrs. Spanhouse, wife of John Spanhouse, not expected to recover.

George Beaumont, hired man, recovery expected.

Mrs. Gowan, housekeeper, recovery expected.

Stewart, who is about 29 years of age, has shown signs of insanity for several years. After his murderous onslaught he returned to his father's house where the constable found him in a peaceful slumber. He offered no resistance when arrested by Constable Thompson of Shelburne.

Mrs. Mowat, 85 Marlboro avenue, Toronto, and Mrs. Foggett, 303 Dundas street, West Toronto, are daughters of Mr. Stanhouse, Sr.

Stewart had been spending the past couple of days at the home of his brother, William Stewart, whose farm is the west half of lot 28, concession 3, Township of Melancthon. He had passed a couple of sleepless nights, and Saturday night seemed specially restless. His brother William remained up with him till a late hour in an attempt to get him in a frame of mind that would induce sleep.

Finally George went to bed, but only took off his boots and socks. Noticing this, and doubtless fearing to some extent that he would attempt to go outside alone, William did not go to bed, but decided to spend the remainder of the night on a sofa, where any movement of his brother would awaken him.

About 5 o'clock yesterday morning, attired as he had laid down on the bed, with the exception that he had pulled one sock on, George went to go out. William asked him where he was going, and he said just outside. William attempted to follow him and was met by a blow from his fist that sent him flying. Again he attempted to prevent George making off, only to be met by blows that knocked him senseless.

It would appear that George had a revolver, although where he got it is not known. Armed with this and a heavy stake taken from a woodrack in his brother's yard, the crazed man made his way up the road to John Spanhouse's. The door he went to at Spanhouse's opened into the parlor, off of which was the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Spanhouse. Spanhouse, Sr., heard him at the door and got up, and put on his trousers and went to investigate. Mrs. Spanhouse heard her husband open the door. Then there was shooting, and her husband's voice cried out: "Oh, I am shot." She crouched in the corner of the room at the foot of the bed. The murderer entered and attacked her.

James Spanhouse and the servant, Miss Grace Christian, who were sleeping upstairs, were aroused. The girl, crazed with fear, locked herself in her room, but the man ran downstairs into the parlor, grabbing an old military rifle on his way. As he entered the parlor it was wrested from him and the stock partly broken off and Stewart smashed his head into a pulp with the heavy wood stake. The old people were also battered by the stake.

Mrs. Spanhouse subsequently recovered consciousness sufficiently to tell her story of the affair, but is not expected to survive over to-day.

From Spanhouse's the murderer made his way towards his father's home at Maple Valley. He had discarded the heavy stake at Spanhouse's, taking in its place the old military rifle, less part of the wooden stock. Not far south of Maple Valley lives William Wilson. Wilson had just put on the fire when Stewart walked in. Stewart made some reference to the gun and then hit Mr. Wilson a crushing blow on the head with it.

Leaving the Wilson place he went across the road to E. J. Pound. Pound is away, but here he found the hired man, George Beaumont, and Mrs. Gowan, the housekeeper. Making some remark about the gun, the same as he had done at Wilson's, Stewart then attacked Beaumont, clubbing him so savagely that but slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Gowan attempted to escape into another part of the house and was also clubbed.

When Stewart left the house, however, she succeeded in dragging herself to the telephone and alarming W. D. Taylor, storekeeper at Maple Valley. Taylor started down the road to the rescue, met Stewart in front of the farm of his brother, Arthur Taylor. Stewart told him not to come near. Somewhat alarmed at the maniac's actions, Taylor started into his brother's place. Stewart followed to the fence, leveled the gun, and called to Taylor to throw up his hands. When Taylor called for assistance, Stewart snapped the weapon, and finding it would not explode, put off up the road again in a rage.

He was seen to go into his father's house, and here Constables Thompson and Wattam of Shelburne found him sleeping peacefully about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when they went to arrest him. He was brought to Shelburne about 6 o'clock and confined in the town jail, where, later in the evening, manacled as he was, he attempted to assault his jailer. He will be taken to the Dufferin County Jail at Orangeville to-day.

Stewart's awful work was certainly that of a madman, extending, as it did over a territory of more than three miles, and starting, as it did, with two or three nights of sleeplessness and winding up wth the peaceful sleep as of a babe in his father's home after his carnival of blood and violence.

The murderer is a young man of rather heavy physique. He has been mentally unbalanced for some three years, a hereditary taint, doubtless, for two of his uncles died insane. Three years ago he got into some kind of trouble in Medicine Hat, Alberta, and was incarcerated in the barracks of the Northwest Mounted Police there. He was released on promise of his brother that he would be taken care of, and was brought to his father's home at Maple Valley.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Is a Success at Ottawa—Almost Lowest Rates in Canada for Power

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, Feb 8—The success of Ottawa in the operation of its municipal power plant is shown in the report just issued by the Board of Control. During the year the city's customers increased from 2680 to 3164; they have increased 140 per cent since the plant was taken over two and a half years ago. The revenue for 1908 was $105,800, and the net profits $17,72? after meeting all interest and sinking fund charges. At the same time the rates charged are almost the lowest in Canada.

WAS WOMAN'S SUICIDE THE RESULT OF BAFFLED PLOT?

Mrs. Swinard, of McArthur's Mills, Ont., Kills Herself and Act is Attributed to Promised Investigation of Poison in Candies Found at Gate of Neighbor —Said to Have Been Jealous of the Other.

Bancroft, Ont., Feb. 8.—A very unfortunate affair, resulting in the suicide of Mrs. Swinard, heretofore one of the most highly respected residents of the little community at McArthur's Mills, is agitating the people of Mayo township and may result in an investigation by the authorities.

The deceased woman was reputed to be jealous of a neighbor, Mrs. Grant, and on Thursday last a paper bag containing candies was mysteriously left at the latter's gate. It was picked up by two men who were passing; one a brother of Mrs. Grant, Chester Hannah. The men tasted the sweets, but found them bitter, and Hannah fed three of them to a dog. A few moments later the canine was in a fit, similar to those produced by strychnine.

Hannah and his father immediately started for Bancroft, where they made a declaration before the Justice of the Peace, asking for an investigation, and leaving the balance of the candies to be forwarded to Toronto for analysis.

The following morning it was noised abroad that action was being taken, and Mrs. Swinard swallowed a dose of poison and died in a very short time.

Much sympathy is expressed for the dead woman, who was supposed to have been crazed with trouble. She was a daughter of the late William Allison, one of the first settlers in the district, and had always been highly esteemed by the community. It is said she would soon have become a mother. Coroner Dr. Leavitt of Bancroft is investigating the case.

JUDGMEMT AGAINST LOCAL MEN AT OSGOODE HALL

Mr. Justice Teetzel has given judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the action of A. Klee, merchant, of Latchford, Ont., against Ralph C. Braund, merchant, Albert E. Dixon, barrister, and T. M. Crowley, mine owner, all of Peterborough. The claim was for payment of accounts aggregating $240.86, and interest, for meat and provisions supplied last Feb., to defendants, who are owners of mining claims operated by them in Coleman township, Crowley being superintendent, and for accounts assigned to plaintiff by Abraham & Aboud for board and lodging, by the Latchford Hardware Co. for supplies, and by Cecil, Frederick and Raymond Crowley, for wages. Judgment is against Braund and Dixon for $200.86, and against Crowley for $240.86. with costs against all three; that is, all three are liable for $200.86, and Crowley for $40 more.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Mrs. Thomas Godgin of London dropped dead in her home at 236 Queen's avenue, of heart failure.

A. L. F. Jarvis, secretary of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, has been gazetted as Assistant Deputy Minister of the Department.

A Hudson Bay cellar man named Walker was instantly electrocuted in the basement of a building at Fort William on Saturday afternoon.

Andrew Carnegie has donated $3,000 to repair the organ of the St. James' Church, Montreal, on the condition that the congregation raise a like amount.

A piece of brick in the rail curve caused a C.W. & L.E. electric car to jump the curve at Chatham and crash in Mr. Baby's poolroom, shattering the plate glass to fragments.

Hon. C. H. Hyman and J. C. Duffield of London have left on a trip around the world. They go to San Francisco to sail for Hong Kong, to Marseilles, to London, and thence to New York and home. They will be gone four months.

ART GALLERY IS BROKEN INTO

New York, Feb. 9.—Mystery surrounds the theft of "Mother and Child," a valuable painting by Antoine Emile Plassan, from the Robert L. Stuart gallery, in the Nenox branch of the New York Public Library, Fifth avenue and Seventieth street Friday.

The painting, which is a panel nine inches long and seven inches wide, was cut from its gold frame as it hung on the wall at the end of an alcove in the northeast wing of the building. In reporting the theft to the police, Wilberforce Eames, the librarian, said he believed the picture was stolen between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning Friday at a time when there was no attendant on duty in the gallery.

WOULD MAKE WORLD DRY

Washington, Feb. 8.—A universal "water wagon" is the proposition submitted to the House by Representative Sheppard of Texas.

He introduced a bill providing that the President shall call a world's temperance conference of all nations represented at The Hague peace conference. for th purpose of considering legislation curtailing the use of intoxicating liquors, drugs, narcotics and other "dangerous" articles, including tobacco.

According to the provisions of this bill, the President is to appoint not less than one hundred delegates from the United States, and is to request other powers to send twelve representatives each to the conference, which is to be held in Washington or "some other seaport town." The bill was referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

BOY WAS DROWNED

Maxwell Roberts, Five Year Old Son of Mr. W. Roberts, Fell into Creek at Murray St. This Afternoon.

Maxwell Roberts, the five year old son of Mr. Walter Roberts, Stewart street, was drowned this afternoon about half past two. The little fellow fell into the creek on Murray St. and his body must have passed under the ice. It had not been recovered at the time of going to press.

The little boy had been playing with Harold Dalbay in the latter's yard on Stewart street. Donald and Eric Roberts, cousins of the drowned boy came along and the three went over to the creek and in some way Maxwell fell in.

The deceased's little cousins gave the alarm. Several men working in the vicinity were soon breaking the ice in an effort to locate the body. The boys' mitt was seen passing under the bridge at Aylmer street.

Norman Locke was arrested last evening by P.C. Meharry. The police here received a telephone message yesterday afternoon from Millbrook asking them to be on the lookout for the above named person who was wanted in the village on a charge of theft.

Constable Miller is expected to arrive this evening and will take the prisoner back to Millbrook.

HE SLEW HIS WIFE IN MERCY

A French Workman Could Not Bear to See Her Suffer.

Paris, Feb. 8.—Alphonse Baudin, a workman living in Puteaux, last week shot his wife to put an end to her intolerable suffering caused by a hopeless disease. The question has often been raised whether a man has the right to put an end to another's life in a case like this, but few men have been brave enough to try the experiment and wait for justice to decide what should be done with them afterwards.

Prof. Landousey, dean of the faculty of medicine, says of the case: "The drama is one of passion inspired by pity which had been aggravated to a point where the man lost his reason."

LAW REFORM

"It is difficult, in view of such instances as these, to combat the statement that the spirit of lawlessness is beginning to overmaster the sober thought which should steady and conserve the integrity of the body politic. The liberty of the press was obtained centuries ago at a great cost, but the pendulum has swung too far and now the crying need is to restrain the license of the press and to fight against the demon of unrest which it has aroused. The daily press of the present day has become, not the exponent of the best thought of the country, or even its second best, but rather it voices the clamor of ignorance, thoughtlessness and lawlessness.

Whither are we drifting and what is to be the end?"—Canada Law Journal

The Journal is unnecessarily worked up. Is it possible to suppose that the public will calmly submit to the robbery of their privileges as a free people without protest? The press does not attack the judiciary directly or indirectly. It attacks what under the name of Law protects the rapacious and the unjust. The same cry arose when the old "Strictum jus" was attacked. This "letter of the law" was indeed killing the people. The adoption of the spirit of justice in the new procedure gave relief and forestalled "anarchy." The same condition of the public mind has arisen regarding the obedience of corporations to the spirit of legislation. Where corporations are always and forever willing and able to set the People at naught it is necessary to revive something and that "right speedily." At present the privilege of appeal is a disgrace. Cut it down and if it is found to be necessary increase the salaries of judges so that the very best men will accept office at all times. The copy of the Journal sent to us is a whirlwind attack on the spirit of anarchy apparently rampant in the government at Toronto. It is futile. The government represents the unrest of a long-suffering people. We would offer a suggestion. The Public is at liberty to attend publicly-endowed hospitals free of charge. Its diseases, injuries, etc., are there redressed free. Such a method of conducting the cure of the poor and distressed has not destroyed the medical profession or proven anarchical. Why not treat the case of the People vs the Expense and Uneasiness of Legal Procedure, in the same way. Provide a hospital where the poor man who fights for his right against rich corporations can do so with some show of fairplay and consideration. Let us take a supposed case. A man is owed a small sum, but if he goes to law he will probably lose all his meagre possessions before ever he gets to the day of judgment. Why could not his case be looked into by a publicly paid prosecutor and handled for him at the public expense. Well-to-do litigants will still be at liberty to spend their earnings in the employment of lawyers as they may see fit. We are behind the times. It is absurd that the poor and the rich should be required to stand on equal footing before the courts in point of presenting their cases. It is impossible and therefore unjust and unthinkable. The people demand its abolition. This is not anarchy. That the Public's rights are in jeopardy every hour is the Public's own fault however. The making of laws like the making of books knows no end. Until the people take a serious interest in the selection of their candidates for election to parliament, they deserve what they get. Corporations do not neglect their opportunities. What can be more inconsistent than leaving the selection of our representatives to party caucuses or to the hazard of chance and then crying out that we are not getting either justice or consideration. The public needs to exercise more common sense. There is where the great fault lies. It is the root of the evil. Choose your own representatives and you will then at least, run some chance of being represented.

OVERWORK

Once more a warning is being given by "those who know" that the children of to-day in Toronto at least are being injured by over-study. The youth of to-day have too much to do in too short a time. They are thought to be too hard pressed to assimilate naturally. They are the victims of a cramming process not unlike that of fowl before Christmas. Much of the hysteria, neurasthenia and irritability of the fair sex is said to be directly traceable to an unbearable burden of excitement due to a desire to be up-to-date and even ahead of it in everything. Nature cannot be successfully defied or set at naught and the cure will come if it is not already coming as sure as death and perhaps in the same form.

THE VIOLIN

It has been customary for violinists to taboo the modern violin as deficient in singing quality, sonority and evenness of tone. A Stradivarius of 200 years ago was the standard of musical perfection till lately. A competition or trial under musical superintendence has unexpectedly reversed the verdict and upset all the calculations and prejudices of musicians. The chief nations of Europe sent their specimens of old and new violins to Paris where on Jan. 7th last the verdict of 250 of the leading artists of the musical world was altogether in favor of "Gand et Bernardel" whose product of 1883 captured first place. Stradivarius, Guarnerius, del Gesu, Montagnani and Guadagnigni bowed before the modern Gand et Bernardel. Different trials for smoothness, quality of tone, sonority, evenness power, etc., were gone through in the most elaborate way, in the dark and the instruments all being numbered. No effort was spared to make the trial thorough and complete. Whatever may be said of the lost varnish and the old way of seasoning wood, etc., the modern makers have beaten those of Cremona, but the centre of the new industry is in France and nowhere else.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is not generally realised that the Oriental peril is due to the time's having arrived as in ages past when the Orientals must overflow into other lands.

OF INTEREST

French Canadian Folklore.

All the legends of the second period are centred in and about Quebec—that stronghold of New France, now the antiquarian gem of Canada—where first fluttered from the stately glacis the lilies of France on the azure field—where the best blood of France held sway in Citadel, Chateau, and in Seigneury. What a roll call of illustrious dead must haunt that grand rock high above the mighty river—Jacques Cartier, Champlain, de Tracy, the Frontenacs, Phipps, de la Galissonniere, Wolfe, who there succombed to the charms of the lovely Miss Lowther, Montcalm, Levis, Murray, Cook, Nelson and his first love, the beautiful Miss Simpson—Arnold, Montgomery—but time presses—and this year's pageant organised by the popular and indefatigable Governor-General, Lord Grey, will give to the world in perfect detail the romance of the fortress city of the north, but I would so much like to read you the vision of the American "Cadieux," the one-time mountain guide known and loved throughout America as "Adirondack Murray," as he stood at midnight, alone in the great clear Canadian moonlight on that wonderful terrace, three hundred feet above the junction of the silvery St. Charles and St. Lawrence Rivers;—

"A few sounds came up from the Lower Town—" he writes, "the barking of a dog, a babe's cry, a captain's hail to the ship, the strong robust call mellowed by distance—and the white moonlight lying softly on wharves and rivers, on silent parapet and chiming steeple. The silence of the place grows weird, the glamour of the old past is on me, and I see uncanny sights; men and women long, long dead—dead these hundreds of years — pass me. Is not that, man, the man in the angle there, All legends of the second period are centred in and about Quebec—that, stronghold of New France, now the antiquarian gem of Canada — where first fluttered from the stately glacis the lilies of France on their azure field—where the best blood of France held sway in Citadel, Chateau, and in Seigneury. The silence of the place grows weird, the glamour of the old past is on me, and I see uncanny sights; men and women long, long dead—dead these hundreds of years—pass me. Is not that man, the man in the angle there, Champlain! Surely it is he, the very same man who crossed the ocean 20 times, who shot the Iroquois Chief near Ticonderoga on Lake Champlain, who founded this city and whose dust is under the altar there, in the great basilica! And who are these coming this way! Surely this is he, the brave old Lord de Frontenac, the bluff old saviour of Canada. My lord, I greet you! This city belongs to you and Champlain. See, there goes Laval, ambitious priest and better scholar—see how old Frontenac frowns at him. And who is he in the angle of the promenade gazing southwards! La Salle! Incredible! Why, his body sleeps beneath the flowers of Texan prairie. Montcalm and Wolfe arm in arm! Brave Captains, you fight no more. Look, look! There two in the deep shadow of that old elm, that girl and the young English middy there. By heavens, that is Nelson, my Lord of Trafalgar, flirting with the lovely Mary Simpson! My God, this ground is haunted, and the dead of New and Old France alike are here. I'll get me the the yacht and say my prayers—this is a ghastly spot in truth."

Just below Quebec, east of Montmorenci's great White Shroud, nestles Canada's "Lourdes"—the shrine of "La Bonne Ste. Anne de Beaupre" — the Mecca every summer of tens of thousands of devout and afflicted pilgrims. When the French first landed, a Breton named Dorval went forth alone at this place into the virgin forest to hew him out a home. Crushed, broken, and pinned down by a falling pine tree, he lay alone in that vast wilderness—despairing and with failing consciousness he besought Ste. Anne (patron saint of Brittany) for inspiration. Instantly the good Saint appeared and told Dorval to soak a fragment of bark in his fast flowing blood—to give it to his dog and send him for assistance. The vision faded and with superhuman exertion the man obeyed. The dog, divinely directed, flew through the woods to Tadoussac, and, by means of his gory message, soon led a party of furtraders to the rescue of his dying master. The church of "La Bonne Ste. Anne" stands today where long years ago that pine tree fell. There are 42 "Ste. Anne's" in the Province of Quebec, which proves that the majority of settlers came from Brittany.

YOUNG MOTHERS

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her child the blessing of a good constitution; sickly, ailing mothers, the reverse.

The tiny babe brings to her a living responsibility. At such a time too great care cannot be taken to build up the mother's general constitution, and restore her feminine system to a healthy, normal condition. The greatest assistance that any woman can have in accomplishing this all-important work is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. M. Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

"I was greatly run down in health, suffering from a weakness peculiar to my sex. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was not only restored to health but am the proud mother of a fine baby girl. I wish every sick and ailing woman would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. Paul Oliver, of St. Martinville, La., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For years I suffered from the worst form of female troubles, and the doctor said I could not get well without an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I have the sweetest little baby girl. I will never cease to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

More Sugar For England.

London, Feb. 8.—British customs receipts from sugar rose from £4,478,700 in 1902-03 to £6,707,807 in 1907-08. With this increase in sugar there has been a large drop in excise receipts from intoxicants, from which it is deducted that many men are making up for less alcohol by increased sweets. This is particularly noticeable in the dinner and luncheon menus at restaurants and clubs and also in a new feature of London street life in the numerous vendors of chocolate and other sweet stuffs.

Bryan Hurt In Auto Accident.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 8.—While returning from Sutherland College, where he delivered a lecture Saturday evening, William J. Bryan came near losing his life. A big automobile in which he was riding threw a tire on a bridge and plunged into the trestlework, throwing the occupants out. Mr. Bryan was on the side next to that which struck the woodwork and was jammed against a rail and suffered considerable injury.

Murdered and Burned.

London, Feb. 8.—A special despatch from Santiago, Chile, says that the body of the chancellor of the German legation was recovered yesterday from the ruins of the burned legation building there. Investigation showed that the house apparently had been broken into. Medical experts declare that murder had been committed, as the official's skull was split open.

Wealthy Planter Poisoned Wife.

Union, S.C., Feb. 8.—W. T. Jones, a wealthy planter, who has been on trial here on the charge of murdering his wife by poison last July, was found guilty. A recommendation for clemency was appended to the verdict.

The jury had the case a little over 18 hours.

Militia For Coast Defence.

Sacramento, Feb. 8.—The governor has received from the War Department at Washington a request to organize sixteen militia companies to be held in reserve for coast defence, according to reliable information obtained yesterday.

Wants Canadian Eggs.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Believing that the removal of the duty on Canadian eggs would go far toward reducing the cost of the United States product, Arnold Brennan of this city has adopted an endless chain postcard system to accomplish such an end.

The primary purpose of the endless postcard system is to bring the matter forcibly to the attention of Sereno F. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the lower House of Congress.

Motorman's Sentence.

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 8.—One of the drivers of the electric trains on the Berlin Electric Railway which collided on Sept. 26 last, resulting in the death and injury of many people, was sentenced to twenty-one months' imprisonment.

Dissolve Italian Chamber.

Rome, Feb. 8.—The Council of Ministers has decided to propose to King Victor Emmanuel that the chamber be dissolved and that authority be left to the Premier to fix a date for a general election.

Canada and the Treaty.

London, Feb. 8.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Sunday Observer, regarding the waterways treaty, says the nominal inequality caused by the difference between American and British constituencies implies no disparagement to Canada. Nevertheless Crewe's telegram in vindication of the Colonial Office might have been more tactful if the people of the Dominion would prefer merely an apparent equality to a practical advantage, viz., privacy. Then, in this, as in everything, Canada's own view of Canada's interests must unquestionably prevail.

Lost His Way and Perished.

Lloydminster, Sask., Feb. 8.—The body of John Peterson, a Swede homesteader, who has been missing since Jan. 14, was found on Saturday, about a mile from his late residence. Deceased had lost his way going from a neighbor's to his home, one mile distant. He came here from Beaudette, Minn., last June, where it is said he has a brother.

Basket Gown Next.

Paris, Feb. 8.—The directoire gown is doomed, so say the costumiers, and by next fall a new fashion which will revive the Louis Quinze basket dress will be the mode. The scabbard gown, which is a modification of the directoire gown, is now in vogue. This is practically as form-fitting as its predecessor, but includes an overskirt which hangs to the knee.

Miners' Demands.

Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—After selecting Indianapolis for the convention next year the convention of the United Mine Workers of America adjourned. The Pennsylvania scale committee demands an eight-hour day with no reduction in pay, and the complete recognition of the miners' union. A five and ten per cent. increase in wages is also asked for.

To Go Back to China.

Buffalo, Feb. 8.—The four Chinamen who crawled into the Breakwater the stormy morning of Nov. 12, while six of their companions were being dashed to death on the rocks and the three white smugglers were considering only their own safety, are to be sent back to China.

Mean Swindler Sentenced.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Charged with having married and swindled fifty women of $50,000 in as many cities of the United States and Europe, Harry J. Bauman, alias Dr. Herman Brandt, was given an indeterminate prison sentence.

CHAPTER III.

IN the city of New York there was practicing at that time a lawyer by the name of Bansemer. His office, on the topmost floor of a dingy building in the lower section of the city, was not inviting. On leaving the elevator one wound about through narrow halls and finally peered with more or less uncertainty and misgiving at the half obliterated sign which said that James Bansemer held forth on the other side of the glass panel.

It was whispered in certain circles and openly avowed in others that Bansemer's business was not the kind which elevates the law. In plain words, his methods were construed to debase the good and honest statutes of the land. Once inside the door of his office—and a heavy spring always closed it behind one—there was quick evidence that the lawyer lamentably disregarded the virtues of prosperity, no matter how they had been courted and won. Although his transactions in and out of the courts of that great city bore the mark of dishonor, he was known to have made money during the ten years of his career as a member of the bar.

Possibly he kept his office shabby and unclean that it might be in touch with the transactions which had their morbid birth inside the grimy walls. There was no spot or corner in the two small rooms that comprised his "chambers" to which he could point with pride. The floors were littered with papers; the walls were greasy and bedecked with malodorous notations, documents and pictures; the windows were smoky and useless; the clerk's desk bore every suggestion of dissoluteness.

But little less appalling to one's aesthetic sense was the clerk himself. Squatting behind his wretched desk, Elias Droom peered across the litter of papers and books with shaky but polite eyes, almost as inviting as the spider who with wily but insidious decorum draws the guileless into his web.

If one passed muster in the estimation of the incomprehensible Droom he was permitted in due season to pass through a second oppressive looking door and into the private office of Mr. James Bansemer, attorney at law and solicitor. It may be remarked at this early stage that, no matter how long or how well one may have known Droom, one seldom lingered to engage in commonplaces with him. His was the most repellent personality imaginable. When he smiled one was conscious of a shock to the nervous system; when he so far forgot himself as to laugh aloud there was a distinct illustration of the word "crunching;" when he spoke one was almost sorry that he had ears.

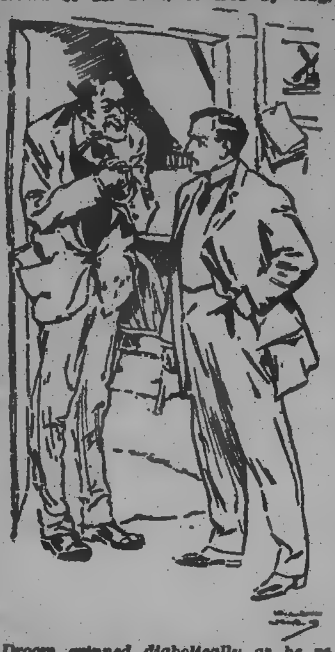
Bansemer knew but little of this freakish individual's history; no one else had the temerity to inquire into his past or to separate it from his future, for that matter. Once Bansemer ironically asked him why he had never married. It was a full minute before the other lifted his eyes from the sheet of legal cap, and by that time he was in full control of his passion.

"Look at me! Would any woman marry a thing like me?"

This was said with such terrible earnestness that Bansemer took care never to broach the subject again. He saw that Droom's heart was not all steel and brass.

Droom was middle aged. His lank body and cadaverous face were constructed on principles not generally accredited to nature as it applies to men. When erect his body swayed as if it were a stubborn reed determined to maintain its dignity in the face of the wind. He did not walk; he glided. His long, square chin, rarely clean shaven, protruded far beyond its natural orbit. Indeed, the attitude of the chin gave one an insight to the greedy character of the man. At first glance one felt that Droom was reaching forth with his lower jaw to give greeting with his teeth instead of his hand.

His neck was long and thin, and his turndown collar was at least two sizes too large. The nose was hooked and of abnormal length, the tip coming down over the short upper lip and broad mouth. His eyes were light blue and so intense that he was never known to blink the lashes. Topping them were deep, wavering black eyebrows that met above the nose, forming an ominous, cloudy line across the base of his thin, high forehead. The crown of his head, covered by long, scant strands of black hair, was of the type known as "retreating and pointed." The forehead ran upward and back from the brows almost to a point, and down from the pinnacle hung the veil of hair, just as if he had draped it there with the same care he might have used in placing his best hat upon a peg. His back was stooped, and the high, narrow shoulders were hunched forward eagerly. Long arms and ridiculously thin legs, with big hands and feet, tell the story of his extremities. When he was on his feet Droom was more than six feet tall; as he sat in the low backed office chair he looked to be less than five feet over all.



Droom grinned diabolically as he resumed the rubbing of his hands.

The men had been classmates in an obscure law school down in Pennsylvania. Bansemer was good looking, forceful and young, while Droom was distinctly his opposite. Where he came from no one knew and no one cared. He was past thirty-five when he entered the school, at least twelve years the senior of Bansemer.

His appearance and attire proclaimed him to be from the country, but his sophistry, his knowledge of the world and his wonderful insight into human nature contradicted his looks immeasurably. A conflict or two convinced his fellow students that he was more than a match for them in stealth and cunning if not in dress and deportment.

Elias Droom had not succeeded as a lawyer. He repelled people, growing more and more bitter against the world as his struggles became harder. What little money he had accumulated—heaven alone knew how he came by it—dwindled to nothing, and he was in actual squalor when later Bansemer found him in an attic in Baltimore. Even as he engaged the half starved wretch to become his confidential clerk the lawyer shuddered and almost repented of his action.

But Elias Droom was worth his weight in gold to James Bansemer from that day forth. His employer's sole aim in life was to get rich and thereby to achieve power. His ambition was laudable if one accepts the creed of morals, but his methods were not so praiseworthy. After a year or two of starvation struggles to get on with the legitimate he packed up his scruples and laid them away—temporarily, he said. He resorted to sharp practice, knavery and all the forms of legal blackmail. It was not long before his bank account began to swell. His business thrived. He was so clever that not one of his shady proceedings reacted. It is safe to venture that 99 per cent of the people who were bilked through his manipulations promised in the heat of virtuous wrath to expose him, but he had learned to smile in security. He knew that exposure for him meant humiliation for the instigator, and he continued to rest easy while he worked hard.

"You're getting rich at this sort of thing," observed Droom one day after the lawyer had closed a particularly nauseous deal to his own satisfaction, "but what are you going to do when the tide turns?"

Bansemer, irritated on perceiving that the other was engaged in his exasperating habit of rubbing his hands together, did not answer, but merely thundered out, "Will you stop that?"

There was a faint suggestion of the possibility of a transition of the hands to claws as Droom abruptly desisted, but smilingly went on:

"Some day the other shark will get the better of you, and you'll have nothing to fall back on. You've been building on mighty slim foundations. There isn't a sign of support if the worst comes to the worst," he chuckled.

"It's a large world, Droom," said his employer easily.

"And small also, according to another saying," supplemented Droom. "When a man's down, everybody kicks him. I'm afraid you could not survive the kicking."

Droom grinned so diabolically as again he resumed the rubbing of his hands that the other turned away, with an oath, and closed the door to the inside office. Bansemer was alone and where Droom's eyes could not see him, but something told him that the grin hung outside the door for many minutes, as if waiting for a chance to pop in and tantalize him.

Bansemer was a good looking man of the coarser mold—the kind of man that merits a second look in passing, and the second look is not always in his favor. He was thirty-five years of age, but looked older. His face was hard and deeply marked with the lines of intensity. The black eyes were fascinating in their brilliancy, but there was a cruel, savage light in their depths. The nose and mouth were clean cut and pitiless in their very symmetry. Shortly after leaving college to hang out his shingle he had married the daughter of a minister. For two years her sweet influence kept his efforts along the righteous path, but he writhed beneath the yoke of poverty. His pride suffered because he was unable to provide her with more of the luxuries of life. In his selfish way he loved her. Failure to advance made him surly and ill tempered, despite her amiable efforts to lighten the shadows around their little home. When the baby boy was born to them and she suffered more and more from the unkindness of privation James Bansemer, by nature an aggressor, threw off restraint and plunged into the traffic that soon made him infamously successful. She died, however, before the taint of his duplicity touched her, and he, even in his grief, felt thankful that she never was to know the truth.

6 acres of first class garden property on the river bank, south of the city, nice frame cottage on a good foundation, frame stable and outbuildings.

This is an excellent piece of land for market gardening, or it would make an excellent home for a retired farmer. Price and terms reasonable.

Building lot 37 x 110, with concrete foundation 31 x 26 and 12 x 12, ready for house. The owner will sell on easy terms of payment, or to a carpenter and wait for his money without interest until the house is completed and sold. Price $450.

Also two or three farms in the vicinity at very reasonable prices.

IMPORTANT ADVICE

—TO—

SPECTACLE WEARERS

THREE PLAIN FACTS.

I.—That more eyes are injured by the injudicious use of Glass than by any other known cause

II.—That a great number of people are wearing spectacles unsuitable for them, and for which their eyes have not been tested.

III.—That the old fashioned and unscientific method of testing the eyes by trying on various spectables of different strengths until the sight is apparently suited, is to say the least of it, dangerous.

It cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the minds of those who suffer from defective eyesight that proper lenses and correctly fitting frames are absoluely essential for comfortable spectacle wearing. We grind our own lenses. Charges moderate.

WILL DISCUSS EXTENSION OF TRACK AT LAKEFIELD

On invitation of the local Board of Trade, Messrs. John Hall and F. J. Lillicrap, president and secretary of the Lakefield Board of Trade, will discuss the matter of the extension of the G.T.R. line at Lakefield to the water front and the construction of the wharf to meet the terminus of the spur. If the line were extended and the suggested addition made to the wharf it would greatly facilitate the heavy summer traffic.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AT KNOX CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Heard Rev. Mr. Anderson, Secretary of the Young People's Movement—An Interesting Sermon.

"I Press Towards the Mark," was the text of Rev. F. W. Anderson's sermon to a very large congregation at Knox church on Sunday night. The occasion was a special one, the day being devoted to the Young People, and the text was applied to the "Young Christian in the Race, or Practical Forms of Service." Rev. Mr. Anderson dealt with the essentials required by all those who desire to win the mark or goal which lies in the Kingdom of God, the race which all of us are anxious to win and the goal of which Christ Himself desires us to attain.

Rev. Mr. Anderson is the secretary of the Young People's Missionary Movement in Canada, and in his two sermon, the one in the morning at St Andrew's church and in the evening at Knox church, he presented a strong plea that the great race we are called upon to lead in this life find us well prepared for its frequent demands on our perseverance our determination and our ability to withstand the severe test which we must endure, as well as a realization of the goal which we are seeking to attain.

Rev. Mr. Anderson is a young man, deeply imbued with the spirit of the work to which he is devoting himself and his impressive appeal to the congregation, young and old, was listened to with profound interest. He stated that the recent race over the Marathon distance was illustrative of the subject of his remarks. Three things are necessary to succeed in winning the great goal which awaits man at the end of his long and arduous course through life. First, there must be the goal itself and a realization of it; there must be perseverance and stamina in the race, and there must also be a determination without which the goal would never be reached. As it is on the athletic field, so it is in the race for the Kingdom of God.

The practical form of service as pointed out by Rev Mr. Anderson, is found in our every day lives. The opportunities which face the young people as they start out in the world, are found on every side and require our best service and usefulness and should be grasped. The ordinary ideal is to reach at the opportunities to serve ourselves, to make all the money we can to get all the influence we can and then after that there is plenty of time to consider our relationship with God. The material spirit is destroying the better instincts of the men and women, too, of today. The true meaning of a personal relationship with God is in your hearts the Kingdom of God. He is the only one who can give us the standard of righteousness.

One of the practical forms of service is prayer. By that we know His will better and yield ourselves in subservience to him. Our place in the congregation offers a great service for everyone. In the Sunday School and Guild meetings too, we can put our lives in that sphere of opportunity where we can do the most for God. In the home and in its neighborhood service of a much similar nature is presented. When a young Christian starts in the race people want to see him bear up well. Too many declare their faith in Jesus, but afterwards shirk in their duties. Any race must be run determinedly and it is no child's play to run in the race of today.

Rev Mr Anderson closed his sermon by referring to the great missionary work that the present generation is called upon to undertake. The call to be true to Christ was never so great as it is today. "If the world is not evangelized during this generation," he said, "God alone knows how difficult it will be for the next."

DRILL FOR CITY CORPS

Laid Down in a New Syllabus—Will Interest the Local Military Men

Among the new proposals in a revised King's regulations and orders for the militia with which the Department of Militia is now engaged is one dealing with the training of city corps. The regulations include the following:

The full period of twelve days to be taken up in the practice laid down in the syllabus on such days or evenings as may be found most convenient to units, and in the distribution of time credit will be given according to the following scale;

For an evening drill of two hours counting from the time of falling in until dismissal—half a day.

Forenoon or afternoon parade such as Divine service, inspection of musketry, occupying less than five hours—half a day.

A practical tactical exercise or drill occupying at least five hours in the open air and the performance of one such being obligatory during each year's training—one day.

The syllabus also includes;

1—Rifle exercises.

2—Company drill, company attack, advance and rear guards and outposts.

3—Battalion drill, battalion in attack and musketry.

Recruits drill should be voluntary. There should be at least ten in the squad, and no credit should be claimed for such units.

Units to be practically tested at the annual inspection — except musketry, for the performance of which definite evidence will be required that each N.C.O. and man has fired the prescribed number of rounds with service ammunition or failing field ranges being available, with miniature ammunition.

For the performance of the number of drills for which pay is claimed the roll books of the several sub-units must show a clear record.

It is understood that an effort will be made to have the instructional classes in the reorganized as part of the training; also practice at the rifle ranges. More practical good is done in this way it is claimed than in the actual training on the parade ground, inasmuch as a foundation is being laid for more advanced operations in the future.

TWO PAPERS ARE ENOUGH THERE

Man Who Cut Prices at Midland Goes to the Wall

The Midland Argus says; The silly idea that a town the size of Midland will support three printing offices has been given a very substantial set back during the past few days in the utter failure of H S Cameron to make good. Cameron started in less than two years ago and in his strenuous endeavor to get work slashed the prices down to half. He followed this up a few months ago by starting a small paper and distributing it free. The business men however, gave no encouragement along either line while the other offices stood firm to their former prices and got the work as usual. That there is no room here for a third printing office is a foregone conclusion as Cameron's creditors throughout the town and elsewhere can testify.

CHAS. HAWTREY CONVALESCENT

Author of "The Private Secretary" Recovering After Operation

The Toronto Telegram of Saturday says:—

Mr Charles Hawtrey, whom everyone will be glad to hear is making excellent progress after a recent operation will always be remembered for destroying the damaging superstition which hung over the Avenue Theatre now the Playhouse. Until Mr Hawtrey produced that successful play, "A Message from Mars," at the Avenue, it bore the name of 'the unlucky Avenue.' Manager after manager had produced plays there but invariably with the same result and no change in programme or players seemed to bring success until Mr Hawtrey came along. Mr Hawtrey is the son of the Rev John Hawtrey, an Eton master, and was himself educated at Eton People seem to have almost forgotten that it was he who produced the funniest of all funny plays, "The Private Secretary," which, by the way he adapted from the German of Von Moser.

SPLENDID ADDRESS TO YOUNG PEOPLE AT GEORGE ST. CHURCH

By Rev. J. P. Wilson, of Lindsay, Yesterday Morning—Sunday School Anniversary Services—Large Congregations Hear Former Pastor.

Splendid services were held at the George street Methodist church yesterday, it being the Sunday school anniversary. Large congregations were present both morning and evening. Special sermons were preached by Rev J. P. Wilson of Lindsay and a former pastor of George St church.

In the morning the children of the school marched into the church, several pews having been reserved for them. The hymns were appropriate for a children's service, and the remarks were especially addressed to the scholars. The members of the primary class promoted to higher classes in the Sunday school were each presented with Bibles by the pastor, Rev E. A. Pearson.

At the morning service twenty-four men and women were admitted into the membership of the church, each making a profession of their faith.

Rev Mr Wilson in addressing the children did not choose a text, but spoke to them on "What is a Christian". Before beginning he said that it gave him a great deal of joy to be again amongst the people of George street church. He was glad to be present at such an enthusiastic gathering of Sunday School scholars and workers. It was simply overwhelming, he said, to see the interest taken in children by the old people.

"What is a Christian?" asked the reverend speaker. Every child, he said, went to school as soon as they reached the age of five years, but one did not have to be any particular age to go to the school of Christ. Scholars went there to learn from Christ, to learn how to be good and honorable. Jesus loved everyone and wanted them to be good. He fed the birds and beasts and the preacher thought everyone should be thankful to Him for all the things he had provided them with for their happiness. Christ was a tender and gentle teacher.

To be a Christian one must believe and have faith. "You must trust in the Lord," said Mr Wilson. Then a Christian must be a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ. He had to be obedient to His commands and should endeavor to be as much like Him as was possible. The preacher likened a Christian to a soldier who had to follow the leader.

The scholars of the Sunday School should be as saints of God, as should every Christian, holy and pure in their living.

MEETING OF ANGLICAN SYNOD; HOW A BISHOP IS CHOSEN

No Nomination of Candidates—Members of Synod Vote For Men of Their Choice—Ven. Archdeacon Sweeney Will Preside.

As has already been officially announced the Anglican Synod for the Diocese of Toronto will assemble on Wednesday, February 17 for the purpose of electing a successor as Bishop of the Diocese of Toronto to the late Archbishop Sweatman.

Here it may be explained that the office of Archbishop does not belong exclusively to any one of the several dioceses in the Dominion into which the Anglican church is divided, with the sole exception of the Diocese of Rupert's Land, the diocese of which on his election to that office is archbishop ex-officio and also primate of that ecclesiastical province.

The Anglican Church in Canada is divided into three parts namely the Province of Canada which comprises the whole of the eastern dioceses, the Province of Rupert's Land and British Columbia which is at present a district in itself but will soon be constituted an ecclesiastical province.

The senior bishop in the Province of Canada is on the occasion of a vacancy usually selected by the House of Bishops to the office of Archbishop and Primate of All Canada, so, following precedent, His Lordship Bishop Hamilton of Ottawa, will in all probability become Archbishop in succession to Archbishop Sweatman.

The Synod will open on February 17 with divine service and celebration of the Holy Communion in St Jame's Cathedral when the sermon will be preached by the Right Rev Bishop Reeves who for the past few years has been Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Toronto.

After divine service is over an adjournment of the clergy and lay delegates will be made to the school-room when with as little delay as possible the election will be proceeded with.

Theoretically speaking there are no candidates, each clergyman and lay delegate giving his vote for the clergyman he deems best suited for the position.

The Archdeacon presides and in this case that will be the Archdeacon of York, the Venerable J F. Sweeny, DD.

As soon as the few, formal preliminaries are concluded the chairman will cause the ballots to be distributed to both the clergy and lay delegates present and after a due interval these ballot papers will be collected.

Those entitled to vote in the election are all clergymen in full orders who hold a license from the Bishop to preach in the diocese.

The lay vote is cast by parishes, there being three delegates from each parish.

No questions are allowed to be asked during the proceedings and if anyone wishes to raise a point of order it must be put down in writing and sent up to the chairman, who will either note that point or give his decision also in writing.

When the votes are all cast the ballot papers will be collected, they having all been placed in envelopes by those voting and conveyed to the scrutineers who will then and there count the papers and declare the result to the chairman who will, if there is a clear majority of both the clerical and lay votes for one particular man, declare that man to be duly elected Bishop of the Diocese.

No lay delegate can vote whose synod assessment is not duly paid, that is a rule which admits of no exception. On the other hand, no clerical member of the synod can vote by proxy, he must attend personally.

Lastly, and this explains what is meant when it is said that practically there are no candidates no one is proposed or seconded nor are any names suggested by the chairman. If on the first ballot a Bishop is not chosen, the members can on a second vote do so for some one whose name had not previously been mentioned.

President Roosevelt is urged to order that passenger vessels on the lakes be equipped with wireless apparatus.

SPORTING NEWS

THE FREE PRESS, WARDER AND POST GIVE THEIR VERSIONS OF THE GAME

The following are extracts from the Lindsay papers, taken from their accounts of the game here on Friday;

The Free Press;—In about two inches of water on the Peterborough rink the locals met their first defeat at the hands of the Quaker town seven before one of the largest crowds ever witnessing a game at the Brock-street rink.

The ice was in very poor condition even worse than that on which both teams met here, there being water in places over two inches deep while on the higher parts very little water was found, but in its place there was much slush.

The G.T.R. special which took the boys and rooters down, was crowded to its utmost with town citizens ranging from old men to youngsters. On arrival at Peterborough the big crowd made for the rink in which there was several hundred people.

Referee Sutherland, of Kingston, took charge of the game and proved quite satisfactory, although during the second half much unfairness ruled against both teams of which he did not notice.

The locals played good hockey all the way, but owing to the slush and water, were unable to get the "com" down, on which considerable practise has been put for the past few weeks, and which will have to be kept up if they intend to put the finishing touches on the Quaker town seven.

The game was quite rough at times, the locals doing their utmost to escape any quarrels, but often they were hurt, Randal being the worst injured, he having had his right foot cut to the bone by Dusty's skate.

On the other hand, Peterborough suffered somewhat, Rae having taken cramps and several other players who had come in contract with the boards suffered the loss of a few inches of hide.

The Warder.—And it came to pass that a hockey team from Lindsay known as the Midgets journeyed to Peterborough, which is beside the Otonabee. The Peterborough hockey players rose up and warred against the invaders and great was the battle. The Midgets were beaten five goals to two.

GREAT WAS DEROCHER.

To the credit of one, Derocher, another Glover, yet another Ray, is it that the "Petes" won. They were the boys in pink last night. Great, particularly, was Derocher, the youngster between the goal posts for Peterborough.

The game marked the second meeting this season of the two teams and yet neither outfit has displayed decided superiority. The score in Lindsay was 7—4 in favor of the Midgets and the Porridgers won by the same number of goals in their bailiwick.

1—1 AT HALF-TIME.

Just here it would be well to mention the score was 1—1 at the end of the first half. In spite of the soft ice there was some real, good stiff, enthusiastic hockey during that first thirty minutes. Lindsay had the best of it till the interval and then the team went to dreamland, figuratively speaking, and the Petes came back like demons and won out.

The Post.—Yes, the score was five to two, and Lindsay got the two.

Three hundred hockey enthusiasts accompanied the Lindsay Midgets to Peterborough Friday evening to see them battle with the Electric City exploitation, it was hoped, their final game for the district championship. The locals went down to defeat before Rolly Glover's braves in a struggle that was remarkable in many respects.

Peterborough stole a march on Lindsay in sending up the information that the ice was in splendid condition. They knew their chances were good for winning the game on soft ice, and events proved they were not far astray in their conjectures. The game should never have been played on such ice. Before the game the surface was covered in spots with water, and before half time was finished the rink was a miniature lake only fit for aquatic sports. These conditions told on the locals, and while we give Peterborough due credit for their victory still we maintain that on keen ice the Midgets, to use a Rooseveltian term, would have beaten them to a frazzle.

A BUMPER HOUSE.

About two thousand people thronged the rink to see the game, which has been the sole topic of conversation for the past fortnight in the Electric City. A Peterborough-Lindsay contest is always sure to attract a bumper house, and my, how Peterborough sports did relish that victory.

LADY CURLERS SERIOUSLY THINKING OF ORGANIZING

A ladies curling club is to be organized here at an early date it is stated. This will be a new departure in the way of sports among the fair sex in Peterborough but should prove popular and successful as in Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal where it has met with great favor. At the first of the season it was suggested that the ladies be encouraged to curl and the members of the curling club expressed their willingness to let them have the use of the rink.

If the proposed club is formed this winter the games will all necessarily be local on account of the lateness of the season but a very interesting local schedule could be played. Next year there is every probability of ladies' clubs being formed in Port Hope, Lindsay and possibly other places in the district and in case they were a series of games and a bonspiel could be arranged.

LINDSAY HERE WEDNESDAY RETURN GAME ON FRIDAY; COBOURG HAS WITHDRAWN

The Cobourg Intermediate OHA team has disbanded for the season and Peterborough and Lindsay are left on even terms to fight out the district. Cobourg's withdrawal has simplified matters and there seems no doubt that the locals would have defeated the lakeside septette on their own ice.

Home and home games for the district championship will be played between Peterborough and Lindsay and the first one will take place here on Wednesday night. Lindsay will run a special again and the mere announcement of the match is enough to assure a capacity attendance as far as Peterborough is concerned. The local line-up will be strengthened for the game.

The return game will be played in Lindsay on Friday night. From the weather we are having at present, there will be good ice for the games and both of them should be very close and interesting as apparently ther is very little to choose between the teams. The majority of goals on the round will count.

All players of the intermediate team are asked to be out to practice tonight at seven o'clock sharp.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE PICKS FRED SIMPSON AS COMING DISTANCE STAR

Fred Simpson, the Canadian Indian, is paid a high tribute by the sporting editor of the New York Tribune. He saw Simpson run in his recent relay race against Shrubb at Madison Square and remarks on his breaking the fifteen mile record. "When I saw him in action" he writes, "I at once sized him up as a great strider for a long distance. Besides covering the grounds with great ease; he runs true and with great speed. His stride is an ideal one for a Marathon distance and with proper handling I think he should be able to defeat the hitherto invincible Tom Longboat. This is quite a lot to say but the Ojibway has run some wonderful races in Canada and always finished like a lion. They say his weak point is the fact that he doesn't show early speed. But there's no reason why he shouldn't if he's properly advised. That he has it is proven by the way he ran against Shrubb. Look out for Simpson. He's soon to loom up big on the long distance horizon."

AN INTERESTING GAME IN CHURCH LEAGUE TO-MORROW

To-morrow night the most important game of the Church League series will be played when St. Andrew's the league leaders, and Knox church, who look good to give the Saints a great run for the silverware, will meet from 7 to 8 at the Park street rink. As this is the match on which so much depends and in view of the splendid hockey the teams are playing. Much local interest is being shown.

If St. Andrew's win it will put them on the championship pedestal, but if Knox wins it means that both teams will be tied for first place. The ice at the rink is in great condition after the recent thaw and the match should be close and hard fought. The referee has not yet been decided upon.

The teams will be;

ST. ANDREW'S.
Goal, Patterson.
Point, McDonald.
Cover, Flanagan.
Rover, Stanton.
Centre, Rae.
Right, Currie,
Left, Dormer,

KNOX.
Goal, Crowe,

LINDSAY CLUB IS CONGRATULATED

On Winning the District Cup—Mr. Matthews Sends Letter

The following letter explains itself:

Mr. J. M. Knowlson,
Sec. Curling Club Lindsay.

Dear Sir,—I wish to congratulate the Lindsay Curling Club on their winning the district cup here yesterday. I had the misfortune to go down to defeat before the "great McFadden" who certainly played a magnificent game, and was supported well by his rink.

I regret that it was not possible to present to them the district cup as it was not in my possession. Orillia club won the cup last year and this year are not in our district. Last week I wrote to J. A. McFadden secretary of the Ontario Curling Association asking him to instruct Orillia club to send the cup to me. I received it to-day and will have it immediately forwarded to you and would ask you on my behalf, to present it to the winning rinks.

Yours very truly,
T. F. MATTHEWS.

EDMONTON TO CHALLENGE AGAIN

Arrangements Being Made for Another Try for Stanley Cup

Edmonton, Feb. 4.—Edmonton defeated Saskatoon 13 to 3 in an uninteresting game. The Edmonton Hockey club banqueted the Stanley cup challengers and the Saskatoon team at the Alberta hotel and the Edmonton players were presented with souvenir medals. It was planned to challenge for the Stanley cup next year. Mayor Lee endorses the idea.

B.A.C. TEAM TO GO TO TORONTO

Will Meet Toronto Section a Week From Friday Night

The B.A.C. hockey team will go to Toronto a week from next Friday night to meet the Toronto section in the annual game. The locals will have a strong team and should be able to smother Hutchinson, Huston, Moore and Company. Mr. W. D. Campbell will manage the Peterborough seven.

WRESTLING

AT MONTREAL

Raoul Rouen will make his next appearance in Montreal on Friday next when he wrestles the big western mat artist, Henderson, at Sohmer Park.

De Rouen was obliged to cut short his stay in Chicago owing to the rough match with Yussif Mahmout last week, in which the Frenchman was defeated by the Turk. The bout was a particularly rough one, and resulted in De Rouen being barred from wrestling in the Windy City for some time to come.

He is improving every day in his work and while he weighed over 240 pounds when he first came here he is now down to 225, and in the pink of condition—Montreal Star.

SALAAM TO THE STAFF

Made Alley Record on Saturday in Game Against M.A.S.

In a friendly bowling game on Saturday, the staff of the Y.M.C.A. defeated M.A.S., the winners obtaining the highest three game total yet made on the alleys—1,323.

The staff played a consistent and clever game. The winning bowlers were Messrs. Hassard, Collings and Evans.

JUNIOR GAMES DECLARED OFF

The games between the local juniors and Oshawa, in the junior series of the O.H.A. have been declared off.

HOCKEY

Toronto have lost Bruce Ridpath, but it is possible that he will come down to help them out of their remaining games. "Riddy" has decided to accept Cobalt's liberal offer and finish the season with the Temiskaming League Club. If Cobalt captures the championship of their league, they will go after the Stanley Cup.—Mail and Empire.

The George street church league team will practice at Knox rink tonight from eight to nine o'clock.

A practice of the St. Andrew's church league team will be held at Knox church rink tonight from seven to eight o'clock.

ALD. ARMSTRONG GAVE ADDRESS

Toronto Speaker at Gospel Temperance Meeting at Crystal

Ald. Armstrong of West Toronto, gave an able address to a large and interested audience at the gospel temperance meeting at the Crystal yesterday afternoon. He spoke of the temperance conditions in West Toronto, dwelling particularly on the commercial and moral aspects. Rev. Mr Pearson also gave a timely and helpful address.

Sembrich's Farewell.

New York, Feb. 8.—On the same stage where she made her first appearance in opera in New York, some 25 years ago last October, Mme. Marcella Sembrich, as she is best known to a music-loving public, whose number is legion, sang and said, Saturday night, her formal farewell as an opera singer to a clientele which, to say nothing of its numbers, in its admiration and affection is of a kind that no other individual singer in the history of opera in New York has ever succeeded in attracting to her or his standard.

The real demonstration of the evening came, however, when ex-Mayor Seth Low, on behalf of the public, presented Mme. Sembrich with a string of pearls and a watch and chain set with diamonds.

Toronto Boy In Search of Mother.

Rochester, Feb. 8.—Fred McMartin, aged 17, of Toronto, applied to the police on Saturday to assist him in finding his mother. The boy was born in Bay street and his parents separated when he was a year old. He was given to a family named McMartin. They died six months ago, and he has to shift for himself.

A relative, a Mrs. Ed. Archer, was the object of his coming to Rochester.

He didn't know her name, but the police located her on Saturday. She is a widow, but in good circumstances. The meeting was affecting and the boy will assume his mother's name of Hussey.

Murderer Drags Wife With Him.

New York, Feb. 8.—Hunted all night by a posse who wanted him for the murder of John Connolly, a coal dock superintendent, James Dick, an Italian, was captured late on Saturday.

Dick and his wife had been occupying a part of Connolly's house, and on Saturday night was asked for the rent, whereupon he killed Connolly with a shotgun. Dick and his wife fled and all Saturday night the hunted Italian dragged his wife through the soft marshes and across the country in efforts to escape the police.

Hot In Australia.

Sydney, Feb. 8.—A heat wave recently swept over New South Wales, the shade temperature in the country districts ranging from 105 degrees to 125 degrees. In Sydney 104 degrees were registered in the shade and in the suburbs 113 degrees. Fierce bush fires have been raging, chiefly along the Southern Railway line and in the Blue Mountains, doing great damage.

The reasons for this contest will be frankly stated at the start;

FIRST—To more thoroughly interest the public in the Peterborough Review and thereby increase its already large circulation.

SECOND—To offer the easiest and quickest way possible to some one to secure a trip that is well worth while—a trip that perhaps may have been their life ambition—and eight others to secure valuable prizes as tokens of esteem from their friends.

THE DISTRICTS.

Candidates compete only with those residing in their own district, but are privileged to secure support and work for votes in any district.

District No. 1 includes all territory lying within the corporate limits of the City of Peterborough.

District No. 2 includes all territory lying outside of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO AND WHAT THEY ARE.

In district No. 1—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

In District 2.—Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the lady receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the lady receiving the second highest vote. Choice of a handsome diamond ring or a six months' course in the Peterborough Business College to the gentleman receiving the highest vote and a fine gold watch to the gentleman receiving the second highest vote.

The Grand Prize—Will be the trip to Europe, visiting Scotland, England and France, including all necessary expenses. The winner will accompany a party conducted by Thomas Cook & Son. This trip will go to the candidate—lady or gentleman—having the highest vote in the entire contest. Should it be found inconvenient to take the tour, a high-grade piano will be given instead, or the tour may be transferred to any one acceptable to the Review.

Remember, the ladies and gentlemen do not compete, except for the Grand Prize, and that each list (four in all) secures a first and second prize, regardless of the vote in any other list. However, no contestant can secure more than one prize.

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT CONTEST.

Any lady or gentleman of good repute in Peterborough City or Peterborough County (excepting, of course employees of the Review or employees of any other paper in the City of Peterborough) may enter this contest. They do not have to subscribe to the Review in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name or names, the address and be indorsed by some business or professional man in the vicinity.

The voting will be by ballots clipped from the Daily and Weekly Review and by voting certificates issued with subscription for the Daily and Weekly Review.

Each nomination ballot will count 25 votes and the coupons published daily will count 2 votes, the coupons published in the Weekly will count 5 votes

Certificates for a lady or gentleman contestant will be issued with receipts for subscriptions.

At the close of the balloting the returns will be canvassed by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts, whose standing is unquestioned.

The balloting will begin with this issue and close March 22nd, 1909.

No member of employer's family or employees of the Review, or member of any employees' family will be eligible as a candidate.

The Review reserves the right to reject any nomination without giving any reason therefor, and to change any rule for cause.

The decision of the contest committee in making awards of prizes shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nominations must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided between them

HAVELOCK COUNCIL ENDORSES ELECTRIC RAILWAY PROPOSITION

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Feb 6—On Monday night the second monthly meeting of the town council was held, all the members being present except Councillor Young. The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

Alf Spencer, 1908 account—$189.97.
Phillips Bros, account—$32.11
Dr Crawford, fumigating—$35.
J. W Bryans, BD, & M —$15.60.
School Board4$—50.
S S Joyce, wood—$13.50.

The council seemed highly delighted with the proposal to build the Cobourg Port Hope and Havelock electric railway and the following resolution was unanimously passed.

"Resolved that the municipal council of this village desire to place on record our hearty endorsation and unbounded sympathy with the Cobourg Port Hope and Havelock electric railway company now applying for a charter to pass through this town. In consideration of the benefits likely to result therefrom to this place, and the adjoining country, we strongly recommend and urge the Legislature to grant the charter applied for by Col. A. E. Ward, Ex-M.P. We believe that a connecting link between this community and the frontier towns would be a great commercial advantage to both terminals as well as the intervening points, and we heartily endorse the project which this company has in hand."

Mr [illegible] Vansickle's tender for snow plowing at $2.50 per trip was accepted it being the lowest.

Some years ago a fire limit bylaw was passed by the village fathers and it has not been enforced. Reeve Knox thought that this bylaw should either be rescinded or rigidly enforced and some move in either direction be made at next meeting.

The auditors' report showing a deficit of $93[illegible].50 was received, and 200 copies were ordered to be printed. Of the deficit the School Board is responsible for $359.26.

The auditors, Messrs H T Andrews and Ed Fennel were each voted $12.50.

The county solicitor has taken up the matter of a division court for Havelock, with the Warden, the Inspector of Division Courts and the Sheriff and a report will shortly be sent from those officials.

The general committee appointed to look into the matter of club rooms for the young men of Havelock will hold a meeting in the council chamber on Monday evening, February 8th when the plans and specifications of the proposed building, a handsome structure to cost $6000 will be on exhibition. Everyone who is interested in this important matter would do well to attend the meeting.

New Colonial Policy.

London, Feb. 8.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A Colonial Office official states that the visit to Australia of Sir G. Lucas, who returns unofficially via Canada, is a forerunner of similar visits and marks a deliberate policy. Lucas will be prepared to discuss every conceivable thing with the Ministers of Australia, who will probably endeavor to obtain some help in connection with emigration.

Germany and Canada.

Berlin, Feb. 8.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the Reichstag Doctor Stressman (National Liberal) expressed a desire for the establishment of normal relations with Canada, which was now ready to make advances It was to be hoped that the interests of both countries could now be served without impairing national dignity.

Open Water at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Feb. 8.—Until to-day it looked almost sure that there would be no ice harvest here this winter, as the bay was all open water. Last night a thin sheet of ice formed, and if the sun and wind do not interfere, a situation that has been causing some anxiety will be relieved.

BRIDGE PARTY TO HELP CHURCH

Rather Peculiar Affair Reported From Port Hope

Port Hope, Feb. 6.—It is reported that a lady church member, recently in her zeal to replenish the depleted treasury of the church, gave an afternoon bridge party, to which an admission fee of fifty cents was charged. Several hours were whiled away in vigorous competition for a list of prizes. It is said a substantial sum was raised. The church was no party to the affair.

MOCK PARLIAMENT IS DECIDED ON BY THE CONSERVATIVE CLUB

BIG MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night was a field night at the Young Conservative Club. Two items of great interest were on the programme, Mr. Kenner's lecture on "Julius Caesar," and the consideration of the proposition of instituting a Mock Parliament for the club. The attendance was large, over a hundred being present and the interest in the topics of discussion augurs well for the success of the season's programme. Mr. Burnham the chairman, introduced the speaker as one who had kindly responded to the invitation of the club to address them and as one also pre-eminently well qualified to do so. Mr. Kenner's address was confined to "Caesar as a general." In every capacity, he said, military, civil, legal, engineering, literary, etc., Caesar had shown himself superlatively great. Alexander fought dying nations with a body of troops left to him by his father, Philip, of Macedon, and second to none in the world. Caesar made his own legionaries and fought the bravest men of their time, the Kelts of Gaul. He was the founder of modern Europe. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the esteemed headmaster at the close.

The question of a mock parliament for the club was decided after a number of brief speeches, all strongly in favor of it. A committee consisting of Messrs. Harold Graham, J. G. M. Wilson, R. J. Martin, Geo. Benton and Capt. White was appointed to make all necessary plans for the formation of the Parliament and to report at a special general meeting of the whole club on Saturday night next, when the parties will be formed, leaders, etc., elected, and the first session got under weigh. From the hearty manner in which the proposition was adopted and taken hold of there can be no doubt of its success and there is every probability of a most interesting season's entertainment. The usual card tournaments will be continued. There is no better place in Peterborough for a Conservative, young or old, to spend his spare evenings than the spacious, attractive, and well-kept quarters of the club in George street. The tone is thoroughly democratic and there are no cliques. There is now every opportunity for a young man to learn to think and speak on his feet and it is universally recognized as one of the most necessary qualifications of the present day. Presents of books dealing with Canadian history, constitutional and otherwise, are earnestly requested.

CONCERT AT COLLEGIATE

The concert to be given under the Girl's Athletic Society and Boy's Athletic Society of the Collegiate Institute to-morrow night promises to attract a large audience. A splendid programme of music, recitations and other numbers of interest will be given. The concert will be held in the assembly hall of the Institute.

THEATRICAL

THE NIGHT OF THE PLAY

Kathryn Osterman gave a matinee and night performance at the Grand on Saturday in her new vehicle "The Night of the Play." She was given a splendid reception and was supported by a good cast. Her thousand dollar cloth of gold directoire gown was worn at both performances and attracted great attention.

Everyone should now hurry—get busy—clip the coupons and help your friends. Look at it in this light: If you were a candidate, you would like the assistance of your friends and you certainly have some friend amongst the candidates. If not nominate one at once, and vote every day.

It is not necessary to vote your certificates when you turn in your subscription. Get your certificate and hold it until the last day if you wish.

There are many contestants in the field, and no one is expected to have a large vote, and the very fact that there are so many makes it almost certain that every resident of this vicinity will find some one for whom they would like to vote.

Get your certificate of votes and give it to some candidate. It will encourage them and you will feel better for having helped in this way.

Candidates are privileged to secure support anywhere, and the subscribers may vote for the candidate of their choice, no matter whether they live in the same district or not.

SPECIAL BALLOT.

In Thursday's issue of the Daily we have decided to publish a special ballot good for 10 votes. The ballot in Friday's Weekly will count 25 votes. The way to get these ballots is from regular subscribers, as it would be unfair to run off an extra number of papers and sell them for the votes.

Considering the fact that the contest has barely started the vote today is a good one. Counting the newspaper and certificates issued with each subscription the combined vote of all the candidates amounts to almost 7000, divided between fifteen candidates. It is well to remember that the contest is yet young, and there is plenty of time for the lowest in the list or a new contestant to become a leader in the ranks.

At present the ladies' list in the city contains the largest number of active candidates. The men's list in the county so far has not shown a great deal of strength, and there is an excellent chance in this list for some one to show the way. The story about the "early bird and worm" applies to the gentlemen in the county. Who will be the first early bird?
